Seven arrests have been made during the last month in Rome for political reasons, probably in connection with a number of chain letter denouncing the Fascisti.

Bartolo Belotti, a statesman of the old regime, who arrested and sent to "Confino," because of Italy's prison islands, because of opposition to the government. Belotti was minister of finance under Premier Nitti and is now chief of the anti-Fascisti.

Another man arrested for the same reason is Prof. Giuseppi Donati professor of philosophy at the University of Genoa, who also was sent to "Confino."

B.C. Salmon Pack Record

A new record salmon pack for British Columbia, is recorded this year, the total—as at October 31st of 2,096,710 cases, being 30,200 cases ahead of the high record of 1926 and 397,946 cases above the 1929 pack.

Soothing and Fainting Spells

Everything Would Turn Black

Mrs. Andrew Black, Harcourt, N.B., writes: "I had been troubled with smothering and fainting spells and everything in front of me would turn black, and I would fall down in a faint and be unconscious for several minutes. I did not know what to do, until one day I was reading where Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills had helped so many people and decided I would give them a trial. I used four boxes and found they help me wonderfully."

PRESENT LOW WHEAT PRICES ONLY TEMPORARY

Toronto, Ont. — "We must find some method of inducing the buyers of wheat in Great Britain to return to their customary preference for Canadian wheat," declared Dr. W. W. Swanson, economic adviser to Premier R. B. Bennett, at the recent Imperial Conference. "And," he continued, "we must take precautions to see that this preference is never lost again."

A great audience of leaders in Canada's business and financial life listened intently to the story of the Imperial Conference and the economic problems Canada faces, as it came from Dr. Swanson, head of the department of economics in the University of Saskatchewan, and occasionally known expert on Canadian trade and commercee problems.

After reviewing all the varied matters that entered into the complex problem of Canadian trade and imperial trade, Dr. Swanson declared the whole question so far as Canada was concerned, revolved around the market for the Dominion's wheat. The best market she could ever get was in the British Isles.

"At the present moment Canada's wheat, as shown by its premier place in reputation and in quality in the British market," he said. "But temporary financial difficulties and momentary surplus in the market together with another influence to which I refer—all these have contended to lessen the advantage which we hold, and there is no question that the chronic condition of over-wheat marketing problem depends on the willingness of the buyers of wheat in Great Britain to purchase their proportion of purchases from Canada."

Dr. Swanson made open reference, however, to the Russian dumping of grain in Europe. His statement, in speaking of the preference proposals submitted by Premier Bennett, that they would be of benefit to Russia as well as Canada in the price of wheat in Britain.

"At the present time," he explained, "wheat is selling, not at a price set by fair and open competition, but at levels to which it has been lowered by the slave labor of the Soviet republic, driven by a heartless group of fanatics who do not scruple to starve a nation in order to make a case. I believe that nations as are the case, and that they should themselves from exploitation in the price of their foodstuffs, it will be hard to do so as individual there who do not accept this view."

Dr. Swanson declared himself a keen free trader, but nevertheless he was actively in favor of Premier Bennett's preference offer. In supporting it he said: "I cannot but conceived that I was doing more service to the ideal world freedom of trade than if I were to exchange views in any other manner—I felt I was assisting at the mobilization of the greatest economic force for the penetration of unjust trade barriers raised by foreign powers."

The question was then asked: "Is it important to correct any impression that the Dominions were not ready to consider lasting tariff reductions?" In fact was, he said, the British Government did not make any definite alternative offer. There was discussion as the quota on wheat, the bulk purchasing scheme and the idea of import boards, but no definite plan was put forward. Delightful to see. Chosen unhesitatingly by all nations who care for feminine distinction.

Saskatchewan Fish

The first distribution of Loch Leven trout fry under the Cyprinus Act waters in Saskatchewan was made in 1924, with additional distribution in each succeeding year. In the 1929 spawning season some of the trout which were caught weighed as much as six pounds and measured twenty-six inches in length and thirteen inches in girth.

Imperial Conference Results

Dr. Swanson Says Premier Bennett Was the Outstanding Man At Gathering

Toronto, Ont.—Far from being a failure, the Imperial Conference "laid the foundation for future development of great significance, not only to the Dominion of Canada, but to the Empire," declared Dr. E. W. Swanson, head of the department of economics of the University of Saskatchewan and economic adviser to Premier Richard B. Bennett at the imperial Conference, whom he arrived in Toronto on his way back to Saskatchewan.

That there are factors present in the wheat situation which would lift the markets to higher levels, was Dr. Swanson's opinion in respect of the present wheat crisis. He thought the effect of the 60,000,000 bushels of wheat which Russia had thrown on the British market was disproportionate to the volume. Russia, he believed, would not long tolerate a state of affairs where internal distress was being caused by the dumping of wheat at prices below production costs.

In Dr. Swanson's opinion, Canada's premier proved a magnificent personal triumph in persuading the British Government and the governments of the other dominions to convene at Ottawa next year. Mr. Bennett, he declared, was without question the outstanding man at the conference.

Prospector Dies In North

Overcome By Cold Drops Behind Companions On Trail

Winnipeg, Man.—Another victim of the Arctic has been found overcome with the death of Ingvaard Curley, a 52-year-old Danish prospector.

Curley, a heavy pack, Curley dropped behind three companions, who were moushing their way from Fort Churchill to Nueltin Lake, Keewatin district.

The canoe was proposed by Hugh S. Gibson, United States representative, who explained that while the United States was willing to accept very rigid rules binding the nations of the world to wars ready to consider the fears of other nations.

The only opposition to the clause came from Japan, which declared it unacceptable to the Soviets who are convinced the treaty ought to be submitted for ratification on the states under all circumstances.

It was generally understood the clause was designed largely to quiet the fears of some of Russia's neighbors.

It envisages a situation in which a country is threatened by attack and regards it as essential for self preservation to lay aside the treaty restrictions and have full liberty to arm itself.

The clause provides that a state in breaking the "safety clause" must first notify other parties to the conventions and the permanent commission of the interior, fully explaining the circumstances.

The commission also decided that administration of the prospective treaty shall be placed in the hands of a permanent disarmament body with a staff of 400.

The composition of the permanent body was left for the general conference to discuss. The second point, presenting the proposal was unable to agree upon the body's composition. Great Britain, the United States, France, Italy and Japan wished to have its members appointed, while China, Turkey and Finland held out for each party to the convention to have a seat in the permanent commission.

SAFETY CLAUSE IS ADOPTED AT GENEVA MEETING

Geneva, Switzerland.—A "safety clause" permitting a country threatened by attack to lay aside the restrictions of the general disarmament treaty, was adopted by the preparatory disarmament commission.

The clause was proposed by Hugh S. Gibson, United States representative, who explained that while the United States was willing to accept very rigid rules binding the nations of the world to wars ready to consider the fears of other nations.

The only opposition to the clause came from Japan, which declared it unacceptable to the Soviets who are convinced the treaty ought to be submitted for ratification on the states under all circumstances.

Request New Type Cars

Canadian Livestock Unions Want Movable Partitions In Stock Cars

Ottawa, Ont.—Application of the Canadian Livestock unions seeking the equipping of railway cattle cars with two or more movable partitions will be heard by the Railway Commission on December 5.

Hearing monetary loss is sustained by cattle owners owing to bruising, broken limbs and even suffocation, cattle suffer during shipment in the type of cars at present in use. By the use of movable partitions, the applicants hold, injury to shipments would be reduced to a minimum and mixed carlots of livestock would be possible.

Eskimo Marooned On Ice

Used Rifle Stock To Paddle Way To Safety

Point Barrow, Alaska.—Marooned on a small island of ice while hunting a polar bear, Joe, an Esk'mo, fashioned a rough raft from the ice and used a rifle stock as a paddle to make his way to safety in a 42-hour trip which reaching shore ice near here. He was exhausted, hungry, and with frost-bitten fingers. While he was on the ice, temperatures ranged from 20 to 30 degrees below zero.

Diversified Farming

Says Western Farmer Should Not Put All Eggs In One Basket

Toronto, Ont.—In depending for their livelihood on wheat alone, Western Canada farmers are "putting all their eggs in one basket," declared G. I. Christie, president of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, addressing the Canadian Independent Telephone Association here, Tuesday, Nov. 26, at its annual convention.

"Let's price grain does not spell ruin to the farmers, for in a country where you can grow grain you can raise livestock," said Dr. Christie Canada, he added, had a great chance in Great Britain for the bacon market, which are now being virtually men opolized by the Danes.

Canadian Pictures For Britain

Collection Of Scenes To Be Sent To Royal Photographic Society

Ottawa.—Dr. L. G. Saunders, professor of biology at the university here, has been selected as one of the Canadian pictorial photographers to contribute a collection of Canadian pictures. The collection is under the organization of the Royal Photographic Society of England. Dr. Saunders has done a great deal of work for the Federal Government in Prince Albert National Park and has made an intensive survey of the biology within the park.

May Pay Old Staff

Ottawa, Ont.—Canadian Pacific Railway Company is being given the assurance that the question of back wages of employees of the company, who have been in the employ of the company for a period of years, will be given favorable consideration when the company's finances are in a position to meet the claims, it was learned in railway circles here.

Many employees have been in the employ of the company for a period of years, and when they were laid off during the depression, they were given no compensation for the years of service they had given the company. It is understood that the company's finances are in a position to meet the claims, it was learned in railway circles here.

Employees Share Profits

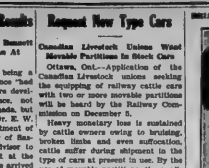
Experiment Being Tried Out By B.C. Lumber Firm

Victoria, B.C.—Establishing a precedent that may have far-reaching influence in the lumber trade of the Pacific Coast and Pacific area, the Sidney Lumber Company, Limited, has successfully operated its extensive mills for the past three months on a profit-sharing basis with 130 employees sharing the proceeds of the business in direct proportion to the wages they would earn in times of prosperity. The experiment is the first of its kind to be attempted on the Northwest Pacific Coast.

Land Poultry Run

Regina, Sask.—Cars will be placed at 91 points throughout Saskatchewan by the Provincial Government poultry, it was announced by D. Graham, secretary of the Saskatchewan Co-Operative Egg and Poultry Pool.Producers Egg and Poultry Pool. Producers are urged to deliver their product to the nearest central assembly point, he said, before December 16, as the last cars for the eastern markets will be moving out by that date.

Brilliant Military Career



Major-General V. A. S. Williams, who was honored by being made honorary life member of the Royal Canadian Northwest Mounted Police Veterans' Association. Major-General Williams served as a very young man in the frontier forces in the North West Territories at the commencement of his brilliant military career.

Reduced Rates On Coal

Government Contemplating Further Extension Of Low Rate On Alberta Coal

Ottawa, Ont. While no official announcement has been made it is learned on good authority that the government has under consideration a further extension of the reduced freight rate on Alberta coal moving into the central markets of Canada. The rate of $4.75 a ton on rush coal shipments was extended until the spring of 1932 and now the advisability of making a further extension is being taken up. Under the arrangement the government makes good the amount which the railways are out of pocket on shipments from the west to the central markets at the reduced rate.

MOVE IS MADE FOR REDUCTION OF FLOUR PRICES

Ottawa, Ont.—Important developments in the Dominion Government's campaign for lower bread prices are anticipated at an early date unless the price of flour is reduced, Mr. Gideon D. Robertson, Minister of Labor, has been investigating the prices of bread and flour for the past four months with the assistance of the staff of the combines investigation branch and the announcement is now reached the stage where action of one sort or another is impending.

It was learned from reliable sources that within the next few months approximately the price of bread was reduced by one cent, a loss on the average to the whole of Canada. The price of flour has not been reduced and the opinion was expressed in the department of labor that a reduction must come from the milling end.

Mr. Robertson is in communication with the Canadian Bread Institute and it would appear that the latter is willing to co-operate with the department in the matter. Should no agreement be reached, however, the latter has announced that it will take the matter up with the combines investigation under which the matter is in itself at present.

Many complaints in connection with the price of bread have been received by the department of labor and it is understood that the government is fully aware of the importance of having bread prices down to a minimum. The daily consumption of bread in Canada runs to about 1,000,000 loaves and a reduction of only one cent a loaf would mean an immense saving to the Canadian people.

May Try Atlantic Trip

Flight Of DO-X This Winter Still Being Considered

Lisbon, Portugal.—The giant flying boat Dornier DO-X, reached Lisbon, June 28.

Dr. Claude Dornier and Mrs. Dornier disembarked from the DO-X at Corunna, Spain, and left for Madrid to go to Paris and Berlin

The explanation given in Corunna was that the builder of the DO-X wanted to be present at the opening of the International Aircraft Show in Paris. The little sister of the DO-X known as the DO-B is one of the most interesting exhibits there.

Unofficially it was learned from Corunna that the trans-Atlantic flight has not been abandoned but officially no expression was available. That the flight will not start before the end of the year seems certain.

Both Portuguese seafaring authorities as Admiral Cagne Cunhino, who was first to cross the South Atlantic ocean by air, are of the opinion that the Azores-Bermuda route is wholly out of question in December and January but that the DO-X can reach enough make the Canary Island Cape Verde Islands and the Brazilian Coast route to New York

STABILIZATION OF PRICES ASKED BY FARM PARTY

Saskatoon, Sask.—Organized agriculture of Ontario and the prairies have asked unanimously for government stabilization of prices on a production cost basis

As the two-day interprovincial agrarian parley came to a close, a resolution was approved favoring "pegging" of prices at a level insuring fair exchange of agricultural products and of other goods and services.

The resolution, most far-reaching placed before the in camera conference, does not restrict its price-fixing proposal to agricultural goods. It favors a general probe to determine the relation between farmers' prices at the farm and the cost of other goods and services, and establishment of a Dominion Government board of stabilization for manufactured products.

The resolution is more embracing than most of the price fixing attitudes expressed by United Farmers of Canada's executive, a section of which Premier John Brownlee of Alberta in recent days has opposed as Ottawa affair. Both the Alberta and the Saskatchewan boards have set the cost of wheat at $1.00 per bushel at shipping point for No. 1 Northern wheat but no stand had been taken by the parley on the standard and price of manufactured goods. United Farmers of Manitoba, Premier John Bracken presiding, is to report the prairie premiers' efforts to get established grain prices and the parley probably will today standardize under grading regulations it was mentioned in regard to the wheat standards, which was relegated to be of assistance in the production cost problem. Similar grading or standardization of other products is a necessary step toward determining relative values for the purpose of exchange.

Allied in support of the resolution were delegates from United Farmers of Alberta, Manitoba and Alberta, of United Farmers of Canada, Saskatchewan section, and of the Canadian council of agriculture.

Faith In Saskatchewan

Optimistic Forecast Is Made By Hon. C. W. Buckle

Toronto, Ont.—Optimistic forecasts as to Saskatchewan's future reaction to the current depression were made by Hon. W. C. Buckle, Saskatchewan minister of agriculture, at the luncheon at the Royal Winter Fair. Mr. Buckle said although the province appeared to be hard hit by hard by 1930 crop conditions, it will pull through successfully.

He further stated that 20,000 acres of farm land suffered a total crop failure, and that $1,500,000 is being spent on rural farm relief

TRUSTEES' CONVENTION

The annual convention of the Vermilion Inspectorate School Trustees Association held here last Friday was well attended about fifty representatives from twenty-seven school districts being present. President Norman McMillan occupied the chair and ... proceedings were followed with a considerable degree of interest ... important matters being ... discussed. Addresses of welcome to the trustees were delivered by Mayor Fallow and J. W. G. Morrison, K.C., chairman of the Vermilion school board.

G. W. Gorman, B.A., chief inspector of schools for the province represented the minister of education, who was unable to attend, was one of the chief speakers. During the course of his address he stated there was legislation which enabled the government to grant aid to districts unable to obtain credit at the banks and other sources — that application could be made through the local inspector who would be directed by the department to verify and a grant of a certain portion of the overhead operating expenses would be paid such schools being paid direct to the teacher. The speaker also stated that there was a pronounced tendency at the present time for more practical education and gave as his opinion that the course of studies will in due time be forms lated along these lines. Inspector Parker spoke on the workings of the Attendance Act, pointing out its defects in that the enforcement was worked through the department and the inspectors with the result that its enforcement was cumbersome and slow in action. A resolution was passed by the meeting asking that the ... sections be changed to provide for an attendance officer to be appointed for each township, cases to be reported direct to him by the teacher.

A very thoughtful and able paper was read by A. B. Clarke of Kamsack on "The Urgency of Practical Education."

A hearty vote of thanks was passed to the speakers for their able addresses and to the Vermilion school board for the use of the auditorium of the high school.

The election of officers resulted as follows: Hon. President, Hon. Perren Baker. President, Norman McMillan; 1st vice-president, Mrs. Geo. Bennett Crothers; 2nd vice-president, W. H. Anderson, Dewberry Village; S. D.; Executive: G. Skinner, H. A. Searle, H. P. Long, J. F. Milner and Norman Tovel.

At a meeting of the executive H. P. Long was appointed secretary treasurer.

New Map Of Canada

Gives Comprehensive 10c. Of Locations Of Outstanding Resources

A new map of Canada in colors on a scale of one hundred miles to the inch, that indicates the country's resources, main railways, forests and agricultural areas, has been issued by the National Development Bureau, Department of the Interior at Ottawa.

The map affords a comprehensive idea of the location of Canada's mines; water power developed and undeveloped, fisheries, various types of farming, and other outstanding resources It is of such convenient size as to be suitable for ready reference, and should prove of value to educationalists, business men, and in fact, to all those who are connected with or interested in the development of Canada's resources

Hair Transplanted To Watch Crystal Keeps On Growing

British scientists have succeeded in growing hair on a watch crystal. This has been accomplished at the Leeds headquarters of the Wool Industries Research Association. A woman scientist takes tiny grafts of a guinea-pig's skin, transplants them to the surface of an inverted watch crystal and feeds them with blood plasma and a special extract to nourish the roots. The hair keeps on growing, and in many cases has doubled and in some instances trebled its length. The experiment is one of a long series that the association has been conducting to find out why hair and wool grow, and how it can be made to grow faster and thicker.

Will Award Scholarship

Every Province In Canada Represented In Boys' and Girls' Grain Judging Competition

Scholarships valued from $300 up to $700, were decided upon as prizes to the five students standing highest in the junior grain judging competition to be held in connection with the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference at Regina in 1932 at a meeting of the boys' and girls' judging competition committee held under the chairmanship of C. M. Hamilton, at Toronto.

Originally it was intended to offer a trophy valued at $2,000 to the team entered in the inter-college section of the competitions securing highest standing While it is still proposed to offer a trophy in this section, it is intended to offer as awards to students securing highest placings scholarships for post-graduate work in the value of $300, $400, $500, $600, and $700

Every province of Canada is now represented on this boys' and girls' grain judging competition committee At the meeting in Toronto, the personnel of the committee was enlarged to include the deputy minister of each provinces in addition to the agricultural representative in charge of boys' and girls' club work or extension department.

THE REVERSIBLE VEST — BY POCKETS

Don't you love it? Of course you do.

Note the extreme tight hipline with waistline outlined by partial crushing of girdle that lies in youthful bow at the back.

To make it! The back is one length of material. The front is in three sections The left and right bodice sections are joined to the front panel and skirt-section (which cuts in one piece). The front and back are now joined at the sides and shoulders. The girdle is attached at either side of the front at perforations.

Hedging As a Business Practice

Short Selling Of Grain Merely An Act Of Business Judgement

The October Bulletin of the National City Bank of New York gives a clear-cut explanation of hedging operations. The article reads, in part:—

"Recently excitement has been created by reports that the Russian authorities had been selling short on the Chicago market, and sales aggregating something over 7,000,000 bushels are said to have been traced. the chairmanship of C. M. Hamilton, "Everybody seems to have forgotten that only a few weeks ago charges were made that the Canadians were selling short on the Chicago market. The truth about it all is that Chicago is the greatest hedging market for wheat in the world. Traders, dealers, millers of all countries use it to hedge their regular business transactions because it leads in volume of trading

"It has been said, as conclusive evidence of irregularity in the Russian transactions, that it would be wholly impracticable to deliver Russian wheat in Chicago Hedging operations on the Chicago market seldom contemplate the shipment of wheat to Chicago, but are usually covered by local purchases. A miller who has bought wheat for conversion into flour may sell an equal amount of wheat for future delivery in Chicago, but without expecting to ship wheat to Chicago. He is protected in the transaction by the fact that if wheat declines in the meantime he probably will gain enough on the short sale to enable him to mark down the cost of the flour and so meet the terms of a competitor who has bought wheat later than himself.

Elevator companies, buying grain at scores of railroad stations, hedge their purchases by corresponding sales on the Chicago market, but may not send any of their of their purchases to Chicago. They may sell the grain to mills in different parts of that country, or may send it direct to Gulf ports or by the lakes to Buffalo and the seaboard, distributing it as they are able to do advantageously, but cancelling their hedges as they do so Cancellation is effected by buying offsetting contracts, sales and purchases washing each other out in the settlements.

"A buyer of wheat in Canada or Argentina, who does not yet know whether he will sell in Liverpool, Amsterdam or Genoa, may make a hedge sale on the Chicago market to protection against fluctuations until he can negotiate for the disposition of his Argentine purchases. When he has done this he will close out the hedge operation in Chicago by buying against his previous sale He aims to eliminate the risk of fluctuations, but save a dealer's profit.

"It should be understood that every contract is a bona fide and legal contract for delivery at a fixed date, and must be met at maturity, but obviously by a contract to sell requires that unless the seller is already in a position to make the delivery he will have to acquire the commodity by the date named. Hence every such sale on the Russian government is said to have made impose the necessity of finally making a corresponding purchase in this country. Every short sale requires a purchase, and although a sale and purchase of equal quantities of a given commodity at different dates may not exert precisely the same influence upon the market, there is no way of knowing in advance whether the sale or the purchase will count most heavily. Short selling in any contract engagement is an act of business judgment. Since sales and purchases are being made by many persons and form a continuous stream of business there is no reason for doing—and then on the whole does practically offset and cancel each other. On the whole they are beneficial to producers as broadening the market."

Canadian Poultry To Japan

4 consignment Of Selected Birds From British Columbia For Imperial Farms In Japan

The Emperor of Japan is among the recent new customers for British Columbia pure-bred poultry. A consignment of selected birds, which cost $4,200, from some of the best poultry farms in British Columbia, is now on its way to the imperial farms in Japan. The birds will be used as foundation stock for breeding.

Each of the hens in the consignment has a record of 200 eggs per year or over. Included in the shipment are a son and five sisters of 'Maisie,' or Hen No. 6, who held the record in 1927 as the world's champion egg layer, with 351 eggs in 354 days. This White Leghorn was one of the chief attractions at the World's Poultry Congress held in Ottawa in August, 1927. White Leghorns, Rhode Island Reds and Barred Rocks are the principal breeds in the consignment bought by the Emperor of Japan. Several large orders for Japanese poultry raisers have been filled by British Columbia breeders in recent years.

STEPHEN—AN EARLY INTERPRETER OF CHRISTIANITY

Golden Text: "They chose Stephen, a man full of faith and of the Holy Spirit."—Acts 6:5.

Lesson: Acts 6.1 to 7.60.

Devotional Reading: Isaiah 53.7-12.

Explanations and Comments

Stephen the Deacon, Acts 6.1-6.—Stephen was a man of special gifts, full of faith and of the Holy Spirit, the most prominent one of the seven deacons appointed to help the work of the early church. In addition to his task of caring for the poor, he undertook evangelistic work, and preached with great power and success, and wrought wonders and miracles among the people. The number of disciples in Jerusalem increased remarkably, and even included numbers of priests.

Stephen and His Enemies, Acts 6.8-9.15.—Stephen became a special object of hatred to the Hellenistic (Greek-speaking) Jews, and they sought to compass his death. Among them were the Libertines, probably Jews or their descendants who had been taken to Italy by Pompey as slaves, but afterwards received their freedom and were allotted a section in Rome for their residence; men of Cyrene and Alexandria in northern Africa; and men of Cilicia and Asia, provinces of Asia Minor. These men disputed with Stephen, but not being able to cope with the wisdom and the Spirit by which he spoke, they induced men to declare that they had heard him speak blasphemous words against Moses and against God.

After stirring up the people and the Pharisees, the elders and the scribes, his enemies seized Stephen and brought him before the Sanhedrin, or Council. The false witnesses declared that Stephen continually spoke "ags nst this holy place and the law," and declared that Jesus would destroy the temple (he prophesy repeated the words of Jesus Recorded in John 2.19).

And all that sat in the council, fastening their eyes on him, saw his face as it had been the face of an angel. What was it they saw? "Certainly not some visible miracle or halo such as artists love to paint around the heads of saints. Rather it was rather that unearthly beauty we have often surprised on faces we love, that strange, spiritual luminosity like a foreglean of a coming and glorious day. His character, filled with "the God of Glory," and Shekinah has truthfully expressed the source of that divine radiance:

Looking upward, full of grace,
He prayed and from a happy place
God's glory smote him on the face.

First Apple Steamer

The first steamer to carry apples direct from Annapolis Royal, Nova Scotia, to London, England, was the "Norgate," which sailed on April 2, 1881. The shipment consisted of 4,800 barrels, and arrived in London in 14 days. This venture was highly successful, and from that time the business has continued to increase in volume.

Guardians Of The Pacific

Japanese Statesman Says British Commonwealth, United States, and Japan Must Co-Operate

As the "chief guardians" of the Pacific, the British Commonwealth, the United States and Japan must co-operate, declared Prince Fumimaro, eminent Japanese statesman, speaking before the Canadian Club at Toronto. "Certainly I do not ignore any other Pacific country," he proceeded, "but it can not be denied that the three nations I have mentioned are in reality the chief guardians of that region. It is pleasant to think there are the nations whose co-operation at the recent conference in London, England, brought about the result which it did."

"I have never been so strongly impressed with the fact," he said, "that all the nations of the civilized world are dependent on one another, and that no country in the world can do anything without affecting the interest of the other countries."

Recipes For This Week

(By Betty Barclay)

CHEESE BISCUITS

2 cups special calx flour, sifted
2½ teaspoons baking powder.
½ teaspoon salt.
1 tablespoon butter or other shortening.
¾ cup grated cheese.
¾ cup milk and water, equal parts.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and sift again Cut in shortening and cheese. Add liquid gradually until soft dough is made ¼ inch thick on slightly floured board. Cut with floured biscuit cutter. Bake in hot oven (450 degrees Fahrenheit), 15 minutes. Makes 12 biscuits.

COFFEE CARNIVAL

4 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
½ teaspoon salt.
½ cup seedless raisins.
2 cups decaffeinated coffee infusion.
½ cup sugar.
1 cup cream, whipped.

Add tapioca, salt, and raisins to coffee, and cook in double boiler 15 minutes, or until tapioca is clear, stirring frequently. Add sugar. Chill. Add vanilla; fold in cream. Serve in sherbet glasses. Serves 6.

Proper Equipment For Plane

At a meeting of the Air Pilots, Engineers and Navigators' Association at Vancouver, a suggestion was made that steps should be taken by the Canadian Air Board to see that planes operating on the fringes of civilization should be compelled to carry proper equipment. Development of a short wave receiving and transmitting radio set was suggested and a committee was appointed to take any action deemed suitable and submit a report to the association.

20 Millions Spent On Research Work

Laboratory Director Outlines Recent Developments

DEVICE RESTORES SPEECH

Research into the fundamental principles of sound has led to many interesting developments for the alleviation of human suffering, declared A. F. Dixon, Director of Systems Development, at the Bell Telephone Laboratories in New York, addressing a large gathering of the Northern Electric Engineering Society in the Engineering Institute in Montreal.

Commencing his address with a reference to the enormous sum of 20 million dollars which the laboratories are spending annually purely on research work, Mr. Dixon then outlined a number of recent developments in the telephone field such as a device which translates a dialed number into a vocal call as clear as any human voice, using moving picture film and a photo-electric cell.

Coming to the medical field, Mr. Dixon touched upon a unique attachment which will help restore speech to those who have lost the power of speech through a throat operation.

"From our hearts we thank God there are mighty few to whom an Artificial Larynx would be an inestimable boon," remarked a representative of the Northern Electric Company when discussing some of the recent developments of the Science of Sound after the meeting. "That such a thing as an Artificial Larynx makes sense, is a fact, for which some four or five hundred persons on this continent have good reason to be very thankful at this time, the name of MacKenty to whom belongs, in so large a measure, the credit for its origin."

The development of the MacKenty Artificial Larynx was the result of scientific researches along lines of acoustical investigation in the Bell Telephone Laboratories, the world's largest electrical acoustic laboratory in the western hemisphere, where some three thousand scientists and electrical engineers are constantly engaged in delving into the mysteries of sound transmission. Those included a study of something in which the medical profession with that inherent desire for the alleviation of human suffering saw possibilities for the relief of patients upon whom laryngectomy has been performed and the traction organized externally in an opening at the base of the neck.

rubber soundbox, a mouthpiece which fits into a metal stem at the soundbox and a spoon pad (to fit small) over the trachea opening The tension of the membrane may be increased or decreased to compete with the lost natural voice by simply adjusting a thumbscrew. At the side of the soundbox is a small through which air is inhaled into the lungs When the user wishes to speak he places his forefinger over the aperture in order to prevent escape of his breath which

"Simple" yes, but wonderful" remarked the Northern Electric Company representative to your correspondent "No wonder that given time, a great commercial organization like the Bell Laboratories has been prompted by purely humanitarian motives actually to manufacture these instruments in the form of something like a three hundred per cent loss on every instrument sold. SPIRIT OR PROPHECY

The Flaming Spirit of Love in a man: What a wonderful thing it is! Not that which many take it to be, or the maudlin affections of men of lust. If only these, too, could realize what a difference between that and true love, between the false and the true—how they would long for the better Spirit, to be shed abroad in their hearts. This then is the hope of noble character, the spirit of all true prophets since the world began. This is what led the Jewish sages of old to wait patiently on the Lord for His word, His message, for them to utter. (In your patience possess ye your souls Luke 21-19) Let us now consider some of the forerunners of these men clothed with a message of truth It was foretold to Abraham in his righteousness and faith (who seemed to stand out alone in these days) how the wicked Sodom was to be destroyed. And we see his wonderful compassion, even for that wicked city, in his pleadings to the Lord that if be spared even if He found only ten righteous there. Abraham, I am inclined to believe had no doubt but that there were 10 good souls in that populous city. See how his love shines out for it. But God's judgment must come, sooner or later, and that for a very good reason, or it has no doubt but that He would have spared Sodom, even as He did Nineveh at the preaching of destruction by Jonah many years later. What was the difference in these two equally wicked cities Nineveh immediately repented from the King down Sodom ridiculed and scorned the messengers

PIMO AND MEN

A pin must be pushed to make it go—it must meet men.

A pin to get out of a hole must have a pull—so must a man.

The head of a pin prevents it from going in far—so does the head of some men.

A straight pin under pressure often becomes crooked — so will a straight man.

Finally, there are white pins, black pins, crushed pins, long pins, good pins, smooth pins, short pins—and the world is full of the same kind of men.—Canadian.

A LOW LEVEL PROSPERITY

Although prosperity may be expected to return some time during the approaching winter, a lifetime is likely to elapse before this country again experiences years as fat as those thru which it has just passed, according to Dr. David Friday, well known economic and statistician, who once held the chair of political economy at Ann Arbor. A lower price level will presumably prevail for years to come; but many classes of people will be happier, Dr. Friday thinks, because their money will go further.

Other students of the situation have come to much the same conclusion. They predict a crash a year ago in the last kick of a par prosperity and economic hysteria in this country. The death rattle sounded on the floor of the stock exchanges and the bull market flattened out. When the chapters are over, we shall be headed toward a new normality more in keeping the needs of our domestic and foreign markets, as qualified by the increasing disposition and capacity of foreign countries to supply their own demand for goods which heretofore we have provided them.

The theory is interesting—and not without a promise of realization. All such liquidations, as that which had inevitably to follow our wartime economic inflation, are financially disastrous to some people; but the experience which they restore to the economic life of the country eventually brings greater comforts to a larger number. The size of the dollar is not so important as the distance it will go in terms of the necessities and luxuries of life. A proper adjustment of wages and prices on a lower level has already begun to take place, and a balance them on the beetling heights to which war has dragged them. They are less exposed to sudden and radical dislocation.

Adversity has its chastening merits. We have learned that things don't forever go, without effort and forming conclusion how we have learned

WARNING.

The attention of parents is called to the grave danger of allowing children to sleigh ride down the hill road's leading into town from the north. What would have been perhaps a fatal accident was narrowly averted by a car driver ditching his car on Tuesday to avoid hitting children coasting down the hill. Parents should absolutely prohibit children from using the hill roads for this purpose.

"I've been a fool," he announced gravely to himself. "Perhaps this sudden heat has warped my judgment. But when I remember how those two youngsters made Baberville bum by their hasty marriage—and how Mary almost died when he transis standing up for them, I can't bear that it shouldn't turn out right. Gay is a fine, sweet girl. Sometimes she does seem a little unsophisticated neighbors—and Nick's true blue, or I don't know the meaning of the phrase. I've made a mountain out of a mole hill, just because the boy's name happened to be the same that woman across the street. I'm an old fool! It's none of my business anyway." And with that comforting conclusion he went home to his Mary.

But later, when he and Mary strolled through their garden, discussing the blighted parades, his mind went back to Nick. He wondered if the boy were strolling in another garden beside the blue-clad woman.

"Mary," he asked suddenly, "are those people who bought Selina Smith's old house?"

"No, Henry, you won't been to church, and I supposed they were hardly settled enough for callers after all they're doing to it. Gay told me they're going to transplant some of those hollyhocks, Johnny; they're too crowded. Would you put them on that west side of the garage, or near the wall?"

"I wish you'd call," answered her husband with irrelevance.

"Call? Oh, you mean on Mrs. Halliday? Have you met her?"

"Nick introduced me as we passed the house."

"And you like her looks? But she's young, almost, isn't she? I shouldn't want an old woman calling on her."

John Maxwell laughed.

"Mary," he said, "you don't feel over forty, or are you?"

"Fifty," supplied Mary, smiling, "or sixty, or possibly seventy! But, dear, what a clinch it would be (to quote Janey), if the rest of the world could see me with your eyes! But, as you know perfectly well, I am sixty-nine years old, and to some women sixty-nine years old age. But I'll call if you like, John. What made you ask it?"

John Maxwell bent down to scan the green shoot carefully, then straightened up and fared her

"If you don't mind, I'll not answer that question now. I want an unbiased opinion of the woman, and I know no one else who can size up folks as you can. After you've turned in your report I'll confess everything."

"Confess!" laughed Mary Maxwell, and her husband said: "Don't worry, I may be a gay old dog, my dear; but it's not my own sins I'll confess when you bring your verdict - merely the fruit of my ugly imagination!"

"I never thought your imagination was especially agile, Johnny," replied his placid companion of fifty years, "but if I can save you the price of a detective I'll take the job! Come, dear, we must go in. It's getting damp."

It was also getting damp in an other garden, a garden on Elm Street, where four people stood near a bed of peonies. Could John Maxwell have seen the group he would have been relieved, for if Nick were standing near his captivating neighbor, her husband was there also, as well as Gay. It was she who broke a silence that for some reason had become constrained.

"Nick—I don't like leaving the babies any longer. They might wake up."

"But I haven't shown you the plans for my rose garden!" protested Mrs. Halliday, "I've painted in the colors, and it's quite charming. Do come in. It will take only a moment; or, if you must go, Mrs. Hastings, perhaps your husband will stay and see it?"

She turned to Nick, lifting eyes that were almost childlike in their pleading. Gay's mother was watching, and a faint smile hovered on his lips, a smile that was, somehow, not pleasant to see.

"No," Nick answered, "we'd better be getting back; though if Sonny called it will have no trouble hearing! He has the diaphragm of an elephant."

He cast a reluctant glance toward a far corner where the roses were soon day to grow. It was a glance not lost on Mrs. Halliday, on her husband, or on Gay. There flashed through her mind, the memory of another night in May, when Simeon Bartlett had given him advice. The words: "Give him plenty of rope to run on," came back to her with strange vividness. She turned to Nick.

"You stay, dear," she said generously. "It won't take two to look for the baby; and I know how much you'd like to see those plans."

Halliday, still a spectator, shrugged his shoulders as if he washed his hands of some invisible affair. His eyes were on Gay now. They lighted with a smile, half cynical, half pitying, as she extended a friendly hand in parting with his hostess. That hand anyone been watching, they would have seen a vast amusement sweep his face, for Nick also, stretched out a hand.

"Good-night, Mrs. Halliday," he said quietly, "I'll see the plans some other evening, if I may. This wife of mine is a rank coward when it comes to going into a dark house alone! I can't desert her. Good-evening, Halliday!"

He nodded to the lady's husband, and tucking Gay's arm within his own, turned toward the street.

For a moment Angela Halliday watched them, surprise in her eyes as ugly little frown furrowing her brow. Then her husband laughed a low, irritating laugh, and said: "Didn't work this time, did it, old girl!" He stretched lazily, and moved toward the house. There he turned and smiled, serene rather fond of her wife. His wife of his. Better be him alone, my dear. Remember the Ashleys?"

She kindled on him furiously.

"You beast!" Even in her anger she spoke softly. "I loathe you!"

He went past him, inside, and slammed the door.

(CHAPTER VI)

As the sound of that slamming door carried across the garden, Nick glanced at Halliday's solitary figure pacing back and forth on the front walk, and laughed.

"Rounds as if somebody were mad, doesn't it? only it can't be Halliday because he's still outside; and she doesn't look like the sort who would slam a door. She's got such well, innocent eyes."

"Almost too innocent," said Gay quietly. "She must be thirty."

"Thirty?" Nick looked his surprise as they seated themselves on the top step of the little porch. "I should have said she wasn't twenty-five. Her husband's a good bit older. Somehow it's hard to exactly outline his age."

"He has a cynical mouth, but he talked quite kindly to me when you and Mrs. Halliday were looking at the hollyhocks. He writes those so-called realistic things you know, showing up everything unbearable in life, and nothing else. Out of pure curiosity I read one this afternoon, and it depressed me terribly. No wonder the man looks cynical if his mind runs in a groove like that."

Nick smiled and said: "You always did view life through rose-colored spectacles, my dear." He looked at her closely, remembering John Maxwell's warning about the hollows in her cheek. A street light across the way flared suddenly, illuminating her face, and with something of a shock Nick saw what his chief had meant. "Why," he said gently, "are are you feeling pretty tired?"

"No more tired than I've been for a long time, Nick. I'll be all right now baby's sleeping better."

"You ought to put him in another room, Gay, and let me see to him I can't have you getting all used up. Look here! why don't you take the kids and make a visit to Uncle Sim?

The change would do you good. Baberville's such an oven from now on, and the old man would be rejoiced to have you. I could some for you some Sunday in the fitver and bring you home."

"Oh, I'd worry along. I'd eat down town. That lunch room's pretty good! Perhaps our new neighbors would take pity on me occasionally, and ask me to dine!"

"Is that why you want me to go?" was her unexpected rejoinder.

Nick grinned into the starlight.

"Not jealous, are you? If I remember rightly our wise Uncle Simeon advised you not to mind if I notices a pretty face—and there's no doubt that Mrs. Halliday has got one!"

"Tess—she's pretty; but— tell—Oh, Nick, of course I'm not jealous; but I can't help feeling that she rather scorns me. Perhaps it's just her wonderful clothes; but somehow she makes me feel crude and countrified."

"The idea!"

Nick laughed, but the laugh didn't ring exactly true, and for some reason he couldn't quite define, Gay moved a space away.

Rugby Played By Romans

Game Was Not Introduced By Rugby School As Supposed

The birthplace of Rugby football is generally accepted to have been Rugby School, but the game really goes back farther than that. The Romans played it in the time of Caesar and it is thought that they copied it from the Greeks. They called it "harpastum." A fresh work on "Rugby" describes it. It was so called because of the efforts of the players to seize and carry the ball from their opponents and in this respect the game resembled the modern game of Rugby. In harpastum the players were divided into two bands. Helped each side was a line drawn. Between them was another line and the ball was thrown up on th's line. the two sides then striving to carry it over their opponents' line. No doubt the Romans brought the game into Britain, for in the ancient town of Chester a ball game was played which closely resembled Rugby. It is also thought that the first game was played with the head of a Dane who had been captured and slain. In the Tudor period the game had made such head way that a statute was enacted forbidding it as it became a serious hindrance to the practice of Archery

Sense Old Words

According to an "American Dictionary" being compiled at the University of Chicago, a study of the historical development of new words in this country, "anglicisms" have been in use since 1790. Antiquated "fall" appeared in 1834 and "sweater" as a baseball term became current in 1891.

Combating Tuberculosis

Great Advances Have Been Made In Record Years In Dealing With This Scourge

(By Canadian Social Hygiene Council.)

Nearly fifty years ago a keen young doctor in Germany, who knew how to make use of his odd minutes, found that a new germ, or seed, of disease, or rather found for the first time a very old germ which had slain its tens of thousands, and indeed its many millions, since the world began. That young man was Robert Koch, and the germ was the germ of tuberculosis. Before this was found the doctors knew a score of diseases in different parts of the body that were characterized by minute tubers or tubercles. Among these was consumption, which attacked the lungs chiefly, and which was aptly called "The Captain of the Men of Death." Now, when the new germ was found, it was seen that all of these apparently different diseases were caused by this one germ young Doctor Koch had found. So they were henceforth considered one disease, and called by the one name, "Tuberculosis."

Now these diseases, or rather this disease, had been for centuries and centuries the greatest of all killers of the human race. More than one in ten of all people died of it. For generations after generations in the average village of a thousand people had at least three funerals a year from this cause alone. And most of them were funerals of young men and women, many of them of young fathers and young mothers.

But when it was announced that the germ or seed of this disease had been found, hopes began to run very high. Here was the germ. All that was needed was to destroy it. What was to do it in the line of Cheese and it is thought that they copied it from the Greeks. They called it "harpastum." A fresh work on "Rugby" describes it. It was so called because of the efforts of the players to seize and carry the ball from their opponents and in this respect the game resembled the modern game of Rugby. In harpastum the players were divided into two bands. Helped each side was a line drawn. Automatic Machine Gun

If Button Is Pressed It Will Go on Firing Indefinitely

A Scandinavian engineer has just perfected an admirable little machine gun which is capable of firing a thousand bullets per minute. The beauty of this ingenious mechanism consists in the fact that it requires nobody to sit behind it to do the firing. The gunner, in fact, may be silently comfortably in a cafe hundreds of miles from the danger zone. If only he presses a button the machine goes on firing and sending people to a land where there is no war. Airplanes without pilots raining destruction on cities, and machine guns without gunners. It begins to look like the beginning of the end. For obviously every state will try to get hold of as many of these machine guns as possible And once they have the required number, and war breaks out, there will be no armies to face each other, just automatic machine machine guns firing away at each other. If that ever happens which perhaps ruslins how useless it is to spend astronomical sums of money for cannon and tanks.

Discovers New Germ

Scientists Believe They Have Located Germ Of Infantile Paralysis

In an unidentified substance appearing in the form of elongated particles, which was taken from a victim of the disease, science hopes to have found the long-sought germ of infantile paralysis.

Dr. Simon P. Grace told the Science Forum in New York that Francis F. Lucas had photographed with his ultra-violet microscope a germ which had never been seen before and the significance of which still is in doubt.

First Ten Years Of Radio

Progress Of Broadcasting Is Almost Beyond Conception

A short time ago the tenth anniversary of broadcasting was attained, at the pioneer station of America, KDKA, Pittsburgh, having, in the first week of November, 1920, transmitted its first program over the air. The broadcasting equipment was crude, the "studio" was an upper room in a shack, reached by an iron ladder, and the program was furnished by a few gramophone records

The progress of broadcasting almost stuns the imagination. A few years ago it was a novelty, and neighbors entered the home of enterprising friends to listen-in to the new wonder. Today it might be said that no home is complete without one. There are twenty million radio sets in the United States and Canada. The events of the world, the music of the concert halls of New York and London are carried to the remotest corners of the globe The Mounted Police officers in the sub-Arctic regions is no longer alone. He has telephone speaking to him, playing for him from the big cities

If radio has accomplished so much in its first ten years, what will the next ten bring? Engineers know a great deal more than they did ten years ago, and with their added knowledge what may they not do by 1940? The prospects are beyond conception.

Telev sion will be here without a doubt We may listen-in and look-in at great events all over this continent and in Europe

ANNA MARIA CURNEY

The funeral of the late Mrs. A. H. Gurney was held from the church at Islay on Monday afternoon, Dec. 1st. the Rev. G. McComas of Vermilion conducting the service.

The deceased passed away on Friday Nov. 28, at the age of 73 years. She had lived in the district south of Islay for over 30 years, where her husband had farmed. She was a native of England and is survived by two sons, "Bill" on whose farm she had been living, and an elder son living at Aylesbury, England.

Interment was made in the Islay cemetery, Mr. Waring having charge of arrangements. The sympathy of many friends and neighbors is extended to the family in their sad bereavement.

Post Office Robbery At Islay Wednesday

Attempt To Lift $8000.00 Fails

Johnny Hoole's story of an alleged hold-up at the Islay post office at 4 a.m. Wednesday when a registered mail package for the Islay branch of the Bank of Montreal containing $8000.00 was lifted, failed to hold water under the investigations of Constable Olsen of Vermilion and Constable Reay of Lloydminster and led to the arrest and later on to the committing for trial of John Hoole Mussell, for many years a resident of Islay and district and of late who acted as assistant postmaster.

Hoole's story is an interesting one. He met the train from Edmonton at 4 a.m. and took the mail to the post office. While fixing the fire, he alleges a knock came to the door and two men demanded admittance; when he refused to open it, they kicked the door in and attacked him, knocking him out. "Hoole had a black eye and a bump on his head to substantiate his story. They then evidently took the registered mail sack and vanished he claims. On coming to, Hoole notified postmaster Pyle of the hold-up and he in turn communicated with Constable Olsen who was on the scene half an hour later, Constable Reay of Lloydminster, also arrived shortly afterwards.

"The newly fallen snow was a factor in Johnny's undoing, it is claimed; no tracks but his were visible in the neighborhood. The door also showed little evidence of being kicked in, and Hoole's face was sprayed with coal dust which led the officers to the coal shed, and there, after some grubbing they located the package of currency between the lining and the outside wall. The registered mail sack was found still open, in the lane at the rear of the post office; all other registered mail was intact.

Needless to say the village of Islay was extremely excited over the affair, and the more so when it became known that Hoole had been arrested in connection with the matter. "Johnny" as he was usually called, was a well liked and obliging young man when at his duties, and had the trust of the community, having been known there for years.

WEATHER TOO WARM FOR SKATING AND CURLING ICE

The weather man is surely in a genial mood this fall, since his early bad break, and no doubt he is trying to atone for that. Although the warmer is much to the liking of the populace in general it is surely exasperating to ice-maker Charlie Wilson of the Arena and Clarke Wilson of the curling rink. The arena ice was away to a good start but no freeze has been made, due to lack of frost, for a week now, and the same may be said of the curling ice. The present real chinook which is in progress this Wednesday, will not help ice matters any.

The Standard received word Thursday that the arena rink in all probability would be opened for skating this evening.

Agricultural Society's Splendid Position

The annual meeting of the Agricultural Society was held in the Brimscumb hall on Saturday last. The chair was occupied by President W. Telford. Financial statement showed a considerable drop below last year. In spite of this the Society managed to pay its accounts without borrowing. The President in a short address showed that the Society during the past seven years had erected buildings to the value of about $5000 which were all paid for. In this amount he did not include he dance pavilion and new exhibit building erected last year. In addition to the money expended on new buildings, $3500.00 had been spent in the same period, or approximately $400.00 a year, for the upkeep of grounds and buildings. He brought out these points, he said, as several members of the Society were not aware of what it actually cost to maintain the grounds. In concluding he thanked the officers and directors for their support during the year and hoped that 1931 might be more successful.

W. M. Steele, first vice-president, made a short address following along the lines mentioned by the president, namely, the value of improvements placed there by the Society and the cost of upkeep of the grounds. He felt that there should be more co-operation on the part of some organizations desiring to use the grounds. He pointed out that the Society had now quite an expensive plant and that the cost of upkeep was a very considerable item. J. W. G. Morrison, second vice-president, followed. He complimented the president and the secretary on the showing made during 1930 and said it was no doubt owing to their watching expenditures that the society had been able to come through as well as it had. He was of the opinion that when other organizations realized the amount of money that had been put into the grounds and buildings and also the cost of upkeep that they would be willing to co-operate and help maintain the plant in the condition that it is.

D. A. Andrew, manager of the Demonstration Farm, spoke along the lines of endeavoring to make the exhibits more of an attraction than they are at the present time. He pointed out that the Royal Winter Fair at Toronto had absolutely no attractions apart from the exhibits and that the attendance at that fair in 1930 was greater than any in its history. He offered several suggestions along these lines which are to be considered by the Board.

The officers elected were as follows: President, W. Telford; 1st vice-president, W. M Steele 2nd vice-president, J. W. G Morrison, and the following directors W. D Williams, W. H. Duncan, S C Heckbert, W. L. Robinson, H. A. Searle, J. C. Tucker, J Woodruff, Jas Barr, D A. Andrew, J Bryden, J S Cross, N McClellan

Canada's Fishing Grounds

Most Extensive In World and Yield Is Exceptional In Variety

"The Dominion's fishing grounds, both sea and inland, are perhaps the most extensive in the world and they yield food fishes in exceptional variety. Of prime natural quality, these fish are marketed in numerous different forms — fresh, frozen, canned, dried, smoked, etc.—by an industry whose processing methods have kept pace with the most approved fisheries practices As a result, fresh or prepared fish of the first quality are always available to the consumer. It is also to be said that in many cases fish foods are cheaper than other food products."

About Tuberculosis

Educational Plan To Combat Disease Waged In All Parts Of the Dominion

Great encouragement has been given in the last ten years to those people who believe that much of our disease can be prevented.

Every doctor and almost every enlightened layman holds this belief, and the encouragement which the last ten years has brought to these people is evident in the success which is crowning the efforts of these people who are fighting that dread disease, Tuberculosis.

The death from all forms of Tuberculosis has dropped about one per cent per thousand population each year or from 90 to 80 in ten years. During the same interval the annual number of deaths has have increased from 4,000 to 7,000.

It is interesting to note how this has been accomplished. Those who are fortunate in having an excellent organization working on their behalf in this respect, is the Canadian Tuberculosis Association, which organization has for years been in the very forefront of the battle against this disease. They have carried the warning against tuberculosis right to the minds of the whole people. They have waged an educational campaign against it in all parts of the Dominion. But they have done more than merely to warn and to alarm. They have been responsible for many cures and for a very great deal of prevention. One of the most interesting phases as well as the most needed of their work is that which is devoted to studies by physical medical examination. People in whole districts are frequently examined for signs of incipient tuberculosis and many cases are found of people who are afflicted with tuberculosis in its incipiency. Since the disease at this stage is almost certainly and permanently curable the Association has been responsible for the saving of many lives and the prevention of much misery.

All the information the Annual Christmas Seals should be mentioned. This sale which receives the support of all classes of citizens across a valuable and two-fold purpose. First of course it raises money. This is used for local communities for medical diagnostic and home visiting nursing services. Secondly the annual educational campaign of the Christmas Seal sale gives the public much needed information about the work and the need for the work.

"The type of citizen who buys Christmas Seals" an official of the organization has said, "is not the kind to let his brother down."

SAUL OF TARSUS — HOW A PHARISEE BECAME A CHRISTIAN

Golden Text: "I count all things to be loss for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord: for whom I suffered the loss of all things, and do not count them but refuse, that I may gain Christ." — Philippians 3:8.

Lesson: Acts 22:3-15.

Devotional Reading: Isaiah 61:1-6.

Explanations and Comments

Paul's Birthplace and Education, verse 3.—Paul had been charged with being an enemy of the Jews and the laws, and he began by declaring that he was a Jew through and through. born in Tarsus of Cilicia, but educated in Jerusalem, having been taught by the great Rabbi Gamaliel "according to the strict law of our fathers," and that he was as zealous for God as they all now were.

The Arrester Arrested, verses 6-9 In his zeal Paul had persecuted those of the "Way," he told the mob in Jerusalem, binding and casting into prison and even to prison. The high priests and elders could bear witness that he had received letters from them authority to make arrests, and had set out with these for the city of Damascus that he might bring back to Jerusalem for punishment the followers of Christ whom he might find there.

Paul was very near Damascus, after a long journey of one hundred and fifty miles, when suddenly at noon an extraordinary light shone about him, so that he fell to the ground.

Voice and answer followed. "Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?" "Who art Thou, Lord?" "I am Jesus of Nazareth, whom thou persecutest."

Instant Obedience, verses 10, 11.—"What shall I do, Lord?" was Paul's humble question. He believed in Christ. He had instantly become from a persecutor to a follower, and gives himself to his new Master's service. To know what Christ would have him to become therefore was the great aim of his heart, for he was the bondservant of Christ; to him to live was Christ.

"Arise, and go into Damascus," was the answer, "and there it shall been what he was to do. The glory of the light had blinded him, and he was led by the hand like a little child.

Ananias Called, verses 12-15.—There in Damascus Ananias, a devout and highly esteemed man, came to him and called him Brother. "Brother Saul," he said, "receive thy sight." And Paul looked up and saw him. It was God who had given him this vision and message, Ananias told him, and he was to be a witness for Christ unto all men.

An Ice Cream Tree

One tree in the green-house of Mrs. M. A. Horn at Memphis, Tenn., is a popular attraction to visitors. It bears a fruit that "tastes like strawberry ice cream and looks like cone." It takes its name from a fig tree, according to Mrs. Horn, who got the tree from a St. Louis florist six years ago. The kernels are soft and mushy and very rich.

The will of the late Honorable P. C. Larkin, amounted to $2,500 000 the bulk of which was left to his family. From practical obscurity he left a name that is known throughout the entire world.

Federal Government Likely To Impose Same Form Of Tax

"A determined effort to insure what amounts to unfair competition for Canadian manufacturers is almost certain to be made by the present government in its revision of the tariff for the coming session, by imposing some form of duty against periodicals entering Canada and bearing a large amount of advertising of foreign-made goods. Such a blow would be aimed at large weekly publications from the United States, and it is expected that the duty will be imposed on a percentage basis, and that the publishers will be required to furnish advance copies of their publications to the department of national revenue for purpose of appraisal.

Beauty Aids Better Impact

Reason Australia Can Compete With Canadian Product Says Crusher

The reason Australian butter can compete out the Canadian product in Great Britain is a bounty of about nine cents on every pound exported, thus giving the Australian exporter that extra in price-cutting, according to J. A. Caulder, former president of the National Dairy Council of Canada.

Mr. Caulder pointed out that for every four pounds of butter produced in Australia, one pound was for export.

The speaker pointed out that 80 per cent. of the Canadian West was suitable for dairy production, and he strongly recommended introduction of more mixed farms in the West to increase the present wheat depression.

"You shouldn't feel that way, Hilda," he went on after a thoughtful moment. "There's nothing in the least crude about you. I think those hard-shelled girls are so—so friendly with folks as I am. Perhaps you're bashful, but I've noticed that men like a girl who is modest and unspoiled. Tonight, you know—really you weren't especially cordial."

"Was I—impolite?"

Her voice trembled, and Nick said quickly: "Lord, no! I couldn't help wishing you'd act more—well the way you act with me."

A queer little smile crossed Gay's face.

"You might be surprised, Nick, if I held her hand, or anything like that."

She expected a laugh, but he seemed not to have heard. He sat quite still, watching the shadows cast by the pine tight across the way. An automobile passed by, going too rapidly, but he took no notice. Two lovers in the silent sleeping village, listening the night to hide their entering arms, and—Nick-like, Nick made no comment. He seemed suddenly far away, and Gay leaned close again to rest her cheek against his arm.

"It's a ripping night," said Nick. He drew a deep breath—almost a sigh. "I'd like to start right now and walk till sunrise."

Gay's cheek pressed closer.

"I—I sometimes feel that way, too, Nick; and then I wonder if ever we'll do such things again. I can't of course; but there's no reason in the world why you shouldn't, you dear vagabond."

Nick smiled.

"The kids are a pretty substantial reason, seems to me, not to mention the bank! A few days' work in the city tomorrow if I cramped all night." He arose reluctantly. "Come, dear, we must go up to bed. You'll have to—I was it told me that two babies were no more work than one?

Whoever it was—she was a cheerful liar, I—Hurk!" He sat down suddenly and laid a detaining hand upon her arm. "There's Hilda Halliday at the piano. She sings like a bird. Let's listen."

It was next day that Mary Maxwell made her call. She gave her report that evening, when she and John sat contentedly rocking on their comfortable screened porch

"It was not as summer at four o'clock, Johnny," she began. "as I wore my lilac voile, and carried a sunshade, the fluffy one Tom sent me for July's graduation. I looked real 'nifty,' as Tom, Jr. would say, and up-to-date. I feel sure there was nothing in my appearance for Mrs. Halliday to criticize."

"I'd like to see her try!"

John's tone was belligerent, and Mary laughed.

"I got my first shock when the door was opened," she continued. "Who do you suppose opened it?"

"St. Peter?" suggested her husband hopefully; but Mary was much too interested in her subject to notice this frivolous rejoinder.

"Julie Mapes! She's there permanently, and Mrs. Halliday's got her all rigged up in a cap and apron. I should have thought she'd resent."

"If you refer to Julie, and she wore only a cap and apron," began the listener, when his wife cut in: "John

Death Of Capt. Sverdrup

Pioneer Norwegian Arctic Explorer Dies At His Home In Norway

Canada had a very particular interest in Captain Otto Sverdrup, the famous Norwegian explorer who died at Oslo, Norway. It was quite recently that the Dominion Government announced the payment of $27,000 to Captain Sverdrup in recognition of services which its performed in the realm of scientific research. As his activities were largely in the northern islands of the Canadian archipelago, it was recognized that the discoveries and studies had been of peculiar benefit to Canada. The sum was also paid the Norwegian explorer as a consideration for the delivery to the Dominion of all original maps, records, diaries and other materials in his possession.

On behalf of the government of Canada, Sir George Perley, acting prime minister, has cabled to the British minister at Oslo, Norway, asking that he convey to the Norwegian Government Canada's regret at the death of Commander Sverdrup. In his cable, Sir George refers to Commander Sverdrup's "splendid services to Arctic exploration," which, he says, have long been recognized in Canada.

Japanese Glad To Secure Chrysanthemums Grown in Canada

The flower which is the golden flower, for this is the literal meaning of the word chrysanthemum, may have been in some sprayptical growth when it was first cultivated in the orient, but now its application is distinctly Occidental. This was the statement made at the quarterly meeting of the Prince Albert Board of Trade, when great satisfaction was expressed at this accomplishment, which, it is anticipated, will be of great value to the district.

P. W. Mahon, chairman of the transportation committee, commented at length on the benefits accruing to Prince Albert through the highway, and stated that while it was an unforeseen condition, this highway it was a forward step.

Satisfaction at the possibility of developing a power unit at the Big Bend on the Saskatchewan River was also expressed. Hydro power from this source within the next few years in quantities sufficient to supply the province was visualized.

Exploring With Motor Car

Detour Is Sometimes Amusing When Strange Roads Beckon

The motorcar house smirkily along the country roads, and there are by cracks no washboard ridge; there is almost the sensation of flight. On the other hand, the motorcar enables you to buy things varied and sundry. Small roadside merchants urge you to buy.

Many dear John, most men would have found her interesting. She wore a blue Japanese silk that fitted her eyes so perfectly that you could pee nothing else. Her hair —well, in these days of bobs it was really notable, and unless she had been a maid to do it for her, she has my sympathy! Yet it looked simple. Any man would have called it simply "nice" over her husband. She wore silver slippers, John—in the afternoon—in Bakersville! Her stockings—

"Hold-on," said John Maxwell with a touch of good-natured sarcasm, "that you saw nothing but her eyes. What did you see?"

"She made a very pretty apology for keeping me waiting. It seems that the Jap's new day's servant is forty-thirty. How does one rules, John? I doubt if I've ever done it, but I remained delightful, I wondered if she made Julie relax too! I admired the house, and she seemed gratified. It has a garden, however, that brought them to Bakersville. She adores gardens and growing things (with the exception of children, I gathered later!). Nature is rather a hobby with her—a pose, it's not a mistaken; though her eyes (childlike and bland doesn't half describe them, Johnny), belie my judgment.

"Then she showed me the garden. When I assented she touched a bell and Julie appeared. Poor Julie! I had an apologetic glance at me, John, and—bobbed a curtsey! Imagine it! Julie Nipps, who's gone out by the day to everyone in Bakersville for the last ten years, bobbing a curtsey. It must be some new idea. And Mrs. Halliday said: 'Julie, we'll have tea in the pergola,' and Julie bobbed again and scuttled out of the room."

"I'd go on faster if you didn't make such ridiculous additions to my story We went outside, through a beautiful new French door, Johnny, and had an excellent tea beneath the pergola. Mr. Halliday came out of the garage. He saw me too late to dodge, when was his evident desire, so she had to present him.

"You go know, John Maxwell, for a moment I felt sorry for that woman, tied to such a tombstone of a man; but when I left, the shoe was on the other foot. I was sorry for him."

"How we're getting at the facts." John Maxwell drew a satisfied breath, and his wife laughed.

"We've been getting at them all the time," she said pityingly, "only you're too dense to see it. Don't you know that a woman's house is her temple —that nothing in it is too trivial to have some meaning? That living-room now—for all its dainty touches it's a room a man would adore: big chairs, you know, and lights! just right for reading and—"

"In mercy's name don't return to that living-room," exclaimed John Maxwell. "Get back to the pergola, Mary, don't try to in flame, or interrupt. It was the black dress I meant — sombre, my dear — heavily-starched with cuffs, and the monster at eight!! I like a well-bred maid as much as anyone, but I've never yet forgotten that they're flesh and blood like the rest of us; and black, in summer, and long sleeves—"

"It's only May, my dear."

"Well, May in Bakersville might be August anywhere else. Anyhow, I detected the starch immediately. The stomach, liver and bowels will be cleansed of poisons painful and dangerous indigestion disappears and the system enjoys a tonic effect. Don't delay. Ask your druggist for a 25c pkg. of Carter's Little Liver Pills.

Bank-Otters In Northern Canada

Between Nine and Ten Thousand Animals in the North

Between 8,000 18,000 musk-otter roam the northern-islands and mainland of Canada, according to the estimate of W. H. B. Hoare, of the Department of the Interior, whose report of his examination of the Thelon game sanctuary east of Great Slave Lake has just been issued by the Northwest Territories and Yukon Branch. Mr. Hoare spent two years in the north, 1928 and 1929.

Canada and Greenland are the only countries in the world where at present the musk-ox is to be found in its natural state. It equals in size one of the small breeds of Welsh and Scotch cattle and in appearance resembles a small buffalo.

There are 250 of the animals in the Thelon sanctuary, while Mr. Hoare believes the greatest herd is on Melville Island where 4,000 herd roam today. He estimates about 1,-000 musk-oxen in North and East Greenland.

R. M. Anderson, chief of the biological division of the National Museum in an appendix to the report, gives a higher estimate, stating Canadian herds total 12,900 animals and Greenland 1,500.

Road Gravelled To Park

Highway From Prince Albert To National Park Is Now Completed

The highway from Prince Albert to the Prince Albert National Park is now all gravelled, all weather road, while the gravelling from Saskatoon to Prince Albert is rapidly approaching completion. This was the statement made at the quarterly meeting of the Prince Albert Board of Trade, when great satisfaction was expressed at this accomplishment, which, it is anticipated, will be of great value to the district.

No poison has taken a greater hold upon public attention than arsenic. Its deadly effects when used as a drug is absence of the vital necessities of life Many people accidentally take quite appreciable quantities of arsenic and some up long facts bearing on this fact have lately come to light. Dr. Bertram Smith, of the Medical Laboratory at Plymouth has asserted that oysters contain a high percentage of arsenic which is found in sharp contrast to the Food and Drugs Act.

Tracing Migratory Birds

Much valuable information concerning Canada's birds is being secured through the co-operation of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, Department of the Interior, Ottawa, with the United States Biological Survey. Year after year out, migratory flocks of birds are traced and recorded by means of placing dated bands on the legs of the birds. Much of the field work in connection with this is done by voluntary co-operators

Flaky Pie Crust

The secret of making good pie crust is: "Use Purity Flour—and keep the dough dry!" Try this recipe—for 3 shells:

3 cups Purity Flour 1 tsp lard
1 tsp salt 1 cup cold water.

METHOD: Mix the flour and salt, sprinkle the lard over it, and rub in lightly with the fingers. Add gradually added water, quantity of water has not a drop more. Use less water, if you can, and the pie crust will be even flakier.

Then roll out board very lightly sprinkled with Purity Flour. Use a minimum of flour for good balance of shortening over dough, fold over three times and roll again as required thickness. Bake in hot oven (425°).

Norway Secures Island

Claim To Island Of Greenland Coast Is Recognized By Great Britain

It is officially announced that Great Britain has recognized the Norwegian claim to the Island of Jan Mayen, a desolate land lying between Greenland and North Norway in the Arctic sea. Norway's claim to sovereignty was put forward in a royal decree, dated last May 8.

In general it is accepted that the island was discovered by Henry Hudson, British navigator, in 1607.

The island is 34 miles long and seven miles wide at its greatest breadth.

KEEP SNOW REMOVED

A total of 750 miles of main highways will be kept free of snow during the coming winter, according to present plans, as compared with a mileage of 550 last year. Quebec, where traffic is much heavier than in Alberta is attempting to keep only 300 miles of road clear of snow.

High School Notes

The High School, entertained the Collegiate at an enjoyable dance on Saturday, December 6th in the Assembly Hall. The hall was tastefully decorated with green and purple. The palms and shaded lights gave it a delightful appearance. We congratulate the decoration committee on the results of their hard labor. The high school orchestra provided the fine music for the evening.

The final elimination in the speeches will be held at the Literary meeting Wednesday, 17th. This will be the last of a series of contests which have been held recently. The speakers will be, John Zapri for Grade XI, Alberta Derr for Grade X, Marjorie Stone for Grade IX. We are all very much interested in the outcome of this contest.

The Xmas exams are starting right away. The usual groans and sighs are to be heard in the rooms and halls.

CAR LICENSES FOR YEAR SET RECORD

Motor vehicle licenses issued to date during the current year total 162,906 according to Edward Trow bridge, deputy Prov. Sec. which continues a record for the province last year's total which also set a record was 97,549.

On Saturday next application forms will be sent out to vehicle owners, following the practice set last year, these should be preserved if not being used immediately. Supplies of 1931 license plates are already on hand.

BOY SCOUTS

Don't Forget the "Toy Shop"

Howdy, Folks!

The motion picture of the Jamboree was held in the High School, Mr. Buchanan, the new Scout Commissioner, honored us with his attendance and he spoke on the Boy Scout movement, "which" he said "is a real organ wizard, gave us one or two selections on the mouth organ.

The Scout meeting was under the management of the two best Assistant Scoutmasters, H. J. Reid and W. Paterson. The meeting opened in the usual way and then corners followed. The rest of the meeting was devoted to games. At 8:15 some Scouts went to the College to play basketball with one of the girls' teams. The Scouts were not to be beaten and won by a small majority.

Christmas is drawing near, so please don't forget our "Toy Shop." We need anything. Our motto is: "You break them and we fix them."

The First Aid team will start training for the 1st year's competition.

Boy Scout Solicits of Fun

Can Red Wilson handle the girls in playing basketball? We say he can.

Why does it take a certain Boy Scout 2½ hours to sell a certain young lady a ticket to the Jamboree picture?

Impressed with Canada's selling ability, Lord Stonehaven, Governor-General of Australia, interviewed at Winnipeg recently after a tour of Canada by Canadian Pacific Railway, urged that the Dominion do everything in its power to "consolidate" Empire trade and generally to seek articles which are particularly the products of one country, other than Products of America, as an addition of worthwhile imports for Canada.

Winners of final grand championships at Chicago and Toronto fairs, are two Clydesdale stallions from Saskatchewan. "Rosemoor" and "Lochinvar," are showing at the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto, November 15-27. Large experimental farms in the West, including the Prince of Wales' "R.P." ranch, are also well represented in the entry lists.

Cultured, educated women, taught by women whom they learned with their brothers, existed in China prior to the 12th century and before the western world had attained any high degree of civilization, Dr. T. Catherine Woo, principal of the St. Paul's Girls College, Oxford, declared when interviewed on board the S.S. Empress of Asia recently. She broadcast a message to women of all countries, stating that Chinese women are no less intellectual than their European sisters, if given a chance to learn.

It is expected that the improved ship channel in the River St. Lawrence as far as Montreal, giving a 25-foot depth for ocean liners, will be completed by 1934. This will enable liners of 35,000 tons cargo to reach Montreal. The 14,000 ton Empress of Australia, the largest inland port in the world.

According to the president of the Radio Manufacturing Association of Canada, the per capita expenditure in the Dominion for radio sets is the highest in the world. In 1929 Canadians spent over $20,000,000 on radios and equipment.

Buzzard Strawberries from British Columbia are in cartons found a ready market this year. About 100,000 pounds were bought by American interests and large quantities were bought in Eastern Canada. It returned a good return to the grower.

Nine years ago, Mrs. W. A. Freeman, of Ardenode, Alberta, a native of Wisconsin, won a pair of bronze turkeys in a raffle. To-day she has the largest turkey ranch in Canada and is the outstanding exponent of turkey raising in the Dominion. Her turkeys will return a revenue of $30,000 this year.

Opening for the first time to Saskatchewan, the Western Canada Pea Show will be held December 3-4 at Saskatoon. At Winnipeg last year more than 300 farms from as far as Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia and Ontario were interested in competing in this year's Show.

Directors of the Conservative Horticultural Society of Great Britain have recently extended a hand to Canada have expressed themselves as interested in having the World's Grain Show to be held at Regina in 1932 and have indicated that in all probability they will visit the Exhibition and Conference at that time.

To Command New Canadian Pacific Giant

Captain R. G. Latta, more familiarly known to transatlantic passengers as "Jack" Latta, has been selected to command the new 21,500-ton Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Britain. The promotion comes to Captain Latta after 26 years service with the Canadian Pacific Steamships, which he joined in 1904 with the rank of fifth officer. In the next six years Captain Latta sailed with several ships and eventually became chief officer of the Montrose in 1910. The expiration of seven years as chief officer saw his promotion to commander of the Monmouth. Six years later in 1923, he anticipated promotion to the rank ship of the fleet by his appointment to her command, the Empress of Britain, which was later renamed the Montreal. After a short interlude on the Empress of Scotland, the Scottish shipmaster went to the Empress of Australia, command of which he relinquished upon surrendering Premier R. B. Bennett to the Imperial Conference, in order to stand by the new Empress of Britain during the last stages of her construction.

During his many years as commander of Canadian Pacific liners on the St. Lawrence seaway, Captain Latta has conveyed many famous people across the Atlantic, numbering amongst his more distinguished friends H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, who launched his new command; Prince George, the Duke of Gloucester, Lord and Lady Willingdon, Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, Rt. Hon. L. C. M. S. Amery, Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill, Baron Byng of Vimy, former Governor-General of Canada and commander of the Canadian Corps in France; Prime Minister Ferguson, of Ontario, Lord Dawson of Penn, physician-in-ordinary to H.M. the King, and many others distinguished in the fields of finance, politics and art.

The Empress of Britain, which will make her maiden voyage to Quebec next June, is here shown in an artistic presentation of what she will look like when the ocean service next June. Captain Latta is inset.

Cool Heads and Clear Thinking

These are times that test men. In the present economic conflict raging throughout the world, men are being put to the test just as truly as they were during the stress and strife of the Great War. There is tragedy and suffering now as there was then. And because of these conditions men and women today are very apt to allow their usual habits of thought and action to slip their moorings and to indulge in unconsidered, reckless thought, speech and action which in their more sober moments they would not only refuse to countenance in themselves but would condemn in others.

It is well that people should give serious consideration and study to the existing situation, not merely as individuals as they themselves may be affected, but collectively as a community in the interest of the welfare of all. It is well that difficulties should be made known, that just grievances should be clearly stated that suggested remedies should be outlined discussed and, in the light of all the circumstances, action taken. Therefore, the many meetings being held throughout the country are a gratifying sign of an aroused public interest in the public welfare but only so far as their object is constructive, that is, to find a way out of difficulties, to better conditions, and not destructive in character leading to only greater confusion of thought and still greater trouble.

Public discussion calls for real leadership, thoughtful, sane and constructive. It is not the man who offers the loudest, who berates everybody and everything, who calls for drastic action against this or that law or institution, who is the real friend of the country or of the people for whom he professes to be most sympathetic. This class of individual always comes to the front where men are depressed and feeling in a more or less desperate mood. He does not attempt to appeal to their reason, but to their feelings and passions. He is not a true and safe leader, but a man bent on destruction, and potentially quite may be advancing any sound constructive policy that is likely to be productive of good.

Attempts by agitators of this type to sway the feelings and passions of people in a word, to work a "campaign of hate" against those who people may be, temporarily undergoing should not only be frowned down upon by the right-thinking men and women of this country, but these last mentioned men and women, who are the real backbone of any country, should not hesitate to speak out boldly in opposition to the unsound and unwise advice and actions of these trouble makers.

No one pure contain report of the proceedings of any parts of the country at which despite the protests and opposition of the more intelligent and law-abiding people present, resolutions are adopted demanding the abolition of this or that political party, the adoption of that or this action which, if carried into effect instead of bettering conditions would only serve to prolong existing difficulties and make them infinitely worse. Recession proposals, threats of violence, defiance of law and constituted authority, the setting up of new officers, only add fuel to flames already burning. They mean more, not less trouble and suffering. They contain no element of remedy.

In Canada, or in South America or elsewhere, revolution may still be the only method of successfully achieving reforms, and in the present world-wide depression, the expedient of revolution has been resorted to in more than one instance. But whether conditions exist in Canada to-day, time alone will disclose. But in Canada, Great Britain the United States, the people enjoy democratic political institutions which place the power of constitutional action right in their own hands. If present national, provincial or municipal policies are not sound and in the best interests of the masses, then the people themselves can right them. They may not be able to immediately effect all their desires, but they can be able to immediately effect all their desires, but they can be able in this world no one nation can govern its own economic conditions, much as it may strive to do so. But it can itself adopt those policies which it believes are best calculated to meet its difficulties, solve its problems and advance the welfare of its people, not at one class or section alone but for the general interests of all.

It is in the solution of such problems that the thought and energies of people should now be directed, and in finding kind leaders of the blind who would tear up and destroy on the vague promise that upon the wreckage so created they would build up something better, but in explanation of the exact nature of which they are so delightfully indefinite.

In conclusion, let it be repeated that these are times that test men. These are times that call for cool heads, clear-thinking; not for wild talk and a multitude of untried theories

Demanding Federal Assistance

Ottawa Flooded With Deputations For Relieving Distress In the West

Resolutions demanding federal assistance for western farmers are flooding into the capital daily, every mail bringing scores of declarations from Boards of Trade, farmers local and other bodies. The proposals in these resolutions vary greatly but agree in demanding a minimum price to be fixed for wheat by the Dominion.

Cabinet ministers, quite frankly, are amazed at the widespread dissatisfaction obtaining in the west and are at a loss to know what to do in the circumstances.

The resolutions, as a rule, ask for the following concessions:

1—Abolition of the gold standard.

2—Payment by parliament of all outstanding debts of farmers, whether being grocery bills, chattel mortgages, overdue interest and 25 per cent. of land mortgages.

3—Fixing of the price of wheat at anywhere from 70 cents to $1 per bushel.

The Federal Government regards all these suggestions as entirely impracticable and unworkable and there is no intention of granting any relief to the west other than that afforded by the unemployment fund.

France and Disarmament

French Nation Would Seek For Security First

And, for the French of all orthodoxy, the political theory that the precedence of security over disarmament is indisputable. They have in practice refused armaments; but the theory that armaments should not be reduced until there is security is for them an unshakable as the rock of Gibraltar. There are plenty of arguments to the contrary, but they do not convince the French. One can ask whether absolute security is meant —and in that case, as there is no such thing as absolute security, there is an end of disarmament. One can ask whether, if relative security is meant, with what degree of relative security the French would be satisfied—and to that there is no answer. One can argue that disarmament is one of the conditions of security — but the French would only repeat that they would have security first.—Sisley Huddleston in the New Statesman.

Paved Highway Across Canada

Predicted That It Will Be a Reality Within Ten Years

Canada's proposed Atlantic-to-Pacific highway was pictured as a paved thoroughfare of the future to delegates attending the annual meeting of the Canadian Association of Tourist and Convention Bureau at Winnipeg. Major Ralph H. Webb of Winnipeg, disclosed that western mayors had been approached by Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, with whom they conferred at Ottawa some time ago, that the Dominion government was prepared to participate in the completion of the highway on a fifty-fifty basis with the provinces.

Mr. Bennett had added at that time, said Mayor Webb, the provincial link within his area in the highway would be paved from the Manitoban to British Columbia.

Western Canada the Potential Source Of Supply For the Empire

The disaster to the airship R-101 and subsequent discussions about the use of the inert gas helium instead of inflammable hydrogen to provide the lift interest deeply two regions in the British Commonwealth Canada and Trinidad. At present the entire world supply of the gas is obtained from the United States, and helium will lift the airships now being constructed there. Prospectors from the Dominion government have been sent to Trinidad to investigate reports of the gas in Western Canada, and, dependent on the future of airship policy, there is a likelihood that efforts will be made to recover the gas.

United States Attorney-General Says Liquor Smuggling Driven From Canadian Border

Liquor smugglers have been driven from the Canadian border to the high seas by the Canadian Anti-Export Act, United States Attorney-General Mitchell discovers in his annual report issued at Washington.

"The Canadian nation dealt a severe blow to border traffic when it amended its Export Act of May 20, 1930, and outlawed direct clearance of liquor from Canada to the United States," the report says. "The natural result of this restrictive legislation was to drive some additional professional smugglers to the high seas, where their activities would be more likely to succeed. The French archipelago of St. Pierre, Miquelon, which for a number of years has been the chief rendezvous and supply point for the liquor-smuggling fraternity off our eastern coast, has experienced a substantial increase in this form of business.

"It is also noteworthy that 25 of the 29 foreign liquor vessels seized during the year were British. Vessels of this nationality still predominate in the trade, owing to the chief smuggling base is French. Increased activity in Nova Scotia ports has been observed, because most of the vessels which operate in the smuggling trade put out of St. Pierre are documented in Nova Scotia ports and are owned, at least ostensibly, by Canadian citizens.

"The outstanding case of liquor smuggling traffic across the C. anadian border has already been mentioned. This action on the part of Canada is real evidence of the desire of that nation to co-operate with us in the solution of our mutual liquor problem and is very highly appreciated."

Twenty-seven thousand seven hundred and nine persons went to jail for violation of the prohibition laws in 1930—6,017 more than in 1929 and 4,238 more cases were pending at the close of the year than at the close of the previous year.

"Enforcement of the National Prohibition Act," says the report, "showed improvement over 1929."

Doukhobor Colony From Canada Reported To Be Negotiating With Mexican Authorities

A despatch from Mexico City says that Peter Verigin and Aaron Sapiro, representatives of the Doukhobor colony of Canada, conferred with the secretary of agriculture regarding the possibility of 10,000 to 20,000 Doukhobors coming to Mexico if the government would help them to acquire land.

Verigin and Sapiro received the support of the executive committee of the National Confederation of Mexican Chambers of Commerce, the group obtained the hearing before the secretary of agriculture.

It is said that if the Doukhobors came to Mexico they probably would settle in the northern portion.

Railway Crossing Accidents

Nineteen Deaths From This Cause Recorded For September

Deaths as a result of railway crossing accidents in September numbered 19, according to a report issued by the board of railway commissioners. There were 45 accidents and besides those killed 70 were injured. By provinces, accidents were: Prince Edward Island, 1; Nova Scotia, 8; New Brunswick, 5; Quebec, 18; Ontario, 10; Manitoba, 3; Saskatchewan, 2; Alberta, 8; and British Columbia, 4. Only three of the 45 accidents occurred at protected crossings.

The total for the month of all accidents in connection with railways was 148, in which two passengers, seven employees, and 41 others were killed.

Imports From U.S. Lower

Imports Into Canada During October from both United States and Great Britain showed material decrease from corresponding figures for 1929, with United States losing proportionally more trade than Great Britain. Total imports for the month aggregated $78,358,000, compared with $116,271,000 in October, 1929, a decrease of $37,913,000.

Saskatchewan Man Receives Order For 5,000 Horses From Soviets

A sale of 2,000 Canadian horses has been negotiated with the government of Soviet Russia by Alphonse Champagne of North Battleford, Sask., he reported on his arrival in Ottawa, following a business trip to Europe. The horses will be shipped from Western Canada at an early date.

Mr. Champagne formerly sat in the House of Commons for North Battleford, but now devotes his entire time to private business. He stated that his preconceived notions of conditions in the Soviet have been completely changed as the result of his visit to Russia. Everything, "I found not only government officials but the people generally friendly to Canada," he said, "and anxious to further commercial relations between the two countries."

Aerial Travels With Circus

Dame Laura Knight Produces Paintings That Breathe Of the Big Top

After travelling with a circus through England during the summer season, Dame Laura Knight has placed her paintings on exhibition in London. Some of the pictures make a sensation, those of ponies, zebras and elephants being almost alive with color, those of clowns and behind the scenes are particularly vivid and spontaneous. When members of the circus visited the exhibition they gave an acrobatic turn to show their appreciation. The fair artist travelled with a large number of her troupe and shared their joys and hardships.

Bank President Relieves To the Soundness Of Our General Economic Condition

"In this virile country of Canada with its abounding resources there can be no permanent depression," Sir Charles Gordon, president of the Bank of Montreal, stated in his address at the annual meeting of the bank at Montreal. Sir Charles' review of the business of the bank and of the Dominion during the past year contained but little under all the circumstances Canadians could justly congratulate themselves upon the inherent vigor and soundness of their general economic situation.

Over Million Canadian Postage Stamps Used in Last Year

More than 1,400,000,000 Canadian postage stamps were used last year, and if they were placed side by side they would stretch a distance of 18,750 miles, it was stated in the course of an address by Mr. C. G. Cowan, vice-president of the British American Bank Note Company, printers of stamps for the Dominion Government, delivered at the annual banquet of the St. Lawrence Stamp Collectors' Club of Montreal. About fifty million of these stamps, which were stuck on 1,400,000,000 envelopes with thirty-five tons of glue.

An excellent protection against worms can be had in Miller's Worm Powders. They render the stomach and intestines untenable to them. They heal the surfaces that have become inflamed by the presence of the parasites and serve to restore the strength of the child that has been undermined by the draughts that the worms have made upon it, and their operation is altogether health-giving.

Saskatchewan Body Requests That Federal Government Be Asked To Take Action

To ask the provincial government to petition the Federal Government for pensions for the blind in Saskatchewan, a delegation of members of the advisory board of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind waited on Premier Anderson at the government buildings Regina, recently.

The delegation to the Saskatchewan Government is a result of the action taken by the Manitoba Government at its last session when they received a similar request for pensions for the blind in Manitoba from the Manitoba division of the institute.

The Saskatchewan delegation was composed of members of the advisory board of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind in Saskatchewan headed by Captain Baker, general secretary for the institute in Canada, and Major F. Ingman, general manager of the central west division with headquarters in Winnipeg. The chairman of the delegation was Dr F C Middleton, who is the chairman of the Saskatchewan advisory board.

Canada's Official Report Places the Crop At 283,851,000 Bushels

The latest official report on the field crops of Canada estimates the 1930 wheat crop at 283,851,000 bushels or about 11,000,000 bushels more than the previous official estimate made last September. Of the 283,851,000 bushels produced for all Canada, 374,000 bushels were grown in the three Prairie Provinces: Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. This latest report crop is about 91,000,000 bushels more than in 1929. Between 37 and 38 million bushels of wheat is threshed.

The 1930 oat crop will total 439,156,000 bushels, an increase of over 146,000,000 bushels compared with the yield in 1929. Barley will return 137,963,000 bushels or about 35,000,000 bushels more than last year. The total production of rye is placed at 22,284,000 bushels, an increase of 9,000,000 bushels over 1929.

This year's average yield of wheat per acre in Canada was 16.9 bushels.

Spirit of Prophecy

The people from which most of the early prophets came (the Jews) were descended from a child of promise, God having blessed Abraham (himself a prophet) by the promise of a son in his old age. The Almighty had also ever feeding His prophets spiritually by precious promises and a foreknowledge of events to take place in the future in order to give to those who ask Him of the Bread of Life (Man shall not live by bread alone). The most striking and interesting bits of prophecy we have as recorded in holy writ, are those which are directly connected with the first and second comings of the Messiah of the Jews. People call it the thin red line of prophecy extending from scripture from first to last From the promise of God to the serpent, that he would allow Eve's seed to bruise its head, and its seed to bruise his heel, until His promise "Surely I come quickly." These prophecies have divine purposes behind them. They are written for our admonition on whom the ends of the world are come (1 Cor 10 11), written to show that a plan was conceived, immediately after man's fall, for the restoring of man to righteousness, written to be a witness to God's faithful dealings, and also to give man no excuse for failure to be restored, should he choose the pleasures of sin for a season, and then expect God's mercy and forgiveness at any time to be bestowed upon him. Abraham was promised a son; what a type that is to the Lord's promise to Isaiah, the evangelist prophet saying "Behold a virgin shall conceive, and bear a son, and shall call His name Immanuel." (Isaiah 7:14). In going to the 10th verse, he says "For before the child shall know to refuse the evil, and choose the good the land shall be forsaken of both her kings." That this actually happened before the birth of the Messiah, history tells us. For both Israel and Judea were taken into captivity and not many years after this prophecy Like the event of Isaac's birth, the Messiah's birth was a miracle, for as Sarah was delivered of a child when she was past nay, even so the Messiah was born of a Virgin. The plan born, I believe, was to show that with God all things are possible, even to the hating of what we formerly loved, and vice versa.

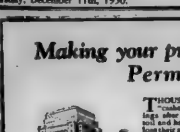
Good-Will Tour To France

Business men of Western Canada will be given an opportunity during February and March of next year to visit the important manufacturing centres of France at small expense by virtue of a Good-Will tour being sponsored by the St. Boniface, Manitoba, Kiwanis Club and operated by the Canadian National Railways and the French Line.

Already there are about twenty reservations made in territory contiguous to Winnipeg and several intend to extend their trips to the British Isles and other European countries. The party will sail from New York on the new motorship "Lafayette" on February 11 by the same ship

Although the tour is under the auspices of the St. Boniface Kiwanis Club, its personnel is not confined to Kiwanians alone but anyone interested in furthering trade relationships with France will be welcomed.

Making your profits Permanent



THOUSANDS of men have "crashed in" on their holdings after years of unremunerative toil and have re-invested only to lose their profits in unwise speculations. Life annuities provide an invincible protection against such calamities.

In May, 1928, a group of North Dakota business men sold their extensive holdings. While the deal was pending they decided to re-invest the proceeds in life annuity contracts. After investigation they paid the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada over three million dollars in premiums for annuity contracts. They were attracted by the safety and convenience of these annuities and the large return.

CAFE CHANGING PREMISES

The Owl Cafe shortly intend moving from their present location in the Moore building to the old hardware store. Considerable renovation of the latter premises has been made and an up-to-date restaurant will be the result.

There will be a dance in the Kenilworth school this Friday night in aid of the Christmas tree fund of this district.

Norman McInnes, who has been visiting his sister Mrs Gilbert Dent, has started the return trip to his home in Winnipeg on Wednesday at noon.

The W. A. of the United church held a very successful chicken supper and bazaar in the church last Thursday afternoon and evening. About $70 was realized. Two quilts were raffled and won by E. McFadyen and Chas. Young.

The Holyrood Christmas tree and concert will be held in the school on Monday evening, December 22nd at 8 p.m.

The Islay orchestra is scheduled to play at a dance in the Morinson school house on Wednesday evening, Dec. 17th. The proceeds from the dance are to be in aid of the Sunshine club. A big crowd is expected, dancers from the country, Islay and Vermilion intending to be there.

Local Hunter Gets Black Timber Wolf

First of Its Kind Brought Here for Many Years

Percy McKone, while on a hunting trip in the Spring Lake district, Sunday, bagged a fine specimen of a black Siberian timber wolf, which he had at McKone's shoe rooms for a few days on display this week. Needless to say the animal was a curiosity here as none of its kind have been seen for many years. The district where he was shot is some 125 miles north of here.

Percy McKone, in company with Billy Hamilton and Harry Sanders of Landonville, Barry Bell, and George Cooper, who traps in that district, were out to hunt caribou, but owing to the presence of wolves were compelled to lay one of those marauders, four deer and one moose.

The hunters tell an interesting story of the wolves. McKone and Morrison happened to be alone when they came were sighted coming in their direction and to all appearances with the intention of attacking them. We grey Labrador timber wolves among the black wolf. Needless to say the hunters were prepared for the onslaught, and would shoot. But the first thing on my mind, and right in the finished fight I'm off my head. Man, you have had a feeling of hatred after strong fear or a sudden blast.

That was what was wrong with Sammy, except that Sammy's emotions were probably a great deal strong than any of ours, and his digestive apparatus correspondingly more turbulent.

Moderate pleasant emotions, on the other hand, cause a relaxation of the muscles of the body, an easy flow of the digestive juices of the food canal, and so provide a suitable medium for the process of digestion.

The conversion of fluids in peoples and desirable for the formation of healthy minds; but there are times and places even for discipline, and meal time is not one of them.

Ex-Vermilionite Victim of Fire

Viking Garage Burns to Ground

A. S. Morrison, a former resident of the Claymore district, who bought out the Viking garage in August of this year, suffered the complete loss of the building by fire Saturday morning, Nov. 29th. Mr. Morrison had rented the building for the winter and had moved to Edmonton several days before the fire. Three cars were lost in the blaze and a quantity of merchandise, as the garage was also used as a warehouse. The building was over to $3,000, the loss in partly covered by insurance but it is unlikely that it will be rebuilt.

EAT AND BE MERRY

Or be merry and eat. There have been many good Child Welfare Clubs that have been ruined by nagging mothers and bellowing fathers. The child is put on a strict dietetician but often turned to a squabble between parent and child at meal time. But it's a parent more valuable the effect on his own stomach of someone standing by his chair while he ate, rousing great waves of fear, anger and tribulation, he might be more thoughtful of his child, and save himself doctors' bills.

At meal time the whole family is together. Mother has time to recall the morning's mischief; father is there to call the roll of misdemeanours; and the children are present to choke down their food, often between sobs.

Meal time is so often used for the correction of faults because then parents have nothing else to think about. They have finished their preparation are finished for mother; father is home for an hour. It is an ideal time—from the standpoint of the parents—to get in the good work. So father makes the head of the table the seat of justice; mother at the foot is in the witness and the little culprits before the bar listen to the recital with fear, and bear their sentences with mingled despair and rage.

A Case in Point

Sammy was hungry a moment ago, "starving to death"; but he pushes away his plate when he learns that, because he was late, he can't get skating tonight. The thought of food nauseates him now. Father takes the refusal of food as a further instance of impudence, as insult to the privilege of the head of the house. "Young man," he says, "eat that food or you'll see no skating for a week." Sammy pulls the plate slowly back under his chin and gulps down the victuals. He is anxious for the end of the meal. Father takes the disappointment in his son's face for stubbornness and a touch of the rest of the meal leaving his son on the importance of courtesy. Sammy goes to bed and has night-mares, and the next morning he has a sore breath.

If Sammy's experience occurs regularly as it does in some homes, Sammy is likely to be troubled by late adolescence with a "weak stomach." For Sammy's emotions and digestive system are intimately related, the same set of nerves; and Sammy's digestive organs play a large part in the development of his fears and angers and disappointments.

Adult Upsets

Common adult experiences films into the fact. "I'm all upset," you say; "I can't eat." And if you did eat you couldn't digest what you had eaten. Or perhaps you've had your friends dismally, "Sorry folks; but I've got the thing on my mind, and right in the finished finish I'm off my feed."

BRITISH COAL MINERS REJECT STRIKE PROPOSAL

London, England.—There will be no great national coal strike in Great Britain, for the time being at any rate. Delegates to the miners' conference here turned down a strike proposal by the narrow margin of 250,000 votes. Their decision also implied there would be no strike ballot in the mining districts in question at present. It seemed most likely.

Interest has now turned to the individual districts, above all to Scotland, where 80,000 miners are still out, and to South Wales, where the outcome of the negotiations going on between the owners and miners may well give a lead to the whole country.

In the South Wales fields probably the most important coal area in the country, the position is that a cut in the miners' demand that the 7½-hour working day, established by the new Coal Mines Act, be enforced. The owners have insisted that they be permitted to spread the 45 working-hours in a week through five eight-hour shifts and one five-hour shift.

Credit was being given to Premier Ramsay MacDonald for his part in averting a national walkout. He and other members of the cabinet, sitting with the delegates themselves, urged that every effort be made to reach a settlement with the owners and his counsel prevailed.

Viceroy Of India

Name Of Ramsay MacDonald In Succession

London, England.—The Daily Mail says a suggestion has been seriously advanced that Premier Ramsay MacDonald become viceroy of India in succession to Lord Irwin, who will retire in April.

The Mail adds that the idea is a result of the good impression which Mr. MacDonald made in connection during the Indian round table conference. It admits that such an appointment which customarily is accompanied by a peerage, may appear fantastic, but says that the idea is more than mere rumor, and believes the appointment would satisfy the Indian people.

The question of Lord Irwin's successor is a favorite subject for speculation in political quarters just now. Lord Gorrell is most frequently mentioned

Aviators Leaves Message

Capt. Burke and Companion, Missing Aviators, Leave Word On Tree

White Horse, Yukon Territory.—October 17, leaving for Wolfe Lake, need food badly."

Such was the message discovered carved in a tree near the stranded plane of Capt. E. K. Burke and two companions who have been missing in this north country since October 11. Pilot E. L. Wasson and Joe Walsh, veteran prospector, returned here after having inspected the plane at close range. Discovery of the Walsh sighted the machine from the air ten days ago and three days later flew to within fifteen miles of the location, making the intervening distance on snowshoes.

Relief For Indians

Any Distress Will Be Taken Care Of By Government

Ottawa, Ont.—Prompt action will be taken by the government to relieve any distress reported among Indians this winter, Hon. H. H. Murphy, Minister of Interior and Indian Affairs, said on his return to Ottawa after a month's trip in the west.

Mr. Murphy conducted a personal examination of numerous Indian reservations in the neighborhood of the larger western centres and brought back the impression that in the southern sections, at least, conditions among the Indians were normal.

Canada Doing Her Part

Ottawa, Ont. Canada is doing her part as regards aiding in the world suppression of narcotics. Reporting for the health committee of the League of Nations Society in Canada at an executive meeting of the society, Senator Dr H R Beland pointed out drugs were neither manufactured in nor exported from Canada. Through the R.C.M.P. and narcotics Branch, the Dominion Government is attained a close tab on imports. Dona.

By-Election Won By Labor

Voting In Whitechapel Favors the Government's Candidate

London, England.—James Hall, Labor party candidate, won the by-election for Whitechapel recently.

The results of the polling were, James Hall, Labor, 8,644; Harnett (Jasper, Liberal, 7,446; T. L. E. B. Cluysenaer, Conservative, 3,785; Pollitt, Communist, 2,106.

The Labor party represented a greatly reduced majority for Labor. Labor's vote of 8,544 out of the total of 21,-980 compares with the 15,791 ballots cast for the party, out of 21,639, in 1929.

Whitechapel, comprising, for the most part, one of the so-called poor sections of London, had returned Labor candidates in 1923, 1924 and 1929, and each time with a large majority. The majority of Harry Gosling, Labor nominee, in the general election of 1929 was 8,180, one of the largest in the Kingdom. The vote then was: Gosling, 18,781; Hedgeworth, Liberal, 4,831, and T. L. E. B. Cluysenaer, Conservative, 3,617.

HEAVY GRAIN CARRY-OVER HAS BEEN DISPOSED OF

Port Arthur, Ont.—The statistical situation as far as Canada's wheat crop is concerned is in a good condition, according to E. B. Ramsay, chief grain commissioner for Canada, who arrived in Port Arthur. "We have a high quality crop to sell and the movement has been fairly free," he said, explaining that between 6,-000,000 and 7,000,000 bushels were being shipped to Europe every week.

The carry-over of approximately 160,000,000 bushels of last year has been disposed of, Mr. Ramsay explained, and if the present shipments to Europe can be kept up to the end of the season, the carry-over for next year will be back to normal. There was every likelihood that this would be the case, depending to a great extent on the quality of the Argentine wheat, which will come on the market in February.

The quality of Russian wheat on the British market had its effect, Mr. Ramsay stated, but he pointed out that Russia's surplus had been exhausted and the situation from now on would not likely be disturbed by anything the Russians could do.

Although pointing out that his department had nothing to do with the marketing of the grain crop, Mr. Ramsay said "I feel we are at the bottom of it now. No one can predict what is going to happen, but I believe there will be a gradual change for the better."

Assembly Completes Work

Disarmament Commission Asks League To Set Date For Conference

Geneva, Switzerland Completing its task of drafting a general disarmament scheme for consideration by a world conference the preparatory commission invited the council of the League of Nations to set a date for this moment an assembly of statesmen.

The commission rejected an effort by Germany to have the commission recommend the specific date of November 5, 1931, for convening the general conference.

Canada got a fight to delete from the article military 'planes and personnel used in civil work, such as patrolling forests and carrying aid to distressed citizens in remote places. The Canadian plan was supported by the United States and it is understood some arrangement will be reached at the general conference to meet the wishes of both countries.

Britain Protests Radio Speech From Russia

Regarded As Direct Violation Of Anti-Propaganda Agreement

London, England.—The British government will send a formal protest to Moscow against a radio speech broadcast from the Soviet capital, Hon. Arthur Henderson, foreign secretary, informed the House of Commons.

The speech, he said, is regarded as inciting British workers to revolution," and was in direct violation of the anti-propaganda agreement

Fire Threatens Northern Town

The Pas, Man.—The settlement of Cliffam, more than half-way up the Hudson Bay Railway from The Pas, was threatened by fire, according to word reaching here. A restaurant, a pool room and a general store were wrecked by the blaze before it was controlled. Damage totalled $6,000

Trans-Canada Drivers Make Slow Progress

Finding Trip In Motor Car Is Hard Work

Hearst, Ont. — Pushing doggedly forward through northern Ontario bush country in 18-below-zero weather, Healy Needham and Gus McManus climaxed three weeks of discouraging reverses in their attempt to be the first to cross Canada by motor car, when they arrived on December 2 at Gauthier's trading post at Pagwa River, 90 miles west of here.

Word that in the past week they had covered 70 miles of trackless bush swamp country was received here. Both men and their roadster are in good condition.

RAMSAY OPPOSES PLAN TO REDUCE WHEAT AREAS

Port Arthur, Ont.—E. B. Ramsay chief commissioner of the Board of Grain Commissioners of Canada, addressing the port Arthur Chamber of Commerce at its annual meeting here, said he was not in sympathy with any suggestion for a cutting-down of wheat areas of crops in Western Canada, principally because the whole transportation system of Canada depended on the movement of grain moved

He preferred to rely on greater yields per capacity quality and transportation facilities as advantages required by Canadian wheat to capture world markets.

Such occasion to say that he did not place much reliance in reports from sources, declaring that they often went through merely because there was no one ready to oppose them.

He intimated he preferred a personal study of and contact with actual rend tions of the board, acting and with a desire to administer the Canada Grain Act in the public interest.

He pointed out the Canadian grain crop was moving freely There had been no embargoes, he said, and he predicted none, and he believed that by April next things would be pretty well cleared up. The worst had been passed he thought

It was his opinion Port Arthur and Port William would not suffer unduly from the competition of the Hudson Bay route. Replying to a suggestion of Mayor Gibbons that the head offices of the Board of Grain Commissioners should be in Port Arthur, Mr. Ramsay said that if his personal opinion had governed in the matter, they would not be in Winnipeg.

Start Lengthy Flight

British Aviators Attempting Record Trip To Capetown

Croydon, England.—Miss Winnifred Spooner, 23, and Flying Officer E. C. T. Edwards, started December 8, on a 10,700-mile air journey to Capetown in their blue and silver monoplane They will attempt to break the nine-day flight record to the South African city.

The aviators intend to fly by day and by night, taking alternate turns at the controls

Miss Spooner has been flying for three years. Early in 1930 she completed a flight from South Africa to Croydon.

Constitution For India

Plan Is Gradually Taking Shape At Round Table Conference

London, England.—In rough outline, a federal constitution for India is gradually appearing in the discussions of the round table conference It is emphasized in authoritative quarters that no decisions have been reached as yet. The scheme appears only in skeleton form. Everything still is in the tentative stage

But discussion in the conference, sitting as a federal relations committee, is turning on these subjects as coming within the domain of India's proposed new federal authority:

1. Shipping, navigation, and navigation services.
2. Salt.
3. Currency and coinage.
4. Trade, commerce and banking
5. Control of opium cultivation.
6. Control of petroleum and explosives
7. Geological survey.
8. Inventions, designs and copyright.
9. Migration from and into India, and Interprovincial migration.
10. Traffic in arms and ammunition.
11. Survey, meteorological services, census and statistics.
12. Immovable property in the possession of the government of India.
13. Federal public services.

Indian princes, rulers of their own states, and representatives of British India alike agree that all the above matters of economic concern. It is the policy of the conference, therefore, in plotting out the new federal authority, to consider them first.

Consideration of four other vital subjects has been deferred. These are: First, defence of India and all matters connected with the army and navy including naval and military matters of economic concern; second, external affairs, including the naturalization of aliens, and pilgrimages between India; third, relations with the states in India; and, fourth, political charges

Constitutes a Precedent

Australia's First Decision To Have Native-Born Governor-General

London, England. — A native-born Australian will succeed Lord Stonehaven, the present governor-general of Australia, in the person of Rt. Hon. Sir Isaac Isaacs, chief justice of the Commonwealth, according to announcement made

Sir Isaac Isaacs will take up his duties when Lord Stonehaven's term expires at the beginning of the new year

The announcement of his appointment, made by the Imperial government on behalf of His Majesty constitutes a precedent in Empire annals. The new governor-general will be the first native born citizen of his country to represent the King in any of the Dominions

While Sir Isaac is in fact the first native-born governor-general of any of the older self-governing dominions, he is not the first in the Empire Both the governors-general who have served in the Irish Free State since its inception have been Irish citizens. Timothy Healy (1922-1928), a native of Bantry and James Mc-Neill, present governor-general, is a native of County Antrim.

Flour Price Probe

Department Will Have Co-Operation Of Large Milling Companies

Ottawa, Ont.—Further inquiry into flour prices in Canada will be made by the Department of Labor, and in this inquiry the department has been offered the full co-operation of the great Canadian milling companies Announcement of the continued investigation was made by Senator C. D Robertson, Minister of Labor, at the conclusion of a two-hour conference with representatives of the large Canadian milling companies of the Dominion.

"It is probable that a report summarizing the results of the labor department's inquiry by registrar into bread prices will be completed in the not distant future," said Senator Robertson, "and the offer to furnish all desired information, volunteered by the millers, will be accepted. The flour inquiry will be pursued further as rapidly as possible. It being obvious that many factors enter into the matter which must be the subject of full inquiry and consideration before a definite departmental decision can be made as to whether or not an inquiry by tribunal or commission will be necessary in the public interest."

HERMAN TRELLE AGAIN WINS THE WHEAT TITLE

Chicago.—Canada's fame as the finest wheat producing country in the world was again maintained when Herman Trelle, the modest agricultural lad of Winnipeg, Alberta, in the northern Peace River district, was once again crowned "wheat king" at the Chicago International Hay and Grain Exposition

Repeating his success of 1926 when he brought the Peace River area to world attention as a premier agricultural producing district, Trelle with four years ago won the title of world's cattle king as well as the wheat crown has again marked his victory with an exhibit of hard red spring grain

It was a double victory for Canada's lead as Reeves Georges Arvell Reeves, Sask., in the heart of the premier grain growing belt, was decided the reserve champion He exhibited sample of Durum while to the surprise of eminent grain authorities in attendance at the international, beat out the champion ship hard red winter samples, the first best in their class, of C. W. Smith, a farmer "wheat king" of Corvallis, Montana

Trelle's championship was the sixth for Canada in the 12 years of the International show The other six times it has gone to growers from Montana the veteran C. W. Smith being the only other consecutive champion to repeat, and the world title. It was also the first time that a Durum variety has been shown here and won a championship. Trelle's grain weighed 63 pounds per bushel a record weight The reserve champ-ship grain weighed 63.1 pounds to the bushel, and also was of perfect uniformity Trelle considered his winning samples the best he has ever exhibited

Wheat Quota System

Plan Is Favorably Received By Canadian Grain Exporters

Ottawa, Ont.—Proposals for a quota system in Great Britain for wheat grown in the Empire have apparently met with favor in the Canadian grain exporters Commenting on the statement made in the British House of Commons by Hon. J. H. Thomas, secretary of state for the Dominions, that study was being given to such a scheme, Hon. W H Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, said that no unfavorable reaction had been noted in the country

Proposals for quotas were considered by the committee on economic questions at the Imperial Conference. Mr Stevens said The committee had concluded that quota system would probably be desirable but the statement also was a matter for legislation by the British government only

Another matter that should be made clear," Mr Stevens said, "is that fixed prices would not be involved, but a quota would merely provide Canadian wheat a sheltered market in Britain."

Asked what protection of Canadian grain might be expected to be provided for under quota, the minister gave the opinion that 25 to 33 per cent of Canada's exportable surplus would be involved. The operation of a quota would not be require Canadian exporters to be responsible for the storage of grain overseas. Mr. Stevens said

Zeppelin Expert Is Heard At Court Of Inquiry Into Dirigible Disaster

London, England.—Dr. Hugo Eckener drew upon his knowledge as the world-foremost Zeppelin expert, to reconstruct the loss of the British dirigible R-101 for the court of inquiry investigating that disaster.

He said it was undoubtedly leakage of the gas containers which sent the ship into a dive against a hill in France, and it was probably a break in an electrical circuit which set the craft afire

BRACKEN TALKS ON TROUBLES OF WHEAT GROWERS

Winnipeg, Man.—Over-production of wheat and lack of both prices during postwar years was blamed by Premier John Bracken for present difficulties of prairie farmers. Mr. Bracken spoke later to the delegates to the annual meeting of Union of Canada municipalities, selected as a subject upon which he would address the Provincial Government

The new premier-general will be the first native born citizen of his country to represent the King in any of the Dominions

While Sir Isaac is in fact the first native-born governor-general of any of the older self-governing dominions, he is not the first in the Empire Both the governors-general who have served in the Irish Free State since its inception have been Irish citizens. Timothy Healy (1922-1928), a native of Bantry and James Mc-Neill, present governor-general, is a native of County Antrim.

Mr Bracken recommended to delegates that they call on the Dominion Government to implement its promise to assume payment of old-age pensions When the Dominion Act that, he said, the province would further relieve the municipalities of the health levy

A meeting of all those interested in civic hockey was held in the arena last night and arrangements were completed for the functioning of this league for the winter. Officers elected were Hon. President, Mayor Pallen; President, Harold Munro; Vice-President, J. E. Edgar; Secretary, Bert Williams. A representative from each team formed the executive, these being W. F. Turnbull, College, Gen. Captain, Cabaret; and Jack MacKenzie and Clarence Barr pro. team for the C. N. R. and Elks teams respectively. Four teams will function in the league as usual, these being the Cabaret, College, Elks and C.N.R. The latter team replaces the Vets of former years. The battle for the Wiebe cup will commence on Wednesday, Jan. 7th when a double header will be played at the Arena.

Associated Sunshine Organization Formed

Object Is Relief Work

The ever-recurring relief work of the town and district of Vermilion will henceforth be carried out, to a large extent by the Associated Sunshine, a new organization which came into being at a representative gathering of interested people at the Town Hall on Tuesday evening of this week. Practically all the organizations in town including the different churches were represented. The whole situation was thoroughly canvassed and it was decided to move in the direction of making this a permanent matter. While Associated Sunshine does not arrogate to itself the exclusive role in this connection, all it asks is that any other body doing relief or Sunshine work co-operate with it so as to prevent waste by duplication. This co-operation may be effected by advising its secretary of the name of those to whom the good offices of that organization may be extended. Associated Sunshine is appealing to the different societies and organizations as well as the public generally for funds to carry on its proposed work. It also makes a special appeal for clothing, shoes and wearing apparel generally both for adults and children. The need for articles of this kind is spread and almost daily there is an appeal for help from some part of the town or district. The farmers are asked to contribute grain or vegetables or any farm product they can conveniently spare. The grain may be left at Wiebe's mill. Potatoes and vegetables may be left at the Fire Hall. The Associated Sunshine will open a depot at the Fire Hall for the receiving of clothing and food products. This depot will be open on Tuesday and Saturday afternoons and will be in charge of representatives of the organization. Beyond all this Sunshine is appealing to the people of town and district to advise it of the names of families that are deserving of cheer and comfort at this season of the year. The depot will be kept open during the winter months, the main purpose of the organization being not to let anybody be in want or otherwise suffer if it is humanly possible to render them assistance. The names of all subscriptions received will be published from time to time through the columns of the Vermilion Standard.

The officers elected were as follows —President, J. W. G. Morrison, K.C.; Vice-President, Mrs. (Dr.) J. J. Kastl; Secretary-treasurer, A. E. Kaiser; Executive Committee: A. E. Williams, George Maxwell, Mrs. Fred Pirth, Mrs. G. W. Williams and Mrs. Fred Olsen.

The following subscriptions were paid in at the meeting:

Orange Lodge	$27.50
Vermilion Pasime Club	10.00
L. O. B. A.	10.00
Queen Esther Chapter 41 E.S.	10.00

May Reduce Crossing Accidents

Bright Colors Will Distinguish C.N.R. Rail-Propelled Cars

With a view to minimizing local crossing accidents the Canadian National Railways will during the next few months, paint the front ends of eight self-propelled cars a bright yellow and will as a means of attracting the attention of motorists, A. McCowan, assistant general superintendent of car equipment has announced. These cars, which replace steam locomotives in some sections of the system, are equipped with bells and whistles but are sometimes mistaken at first glance for an ordinary railway coach.

Cars on southern region to make their appearance in this new dress are as follows: Moncton to Newcastle, Saskatoon and Regina, via Dunblane and Moose Jaw and two more running between Victoria and Kamloops on Vancouver Island The transition in coloring is being done so there will be no unnecessary tie-up in service.

Carbon Monoxide Poisoning

A Timely Warning For the Prevention Of Untimely Disaster

Owing to the comparative frequency, lately, of deaths from carbon monoxide poisoning, Honourable F. D. Munroe, M.D., Minister of Public Health, announces that an active campaign is being undertaken by the Saskatchewan Department of Public Health, with the object of affording a province-wide dissemination of knowledge regarding the perils which are constantly present in connection with this gas. The appeal will be directed particularly to motor car owners, who perhaps are not sufficiently cognizant of the dangers involved. In addition to publicity by means of the press, the campaign will include a wide circulation of pamphlets dealing with the menace. The co-operation of the Department of Highways has been assured, and a warning pamphlet of information will accompany each set of motor license plates issued in 1931. This pamphlet will also be distributed to the public garages of the province.

Carbon monoxide is a colourless, odorless and tasteless gas. It emanates from automobile exhausts, gas ranges, illuminating gas appliances, gas generators and coal-burning furnaces and stoves. It is the result of the incomplete combustion of gasoline, gas or oil. With the approach of winter, and the possibility of less adequate ventilation, the danger of carbon monoxide poisoning from motor cars increases, and the same may be said of furnaces and stoves. The precautions which should be taken against the insidious action of carbon monoxide gas when a motor is permitted to run in a garage cannot be overemphasized. Going to its being colourless and odorless, it takes its deadly toll often without warning of any kind to its victim.

The exhaust gas from internal combustion engines contains carbon monoxide in varying percentages from a fraction of one per cent. to seven per cent. or even higher, the variation depending on the proportion of air and gasoline in the mixture burned. The concentration of carbon monoxide in the exhaust gases from a motor car engine is in the proportion of gasoline: that is, with a rich mixture such as might be used in cold weather, the exhaust gas would be correspondingly great. A rough estimate is that volume of carbon monoxide which an automobile would produce would be one cubic foot per minute for every horse-power. This would be sufficient to render the atmosphere of a single car garage deadly within a few minutes, if the engine were allowed to run with the garage doors closed. In streets where traffic is congested, the content of carbon monoxide rises to about one hundred parts per million of air, which is enough to cause bad headache. A person breathing this gas in mild concentration may experience a slight discomfort at first, followed by a throbbing in the temples, headache, a feeling of sleepiness, fatigue, weakness and nausea. The mind becomes dulled, and it has been proved that although in some cases the individual may realize the danger of his position, he may yet be incapable of the exertion of opening the window or exhausting the door.

It is important, therefore, that every person who owns, drives, rides in or repairs a car, or who is employed in a garage or repair shop, should realize the dangers which attend the presence of carbon monoxide gas. As already stated, the same menace accompanies the use of private lighting plants or gas engines of any kind where effective ventilation is lacking. Under no conditions should an automobile engine be allowed to run for any appreciable length of time in a garage, in a repair shop, or in any enclosed place, without the doors being open, a proper ventilating system being employed, or without the exhaust pipe connected with the outside by a suitable outlet.

The occupants of a closed car should always have the windows lowered at least three inches, as it is possible that the exhaust gases may escape into the car and gradually overcome them.

When a person is found overcome by carbon monoxide poisoning, a doctor should be summoned at once, and in the meantime the victim should be placed in a warm, well-ventilated room, with arms outstretched. While the doctor's arrival is being awaited, artificial respiration should be resorted to.

The fundamental essentials of safety lie in foresight and caution; those are the most effective weapons in dealing with what has been termed, the deadly peril of the motorists."

Believe Glass Home Healthy

Bournemouth Woman Will Be Path In Glass Type

Miss Geraldine Fitzgerald, of St. James Square, Bournemouth, England, believes, at the age of 84, that a glass house is the healthiest place to live in.

Four years ago she lost faith in houses of brick and had a glass house built in the garden. She has lived in it ever since and declares she is better in health and happier in disposition.

Miss Fitzgerald told him she had always been delicate and had suffered from lumbago, diphtheria, sore throats and tonsilitis.

"Now instead of always moaning and grumbling I am happy and have an better in health than ever I was I can walk seven miles a day without feeling tired, and I am more fit at 84 than I was at 18.

"This is the secret of being able to do without doctors, and I say may if people would only live in glass houses there would be none of the dreadful complaints we hear of nowadays."

Cooking is done on stoves and radiators are used for lighting.

Partridge Going Backward

Hundreds of flocks of Hungarian partridge have been seen in western Manitoba this year, convincing evidence that these birds are moving eastward out of Saskatchewan and Alberta. Russian Lumber For Britain

Shipments Have Been Restricted To 500,000 Standards

Shipments of Russian lumber to Great Britain have been restricted to 500 000 Russian standards for the present year and 600,000 standards for 1931, instead of proposed shipments of 750,000 and 850,000 standards respectively, the Department of Trade and Commerce at Ottawa has been advised Such restrictions have been agreed to following negotiations between Russian sellers and the central soft wood buying corporation, comprising about seventy of the principal lumber importing houses of Great Britain.

Giant Lizard-Like Creature Preserved In Ice Since Prehistoric Times

Reports received from Valdez, Alaska, said the discovery of a giant lizard-like creature, with fur in perfect condition, had been found on Hinman Island in Alaska.

The strange creature, reported to be 42 feet long, including a tail measuring 16 feet, was believed to have been preserved since prehistoric times by being encased in ice in the upper reaches of the Columbia glacier. The ice was believed to have worked its way gradually to the sea. The head was reported to be 4 feet long and the body 20 feet in length.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

DECEMBER 21

CHRISTMAN LESSON

Golden Text: "There is born to you this day in the city of David a Saviour, who is Christ the Lord." Luke 2:11.

Lesson: Luke 2:1-20.

Shepherds and Camels

Reading the Lesson. — The first and last lessons of the year, both Christmas stories, the only ones found in the Gospels. Where names occur in our first lesson taken from Luke's our story today found? Let us see, for a moment, that the story of the three Wise Men and their bringing of gifts to the Christ Child is in the book of Matthew, and the beautiful song of the angels announcing the birth of the Christ to the Shepherds is recorded by Luke.

A poet, John Erskine, tells our story as it is the words of one of the Shepherds:

Out of the midnight sky a great voice broke,
And a voice singing flooded us with fire
As David's city was He born, it sang,
Saviour, Christ the Lord. Then while I sat
Shivering with the thrill of that great word
A mighty choir, a thousandfold more sweet,
Suddenly sang, Glory to God, and Peace.
Peace on the earth: my heart, almost unnerved
By that swift loveliness, would hardly bear
Speechless we waited till the accustomed night
Came on us promise more of sweet surprise;
Then stumbling to our feet, without a word
We started through the fields to find the Child.

Why the Angels Depart.—There is always one duty when the angels depart: we can do the thing they told us to do. These shepherds on the plains of Bethlehem were wise men. They might have said, "We've had a lovely vision, beautiful while it lasted, but it was naught but a dream. Let us go back to our flocks."

But they said, "Let us go now to Bethlehem and see this thing which has come to pass." And they found the Babe in the manger, and they worshipped Him.

Today the Angels Depart.—There is always one duty when the angels depart: we can do the thing they told us to do. These shepherds on the plains of Bethlehem were wise men. They might have said, "We've had a lovely vision, beautiful while it lasted, but it was naught but a dream. Let us go back to our flocks."

NEWS FROM ISLAY

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hawley had the misfortune of having their car skid in the snow and upset on the road just south of town last Saturday evening when they were returning from Vermilion. Although the occupants escaped without major injuries, they were considerably shaken up.

The regular meeting of the United church W. A. was held at the home of Mrs. Some, Sr. on Wednesday. Officers for the coming year were elected, resulting in a few changes in the executive. Mrs. Lane was elected president and Mrs. Mitchell secretary-treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. Hughie Gilchrist have moved into town from their farm south of here, for the winter.

There will be a Christmas Tree and concert at the Holyrood school on Monday evening commencing at 8 o' clock. Those will be followed by a dance.

The Islay school concert is being held in Moore's hall on Tuesday night. A dance will be held after the entertainment.

An aeroplane was here on Wednesday last and up quite a number of passengers in spite of the hard times.

BARLOW — HARLE

A pretty but quiet wedding was solemnized in St. Mark's church, Edmonton, on Tuesday evening when Amy Josephine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Harle of Cumming, Alberta, became the bride of Mr. Harold Barlow, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Barlow, New Sarepta, Alberta. The Rev. Mr. Gadsden officiated.

The bride was given away by the groom's father-in-law, Mr. W. G. Paterson and was attended by bridesmaid by Miss Iona Cummings. Mr. Sam Barlow, the groom's brother, acted as best man.

COOPER — McBRIDE

A wedding of wide interest was solemnized last Friday afternoon at the Manse, Vermilion, when Opal, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin McBride of the Alameda district, became the bride of Harold Cooper, only son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Cooper, of Etherlyn. The Rev. H. A. Boyd officiated. Only relatives and immediate friends of the two families were present at the ceremony.

The bride was becomingly gowned in plain silk trimmed with lace, while the bridesmaid, Miss Grace Nelson, was dressed in green crepe de chene. Mrs. McBride, mother of the bride, and Mrs. Cooper, the groom's mother, both were dresses of sand tint crepe.

Mr. Elwood Boyce attended the groom.

Following the ceremony the bridal party returned to the home of the bride's parents and sat down to a sumptuous wedding luncheon. Sixteen guests were in the party, and the dining room was appropriately decorated with streamers and bells.

During the course of the day many beautiful gifts were received from well wishers, by the young couple.

During the evening an extremely large crowd turned out to a reception and dance in the Alameda school, when an exceptionally good time was enjoyed. The capacity of the school was taxed to the limit with friends of the newly married couple, all anxious to extend their felicitations for a happy married life.

Three Year Sentence for Islay Post Office Theft

EDMONTON, Dec. 12.—John Henle, former assistant postmaster at Islay, today was sentenced to three years' imprisonment for theft from His Majesty's mails. He confessed to stealing $5,000 cash from a registered mail bag Wednesday morning, and entered a plea of guilty.

In imposing sentence,—the minimum under the law,—at the opening of supreme criminal court sessions Friday afternoon, Mr. Justice Walsh said he did not regard Henle as a criminal in the common sense of the term, but considered he had "gone bad for a little and committed one."

The offence took place at Islay in the early morning hours Wednesday, when the assistant postmaster cut open a registered mail sack and extracted $5,000 in cash consigned from the Bank of Montreal in Edmonton to its Islay branch.

Early Wednesday morning Henle reported to the A.P.P. that two armed bandits had broken into the Islay post office, knocked him unconscious and taken the registered mail bag which he had received on the 4:00 a.m. train from Edmonton.

Constable Olsen of Vermilion, and Constable Reay of Lloydminster, became suspicious of Henle's hold-up story when they could find no tracks of the alleged bandits in the fresh snow around the post office. A search revealed the torn mail sack in the alley at the rear of the post office and $7,320 of the stolen money in the post office coal bin.

Breaking down, Henle is said to have admitted that he took the money on a sudden impulse and then became frightened. He took $170 of the $5,000 to his room and started to burn it to get rid of it. After burning three $5 bills, his inward streak of thrift got the better of his fear and he hid the remainder of the money under a loose floor board.

He turned this money over to Constable Olsen.

PRESENT PROHIBITION CAMPAIGN BRINGS BACK MEMORIES

The memory of the public is brief, but it rarely has not forgotten the prohibition years in Alberta.

In asking you NOT to sign the prohibition petition, we give as our reason the fact that none of us want to contribute to the bringing back of that era of law breaking and hard liquor drinking, of moral degradation and youth degeneration.

OUR YOUTHS ARE PROTECTED UNDER the PRESENT LIQUOR ACT

No one under 21 can be served on licensed premises or buy from the Government liquor stores — the bootlegger will sell them, though!

DO NOT SIGN THE PETITION

Leave the Act alone. We don't want the bootlegger back again.

CARBON MONOXIDE DANGERS AGAIN.

With winter, the danger of carbon monoxide gas poisoning from motor cars increases. Although warnings have been widely broadcast in recent years, the precautions that must be taken against the insidious action of the gas which goes in its deadly work when a motor is allowed to run in a closed garage, cannot be too greatly impressed. Because carbon monoxide is a colorless, odorless and tasteless gas it gets in its killing work frequently without warning of any kind on the victim. Motor vehicles, therefore, should never be started and warmed up, or run in closed or badly ventilated buildings adjacent to being made. The wise procedure is to open the garage doors always before starting the engine and to shut off the engine always before shutting the doors.

BEVERLEY ROBINSON PASSES AWAY

Son of Old-Timer Had Distinguished War Record

(From the Revelstoke Review, B.C.) Old-timers were reminded of days long since passed when word became general that Beverley Robinson, son of the late Dan Robinson, had passed away. Born in Revelstoke 31 years ago, the deceased left Revelstoke with his mother after the death of his father. He had, however, visited in Revelstoke on numerous occasions, and was quite well known.

He had a distinguished war record, having been awarded the Military Medal and two bars. On his return from overseas he spent some time in Revelstoke, and in recent years had been living in the Similkameen. Death occurred on Coalmont on Thursday, December 4th.

Mrs. W. Durrand, of this city, is a sister, while another sister, Maude, and his mother, Mrs. Corson of Vermilion, Alberta, have arrived from the prairies to attend the funeral. Fred Robinson, a brother, worked at the local C.P.R. shops for many years and is well-known here.

The father of the deceased, the late Dan Robinson, was one of the first lumbermen to operate in this district and was well in the early nineties and later extended his operations to the south country. He died 25 years ago.

The funeral was held from the I'n lied church Wednesday, December 10 at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, the remains having been brought to the city Tuesday noon.

Mrs. Corson will have the sympathy of a large circle of Vermilion friends in her recent bereavement. Beverley Robinson was in Vermilion for a month in 1919 on his return from war services, having enlisted with the Revelstoke division in 1915 and serving with distinction throughout the war.

BOY SCOUTS

Cheerio, folks, here we are again! We again remind you our our Toy Shop, so see what you can do to help us.

We had our usual mouth organ practice last Wednesday, and there will be another practice on Friday, 19th December, so Scouts interested are asked to be there at 7 o'clock p.m.

The meeting opened the usual way and as Mr. H. Taylor, S.M. was absent Mr. Grierson, A.S.M. was in charge. We received some instructions in First Aid, followed by games.

The Scout basketball team then left for the College where they were to play one of the girls' teams. We were beaten this time, but had a good game just the same. The score was 25-21 in favor of the girls.

After the basketball game we had a game of volley-ball. We again thank the College. We are invited to go up to the college to play basketball this Thursday, Dec 18th

Boy Scouts' Bulletin of Fun

How and when did "Red" Wilson learn to throw a backward basket? Ask him, he knows!

Did we have much fun in the show ers? Of course, and why not?

What made Mr H. Curry say that "Red" Wilson should have his name down in the "Good Book" in red ink?

A stitch in time saves nine, is a truism and only saying. Why not apply this principle and pay your taxes now and avoid a penalty in January next?

ST. SAVIOUR'S DRAMATIC SOCIETY CLOSE THEIR 1930 SEASON

The annual meeting of St. Saviour's Amateur Dramatic Society was held at the home of Mrs. C. D. Brown on Wednesday evening, Dec. 10th. The secretary read the minutes of the last annual meeting, and the statement of receipts and expenditures for the season in connection with the play presented this fall, "Prudence in Pursuit." Owing to general conditions the play was presented in two places only, Vermilion and Clandonald. Officers were then elected as follows: President, Rev. G. McComus, M.A.; vice-president, D. Taylor; secretary-treasurer, Miss Grace Burr; executive committee, Mrs. C. D. Brown, Miss Lois English, V. H. Cooper. Several plays are already in hand for reading.

After the business session, bridge was played, and later refreshments were served by the hostess. A most enjoyable evening was spent, and the members are deeply grateful to Mrs. Brown for her kindness in providing her home for the gathering.

VETERAN JOURNALIST PASSES IN BROOKLYN

BROOKLYN, Queens Co., N.S., Dec. 10.—W. A. Letson, veteran printer and journalist, passed away on Tuesday, Dec. 9, at his home here, at the age of 83 years and 9 months. He was born in Port Medway, in March, 1847, son of Joseph and Mary Letson of Puritan stock—and was one of a family of twelve. Having had little opportunity to attend school, he obtained most of his education then extensive reading

At the age of fifteen he went to Liverpool to learn the printing business with J. M. Allen, publisher of the "Transcript." He later became editor and publisher of "The Liverpool Times" and after that journal ceased publication, went to Lunenburg where he established and for some years edited "The Lunenburg Argus." He also served on various provincial newspapers, and for some time was on the mechanical staff of the Halifax "Morning Chronicle" and "Citizen."

Later he removed to the West where after spending some years homesteading in Alberta, he became editor and manager of the Mannville "Empire" in 1914 in 1924 he returned to Nova Scotia and settled in Brooklyn, where he has since resided. He published his first newspaper in 1868 and had spent over sixty years in the printing and publishing business. Mr. Letson had been an Oddfellow for fifty-five years, also a Black Knight of the Orangemen's order. A staunch Conservative, he possessed great ability as a public speaker—was a man of pleasing personality and of much affability. Always seeing the good points in others' characters He had been a member of the Lunenburg Baptist church for a number of years. He is survived by his widow who is the daughter of the late Hon. J. V. Dentry, and one son William of the "Boston Herald"

The funeral was held from his late residence in Brooklyn on Saturday December 13th

CANADIAN NATIONAL

A Happy Christmas

The Christmas season of good cheer and good will has come again. The centuries-old song of the angels "Peace on earth, good will toward men" is still being sung in the hearts of mankind. There is present peace between the nations in the sense that they are not engaged in physical warfare, and the League of Nations is striving mightily to maintain that condition. But in the sphere of trade a bitter war is in progress, one of the most intense yet waged in the history of the world. While the nations are co-operating to prevent physical warfare, they are waging such other in a great trade war.

In this great world struggle no two nations appear to be allied together. It is not a contest between two groups of nations, as was the case in the Great War, but a world-encircling battle in which each nation is fighting against all other nations. Selfish national interests overshadow everything else, and in the resultant struggle all are antagonizing one another. Until the spirit of world co-operation is completely lost to sight.

And as the nations lose, the individual citizens in all countries suffer. What the ultimate outcome will be no man can foretell. But what everyone does know is that there is world-wide business depression, widespread unemployed, a world glutted with food products which cannot be sold at a profit to the producer, while at the same time thousands of people are in want for the bare necessities of life.

Under the circumstances it would be rank mockery to extend the time honored wish, "A Merry Christmas." This is no time for merriment, but, if we will, it can be a time of much real happiness.

In countless homes where because of existing conditions, it is not possible to provide the usual material gifts which betray joy to both giver and receiver, dancing lights into the eyes of children and happy exclamations to their lips, Christmas this year can nevertheless be made a very, very happy day in the home. Father and mother can give a new and greater thoughtfulness, a finer tenderness toward each other and their children than may have hitherto prevailed. True love can be made to radiate from the countenance, and the sharing of mutual sympathy and affection may be more than compensated for by a finer atmosphere in the home, a spirit of love and tenderness which will draw all members closer together. The happiness may thus be found to be greater than that which comes from gifts.

And in those homes where the necessity for abandonment of time-honored customs does not intrude, Christmas of 1930 can, by the cultivation of the attitude referred to, be made the happiest Christmas ever known.

There are hard and suffering people. It would be folly to shut our eyes to these facts and seek to forget. But they will pass away in time, and later. The index of our individual strength or weakness of character, the measure of our own bigness or littleness, is not established in times of prosperity, but in times of adversity. It is in the fight against the current that makes a man or a woman. The weak can float down stream, it is the strong who struggle upstream to grasp the better things of life.

When we come to the rapids—and all must pass through them—it is the weak who flounder and go to destruction, while the strong throw themselves for the struggle, set their jaws a-sock, hang on, and emerge triumphant from the ordeal.

This is a time of testing. It may well prove to be the most momentous period in many a life. If we would be of the strong we cannot fail, except by struggle and allow ourselves to drift after forsaking all the charts that guided us in the past, then tragedy lies ahead. But if, instead of becoming scared and bitter, and making ourselves and others miserable, we remain brave and unhappy we continue to look onward and upward strive to make the best of things and hold fast to our principles and ideals, we cannot fail to become bigger, better men and women, and in so doing we will also help others and hasten the day of brighter, yes, merry times.

In the hope that this message may find its way into all homes, we wish one and all "A Happy Christmas."

To Assist Radio Broadcasts

Will Photograph Northern Lights In An Effort To Learn Cause Of Static

Extensive experiments, directed by Professor J. C. McLennan, of University of Toronto, and aiming at the discovery of an entirely new medium of radio transmission, have been going on for some time now at Shoal Lake, Rapids, in Northern Ontario and will, with the co-operation of the Radio Department of the Ontario Government, be pushed further, it is understood this winter.

Assistants to Dr McLennan are engaged at the present time, it is reported, in photographing the Northern Lights in an effort to learn if they cause static—the plague of radio reception.

Blackemith Rapids has been selected as a base for experimental operations, it is said, because of the particularly clear atmosphere to be found there. Establishment of the aluminum research by the Government will, it is understood, mean the elimination of static, or at least its reduction to a more negligible proportions in radio broadcasts.

It is in the fight against the current that makes a man or a woman. The weak can float down stream, it is the strong who struggle upstream to grasp the better things of life.

Member Of U.S. Federal Farm Board Says Hard Times Cannot Last Long

Charles C. Teague, member of the U.S. Federal Farm Board, in an address prepared for delivery before the American Farm Bureau Federation, expressed confidence that the current economic depression "cannot last long."

"I am not willing to be very gratifying to the shareholders to learn that we have not suffered from the great depreciation in the securities which the Bank holds as part of its assets. From this you will understand that great care has been exercised in our investments.

"The year under review has been a most difficult one not only for banks but for practically all classes of business, and this has been reflected in our profits, but nevertheless ample provision has been made for all losses and prospective losses.

"Examination of the figures of the foreign trade of Canada shows how large a part the item of wheat plays. . . . No other single commodity approaches this amount in volume and value; as a consequence, when crop failure occurs or prices fall below the line of profitable production, the purchasing power of the country is adversely affected. That has happened in the wheat crop of 1929 and in short in quantity; the crop of 1930 is of low prices and a glutted market. . . . It is clear that the trend of recent years the results of these unfavorable factors, both as to crops and prices, it is doubtful if there is any cure for depressing surpluses except restriction of acreage, and that is a voluntary action of producers, or forced by low prices.

Need For New Ruling

British-Born Persons Should Be Protected In Canadian Citizenship

What is needed is a definite enactment that British-born persons whether from Great Britain or the other Dominions, who have become Canadian citizens shall be deemed Canadian citizens in every sense of the word, and be entitled to the same rights as Canadian-born citizens. Until such a law is passed there is not an European country that regards a citizen of Canada, no matter of how many years standing, who can feel certain that, should he go to live over the country, he would be allowed to return to it as a matter of right. — Vancouver Star.

Finance Will Buy Our Wheat

Undertakes To Import From Seven to Nine Million Bushels of Canada's Crop

France has undertaken to import a minimum of from seven to nine million bushels of Canada's wheat in the course of the next four months, the Minister of Trade and Commerce, Hon. H. H. Stevens announced following receipt of advices from the Canadian trade agent in Paris.

Mr. Stevens began negotiations with the French government during his brief visit to Paris following the Imperial Conference.

In an effort to stimulate domestic production the French government early in a long period has restricted the use of foreign wheats in blends for flour to 18 per cent., but the minister has since advised that the enlargement of this to 15 per cent. is expected. This would have the effect of materially increasing the demand for Canadian and other foreign wheats.

Altogether there is good prospect, according to Mr. Stevens, that by May 1, next, the French republic may have imported 70,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat.

Though this would not of itself solve the problem of the wheat pools, since there will be between 200 and 250 million bushels available for export from the 1930 crop, it will be regarded as a favorable omen of better prospects in the export wheat situation.

Canadians As Beef Eaters

Montreal Uses 100 Tons Of Beef Every Day In the Year

A recent estimate places the per capita consumption of beef in Canada at around 60 pounds a year. In the city of Montreal with its large industrial population of a million and a quarter this means that 37,500 tons, more than 100 tons of beef every day in the year, are used in supplying the demand.

In a city the size of Toronto, with a population of some 750,000, it takes 22,500 tons of beef a year to keep the shops and restaurants busy.

Translated into terms of cattle it takes 125,000 head of beef cattle weighing an average of 600 pounds each dressed, to supply a city the size of Montreal, and 75,000 head of the same average dressed weight to supply a city the size or Toronto.

Only 30 per cent. of this volume is required to be sold enough in quality for government grading By Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Broadcasting Propaganda

Remote Is Not Bound By International Regulations

Russia, not having been a member of the Washington International Radio Conference held a few years ago, is not bound to observe any of the international regulations regarding wavelengths. H. B. Lees-Smith, British postmaster-general, stated in the House of Commons in reply to a questioner who asked if broadcasts from Moscow could not be controlled.

The question was a sequel to the statement of Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, foreign secretary of a few days ago, that he would bring to the attention of the Soviet Government broadcasting conducted from Moscow in English and inciting the English workers to join the world revolution. The foreign secretary regarded the broadcasts as a violation of the Soviet promises to abstain from propaganda.

Wins Grand Prize

Exhibit Of C.N.E. At Antwerp Attracted Much Attention

Depicting the salient features of Canada, the Rocky Mountains, the vast western plains and the mighty inland waterways of the east by means of a travelled panorama, 300 feet long and 15 feet in height, the exhibit of the Canadian National Railways was awarded the Grand Prize at the Antwerp Exhibition. It was announced at Winnipeg.

The exhibit included a set of illuminated transparencies, showing scenes in all parts of the Dominion and dealing with many phases of the country's life and development, most interesting of which were pictures of the various stages in the production of our wheat. A working model of the giant locomotive 6100 was also shown. The exhibit attracted the attention of many thousands who visited the show.

Will Maintain Traditions

Noel Dean Of Winchester In Distinguished Classical Scholar

The traditions of high scholarship long associated with the deanery of Winchester England, will undoubtedly be maintained in the appointment of Rev Hilaired Chorlton Bobeyn to succeed Rev. Dr Hutton who died recently.

Rev Dr Bobeyn has been rector of Redhill, Hantsat, in Hampshire, England, for the past 11 years. He served as chaplain to the forces in 1918 and was mentioned in despatches. He is 45 years of age.

The new dean of Winchester is a distinguished classical scholar and editor of the monthly religious journal, "Theology." He has been select preacher at Cambridge and at Oxford in different years.

Value Of College Course

To the student working his way through college—and even to those who have their way paid—$100 a day would seem pretty good wages. And yet, according to figures compiled by the United States Bureau of Education, college graduates earn from $60,000 to $112,000 more by the time they are sixty than do those who go to work immediately after leaving high school. A four years' college course, therefore, has a value of from $977 to $1866 a day.

MASS BUYING PLAN IS URGED FOR FARMERS

Will Be Established In Saskatchewan To Replace Local Branches

Regina, Sask.—Five resources districts, to supercede the lands branch-es under the Dominion [illegible] will be established by the Department of Natural Resources for administration purposes in Saskatchewan, Major John Barnett, deputy minister of natural resources, stated here.

The principal office will be established in Regina, where the department headquarters are located. Three offices will be established in the north, the principal offices to be at Prince Albert. An office for the administration of resources in the southwest will be established at Moose Jaw.

The province will a divided into five districts, each to be directly under the superintendent, with the exception of Regina, which will come under the main administration office of the department.

Legislation for the administration of the resources of the province will be introduced at the January session of the legislature, and will include provincial acts to supersede the federal acts under which the resources were previously administered.

The Provincial Lands act taking the place of the old Dominion lands act, has been completed, is ready for presentation to the legislature and is practically identical to the Dominion act, with the exception that there is no homestead provision.

Other bills to be brought down include a mines' act, forests' act, water rights act, and surveys act. The passage of these bills will bring the administration of natural resources under the full control of the province.

Canadian Radio League Established

For Promotion Of Canada's Interests in the Radio's World

Ottawa, Ont.—A meeting its purpose to further the interests of Canada's interests in the radio world and the establishment of an organization which will act as a medium of expression for those interests, the Canadian Radio League has come into being and assumed definite shape at a meeting here. Temporary chairman of the executive committee is Rene Bay, with Allan Plaunt secretary.

In a memorandum announcing the formation of the league, its attitude towards national broadcasting is set out in the following terms:

"The solution the radio league sees of the present radio problem lies in the operation of radio as a radio a great instrument of entertainment, education and national unity, to be established on a national broadcasting company with the powers of a private enterprise and the functions of a public utility."

A national broadcasting system would receive support, according to the Canadian Radio League, that every Canadian could hear Canadian programs, but not to the exclusion of other broadcasts.

CAPTAIN BURKE MEETS DEATH IN NORTHERN WILDS

White Horse, Yukon.—Captain E. J. A. Burke, a world war airman, who was flying from Whitehorse to Burke's Northland, perished from exposure on November 20, while hero-ing to bring help to his wife and two children. His two companions, Emil Kading, Vancouver air engineer, and Robert Marten, Alsike prospector, were rescued Sunday, December 7, in the last stages of exhaustion. The hero of the Canadian Tuberculosis Association's greatest air mystery is Pilot W. L. Wasson, who brought the news of the fatal accident to the nearest post to White Horse, Dec. 10.

Kading and Marten were too weak to get full details of their wanderings in the mountain wilderness of the Yukon since they were lost on the 150 mile trail between Burke's post and Selkirk.

BROWNIE NOTES

We all gave a hearty hand-shp last week when Miss Lipsey opened the door and peeped in. She came and sat with us and later played the piano for us while Brown Owl taught us some new dance steps

We were pleased to see some of the mothers take an interest in our work.

There is an exercise we have to learn. It is: Stand on tip-toes with heels together and be sure your back is straight; then bend your knees, keeping them well opened, but be sure your back is straight. After many of the Brownies had tried this they agreed one and all that the best backs were the best (artful Brownies!)

With the exception of one Brownie—who tried hard to be funny but was not—we had an almost perfect behaved Pack. Keep it up, Brownies

High School Notes

The girls' hockey league has been organized into 3 teams. The captains of these teams are Lottie Elliott, Leona Wiebe and Mabel Goold. We are hoping that they will have some outside competition from the town and college. The girls are getting started early and you will hear more of them before the season is out.

The literary meeting held on Wednesday afternoon was the scene of a very exciting event. The three final speeches were given by the representatives from Grades IX, X and XI. The judges had a great deal of difficulty deciding which was the best. After calling in the aid of Miss Haines they decided to give Marjorie Stone of Grade IX first place. We are very pleased with the way Grade IX is making itself felt in the High School affairs.

The order for the rings and monograms is now waiting to be filled. These orders will be sent in immediately so that the pupils are requested to sign their names right away if they desire a ring or monogram.

Mr. Addison's favorite topic: The cud-chewing camel. We understand that for this peculiarity Mr. Addison likens the camel to the gum-chewing girl. We hope this is the only similarity. If you wish to know why, read the description of a camel given in Hilton's Geography 1 Manual.

George White of Chandendall district is leaving this week on a visit to his parents at Lakefield, Ontario.

There will be a dance and Shadow Social at Queenie Creek school on Friday, Dec. 26th. Clinton Orchestra. Ladies please bring lunch baskets for two. Everybody welcome. 21-3x

49th Battalion (Edmonton Regiment) Association 19th Annual Banquet

The 19th Annual Banquet of the Forty-ninth Battalion (Edmonton Regiment) will be held at the Macdonald Hotel, Edmonton, at 7 o'clock Saturday, January 3rd. Every year the banquets of this famous battalion have been a success and they afford a splendid opportunity for the old comrades to meet again, to sing the old songs and to spend a very pleasant evening. Every man who at any time served in the Forty-ninth Battalion is eligible to attend this banquet and is urged to do so

The name of this Battalion are proud of the Forty-ninth and its glorious history. If it was good to fight shoulder to shoulder in the days of long ago, it is good to meet frequently as the years go by and enjoy again the good comradeship of old friends.

Happy and Prosperous New Year

V.S.A. Seed Fair January 10, 1931

A Seed Fair will be held at the Vermilion School of Agriculture on Saturday, January 10th, 1931. All farmers of the district are invited to exhibit samples and attend.

Special attention is drawn to the Junior class in grain judging which is to be held in conjunction. This junior contest is one of stimulation for all Alberta to get a provincial junior grain judging team to compete with teams from all parts of the world at the World's Grain Fair to be held in Regina in 1932. The Juniors winning in the contest at Vermilion will have all expenses paid in connection with this contest. To help all Juniors who care to compete at the V.S.A. Seed Fair, practice classes will be held on Friday afternoon, Jan. 9th. All wishing instruction are invited to attend. The age limit is nineteen years after 30th July, 1931.

For further information regarding the Seed Fair or the Junior Grain Judging Contest, phone or write W. J. Elliott, Principal V. S. A.

The list of grain classes will be published in next week's issue.

HOSPITAL ROCKETISTS DEFEATED BY 3 TO 1

The local seniors scored a three to one victory in their initial encounter of the season at the local arena Tuesday night. Space prevents a write-up of the game, but Constantsky put the visitors one up five seconds after the face-off and the Innisfree boys held it all their own way in the first period, failing to add to their score, however Brimacombe tied the count on Art Wiebe's pass in the second frame, and then George Reasbeck netted the best goal of the evening to put the locals one up. Jack Enstish finished the scoring with one goal in the third. Bert Williams refereed the game.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH G. S. ... HELD ENJOYABLE CONCERT

Owing to the large enrollment of the First Presbyterian Sunday school the annual entertainment was held this year on Thursday evening in the church instead of the hall. The programme opened with a chorus by the Mission Band of the church under the direction of Mrs Morrison and Mrs. Bell, followed by a short exercise by a group of 14 girls under the guidance of Mrs. Docherty and Mrs. Malcolm. Jean Kirby gave a recitation and three little girls sang "Christmas Bells." A drill "Ten Little Negroes" in charge of Mrs. Malcolm was followed by a recitation by Marion Forbes. Mrs. Morrison's class sang the "Star Newell" and Jessie Morcomb and Merle Bell a cute little cradle song. Mrs. Docherty's class went through a clever primary drill "Christmas Gifts" was sung by six little girls Reading by Alberta Dow, quartette by Webber and Brimacombe boys; recitation, Mabel Kirby; Hoop Drill, 8 girls under direction of Mrs. Malcolm and Mrs. Docherty; chorus "Ring on, ye bells" Mrs Morrison's class song, "The Last Doll", Mary Mercenich; reading, Anna Sorochan; song by the boys' quartette.

At the close of the programme Mr. J. M Pine was presented with a suitable volume as the gift of the Sunday school. Santa Claus then made his appearance and gifts were distributed among the nearly one hundred children present

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

Extension of air mail service from St. Paul and Minneapolis to Winnipeg has been set tentatively to begin January 15. The extension will complete an aerial service of 11,000 miles.

Reduction of 50 per cent. in the number of Canadian immigrants arriving in November as compared with October, is noted in statistics issued by the state department at Washington.

The gross earnings for the Canadian National Railways for the period ending December 7, 1932, were $6,404,201, as compared with $8,447,069 for the corresponding period in 1929, a decrease of $2,042,868.

Since additional revenue is not necessary, the town board of commissioners at Winston, N. Carolina, has decided not to collect taxes this year. Winston, founded in 1766, population 7766, operates two farms to support itself.

When East Meets West

Grisot Observes Customs Of Scalding Cut Christmas Cards

That "East is East and West is West" doesn't apply to Christmas cards. There is now not a single society, from Ireland to Patagonia, which hasn't adopted the Christmas card custom. Extremely few are some of the cards desired, and side-stepping the wording of many of the orders.

An African chief desired "much big Pushker of Christmas cards, to 160, showing White Christian Ladies in their Dresses of the Night." He meant to say that he required religious cards with white-robed angels!

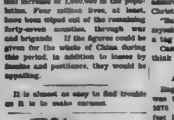
One of the queerest orders by a card firm ever executed was on behalf of a highly-placed Chinese mandarin. Grossly in ignorance of Christmas symbolism—upside down—and time made his selections. Etiquette exposed chinese.

Cost Of Chinese Civil War

Loss Of Life in One Province Alone Over Four Million

The New York Sun calls attention to the cost of China's civil war in terms of human life. The Province of Hupeh is cited as typical. Here statistics show the population to have been diminished by 4,000,000 in three years. This Province has not suffered from famine or pestilence, and there has been no general emigration. In 21 of its counties which he cut-tivate the war zone, there was a normal increase of 1,000,000 in the population. Four million lives, at least, have been wiped out of the remaining forty-seven counties, through war and brigands. If the figures could be given for the whole of China, for this period, in addition to losses by famine and pestilence, they would be appalling.

It is almost as easy to find trouble as it is to make excuses.



"I cannot accept you as a husband, but I will be a sister to you."

"Good. When do you think we shall inherit our father's fortune?"—Sun Hsiang, Hankow.

The Christmas Fever

Is Well Worth Catching Says Woman Physician

Christmas fever, unlike most other fevers, favors health according to a woman physician writing in a London paper. The premonitory symptoms descend upon us as we hear the strains of the carol singers to remind us of the season of peace and goodwill. Apart from the beneficial emotional reactions that these elevating influences bring to the individual, the minor community singing plays a part. Its response is an attitude of sympathetic attention and joyous expectation, which heightens the pulse-beat.

This season of good will, jollity family and friendly reunions has far-reaching effects. All the constructive emotions of love, happiness, and camaraderie possess tonic effects which stimulate the heart, increase the respiration, and so oxidize the blood.

Further, Christmas helps to dispel those ill-humors to which we are all so liable through absence of sun and the dull days. It brings good cheer to body and mind. By helping to counteract depressing influences it lessens the destructive emotions of dulness and despondency and heaps ill-health it feeds.

Christmas fever is worth catching!!

Big Wool Crop

Prices, However, Have Fallen 30 To 40 Per Cent

Total production of wool in Canada in 1930 is estimated by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics at 21,916,000 pounds as compared with the revised figure of 20,283,000 pounds for 1929. Provisional estimate of the value of the 1930 clip is placed at $3,512,000, compared with $4,037,000 in 1929.

By provinces and for the Indian reserves the wool production for the 1930 is as follows: Prince Edward Island, 466,000 pounds; Nova Scotia, 1,048,000; New Brunswick, 873,000; Quebec, 4,958,000; Ontario, 6,228,000. Manitoba, 1,268,000; Saskatchewan, 1,211,000; Alberta, 3,116,000; British Columbia, 1,103,000; Indian Reserves, 14,000

Wool prices in 1930 have fallen 30 to 40 per cent. as compared with the previous year, and are now lower than any year on record.

Church Bells Herald Christmas

Will Ring Even If Bedtime No Longer Stands Says Old Tradition

A very old tradition tells us that although a church has once stood on Christmas morning, its bells will ring through the air. It matters not whether it has long ago crumbled to ruins or is buried under encroaching sand; on this one day will come the mystic peal of bells from the air.

All down the East Coast of England, where the sea washed away so many ancient towns and villages, the fishermen pause on their oars on Christmas morning and listen to the mystic peal of bells under the water, heralding every year the Great Birthday.

Gifts From the Prince

The Prince of Wales celebrates Christmas this year by distributing $37,500 in cash gifts ranging from $250 to $1,250 to men of six occupations whom he knows to be hard up, and who will find money the most acceptable present. The checks were sent out by the Prince's treasurer from York House a week before Christmas.

Not To Her Taste

He was standing beside her as they admired a beautifully decorated Christmas tree.

"Shirley," he said, "I'm gonna tie myself on that Christmas tree, with a tag on me, 'From Me to You.'"

Came the reply, "You can suit your think of the punkiest presents!"

A Gigantic Christmas Tree

England's biggest Christmas tree was that at the Crystal Palace, in 1871. It was one hundred and twenty feet high and built up from fifteen hundred small trees fixed to a central stem. From this tree hung a quarter of a million presents, flags and balloons.

Greetings From Overseas

Canadian Boys and Girls Receive Christmas Greetings From Sir Alr. Stanley, British Red Cross

Sir Arthur Stanley is no stranger to Canada, having spent his boyhood days at Ottawa, when his distinguished father, Lord Stanley of Preston, was Governor-General from 1888 to 1893. Because he was closely identified in Canadian sports in his youth, the Stanley Cup which is the crown jewel of Canadian Championship hockey, was given, which perpetuates the Stanley name in this country.

As chairman of the executive of the British Red Cross, Sir Arthur has served his day and generation nobly in all matters pertaining to the health and happiness of the people by the promotion of Red Cross aims of mitigating suffering and establishing health service.

Writing to the boys and girls of Canada, Sir Arthur sends them all a Christmas message which is as follows:

"Here in the Motherland we are proud of you Canadian Red Cross Juniors, of your pioneer spirit, of your generosity and your courage.

We know that by keeping the laws of health you are taking the first steps to make sure of your own health for it is in the health and vigour of her citizens that the prosperity of a people dwells. We know that through your hospitals for crippled children and in many other ways you are relieving the suffering of those less fortunate than yourselves.

It is a great thing that boys and girls should take part in the work of the Red Cross and by doing those things that are wholesome and kind, and by taking opportunities that come in the way of everyone of us to help others, you can be worthy representatives of the great Society which we hope you will continue to serve all your lives."

Recipes For This Week

(By Betty Barclay)

BRAN MUFFINS

1 teaspoon salt.
1 cup bran.
¼ cup orange juice.
1½ tablespoons molasses.
2 tablespoons melted butter.

Sift flour and salt together, strain juice (in which soda has been dissolved and stirred until it begins to effect), molasses and melted butter. Beat vigorously, and pour quickly into hot, buttered gem-pans, and bake in a hot oven.

FRUIT KISSES

1 egg white.
½ cup confectioner's sugar.
½ cup almonds, chopped.
½ cup dates, pitted and chopped.
½ cup candied fruit.

Blend the almonds. Plunge into boiling water, drain off skins. Chop. Pit the dates. Chop.

Beat the egg white until stiff. Add sugar gradually while continuing the beating. Add salt and vanilla. Fold in almonds and dates. Drop from the tip of a teaspoon on a well buttered baking pan. Bake in a slow oven about thirty minutes. Cool for a few moments before removing from pan with a spatula.

Ship Christmas Trees To U.S.

Half a Million Trees Shipped From New Brunswick To U.S.

More than half a million Christmas trees will be shipped from the province of New Brunswick to points in the United States.

For the few months gangs of men have been busy in the woods cutting the young trees. From the woods the trees are hauled to railway stations where the butts are sawn off before being shipped.

The industry of Christmas trees from New Brunswick for the United States comes entirely from privately-owned lands, as the exportation of this tree cut on government-owned lands is forbidden.

Made Turkey Yuletide Dish

Ring Jansen I. Started the Custom In Denmark

Despite its name, the turkey has nothing to do with Turkey or the Turks. It comes originally from America, and was first raised to a place of honoring Christmas dishes through Scottish influence. Until James I. ascended the throne the chief Yuletide dish was a boar's head, but James hated pork, and English courtiers who wished to retain his favor were obliged to abandon their favorite dainty and seek a substitute. They were fortunate to find one ready to hand in the turkey, which had been introduced during the sixteenth century and had already attained considerable favor at minor festivities.

Christmas In Canada

In Canada Christmas comes.
They line the street with trees—
Christmas trees lit up at night
With little bulbs of colored light
As pretty as you please.

The people hurry past you
In furry boots and wraps;
The sleighs are like a picture-book
And all the big policemen look
Like Teddy Bears in caps.

So if some day at Christmas
You don't know where to go,
Just pack your bums up, I beg.
And start at once for Canada;
You'd like it there, I guess.

TIMOTHY—THE INFLUENCE OF HOME TRAINING

Golden Text: "From a babe thou hast known the sacred writings which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus."—2 Timothy 3:15.

Lesson: Acts 16:1-3; Philippians 1:3-5; 2 Timothy 1:1-6; 3:14-16.

Devotional Reading: Proverbs 3:1-6.

Explanations and Comments

The Salutation Of the Second Epistle Of Timothy, 1:1, 2.—Paul begins his letter with a formal salutation: Paul (the writer), an apostle of Christ Jesus through the will of God (that is, called of God to be an apostle), according to the promise of the life which is in Christ Jesus (according to the Gospel). "The Gospel is the promise of life in Christ; the life is the end, and Christ is the way." To Timothy (the recipient of the letter), whom Paul delights to call "my beloved child" he grace, mercy, peace, from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord. "These blessings are the best we can ask for our dearly beloved friends, that they may have grace to help them in the time of need, and mercy in the day of trial, and so may have peace with God the Father and Christ the Lord."—Matthew Henry.

Paul's Affection For and Exhortation To Timothy. 1:3-6.—Paul thanks God whom he has served with a pure conscience, that he has unceasingly remembered Timothy in his prayers. "Paul almost forgot himself in his remembrance of others in his prayers. And so it came to pass that the Lord remembered him, and conveyed to him hidden manna and hidden treasures, and Timothy became strong and beautiful before the eyes of his fellowmen. He 'put on the Lord Jesus Christ.'"—J. H. Jowett.

Paul longs intensely to see Timothy, and be filled with joy. God implants Timothy's tears at their last parting, tears which showed how true was Timothy's affection for him. He thanks God for Timothy's unfeigned faith, which he had inherited from his grandmother Lois and his mother Eunice.

The Home Training Of Timothy In Religion, 1:5; 3:14, 15.—Because Timothy to abide in the things he had learned and had been assured of, he is reminded by Paul of the test of time and he knew from whom he had learned them, from His childhood (1:5), and from his mother and grandmother, 3:3. Paul sert rem'nded him that he had known the sacred writ'ngs from a babe; he could not remember the time when he had not known them. It was the Jewish parent's duty to teach his child the Law when in his fifth year. The sacred writings, Paul added were able to make him wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus, "if combined with faith in Christ Jesus."

Bible Of Two Pluds

The trees sent out in 1929 from the Royal Nursery Stations of the Department of the Interior, Canada, if planted in one area at the distance apart which is usual in forest work, would cover 3,500 acres—five square miles. The total number of trees sent out since 1901, if similarly planted, would cover an area of 40,972 acres—about sixty-four square miles.

A Floating Gas Station

Enterprising Man Serves Motor Boats In Gourock Bay, Scotland

An enterprising boat builder and repairer has launched and moored in Gourock Bay, Scotland, a floating filling station, when motor boats of every description can run alongside and have their tanks replenished. The new supply boat is fitted with automatic petrol and oil pumps, similar in every way to an ordinary roadside garage, and marine motorists on the Clyde hail the innovation as a welcome labor-saving installation. Already the home estuary has a floating repair shop which periodically visits the main boating centres, but in the future there is little doubt but that every progressive coast resort will have its row of floating or waterside pumps to keep up with the rapid advance of motor boating.

Service For Passengers

Airplanes Signal Trains When Trans-Atlantic Liner Is Nearing

Air liners of the trans-European and Australian air services are being equipped with powerful searchlights for the purpose of signaling and halting express trains, and transferring passengers and mail, when the airplanes are flying overhead with an accident or delay through mechanical difficulties, says Popular Mechanics (Chicago).

"Some of these searchlights have half a million candle-power, and are used for observation at night as well as for signaling.

"When the pilot encounters difficulties while following the railroad express lines, he signals to a train that he is about to land and the train stops for the transference of his load. The plan is intended to assure connections with ocean liners for mail and passengers.

Canada's Best Customer

Great Britain Takes Two-Thirds Of Our Wheat Exports

Canada's wheat and flour exports for the first quarter of the present crop year, ended October 31st, show Great Britain still in the role of the Dominion's best customer, taking two-thirds of its wheat exports and more than a quarter of its flour shipments. Of the wheat exported, totalling 75,240,556 bushels, Great Britain took 49,807,595 bushels, and of the flour shipped, amounting to 2,175,-273 barrels, the United Kingdom took 774,881 barrels.

Her voice trembled. She stopped abruptly in an effort to control it.

"And that you're wonderin'!" she said the old man quietly. "Better tell Uncle Sim everything, Gal 'em off your chest and you'll feel better."

"I haven't any real troubles, Uncle Sim. They're all imaginary. Pride is one thing. I wouldn't change him for—for the President of the United States! But sometimes I wonder why he's so—so—"

"Stubborn?" she answered quickly. "I love to roast, but I love my own worthless head. I've had the same fide tramp that Nick is. The other night" (she put her hand to her throat) "something hurt him, and "we were sitting together on the porch, and our new neighbor began to sing. Her voice is beautiful. I don't know what she was singing, but it had a Gypsy lilt to it that would have aroused anyone on a spring night. Nick didn't say one word, but I knew how it made him feel. He wanted to run, run, to the ends of the earth. He wanted the freedom he used to talk about. I—I almost hated the woman for singing that way on such a night. It seemed as if she were singing straight at Nick. I—I almost believe she was."

"When she stopped he got up without a word and we went inside, but his hands trembled when he turned on the lights. And I couldn't say anything. Uncle Sim. I'd have cried if I'd spoken; and there didn't seem to be anything to say. Then suddenly he turned to me and smiled. It broke my heart—that smile. I suppose you know how he was feeling. But he made cocoa and put his hand under my chin and looked up my face so he could look straight at me.

"'Gay,' he said, 'you've got the most wonderful eyes in the world. They'd drag a man right back from the jaws of Hades. I hope you'll be on hand if ever I'm tempted to commit a crime!'

"He was speaking lightly to dispel the atmosphere that song had created; but there was a look in his eyes that gave out."

"Gave out!" questioned the old man, as she paused. "Gave out? What you mean, Clay?"

"I mean I—cried. Oh, Uncle Sim, I don't know why I'm telling you all this! I wouldn't tell another soul in the whole world, but you're the nearest thing to a family that we have. I don't cry easily, you know, or often; that's why I cried when I did. I—I cry, I haven't been feeling very well, and I was sort of discouraged. Anyway, once I get going I can't stop. I—"

Devotional Reading: Proverbs 3:1-6.

Explanations and Comments

The Salutation Of the Second Epistle Of Timothy, 1:1, 2.—Paul begins his letter with a formal salutation: Paul (the writer), an apostle of Christ Jesus through the will of God (that is, called of God to be an apostle), according to the promise of the life which is in Christ Jesus (according to the Gospel). "The Gospel is the promise of life in Christ; the life is the end, and Christ is the way." To Timothy (the recipient of the letter), whom Paul delights to call "my beloved child" he grace, mercy, peace, from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord. "These blessings are the best we can ask for our dearly beloved friends, that they may have grace to help them in the time of need, and mercy in the day of trial, and so may have peace with God the Father and Christ the Lord."—Matthew Henry.

Paul's Affection For and Exhortation To Timothy. 1:3-6.—Paul thanks God whom he has served with a pure conscience, that he has unceasingly remembered Timothy in his prayers. "Paul almost forgot himself in his remembrance of others in his prayers. And so it came to pass that the Lord remembered him, and conveyed to him hidden manna and hidden treasures, and Timothy became strong and beautiful before the eyes of his fellowmen. He 'put on the Lord Jesus Christ.'"—J. H. Jowett.

Paul longs intensely to see Timothy, and be filled with joy. God implants Timothy's tears at their last parting, tears which showed how true was Timothy's affection for him. He thanks God for Timothy's unfeigned faith, which he had inherited from his grandmother Lois and his mother Eunice.

The Home Training Of Timothy In Religion, 1:5; 3:14, 15.—Because Timothy to abide in the things he had learned and had been assured of, he is reminded by Paul of the test of time and he knew from whom he had learned them, from His childhood (1:5), and from his mother and grandmother, 3:3. Paul sert rem'nded him that he had known the sacred writ'ngs from a babe; he could not remember the time when he had not known them. It was the Jewish parent's duty to teach his child the Law when in his fifth year. The sacred writings, Paul added were able to make him wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus, "if combined with faith in Christ Jesus."

Bible Of Two Pluds

The trees sent out in 1929 from the Royal Nursery Stations of the Department of the Interior, Canada, if planted in one area at the distance apart which is usual in forest work, would cover 3,500 acres—five square miles. The total number of trees sent out since 1901, if similarly planted, would cover an area of 40,972 acres—about sixty-four square miles.

A Floating Gas Station

Enterprising Man Serves Motor Boats In Gourock Bay, Scotland

An enterprising boat builder and repairer has launched and moored in Gourock Bay, Scotland, a floating filling station, where motor boats of every description can run alongside and have their tanks replenished. The new supply boat is fitted with automatic petrol and oil pumps, similar in every way to an ordinary roadside garage, and marine motorists on the Clyde hail the innovation as a welcome labor-saving installation. Already the home estuary has a floating repair shop which periodically visits the main boating centres, but in the future there is little doubt but that every progressive coast resort will have its row of floating or waterside pumps to keep up with the rapid advance of motor boating.

Service For Passengers

Airplanes Signal Trains When Trans-Atlantic Liner Is Nearing

Air liners of the trans-European and Australian air services are being equipped with powerful searchlights for the purpose of signaling and halting express trains, and transferring passengers and mail, when the airplanes are flying overhead with an accident or delay through mechanical difficulties, says Popular Mechanics (Chicago).

"Some of these searchlights have half a million candle-power, and are used for observation at night as well as for signaling.

"When the pilot encounters difficulties while following the railroad express lines, he signals to a train that he is about to land and the train stops for the transference of his load. The plan is intended to assure connections with ocean liners for mail and passengers.

Canada's Best Customer

Great Britain Takes Two-Thirds Of Our Wheat Exports

Canada's wheat and flour exports for the first quarter of the present crop year, ended October 31st, show Great Britain still in the role of the Dominion's best customer, taking two-thirds of its wheat exports and more than a quarter of its flour shipments. Of the wheat exported, totalling 75,240,556 bushels, Great Britain took 49,807,595 bushels, and of the flour shipped, amounting to 2,175,-273 barrels, the United Kingdom took 774,881 barrels.

Her voice trembled. She stopped abruptly in an effort to control it.

"And that you're wonderin'!" she said the old man quietly. "Better tell Uncle Sim everything, Gal 'em off your chest and you'll feel better."

"I haven't any real troubles, Uncle Sim. They're all imaginary. Pride is one thing. I wouldn't change him for—for the President of the United States! But sometimes I wonder why he's so—so—"

"Stubborn?" she answered quickly. "I love to roast, but I love my own worthless head. I've had the same fide tramp that Nick is. The other night" (she put her hand to her throat) "something hurt him, and "we were sitting together on the porch, and our new neighbor began to sing. Her voice is beautiful. I don't know what she was singing, but it had a Gypsy lilt to it that would have aroused anyone on a spring night. Nick didn't say one word, but I knew how it made him feel. He wanted to run, run, to the ends of the earth. He wanted the freedom he used to talk about. I—I almost hated the woman for singing that way on such a night. It seemed as if she were singing straight at Nick. I—I almost believe she was."

"When she stopped he got up without a word and we went inside, but his hands trembled when he turned on the lights. And I couldn't say anything, Uncle Sim. I'd have cried if I'd spoken; and there didn't seem to be anything to say. Then suddenly he turned to me and smiled. It broke my heart—that smile. I suppose you know how he was feeling. But he made cocoa and put his hand under my chin and looked up my face so he could look straight at me.

"'Gay,' he said, 'you've got the most wonderful eyes in the world. They'd drag a man right back from the jaws of Hades. I hope you'll be on hand if ever I'm tempted to commit a crime!'

"He was speaking lightly to dispel the atmosphere that song had created; but there was a look in his eyes that gave out."

"Gave out!" questioned the old man, as she paused. "Gave out? What you mean, Clay?"

"I mean I—cried. Oh, Uncle Sim, I don't know why I'm telling you all this! I wouldn't tell another soul in the whole world, but you're the nearest thing to a family that we have. I don't cry easily, you know, or often; that's why I cried when I did. I—I cry, I haven't been feeling very well, and I was sort of discouraged. Anyway, once I get going I can't stop. I—"

Electric Power in Rural Saskatchewan

Electric Light and Power Now Provided Over a Wide Area

By the throwing of a switch in the Saskatoon power house of the Saskatchewan Government Power Commission, a new era for many towns in central Saskatchewan was recently inaugurated. That era marked the energizing of the new high tension power line to Shellbrook and the lighting up of that town and of a number of intervening towns by electricity supplied from the central electric station in Saskatoon.

While the towns along the northern line to Shellbrook were the first to benefit from the big construction program of the power commission carried out during the summer of 1930, the act of electrifying those towns was only one of several such events expected to take place within a short period. About 600 miles of power lines will be functioning shortly and a hundred towns will be effectively lighted and supplied with power.

Shellbrook is about 120 miles from Saskatoon by transmission line. Another line goes northeasterly to Rosthern and is being extended to Duck Lake, a distance of 60 miles from Saskatoon. Easterly the wires will soon be connected to Humboldt, about 75 miles from Saskatoon. Southeasterly the lines run to Zealandia and thence to Outlook, roughly 100 miles, and at this point connection will also be made very shortly with power from Moose Jaw. From Moose Jaw to Outlook the distance is also 100 miles. They represent the initial program of the Saskatchewan Government Power Commission to provide electric light and power over a broad area of the province.

Government-owned

Rises to spread power over rural Saskatchewan have been made on an established fact. Toward this objective, the first was taken about two years ago when the Saskatchewan Government purchased from the City of Saskatoon the municipal light and power plant. The steam-electric generating plant, to become the key station for distribution in the central part of the province, was turned over to the Saskatchewan Power Commission and since then its capacity has been greatly enlarged to meet the demands put upon it in supplying power not only to Saskatoon, but to the numerous towns in the surrounding territory.

Show Good Horsemanship

German and Irish Riders Carry Off Honors At Torneto

Germany, closely followed by Ireland carried off the honors in the most spectacular of the events in the horse show of the Royal Winter Fair at the Coliseum, Toronto.

The German and Irish military officers and their mounts are the outstanding hems in the Royal York's $11,000 Military Jumping Stake This accomplishment was achieved during the competition of the crack horse and horsemen of four other nations — the United States Sweden, Canada and Hungary—in a display of horsemanship which has probably never before been witnessed at the Fair.

The Germans won first and second prizes, and the entries of the Irish Free State won third and fourth purses with the United States coming fifth

It was a close competition over a difficult course. How close it was is indicated by the fact that the two German horses cleared the course with only 1½ faults each, while the two Irish horses cleared the course with only two faults each.

No More Athletic Figures

If Canadians Accept Invitation To Eat In Quantities

Already Canadians are eating more eggs per head than any other nation in the world. It is possible that we have gone as nearly with eggs this year as making quite an extra hat into the bacon of the country. Now they are asked to add another line of breakfast this to munch a couple of apples each into the bargain and—perhaps all this to take down regular tablespoonfuls. We may as well say good bye to the slim athletic figure of which we have always taken so much pride for the ideal back (smack of the future will employ the contour of a capital "O."

Little Helps For This Week

"While I live will I praise the Lord: I will sing praises unto my God while I have any being."—Psalm cxlvi. 2.

Ah, no! the truest worship does not kneel.
In fast and vigil; spending dismal days
Only to lift the tribute of a sigh.
Gives God no glory. Come with thankful praise!
All ye who truly love the Lord most high.
For perfect prayer is found in perfect joy.

W. then, I swore a nightingale, I would do the part of a nightingale. If I only could sing, I would sing in verse. But now I am a rational creature, and I ought to praise God; this is my duty, this I will do; and while this goes so long as I am allowed to keep it, and I exhort you to join in the same song.—Bpicletus.

Where Gold Comes From

Largest Production Of Gold In Canada Made In 1931

The largest production of gold recorded in Canada was made in 1929 according to a report just issued by the Canadian Government Bureau of Statistics. The total output last year from the various metal mining centres in Canada amounted to 1,928,306 ounces, valued at $39,981,663, compared with a production of 1,890,383 ounces valued at $39,082,005 in 1928. Six provinces of Canada and the Yukon Territory produced gold in 1929 as follows: Ontario, 1,682,387 ounces; British Columbia, 154,304 ounces; Quebec, 90,788 ounces; Yukon Territory, 53,892 ounces; Manitoba, 22,450 ounces; Nova Scotia, 2,687 ounces, and Alberta, five ounces. In Ontario the Porcupine and Kirkland Lake areas contributed practically the whole of the output of the province.

Worms however generated, are found in the digestive tracts. There they set up disturbances detrimental to the health of the child Prompt use can be no comfort for the little ones until Mother Graves Worm Exterminator is applied. An excellent preparation for the purpose can be had in Miller's Worm Powders. They will immediately get to work against the worms, the conditions that were favorable to their existence.

THE TALKER
(A Warning to the Loquacious)

He talked away at break of day,
He talked when he had naught to say
He talked at home and in the shop,
He talked and simply would not stop

He talked at politics and crime,
He talked and wasted precious time
He talked of money and the probs,
He talked of gossips, neighbors, snobs.

He talked so long as one would stay,
He talked his worried friends away
He talked for merely talking's sake
He talked our any hint would take

He talked of much he did not know,
He talked for entertainers show
He talked and firmly held the floor,
He talked while one walked out the door.

He talked to ventilate his gated,
He talked a threesome steadily grated,
He talked of health and made it worse
He talked and made his talk a curse.

He talked of trifles, things inane,
He talked to drive to friends insane
He talked right on the whole day long,
He talked though he was in the wrong.

He talked nor would he silence keep,
He talked and mumbled in his sleep,
He talked ahead — he caught his breath—
He talked at last himself to death!

True Greatness

The bride tottered up the aisle on the arm of her father, who was wheezed in his armchair by three of his great-grandchildren. She was arrayed in white and carried a big bouquet of white chrysanthemums. Her hair, unbobbed, was bobbed, and she smiled and nodded to acquaintances.

The groom was able to walk unaided, with the assistance of two handsome mahogany crutches. His bald head shone brightly, and his false tooth chattered nervously.

They were the couple who had united all their cussed quality added to just remarked:

A Christmas Message

My Dear Friends,—

Best wishes for Merry Christmas to all the readers of The Standard. May this Christmas Day bring you the fullest measure of joy and happiness. It is a wonderful day. It is the birthday of Christ, the greatest personality of all ages. That night in which Christ was born at Bethlehem was the most important night in all the annals of time, the greatest event in history; it has changed the world. Let us not forget him! Not in our festivities. The heart of Christmas is Christmas in the heart. The heart of the Christmas message is healing for the sick, comfort for the troubled, cheer for the burdened, courage for the downcast, a new heart for the sinner, a new joy for the saint, a new life from the dead.

If Christ was not born in Bethlehem there would be no Christmas; no joyous festivities; no Christmas trees; no giving of Christmas gifts; no songs of the angels. What a cold, cheerless world this would be! If Christ had not been born in Bethlehem, then He would not have died on Calvary, and if He had not died on Calvary He would not have risen from the dead; and if He had not risen from the dead, there would have been no Resurrection, no Easter, no light on the future life.

If Christ was not born in Bethlehem, then we would not have had the four Gospels. The Gospel gives us the life of Christ. No one ever wrote the life of a person that never lived on earth. We would not have had the Gospel by Matthew with the Sermon on the Mount and the Lord's prayer, no Gospel by Mark with its miracles; no Gospel by Luke with the story of Christ's birth and message of great joy; no Gospel by John with its glorious fourteenth chapter, and message of salvation by faith in Jesus Christ. It is the message for the world today!

If Christ had not come there would have been no Paradise Regained, by Milton; no Pilgrim's Progress, by Bunyan; no Transgressions, by Aspein; no Messiah, by Handel; no Lord's Supper at Jerusalem; no Red Cross in the world. Who could measure or compute the loss, the darkness, the despair of it all?

But there is another side to the picture. It is a bright and glorious one. Christ was born in Bethlehem. It is one of the best attested facts in history. Luke says: "For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord."

Yes, in the manger at Bethlehem Christ the Lord was born. There was nothing grand from an earthly point of view about His birth. The door of no hospitable home stopped to receive Him nor was the inn proud that such a one was born there. But out of that manger came the Cross, and out of that cradle a divine influence whereby Christianity was born that night in Bethlehem. The angels from heaven came to celebrate the event. The shepherds went with haste to see the young Child, and the wise men from the East came to pay Him homage. The Child that was born that night in Bethlehem given a new meaning to all history; it now lives in all the world, and a new ascendence to all humanity.

When the shepherds heard that Christ was born in Bethlehem, they said, let us go now and see what has come to pass. The world is going there today. Let us go and see some of the things that Bethlehem stands for!

It stands for Love. It is a good place to study the love of God. Here He manifested His love to His Son, spoke to us not in a picture or in a speech, but uttered His love in a person in flesh and blood. We needed someone to set God low to us in human life; someone must speak the language of heaven else we will not understand. God gave us His Son, and He entered human life in Bethlehem. The incarnation is an object lesson of God's love.

It stands for Peace. Peace to one of the great words of the Bible. It occurs 364 times in it. It is the most needed word in the tempest tossed, sin-troubled world. Notice the very first thing Christ brought to the world was peace, for the angels choir at Bethlehem before the angels said: "On earth peace and good will to men." Christ was the first message to the world as He was going away was peace: "My peace I leave with you."

Bethlehem stands for joy. The message of the angel was: "I bring you good tidings of great joy." The first Christmas morning that dawned upon earth was a morning of joy; joy among the angels, joy in the heart of God. Christmas is now the only day of all the year set apart purely to joy and gladness. It is not spent, not only for joyfulness, but also to teach the joy-producing power of

HOSPITAL BOARD MEETING

A meeting of the Hospital Board was held on December 17th, all members present.

The following resolutions were passed:

That the minutes of the last meeting be adopted as read.

That the janitor arrange to have manhole on the sewer cleaned.

Whereas according to the Hospital books the Town of Vermilion is in arrears about $6767.80 on payments on the requisitions up to December 31st, 1929, and on the requisition of $2440.00 for 1930 the Town of Vermilion has only paid $200.00 to date while the Hospital Act states the payments shall be made quarterly, and whereas if our Hospital is to be kept open and good service maintained the requisitions made by the Hospital Board must be paid: Therefore be it resolved that the Secretary notify the Town of Vermilion that if the Hospital Act is not complied with re the payments on the requisition for 1930 and a payment satisfactory to the Hospital Board made on past arrears on or before December 31st 1930, the Hospital Board will take the matter into the courts for settlement.

Owing to misunderstandings that have arisen in connection with the rates charged to different patients, the Secretary was instructed to send out notices to all known parties setting out particulars as to special rates. Briefly, this applies to persons who are earning their own living and who are not actually assessed for income. In order to obtain the dollar per day rate to the Hospital it is necessary that such persons pay the Special Ratepayer fee amounting to $6.00 during the first month of the year.

BROWNIE NOTES

Will the Brownies please notice that there will be no meeting this week, Dec. 26th.

On January 2nd, however, we are giving a special party for the mothers from 2.30 to 4:30 p.m. Sally is going to write very much to see every Brownie and her mother present. Come mothers, and show us that you have interested in our work. We expect you all at the Armories, Friday, Jan. 2nd.

MILD WEATHER CONTINUES.

The mildest fall in the history of the country is probably being enjoyed in this particular section of western Canada. There has been sub-zero weather on occasions only and that very early in the fall. The town was treated to a rain shower on Tuesday of last week, after which the weather cleared without the expected snow. The ground is barely white very little snow being in evidence.

Gravelling Highways Part of Relief Work

Considerable gravelling of provincial highways will be carried out by the government during the current winter with a view to creating a greater amount of employment, according to Hon. O. L. McPherson, minister of public works.

While desirous of doing as much as possible in the highway building program to give relief, the Minister pointed out that gravelling was practically the only phase of road construction that could be carried out here in winter owing to climatic conditions.

Work will be spread over all sections of the province.

It is expected that this work will provide employment for many men as the gravel will be first excavated, then crushed, then transported by rail to the nearest points at which it will be used and finally hauled by vehicles to the actual site of use.

The gravel will be mainly drawn from the Battle River, Irricana, Alderside and Macleod pits.

Club and Lodge Provide Skating Ice For Youngsters

A valuable and popular adjunct to the town skating rink was opened last Thursday when a fine sheet of ice was made available to the kiddies of the town who are under 12 years of age.

This newest venture for the welfare of the children is under the joint auspices of the C.N.R. Community Club and the Vermilion Elks Lodge.

While these two organizations realize that everything possible has been arranged for the accommodation of the little folk at the town rink, they are hopeful they may have outdoor rink will help to relieve congestion, and at the same time give the children under 12 years of age more time to indulge in our most healthful winter pastime.

Much credit is due the respective committees for the splendid way in which the work was carried out, and a special word of commendation is due Mr. William Dreyer, who was responsible for the ice-making, and who spent many weary hours at dead of night tending sensibly but steadily around the enclosure, hose in hand, with the unswerving purpose of making a sheet of ice that should be a joy to glide upon.

Both the organizations concerned in the operation of the outdoor rink are desirous of expressing thanks to all those who gave assistance in its erection, and especially to the Town Council who have kindly consented to light the rink free of charge.

During the Christmas holidays the rink will be open daily to child-r under 12 years of age from 10 a.m to 9 p.m., except Sundays, when the hours will be from 1:30 p.m. to 5:45 p.m.

When the schools re-open the ice will be available during the following hours:

School days: 4 to 6, & 7 to 9 p.m
Saturdays: - - 10 a.m. to 9 p.m
Sundays: - - 1:30 p.m. to 5:45 p.m

No charge is made for the use of the rink, the supervisor from the Elks' lodge will always be in attendance during skating hours, so that parents may rest assured that the kiddies will be well looked after.

WINSTON CHURCHILL FLATLY OPPOSED TO INDIA CONCESSIONS

LONDON, Dec. 11.—In a slashing attack on the Indian round table conference today, Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill, former Conservative chancellor of the exchequer, declared his flat opposition to any such freedom for India as would be involved in creation of a dominion status.

Suspension of British control, he said, would mean either armed Hindu despotism, or removal of forces in ternal war. Loss of India he declared, would consummate the downfall of the British empire.

Residents of the localities in which the gravel will be used will benefit most by this scheme as they will be those mainly in possession of the necessary vehicles.

The work is expected to be continued throughout a large part of the winter.

NEWS FROM ISLAY

Many Christmas visitors have arrived home for the Yuletide season, among these being:

Margaret and Johnny Given, who arrived from their Edmonton High Schools last week-end;

The Misses Margaret Roebuck and Mae Pat, Islay girls attending the Edmonton Normal school;

Miss Jean Fyfe, from the Edmonton Lloydminster College, who came home on Saturday;

Miss Dorothy Stone of Varsity who came down from the city on W-nesday;

Hurl Beaver arrived on Tuesday for a week's holiday with his parents. Hurl is attending the college of Varsity, who will spend a two weeks' vacation with his parents north of t-wn.

Moise Maire left on Saturday morning last on a trip to his old home in France, where he will visit his mother for a period of some five months.

Frank Bowman and Edmund McFadyen returned Thursday last from a successful hunt north of the river; they each bagged a moose and a deer.

The Owl Restaurant has now moved to its new location in the old hardware store. The building has been renovated and presents a very inviting appearance.

The Islay teachers, Miss Clement and Mr. Stirling, are spending Xmas at their home in Edmonton.

Duncan Gilchrist who has spent the past three months with his sister, Mrs. H. Stone, has now returned to

$723,000 DECREASE IN LIQUOR SALES FOR SIX MONTHS

Profits of Control Board in Alberta Show Drop of $308,000

Liquor consumption in Alberta has fallen off accordingly to the figures of the liquor control board, which show a reduction of $723,000 in the sales at orders' stores for the six months ending September 30 last, as compared with the same period of last year. Sales of beer in all authorized places also declined to the extent of nearly seventy millions.

Profits of the liquor control board were correspondingly down, for the six-month period they amounted to $663,541, a decrease of $346,000 over the half year in 1929.

R. J. Dinning, chairman of the board, in submitting this report to the provincial treasurer, makes no comment as to the reasons for the drop whether due to the financial depression or the growing temperance sentiment throughout the province. Similar decreases in liquor sales and profits are also reported from Saskatchewan and other provinces.

Report For the Fiscal Year

A report on the operations of the liquor board for the fiscal year ending March 31 last has also been submitted to the government, showing gross sales for the year of $4,782,345 and net profits from all sources of $2,410,856.

There were 1,144,856 sales on individuals at the stores, averaging $4.31 each. In addition 8,221 sales were made to licensees and holders of special permits, such as hospitals, physicians and druggists.

Permits, which are issued by the calendar year, realized the sum of $197,282. The number of permits ran to 9,854 and 822 of these were placed on the list of interdicts. With removals from the interdict list there were 1,472 such on it at the next total at the end of the year.

Curb Illegal Sale

Some success is evident in the manufacture and sale of liquor illegally reported, but this line of activity, in the way of law enforcement, is pointed out as largely in the hands of federal authorities.

The board and the brewers of the province together paid into the dominion government during the fiscal year a total of $2,442,000 in customs and excise taxes.

On the question of hotel accommodation the report states that the accommodation now given in Alberta is the equal of that anywhere else in Canada and superior to that in many

Canada's Markets Abroad

The securing of markets abroad for the products of Canada, whether those products be in the form of foodstuffs, raw materials, semi-manufactured or fully manufactured articles, is one of the biggest tasks confronting not only the Federal Government, but farmers, producers, manufacturers, individually and collectively. It is, or to say that the Government of Canada, quite apart from the fact whether it be for the time being, administered under Liberal or Conservative auspices, is sincerely anxious to develop existing markets and to secure an entry into new ones.

The task is a difficult one at all times, and particularly so just now in view of existing world economic conditions. Yet because of those very conditions it is all the more imperative that the maximum effort be put forth.

Canada is a young country, with a residents at most extent of territory and resources of immense, comparatively small population. As a result its manufacturers have difficulty in establishing industries that business is not only capable of producing more than can be absorbed by the home market, but can also engage successfully in competition for export trade. Hence the necessity for Canada in other lands all over the world is being pressed home through the lines of trade commissioners.

These commissioners, of whom there are now 17 stationed in all parts of the world, are credited with being largely responsible for the substantial development of the Dominion's foreign trade within recent years.

During the past year alone they handled millions of dollars' worth of new business, arranged for sole agencies, and submitted 4,245 reports to Canadian firms—all without fuss, for the reporters concerned

Canada and trade do not receive the attention throughout the world. At present there are thirty-two posts, each administered by a Trade Commissioner and in addition there are fifteen assistants, while eight juniors are in training at Ottawa. Of the total three of the Ottawa staff, the Trade Commissioners, assistants and juniors are graduates of Canadian universities and the Trade Commissioner service is regarded as offering splendid opportunities for young Canadians who desire to enter the commercial service and to combine. The Trade Commissioners are sent abroad for a period of from two to four years, depending upon the climate to which they are posted, and then return to Canada for an extended tour of the Dominion, during the furlough they visit the principal cities of the Dominion, interviewing Canadian exporters and any one else who may desire to be of assistance to them in the development of their business in other lands. In this way they maintain personal touch with Canadian business men and keep themselves familiar with their country's industrial progress.

While the work of Trade Commissioners is primarily concerned with the development of Canadian export trade, they may be called upon at times to do work that is done for other countries by Ambassadors, Consuls and Commercial Attaches.

Canadian Copper

Production Of Refined Copper Greater Than Domestic Demand

The proposal in Washington that a duty be levied on refined copper brings out the fact that Canada shortly will be producing more of this product than she requires for her own use. For many years the Dominion brought practically all its refined copper from United States. One of the complaints often made was that blister copper from Canadian mines went to United States where it was refined and returned in a much more expensive state for use here.

With the new plant at Copper Cliff which opened last July and the one erected by the Noranda and other interests in Quebec, the Dominion will be a considerable exporter of refined copper if these plants, as well as the one at Trail, B.C., all operate to capacity. It is estimated Canada uses 90,000 tons of copper a year. The total production of which the plants would be capable would be in the neighborhood of 300,000 tons.

All copper mined in a month of one-half cent a pound paid by the Dominion Government on copper refined in Canada from Canadian ore and sold to Canadian manufacture. There is also a tariff against certain types of bar metals.

Dubs Trial a Farce

Believes Confession Of Russian Engineers Was Staged For Effect

A belief that Leonid Ramzin, Russian engineer, whose death sentence was commuted after his conviction with seven others on accusations of plotting against the Soviet regime, is a mincrent of the charges against him was voiced by H. W. Brooks, of New York, consulting engineer and friend of Ramzin.

Brooks, who was in Europe with Ramzin, visiting Russian engineers, allegedly negotiated with groups hostile to the Soviet government, declared he saw "never a sign of a plot."

The confession Ramzin made accusing himself of sabotage and of plotting the overthrow of the Soviet Government, as well and the other proceedings at the trial of the engineers, was termed the "most naive piece of propaganda I ever encountered," by Brooks. He further declared the confession was arranged by the Ogpu, Soviet secret police, as part of a "revolting farce" to strengthen the position of the Stalin dictatorship.

Shipments From Flin Flon

Manitoba Zinc and Copper Being Exported In Large Quantities

Shipments of blister copper and zinc have been coming through steadily from the Flin Flon since operations were commenced in the new smelter there in November, according to T. P. White, superintendent of car service of the Canadian National Railways, who reported that since November 19th, there have been nineteen cars shipped.

It is evident that much of this Manitoba zinc and copper is being exported as the bulk of the ores have been billed to the Canadian seaports, Halifax and St. John. Four cars have been shipped to New York and two more to Toronto.

Increase In Air Travel

Passenger travel by air between London and Paris has increased from 716 in 1919, to 22,346 in 1929. More than 30,000 passengers are expected to be carried by commercial airplanes over this route during 1930.

An Unusual Court Action

London Girl Suing Movie Houses For Blocking Sunday Performances

London, England, is wondering just what motives to ascribe to Miss Millicent Argent, modest young girl of 20, who, assuming the role of "common informer," has filed legal actions which may set her a large sum of money.

The actions are writs claiming damages of more than £100,000 from film corporations and cinema houses on alleged infringements of a law of 1781 forbidding Sunday performances and recently sustained by a ruling of three high court judges.

Under British law a "common informer" may receive a part of the whole of penalties accruing to the government as a consequence of the information given, and, subject to certain restrictions, it would appear that the status would hold for Miss Orgent.

Although there has been considerable agitation to close the Sunday movie houses by the Sabbath Observance League, the young woman, who works daily in London, told interviewers that she was playing a lone hand, and was not backed by any organization.

The role of "common informer" is the only one in Great Britain in this day and time, but it has an ancient standing in British law, having been regularized as long ago as the reign of Henry VII.

Linking Canada-U.S. Air Mail

Plane Will Operate Daily Between Winnipeg and Minneapolis

Agreement has been reached between the postal departments of Canada and the United States, whereby contact between the air mail services of both countries will be linked between Winnipeg and Minneapolis.

The details of the agreement are: Air Mail will be flown from Winnipeg to Pembina daily by the new Canadian Airways Ltd. At that point, which is on the international boundary, the mail will be picked up by the United States Air Mail service and flown to Fargo and Minneapolis.

The agreement ironed out a difficult point between the air mail authorities in the two countries. The United States Air Mail service by the Winnipeg route going and coming, but the Ottawa department held that Canadian planes be used for the Canadian end of the service.

The linking up of the two air mail services will open up the first transcanada the whole air mail system on the southern section of the continent by the Canadian Airways Ltd., services which link up with the United States air mail.

Scientists Make New Discovery

Believe Alaskan Plant Is Pioneer Of All Vegetable Life

The "liverwurt," a small delicate plant found growing in Alaskan lava beds, has been accepted by scientists as the possible pioneer of all vegetable life.

Striving to solve the riddle of the start of vegetation on the earth's crust in the dim past, an expedition of the National Geographic Society explored the lava wastes of the Alaskan Peninsula last summer and found that liverworts were there where no other plant life could survive.

The preliminary report of the expedition, headed by Dr. Robert F. Griggs, botanist, says the lava areas, created 18 years ago during the first of the volcanic eruptions, were barren of soil, and there was no apparent trace of nitrogen, necessary for plant growth.

Where the liverworts have been established long enough to decay and begin the ages of soil, however, other plants were starting, said Griggs.

Fog Causes Alarm

Population Of Liege Fearful Of Repetition Of Mysterious Epidemic

Liege, Belgium.—Population of the Liege district became highly alarmed at the appearance of a dense fog, fearing a recurrence of the recent mysterious epidemic which killed more than three-score persons.

Many families of Engis, Jemeppe, Ougree and Seraing prepared to move from the valley to the neighboring heights, and those suffering from asthma or other respiratory afflictions hurried especially to evacuate the lower places.

They were all the more anxious to leave since the news spread that post mortem examinations of the previous victims and scientific investigations of the tragedy had not been able to fix definite blame for the deaths.

Spurred by the reappearance of danger, the government named the appointment of a special commission to which had been decided upon at the council meeting Monday.

One reason for fear is the fact that many persons have not recovered from the previous attack. At Engis alone, nearly 100 persons still are under medical attention.

Possibility is imminent that the League of Nations may soon be called upon to settle a dispute over instruments of the Smithborough Ireland band. Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways, in an address at Philadelphia, Pa., said that future contact between Capital and Labor and between employers and employees will find its greatest progress and finest expression in what is described as the era of "The Partnership."

Sir Henry Thornton spoke before the Franklin Institute in a lecture on "men and industry."

"Labor merits its right to partnership," Sir Henry said, "and organized capital will welcome such a partnership with a recognition of the responsibilities attaching automatically, must disappear that contention and strife which is just as expensive to the industrial world as it is in the relations between nations.

BIG REDUCTION IS NOTED IN OUR WHEAT STOCKS

Ottawa, Ont. — Canada's wheat stocks are gradually getting down near the totals of last year at this time. When the crop season opened on August 1, there was 113,000,000 bushels of a carry-over. Added to this was the new crop estimated at 396,000,000 bushels. This was figured to indicate an exportable surplus of 136,000,000 bushels more than in 1929 or about 100,000,000 bushels which could be exported. This was exclusive of wheat used for home consumption, seed, feed, etc. At the end of November last, however, owing to the increased clearances, the export surplus were only 90,000,000 bushels higher, and amounted to about 378,-680,000 bushels. This does not include wheat held in Eastern Canada.

The above figures were included in an official summary of the bureau of statistics issued recently on the wheat situation. It adds that the 378,000,000 bushels surplus is not unreasonably high in view of the fact that every year Canada exports of the fall eight months of the crop year—December 1 to July 31—amount to 187,435,223 and the average carry-over in Canada at the end of each July for the past five years was 76,000,000 bushels.

Other high lights of the report were:

The shipments of wheat from producing to consuming countries of the world decreased gradually during October and this was due to the reduced clearances from Soviet Russia and the United States. Shipments usually increase but this year maintained. World production outside of Russia and China is larger. The Indian crop has been revised to 390,000,000 bushels. To date, however, indications that consumption will increase relatively more than production.

The carry-over of old wheat in the Southern Hemisphere was of insignificant amount and Russian and Danubian surplus are lower than they were last year.

The Russian crop is one of the largest in history and exports from this country have been maintained in surprising volume. The total of 65,450,000 bushels on December 11.

Many observers of the European situation look for a substantial increase in demand for wheat during 1931, but there are some misgivings because of the large increase in stocks of Russian wheat during November in these countries where trade is relatively free, although it declared the confession was arranged by the Ogpu, Soviet secret police, as part of a "revolting farce" to strengthen the position of the Stalin dictatorship.

If the world's acreage of rubber could be stretched in a band around the equator it would make a belt almost half a mile wide.

Study Of Economic Conditions Suggested

Research Council May Be Asked To Make Work Survey

Ottawa, Ont.—The suggestion that a committee of the National Research Council study national and international aspects of matters having a bearing on prevailing economic conditions was held out by Tom Moore, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada. In an address to Ottawa service clubs, the Labor Union leader remarked that the Council serves in boundless capacity of authority of this sort. In this regard, it was important that the country keep abreast of the times.

Premier Coming West

Expects To Be In Calgary By Now Day

Ottawa, Ont.—Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett will probably spend Christmas in the east and New Year's in the west, between those two days, possibly at the end of the month is time to be in Calgary on New Year's, the prime minister may speak in Regina.

For years, Premier Bennett has visited his home in Hopewell Cape in his native province of New Brunswick, on Christmas, and he will probably do so again this year, he says. On New Year's he will likely be in his western home.

Shipping Fish By Air

New Venture In Northern Saskatchewan Has Been Inaugurated

Prince Albert, Sask.—Still "kicking," 600 pounds of whitefish, freshly caught at Lac La Ronge, were landed here by aeroplane a few hours before after setting, by the Buhl plane of the Brooks Transportation and Construction Company. This has inaugurated the new fishing venture in northern Saskatchewan. Immediately the cargo was unloaded, Capt. "Eddie Hill" Brenish took off for another load of 1,500 pounds more. The fresh catches are consigned to points in eastern Canada and to the United States.

Control Of Labor

Soviets To Tighten Up Laws Governing Employment

Moscow, Russia.—Strict control of labor within the U.S.S.R., was announced by the Central Executive committee of the Union in a decree published here.

During the third year of the five year plan, according to the decree, there will be no changing of jobs by workers, technicians and others except with the formal permission of the authorities. Salaries and wages for each particular job will be the same throughout the nation, thereby eliminating all competition for labor, which was marked last year.

Governments Plan Reward For Aviator

Heroism Of Pilot Wasson Will Be Recognized

Victoria, B.C.—The provincial government in connection with the Federal Government, will recognize in tangible form the heroism of Pilot Wasson here. A joint special request two members of the last Burke party in Northern British Columbia, who were stated here. A joint special grant will be made to Joe Walsh, the prospector who assisted Mr. Wasson in his rescue work.

Unscrupulous Advertising

Toronto, Ont.—A recommendation that the police department have one man solely for the purpose of scrutinizing all advertisements, and to follow up any that look suspicious, owing to the number of cases of fraudulent advertising unveiled out of their savings by unscrupulous advertisements in the daily press is contained in the presentation of the grand jury in general sessions made to Judge Widdifield.

Salmon Treaty May Fail

Seattle, Wash.—Sponsors of the international sockeye salmon treaty between the United States and Canada, headed by E. A. Sims, Port Townsend, forecast its failure. The treaty is dead, as there is no reason now why it should be discussed," said Sims. Sims is a former member of the State Fisheries Board.

Seine Liquor Haul

Providence, R.I.—The British oil screw boat "Mashinonge," registered at St. George, Newfoundland, was captured by a coast guard patrol boat, Tuesday, December 16, with a cargo of liquor off Salmonett point, coast guard officials reported.

Yugoslavia plans to extend its telephone system to cover the country.

Gold Production Higher

Figures Show Canadian Output Made New Record

Ottawa, Ont.—Gold production in Canada reached a new monthly record for all time in October last, when the total output amounted to 196,370 ounces, according to figures compiled by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The bureau's monthly review shows all branches of the Canadian mining industry maintaining high levels of production with the output of the 15 mineral products showing advances over October, 1929

SPANISH REVOLT IS BEING KEPT WELL IN HAND

Madrid, Spain.—Widespread strikes with half-a-million men out and repeated riots continued in many parts of Spain but the attempt to overthrow the monarchy seemed decisively crushed, at least for the time being.

King Alfonso himself continued to dominate the situation, keeping in constant touch with distant rifles by telephone and conferring at length with his cabinet ministers His right hand man, Premier Damaso Berenguer, was put to bed with a severe case of tonsilitis, but his doctors said he would recover with a bit of rest.

Throughout the kingdom the civil authorities had surrendered their powers under martial law and were put were in charge of strategic points. The Foreign Legion was into several cities and thousands of big cheers with which the people received them was interpreted as an indication that the mob in the street is tired of the bloodshed of the past few weeks.

The artillery held Barcelona four days were killed in a street fight at Oviedo, and mobs stoned to with the soldiers at Santander, Alicante, Isla Cristina and Huelva where dock workers refused to unload a fishing smack until cargoes was thrown overboard. There were strikes also at Bilbo and San Sebastian, but both the latter seemed to be calm with the worst over.

The jails are full and batches of prisoners have been taken to the Madrid prison fortress which have had no audiences for days. It was expected that one of the first to be would be turned loose soon as it that leaders in the unsuccessful revolt would receive only heavier than prison sentences from the courts martial which were in session.

HEPBURN TO LEAD ONTARIO LIBERAL PARTY

Toronto, Ont.—Mitchell Frederick Hepburn, member of the House of Commons for Elgin West, was elected leader of the Liberal party in Ontario.

Only one ballot was necessary in the straight contest between Mr. Hepburn and Hon. Charles McCrea, Toronto newspaperman. Although the results of the division was not announced, it was understood Mr. Hepburn received 427 votes and Mr. Philpott, 97. There were 607 delegates at the convention.

"Mike Hep" Brenish took off for another load of 1,500 pounds more. The fresh catches are consigned to points in eastern Canada and to the United States.

Delegation Waits On Postmaster-General

Mail Carriers Ask For Improvements In Their Routine

Ottawa, Ont.—Representing the Federated Association of Letter Carriers of Canada, a delegation waited on Hon. Arthur Sauve, postmaster-general, to press for improvements in the routine of the mail carriers

Mr. Sauve promised careful consideration of the requests of the delegation, including the following: Holidays between May and October, rather than in the winter months; increases and improvements in pensions, payment for overtime work and elimination of deliveries on civic holidays; limitation of the weight of the mail carrier's bag to 35 pounds when he leaves the post office; and regulations concerning magazines and newspapers in the mail and the disposal of undelivered letters.

Charge Is Dismissed

Judge Lindsey Is Rebuked By Magistrate As Case Is Closed

New York, N.Y.—Charges against former Judge Ben B. Lindsey of Denver, growing out of his demand for a hearing during services in the Cathedral of St. John the Divine two Sundays ago, faded among the shadows of legal technicalities here.

Magistrate August Dreyer upholding a demurrer of Arthur Garfield Hays that the original complaint in the court complaint against his client was defective, ordered a new complaint drawn. He called several times for somebody to step forward and sign it.

Nobody did.

Then after rebuking Lindsey for the act which the magistrate said everybody knew about, he slipped his hand upon the bench and announced: "This case is closed."

Advocates Hog Raising

Says Reducing Of Hogs Will Save the Situation In the West

Winnipeg Man.—"The hog will save the situation in the west, just as it did in the early eighties," Joseph Harris, general manager of the Harris Abattoir (Western), Ltd., remarked recently in an interview. Farmers are rushing to get into the hog business he added

Thanks MacDonald's minister prediction, hog prices will fall, Mr. Harris said there never had been a time when the ratio between the cost of course grain and the price of hogs said not leave room for a profit. The former Canada, he thought was the logical source of pork supply for Great Britain

Talk Of Secession

Acute Economic Situation Is Responsible, Says Bracken

Winnipeg Man.—Fear that further demands for secession of the west from the Dominion may be heard before present problems are solved was voiced by Premier John Bracken of Manitoba

It is to be regretted that conditions are such in many parts that people feel they have justification for such requests said Mr Bracken referring to secession caused by a tariff duty at Wilkie Sask Inverting Canada's unless agrarian relief is secured. That fear there will be many demands of this nature before our present problems are solved.

PLAN MEETING OF PREMIERS AT REGINA, DEC. 30

Winnipeg, Man.—Prairie premiers are planning a conference with Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, prime minister of Canada, when he arrives in Regina, December 30 it appears a public meeting. The ... ers of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba hope to meet the premier ... sions before Mr. Bennett starts after Christmas and during his sojourn in the Saskatchewan capital.

Premier J. E. ... Saskatchewan, ... Premier Bracken, ... heads, Hon. John Bracken and ... J. Brownlee, will attempt to have the conference held in Regina, which would eliminate the necessity of the long journey to Ottawa.

At the Regina meeting Prime Minister Bennett, it is believed, will make his eagerly awaited announcement of the plans for federal markets and prices, the vital factors in the Canadian west today. Then the premiers leaders hope to place before Mr Bennett their troubles arising out of the decline in wheat values and the resultant stabilization of wheat ... ranging from 70 cents to $1.00 basis No 1 Northern in Winnipeg.

Agricultural authorities state the present values are stabilized at ... per bushel for Federal Government ... to be required to ... prairie $17 ...

Islay Hall Burns

Spectacular Blaze Last Saturday Evening

One of Islay's oldest buildings, Mooney's hall, was razed in a spectacular fire which broke out shortly before midnight last Saturday. The building, one of the largest in the village, was used for a ball upstairs and housed the Red & White store on its lower floor. The other lower half of the building had been used until recently as the Owl restaurant, the proprietors moving a fortnight ago to a new location.

The cause of the fire is unknown. As entertainments by a travelling magician had been staged earlier in the evening, and it was only an hour after the hall had cleared that the flames were noticed, having then such a hold that nothing could be done. Fortunately the wind was from the west and embers were blown away from other buildings. The loss on the building and contents is not yet known. Besides the building the entire stock of groceries of the Red & White store was destroyed and all of the chairs belonging to the United church, which had been taken to the hall for the Christmas concert, were burned. The hall piano was also lost.

The building was a landmark in Islay, having been built by H. Elliott in the early 1900's as an implement shed, and finally being owned by Ernie Moore, who operated the Red & White store there, and had his living quarters in the building. A small amount of insurance was carried on both building and contents.

110 BOY SCOUTS HAVE INVADED CITY

Six Boys There From the Local Troop

One hundred Boy Scouts from every part of the province have invaded Edmonton for three days, starting Monday, for the patrol leaders' training course and rally.

The gathering, which is under the auspices of the Alberta provincial council of the Boy Scouts' association is being held in the Arts building at the university on December 29, 30 and 31. There have been 89 registered for the course which number has since increased to about 110.

Wilfrid Backman, provincial executive commissioner is in charge of the program which includes intensive training in scout work as well as many interesting and enjoyable events for the boys. The visitors will be entertained by Scouts of Edmonton, while the program includes a visit to Government House when the Scouts will be welcomed by their Alberta chief, Lieut.-Gov. Egbert

HEAD HURT?

WORK won't wait for a headache to wear off. Don't look for sympathy at such times, but get some Aspirin. It never fails.

Don't be a chronic sufferer from headaches, or any other pain. See a doctor and get at the cause. Meantime, don't play martyr. There's always quick comfort in Aspirin. It never does any harm. Isn't it foolish to suffer any needless pain? It may be only a simple headache, or it may be neuralgia or neuritis. Rheumatism. Lumbago. Aspirin is still the sensible thing to take. There is hardly any ache or pain these leaders can't relieve; they are a great comfort to women who suffer periodically; they are always to be relied on for breaking up colds.

Buy the box that says Aspirin and has Genuine printed in red. Genuine Aspirin tablets do not depress the heart. All druggists.

Wheat.

Wheat, at the present time, baths larger in the eyes of the people of Canada, in the west as well as in the east, than ever before. The word "wheat" is on everybody's tongue. It is the outstanding subject discussed by railway executives, bank presidents in their annual statements, manufacturers, wholesalers, statesmen and politicians great and small. If never before, the Canadian people have now awakened to the fact that wheat is the most potent factor in the commercial economic, financial life of this Dominion; that it is the country's very life blood upon the flow of which its prosperity, if, indeed, not its present existence depends

The industries of Eastern Canada languish because western agriculture is in difficulty, severe difficulty. The east is beginning to remember, what perhaps it had forgotten, that in years past when its cities and towns were growing in population and wealth, when its factories were busy and working overtime, when new industries were established and large additions were made to existing ones, were the years in which western Canada was prosperous. It was the enormous new and increasing purchasing power of the west that made eastern industry hum.

Now that western wheat is in the doldrums, a drag on the world's markets, which it is impossible to sell at a price that will even cover the costs of production, not to mention any profit to the producer, the whole country is suffering. This condition cannot long continue; it must change, and because this is so,—because a way out must be found, and therefore will be found—eastern farmers can entertain hopes for the future

Whatever happens to Canadian-grown wheat on the market, it still retains its pre-eminent quality It remains the finest wheat in the world, and because this is so the present situation is all the more tragic. The outstanding quality and pre-eminence of western Canada's wheat was again demonstrated this year when once again the world's championship was won by an Alberta farmer

It is twenty years since the wheat championship competition was inaugurated, and during these twenty years the three prairie provinces of Canada have carried off the championship no less than sixteen times, Saskatchewan winning it ten times, Alberta five times, and Manitoba once. In the other four years the honor went to one individual state across the line, Montana.

This is a wonderful record for western Canada. It speaks volumes not only for our climate and the fertility of our soil, but for the enterprise of our farmers, their patience and skill. It has meant the flow of good seed; it has given an impulse to the art of scientific cultivation; it has meant millions of dollars to hundreds of farmers whose names never appear in the prize winning class, but who have been encouraged to adopt and follow right methods, and to sow only good, clean registered seed in their fields.

It has added vigor to the fight against noxious weeds, insect pests, rust, and other factors operating against the production of the highest quality wheat. It has encouraged the scientists in their task of developing new and better varieties, earlier ripening varieties, frost and rust resistant strains

These things may, at the moment, seem of little account to hundreds of farmers who are making a real struggle to meet their obligations and find the necessaries of life for themselves and their families. But the fact remains that the industry of agriculture in western Canada rests on a solid and enduring foundation. It is the superstructure involved in present production costs, transportation costs, marketing difficulties, general world conditions of over-production and loss of purchasing power which are the trouble of today less. These things can, must, and ultimately will be rectified.

And Now Codfish Shoes

Shoes made of codfish skin, tanned like leather, are to be part of women's wardrobe this winter A company in Lynn, Mass., has started work on salesmen's samples. The shoes suggest the lines of the sacred cod, with its eyes and gills. Also the tail, as well as the scaly markings The linings are of deep blue, suggesting the ocean, and the laces are like fish bone, the ends being tipped with metal or beads

Hints To Grain Exhibitors

Advice In Respect To Entries At Winter Fairs Exhibition

Hints given to prospective grain exhibitors at the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference at Regina in 1932 by Cecil Tice, secretary of the British Columbia committee, include the following (1) Exhibits must reach Regina on or before March 1st, 1932. (2) Transportation charges must be prepaid; (3) All exhibits must bear the name of the variety This is often omitted at fairs, causing needless confusion and loss of time. (4) Only one entry may be made in any one class, although exhibitors may enter in as many classes as desired (5) Exhibits may be taken from any year's crop.

Fastest Warship Launched

Nothing Can Outdistance Destroyer Built By British Navy

The New York Times publishes the following special cable from London, England:

What is believed to be the fastest warship in the world has just completed her trials for the British navy, except on a speed of 40 knots at times without pressing her machinery in any way.

Nothing in the other navies have been produced to out-distance this British whippet, which with a full load could streak across the Atlantic in three and a half days if log speed could be maintained.

Rodeo In Canada

Popularity Of Rodeo In Increasing According To Federal Livestock Bureau

The rodeo is becoming increasingly popular in Canada. In the first eight months of the fiscal year more licenses were taken out than in the preceding year.

The figures were

1930—Eight months, 444,678 licenses.

There are still four months to go and officials of the radio department believe licenses may reach the total of 502,000. Each license costs $1.00.

Manitoba shows a greater increase than either of the other two prairie provinces. So far this year 97,920 licenses have been issued in Manitoba, against 76,119 last year. In Saskatchewan the figures for this year are 29,921, against 22,851 last year; in Alberta, 19,555, against 21,479.

Winnipeg records the greatest increase among the cities with 16,953 licenses so far this year, against 15,084 last year. The figures for Regina are 3,164, against 2,832; Brandon, 2,676, against 1,899; Moose Jaw, 1,666, against 1,377.

Discounts Russian Menace

Canadian Investigator Says He Thinks Service Are Nonsense

Earnestness and sincerity are the characteristic features of the Russian people in the economic and social sense, sometimes they are making, says Dr. A. G. Lockhead, agricultural bacteriologist of the Dominion Government Experimental Farm at Ottawa, following a visit to the Soviet Republic. "The Russians firmly believed what they are doing, and will give the greatest good to the greatest number," he affirmed. "They believe that the rest of the world will, eventually, follow their methods."

Dr. Lockhead was Canadian delegate to the second international congress of soil science at Leningrad and Moscow. Every line of scientific research appears to be engaging in the Soviet, he says.

The record unbending by Russia of her currency and coal to world markets is essentially an effort to raise credit, rather than a deliberate part of a market-breaking scheme, Dr. Lockhead opines. In this connection, he believes the menace from the U.S.S.R. is not at present serious.

Tax Of Empire

Ideal Has Never Been Stronger In the Hearts Of Its People

"It is unthinkable that we should lose Canada and if the Dominion had her way there would be little danger," declared Sir William Crawford, president of the Publicity club of London, England, which discussed the question: "Shall we lose Canada."

"At no time in the history of our country," said Sir William, "has the ideal of empire been stronger in the hearts of our people."

The meeting was addressed by P. W. Field, his majesty's senior trade commissioner in Canada and Newfoundland. Mr. Field said British exports must expect increasing competition from Canadian producers in many trades and he showed that the United States exerted a great influence over the Canadian market. The Americans had established a thousand factories in the Dominion and, in the face of this strenuous competition, only the most efficient business methods by British firms would enable Britain to remain in the field.

Mr. Field agreed that Canadian tariff changes which had come into operation since May would, undoubtedly, hurt British imports but he believed it was still possible to obtain a large share of Canada's import trade by strengthening and revising methods.

Restoration Of Chinese Credit

This Would Have a Most Favorable Effect On the Wheat Market

Rehabilitation of Chinese credit would have a most favorable effect on the wheat market, J. I. McFarland, general manager of the Central Selling Agency of the Canadian Wheat Pool, stated in Ottawa. Mr. McFarland was commenting on reports from Washington that the British Government had entered into discussions looking toward re-establishment of credit in China.

Prior to the serious drop in the price of silver, Mr. McFarland said, China had become a large importer of Canadian grain.

Miller's Worm Powders will drive worms from the system without injury to the child. The powders are so easy to take that the most delicate stomach can assimilate them and welcome them as speedy causes of pain, because they promptly remove the worms that cause the pain, and thus the suffering of the child is relieved. With no anything a remedy at hand no child should suffer an hour from worms.

Export Of Apples

Four steamers loaded 38,637 barrels of apples at the Port of Halifax for British and Continental markets during the week ended November 30th, bringing the exports for the year to 309,353 barrels. The latter total compares with 509,182 barrels for the corresponding period of last year.

Famous Sheep Farmer Leaves For England

William Dornbrough Has Been In Saskatchewan Twenty-Six Years

Famous throughout the American continent as one of the Dominion's leading sheep farmers and renowned for his many victories in the grain classes at Toronto Royal and Chicago International shows, William Dornbrough, of Luna, Saskatchewan, has given up his farming interest there and left for his old home in Yorkshire, England. Mr. Dornbrough will return, however, for the World's Grain Show to be held in Regina in 1933.

Coming to Saskatchewan in 1904 without any knowledge of farming, Mr. Dornbrough quickly established a farm second to none in the district and he attained prominence as a sheep breeder. Since the war he has won an unbroken string of successes with his sheep and grain at the largest shows on the continent.

Albert Robbins, another prominent Luna farmer, has taken over the Dornbrough holdings.

Volcanic Eruption In Java

Between 300 and 400 Persons Reported To Have Perished

A Rotterdam despatch to the London Daily Mail asserts that between 300 and 400 persons were killed in the eruption of Mersgi volcano in Java last week.

Ashes and lava shot out from Mersgi after the mountain had been dormant for eight years, and early reports asserted that at least 80 persons were killed as a great river of white hot lava flowed down the slopes.

Those who died were working in the fields and were surprised by the rapidity of the flow, hence had no time to escape.

In the meantime the volcano itself was an awe-inspiring sight, for huge columns of smoke belched from the crater and vivid flames flashed out like lightning from time to time.

Forests were set on fire by the burning ashes and lava and many villages were evacuated.

Praise For Sir Arthur Currie

"No words can express the gratitude felt by the British Legion to Sir Arthur Currie and his colleagues for their kindness to members of the British Legion and their families when they were in Canada," said the Earl of Jellicoe, head of the British Legion, when he spoke at a luncheon given Sir Arthur Currie by the Empire Service League in London, England.

BOYD NOW PLANS FLIGHT ACROSS THE DOMINION

New York.—Canada is keeping pace with world-wide progress in aviation and her future is assured.

This is not the treasured belief of an over-enthusiastic patriot nor the lilly pipe theory of a dreamer. It is the positive assertion of Canada's conqueror of the Atlantic—Captain J. Errol Boyd—who flew from Newfoundland to England in the drab days of last autumn.

Not only in personnel, airports, knowledge and government encouragement of aviation does Canada rank with other nations, says Captain Boyd. She holds the solution to the vexatious problem of proper departure and converging points for trans-oceanic flights, both Atlantic and Pacific.

The jovial airman who piloted the ancient Columbia across the Atlantic with Lieutenant Harry Connor, of the United States, as his aide, is in New York during the holiday season, but he is hard at work. Plans are being laid for his proposed nonstop flight across Canada. With J. A. O'Brien, personal friend and adviser, who backed his flight to England, Captain Boyd is conferring with Quinapee Bellasco, designer of the victoria Columbia, and hopes soon to return to Canada where he will complete preparations for the construction of a new plane.

Reliability as well as speed of 220 miles per hour is sought by Boyd for his non-stop flight next spring. At first he planned a two-stop journey to establish further what he believes are the great commercial possibilities in an ocean-to-ocean route. But he is now convinced that with the proper type plane a non-stop flight is feasible and at the same time a decided incentive to the establishment of regular air routes across the Dominion.

Boyd is a tried veteran of the air. He has flown in every war zone from the east coast of Canada to the Pacific and from the continent and Europe. But so imbued is the Canadian flyer with the natural development and future possibilities of aviation in his own country, he has decided, he told the Canadian Press, to make his permanent home in Montreal. And with this assertion, he added his praise of the St. Hubert airport, which, he declared flatly, "ranks second to none I have visited."

Captain Boyd speculated briefly on many interesting developments in aviation in five years, he believes. Diesel engines will be used in planes of north perimeter a ten thousand today. There will be an engine room where attendants can move freely about. Passengers can enjoy every accommodation they now receive on Pullman trains. In matter of size, Captain Boyd said the DO-X was but a forerunner of the aeroplanes of the future.

Boyd's flight across Canada next spring will be a "dawn-to-dusk" attempt. He plans to take off from Vancouver, B.C., and land at Fernie in British Columbia. Speeding into Alberta, he will pass over Lethbridge and Medicine Hat, and then, in Saskatchewan, he will take his eastward course above Swift Current, Moose Jaw, Regina, Brandon and Winnipeg will see him as he traverses Manitoba. Following the easterly in Ontario, he will pass over Kenora, Nipigon, Sudbury, North Bay and Ottawa. Then—Saint John, his great Atlantic plane called for stops at Winnipeg and Montreal, but, as Boyd now says, "it's going to be a non-stop flight to St. John, all in one jump, and I hope I outdo Frank Hawks in his Los Angeles to New York hop."

For Wild's Speed Record

Capt. Malcolm May Has Shores Of Great Salt Lake

London, England.—The shores of the Great Salt Lake in Utah may be the scene of Capt.n Malcolm Campbell's next dash for the world's speed record.

Captain Campbell proposes a trial at Daytona Beach in 1931, and is considering proceeding from there to Utah.

The beach of Utah's salty inland sea he believes well suited for speed record trials, for one thing being low exposed to wind and tide

NEW AIR MAIL LINK THROUGH U. S. ARRANGED

Ottawa, Ont.—With the approval of the government of an arrangement between post office departments in the United States for a transcontinental air mail link between Winnipeg, Minneapolis and St. Paul, plans are being pushed forward for a service that will shorten by two days the movement of mail between Eastern and Western Canada. Announcement came as a climax to negotiations which have been going on for some weeks between P. T. Coolican, Canadian assistant deputy postmaster-general, and W. I. Glover, assistant postmaster-general in the United States

The agreement between the two countries will solve the problem that has arisen as a result of the difficult flying area between Manitoba and Northern Ontario. Mail will now reach Eastern Canada from Winnipeg via St. Paul, Detroit and Toronto.

The new flights are expected to begin about February 1. Mail will be transferred at the border from and to the machines of whatever Canadian company receives the contract.

Institution of the new flights is considered a step looking towards a passenger service by air across Canada. In that connection, particular significance is attached to the recent amalgamation of aviation companies into the Canadian Airways, with Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways, and E. W. Beatty, K.C., president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, on the board of control.

Rescued By Dog-Driver

Deftly Thrown Whip Lash Saves Man From Drowning

Prince Albert, Sask. Clutching aim at the whiplash of Clark Chesney, veteran dog-driver of the north, saved the life of a tractor driver at Lac La Longe. The tractor driver was hauling a "swing" of fish across Lac La Ronge, 200 miles north of here, when the machine plunged through the ice. Chesney, witness of the accident, halted his dog team, uncoiled the long, heavy whip and whirled it forward the tractor driver who grasped the lash and was hauled to safety.

Will Serve In British Navy

Senior Naval Officer At Halifax Proceeding To England

Ottawa, Ont.—Commander V. G. Brodeur, R.C.N., senior naval officer at Halifax, N.S., is proceeding to England on January 2, according to a memorandum issued from the department of national defence. Commander Brodeur will serve for some time with the Royal Navy.

Lieut. B. Shadforth, Vancouver division of the Royal Canadian Naval Reserve, is appointed as from Jan. 1, to the naval depot ship, H.M.C.S. Naden, at Esquimalt, B.C., for 28 days training.

Rescue Censorship In India

New Delhi, India.—Lord Irwin, Viceroy of India, has issued instructions which have the effect of removing, with certain changes, the press censorship ordinance and also the "unauthorized news-sheets and newspapers ordinance," both of which have recently expired. The Viceroy also promulgated an ordinance concerning the liabilities for non-payment of taxes.

U.S. Gas Prices Cut

New York.—The Standard Oil Co. of New York, has made a general reduction in gasoline prices throughout its territory, embracing New York and New England. In New York city the price was reduced one cent a gallon, making the tank wagon price 11.5 cents not including the two-cent state tax. In some parts the cut amounted to two cents and in a few localities to three cents.

A SOLUTION OF INDIAN PROBLEM IS STILL SOUGHT

London, England.—The prime minister of Britain and two women of India met London today in arguing the Hindu and Moslem elements at the round-table conference to come to an agreement on the question of representation and their representation in the parliament of the new India.

"Settlement of the minorities question," declared Mr. Ramsey Mac Donald, "is essential to the political progress of India. That is not merely a British view. It is the view held by every enlightened Indian, irrespective of the community to which he belongs.

"It is a question," said the prime minister, "which should be settled between yourselves. It will avail you nothing to stay away and to leave a constitution and to ask any outside authority to dictate one or the essential conditions of the successful working of that constitution, namely, the degree and proportion of racial representation."

"The time for emotional speeches has passed," said the Indian Princes and Moslem. "The time for practical proposals and for solid, constructive work has arrived."

Mr. Ramsey Mac Donald's first line of decision has come," she continued "It is wise that you remain divided in your own ranks!"

Mrs. Subbarayan, a Hindu, said: "Separation we cannot have, we are all Indians."

Farmers Selling Horses

Large Number Purchased For Coming Plant In U.S.

Ravenscrag, Sask.—A large number of horses have been sold at Ravenscrag recently, the most of them being purchased by men from the United States, then driven to Great Falls, Montana, where they are to be slaughtered and then canned.

The horses ranged in age from four to 20 years old, and some of them were excellent farm horses. Roy Stewart sold 45 animals at this sale, and among them were a number of good horses. Farmers of the district are getting out of debt by selling their horses at any price in order to get a little money to tide them over the depression period.

Long Service Record

Winnipeg, Man.—George Arnold who for 33 years has been on runs on passenger trains out of Montreal, has concluded his record service over achieved by a railway conductor here which will be shortened by two days as a result of the new service. Mr. Arnold was about to be presented to president—Drought, Pacific and Atlantic Photos Inc.

Punjab Governor Wounded

Hindu Student Is Alleged To Have Fired Shot

Lahore, India.—Sir Geoffrey de Montmorency, governor of the Punjab, was wounded by bullets from the revolver of a youth who fatally wounded a native police official at the same time.

The police officer, sub-inspector Channa Singh, died in a hospital where he was taken after he was struck by a stray shot. A woman physician also was hit by a stray bullet, but received only minor injury.

It was the second time that Sir Geoffrey had been shot at and the attempted killing occurred just a year from the day that an attempt was made to bomb a train carrying the governor, Lord Irwin and Lady Irwin, to New Delhi.

The Punjab governor has attended conferences at the University of Lahore, and was leaving the Senate Hall, with a young man in the spectators crowded to be a Punjab Hindu student first fired shots at him point blank. Sir Geoffrey was grazed in the neck and hip

He was taken to a hospital where his wounds were dressed and he walked home a few minutes later smoking a cigarette

The assailant was immediately surrounded and with his weapon, with which he is said to have fired six shots, were fired.

Liberals Win By-Election

Government Candidate Loses By Narrow Margin At Estevan

Estevan, Sask. In the most bewildering by-election ever held in this west or probably in any constituency in Saskatchewan, Norman McLeod, Liberal, secured a majority of five votes over David McKnight, Conservative, when the outcome of the polling was finally made known. It was the heaviest vote ever recorded in an Estevan election, provincial or federal.

Thus Estevan remains in the Liberal column, and the Opposition still has 28 seats in the Saskatchewan legislature, as compared with the Anderson government's strength of 21 Conservatives, six Independents and five Progressives. That the Government side will demand a recount is virtually assured.

Wheat Shipment To China

Largest Single Carry Of Wheat To Leave Canadian Port

Vancouver B.C.—What is claimed to be the largest single cargo of Canadian wheat to leave a Canadian port will be loaded here for Shanghai delivery aboard the Canadian Government Line steamship Chief Capilano within the next few days

The ship will take on about [illegible] tons, or 14,700 tons, and is expected to clear for the Orient by January 5.

Some three months ago the Chief Capilano carried a cargo of 13,500 tons of wheat to China, this consignment being the largest shipment ever made from a Pacific Coast port

The ship was chartered on a basis of $3 per ton, and will commence loading early this week.

European Nations Sign Tariff Pact

Six Agree Not To Raise Rates Without Consultation

Oslo, Norway.—Convention binding six European nations not to raise existing tariff rates for one year or to do so without consultation one another has been signed and is viewed as a development of great significance in the economic affairs of northern Europe.

The countries of the treaty for mutual [illegible] are Norway, Sweden, Finland, Denmark and Luxemburg. The agreement was signed by Norwegian premier and Foreign Minister John Ludwig Mowinckel.

BORDER CITIES WANT ACTION ON MIGRATION LAW

Ottawa, Ont. — Misunderstanding and ill-will between two friendly provinces are developing from the activities of the United States Immigration Service in enforcing the means of immigration into the United States, according to a resolution passed by the Union of Canadian Municipalities at its annual convention at Winnipeg, which has been referred by Premier Taschereau to the Dominion government.

The resolution points out that [illegible] is responsible for the Immigration Service in the United States, which will shortly be established on the Canadian border, is empowered to refuse admission into the United States for a period of 12 months

The remedy such a condition of affairs, the delegates asked the prime minister to make representations through the Canadian legation at Washington for reinstatement by the United States Bureau of Immigration of all those Canadians who have been removed by technicalities

A second suggestion is that Canada appoint a member with the United States, who shall closely observe the working of the immigration regulations in relation to Canadians.

The third recommendation to the prime minister suggested that the Dominion government in any case capable dealings with foreign countries the immigration of goods in Canada should be non-political in the sense that they should be handled by the Canadian Immigration Department in Canada.

The prime minister gave sympathetic hearing to the representations of the Border Cities men, promising to take up the matter through the Canadian legation at Washington

Outstanding Journalist Dead

C. A. C. Jennings Was Chief Editor Of Toronto Mail and Empire For Forty-Nine Years

Toronto.—One of Canada's outstanding journalists Chas. A. C. Jennings, for 49 years chief editor of The Mail and Empire, Toronto, Conservative newspaper, during the last 20 years, and a member of the editorial staff for 54 years, died suddenly at his home here, Dec. 22.

He left his office shortly after 6 o'clock, and on reaching home, began carving there complained of pains and constriction in his chest and fell dead from a heart attack.

Friends from all parts of Canada and abroad are mourning the loss of Mr. Jennings, according to messages received at his home here. From Canada's prime minister, Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, from Rt. Hon. Ramsay MacDonald, British premier, to Rt. Hon. George S. Henry, premier of Ontario, to Rt. Hon. Sir G. H. Ferguson, former provincial premier, came words of regret and tribute as well as from other associates in political, church and journalistic fields.

Mr. Jennings started his newspaper career with a local trade publication after spending some years in the city hall. He was born in the tiny hamlet of Chabel, in Markham township

Banff Winter Carnival

Winnipeg, Man. Motorcycle skijoring thrills and spills is one of the new features proposed for Banff winter carnival, February 7 to 15 Entries from several districts have disregarded the ban for the motorcycle and have already acquired speed and [illegible] for the dash-hoop skip with automobiles, a record they hope to beat with motorcycles before the carnival date.

Will Produce Silicate

ALL ABOARD FOR SOUTH AMERICA

The first passenger ship ever to leave a Canadian port for South America—the new Canadian National liner "Prince Robert" sails from Halifax on March 2, 1931, with a party of Canadian trade delegates, their wives and families aboard. The Canadians will visit several Latin-American countries. Special attention will be paid to Buenos Aires capital of the Argentine, where the Prince of Wales will open the British Empire Fair which will spread over 25 acres of ground and which will include a handsome Canadian pavilion and seven other Empire show buildings. Pictured here are Augus McLean, president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, pointing to the "Prince Robert's" chief port of call, and Elmer Davis, president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association. These two organizations and the Canadian Government are responsible for Canada's part at the fair, one of the largest of its kind ever held in the world. Both Mr. Davis and Mr. McLean and their wives will make the trip.

MODERATION or PROHIBITION ?

The Moderation League of Alberta, an incorporated body by Act of the Provincial Legislature, claims that moderation is the only safe solution to the liquor problem; and further claims that moderation is accomplished in the present Liquor Control Act of Alberta, which takes nothing from the rights and freedom of the people, preserves the dignity and respect of the laws of the country, and protects the weak from their own folly.

Write it 1931.

That the new year will be a happy and prosperous one for all its readers is the sincere wish and hope of the editor and staff of the Standard.

L. Amos, on behalf of the Soldier Settlement Board, will be pleased to have those who may be requiring help of any kind or who could give employment for board and a slight remuneration to assist in unemployment relief work this winter — to leave their names with Chas. W. Robinson, town.

There was no issue of the Standard 16 years ago, so the notes are absent. Times not being so strenuous then as now it was possible to miss an issue and enjoy the holidays.

S. A. Annual Christmas Tree

The Salvation Army had their annual Xmas Tree on the 23nd of December, which was well attended, and we believe none went away empty-handed. A little over 60 bags were distributed, with a few candies, nuts and an orange each; the bags having failed to supply all present, the extra dainties were distributed by hand. The Army has, during the fall, given well over forty meals to those in need here, as well as much clothing and shoes.

LIVE LEAGUE DOUBLE-HEADER WEDNESDAY

Two Tough Tight Torrid Tussles Are Expected

The old lid will literally be blown off the Civic League this coming Wednesday night when all of the hockey fans of the town will be home their post-up hockey emotions and two spectacular games will be the outcome. First the College and Elks collide in the first game and the Cabaret clashes with the C. N. R. in the second. Be on hand. Admission for both games only 25c and 15c. Next Wednesday, January 7th, commencing at 7 p.m.

"Bill" Pilkie, proprietor of the Columbia Theatre, treated all kiddies under twelve years to a free show on Saturday afternoon last, and to say that there was a theatre full of young stars would be putting it mildly. Each child was given a pencil free on the way out of the theatre.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The regular monthly meeting of the Vermilion Women's Institute will be held on Tuesday, January 6th at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs Norman Ganson. It is intimated that Mrs J. W. . Morrison will give a talk on the new school act. Anyone interested is cordially invited. Mrs. Ganson and Mrs. Partridge, hostesses.

Lloydminster Seniors To Tangle With Locals

What promises to be a "bang-up" hockey match with thrills and spills galore is billed for New Year's night, when Lloydminster Seniors and the local hockeyists meet. All house talent is performing on both teams and this fact alone should draw a big crowd to the arena. The game commences at 8 p.m. sharp. Vermilion will have practically the same line-up as appeared in their first encounter of the season against Innisfree. Turn out and support our hockey. As one prospector of the town was heard to remark at the Innisfree game "If any person can't get thrills watching this they had better see the veterinary."

WORK ON BEAVER RIVER BRIDGE STARTED

An important step towards the completion of the St. Walburg-Smoky-ville branch of the Canadian National Railways has been undertaken with the commencement of construction at Mile 195 on the bridge over the Beaver River. A large number of men are already at work driving piles on the west approach and it is expected that early in the new year, work on the sub-structure will be started and a much larger crew will be needed.

The structure will have a deck steel truss span 100 feet long, built on concrete piers on piles. It will be numbered among the high bridges of the west and, when completed, will be 110 feet from the base of the rail to the bed of the river. From the high water mark, the bridge will measure 97 feet and the piers will be 72 feet in height.

Standard trestle approaches will be constructed, the approach on the east end being 251 feet long and that on the west end 1062 feet in length. The overall length of the crossing will be 1440 feet. Steel has already been laid from Bannerville to the Beaver river and grading is being done at present on the St. Walburg end of the branch.

FARMERS' UNITY LEAGUE MEET CHRISTMAS DAY

At a meeting held in the Ukrainian Educational Association hall on December 25th, Carl Axelson, the organizer for the Farmers' Unity League of Canada, speaking on "The Present Crisis, Its Cause and Cure"—said:

"The crisis was brought about by the contradictions within the present competitive system. Exploitation of man by man has brought about a vast accumulation of wealth in the hands of few, and poverty and want amongst the many." This, the speaker said, was because under the present system of production for profit every-thing, even including human labor, was reduced to a commodity basis. Therefore the farmers in the form of price and the wage-earners in the form of wages on an average at the best only receive enough to secure for themselves and families the most urgent necessities of life; that for this reason it was the spread between them, so together said the speaker, city to use and consume that was the cause of the present crisis. Axelson said that "the common people, because of this, were forced to suffer poverty and want in the midst of plenty."

The speaker further set forth that the solution of such conditions lies in education and organization. He said that these two organize have succeed best. As proof of that statement he pointed to the efficiency of the manufacturers' and the bankers' associations. He urged his audience to adopt their methods, and assured them that if they would they could be successful also. Mr. Axelson severely criticized the organizations the farmers and labor now have. He said that despite all their efforts the condition of the producers was worse than it was when they were organized. This, he said, was because they had not correctly analysed the producers' position under the present system. He said to meet present conditions organizations must protect their members in holding what they have. Secondly, by their organized power to push forward to secure better conditions and higher standards of living. For no efforts had to be made to change or replace the present system.

Mr. Axelson said: "The object of the Farmers' Unity League of Canada is to fight against capitalism, to bring about unity between the poor farmers and the industrial workers, and jointly to work for the establishment of Socialism.

CLAUDOVALD NEWS

The Wellsdale W. A. held a social evening in the Rectory on Dec. 11th, whist being the main item of the evening. Prizes were; Gents' 1st; Mr. H. Rizelhof; lady's 1st; Mrs. F. Wilkinson; gent's 2nd, Jake Roe; lady's 2nd, Mrs. T. Souder. Doobies were won by Mrs. Reed and Mr. C. Stockwell. Refreshments were served by the W.A. A fine turkey, donated by Mrs. W. Herridge, caused lots of fun, Mr. C. Jarkiln being the lucky man to capture the bird. A cake donated by Mrs. C. Stockwell was sold for a good price, being captured by Mr. Rizelof. The local elevator man was asked to do some grading on a sample of breakfast food which he did very satisfactorily. It caused a lot of laughter, same old story, no, three tough. Everyone said goodnight and all went home happy.

The Christmas Tree was held in the Orange hall on December 23rd. Although it was a large and noisy crowd gathered when Santa Claus arrived, he being a little late owing to motor trouble on his place. But all was soon quiet when he opened his bag of good and useful toys, everyone receiving a nice present and a bag of candy. Great credit is due Mrs. C. Jarkiln, the teacher.

We are glad to report that Mrs G. Stockwell, Sr. who was taken to the hospital in Edmonton, is greatly improved and hopes to be home in a day or two. She was suffering with throat trouble.

An official return just issued shows that the majority of the 270 plants attached to the Port of London, England, had net average incomes approaching, or more than, £1,000 during 1929.

Professor Werner Brockhardt, with a European assistant, fell into the crater of Volcano Merapi in Sumatra at the moment that it became suddenly eruptive, and perished in the boiling lava.

Michael Flaherty 104 years of age died at Duncan, B.C., December 30. He was one of the British Columbia pioneers, having resided in the province for 67 years, the greater part of which was spent in Vancouver Island.

Twenty-six thousand one-pound cans of freshly packed salmon were donated to Seattle's needy citizens as a general relief program when it decided there to aid the destitute and unemployed. The salmon—15 tons of it—was donated by salmon packers and distributed by welfare organizations and institutions.

You Never Can Tell

He Hadn't Been Badly You Feel You May Be Able To Feel the Next Day

The death has taken place of William McCabe, an Irishman, at the age of 94, who retired from the Indian civil service in 1870, on the advice of his doctor that his health would not stand the strain of serious work.

There is a solicitor named James Urquhart D. Urquhart-Sampson, England, now in his 94th year, who, seventy-five years ago, was returned bowman of the first Eton eight to ride a bicycle until he was 83, played the flute in public at 90, survived an attack of pneumonia the same year, broke a leg and made a good recovery at the age of 94, and up to the present year transacted his business, sometimes sign ng documents at the rate of one hundred an hour.

A layman has to place reliance on what his doctor tells him But there comes a time when that even if their worthy hists you have one foot in the grave, there may be a few good hidhs left in you yet.

Swiss-Moscow Air Service

The Swiss-Moscow and Berlin-Leningrad air service has been closed down until next spring During their operation 2,500 passengers were carried, 27,185 kilogs of mail and 40,000 kilogs of freight. An increase over the previous year of 12 per cent. in passengers and 25 per cent. in mail, but a decrease of 25 per cent. in freight.

Inter-Empire Trade

Reference Made to London, England, To Conference To Be Held At Ottawa

Asked in the British House of Commons about the British government's intentions in regard to the subject of Empire reciprocal tariff preferences and the Ottawa economic conference next year, J. H. Thomas, secretary for the Dominions, declared the government was taking further steps to study the problem of closer economic co-operation within the Empire.

Regarding the scope of the Ottawa conference, Mr. Thomas invited the House's attent on to the resolution recommended to the last Imperial conference by the heads of delegations, dealing with the preparations for the Ottawa conference. This set forth that while matters left over by the Imperial conference would be dealt with at Ottawa, the Ottawa conference would not be limited to such subjects.

Crop Insurance

New Legislature To Be Introduced In the Saskatchewan House

Legislation to empower companies that so desire, to write crop insurance along the line of hail insurance, will be introduced at the coming session of the Saskatchewan legislative assembly.

Announcement to this effect was made by Hon. J. F. Bryant, K.C., minister in charge of the Saskatchewan Insurance act recently. Crop insurance has been widely discussed by the farmers of the province and has led to the government meeting

World Gold Production, 1905-1929

Few economic questions are being more keenly discussed throughout the world today than that of the supply of gold for monetary use. In this subject Canada has a double interest—her interest as a gold-producing country, and also as a trading nation vitally concerned with anything and everything that is fundamental to world prosperity.

While most of the attention has centred upon the need for better distribut'on and use of the existing stocks of gold, there has been also a note of real anxiety over the possibility of an actual shortage of gold supplies. This anxiety was given some unfounded basis early drop in South Africa's output. As the accompanying diagram indicates, the burden of maintaining the level of world gold production during the last twenty-five years has been borne in ever-increasing degree by South Africa. The total gold output of the rest of the world had fallen by nearly 30 per cent. in 1929 as contrasted with 1905.

One point of special interest from the Canadian standpoint is the fact that in the writings of almost all students of the gold standard little or no importance has been attached to Canada's rising output. It is true that the Dominion's production has never hulked largely in the world's total output. But it has grown, and is continuing to grow, substantially. With gold being produced in larger quantities either from gold properties or from huge ore bodies in which gold is associated with other metals, it may well be that Canadian resources are destined to play a more prominent part than has yet been foreseen, in offsetting the expected depletion of the South African goldfields and the threatened embarrassment of the world's monetary system.

Fatal Mistakes Of Hunters

Should Be Considered Manslaughter Is Opinion Of Game Commissioner

Prosecution on manslaughter charges of all hunters killing humans for in mistake for big game in Saskatchewan will be recommended to the Attorney-General by A. E. Etter, commissioner of the game branch of the Department of Railways, Labor and Industries, Regina.

Intimation to th's effect was made by the game commissioner following a report of the preacher of Ernest Johnson of Bentley, by Russell Fredewski, at Nipawin, on Nov. 28. The game commissioner declared that the prosecutions had been instituted to his knowledge chang ng manslaughter charges in similar circumstances in any previous cases in Saskatchewan this year.

The game commissioner will also advocate the licensing of big game hunters on shooting and mental ab lity tested of under the present system.

St. Lawrence Navigation

Efforts Are Being Made To Lengthen Season For Shipping

Further efforts by the Department of Marine to lengthen the season of shipping on the St. Lawrence, will be made this year, it was stated by Major N. B. McLean, chief engineer of the department. When the ice has thinned out to the depth of a foot the ice breakers will set to work to open a ...annel and it will be kept open as long as possible in the hope that in the spring, long before the main body of ice has moved out, this channel will be open. The object of this channel would also tend to relieve the spring flood danger in Montreal and vicinity.

Will Grow More Wheat

Increasing Wheat Acreage

The United States Department of Agriculture was informed that Soviet Russia contemplates an increase of 19 per cent. in her wheat acreage to be seeded next spring above this year's total.

The foreign agricultural information office at Berlin advised that the present intentions of Russia called for seeding 516,807,000 acres.

The acreage sown in Russia and Germany up to the early part of December was reported as 6.6 per cent. greater than a year ago; but a decrease of 10.3 per cent. was noted in Germany's rye acreage.

Sand which can be used in making brown and amber glass is obtained from the Pacific Coast, but for white glass sand is still chiefly imported from Belgium.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JANUARY 4

THE BIRTH OF JOHN THE BAPTIST

Golden Text: "Thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to make ready His ways."—Luke 1:76.

Lesson: Luke 1.

Devotional Reading: Luke 1:68-79.

Explanations and Comments

The Preface to Luke's Gospel verses 1-4.—Luke himself, he tells us, was a careful historian. He obtained his information from those who were eyewitnesses of the events he records.

The Birth Of John the Baptist Foretold, verses 5-18.—When the time came for Zacharias' group to officiate in the temple, lots were cast, as was customary, to determine which priest should offer the incense. "He priest might have his better service; and the number of priests was so great that many never offered the incense." The burning of the incense was the highest sacerdotal act, the most solemn part of the day's service, symbolizing Israel's accepted prayer, and the priest who had this privilege was ever afterwards called "rich." The coveted lot fell to Zacharias.

When Zacharias entered the Holy Place, the people stood without in the temple court, during the time that the incense was in the Holy Place in front of the curtain which shut off the Holy of Holies. On its right stood the table of shewbread, and on its left the golden candlestick. The shewbread was a thanksgiving offering, as was the custom, each person who ate the part assigned to him: one received what had been left on the altar from the service of the evening before and departed backward. The other spread live coals on the altar and took the incense from them. He advanced with the golden censer and spread the incense on the glowing coals. At that moment, according to our record says, an angel of the Lord appeared unto him.

God sends the angels, thou must bring the eyes."—Langridge.

Zacharias was troubled and fearful. "Fear not," were the words he heard, "Thou hast come to the promise that because his supplication had been heard he should have a son whom he should call John. "John," means Jehovah's Gift, or God is Gracious. Although Zacharias had, no doubt, often prayed for a son, it is natural to suppose that his prayer in the temple at this time had been for the coming of the Messiah, whose herald he was to be. Dr. Plummer comments that the word" (and thy wife shall bear thee a son) may mean that this is an additional boon, which is by no means in the way for the blessing prayed for and granted, and thus, like Solomon, Zacharias received the higher blessing for which he prayed, and also the lower blessing for which perhaps he did not pray at this time.

The Character and Mission Of John, verses 14-17.—The son promised to Zacharias would bring great gladness not only to him but to many, as he would be truly great—great in the sight of the Lord.

Novel Type Of Vehicle

Can Run As Omnibus On Rubber Tires Or On Railway Track

A novel type of vehicle adaptable for either road or rail, which is to be tested within the next few weeks near London, England, may revolutionize transport methods.

It is manufactured by a Huddersfield firm of commercial vehicle makers.

Whilst on the road it resembles an omnibus and runs on rubber tires. In the necessary railway carriages can be fitted, and it will travel on the track at 60 miles an hour.

The London Midland and Scottish Railway Company are co-operating with the firm in the tests.

Static Stopped Radio Cooking

Interesting Demonstration By Electric Wizard Fails At Critical Moment With Guests

It interfered with popping a bag of corn in the presence of 1,300 diners at a luncheon of the New York Merchants' Association.

Just before the luncheon the radio cookstove was working perfectly under the direction of General Electric Company wizards. A test paper sack of corn placed between two jars of ice water to make sure there was no warmth in the air, popped perfectly by the heat generated within the kernels by radio.

But at the luncheon in the crowded banquet hall of the audience something went wrong. It was just what might be expected of static. No corn popped.

Frozen Light, one of the queer new discoveries of science, also was demonstrated and worked perfectly.

This light was frozen into the surface of a mineral screen at Schenectady, General Electric's home city in a bottle of liquid air at 312 degrees below zero.

The screen, lifted up before the diners in darkness, was at first just a black dot. But as it thawed its face began to glow with the color of the rainbow, which chased each other across the surface in luminous billows.

A Striking Phrase

Sir Robert Borden Uses Striking Sentence At Opening Of League Of Nations

A phrase used by Sir Robert Borden, Canadian delegate to the last meeting of the League of Nations assembly, was repeated in the British House of Commons by Hugh Dalton, under-secretary for foreign affairs.

One of the most striking phrases used at Geneva during the debate was that of Sir Robert who, returning after a 13 years' absence, looked back and said: "I am told that the nations seem all to have renounced war, but they have not yet renounced armaments."

"That went to the root of the matter," Mr. Dalton added.

"Time Will Carry "Pay Load"

The first attempt of a heavier-than-air machine to cross the Atlantic with a pay load will be made soon in the "plane "Trade Wind" over the Bermudian Azores routes. The "Plane will carry two pilot-navigators and will be equipped with pontoons for landing on water.

Manitoba Ice Lying Contract

Important Discovery By Russian Professor

Expects To Make Transmission Of Electricity Much Cheaper

Backed by the Royal Society and the British Government with money and laboratory appliances he needs, a Russian professor, Dr. Peter Kapitza, is carrying on work at Cambridge which is expected to result in an electrical discovery that will simplify and cheapen the transmission of current through hundreds of miles of submarine cables, "third rails" and the vast net work of wires supplying power and light to factories and homes.

Dr. Kapitza is carrying out experiments in a field of scientific magnitude. Among them are the discharging of gigantic pulsations of electricity through metals from so cold that a special plant for the production of liquid hydrogen has been built so as to produce temperatures lower than those produced by liquid air. And a comparison with the temperatures used would make a polar blizzard seem only a trifle colder than a midsummer's day.

If the discovery made by the passage of electrical current could be reduced only 5 per cent. it would be of immense importance to electrical corporations. Dr. Kapitza believes it is possible to solve the problem of the resistance of metals to electricity and in the future conduct electricity great distances without present day losses.

Preliminary arrangements have been made to install a liquid helium plant, where Dr. Kapitza requires still lower temperatures.

Miss Mary Cecilia Culbert of Mannville also was entitled to the same diploma. She is now attending Normal school in Edmonton.

'C' Squadron Held Successful Dance

Large Crowd Attends New Year's Eve Function

A rollicking spirited dance was held in the Armories on New Year's eve when one of the largest crowds of the past year gathered to dance the old year out and the new one in, in a true new year's celebration. The dance was held under the auspices of the local squadron and was a success both from the viewpoint of finances and from enjoyment.

The Vermilion Orioles orchestra surpassed all previous efforts in dispensing the music, as they have never been heard to better advantage, keeping the crowd moving and full of pep from 9 p.m. to 3 a.m. "Shorty" Levasseur was playing in his old orchestra for probably the last time as he left for Vegreville on New Year's day, to which point he has been transferred.

The dance was brought to a close at 3 a.m. with the singing of God Save the King.

DISASTROUS FIRE FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Interior and Contents of Jake Wener's Residence Badly Damaged

Fire did considerable damage to the interior and contents of Mr. Jake Wener's residence on Friday afternoon, the alarm going in at 3:30 p.m. but the fire had evidently started much earlier, as no one was home at the time. Mr. and Mrs. Wener had spent New Year's in Edmonton and were absent at the time of the fire, but the maid, who was staying at M Wener's, had built a fire in the heater about 1:30, later going back to M. Wener's house. The blaze started from the overheated stove in the living room, the interior walls being badly burned. The flames did not break through the house at any place and shortly after the arrival of the fire brigade were well under control. Much of the furniture was destroyed to a $400 or double amount being one of the main items. A chesterfield suite and piano were saved by some of those first on the scene. All the interior decorations and finishings of the home were ruined.

The home which is owned by M Wener, carried $1500 insurance, and $1000 insurance was carried on the furniture. The alarm was sent in by a neighbor, Mrs Jonson.

LADIES' AUXILIARY CANADIAN LEGION ELECTS OFFICERS 1931

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion was held in the Memorial Hall on the evening of January, 5th.

A vote of thanks was given to the retiring officers for the success of the past year. The new officers elected were: Mrs. Hayes, President; Mrs. Kirby, 1st Vice-President; Mrs. Parsons 2nd Vice-President; Mrs Reid, Secretary; Mrs. Powell, Treasurer.

The regular order of business was conducted. It was brought to note at the meeting that in 1930 the Legion Auxiliary had handed over to the Legion the sum of sixty dollars, the use of the Club and $7 to be used by Memorial, a total of $131.10.

The meeting adjourned with the singing of God Save the King.

Too much ACID

Many people, too hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is always excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms, such as headache, gas, heartburn, etc., will disappear in five minutes.

You will never use crude methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief. Please do that—for your own sake—now.

Be sure to get the genuine, prescribed by doctors for conditions due to excess acid. It is always a liquid; it cannot be made in tablet form. Look for the name Phillips' and the word genuine in red.

B.C. Police Use Radio

Cyclone Covers Territory From Alaska To International Boundary

Getting your man by radio is the new method used effectively on the British Columbia coast by the provincial police. Operating one of the most complete and successful short-wave wireless chains on the continent, the British Columbia police radio system has handled 3,000 messages, containing 180,000 words, at its seven stations in the first year of operation. Seven more stations are credited to the system, which keeps the headquarters in Victoria in touch with its far flung posts from the Yukon to the international boundary.

Ship-To-Shore Phones Busy

The novelty of calling people on shore has been a happy one for fishermen off the Welsh coast since the installation recently of the ship-to-shore telephones at Cardiff and Swansea. They have kept the lines busy in calling friends. The service also covers vessels in dock, captains being able to telephone local owners, brokers or relatives at home for a total charge of 65 cents a day.

Miss Thereza M. Revary, Callingerstown, Ont., writes — "I was troubled, for almost a year, with my heart and nerves, especially on retiring at night when I would be unable to sleep for hours; I was nearly fatigued, and became very excitable and irritable. A friend recommended Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and after taking them for a few weeks I could enjoy a good night's rest, and rapidly regained my former state of health."

Captain Deane Was Superintendent Of Force At Regina In 1884

Soldier, author and Royal North West Mounted policeman, Capt. Richard Burton Deane, age 83, who served with R.N.W.P. for 23 years and was superintendent of the force at Regina in 1884, died at Dinso Marsina, Italy, on December 12.

Captain Deane, retired from the force in 1913 after writing a history of the R.N.W.M.P., and returned to England Owing to a bad heart condition, he later moved to Italy, where he lived until his death.

Born in India, Captain Deane went to England at the age of four years and was educated there, completing his education at the military college at Sandhurst.

He joined the Royal Marines, was assigned to H.M.S. Warrior, on which he served for two years. After going service along the Gold Coast and other African waters for several years, he retired and came to Canada in 1882 with the idea of taking a commission in the Canadian permanent.

A year later he was appointed an inspector for the R.N.W.M.P. and in 1884 was appointed superintendent of the force and transferred to Regina. He lived at Calgary, Medicine Hat, Creek and Lethbridge during times of trouble.

Among the honors won by Captain Deane during his long service are those gained during the Riel rebellion and the cattle mans leased land war in Alberta. In 1885 he had charge of Riel and about 50 halfbreed prisoners. In the Lethbridge Cattle War, Maple Creek and Lethbridge during times of trouble.

Among the published works was the first manual of the mounted police, which he wrote while he was inspector, and a history of the force.

Will Treble Advertising

Cereal Firm Realizes Big Percentage Of People Able To Buy

A concern that sells cereal foods in packages announces that it will meet the challenge of depression by trebling its newspaper advertising during the coming year. It is confident that this expedient will result in sales sufficient to show an increase in business for the year.

The reasoning followed by the heads of this cereal concern is sound. While there is much unemployment and reduction of revenues the great percentage of people on this continent are still in a position to live comfortably, to pay for their requirements, and to so conduct their affairs that the expenditures made will enjoy a profit from its services.

But many firms are unable to see that condition

Beatty Makes Important Proposals Aimed to Assist Western Farmers

C.P.R. President Calls on United Canada to Rally to Help of Courageous and Loyal Pioneers — Such Action Just and Wise and in Interests of Entire Country.

Western conditions and what should be done about them formed the subject of a notable speech made by E. W. Beatty, chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway at London, Ont., last week. In direct and simple style Mr. Beatty briefly analyzed the present western situation and put forward a series of suggestions which embody the views of a representative business man who has had unusual opportunities of observing conditions throughout all parts of Canada and was vitally interested in the western situation in any section there is. There was in this important utterance no suggestion of anything in the nature of intended charity towards the West. The whole point was, he said, should be dictated by warm sympathy for a community in the present pressure through which it was passing and by a desire to give assistance where it is needed. There should be no room for the fear that the people of East and West are hopelessly divided. He believed that the West as a whole would support the movement of a great section suffering from a temporary depression from causes beyond its control, not only because it is just to do so, but as a wise measure of national policy. Mr. Beatty said in part:

"Western Canada is suffering from the effects of unusual world conditions in the marketing of grain and to her price, and probably is being experienced on the prairies in consequence. I do not need to elaborate on the coverage and the contributions of the people of Western Canada, and the confidence many of them feel in their ability to come through this depression as they have others. I do not require to do more than mention what we in the East owe to that part of the country both as a material way and in the national strength contributed by the loyal people of that part of Canada. Neither do I need to stress the importance of a knowledge of the conditions prevailing in those sections and of the necessity of co-operation in meeting unusual situations in the interest of the whole country. The former Government of Canada and the present Government have, at different times, adopted policies designed to strengthen the position and position of different sections of this Dominion. Through such policies the position of our Maritime provinces has been improved, and through more recent changes in fiscal policies the position of the manufacturers of Canada is believed to be improved and the unsatisfactory situation in Ontario designed to be, in part, at least, alleviated. I am not criticizing the Federal authorities in public words. If these policies be planned to accomplish the purposes for certain parts and activities in Canada, they are means attitude may properly be adopted in relation to the peculiar problems of our western provinces. Some of these suggestions which I have in my mind have to do with the question of marketing wheat, price fixing or otherwise, since these problems depend so much on world conditions. I am directing my observations to the problem of meeting emergent conditions of general character which may arise during the next four or five months.

"Obviously, our Western provinces should not fear the loss of their equity in their homesteads in view of the fresh investments of mortgage companies and other holders of liens to press for immediate liquidation of matured obligations or for arrears of interest beyond the ability of the farmer to meet his payments, or Mr. Atlee, at least, as this is due to the present depression in the wheat market. Two problems, however, do remain: the fear of wage during the coming winter—confined largely to the cities—and the financially weaker farmer—and the fear of inability to finance another year's farm operations.

"To me, as unprejudiced and unofficial, but not disinterested, observer, it seems indisputable the Dominion Government should not hesitate to intervene with an offer of assistance, as a national public duty. The governments of the three prairie provinces, owing to their recent assumption of local obligations, are best adapted to provide relief, but owing to their pledging of their credit as security for bank loans to the Wheat Pool, they may need Federal assistance in the matter. If the Government considers it wise to give assistance a portion of the obligations respecting the 1929 crop, and the 1930 crop, were to use this release of their credit to the extent of the amount, the burden of relief to their citizens, the aid of the Dominion Government would be given in a useful direction, and the operation of relief measures by those best equipped for the task would be assured. These obligations should be secured by the Dominion Government only to an amount equivalent to actual relief expenditures by the governments of the three provinces. It is inevitable that some critics will assert that this is another aid to members of the Wheat Pool, it will be well to point out that the reverse is the case. The guarantee by the Pool bears by the Government might be so regarded, although I am not prepared to admit that. I am personally moved by a desire to save a unique of the co-operative movement that would hurt Pool and non-Pool farmers alike. The Government, in giving this guarantee, would not assume these guaranteed obligations, but would merely offer them to divert their best conditions. I am directing my observations to the problem of meeting emergent conditions of general character which may arise during the next four or five months.

CHEVROLET KINGS A HIT

Introduction of the 1931 Chevrolet throughout Canada on January 3rd proved a genuine sensation. "A bigger and more beautiful car at lower prices" seems to describe the new Chevrolet, and factory officials are confident that it will be even more popular than ever in the low price field. The five-window coupe, which is an addition to the line, is receiving a great deal of praise for its smartness, and all the models have attracted much favorable notice. The five wire wheels as standard equipment have a popular appeal. The latest demand for the new Chevrolets has been good, and prospects for a year of comparatively heavy production are considered to be very favorable.

Outdoor Rink Youngsters Haven

The outdoor rink recently opened for the benefit of children under 15 years of age, under the joint auspices of the Vermilion Lodge and the C.N.R. Community Club, is proving a huge success, and is the most popular rendezvous in town for Vermilion's youngest citizens.

If you are feeling depressed about the hard times and the scarcity of "filthy lucre", ashe a visit to this centre of juvenile sporting activity, and you will forget your troubles.

Should you be fortunate enough to make your visit during one of the hours set aside for girls only you will see a healthy gang of young Vermilionites—not one of whom is worrying the slightest about the billing of that prince of the entertainment problem —their one aim in life for the moment being to score a goal in the game.

Since the opening of the rink a month, a commodious dressing-room has been erected on the west side. Fully equipped with a modern conflagration and a stove, it provides a cosy place in which the kiddies can change into their skating-boots in comfort, and also take the occasional rest and "warm up" between skating periods.

And the fun itself is wonderful! Flooded with unfailing regularity, the glassy surface is without blemish, except that a keen observer can faintly trace the imprint of Bill Dwyer's ice hockey and follow almost step by step the crazy way he has plodded during the cold and darkness hours of the previous night, trudging manfully a long, and boisterous up his revarpaths and in and out in endless melee —that famous zone of hope: "Spring is coming! Spring is co-o-o-ming!"

A British Columbia creamery has recently been awarded a contract by a Hong Kong firm of provision merchants for the shipment of 50 boxes of butter per month. For the past eight years shipments of British Columbia butter have been made to Japan and it has sold at a premium in the markets of that country.

With the formal opening of the 100 room Cornwallis Inn early in December at Kentville, N.S., the fifteenth hotel was added to the chain of Canadian Pacific Railway hostelries from the Atlantic to the Pacific. A grand gala banquet sponsored by the Kentville Board of Trade at which nearly three hundred guests sat down including the Premier of Nova Scotia and Grand Hall, vice-president of the Company marked the opening of the new $500,000 hotel.

Herman Trotle, of Wembley, Alta., for the second time took the title of "Wheat King of 1930" when he was awarded top honors at the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago recently with hard red spring. Mr. Trotle is even more satisfied with the third place which he won in hard red winter by which feat he is confident he has demonstrated the feasibility of raising high grade winter wheat in western Canada and that he has moved the winter wheat line 700 miles to the north. An invitation to take a round-the-world cruise has been tendered Mr. Trotle as a mark of appreciation by E. W. Beatty, chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

The Province of New Brunswick's revenue from motor vehicles for the fiscal year ended October 31 last amounted to $1,531,226, being 21 per cent. greater than the receipts from the same source in 1929, and establishing a new high record for the province, according to announcement made by Hon. D. A. Stewart, Minister of Public Works.

An old obligation was recently liquidated by Canada when the sum of $37,000 was paid to Commander Otto Sverdrup, famous Norwegian explorer, in return for the services rendered by him in his explorations and discoveries in the Arctic islands. His researches extended over an area of about 100,000 square miles and have been of great value to Canada.

Latest official report on the field crops of Canada estimates the 1930 wheat crop at 396,554,000 bushels or about 11,000,000 bushels more than the previous official estimate made last September. 274,260,000 were grown in the Prairie Provinces. The crop in about 11,000,000 bushels more than in 1929

Great increases in pork production in Canada as a result of the grain situation was predicted by Hon Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture for Canada, in a recent banquet in Toronto given by him to agriculturists, business executives and government representatives on behalf of the Federal Government at the Royal Winter Fair, Toronto.

The salmon pack of British Columbia for the 1930 season is nearly 100,000 cases higher than the previous record of 1926. The total pack this year is 2,163,712 cases while in 1926 it was 2,249,476 cases. In 1908 it was 2,066,551 cases.

GEORGE HENRY DEFORD

Another of Vermilion's old-timers passed away at the Vermilion Municipal Hospital on Sunday, January 4th at four o'clock in the afternoon, in the person of George Henry DeFord at the advanced age of 73 years, 1 month and 9 days. Deceased settled in the Campbell Lake district in the year 1906. During his long residence here in the carrying on of his farm operations, Mr. DeFord made many warm friends and was held in the highest regard throughout the community. Spared to reach a very advanced age, he lived to witness vast changes both in the land of his birth and in this district in which he resided for over twenty-six years. In his death another of our old and respected pioneers has entered into his rest, mourned and regretted by a wide circle of old-timers and acquaintances. To the members of the family the sincerest sympathy is extended in their bereavement.

The funeral which was attended by many sympathizers and friends of the family, was held on Wednesday afternoon, January 7th, services being conducted by the Rev. H. A. Boyd at the United church, Vermilion at 2 o'clock. There were floral tributes from the family. Following the service the remains were laid to rest in the family plot in the Vermilion cemetery, the pall-bearers being William Telford, Martin McBride, Wm. Myers, Geo. Armstrong, Wm Sutherland and Norman McClellan

Mr. DeFord was born in Frankford, Ind., United States on November 26, 1851. In April of the year 1881 he moved to Kansas where he resided until the fall of 1897 and from there to Oklahoma. He came to Canada in 1906. From the spring of that year to November he was on a farm near Fort Saskatchewan, when he moved to Vermilion where he had been engaged on a quarter section of land 11 miles from town in the Campbell Lake district. This was his home for the intervening years up to a year or so ago, when his health began to fail and he went to live with his son Frank, making occasional visits with two other sons in the district

Deceased was married in the year 1873 to Mary Elizabeth Lomax at Champaign, Ill, who predeceased him some eight years ago. A family of six boys and four girls were born to the union, seven of whom are living: Sanford, Charlie and Frank of Vermilion; Mrs. Ella Armstrong, Vermilion; Mrs. Ida Sax, Lanadowne; Mrs. Laura Miller, New Westminster, B.C and Mrs. Rosa Louck, Michigan Valley, Kansas, U.S. Milt and Clyde died at Michigan Valley, Kansas, and Claude lost his life sixteen years ago in the north country when he became separated from a hunting party and died from exposure.

AN ANOMALOUS CONDITION.

In a recent issue of the Alberta Labor News appears the following: "We are facing a national emergency involving the lives of hundreds of thousands of Canadian citizens. It should be met just as vigorously as if the safety of the nation were threatened by any other form of national calamity. In the same issue of the paper this item from a Wall Street publication is printed: "Not in the history of the country has there been such a demand for life insurance as at present. Applications are coming in at the rate of $1,000,000 a day."

CARD OF THANKS

The members of the DeFord Family wish to express their heartfelt appreciation of the kindly help and sympathy extended to them in their recent bereavement by the many friends and neighbors.

LLOYDMINSTER WINS NEW YEAR'S GAME 3-2

Bell Scores Twice for Locals

In a hockey encounter that was a game from gong to gong, the Lloydminster team a close 3-2 decision from the local puck chasers on New Year's night at the arena here. Although the game produced good and fast play, it kept the crowd on its feet and using its lungs all night and at no time was it seated in a game.

Lloyd has the distinction of having a semi-pro days pretty well intact and it speaks well for our team, which is practically a new one, that the visitors were held to a one-goal lead. Salt tallied twice in the first period for the home team and our boys were scoreless, but Barry Bell gathered up Art Wiebe's rebound and made it 2-1 early in the second period, only to have Rendall add another to the visitors' total when Barney failed to clear quickly enough. Bell again scored early in the third, ending the bang-de-ning, although the Lloyd, one rained shots on Barney in the last half that had that young man kicking them out from all directions to keep his citadel intact, and having to rise to great heights to do so. Bill Hall was brought out of retirement and paired up with Art Wiebe on defence. Art was a power of strength all night and his place will be hard to fill for future games. Bert Williams ably refereed the match.

The line-ups were:

Lloydminster—Robinson; J. Kinsey, L. Lindsay; W. Rendall, E. Rendall. W. Salt, J Shaw, J. Ross

Vermilion—Powell; Wiebe and W Barry; Reader, C. Barr, Bell, Enz Hall, Waldenberger and White.

Goals—Lloyd: Salt 2, E. Rendall 1; Vermilion: Barry Bell 2

Penalties—Jim Kinsey, 2 mins

Shots from the Blue Line

The two hundred odd fans who turned out to see President Chapin Stamp's junior performers in the opening games of the circuit did not go away disappointed, as both games proved to be real fast hang-up hockey with plenty of action and thrills. The Civic League got away to a great start, and the boys appreciate the splendid turn-out of fans.

Elks Win First Game 6-1

In the first game the Elks played a stellar hockey to beat the College team 6 to 1, with the score not by any means indicating the play. Walter Turnbull's boys will be in the running before the season is advanced very far. Jack Mackenzie and Bill Barr made it plenty tough for the boys from the knowledge factory. Needless to say the Elks pack away the groceries donated to the team winning by the largest score. This prize was kindly donated by Safeways Limited.

Hammond Defeats C.H.S. 2-1

In the second game the team sponsored by His Worship Mayor Fuller and under the colors of the C. N. R., defeated the C.H.S. team in a fast contest played there to win by a close score of 2-1. The railway team took the ice with only six men, but Hughie Craig and Fred Brimacombe came to their aid. Clarence Barr was trundling out at a fast rate of speed, along with Barry Bell and Geo. Readhead. O. Burns played good hockey, and still knows how to get there. For the C.H.S. the whole team were going great guns, with Stan Waldenberger, Jack English and Jimmie White doing the work. Powell in goal was right on the job, and made a good job of looking after that hole between the gun plugs. Cliff Cairns looked good between the posts for the C.H., but one goal looked pretty wonky.

Next Wednesday evening will be the College and Cabarets battling at 7:15, and the C.N.R. and Elks taking a fall out of each other at 8 o'clock. Joe McInnes, popular sport fan, has donated a box of apples to the lucky ticket holder, and everyone who buys an old paste board will have a chance to win the apples. Tickets will be on sale for two hours before the games get yours early.

In the interest of good clean sport we take our hat to Stephens Lisle who have offered a suit of clothes to the player who has the most goals and assists to his credit at the end of the season, and also a ten dollar voucher to the defence player who scores the most goals. And Mr. Gould to comes in for his share, too, as Stephens have offered a ten dollar voucher to the goalie who has the least number of goals scored against him.

Mr. Munce says we are going to have a game at 8 sharp, and the price, on same one, come all and help the home talent to make you a real hockey team.

Some day you will feel proud to say that those boys learned the game in the good old town of Vermilion, give them a boost by being present at the games.

No penalties were handed out in the two games Wednesday night—which goes to show that the boys are out after that suit of clothes, and want to be on the ice, not in the box.

We noticed the reporter of the home paper was on the job. He is the only one who can't get a seat in the broadcasting.

Fred Munce turned in about as stiff a game at the net man on the floor teams, and snared two goals for his team-mates, the Elks. Good going, Fred.

Preston Sharp and Bill Lamb, along with Hec McKinnon turned in nice games, and those boys will make the grade all right before long.

Young Fred Brimacombe grabbed off two goals and an assist for the Elks, and then takes the lead for Stephens' suit. The Brimacombe boys ab carted home $4.00 worth of groceries from Safeways.

Scotty's free skate sharpen also went to the Elks.

The College boys were minus three of their regular players last night, but their goalie, but we've seen this Aggie bunch come from the bottom of the league to cop the Wicker cup, and that only two years ago, so we look to them to hand out many reverses before the end of the season.

Referee Bert Williams made his appearance in the first game with a nice small white bailed tam on his head, but we notice he discarded this after the first period. What happened, Bert, did the lady claim it?

MUCH INTEREST IN THE CIVIC LEAGUE

If Attendance Is Keeping, Boys Are Well Away

Much more evidence of interest in the civic hockey league than ever before is quite apparent among the business men of the town, and a few games of the calibre of those already offered does much not only to keep the players on their toes but also to keep the business men on the job and the home talent to make you a real hockey team.

Some day you will feel proud to say that those boys learned the game in the good old town of Vermilion, give them a boost by being present at the games.

BROWNIE NOTES

A very merry time was celebrated at the Armories last Friday by the Brownies. We opened our meeting as usual and then Miss Lipsey played for us. The mothers were invited to dance with us but they thought it would spoil the setting. Then Brown Owl and the Sixers and Seconds went to serve lunch to the mothers, while Mrs. Whitby helped the Pack Leader to play games with us. Several followed, and then we sat down to lunch after which Brown Owl got us each a jap orange and peanuts. The mothers joined us in Taps, as it is the most solemn part of the Brownie meeting. Some of us stopped to clean up after the party.

We take the opportunity here to thank all the mothers for the splendid turn-out it surely made us happy and it put new life into our party. We also thank Mrs. Whitby for her help and Brown Owl for giving us the party. Miss Lipsey always has our hearty thanks for her kindness in playing for us.

"Ghosts" Make Trouble For Operators Of Long Distance Television

No sooner does man triumphantly announce that he has harnessed some great force for his own use than Nature Mature plays one of her little jokes of which she is so fond, says a contributor to TIT-BITS.

Recently experiments in long-distance television have been conducted between the United States and Australia. So far as could be seen the first time the tests began, there was no reason why success should not be achieved, just as it had been over shorter distances But when the images came through they were blurred and misty.

Closer inspection disclosed that this was due to the presence of ghosts! In the viewing into the images of the air appeared, but close beside it was a second faint image, and sometimes a third. These ghosts came from the depths of space. The waves which came them have travelled something more than two million miles from the earth and back again.

The key to the presence of television ghosts was discovered from the experience of operators on long-distance wireless services for they too, are very much troubled

The ghosts that worry them are not visible forms, but queer echoes of signals. What happens is this: Supposing that a Morse dash is sent out. It arrives at the receiving end, and at intervals ranging from one-seventh of a second to as much as half a second, echoes of the dash are received These arrive on top of other signals and cause confusion

Wireless waves travel at the dizzy speed of 186,000 miles a second. Some of the echoes occur at intervals just about long enough to allow of a journey to the moon and back It may be that the time is not quite as a kind of gigantic mirror and that some of the ghost images or the ghostly echoes may be caused by its reflection.

The moon, though, cannot be responsible for the echoes occurring at twenty-five or thirty seconds, or for the faintest of the ghosts. In thirty seconde wireless waves travel 3,580,- 000 miles. They must, therefore, go out from the earth for over two and a half million miles and then be reflected back.

New Sources For Paper

Various Waste Products Are Now Being Profitably Used

The day when our forests will no longer be ruthlessly destroyed to supply the necessary raw material for consumption by large paper mills does not appear so far in the future as might reasonably be supposed. Paper, which is now made largely from wood pulp, appears destined to depend more and more upon the various waste products of industry, of which there are millions of tons thrown away every year. Cornstalks, grass and sugar cane are a few examples of likely cheap sources of some of our future paper.

Already we see a wide commercial use of a thin, tough, shiny and transparent paper material wrapped around candy boxes fancy fruits and more recently, cigars. "Glass" paper of this type is technically known as cellophane and is a close relative of the rayon family. It can be made from any form of cellulose and is a product of the chemical company rather than the paper manufacturer

Rare Specimens Should Remain In Canada

Native Sons Of Canada Declare Removal Of Archaeological Specimens From This Country

The national council of the Native Sons of Canada has advised Hon. T. G Murphy Minister of the Interior, that it is the opinion of the society that archaeological specimens found in Canada should not be removed from the Dominion.

Particular reference is made to the removal last August from La Cloche Island, Georgian Bay, Ont., of the remains of an Indian chief and his treasures, apparently buried from 500 to 1,000 years ago, to the Warren Foundation at Three Oaks, Mich. The Indian was of an era of civilization unknown to the white man, so Dr. Fred Dr. Alvin Largvgre of Chicago, stated.

The Native Sons of Canada believe that archeological specimens of this nature should be kept within the Dominion of Canada instead of being removed to American museums, and the society has requested that the government take steps to prohibit the exportation of specimens which might be unearthed in the future

Ancient Law Absurd

Absence From Church Was Punished In King Charles' Time

Sociology in Manchester is going to be prosecuted for not attending church on Sunday. It doesn't matter much what the victim will be, for the prosecution will be made with the object of demonstrating the alleged absurdity of ancient laws, which are still nominally in effect. And one of them, approved by King Charles, says he must go to church on Sunday.

Furthermore some of the men working for the city will be summoned for working on Sunday and the corporation chiefs will be summoned for "aiding and abetting them."

Things Worth Learning

Learn to laugh A good laugh is better than medicine When you smile or laugh your brain for a moment is freed from the load that it ordinarily carries

Learn to tell a helpful story. A well-told story is as welcome as a sunbeam in a sick-room.

Learn to keep your troubles to yourself; the world is too busy to linger over your ills and sorrows.

Learn to stop croaking. If you cannot see any good in this world, keep the bad to yourself.

Learn to greet your friends with a smile. They carry too many frowns in their own hearts to be bothered with any of yours.

Oldest Preserved Wood

Wood Estimated To Be Millions Of Years Old Found In Northern Illinois

The oldest specimen of preserved wood in the world, its age estimated between 15 and 20 million years, has been discovered by Canadian government engineers at Fort McMurray in Northern Alberta. R. C. Ells, as engineer in the federal department of mines, has additionally known as an expert on bituminous deposits, made the find which geologists claim to be one of the most important scientific discoveries in recent years.

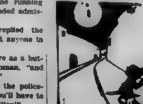
Deep in the far-famed Fort McMurray tar sands, the wood has lain for millions of years, sealed tight from the devastating effects of air. When unlonbed last summer, it was found to be in perfect preservation. The growth-rings could be counted inside the trunks; the wood might be writted with an ordinary jack-knife; even tiny insects which fed on the leaves and tender shoots of the growing trees, were preserved in the air-tight chamber. The leaves, themselves were unearthed in fair condition.

Dr. L W. Bailey, of Harvard University, who has been conducting a series of microscopic studies of the wood, practically has established the fact that at least one of the preserved trees is of a type that grows today in Japan. Geologists base upon this as still another link in the chain of evidence pointing to the establishment of the theory that North America and Asia at one time were parts of one huge continent.

Chapel In Hotel

New York Hotel Sets Aside a Chapel For Meditation and Prayer

The Biltmore Hotel in New York city has set aside a chapel for meditation and prayer. No religious service will be conducted in it. It is reserved to silence and to thought. The manager of the hotel believes in God, and thinks we would do well to withdraw occasionally from the rush of everyday life to think about God and to speak to him. The chapel is very simply designed, containing nothing but an altar and a vase of flowers, and over the altar the inscription "Come unto Me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest." It is not a substitute for congregational worship, but a place of individual prayer.



Kindly Robber: "It is a good thing for you that you run against one, or further down the road you would have met two robbers who could both have vranged you to put your hands up."—Esquella, Barcelona.

"Scarlet Fever"

Toxin Can Be Administered To Produce Immunization From the Disease

(By John Burke Ingram.)

It is possible to prevent that dangerous disease of childhood, scarlet fever, and the purpose of our health article for this week is to acquaint our readers with the methods which are used to acquire immunity.

First, it is known that one attack of scarlet fever usually, but not always, protects an individual against further attacks. This is because the bloodstream during an attack of this disease develops a substance which resists any future attack by germs and the poison or "toxin" which they produce is rendered harmless.

When scientists found the scarlet fever toxin they began to experiment with it, hoping to be able to produce artificially that substance which the blood produces naturally in defending the body against future attacks. They succeeded, so nowadays it is possible to secure artificial immunity to this disease, whereas in former years it was necessary to actually experience one attack of it in order to be reasonably immune to all future ones.

This immunization is accomplished by injecting carefully graduated doses of the sterile toxin produced by these germs. The toxin is first injected in very small doses, then the quantity increasing doses until enough has been injected to stimulate the body to produce anti-toxin. The toxin used does not contain any germs and of itself is incapable of causing any disease or injury. A person who has had it produces his own anti-toxin, goes about his business and becomes immune to scarlet fever without developing the disease.

Doctors, however, do not advise having this toxin injected with the immunizing substance in the way that they do advise having children vaccinated against smallpox. It is interesting to know why. First of all, let us note the fact that it is generally supposed that adults are immune to scarlet fever. This is usually true because so many adults have actually had it, even without their knowing it. This may seem rather amazing but the fact is, that it is possible to have scarlet fever in the form of a sore throat alone. This is often enough to immunize the individual bacteriological specimens found in attacks from the germ. But unless adults have had the disease in this way they remain susceptible to it all their lives. Now since so many people are immune to scarlet fever from having had the disease or having had scarlet fever sore throat it would be foolish to immunize everybody in a group in the hope of preventing an epidemic. We would be immunizing many people unnecessarily.

Therefore you can readily see that it was important to devise some method of selecting those susceptible to scarlet fever in order to know who should be immunized. Fortunately it was possible to devise such a test. The material used in this test is a dilute solution of scarlet fever toxin which has been carefully standardized. If the person tested is susceptible to the disease a pink spot appears where the needle was pushed through the skin, within 24 hours. This spot begins to fade in a short time.

Well-Informed Man is Useless Bore

More Storing Of One's Mind With Facts Is Not Education

A professor of the Ohio State university says the well-informed man is a useless bore. He told a body of scientists in session here: "It doesn't remember that the mere storing of one's mind with facts, however industrious one may be, is not education; neither is it science. All modern philosophies of education cry out against it. Henry Ford once says somewhere, "I have never loved nor taught facts, if I could help it, having that antipathy to fact which only idiots and philosophers attain," and "mere facts bored him. Adam-like he preferred to name he could get at laws and principles."—Brandon Sun.

The Poor Man Pays

Strong suspicion that it is the poor man who pays seem to be confirmed by figures from France, showing that while 631 incomes of more than $40,- 000 a year yield $7,500,000 to the French treasury the more than a million wage earners who get less than $800 yearly pour $80,000,000 into the public purse.

Retires From Commission

John W. Thomson, 72, has retired as editorial branch chief of the Board of Railway Commissioners after 36 years' service. Mr. Thomson assisted the civil service in 1960. He was connected with the census bureau for four years before transferring to the railway commission.

Old Age Pensions

Federal Government May Take Over System From the Provinces

The Ottawa Evening Citizen says: "Federal administration of old age pensions, involving the taking over of the whole operative system from the provinces and the assumption of practically the entire cost, looms up as a prospective piece of legislation in the coming session. It is one of the subjects in that category now being surveyed in preparation for what form the legislation should take.

"The scheme now in operation is administered by the various provinces which are party to it. The part of the Federal Government is to pay fifty per cent, of the outlay and keep in touch with the situation generally. Constitutionally, such questions come within the purview of the provinces, and this is why the late government paid only half of the expense. While this constitutional point is not overlooked, the present prime minister, in the last election campaign, said that there was nothing to prevent the Dominion Government from contributing any 99 per cent. of the cost, and, of course, the provinces would not object to being relieved of all but a nominal contribution to comply with any technical necessity under the B.N.A. act.

"It is along this line that legislation is now being considered, and though its exact form is to be determined, the general purpose is to set up a federal system of old age pensions, take over the administration and assume most of the cost."

Unknown In Home Town

Memory Of St. Nicholas Means Nothing To Natives Of Smyrna, Turkey

Santa Claus is virtually unknown in his own home town.

It was in Smyrna, Turkey, that once St. Nicholas, whose name is different in nearly every Christian country though his spirit is the same in all, probably was born, and it is certain that he was Bishop Hergre.

Yet by only a handful of Christian foreigners in Smyrna is St. Nick honored in December 26. To hundreds of thousands of Moslems that day brings no more hope and no more joy than any other.

Just outside Smyrna, in the bedraggled little village of Dembre, are the ruins of St. Nicholas' church. There, too, are the ruins of the saint's marble tomb where he was buried in 323 A.D. Thousands of Christians made pilgrimages to the tomb until Italian merchants, 700 years after St. Nicholas' death, carried his body away to Italy.

Monument To Hero Of Fiction

Alexander Dumas' Immortal Character, D'Artagnan Of the "Three Musketeers" To Be Honored

D'Artagnan, the swash-buckling Gascon hero of Dumas, is coming into his own. His compatriots are preparing to erect a monument to The French, who love monuments, have somehow so far overlooked the quarrelsome character immortalized by Dumas. D'Artagnan fiction? His fellow Gascons will tell you there never was a living man more vivid than he. The town of Auch is grading a site for the statue and the inhabitants are planning for the centenary to purchase it. A contest is on for the best drama about D'Artagnan, to be enacted by players from the Comedie Francaise.

Come Back To Trades

Actors Of Passion Play Received Excellent Pay

After all expenses had been paid, profits of this year's production of the Passion Play at Oberammergau, were divided among the players Alois Lang, who took the part of Christus, and Hugo Rutz as Caiaphas, received $1,875 each. Anni Ruiz as Mary and Hanzi Preisinger as Magdalene, each drew $875. Even the child actors received $75 each. Today there no more Nazarenes and Galileans on the village streets. They have all gone back to their trades, mostly wood carving.

CHAPTER VIII.

"Well," said John Maxwell, as he regained his wife's attention too late one night at supper, "I've got one good deed chalked up to my credit. I've arranged to keep that boy out of the vampire's clutches for one day anyhow!"

Mary smiled, and with a practiced hand dropped three lumps of sugar into his tea.

"How'd you do it, Johnny?"

"I am forced to admit that the credit's not all mine. You remember Simeon Bartlett, don't you?"

"That dear old man who lunched here one day, and who's so devoted to Gay and Nick?"

John nodded, stirring his tea thoughtfully.

"They spent the first week of their honeymoon at his camp, you know. He thinks he owns them! Well, he blew in this morning unexpectedly—had some business with me; but after lunch he came back again. Walked in and closed the door—mopped his steaming brow, and announced that he wanted to borrow my paying teller."

"How how long?"

"Just over Monday— the holiday. Gay and the babies are going back with him tomorrow for a visit. Glad of it. If ever a girl needed a change of—something——"

"I know all about Gay. I've been there this afternoon, but she didn't know that Nick was going with them. I think she was worrying at leaving him."

"Old Simeon saw that. He was going to hire Sam Hilton to take them over but it occurred to him that if Nick could get off for Friday and Saturday, he could drive the car, and all the same time keep out of mischief."

"You don't mean, Johnny, that Mr. Bartlett said anything about the —the vampire?"

Mary's eyes opened so wide that her husband laughed.

"I doubt if he ever heard the word, my dear; but he knows the breed. However, Simeon was discreet. He merely hinted that though Nick had made some engagement with his new neighbors, he thought the matter could be arranged. And I said: "I'll be arranged if I have to go back to the days of my youth and be paying teller myself while he's away."

"And what did Mr. Bartlett say to that?"

John smiled in reminiscence.

"He merely grunted - at first. Then he said: "Chick's a good boy, John MAXWELL."

"Too good to spend a day in company with a pair of innocent blue eyes?" I asked; and he replied: 'Ain't I heard tell that opportunity makes the thief? There's a time for every man to sow his wild oats, and if he don't get over them before he's married he's apt to be worse'n ever when they're sowed.

"Then I said: "Simeon, I'm ashamed of you! Don't you believe in the sanctity of marriage?" And he answered: 'All I want is your payin' teller.'"

Mary laughed, and commented: "He's a cute old thing. I wonder how he—well, caught on so quickly. Gay's too loyal to have given him a hint even if her face were aroused, which I very much doubt."

"She wouldn't have to hint much, Mary. That old man is as shrewd as a hawk. The merest word would have set him thinking, and he always thinks in some purpose. Anchored by his hands," she broke in furiously, "you are mistaken. I wouldn't have anybody but Nick's best friend left in the world. If you hadn't been the most jealous sort of a jealous fool——"

He moved a step nearer, and she stopped.

"It's not customary then, for a man to feel disturbed when he finds his wife in the arms of one he had thought a friend?"

She made no answer, and he continued: "As for the Ashley affair——"

Have for the nyeth time in her nature's handiwork, her face went white.

"Stop! I sha'n't listen! If you say a word more I'll—I'll——"

She had covered her ears with her hands and was shaking queerly, Her husband looked at her, but not a line of emotion crossed his face.

What Britain Has Done

Adopted New Methods and Trade Is Greatly Increased

During the last three years Britain has sold $10,000,000 more worth of her products to protectionist countries, overcoming the disadvantage of high tariff walls against her by the cheapness and superiority of her goods The cotton industry of Lancashire is not supposed to be in a good position, yet its exports exceeded the combined exports of cotton of the United States, Germany, France, Japan and Czecho-Slovakia. Britain is building one-half of all the ships being constructed in the world and the output of steel from Sheffield is 50 per cent. higher than it was before the war. The position of Britain as the great retail trading nation has been maintained by scrapping inefficient plants and by modern methods

During the first nine months of last year 34 per cent. of Britain's trade was with Europe, 21 per cent with Asia, and 18 per cent. with Africa.

She Couldn't Be Hoodwinked.

Miss E. Thomson, of Clapham, writes:—"I find that Carter's Little Liver Pills will do more to keep the complexion clear, and the skin free from blemishes, than all the face creams I have used. I feel it the real cause of face blemishes was usually due to liver and stomach troubles. My druggist recommended them as a specific for stimulating the liver and expelling the constipation poisons from the system.

New Issue Of Canadian Stamps

New Pictorial Stamps Striking Example Of the Engraver's Art

A new pictorial issue of Canadian stamps, concealed by philatists to be of the highest artistic quality, is being sent to post offices throughout the country by the department.

The most distinctive production of the group, according to departmental officials, is the new five-cent air mail stamp. It bears the device of the winged mercury against a background of the globe with the North and South American continents delineated. The color is brown. Many expressions of admiration have already been received by the department from stamp collectors, who declare it as the most attractive air mail stamp issued by any country.

Another striking example of the engraver's art is the blue 50-cent stamp which carries a part of the historic chapel at Grand Pre, N.S., and the well of Evangeline. The one dollar stamp is dark green and bears the head of Edward VII in profile. It is a reproduction of the design used in the red 20-cent stamp. It shows the head in the dark grey 12-cent stamp. The ten-cent stamp, green in color, bears a picture of the parliamentary library.

In the smaller denominations the colors have been changed to agree as follows: one cent, green; two cent, red; five cent, blue, and eight cent, orange. These all bear a portrait of the king.

Railways In the Air

Switzerland Building One To Go Higher Than Jungfrau Line

Switzerland can already boast that it possesses the highest railway in Europe—the Jungfrau line, which goes up 11,340 feet. But it isn't satisfied with that—a new railway connecting St. Moritz with the Pic Berninia is now to be built. It will attain an altitude of 13,200 feet. A present there are only six railways in the world which go higher than the Jungfrau line. When the Pic Berninia is built there will be only four railways in the world to best it in altitude The Peruvian Central Railway is the present holder of the world's record At one point it reaches 15,865 feet - just three miles more than is attained by the runner-up, the Antofagasta (Chili) and Bolivia Railway at 15,665 feet. The Swiss line therefore holds a world's record in the matter of electrification that no other countries can equal. Switzerland has 1,000 kilometres of railway, or 581 per cent. of its total track.

Start Of Aviation Warfare

First Allied Aviator Reprimanded For Shooting At Enemy

The first allied aviator to shoot at a German flier was severely reprimanded by a British general Captain H. Weir Cook, World War aviator and director of the Curtiss-Wright flying field at Indianap lis said

"Airplanes were used only for observation purposes at first and when enemy fliers passed each other they waved their hands or made signs to indicate the war wasn't a personal matter with them," Captain Cook said.

"One of the British aviators took his revolver along with him on a flight one day and took a pot-shot at a German He was called on the carpet by a general and warned that such unsportsmanlike conduct would not be tolerated

"Other allied aviators took guns along with them, however, and finally one of them killed a German with a shotgun That started aviation warfare"

Compares World To Gigantic Soap Bubble

Famous British Scientist Says It Is Constantly Expanding

The universe in which we live was likened to a fragile soap bubble by Sir James Jeans, famous British scientist, in a lecture at London, England.

"It is easy to blow a soap bubble," he said, "but far less easy to keep it in existence more than a minute or two—after that it is apt suddenly to burst and disappear. I hope I shall not startle you too much if I say that it has been discovered quite recently that the universe is something like that. As soon as the universe came into existence it started swelling and it must go on expanding."

If the calculations of many astronomers as to the speed of nebulae receding is correct, he said, the universe must be expanding—"I might almost say, exploding—at a really terrific rate."

"The material universe," he continued, "appears to be passing away like a tale that's told, dissolving into nothingness before the light of day."

LOSE FAT THIS WAY

No matter how fat you are or how much you hate to get out and walk a couple of miles—

If you will take but a teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning for 20 days—

You will feel so good—so energetic, and the urge for activity will be so great that you will immediately enjoy a daily walk of several miles—and love it!!

Why will Kruschen Salts make this great change for the better in me— It is natural for you to ask.

Because Kruschen is a blend of the six vitalizing salts Nature says your body must have to keep every organ, gland and nerve in the body luxuriantly healthy.

While you are losing fat you will be gaining in energy—in endurance—in stamina. Your skin will grow clearer, and your eyes will sparkle with the good health that Kruschen brings. The old arm chair won't hold you any more—you'll want to be up and doing—you'll enjoy work and active recreation and you'll sleep like a top. You'll keep fit, and probably live years longer.

Little Help For This Week

"The poor always ye have with you."—John xii 8.

Our Lord and Master
When He departed left us in His will
As our best legacy on earth, the poor
These we have always with us; had we not,
Our hearts would grow as hard as are the stones

The poor are always with us. The wayfarers come to us continually, and they do not come by chance. God sends them. And as they come, with their white faces and their poor, scuffling feet, they are our judges. The health of the little one will be good and that he will thrive and be happy and good-natured. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Bank Robbers Getting Closer

Hold Up Myrnam Bank — Later Are Captured

The bank of Montreal in the village of Myrnam, which is situated on the C P R some 35 miles north-west of here, was held up by two masked bandits at a few minutes before closing time last Friday afternoon. The bandits escaped with some $5000.00 in cash but were captured after an all night man hunt by officers of the A P P They proved to be two laborers of the Wain Lake district, Abet Makowechuk and Mike Stefaniuk, and had travelled about 40 miles and were just one mile from the scene of their labors when taken by the officers. Had they managed to reach the farm it is likely that they would never have been suspected of the hold-up. Another charge, that of robbing a store in the district a month ago is now laid on the two would-be bad men.

One of the men covered the bank staff of three while the other cleaned the cash from the cage and safe, overlooking some $1100.00 behind the teller's box in his departure while dallas no They immediately left the bank and struck into the bush north of the village, the manager of the Russell notified the telephone exchange who in turn notified all villagers and the neighboring police. A man hunt was soon on and shots were exchanged between persons and pursued, the latter finally making their getaway. The chase was soon taken up by the A P P. officers who were quickly on the scene and ended after a fourty-mile chase by the capture of the two men who had discarded coats and most of the money during the hike. The men submitted, namely Pomouh when confronted by the policemen. They are now in Edmonton, awaiting trial.

Other events will be the International Convention of Snowshoe clubs from Canada and New England and the annual ice canoe race through the floes of the St. Lawrence about the middle of February.

The sporty seaside lay-out of the Victoria Golf Club where the third annual mid-winter golf tournament will be staged from February 23 to 28 is in for unstinted praise from Gene Sarazen, former United States open champion, and Al. Espinosa, of Chicago, interviewed recently. "I thought Victoria would be a land of ice and snow around this time and that Vancouver Island was a suburb of the frozen north," he said. His visit provided him with one of the surprises of his sporting career and both climatically and from the golfing point of view, Victoria was in both his and Espinosa's opinion ideal.

A Private Income of $100 a month for Life
... from age 55!

IF IN GOOD HEALTH —$100 A MONTH.

IF IN ILL HEALTH —$100 A MONTH.

IN CASE OF DEATH —$10,000 CASH.

At 55, while still well and vigorous, to come into a private income (over and above other revenues), guaranteed for the rest of your life, of $100 a month. You simply make yearly or half-yearly deposits of an agreed amount for a specified period, at the end of which you begin to receive a monthly income for life.

That's only part of the story.
If, meanwhile, through sickness or accident you should become totally disabled, you cease paying premiums and receive $100 a month during such disability. At age 55, the regular income of $100 a month, reinsparied, comes into effect.

Look how your family is protected.
Should you die at any time before reaching 55, your family receives $10,000.

Mildest December For 36 Years

No Below Zero Temperatures Last Month — California Climate

According to the Dominion weather bureau at Edmonton, the past December has been the warmest for the past 36 years, the mean temperature at that station being 25.5 for the month, with the highest at 41 and the lowest at 1 above. There was a total of .32 inches of precipitation and 82.3 hours of bright sunshine. Those are figures for the Edmonton weather bureau at Edmonton and we are inclined to believe that it was even milder at Vermilion. We have been temperatures during December to a record that will probably hold for a long time, although we hope it is at least equalled next December. January has started out to equal the mark with extremely fine weather. Very little snow has fallen and all cars are running freely.

For the whole year the mean temperature was 35.5 degrees. During the last 20 years, the highest recorded was 38.9 for 1928 and 28.8 in 1922.

New Chevrolet Bigger and Finer

Here is what the new Chevrolet looks like at its first public showings now being held across Canada. There are nine body types, the five-window coupe at the upper left being an addition to the line. Below is the standard sedan which shows the large, roomy effect achieved by lengthening the wheelbase to 100 inches. Wire wheels are standard equipment. Upper right shows the changed front view, the higher radiator, the chrome-plate tie-bar which arches between the headlamps, and the new horn mounted below the left headlamp. Prices of the new Chevrolet are lower than those at which the 1930 models were introduced.

Municipality Of Norma Wins One Thousand Dollars

WINNIPEG, Dec. 31—The municipality of Norma, which embraces the Ukrainian settlement surrounding the town of Vegreville, east of Edmonton, has been adjudged the most progressive community of European origin in Alberta, according to the judging committee headed by Dr. R. C. Wallace, of Alberta University, which officiated in the community progress competitions of the Canadian National Railways initiated this summer for this class of community in the three western provinces.

Announcement of the results of the competitions was made on Monday at Montreal headquarters of the C.N.R., by Dr. W. J. Black, director of colonization and agriculture of the railway company, who was the originator of the competitions.

Close upon the heels of "Norma" community in second place in the contest in Alberta, comes the well-known Scandinavian settlement in Lloyd-George municipality, surrounding the town of Camrose, south-east of Edmonton. Third place in Alberta is given to another Ukrainian community, in "The Pines" municipality, which centers on the Ukrainian town of Mundare, adjoining Vegreville. Fourth place goes to Liberty municipality, west of Leduc, south of Edmonton, which is a combined Ukrainian-German-Scandinavian settlement, while fifth place goes to the Ukrainian community of Unity, surrounding Radway Center, north-east of Edmonton.

The judging of the communities in Alberta, where thirteen entered the contest, was undertaken by a committee composed of Dr. Wallace, of the University, Mrs. R. H. Gunn, and Dr. W. H. Fairfield, Superintendent, Lethbridge Experimental Farm. Generous co-operation was given the committee and the National Railway officials by the provincial departments of health, agriculture and education, records of these departments concerning the various communities being made available. The survey of the communities was very complete, the score card covering every phase of community development. Cash prizes of $1000, $500 and $250 are given for the first three places in each province, certificates of merit being granted to the communities placed fourth and fifth. The cash prizes are to be expended by the communities in some form of community development.

The first prize community in Alberta, the Ukrainian settlement at Vegreville, is more than 30 years old, and is known as one of the best and most progressive agricultural areas in the province. Several of the Ukrainian settlers who came into the district years ago and lived in their mud and log houses have beautiful farm homes today and are well-to-do Canadian agriculturists. An exceptionally fine type of rural school was also found in this district. In Mundare district adjoining, which took third place, an outstanding feature was the modernly-equipped hospital.

Lloyd-George municipality which has long been known for its prosperousness was settled 25 or 30 years ago by people mostly of Scandinavian origin. A high percentage of the land is under cultivation, and the farms are generally well improved through out the settlement, which is also characterized by good schools

VALUABLE AWARDS TO WINNERS OF CIVIC LEAGUE HOCKEY

Subway Stores offered $2.00 worth of groceries in every man on the team scoring the highest number of goals in the double-header Wednesday night in the Civic league, and Scotty's Shoe Repair gave a free skate sharpen to the boys on the team scoring the highest number of goals also. The winners of these two awards will be found in the Civic hockey league column. Safeways intend to duplicate the offer in the final play-off game at the close of the season.

SNEAK THIEVES HAVE WEAKNESS FOR CAR COILS

Sneak thieves with a weakness for Ford car coils have been busy lately at Camping Ends of the Salvation Army corps here found out to his cost on Monday morning when he went to start his car. The coils of the machine were missing, having been taken some time during the night.

A week previously another man in the same locality had the coils of his auto removed. Both cars were stand ing outside at the time of thievery.

IS THIS SANTA CLAUS STILL CRAZY???

This man who was once called crazy for trying to raise Alfalfa on the bleak prairies of Southern Alberta, now wants to play Santa Claus to any wheat farmer boy or girl, who has got the blues, and is as penniless as he himself was when he quit wheat farming. It was only ten years ago when this would-be Santa Claus went broke raising wheat. He then started to experiment with all the different forage plants known, in order to find something most suitable under our climatic conditions to provide feed for our cows, chickens and pigs. He is now convinced that nothing can excel Alfalfa for this purpose, and it falls to king of them all. He feels so enthused over the result of his work that this is what he wants to say to the wheat farmer boys or girls who have got the blues.

"I will place for you 10 lb. packages of registered Grimm Alfalfa Seed in the hands of the Grimm Alfalfa Seed Growers' Association at Brooks, Alta., for free distribution, postage paid one lb. to each applicant as long as the supply lasts, as a Xmas present to you farmer boys and girls who want to start something better than straight wheat farming. Under these conditions! That the seed be planted early in the spring, on well cultivated land, preferably summerfallow, where the snow does not blow off too badly in the winter time, and where the water does not stand more than a few days in summer, and if after two three or four years, you are convinced that Alfalfa will thrive on your land, that it will smother the weeds, will treble the value of your farm, make your chickens cackle in the winter time, and your calves skip-like seal on the first of April and make you feel that the farm is the best place on earth to live after all and that this packet of seed was the most valuable present that you ever got, then write me a letter and tell me of your success and send me enough pennies to pay postage on the seed that made you happy, and we'll all be happy, but if Grimm Alfalfa does not do all these things to you then do not send me one cent.

Send for your packages now to the Grimm Alfalfa Seed Growers' Association at Brooks, Alta. as the supply will not last long.

"Wishing you the Compliments of the Season, and trusting this package of seed will put you on the Main Highway to prosperity and happiness.

"Very sincerely yours

ELKS PLAY "SANTA CLAUS"

The Christmas Sunshine committee of the Vermilion Elks' Lodge specialized this year in providing Christmas cheer for kiddies under twelve years of age and, with few exceptions, this rule was adhered to.

Christmas parcels, consisting of toys, candy, nuts, etc. were distributed to over one hundred and fifty children in the town and district, many of whom might have waited in vain for the visit of Santa Claus

The committee wish to thank the ladies who assisted in preparing parcels, and also the many generous subscribers who boosted our fund to almost the two hundred dollar mark.

"SCOTTY" SWANSON "DOES HIS STUFF"

An announcement made at the Kiddies' outdoor rink by the Elks' supervisor to the effect that Mr "Scotty" Swanson would sharpen the skates of all children under the age of twelve years free of charge, brought forth a ready response, no less than seventy-five kiddies taking advantage of Scotty's generous offer, and the Vermilion Elks' Lodge wish to express their appreciation of Mr. Swanson's kindness to youngsters.

THE WHEAT SITUATION

Should not we be able to grow wheat as cheaply as any other large exporting country?

Three years ago the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada Limited, working with the Dominion and Provincial Governments, began drilling in Ammonium Phosphate and Triple Superphosphate with wheat seed on test acreages throughout the West.

In 1930 more than one thousand test plots of from five to eight acres each were laid out in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. On each test plot an area was left unfertilized.

The results prove beyond a doubt that the use of Triple Super-phosphate and Ammonium Phosphate produces a very substantial increase in yield, a higher grade of grain, less rust, fewer weeds, and five to ten days earlier maturity. It has also been found that the fertilized grain has withstood the blowing much better than where the fertiliser was not used.

Below are examples of results obtained with wheat on the farms of the following co-operators:

E. CLAY — PARADISE VALLEY
Fertilized		49½
Unfertilized		25½
Increased Yield		24
H. VANDENDOLDER — ISLAY
Fertilized		26
Unfertilized		15
Increased Yield		11
R. J. ROBINSON — LLOYDMINSTER
Fertilized		34
Unfertilized		20
Increased Yield		14

Satisfactory results were also obtained in the farms of:

A. A. GILES	—	MARWAYNE
C. BENNETT	—	MOYERTON
J. J. SLATER	—	FURNESS

It is not claimed that the application of these fertilizers will overcome all the difficulties now facing the Western Canadian farmer, but undoubtedly their use will prove to be a great factor in reducing his costs and in enabling him to maintain his place in the world's market.

The use of these Fertilizers is recommended to the Canadian farmer, not in an attempt to burden him with additional loads, but with the desire of assisting him in the solution of his present problems.

The Fight For Peace

Living as we do, on the fourth decade of the twentieth century of the Christian era, and more than twelve years after the close of the war to end all wars, the huge armaments maintained by the more civilized countries of the world continue to be a menace to the future peace of the world, and to falsify the many professions of "a will to peace" voiced by the leading statesmen of the world.

Great as the inconsistency of all nations appears to be, the inconsistency, in fact the blatant hypocrisy, of Soviet Russia stands out over and above all other countries. Here is a republic, a people's government, founded as a result of a revolt against the militaristic government of the former Czars, preaching the doctrines of world brotherhood, yet maintaining and rapidly increasing the most powerful army in the world.

Recently one of the important illustrated papers in Berlin, Germany, presented pictorially the relative strengths of the armies of Europe and the extent of their war equipment. It reveals the fact that the present peace strength of the Russian armies is 1,200,000 men, or almost double that of the next largest European army, that of France with 650,700 men. Italy coming third with about the same number 624,300

Russia, as with its 12-year-old-wide-land area, withdrawn from productive occupation, as at the same time short of man-power to carry out its ambitious five-year programme and we find Pravada, the official organ of the Communist Party, urging the recruiting of women into the ranks of solving the Soviet Union's growing labor problem. More than 2,000,000 additional workers are needed in 1931, says this official Government organ, to carry out huge projects of the five-year plan. After pointing out that six million women are engaged in household duties in Russian cities, it advocates securing the required labor from this source while 1,200,000 men are kept marking time" as a soldier army. What a travesty, what a tragedy! What denial of all the principles for which the Communist party fought in the world with its denunciations of capitalist governments supported by armies, navies and air fleets.

And how is the Russian army equipped? With 600 heavy guns, or 200 more than Great Britain, 2,500 light guns or more than any other country in the world and 1,500 more than Great Britain, 23,000 machine guns or 10,000 more than Great Britain, with 250 tanks, compared with 200 in Great Britain, and 1,400 war aeroplanes, or only 147 less than Great Britain with its world-encircling empire to patrol and defend.

And whom has Russia to fear? Her nearest and most powerful neighbor, Germany, was disarmed by the Treaty of Versailles, left with an army of only 100,000 men for the maintenance of peace at home, permitted to have no heavy guns, only 288 light guns, less than 2,000 machine guns, no war aeroplanes, no tanks.

And because Communist Russia maintains, and is increasing and strengthening its huge army and conducts a persistent propaganda in other countries against all forms of established government except their own, and continues to preach a world-revolution, the other nations of Europe feel they too must remain armed to the teeth. The result is that Europe remains an armed camp.

The Great War taught us that removed though Canada may be from the Old World nations we cannot be indifferent to the situation existing. Should the scourge of war again sweep Europe, we, too, would be the sufferers. It cannot be otherwise.

The greatest present guarantee of the maintenance of peace is to be found in the League of Nations. It has prevented more than one outbreak since 1919. The real strength of the League of Nations is to be found in another league the British Commonwealth of Nations. They are the backbone of the greater world league.

Maintenance of the League of Nations costs approximately a quarter of a million dollars a year. Some people think it costs us too much, but what is a quarter of a million annually for ten million people in comparison to the annual cost to them resulting from the European war? The debt, pensions to disabled men, soldiers' hospitalization, settlement schemes, and sundry other expenses running into millions of dollars annually?

Every Canadian therefore should be an enthusiastic supporter of the League of Nations. No vote of money by Parliament should be more heartily approved than the vote to maintain the League. Not only so, but every Canadian should be a booster for the League, and should exert his or her personal influence to the end that Canada will always be found to be one of the staunchest upholders of the League of Nations at all times.

Died From Exposure

Coroner's Jury Brings In Verdict In Connection With Death Of Capt. Burke

Capt. E. J. A. Burke died from starvation and exposure according to a verdict returned by a coroner's jury at White Horse, Yukon. Burke, with two companions, Emil Kading and Bob Masten, disappeared in October while flying in the Lloyd River district. They began to push towards civilization, but Burke collapsed and died November 20. His two companions were finally rescued and brought to White Horse by Pilot R. L. Watson, and Joe Walsh, a passenger, on December 10.

Prior to finding the coroner's jury added a rider recommending that in future 'planes in northern British Columbia should be equipped with sufficient food for emergency for to last for a reasonable period of time, a ride and 50 rounds of ammunition and firearms for each member of the 'plane crew. The jury also recommended that pilots be instructed in woodcraft.

A Sinister Date

October Sixth Has Prominent Place In British Politics

One of the most sinister dates in British politics is October 6th. So far you ever seen the list? On October 6th, 1881, Gladstone denounced Parnell, and on October 6th, 1891, Parnell died. On October 6th, 1898, Rosebery retired from the leadership of the Liberal party and on October 6th, 1909, he resigned the presidency of the Liberal League. On October 6th, 1911, Asquith dined in the leading the House of Commons, and on October 6th, 1993, Joseph Chamberlain opened his disastrous tariff reform campaign with his Glasgow speech

Danger from Colds

Every woman beyond middle age should realize that a majority of the troubles she has to fear have their origin in the cold. Such as common colds. Each attack lowers her vitality and reduces her resistance to disease. At this season of the year every woman should see that her blood is toned up to meet the rigors of the climate and maintain the strength should be restored after any cold, however slight. For this Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a reliable tonic.

Mrs. Wm. Reid are not a mere stimulant giving temporary relief. They build up the body by creating that rich, red blood which is largely the glow of health; steadies the nerves, improves the appetite and digestion and make the users capable of withstanding the rigors of our Fall and Winter months. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Her Day's Work

Miss Edna Ralph of Cromwell, Conn., rises at 5:30 a.m. to do the chores of the thirty-acre farm which she operates. Then she goes to a toy factory where she has worked for sixty-six consecutive years, and after a day's work there returns again along the newspaper route which she started twenty-five years ago. And she has just celebrated her eighty-second birthday!

Many Unclaimed Medals

Large Number Still On Hand In Department Of National Defence

The number of medals in the custody of the records branch of the Department of National Defence is gradually diminishing, but the number on hand is still large. The present addresses of many of the men who served in the Great War and who are entitled to the medals are unknown. Of the 68,104 "1914-15 stars" received for distribution, 1,000 still await claimants. Over 200 were issued in the past year.

A total of 419,845 British war medals were distributed for members of the Canadian expeditionary forces, and of these 35,922 are still unclaimed.

The records branch has found it impossible up to the present to locate 83,224 men entitled to the victory medal, out of a total of 349,245 that were earned. Of these medals, 5,861 were disposed of during the last twelve months.

Ice From the Tropics

Product Of Carbon Dioxide Found In Oil Fields Of Mexico

It is a product of carbon dioxide gas found in wells of the Tampico, Mexico, oil fields, flowing to the surface at a pressure of 1,000 pounds to the square inch. The information is contained in a bulletin of the United States navy department's bureau of engineering.

A New York concern has erected a factory which solidifies the gas into ice and which has a capacity of 40,000 pounds a day. Vessels with insulated chambers of cork board a four-hold will bring the ice to the United States.

Retires From Board

Col. Vien, K.C., Severs Connection With Board Of Railway Commissioners

Col. Thomas Vien, K.C., deputy chief commissioner of the board of railway commissioners for Canada, announced his retirement from the government service. He plans to remain in his law practice in Montreal.

Col. Vien was active in politics before he was appointed to the board of railway commissioners five years ago. He represented the constituency of Lothinière, Quebec, as Liberal member in the house. He was first elected first for that riding in 1917, and was re-elected in 1921.

Recipes For This Week

(By Betty Barclay)

FIG WHIRL RIBBONS

2 cups special cake flour, sifted
2 teaspoons baking powder.
½ teaspoon salt.
4 tablespoons butter or other shortening.
½ cup milk.
4 tablespoons butter, creamed.
1 cup brown sugar, packed.
½ cup pecan meats, chopped.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Cut in shortening. Add milk gradually until soft dough is formed. Roll ¼ inch thick on slightly floured board. Spread with creamed butter; sprinkle with brown sugar and nuts. Roll like jelly roll and cut in 1 inch pieces. Place in greased muffin pans cut-sides up. Bake in moderate oven (350° F. Fahrenheit) 30 minutes. Makes 12 biscuits.

MOLDED FRUIT SALAD

1 package lemon flavored gelatine.
1 pint boiling water.
6 slices canned pineapple, diced and drained.
3 tart apples, pared and diced.
2 bananas, diced.
Crisp lettuce.

Dissolve gelatine in boiling water. Pour small amount into mold. Chill until firm. When remain remaining gelatine is slightly thickened, pour over fruits. Chill until firm. Unmold on lettuce. Garnish with mayonnaise. Serves 8.

University Of Alberta

The enrollment of students at the University of Alberta this year is larger by about 75 students than last year, according to Dr. Tory, president of the university. The attendance is over 1,600, and is continually growing.

Every careful and observant mother knows when her child suffers from worms. She also knows that if some remedy be not speedily applied much harm will result to the infant. An excellent preparation for this purpose is Miller's Worm Powders. They drive worms from the system and set up stimulating and soothing effects, so that the child's progress thereafter is painless and satisfying.

Canadian and United States financial interests have combined to bring to production Gem Lakes Mines, Ltd., a gold property in southeastern Manitoba, it was announced recently by W. S. Kickley, president of Gem. Development will start immediately, with nearly 300 men employed.

Spirit Of Conan Doyle

Her profound conviction that the spirit of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle is deliberately lingering near earth in order to help those still living, was expressed by Lady Doyle. This conviction she said, was based on messages she herself had received from her dead husband.

It isn't so much what a man thinks, but what he does that counts.

Magnesia Best for Your Indigestion

Most people who suffer, either occasionally or chronically from gas, sourness and indigestion, have now discontinued disagreeable diets, stomach tonics, medicines and artificial digestants, and instead, take a teaspoonful or two tablets of Dilcreted Magnesia after meals with the result that their stomach no longer troubles them. They get all the good out of their food and enjoy good health. Those who use Dilcreted Magnesia never dread the approach of meal time because they know this wonderful, safe, scientific food corrective will relieve them. And from experience this drug store will instantly neutralize the stomach acidity, prevents the gases, prevent food fermentation, and make digestion easy. Try this plan yourself, but be certain to get Dilcreted Magnesia, especially prepared for stomach use.

Growing Industry in Britain

Electrical Trade Is Carrying Competition Into Foreign Lands

Obsolete machinery and out-of-date methods are given as the reasons why British factories run at reduced time and with depleted staffs. But there is one industry which does not fit into that discouraging picture. The British electrical trade is not only meeting foreign competition but is carrying competition into foreign lands.

The United States and Germany are Britain's chief competitors in this field. United States exports of electrical goods have dropped ten per cent. and German exports five per cent. in 1930, as compared with 1929. Unemployment in electrical trades in the United States stands at 25 per cent., and in Germany at 30 per cent. British factories are working full time both for trade, and by the close of the year it is anticipated that Britain will lead the world as an exporter of electrical goods.

Recently a large contract in Copenhagen was captured by a British firm under the very nose of German competition, while a Newcastle firm has demonstrated that it is possible to do a very good business in the United States in spite of the high tariff wall. The reason this is given is that British producers are five years ahead of their competitors in technical and commercial development, in certain kinds of electrical gear a virtual world monopoly is being created. Electrical goods and appliances were the only British manufactures to show an increase in exports in September. This trade has blazed the way out of the slough of unemployment.

Canadian Newsprint

Newsprint paper made up 85.2 per cent. of the total reported tonnage of paper manufactured in Canada in 1929. The amount was 2,725,331 tons as compared with 2,414,393 tons in 1928.

PREMIER BENNETT IS OPTIMISTIC FOR THE FUTURE

Calgary, Alberta.—Out of the present time of economic suffering has come the finest proof of the world's progress, for nations and individuals have stood together in a common determination to fulfill their obligations to humanity, Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, prime minister of Canada, said here in a New Year's Day address.

Mr. Bennett spoke with optimism of the future and expressed his conviction that the clouds of depression were about to disperse. Canada, because of its great resources, was possibly more fortunate than other countries, but all Canadians hoped the prosperity they anticipated for their own country would extend to the world at large.

Peace and good-will in the international sphere and a more equitable distribution of liabilities in the domestic sphere were the prime requisites of future progress, said Mr. Bennett.

"Throughout the year now ended," he said, "great storms long threatening have swept the industrial firmament. Before their onslaught the world has paused in its forward march, perhaps, indeed, has given ground a little, but never at any time has acknowledged fear or known the danger of defeat. We all have suffered, but we have all survived the greatest depression of which this old world has record.

"Just as one nation has had to bear a greater burden than another, so within each nation have some classes been called upon to endure a degree of privation which others have been spared, at least in the case in Canada. We, if it has been as it is not difficult to explain. Those enterprises whose welfare lies primarily within our own control have known little trouble when compared with such as look for their main support to the world at large. In saying this, I simply desire to make it known that no burdens which we can share together will be cast on any single class or section of the country.

"Conforming to our conviction that unity in prosperity also means unity in adversity, we are moving towards a more equitable distribution of our liabilities and by all means in our power are preparing to continue the advance along the way which, through rapidly dispersing clouds, lies straight before us."

Centralized Wheat Selling

World Wide System Of Buying and Selling Is Foreseen

Winnipeg, Man.—World wide system of buying and selling wheat are foreseen as possibilities by George H. Williams, president of United Farmers of Canada (Saskatchewan section).

Leader of the strongest bloc of opinion in favor of the 100 per cent. pool, Mr. Williams, in a statement to the Canadian Press, cited the Federal Farm Loan Act as a step toward one selling agency in the United States and the proposed British quota-basing plan as a practicable future policy of the whole wheat-selling and wheat-buying world.

"Many countries are of the opinion that the future solution to the problem of marketing agricultural products, particularly wheat, lies along the line of concerted action," Mr. Williams stated. He declared that today such nations as Italy, France, Germany, Russia, and Poland, are very definitely working towards centralized selling. For years there has been 100 per cent. pooling organizations in New Zealand and New South Wales and Australia threatens to fall in line.

The step to a 100 per cent. pool for the quarter-million farmers on the Canadian prairies is a short one, he believed. A total of 55 per cent. of the Western farmers are at present pool members. They enter by voluntary contract but, "by altering the method of agreement from that of contract to that of bailee and by including the principle of compulsory use," he said, "it only a short step from the present voluntary contract to the 100 per cent. legislative pool," the farm head explained.

Good Market For Ayrshires

Ottawa, Ont.—"The Royal Winter Fair still maintains its reputation as being not only the great show window for Ayrshire breeders but also as one of the best market places for Ayrshire cattle," says a report of the Canadian Ayrshire Breeders' Association, which gives a detailed synopsis of the successes achieved by this breed of cattle.

Governor-General Taking New Position

Willingdon Leaving For India On England On January 16

Ottawa, Ont.—Announcement that the Governor-General and Viscountess Willingdon will leave Canada for England, and subsequently for their new post in India, on January 16, has been made at governmental house. Their Excellencies will leave Ottawa by special train at noon on Wednesday, January 14, for Saint John, N.B., there to board the steamer "Montcalm" for England. The journey to Saint John will be made at Quebec where Their Excellencies spent several summers, and where they may attend a reception.

Accompanying Their Excellencies will be E. C. Miéville, governor-general's secretary, and Mrs. Miéville. Capt. R. J. Streatfeild and Lieut. D. H. Fuller, R.N.

Mr. and Mrs. Miéville will go to India with Their Excellencies. As a consequence of his early departure for England, the last official function of the governor-general in Ottawa was the levee held in the senate chamber of the parliament buildings at noon on New Year's day.

Baldwin's New Year's Wish

Hope That Labor Government May Prove To Speedy and Unlimited Kind

London, England.—Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin "best and most cheerful full political New Year wish for 1931" is: "May the present government have a speedy and unlimited end," he wrote recently in a 1931 message of greeting to the people of Great Britain.

In his message he outlined Conservative plans for remedying economic conditions such as an emergency tariff for the protection of manufacturers, a guaranteed price and a guaranteed market for British wheat and a scheme for the development of Empire trade.

"When the general election comes," he wrote, "and I am of the opinion that it won't be long despite the Liberal pact to keep the Socialists in power, we shall make an immediate beginning on a policy to help the process of national recovery."

Shareholders To Meet

Emergency Meeting Of Shareholders Of Hudson's Bay Company To Be Held January 16

London, England.—An emergency meeting of the shareholders of the Hudson's Bay Company will be held on January 16, to consider the report of the special committee investigating affairs of the company for the last five months.

This report, according to the Daily Mail, will show little prospect of the company being able to earn dividends on either preference or common shares for some time to come.

The Financial Times draws attention to the appointment of Sir James Lindsay, chairman of the board, to the Macmillan committee on finance and industry. This committee also suggested a cut in the number of the company's directors.

Canada's Farm Loans

Over Seven Million Distributed With in Two Years

Ottawa, Ont.—At the end of the present fiscal year on March 31 next, when the organization will have been functioning a little less than two years, the Canadian Farm Loan Board will have disbursed nearly $7,000,000 in loans to farmers in six provinces of the Dominion, according to Dr. J. D. McLean, chairman of the board. Up to the present the average loan has been a little over $2,000, and it is pointed out by Dr. McLean that back of the $4,428,000 loaned up to the end of September, the government has securities in the form of lands and buildings valued at about $18,000,000.

Four Cornered Fight

Edmonton, Alberta.—Four candidates were nominated here for the seat in the provincial legislature made vacant by the death of Colonel C. Y. Weaver. Those in the field are Colonel F. C. Jamieson, Conservative; Captain J. C. Bowden, Liberal; Elmer Roper, Labor; Jan. Lakenan, Communist.

Report Is Denied

Montreal, Que.—Denial that the Canadian National Railways contemplates any immediate new construction work at the Port Arthur lake terminus was made by S. J. Hungerford vice-president, in charge of operation and construction.

BIG CORPORATION TO BE CREATED TO AID FARMERS

MAKES CONTRIBUTION TO SCIENCE

Dr. E. F. Burton, professor of physics at University of Toronto, who, in collaboration with Arnold Pitt, assistant demonstrator, has invented instrument for rapidly measuring quantity of moisture in human and other bodies so inexplicably valuable a channel of trade."

With European countries speeding up their grain production it was obvious Canada would have to look to the Orient for a market. Canada had the goodwill of the Orient and the government was prepared to capitalize it

With regard to his negotiations with France, Mr. Bennett said the existing duty on wheat was practically prohibitive. Since his meeting with the French government the government had been defeated; but despite this he had advice that France would guarantee to buy a substantial quantity of Canadian wheat.

"This is the first time in the history of France that such a guarantee has been given," he said. "The best information we are able to obtain indicates the actual purchase of Canadian wheat in all three years would be one of the highway and every part thereof restrained by municipal legislation."

PREPARE FOR STRUGGLE OVER FREIGHT RATES

Winnipeg, Man. — For a freight rates battle of the future Manitoba farmers today are lining up a solid front. It will be an agrarian body that first opens fire at Ottawa for a reasonable rail and ocean freight rate and the Hudson Bay route to world markets.

Prepared to struggle with a foe, as they declare, is entrenched in the east, United Farmers of Manitoba are seeking signatures of every farmer in the province to a petition which will be presented to the Dominion government

The port of Churchill, in far north Manitoba, will mean a saving of "millions of dollars" to western farmers if the C.N.R. Nest basin of grain rates are secured if ocean freight rates are placed "on a comparable basis with ocean rates at Montreal" and if a fair basis of rates on general merchandise such as lumber is now charged from a point from Churchill to any southern Manitoba point is secured says the petition that the U.F.M recognizes organization

Powerful financial interests, resident in the competitive parts of all rivals Quebec, Ontario and the Maritime will press the west's demand for a fair grain rate basis equal to Canada's New Ontario, petition anti-rates. Large shipping firms at the Atlantic seaboard will what any move to effect low ocean rates from Churchill.

The farm bloc also will ask for a substantial reduction in the present prohibitive marine insurance rate and the maintenance of high ocean rates from Churchill to the min and about the powerful trade which Arctic navigation and manufacturing interests control to eastern Canada the objections to the long navigation season of the port and the short transportation rates in our eastern provinces are also expected to be met by the petitioners.

One Of the Finest In the World To Be Erected In Eastern City

Toronto, Ont.—An astronomical observatory which will be one of the finest in the world, will be erected in Toronto in the near future, according to an announcement to the Canad an Press recently, by Prof. C. A. Chant head of the Department of Astrology University of Toronto. The observatory will be erected by Mrs D. A. Dunlap, and her son, D. Moffat Dunlap, as a memorial to the late David Dunlap, who died six years ago, and will be known as the "David Dunlap Observatory."

The outstanding feature of the observatory will be a huge reflecting telescope 74 inches in diameter. There is only one of greater aperture in the world, that on Mount Wilson, in California.

The Lowly Pedestrian

Has Equal Rights With Motorist On Highway, Says Judge

Montreal.—The humble pedestrian has found a champion in Chief Justice Greenshields who, in rendering judgment in an auto-mobile accident case here, declared emphatically that a motorist is not a chicle or vehicle of any kind had no superiority or right of way over the pedestrian unless perhaps in the case I should say lucky enough, to use their feet as a method of locomotion. The pedestrian may at all times walk over any part of the highway and every part thereof restrained by municipal legislation."

SIR GEO. PERLEY IS APPOINTED TO PRIVY COUNCIL

London, England.—Four new peers, three privy councillors, five baronets and 30 knights constitute the most notable of the creations in the New Years honors list, announced last night. The most interesting award from the Canadian angle is the conferring of a privy council ship upon Hon Sir George Perley, which is regarded as recognition of Sir George's labors as a high prime minister of Canada during Premier Bennett's absence at the Imperial conference

Sir George Perley was created a Knight Commander of the Order of St Michael and St. George in 1915, when he was in London as High Commissioner and has also been largely associated with the services in England of the contingents of the great Canadian army which was sent to the field during these years

Attend Funeral Of Comrade

Members Of Crew Of R-100 Honor Grenville Watts

London, England.—Members of the crew of the airship R-100 attended the funeral of Grenville Watts, who had declined an offer to become a member of the crew of the R-101 on that vessel's ill-fated air voyage to India, which ended in disaster and the loss of 45 lives. Watts was not satisfied with the airship's condition. He was fatally injured in a motorcycle collision recently.

Watts had been on board the old R-32 when she collided with Mount Ararat, on the R-32 when she broke her moorings in a storm and drifted over London. He was also on board when she crossed the Atlantic to visit Canada four months ago.

Finds Fortune But Loses Girl

Jan Stanishevsky left Poland ten years ago and came to Canada. He made few friends, but Janetska, a young girl of his race, mistress of a local boarding house, befriended him and aided him until he left her happy boarding house to go prospecting in the north woods.

Jan "struck it rich" in the north, sold his claim for $75,000, and hurried to Montreal to lay his fortune at Janetska's feet. But during his absence, construction started on the Canadian National Railway's $60,000,000 terminal plan, transferring five city blocks, including the district where Janetska lived, into a vast yawning

Jan has not given up hope. He will spend all of his newly found fortune to find her if necessary. He has enlisted the services of a noted detective agency, and has now turned sadly toward Buffalo, N.Y., following up a slender clue he picked up from acquaintances.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Semple of Landonville left this afternoon on a trip to Victoria, B.C., and then will go to Oregon to visit Mr. Semple's brother. They intend to return about the end of March.

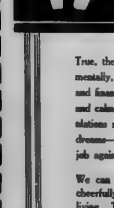
Let's Face the Future

- the Past is History



MANY will witness the passing of 1930 with a sigh of relief. It was a most trying year for the whole world. But — it has gone — we're through with it! Let us now resolve to shake off its atmosphere of depression and discouragement —wipe any fog of despair and hopelessness from our mental vision—lift our heads, face the facts and go forward into the dawn of a New Year filled with the undaunted courage and unalterable determination that is our heritage.

True, the millenium has not arrived. But, basically and fundamentally, conditions are sound; politically, industrially, socially and financially. It is only necessary that we adjust our thinking and calmly realize that our dreams of effortless ease and accumulations not earned by hard work and self-denial were merely dreams—to be laughed at, now that we are awake and on the job again.

We can readjust our budgets to fit our earning capacity and cheerfully get back to hard work, intelligent economy and sane living. To assist in the accomplishment of these constructive ends Safeway Stores pledges its entire material and mental resources and wishes you all a truly "Happy and Prosperous New Year."

Mrs. Geo. L. Hudson To Sing At Vermilion On January 28

Mrs. Geo. L. Hudson (nee Bessie Pilkie) will be the guest soloist at a concert to be given by the Vermilion Citizens' Band on Wednesday evening, January 28th, in the Colonial Theatre.

Mrs. Hudson is well known to Vermilion audiences, although some time has elapsed since her last appearance as a local platform. At present she is soprano soloist at Robertson Church, Edmonton, and is frequently heard over the radio. Her singing at a recent engagement with the Edmonton Symphony Orchestra brought forth the highest praise from musical critics of the city, and at the present time there is no more popular soprano in the province.

Popular prices of 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children under fourteen years will prevail for this outstanding musical event.

Make a note of the date, and watch the Standard for further particulars.

Shots From The Blue Line

Did we get our money's worth last night? Two overtime games chock full of action and pep for 25c. The preliminary here surely got the teams evenly balanced.

Cabaret Takes Lead in League

The first game last night was probably the best, both teams, and especially the Cabaret, showing fine team work and a last open game was played, ending at 2-2 during the regular spasma. In the ten minute overtime the Cabaret boys rallied valee and took their second victory in two starts. Scraba and Gunson scored for C'College, while White got two and Lawson and Duncan, who was playing his first game in senior company, got one each. Corson also got an assist.

Frank Wenzel turned out in goal for the College lads and turned in a truly magnificent game, there being nothing lucky about his saves every one of them was clean cut. Scraba also starred along with Mead for the Angoville crew. The latter added to [illegible]

Elks & C.N.R. in Overtime Draw

The Elks and C.N.R. clashed in an overtime draw which gives them one point apiece in the second set in Jack Mackenzie was the big noise for the Elks both offensively and defensively with all the others turning in nice games. Clarence Barr Bell and Rees back were on the job all the time for the C.N.R. boys. Reinhart and Bell scored for the railway while Draganiuk broke into the scoring column in his first game with honors going the second counter for the Elks.

Bert Williams does a nice job of refereeing and the games are all particularly clean, the boys knowing that nothing escapes Bert's eagle eye. A severe WARNING was handed out with the only serious penalty Wednesday.

A bunch of youngsters made their appearance on the various teams last night, Art Elliott, Kearns for the C.N.R., Draganiuk for the Elks and Dunn for the Cabaret. All the kids looked at home on the ice and real

At Last ! The Truth About PIMPLES

Pimples, acne and blackheads are caused by a sluggish, disordered system, by those harmful acids and toxins which make your skin break out.

So if you want quickly to rid yourself of that ugly, blemished complexion and to obtain beautiful, smooth and clear skin for all times—even sparkling like diamonds—superb daily health—take Kruschen Salts.

Kruschen Salts are a perfect blend of the six vital salts which nerves, glands, blood and body organs ought to receive from food if they're to work properly—but it's simply impossible to obtain these salts in these days of modern cooking !

Therefore take Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast—this quickly puts back those precious minerals into your system—and drives out harmful acids and toxins, leaving you enviable and glorious youthful beauty and health.

Flowerpot Island

Island In Georgia Bay Turned Over To National Parks Board

Flowerpot Island, in Georgian Bay, has been turned over to the national parks branch of the Department of the Interior. It is situated at the mouth of the Bruce Peninsula, and gets its name from two rock formations that resemble huge flowerpots. These have been formed by erosion of the sea, and have been crowned on the top. The parks branch will reinforce the "flowerpots" as their bases are in danger of being eaten away entirely by the action of the waves.

Crows Nest Rates To Churchill

Will Effect a Big Saving To Saskatchewan Farmers

Inauguration of the Crows Nest rates to Churchill on the Hudson Bay Railway will mean an average saving over regular rates of 12.24 cents per bushel on wheat shipped from Saskatchewan, according to calculations made by George H. Smith, freight rates expert of the Saskatchewan Government. Hr. Hon. R. B. Bennett, in his address at Regina, intimated that rates of the Crows Nest rate basis would be effective on the Hudson Bay Railway.

The average rate reduction, according to figures compiled by the department of railways, labor and industries, is 20.4 cents per 100 pounds. The saving from Regina is 20½ cents; from Moose Jaw, 20 cents; from Saskatoon, 23½ cents; from Swanson 20¼ cents; from Melville, 18½ cents; from Yorkton, 20 cents; Prince Albert, 19½ cents; North Battleford, 20 cents; Lloydminster, 21½ cents; and Alsask, 21½ cents. The saving is over the mileage grs n rates which w uld otherwise be in force.

Hon. J. A. Merkley, Minister of Railways, Labor and Industries, stated that the arrangements have been made by the freight rates branch of his department to carefully compile the schedules of the Crows Nest grain rates to Churchill from all Saskatchewan points. When this work is completed, the Canadian Nat onal Railways will file the freight tariff containing the rates with the railway commission at Ottawa.

That the Crows Nest rates should be applied from all Saskatchewan points on flour, oatmeal, bran, shorts and other mill products in order that the movement of these commodities may not be diverted southward over the Hudson Bay Railways should also receive the benefit of the rates in the opinion of the provincial government. The matter is being taken up.

Saskatchewan Oil Discovery

Another Find Of Oil Reported In the Readyn Valley

Another find of oil is reported in the Readyn Valley on the farm of Thomas Powley. It is found that with pumping water a greasy substance comes up with the water and when separated readily ignites.

This greasy substance comes up through a strata of sandstone and this sandstone when split open reveals samples of forest leaves embedded in the rock. F. Bridger, of Readyn, Sask., opened up some of the sandstone formation and on splitting the rock found the leaves in almost perfect condition. It shows that at some time the whole of the valley must have been a dense forest.

Farmers are of the opinion that gas and oil abounds in huge quantities under the rock formation at less than 500 feet. Mud geysers exist in sight or nine places and seem to be bottomless, continously bubbling with grease and oil.

The Canadian Pacific Railway runs right through the centre of this coal and oil valley from end to end. A government inspector stated that requests have been received to drill in the interests of Readyn but as far as permission has been granted owing to the compact nature of the village.

The new find of Thomas Powley is just one mile up the valley from the C.P.R. depot and of course would be less hazardous for exploitation.

THE MINISTRY OF JOHN THE BAPTIST

Golden Text: "Bring forth therefore fruits worthy of repentance."—Luke 3.8.

Lesson: Luke 3.

Devotional Reading: Isaiah 40.3-11.

Explanations and Comments

John's Preaching In the Wilderness, verses 1-6.—To John, son of Zacharias, the word of the Lord came (he was made conscious that this was God's plan for him), directing him to go to the Jordan, and preach the baptism of repentance unto the remission of sins: thereby, says Luke, fulfilling the words of Isaiah (Isaiah 40.3-5).

"John baptized, that is, he used a purifying rite in connection with his preaching. It helps to remember the distinction between baptism as practiced in the Christian Church and as practiced by John. In the church baptism has come to be regarded as a dedicatory rite by some, and by others as an initial and once-for-all rite. But to the first use of it, by John and Jesus, it was a purifying rite. It was a confessional rite but of sin, and the need of cleansing, not, as later, of faith in a person or a creed, although it did imply acceptance of the new leadership. To a Hebrew mind it was prescribed by prophet as well as by word."—R. D. Gordon.

The "all the country round about" verse 7-9.—Our poet Lowell speaks of

"A kind of maddened John the Baptist and harsh indeed was John's word to the multitude who came to him in the baptism of "repentance unto repentance," was the way in which he addressed them. "Vipers and serpents were considered emblems of deceitfulness and wickedness by the Hebrews, and Sadducees by this term because, knowing their natural deceitfulness they would be driven to the severity of their motive in coming to him. And they thought to escape?—Impossible! It is worth while to warn you to flee from the wrath to come? The phrase the wrath to come recalls the picture of a harvest field, the fruit ripened for the flames when the stubble is set on fire. The wrath of Messiah was expected to be a day of judgment. Luke 3.9 Now also the Pharisees' (Boorish) themselves are victimized, and should not have feared the judgment; since the Gentiles received not to believe in it, they should not have been disturbed.

"Bring forth therefore"—if you would escape the wrath to come, "fruits worthy of repentance." Deeds that will prove that a genuine change of heart has come over you.

"The life is the best and most sublime penitence."—Martin Luther.

Fish Farming

New Idea In Being Promoted In Northern Saskatchewan

"Fish Farms" are now being promoted in British Columbia. An undertaking is under way to stock the Provincial Government a loop lesour s' n mall lakes which is to be followed by the planting of fish, such as whitefish or lake trout, with a view to providing the general market with a supply of fish for food. The fish would be ready three or four years after stocking the lake.

"Come," he said at last, "take down those hands or I'll do it for you. Sit down, Angela. If you're really suffering, I'm sorry; but you're a good actress, and you've cheated me too many times. I never mention the Aubeyn scheme now that it is on, or—or as a warning. God! do you think I want to remember?"

She sank down, and, her hands on her arms relaxed. Her husband moved nearer.

"You told me," he said, "that if you had a garden—someth'ng to work over—you'd be safe. You were frightened then. You probably believed it, but I can see now that the garden is only a pose. It doesn't absorb you any more than does your painting—or your singing, at which you might do something worth while. Nothing has ever absorbed you but the pursuit of man. If you had a child—"

She looked at him, and her lip curled.

"Didn't you once say that I was not fit to be a mother?"

"You're not fit——"

Her eyes blazed.

"I suppose you'd like to see me turn into a drone, like that stupid fat-cheeked nest next door. Two babies in four years! I call it indecent. I don't believe she's seen her back bare in a mirror since the first one came. I doubt if she's had a new gown since the last. I'll see my self as I have a third before she has time to see a dressmaker. That sort always does. She's stupid—too stupid to know her own husband—too stupid to see that a man won't stand her untidy ways. Why, by fitting a finger I could have Nick Hastings eating out of my hand!"

"Take care then, that you don't hit it; for I warn you, Angela, that if you hitted more than a finger the other night, and as I told you then—it didn't work."

Angela laughed bitterly.

"Well, I'll show you that it will work. I——"

"You will not! Do you understand? I don't ask you to prom se, because I know you don't keep your promises; but I shall watch, and you know, Angela, things don't escape me."

He moved toward the door as if the interview were at an end; then paused, looking back at the blue figure in the divan. Angela's shoulders had drooped in an attitude of such weariness as she seldom allowed herself. Even her eyes looked tired; and at the slight something hovered wistfully across her husband's face—an elusive th'ng that seldom came there, striking out for a moment, leaving in its place a glimpse of something better that fought unhappily for life. He turned, and going to the side, laid his hand gently on her arm.

"My dear—I don't mean to be unkind. Deep in your heart you know that I have never been unkind—don't you? More—than anything in the world, Angela, I desire your happiness. There is nothing I would not do for you. If—if you could be satisfied with me—alone."

"You'll——"

She sprang up, shaking off his hand as if it scorched her.

"Never!"

She laughed, scornfully, and sweeping past him without a glance, ran up the stairs.

For a moment James Halliday stood where she had left him. It was not until the sound of her feet was silenced, that he sighed, wearily, like a man who has fought and lost. Then, catching sight of himself in a long mirror, he straightened up, and his lips took on their familiar, unpleasant curve. There was no trace left of the thing that had lighted his face a moment since; and with a shrug that might have been Angela's very own, he went back to his study and the day's work.

CHAPTER IX.

Gay had been gone a month, a month that had brought color to her cheeks and rest to her eyes. She was right in thinking that mordid ideas couldn't live under the same roof with Uncle Sim. His unfailing kindliness—his faith in God and his fellowmen was something before which doubt and suspicion faded away. And the month that Gay had been mine in repetition of their honeymoon. One never-to-be-forgotten day they left the babies with Uncle Sim and the housekeeper, and tramped off together, so sure-free as two children out of school.

"You just leave your responsibilities with Mis' Bemis and me, and forget 'em for a spell," the old man had counseled. "You'll be all the gladder to pick 'em up again when you get back."

"You bet we will!" said Nick, lifting his youngest responsibility for a kiss. "Come on, Gay. You don't know the ins and outs of infant feeding before you were born. You needn't advise her any further."

"That's right," said Simeon. "Run along now and don't keep Nick waitin'. Shan't look for you till the cows come home, Gerry; you don't mind if you look old enough to have two ha'rs on?"

"We don't feel old enough—today."

PHILLIPS Milk of Magnesia Tablets To Add Magnesia to Your Diet

WHAT most people call indigestion is usually excess acid in the stomach. Food has soured. The instant remedy is an alkali which neutralizes acids but don't use crude soda. Then what your doctor would advise.

The best body is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. For the 50 years since its invention, it has remained standard with physicians. You will find nothing else so quick in its effect, so harmless, so efficient.

One teaspoonful to water neutralizes many times its volume in acid. The results are immediate with no harmful after-effects.

Once you learn this perfect way you'll never deal in any other manner with the headaches, gas, bloating, nausea, sour taste, indigestion, biliousness, etc., due to an over-acid stomach and bowels.

Be sure to get genuine Phillips'. It is always a liquid; never made in tablet form. Look for the name Phillips on the bottle. All druggists sell it—30c.

More Than Local Problem

Plight Of Western Farmer Matter Of National Concern

If the farmers of the west have made a mistake in depending too largely on wheat growing a change must be made. But as mod farming cannot be adopted at a moment's notice. In the meantime the inability of the west to sell its wheat surplus is more than a local problem. It is a matter of national concern that affects the prosperity of the east only in lesser degree to that of the west itself.

E. W. Beatty, president of the C.P.R., was right when he said that some form of temporary ass stance must be worked out. The lack of buying power of the western farmers has a direct effect on economic conditions in the eastern provinces. It is useless to say that relief can be dismissed as a purely sectional matter in which the east has no concern. The C.P.R. president is decided i as to the best and most effectual method of assistance, and that question must be settled by co-operation between the Federal Government and the provincial governments of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.—Toronto Telegram.

STAGE A CHARITY OPERA

With the ever urgent need for more funds to carry on relief measures in our local organizations, it has been suggested an opera be put on as a means to end by local talent. The previous musical comedies staged here, Vermilion artists have won established praise and drawn capacity audiences on each and every occasion. Money is not over-abundant or conditions as good as might be desired, as a consequence it is impossible for individuals to contribute any substantial sums, much as they would wish to do so. A co-operated effort such as the above would assure a very large lump sum towards carrying on the good work. It is an easy effort which will carry its own reward.

NON-RATEPAYERS OF HOSPITAL DISTRICT CAN GET $1.00 DAY RATE

The Standard feels it is no important to all non-ratepayers of our hospital district that they should secure the privilege of the one dollar a day rate in the event of requiring hospital treatment, that it urges they do so at once or pay the six dollars required to entitle them to the low rate. This fee must be paid to the secretary of the board not later than the last day of the present month. If this is not done the rate chargeable is $1.50 per day.

If you are assessed and pay taxes on property within the hospital district, the $1.00 per day rate applies; all others may become entitled to a similar rate by becoming special ratepayers on payment of the sum of $6.00 by January 31. Bear in mind the special ratepayer's fee covers himself, wife, dependent family and resident domestic help; this from a business standpoint alone is a big enough incentive for any ratepayers to immediately secure such a safeguard against a possible eventuality.

Parties paying a business tax only, as may be the case in towns, do not come within the meaning of the act as being ratepayers and in order to qualify for the dollar a day rate must pay the fee to become special ratepayers.

The board have been endeavoring both by advertising and circular letter, to bring these special ratepayers' reconsiderations before all interested parties so from now on is in the invervion to adhere strictly to the act. If you should be unfortunate enough to be one who has to pay the $2.50 per day rate by neglecting to take advantage of the provisions provided, no one will be to blame but yourself. It is the best insurance you can have, and you will as well be assisting materially (while protecting yourself) in the splendid necessary work of the board in getting funds to carry on and maintain the efficiency and service provided by this institution.

YOUR RESOLUTION!

By J. D. Skinner.

"RESOLVED that my support to the home-town paper in 1931 will be 100 per cent."

Now this would be a rare and vital resolution and in the keeping of it there would be great reward. Rare because you have never before seen or heard of it; vital, because the future of the small town largely depends upon the keeping of it.

A few years ago an able and arresting article was written by an editor of a small town weekly in Alberta. The business men of the town were complaining because of the heavy toll being taken by mail order houses. During the year the combined amounts spent by the local merchants in advertising was only a fraction of that spent, in the same area, mark you, by one mail order house. The advertisements of the local merchants had few, if any, illustrations and lack of care in their preparation was very much in evidence. On the other hand the catalogue of the mail order house was attractively illustrated and written in a concise and compelling style. The article clearly demonstrated why the home town merchant and the home town were dying out.

A prominent merchant in a small British Columbia town does not advertise in the home local paper. He remarked that it is a waste of money because the people in the town and district know where to find him. The people also know where to find the mail order house, but the mail order house is alive to the necessity of keeping its message constantly before the people. Here I was told from a well informed source that many many thousands of town in Canada than was spent locally.

A little reflection reveals the fact that the home town merchant is not getting that share of the money spent in advertising, but that he is actually paying for the advertising done by the mail order house. How come? Part of the net earnings of the mail order house in a given section is used in advertising in that section. Because of effective advertising on the one hand and the lack of it on the other, more money is being withheld from the home town merchant, so that in the last analysis the mail order house advertising at the expense of the home town merchant.

Now I am not thinking of advertising in the sense of constructing her, paying for and "Bills" space in the local paper. I am thinking of a wide-awake merchant presenting his message each week to the buying public in a compelling style. And if the ad writer would just visualize an mail order of anywhere from a few hundred to a few thousand people he would soon get away from the tragic penny-wise of "something is $0 up for this week."

Many of our once thriving towns are going to pieces for want of such in 1931. This is going to be done through advertising. Advertising sent the business away while the home town merchant slumbered and slept, but the home town merchant has been awakened and the best business is going to be won back through advertising. More and better advertising will make a prosperous paper and a prosperous paper will make a prosperous town.

And this is why the people of the home town should resolve to give a 100 per cent. support to the home town paper this and every year.

High School Notes

Funniest thing seen in the school this week was Mr. Addison's jay over a small black "peach" which had been placed on his desk in the noon hour.

Muriel Curtis came back to school Monday morning after an absence of six weeks. We all welcome her back again, especially the Glee Club.

Some history students class dances at the school Wednesday afternoon in the Literary meeting. The topic was "Advance of World in Eighty Minutes" as it was much enjoyed by the students. The next best thing to being in a place is to hear and see pictures of it.

Girls! Don't forget to turn out to hockey practise Saturday at 1 p. m. Moreover we are asking you to come earlier and be ready to start right on the dot.

ALBERTA FARMERS TO GATHER IN THE SOUTH, JANUARY 20th.

Largest Attendance in History of U.F.A. Expected at Calgary

The largest attendance in the history of the organization is expected at the 23rd annual convention of the United Farmers and United Farm Women of Alberta which is to be held at Central United church, Calgary, on Tuesday, January 20th, until Friday, January 23rd inclusive.

In the past the convention has alternated between Edmonton and Calgary with Edmonton's turn coming in 1931, but on account of economic depression it was felt that a greater attendance would be encouraged with less expense involved for all concerned if it was held at Calgary.

In addition to the delegates from locals, Dominion and Provincial constituencies will be represented as previous for this was made at the last convention for each of these to send one delegate.

On the opening day addresses will be given by His Honor Lieut. Gov. Dr. William Egbert, Premier J. E. Brownlee, Mayor Andy Davison of Calgary, and addresses embodying reports from various officials.

On Wednesday the main business will be the election of president and vice-president.

Dr. R. C. Wallace, president of the University of Alberta, will be a speaker during the day, while an address by Premier Brownlee and transaction of business will take up most of the remaining time allotted for the convention.—Irma Times.

NEWS FROM ISLAY

WHEAT POOL MEETING IS LARGELY ATTENDED

Three Prominent Speakers

A public meeting in the interests of the wheat pool was held in the senior school on Saturday afternoon and was attended by an extremely large crowd. The speakers were Jas. F. Watson of Edmonton, George Bennett of Mannville and Andrew Wood of Dewberry. Many topics of vital interest to wheat growers were brought up and discussed.

Congratulations are due to Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Heath on the birth of a baby girl at the Islay hospital a short time ago.

The regular meeting of the Sunshine club was held at the home of Mrs. H. Gilchrist on Wednesday, January 7th.

The curling season for the ladies opened last Saturday night when a double header was scheduled.

Mr. Rose, our popular bank manager, is giving dance skating lessons to the youth and any others who care to benefit by them, in the arena at Vermilion.

A very enjoyable surprise party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ward of the Bridstow district last Monday night, Jan. 5th when several car and sleigh loads of neighbors invaded their home. The evening was passed with old time dances of every description.

The board of the United church have purchased two dozen new chairs as they were unfortunate in losing their's in the fire in the Moore Hall fire.

SCHIRRMACHER—GOOD

On Saturday afternoon, January 10, the marriage was solemnized of Mr. E. F. Schirrmacher, of Chelsea, Alberta, and Miss Bernice H. Good, of Clandonald, Alberta. The ceremony took place in Grace United church, the Rev. Clarence Halliday officiating. The bride was attended by Miss M. McDonald, while the groomsman was Mr. J. Schirrmacher. The young couple will take up residence on the groom's farm at Chelsewyn, and the best wishes of a host of friends are theirs for a long and happy married life.—Lloydminster Times.

Skating enthusiasts held a meeting in the Arena last Tuesday evening for the purpose of forming a figure skating club. Over twenty prospective members are available. Mr. W. Enos of Islay and Nell Primrose, of Glenora Club fame and owner of Vegreville Rink were present at the meeting. It is proposed to set a fee of $1.00 per member, this fee is more at the end of the season if expenses are not covered. The Arena would be set aside for one hour Tuesday evenings, 7 to 8, for the use of club members.

Both Mr. Enos and Mr. Primrose are past masters of figure skating, and begin their pupils with the fundamental movements required. From present appearances hopes are held out for an enthusiastic club here.

WORLD COMPETITION

GROW WHEAT AT LESS COST

Wheat is a world commodity. Because of this fact the price the Canadian grower gets for his wheat is determined by conditions beyond Canadian control.

The Canadian wheat grower's problem, therefore, is one of reducing costs of production. Only by doing this can the Canadian grower be assured of maximum profits when forced to meet the competition of other wheat exporting countries.

For the past three years the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada, Limited, in co-operation with the Dominion and Provincial Governments, has conducted experimental work in the hope of being able to assist the Canadian grower in solving this problem.

More than one thousand test plots of from five to eight acres each were fertilized with Ammonium Phosphate and Triple Super Phosphate during 1930 in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta in the furtherance of this experimental work.

The results, checked against unfertilized plots, prove that less seed and less labor are required to produce each bushel.

The effects of fertilization have been:

Increased Yield.
Higher Quality Grain.
Marked Reduction in Weeds.
Greater Resistance to Rust.
Cut Down Loss From Blowing and From Five to Ten Days Earlier Maturity.

These tests were made in all parts of the three Prairie Provinces and generally the results have been most encouraging.

The experimental work has been carried on under the field direction of Dr. R. E. Neidig, who has compiled the results obtained in these districts and will gladly give any wheat grower the details. You are invited to write for information to:

A Turnover Tax

Financial journals throughout Canada are discussing probable ways and means whereby the Dominion Government will raise the revenues required to carry on all the services and administrative responsibilities of the Federal Government, meet the charges on the public debt, and balance the national budget. The same question is receiving the close attention of the Prime Minister and His Cabinet, and before long will demand consideration by Parliament and the people generally.

It is idealized to contend that the Dominion will face a deficit in the operations of government for the year 1930-31; that, instead of the national debt being reduced, it will be increased. In view of this situation, steps must be taken to decrease expenditure of revenue because no reductions in expenditure that could possibly be made would, in themselves, be sufficient to offset the decline in revenues which has taken place, and which it is forecasted will exist for this year.

This is not a party question; it is a national problem to be faced and solved. Canada is not alone in having to face such a condition; other nations are in exactly the same box.

It is estimated that the Dominion's deficit this year will be in the neighborhood of $75,000,000. There has been heavy declines in Customs duties, sales tax receipts, excise tax. The income tax yielded a slight increase, but it was payable on 1929 incomes, which were generally greater than in 1930, so that a drop in this source of revenue next year must be anticipated. Furthermore inasmuch as it is the Government's policy approved by the people in the last general election to cut off some hundreds of millions of imports it follows that Customs duties will show a still greater drop this year.

On the expenditure side of the national ledger increases rather than decreases must be looked for. The unemployment relief bill of $30,000,000 has to be met; Old Age Pensions to be borne solely by the Dominion rather than fifty-fifty with the Provinces, and which will be made effective in all Provinces means an expenditure of another $20,000,000 or more; and the completion of the Trans-Canada Highway will be an expensive undertaking.

So more money must be found, and a fairly large sum at that. In view of the fact that the Sales Tax has been reduced to a mere one per cent., that Income Tax returns will be smaller; that Customs duties will take a drop as a result of decreased imports and cannot be depended upon in future to yield the major portion of the national revenue, it is being suggested in many parts of Canada that both the Sales Tax and the Income Tax be abolished in their entirety, and that a new tax, a tax on turnover, be created.

This proposal is deserving of study and should be the subject of discussion by all the people, because it is a tax that will be paid by every-body. It has the merit that no one will be able to escape from it. The other question is, will it be equitable to all in relation to the ability of each and all to pay.

A turnover tax means a tax on every business transaction that takes place in Canada. A Customs tax applies only to articles imported into Canada from other countries, an Excise tax is imposed on only a number of specified articles, including liquors, tobacco, matches, bank cheques, etc.; the Sales tax is levied on a limited number of transactions. But a turnover tax would mean the levy of the tax on each individual transaction, whether it be on the raw materials sold to the manufacturer, on the manufactured article sold the jobber or wholesaler, on the same article agreed when sold by the wholesaler or jobber to the retailer, and again when sold by the retailer to the ultimate consumer. It would mean a tax on railway tickets, telegrams, telephones. It is a tax which hotels and restaurants would have to levy; you would pay it to the barber, to the taxi driver, to the newspaper publishers, to the theatre. And so on all along the line every time an article was sold by some person and received by another.

The annual turnover of business in Canada amounts to many billions of dollars—just how large the amount is it is difficult to even estimate. Even a very small tax, a trifling tax, one per cent., one-half of one per cent., one-quarter of one per cent. would yield an enormous revenue. But where a small article passes through many hands or avenues of trade before it reaches the final consumer, even a small tax on each turnover might mean a fairly heavy charge in the end.

Possibly certain exemptions would be provided, but the moment exemptions are provided possibilities for evasion of the tax arise; also the danger of discrimination in favor of one class of people, business or industry. The whole subject is intensely interesting, and, as stated, deserving of close study and full discussion.

Was Noted Scientist

Dr. Henry Ami, Canadian Archaeologist, Dies In France

Dr. Henry Marc Ami, one of Canada's outstanding scientists, died recently at Menton, France, according to news received at his Ottawa home. An archaeologist and paleontologist of international reputation, Dr. Ami started the world of science a few years ago by his discovery of evidence to lend up to show that the Eskimo races, now found exclusively in the Canadian Arctic, at one time lived in France.

In recent years, Dr. Ami divided his time between France and Canada. He was the founder and leader of the Canadian School of Prehistoric Archaeology in Paris, described by the late Sir Edmund Walker, C.V.O., as the University of Manitoba.

Dr. Ami is survived by his widow, three grandchildren, Christine H. Slater, Clare and Jeanne-Anne Slater, of Toronto, and a brother William Ami, of the University of Manitoba, Winnipeg.

Woman's Fortitude

Forces Herself To Smile Through Pain

"I never seem to find time to rest," says some an overwhelmed housewife. Under smiles and forced cheerfulness she conceals constant head nervous depression; headaches and backaches. Often she is real pain, but still refuses to give up. This is wrong. It is not to be her undoing. If she continues to neglect the signals of distress, it will sooner or later suffer a serious breakdown.

A noted doctor has stated that nine-tenths of the ills of womanhood are due to poor blood. That means, in the cause of the low spirits, the nerve appetite, the thin skin, that makes life a burden for so many.

There is no wonder however, for women to suffer in this way. All the factors of womanhood are helped by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These Pills create an abundance of new, rich blood. This fresh, red blood will bring strength and vitality to every nerve, muscle and tissue. Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Excavations In Mesopotamia

Interesting Discoveries Reported Of Traces Of Ancient Civilization

Excavation in Ur of the Chaldees in Mesopotamia, which is the actual proof of the existence of buildings and a civilization there prior to the flood described in the Bible, was announced in London, England.

The announcement was made by Dr. Langdon, of the University of Pennsylvania and the British Museum, headed by C. L. Woolley.

The excavations into the ruins of Ur, it was declared, proved the existence of the civilization to the flood which the flood actually covered.

The scientists also discovered interesting traces of the last stage of the third dynasty, about 2400 to 2300 B.C., the report disclosed.

Cavalry Honors

Units Of Canadian Cavalry Brigade Awarded Battle Honors

Units of the Canadian cavalry brigade are awarded their battle honors in a list published by the Department of National Defence here Saturday. The Royal Canadian Dragoons, a regiment of the permanent force, and the Fort Gary Horse, are included in the distribution, which differs somewhat from that of the infantry battalions of the Canadian corps. Up to the end of 1915 the Canadian cavalry regiments served as "corps troops," taking equal turn in the trenches along with the infantry; but early in 1916 they were withdrawn and transferred to one of the British cavalry divisions.

The honors include "Ypres-tin," 1916; "Festubert," 1916; "Somme," 1916; "Arras," 1917; "St. Quentin," 1918, and "Bourlevoir," 1918.

Other units whose battle honors are announced are:

The Manitoba Mounted Rifles, the 1st Cavalry Machine Gun Squadron, and the machine gun squadrons of the Canadian Cavalry Brigade, of Winnipeg, Man., the Manitoba Rifles, of Portage la Prairie, Man.; the 19th Canadian Light Horse, of Shaunavon, Sask.; the Scottish Highlanders of Canada, with perpetuation the 72nd Canadian Infantry Battalion.

Find Ancient Tomb

King and Queen Who Ruled In Egypt 4,000 Years Ago

The remains of a king and queen, believed by experts to have reigned from 1,800 to 2,000 years ago, have been found in a tomb in Egypt, according to Miss Carrick-on-Shannon, Ireland, says the Sunday Times.

The tomb, lying side by side, were discovered in a vault the entrance of which was barred by a solid wall of masonry measuring more than 10 tons. Their heads were facing the former royal seat of the Pharaohs, kings whose supposedly crowned in pagan days. Historians believed they are members of the family of Rameses the Great.

Unnecessary Noise

Is Not Conducive To Good Health, Says McGill Professor

Life is too loud these days, and there's unnecessary clamor is not conducive to good health or good hearing, Professor H. E. Reilley of the Physics Department of McGill University told the Montreal Kiwanis Club recently.

Enemies of noise have collected some interesting data in a recent survey and have come to the following conclusions, he said:

1. That a policeman blows his whistle 10,000,000 times louder than necessary.

2. That the blast of a steamboat siren in 100,000,000 times louder than necessary.

3. That an automobile horn is sounded 50,000,000 times louder than is necessary, and on a clear day can be heard ten miles away.

4. That dogs bark too loudly.

5. That boys shout too loudly.

6. That the milkman, the grocery-man, the baker, and the butcher's boy all ring the doorbell too long.

Future Of Television

Will Be Commercial Proposition Within Five Years

Television will be a commercial proposition within five years in the opinion of Major-General J. G. Harbord, chairman of the Radio Corporation of America, who was a New Year's guest of Col. Hanford MacNider, United States minister to Canada.

Mr. Harbord could see many advantages in government-owned and controlled broadcasting, but he believed Canada would be served better if control of radio were left to private venture.

Resourceful Carpenters

Men in Florida Insured Against Starvation Anyway

When work is slack, as it is the past summer, leaving 150 members of the carpenters' union of Lake Worth, Fla., facing a Lenten winter, they leased a 50-acre farm, and those without jobs began working on it at farm laborers' pay. This evening many building jobs for the remaining carpenters by decreasing the number working part-time. Last year there was 20,000 cabbages, 10,000 egg plants, and large patches of potatoes and beans ready for picking shortly. "We won't starve, anyway," says Ralph Osborn, president of the union. "If we don't sell our stuff at a profit, we'll eat it."

U. S.-CANADA AIR ROUTE OPENS ON FEBRUARY 2

Washington, D.C.—Two new international air route routes, one linking equatorial heat and Arctic cold, the other involving trans-oceanic travel hazards, were being worked out by postal officials.

Assistant Postmaster-General Glover announced the completed schedule for the United States-Canada route, to open February 2. This will give a continuous Chicago-to-Winnipeg service, with intermediate La Crosse, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Fargo, Grand Forks and Pembina as the stops.

The St. Paul-to-Winnipeg leg completes an 11,000-mile north-to-south stretch, reaching from the Yukon, where mails have hitherto been carried by dog team, through temperate and torrid zones to temperate again, terminating at Panama, South America, a three-weeks' air trip.

Mr. Glover said he expected to participate in the ceremonies at opening the route.

Postmaster-General Brown had before him the revised specifications for the European route to Rio de Janeiro. Several weeks ago, bids were called for, but the advertisements were withdrawn because of ambiguity.

The newly-drafted advertisement now under consideration by the general's approval to be reissued. Mr. Brown said bids will be opened 60 days after the advertisement appears.

Saskatchewan Legislature

Third Session Of Seventh Legislature Is Formally Opened

Regina, Sask.—The third session of the seventh legislature of Saskatchewan was formally opened Thursday afternoon, January 8, by Frederick W. G. Haultain, official administrator of the province, in the absence of Lieutenant-Governor H. W. Newlands.

A salute of 21 guns was fired from the cannon along the lake front, and shortly afterwards Sir Frederick Haultain and his Aide-de-Camp, Escort arrived at the Parliament Buildings. Heralded by Lt.-Col. A. G. Styles, aide-de-camp to the lieutenant-governor, Sir Frederick entered the chamber at 2:05 p.m., and proceeding to the dais, read out the Speech from the Throne.

The Speech from the Throne for the most part concerned with the work of the government's record during the past year, and forecast Bills now legislation of the session. The 1930 power transmission line construction program will be continued. Provincial highway and agricultural industry are to be dealt with during the session, but no intimation was given as to the nature of the legislation to be introduced. Nor was anything said about the proposed highway program.

In connection with public health, the Speech announced that an institution to segregate mental defectives and mental hospital accommodation was being planned, and also that the government intended to take comprehensive measures against the disease trachoma.

Shipping Into B.C. Decreased

Vancouver, B.C.—Final figures of deep-sea movement into this port in 1930 are now compiled by the Vancouver Merchants' Exchange and show a total of 1,186 arrivals, of 4,474,826 net tonnage. This is a reduction as compared with the two preceding years. In 1929 the total was 1,235 vessels and 4,606,649 net tons and in 1928 it was 1,325 vessels and 1,668,002 net tons.

Reduction In Prices

Ottawa, Ont.—Hon. G. D. Robertson, Minister of Labor, expressed satisfaction at reductions in the price of commodities, including breadstuff foods, that had been effected recently as a result of representations made by the labor department. The probe being conducted by the department under the Combines Investigation Act into the price of bread is expected to be concluded shortly.

Wheat Market Menace

Says Russia Can Supply the World With Wheat

Washington, D.C.—Chairman Fish of the special House Communist investigation committee said in the House recently, the use of the United States farm march navy in Russia would do away with the world market for United States wheat.

Production of Russian wheat will be so greatly increased by the use of this machinery, he said, that Russia will be able to supply the world.

He asked the House to approve his resolution by which the Red Cross would distribute some of the wheat held by the Farm Board to the hungry. This, Fish added, would decrease the surplus in the United States and prevent a drop in the price.

FRANCE PAYS FINAL TRIBUTE TO WAR HERO

Paris, France.—France, in a final tribute of love and respect to the "Savior" of Paris, gave Marshal Joffre a national funeral which in its grandeur, reminded of that "Arch of Ather" when the body of Napoleon Bonaparte was brought back from St. Helena.

The body of the victor of the Marne city, like that of Napoleon, under the grand dome of the Invalides, in a distinct sanctity of the Chapel of St. Louis, dedicated to the old crusader king. It was placed there so that Madame Joffre might pray beside her soldier husband in silence.

Some months from now the body will be transferred to "Chestnut Grove," the marshal's country home, where it will entombed in a mausoleum.

Presidents and state united to make the last rites of France's loved soldier a full expression of the Republic's gratitude and respect. The thousand French people who filled the gray old cathedral of Notre Dame and the million or more who lined the streets of the cortege from the cathedral to the Invalides testified abundantly the love that Paris bore for "Papa" Joffre.

There was not a foot of standing room at Notre Dame when the arrival of President Doumergue signalled the beginning of the Requiem Mass, shortened at Joffre's own request. Premier Chautemps and the government were here in sombre garb and representatives of many foreign countries, the ambassador as the personal representatives of rulers and sovereigns. Monsignor Joseph Marie Verdier, bishop of Schloss-Bar-Marne, read the absolution and gave the final blessing.

Outside in the square in front of the cathedral the cortege formed. Republican Guardsmen in the lead. On either side of the coffin marched a company of infantry, and behind, after the marshal's immediate family, marched the president, members of the government, and the diplomatic corps.

An orderly led "Bordure," the marshal's horse, caparisoned in black.

There was Indian splendor as the cortege moved slowly up the Rue de Rivoli to the Place de la Concorde and the Champs Elysees, where it turned and crossed the Alexander III. bridge to the Great Square in front of the Invalides. There Louis Barthou, Minister of War, paid the government's eulogy.

He hailed Joffre as a "saviour of world liberty" and said that he was there to "voice the unanimous gratitude of the nation."

After the funeral oration the marshal's body was borne solemnly to the chapel where it will remain until the mausoleum at Louveciennes is ready.

Mourning for Marshal Joffre was expressed in all the theatres which remained open. Simultaneously in each, at 9 o'clock, an actor appeared on the stage and read the marshal's famous Marne battle order of the day in which e called on the French soldiers to do rather than retreat. A minute's silence was asked, and as it ended the orchestra sounded Taps.

British Battle Fleet On Cruise

Portsmouth, England.—The British battleship "Nelson" has started on a cruise during which she will visit the United States fleet at Colon, Panama, February 23. The "Nelson," flying the flag of Admiral Sir Michael Hodges, will head a special squadron of seven new battleships and cruisers, the finest Great Britain has ever sent to the West Indies. The squadron will visit each British possession there.

FIVE ITALIAN FLYERS KILLED IN TAKE-OFF

Bulama, Portuguese Guinea, Africa. —Five Italian aviators died and three others were injured at the start of the great aviation detachment which carried 10 seaplanes safely from this point on the West African coast to Brazil.

The Stefani News Agency, official Italian press service, said that two planes crashed shortly after the take-off.

Two others which were forced to land on the ocean, while General Italo Balbo, took the ten remaining ships safely into Natal, were taken in charge by Italian naval vessels. The Stefani Agency said both were expected to be towed to Gerzando Norte-nha, Brazilian penal island, not far from Natal.

This official announcement by the Stefani Agency came up on the confusion which has existed since General Balbo and his ten ships skimmed in to Natal at 10:47 after a speedy trip of 17 hours, 15 minutes yesterday. First reports said that 12 ships left Bolama with two of them landing at sea en route, but later dispatches from various sources asserted that two had not been able to take off. The official report denied that 14 or two of them were repair and replacement units not scheduled to make the last lap originally took off.

Of the two which met disaster, Captain Renagno took up one from the water, but it dived sharply after reaching an altitude of only about 50 yards. The man killed, a sergeant-major of the Italian Air Force, was flying above the right pontoon, which was shoved upward and wrecked when the ship dipped in the water's face. Captain Renagno, another officer acting as co-pilot, and the mechanic were injured.

The other unfortunate ship commanded by Capta'n Bocr, flew all right for about five minutes after the take-off, but suddenly was forced to land at full speed.

So sharply did the heavy seaplane slip down upon the ocean, that fire broke out and burned to death the two occupants, Captain Beer, Lieutenant Barbiciati, Sergeant Mechanic Nesia, and Radio Operator Barbiciati. The mechanic was injured.

Attributed to the extremely heavy loads carried.

Postpones Flight

Amy Johnson, British Girl Flyer, Will Await More Favorable Weather

Warsaw, Poland. — Amy Johnson, the British girl flyer, has postponed her flight to China until more favorable weather, which she does not expect to have before spring.

She will leave Warsaw by train for Moscow, where she expects to meet Soviet government officials in her attempt and hopes to get full information necessary for her flight across the Ural Mountains and Siberia.

She expects to return to Warsaw this week, by which time her 'plane, damaged when it was forced down at Amelin, near here, will have been repaired.

Saskatchewan Village Has Disastrous Fire

Business Section Of Maymar In Prey To Flames

Saskatoon, Sask.—The explosion of a lamp leaves the village of Maymar, on the new Speers-Rabbit Lake branch northwest of Saskatoon, with most of its business places in ruins. Before the fire could be checked two general stores, the Bank of Toronto building, and a Chinese restaurant were gutted. An early estimate said the damage at around $50,000.

David Cunningham was about to retire when the explosion of a lamp in his store quickly spread the fire and despite desperate efforts of the villagers who worked a bucket brigade, W. F. Allsopp's general store, post office, the bank and restaurant were enveloped in flames. Without any fire equipment the villagers tore down an implement office and so stopped any further spread of flames.

Maymar, which is 72 miles north of Speers, was established only two and a half years ago when the new branch line went through that territory.

Provinces Pay Five Per Cent.

Ottawa Assumes Each Of Cost Of Old Age Pensions

Winnipeg, Man.—The Dominion government in future will pay 95 per cent of the cost of old age pensions, it was revealed by John Bracken premier of Manitoba.

Mr. Bracken in commenting on the western premiers' conference here with Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, disclosed that assurance had been given by Mr. Bennett that the provinces would be called upon to pay only 5 per cent. of the old age pension charges as compared with the 50 per cent. now contributed.

Canada Scholarship Fund

Large Amount Being Subscribed To Bring British Graduates Here

Montreal.—Subscription of $500,000 is now being made in Canada and England, to be known as the "Canada Scholarship Fund," to bring British public or secondary school graduates to Canada for their university education and subsequent entrance to Canadian life.

Canada's allotment, of the fund is half of the total, most of which has already been pledged upon condition that a similar amount is raised in Great Britain, according to an announcement made today at McGill University.

E. W. Beatty, K.C., is the chairman of the Canadian committee which also comprises Sir Arthur Currie, principal and vice-chancellor of McGill University.

Brig.-Gen. V. W. Odlum, of Vancouver, and Dr. R. C. Wallace, president of the University of Alberta, are members of the committee.

A MEASURE OF HOME RULE FOR INDIA PROBABLE

London, England. — Hindus, Moslems and Europeans of India have joined in support of the scheme of round rule for India, which was laid before the round-table conference some days ago by Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru. The same plan, in its essentials, was accepted by Lord Reading on behalf of the British Liberal delegates, but was received by the British Conservative delegates coldly and non-committally.

Gavin Jones, president of the European Association of India, before the conference committee, described the present government of India as hopeless and hamstrung and weak. The country was drifting into chaos, he said. He could see no way out save by a larger measure of responsibility to the Indian legislature.

Sir Bhupendra Mitra, one of India's leading financial experts, thought no greater safeguards could be imposed on the Indian government than were imposed in Canada when she was created a Dominion. Sir Bhupendra, indeed, termed the new administration "the Dominion government of India."

M. A. Jinnah, a prominent Moslem barrister, declared he was under a misapprehension that India was not ready to get either Dominion status or full responsible government. He strongly argued, however, that some form of responsible agricultural interested in poultry and dairying. No livestock or seed is being carried for sale.

A wide range of topics will be discussed, care of poultry, best housing conditions, culling and market preparation and, in the dairy section, care and feeding of milch cows, making a start with cow testing associations and handling milk and cream.

The train will tour the whole of Saskatchewan, Saskatchewan served by Canadian Pacific trackage and will travel as far east as Fredenbury and Kamsack and returns to Lanigan via Leslie, Wynyard and Delisle, Saskatoon. Leaving Lanigan February 6th, the tour leads as far as Cromlet, February 13, returning to Govan February 17th, and travelling south via Kenaston, Strasbourg Dubyne, Balcarres, Neudorf, March 6, to Stockholm, where back via Imperial and Regina, including the tour at Young, March 16th.

WIDER TRADE WITH AUSTRALIA IS ANTICIPATED

Victoria, B.C.—Hon. Parker Mossley, minister of markets and transports for Australia, said he would recommend the Australian cabinet to "go the limit" in diverting to Canada trade which was going to foreign countries and which could come to this dominion, in an address here recently.

Mr. Mossley said he was leaving Canada with the highest hopes and expectations for the negotiations he had conducted at Ottawa

"What we have done at Ottawa will, in my opinion, culminate in a trade treaty which will be of last ing benefit to both dominions," he said.

"I believe what we have done at Ottawa will have a great psychological effect upon the next Imperial conference in London," he added. "Many others will want to fall in line with us."

Mr. Mossley attended a memorial service held in the cathedral here for Marshal Joffre.

He visited high in the provincial government, and while no announcement was made, it was understood the conference was called to discuss British Columbia's desire for a better preference was believed. It have been discussed. Mr. Mossley also attended conferences with officials on Fruit Growers on the subject of a marketing scheme for British Columbia fruit products

The annual meeting of the local Boy Scout Association will be held next Tuesday night, the 20th, in the Armouries. The local Troop and Cub Pack will give a display of Scout and Cub work, followed by a social hour. After this there will be a short business meeting for the appointing of a new committee, election of officers, and a discussion of plans for the coming year. It is hoped that all those who are interested in this work and desire to encourage the local Troop and their leaders will make an effort to attend. Remember the time and place — the Armouries on Tuesday, the 20th at 8 o'clock.

JUVENILES WIN FIRST GAME OF THE SEASON

Humble Mannville Seniors By A 5-4 Score

Jack Mackenzie's Juveniles took the first game that they have played as a team this season, when they defeated the Manville seniors on the western team's ice on Monday night by 5 goals to 4. Corson grabbed off three goals for the locals and Broadmuse tallied twice. The local boys led 3 to 1 at the end of the second period but found themselves down 1 goal in the third with but 2 minutes to go. Munce snapped in one to tie it up and with 20 seconds left Ken Corson starred in the winning counter.

Line-ups:
Juveniles—Powell; G. Brimacombe and Waldenberger; White, English, Corson, Munce F. Brimacombe and Hugh Craig.
Manville—Bennett; Leahy, Robertson; Burch, Ewing, Candel, Croft, Dugard, Leitch, Hegarty.

WEATHER GOES BELOW ZERO MONDAY, TUESDAY

Makes Three Times This Winter

Below zero temperatures were registered throughout this part of Alberta on Monday morning for the second time this winter, although the first time is now several months before, and on one of mildest days. The temperature dropped quickly on Monday morning to a low point of 6 below and although it was up considerably during the day registered some 7 below Tuesday morning. During Tuesday a strong south wind held away and with it warmer temperatures. By Tuesday evening the weather was quite mild and well above zero, while very little frost was registered on Wednesday. The forecast is for continued mild weather.

Three instances of below zero weather until the 15th of January isn't so bad for this part of the world at that.

NOTICE

New motor has now been installed in the Music Box at the Arena. A collection of records suitable for skating has been procured and will be played on Friday evening this week. After each record is played the skaters will be given an opportunity to express either their approval or disapproval. In this manner we hope to be able to supply you with the kind and quality of music you desire and when we feel that the wishes of the majority are being served the Arena management will be instructed that there must be no interference by those who request their own peculiar brand of music. It is the desire of the Arena management that suitable music be played at all times.

Artificial Lake Project For Large Park Site

The council chamber of the town hall was filled to its capacity Monday night by ratepayers who responded to the request of Mayor Fallow to meet the council and discuss matters pertaining to the much talked of artificial lake as projected by the Alberta Parks' Board and to ascertain whether or not it was the desire of the ratepayers that the town assume a portion of the construction costs.

Briefly outlined, the project calls for the construction of a concrete dam across the Vermilion Valley, below and just westward of the town, creating thereby an artificial lake by the inundating by the waters of the Vermilion river of from 250 to 100 acres of land to a depth of from 5 to 6 feet. Provision is made for picnic grounds, bathing beach and driveway. The lake would extend some three miles up the valley with varying widths conforming to the contour of the banks, possibly two or three hundred yards to six or seven hundred. Roughly estimated the expenditure entailed might reach $30,000. R. E. Bury, C.E. was in charge of the survey work.

The responsibility of making re- [illegible] was [illegible] delegated to the Parks Board consisting of three members. The chairman is J. D. Robertson, deputy minister of public works who is also chairman of the Alberta Relief Committee; Mr. Paiten and H. L. Seymour. The two last mentioned members of the board were in town last week end and they asked to what extent the town would co-operate in case the project received favorable consideration, hence the meeting.

After a full discussion following a detailed outline by the mayor of the project as covered above, the meeting by an unanimous vote favored the town committing itself to a share in the cost of the scheme. The form and amount of the support to be accorded was dealt with next and a resolution carried authorizing the council to contribute the estimated cost of the land to be flooded, roughly stated at from $2,500 to $4,000 with a maximum amount not to exceed $5,000.

Band Has Attractive Programme

An exceptionally attractive program has been arranged by the Vermilion Citizens' Band for the concert to be held in the Columbia Theatre on Wednesday evening next, January 28, and the executive of the Band have been exceedingly fortunate in securing the services of Mrs. Geo L. Hegman, of Edmonton, for the occasion. Mrs. Hudson—a gold medallist of the Alberta Musical Festival, and one of the province's outstanding radio artists—is at present soprano soloist at the Robertson United Church, Edmonton. Constantly in demand to sing at concerts and various functions in the capital city, it is seldom that the smaller communities are given the opportunity to hear her.

Vermilion's opportunity to next Wednesday evening, and it is considerably expected that the theatre will be filled to capacity.

Another visiting artist will be Mr. William Townsend, bandmaster of the North Battleford Band, and one of the most accomplished cornet soloists in Western Canada.

Local talent will be represented by Gilbert Brimacombe, pianist, whose ability is well known in Vermilion and Mr. I. Hopkins, baritone soloist, who will be making his debut before a local audience. The popular violinist, Mr. El Swindlehurst, of the School of Agriculture, will also render a solo.

The Vermilion Citizens Band under the direction of Bandmaster W. H. Elford, will play several selections including the soloist's "Hunting Scene" (by request), and the selected test piece for bands at the 1931 Saskatchewan Musical Festival.

Tickets for the concert may be obtained from members of the Band, the price of admission being 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children under 14 years of age.

The program will commence at 8:15 p.m., and as there are no reserved seats patrons are advised to be on time.

High School Notes

The monograms have arrived and look very nice indeed. The owners are proudly displaying them on pockets and sleeves.

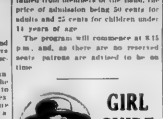
The girls' hockey team have arranged to sell hot dogs and coffee at the hockey games. We would like to make enough money to pay our expenses to Lloydminster. We are sure that when you smell the coffee in the room of the coffee and the appetizing odor of the hot dogs you will say no. 15c very readily. So don't forget to bring an extra dime and smell Wednesday evenings.

Things we would like to know. Has Mr Brimacombe got in the books of Julius Caesar yet?

Where did all the gum heard and displayed in school come from?

A literary meeting is being arranged for next Wednesday. A fine program is in view and we hope it will prove interesting to the students.

We have a new student at school, Nellie Hutchinson. Nellie is taking grade nine and we hope she will find herself quite at home among us.



GIRL GUIDE NOTES

The Guides gathered at the station last Saturday and went to Islay to see the Guides there put on a concert. Reports from Lloydminster to the effect that it will be greatly missed in the community also that a good time was had by all.

Last patrol, the Canaries of which Elsie Hall is leader, was also missed.

A letter came this week from the Lepers Guide Company in Calcutta, India telling us that from now on every week we will receive letters from them a year. Of course the Lepers girls cannot write themselves so the leader will print these letters to be sent out to all the Brit Guide companies who like themselves, write to them to cheer them up.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

During the year, ten meetings of the Women's Institute were held with three special meetings. Two funeral and thirty-seven sick calls were made by the 15 members. Christmas cheer was held at the home of Mrs M Wells, or with 18 grandmothers and two great grandmothers present. A very interesting afternoon was spent. Mr Pilkie inviting all present to the theatre in the evening

The annual Baby Clinic was held and proved very popular. Mrs Firth was in charge of relief work, eleven families being given assistance and 25 parcels sent out. Mrs Firth and Mrs Allison, the latter a new settler were in attendance at the Farm Women's week at the Agricultural College, being sponsored by the W. I. There lectures were given during the year, also a number of papers. The year's work closed with the usual Xmas tea social which brought about a successful end.

SENIOR HOCKEYISTS TIED TABLES ON ILLOYDMINSTER

2-1 Victory for Local Boys on Border Ice

The Vermilion Seniors registered a 2-1 knockout to the Lloydminster Seniors on the latter's own Sask pond last Saturday night to the great delight of local fans, in a game that had cash customers and gate crashers in an uproar for sixty minutes. The game was one of the fastest that the locals have ever participated in and they were against the same line-up that gave them the set-back here on New Year's night Jack Mackenzie and Clarence Barr were outstanding for the Vermilion outfit, Clarence getting both goals and Jack playing a bang-up game both defensively and offensively All the scoring was done in the last half of the third period, Clarence Barr getting the first unassisted and later grabbing Bell's rebound to make the score 2-0 Kinnaird saved the home team lads from a shut out when he tallied for the borderites.

The local line-up was. Powell; Mackenzie and W. Barr, C Barr, Beaubien; Bell, White, English and MacKinnon. There was an extra good crowd on hand for the game.

Precocious one—"Daddy, when did people do before they had automobiles?"

A Word To the Farmer

Most Profuse Quality and Control Volume Of Products

In a message to eastern farmers recently issued, the Hon. H. H. Wise, Federal Minister, points out that to compete in world markets the farmers of Canada must (1) continue to make progress along the lines of even more scientific farming; (2) reduce the cost of producing farm products; and (3) having a definite purpose in marketing, (a) see that no product leaves in quality goes to a foreign market, (b) produce in sufficient volume to hold a market once obtained and (c) regulate supply to such markets so as to prevent flooding.

Improved With Much Comfort

American Writer Is Surprised At Mining Business In Northern Manitoba.

Those coming to The Pas, Flin Flon and Sherridon to see frontier towns where life is in the raw, and "anything goes" would do well to stay away from these centres, W. L. Henderson, a writer from Chicago, Ill., visiting in the north, declared in an interview. Mr. Henderson, a free lance newspaper man, and fiction writer, has been searching for local color for a series of stories he is going to write on northern Manitoba's north country.

"The people this country must have made in the past five years is startling," he declared. "Flin Flon and Sherridon are astounding communities to find far in the bush country north of the 54th parallel."

"I considered I was fairly well informed on Canada's north country, but I have been astounded by the signs of industrial progress, lawful behaviour of citizens, and the great extent that is apparent for these towns and cities," he remarked.

Al-Canada Phone System

Big Telephone Project To Link Halifax With Vancouver

As a result of the co-operative arrangements between the seven main telephone systems of Canada, the work is now proceeding to realize an all-Canadian transcontinental system that will make it possible for a firm in Halifax to speak with one in Vancouver, a distance of 4,319 miles, without using lines outside of the Dominion.

At the present time a long distance call from Montreal to Vancouver would require a connection that with Chicago and then with Seattle or Portland.

Up to the present time it has been impossible, in talk matters Canada with eastern Canada over an all-Canadian route. This has been partly due to the necessity for certain service requires somewhat different equipment than the "short haul" traffic, such as large size copper wire, etc.

With a view to inaugurating the all-Canada service, large size copper wires have already been installed between Toronto and Winnipeg, while the three government systems of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta are now at work constructing such heavy duty lines preparatory to the introduction of the all-Canada service. British Columbia and Maritime organizations have also been considering the work, so that in the near future the construction of the line from coast to coast is expected to be completed.

At the rate the work is at present proceeding, it is anticipated that by the summer of 1931 long distance messages may be transmitted from Halifax to Calgary, and by the autumn of 1932, it is expected the entire coast to coast service will be in operation.

Marine Merger

World-Wide United States Shipping Service To Be Created

A world-wide shipping service under the United States flag will be created through a consolidation of interests of the International Mercantile Marine Company and the Roosevelt Steamship Company, which was announced in New York.

The merger, which has been rumored for several months, was announced by P. A. S. Franklin, president of the International Mercantile Marine. The Roosevelt Company, which was organized in 1928, will retain its corporate identity.

West Indies and Canada

Canada must assume a temporary role of "big brother" to the British West Indies if the full possibilities of trade between these parts of the Empire are to be attained, says a report issued by the Empire Club of Ottawa following a study of the subject. In other words, the report holds, Canada should expend a greater sum in the West Indies in order that the Island citizens may be placed in a position where they can become heavy purchasers.

Recipes For This Week

(By Betty Barclay)

BATH AND NUT ROLL

2½ cups sugar.
½ cup thin cream.
1 cup dates, pitted and chopped.
¾ cup nut meats, chopped.

Cook sugar and cream together until a little dropped in cold water forms a soft ball (236 degrees Farenheit). Add the chopped dates and cook two or three minutes more (242 degrees Farenheit). Remove from fire. Beat until candy begins to thicken. Add nut meats. Continue beating until candy is firm enough to shape into a roll about one and one-half inches across. Wrap in a wet cloth and leave until cold. Remove cloth and cut crosswise in slices.

JESUS TEMPTED

Golden Text: "In that He, Himself, hath suffered being tempted, He is able to succor them that are tempted." Hebrews 2.18.

Lesson: Luke 3.21 to 4.30.

Devotional Reading: Romans 8.31-39.

Explanations and Comments

The Nature Of Christ's Temptation: verses 1, 2.—Yielding to the control of the Holy Spirit, which had come to Him in a special way at His baptism, Jesus went from the Jordan into the neighboring wilderness, that He might there meditate and prepare for the work God had given Him to do. As the story is told in Mark, Jesus seems to have waged His severe struggle throughout His wilderness sojourn, but as it is told in Matthew and Luke, the specific temptations which have come at the end of the period.

The Temptation To Free Himself From The Limitations Of His Humanity: verses 3, 4.—During a long period Jesus had been without food. Then when He was hungry the devil said unto Him, "If Thou art the Son of God, command this stone that it become bread." The word "if" may be taken in the sense of "since": Since you have the power (Jesus had just been awarded of this at His baptism), why not make use of it for yourself? The question which Jesus had to settle was, should He for His personal benefit use power which was given Him for the sake of the kingdom, or should He trust His Father and accept whatever sufferings His Father might send? His answer was, You must trust.

The Temptation To Establish an Earthly Rather Than a Spiritual Kingdom, verses 5-8.—The Jews were under the Roman power, and they expected a Messiah who would free them from Rome, and establish an earthly kingdom greater than that of their father David. But what might Jesus not accomplish if He yielded to the opportunities and established an earthly kingdom! All His countrymen would rally to His side if He accepted the role of a temporal Messiah; for such a Messiah they would sacrifice their lives for the good gifts. The devil showed Him all the kingdoms of the world in a moment of time. Jesus might have all this authority and the glory of them—if He would pay the price. Would it not be a quicker and easier road to victory than the road to Calvary? To seek temporal instead of eternal good, to rely on a material instead of a spiritual kingdom, would be to slay Himself with the devil to worship before Satan.

The Temptation To Presume Upon God's Call, verses 9-12.—Throughout His ministry Jesus was asked for a "sign" of His divine Sonship, but here at the beginning of His work He settled that question once for all; presuming as He was of His success with the Father, He would make the test of Him to prove this to the world. "To keep myself from the pinnacle of the temple was to rival a mountain peak or a chasm, but it had no connection at all with perfect success and was no sign of divine favor and ability to keep one from their sins. To abandon the notion of one's active power and work wonders, not for their relief but for mere display, was to presume against the Father's love and to mistake the Father's intention," says Dods.

The Tempter Vanquished, verse 13.—When the devil had completed every temptation, he departed, leaving Him for a season. "The moment that the obedience of the life was established, the mental turmoil settled into peace within him."—Phillips Brooks.

Expected Of Perpetual Motion

Inventor At Pacific Coast Thinks He Has Revolutionized Industry

The Vancouver Sun publishes the following despatch from Prince George, B.C.:

"Prince George has now an exponent of perpetual motion in the person of Nicola Schmidt, a wood engineer, who claims to have invented an engine operating by a mixture of air and oil, and to require the expenditure of no oil whatever. Mr. Schmidt claims that his engine will occupy about one-third as much space and weighs almost one-half as much as the most efficient power plant, and that once it is installed there will be no further expenses whatever. Mr. Schmidt is highly secretive as to the principle upon which his engine operates, but his business manager, H. A. Hurtubise, announces that the engine will revolutionize industry.

ACID after meals

GET RID of your dread of pain after eating. Eat those fear of "indigestion," your stomach, disagreeable gas or headaches.

When your food ferments, "digresses," lies like a lump in your stomach, it's a sign of too much acid. You need not resort to crude methods —take instead an anti-acid that will correct the condition. Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

A spoonful of this pleasant-tasting soothing fluid neutralizes many times its volume in acid. It restores the proper alkaline balance to an acid-soaked stomach and bowels—enables these organs to function as they should.

Phillips' Milk of Magnesia is what you need when a bad breath, coated tongue, headaches, nausea or biliousness indicates an over-acid condition. Take a spoon ful today and for several days and see how it sweetens the system. You won't be nearly so liable to colds or a chaser. All druggists in the Dominion sell it in 50c bottles.

"Always, Nick, or I wouldn't have gone with you, of course. I remember just how I felt. I watched you start, and the feet were near that to stop them I stooped down and began fussing with those jonquils. And then —you know, I was so afraid that you'd see! I had the strangest emotions. I was happy and frightened all in a breath terribly happy because you'd come, even to say good-bye; and frightened because I feared my heart was in my eyes. I was almost relieved when at last you turned away, though if you hadn't looked back—if you hadn't come back, Nick, I think I should have died."

"Why, my dear, precious little Cay!" Nick's voice was husky. "I never guessed. Aren't—aren't women the very limit? Think of your saying that on me after four whole years! And I was too much of a dunce to even know that you were the one girl in the world for me. Well, you'll have to admit that it didn't take me long to find it out!"

She looked up at him almost shyly. "Nick—do you still feel that way about me?"

He laughed, and kissed her.

"I wouldn't change a hair of your head, my dear."

"Really, Nick?"

Her voice sounded so sober that he said: "Why should you ask? Haven't I been a model husband? Come, Cay, let's not get serious. Let's forget every trouble we ever had, and be kids again. If we start now we can have a half hour at The Birch Nest, and get back in time to kiss the boys good-night."

It was two weeks after this, one Friday evening when Gay and Simeon were sitting together on the porch, that they were interrupted by a call to the telephone.

"It's a long distance for Mrs. Hastings," announced the housekeeper, who had answered the ring.

Instantly Gay's heart pounded. Suppose something had happened to Nick! But it was Nick's own voice that answered her a moment later. "That you, Gay? How's everything?"

"All right. You frightened me, Nick. What's happened?"

His laugh came back over the wire, sounding so dearly familiar that it seemed very near.

"Nothing—that is—Gay, would you think it terrible if I didn't come up this week?"

"Why?"

Her voice was hollow. Perhaps Nick noticed for he said: Don't sound so mournful! Of course I want to see you, but—I've an afraid I've got a favor, and I hate to refuse. Her husband's been called away by the death of his mother, and she's expecting friends for Sunday. She'd p'anned to take them to Mason's Falls, but I've got a hunch, Cay, you know, and for some reason, she doesn't want to drive it, so she asked me to do it.

"I see," said Gay.

There followed the least little silence, then Nick said: "What do you think, dear? I don't exactly like to refuse. I was there to dinner tonight, and she's waiting now to hear your verdict."

"You know best, Nick. We'll miss you, of course; but if you feel you should—"

"Well, I sort of do feel that way; and next week you'll be coming home. Look here! You understand, Cay, don't you?"

Anxiety was in his voice, and she replied: "I'm I understand. Good-night, Nick. Our time must be more than up."

"Hold on a minute! You're really all right, aren't you? Not sick or anything?"

"Of course."

"And the boys?"

"Oh, they're splendid; but they'll be disappointed not to see their dad."

"You can tell 'em he's disappointed too. Gee! It's good to hear your voice! I'm getting a little tired of substisting on letters and week-end visits. Good-night dear."

"Good-night," said Gay quietly, and hung up.

But she didn't move for a minute She sat there by the telephone, her heart pounding too rapidly. "Why on earth should I mind so much?" she asked herself. "It's ridiculous—childish. It's not right to get dependent on one human being for all your happiness, even for the best husband. If I let that feeling grow on me I'll become a jailer. Of course Nick couldn't refuse to go with Mrs Halliday. This is the third time he's dined there; and we'll go home on Wednesday anyway. I ought to be ashamed to mind at all!"

She drew a deep breath and went back to the piazza. It was dark, and Simeon couldn't see her face.

"What's up?" he questioned.

"Nothing, except that Nick can't come tomorrow."

She tried to speak cheerfully, but her mood was not lost on the old man.

"Ain't sick, is he?" he questioned.

"No, but our new neighbor has asked a favor he couldn't very well refuse. She has some visitors, and wants him to drive them to Mason's Falls on Sunday."

"Can't that cynical husband o' hers drive a car?"

"She usually drives herself, but she wants a chauffeur for this special trip. Her husband's mother has just died and he's away."

"H—m," growled Simeon. "So while he attends the funeral, she goes gallivantin' with her fine friends! Somehow, Cay, I don't mowsys take to that neighbor o' yours."

A breath of relief escaped Gay's lips.

"It does me good to hear you say so, Uncle Sim. I don't take to her, either; yet I can't try a finger on anything really wrong with her, except her silly talk about children spoiling her career. I don't see that she has much of a career anyway, though she does sing divinely, and paints, too. Nick says I'm unjust to her. Perhaps I am. I'll admit that to see her ordering a man to weed those flower beds makes such a funny picture, sometimes enrages me. She looks so neat. Nick spoke of it one day, and I just know he was wishing I looked the same, though he didn't say so."

"Good land! deorie I wouldn't call you no 'Shrewsby Peter'."

"Well," Gay answered, with a rueful laugh, "I feel like one when I look at Mrs. Hallidey! It's hard to keep up with everything when you have two babies as young as mine. I know some of my clothes are behind the times; but there're not worth sending to a dressmaker, and I'm too tired to sew myself. But—but I hate to have my husband think me—his inferior!"

"Shucks!" said the old man gaudily. "He don't think no such thing."

"He wouldn't have thought so if he hadn't been for Mrs. Halliday," said Gay, with the next period of Salem ville, and she's different from the few summer people who come to see us. But remember I'm a model wife. Nick couldn't be sweeter to me, and he's glad he's got Mrs. Halliday back in a frazzle."

He replied quietly for a while. Save for the frogs down by the mill pond, the night was quiet, until, suddenly, Simeon spoke. Halliday has asked a favor, and I hate to refuse. Her husband's been called away by the death of his mother, and she's expecting friends for Sunday. She'd p'anned to take them to Mason's Falls, but I've got a hunch, Cay, you know, and for some reason, she doesn't want to drive it, so she asked me to do it.

Linking Up "Canada's Main Street"

By William Childs, Executive Secretary, Eastern Manitoba Development Bureau and General Secretary Manitoba-Ontario Trans-Canada Highway Association.

Great hopes will be realized when Manitoba and Ontario are officially linked up with the National Highway in the fall of this year. Auto tourist and hard work has been gone through by the Manitoba Motor League, municipalities, Boards of Trade, Good Roads Organizations and prominent men of both Western Ontario and Eastern Manitoba, since the year 1919, when first our people went on record as demanding a highway outlet between the head of the Great Lakes and the City of Winnipeg.

The day of the official opening of the highway between Ontario and Winnipeg has not yet been set, but it may safely be said that it will be in the early part of next September, probably Labor Day, in order to give the motor tourist and owner a chance to get home with his family before he'd say you'd got Mrs. Halliday back in a frazzle."

He replied quietly for a while. Save for the frogs down by the mill pond, the night was quiet, until, suddenly, Simeon spoke. Halliday has asked a favor, and I hate to refuse. When BABIES are Upset

BABY ills and ailments seem twice as serious at night. A sudden cry may mean colic. Or a sudden attack of diarrhoea. How would you meet this emergency—tonight? Have you a bottle of Castoria ready?

For the protection of your wee one—for your own peace of mind—keep this old, reliable preparation always on hand. But don't keep it just for emergencies; let it be an everyday aid. Its gentle influence will ease and soothe the infant who cannot sleep. Its mild regulation will help an older child whose tongue is coated because of stomach bowels. All druggists have Castoria.

Hiking Around World

Jugo-Slavian Youth Started From Washington Last September

Arriving at Halifax on the close of a projected journey around the world, mostly by foot that began at Washington on September 1, Joseph Sekulick, slim young Jugo-Slavian left to get a ship for Newfoundland whence he plans to walk to England. At an average rate of 30 miles a day Sekulick had hiked 2,341 miles when he reached Halifax. He hopes to complete the globe-encircling tour at Washington in something less than four years. The Jugo-Slavian's allotted period trip is 33 1/3 years. With a command of eight languages Sekulick anticipates no difficulty in getting food and other countries than would otherwise be the case.

Is Main Line

At a meeting of a rural district council a deputation of farmers waited to be received. They wished to complain about the state of a main road and particularly a bridge. They found, however that their arguments were not received very favorably.

At last the chairman managed to get a word in.

"Look here" he said, "the road is fairly good as a whole."

"Yes," replied the spokesman of the party, "but we want to see it as a road."

Sight-Sound Dramatic Production Broadcast

Actors In Studio At Chicago Make Television History

Side-stepping sinister looking equipment, a small audience squeezed in between humming machinery in the control room of station WEAF and watched from behind the screen what is believed to have been the world premier broadcast of a synchronized sight-sound dramatic production.

Irene Wicker, Vinton Haworth and Douglas Hope, made television history in their appearance in "The Maker of Dreams."

The play went on the air to be received by those with a television and radio combination set, the effect being a close relative to a small talkie, but not without many flaws as yet. But the experts said "Give science time."

Everything possible was done to outlaw noise because the crash of shoe-leather would have given the impression of artillery in action; the men played in stockinged feet. The girls wore soft sandals

LOSE YOUR FAT
This sensible way

Start taking Kruschen Salts—that's the common-sense way to reduce—but don't take them with the idea that they possess reducing qualities in themselves.

This is what they do—they clean out the intestines and keep your blood free by keeping the bowels, kidneys and liver active. Your working alone and fill you with a vigor and tireless energy you'd almost forgotten had existed—you get the needful exercise.

As a result instead of planting yourself in an easy chair every few moments and letting flabby fat accumulate you feel an urge for activity that keeps you moving around doing the things you've always wanted to do and needed to do to keep you in good condition.

Kruschen Salts are the up-to-date Fountain of Youth. Take one full teaspoonful in a glass of hot water to-morrow morning and every morning after be careful of the foods you eat—take regular moderate exercise—then watch the pounds slide off.

OPPORTUNITY TO ASSIST BAND.

In common with many other local organizations, the Vermilion Citizens' Band has experienced a difficult time during the past year.

Due to the general business depression which has prevailed during this period, the Band has been deprived of many of its ordinary sources of revenue, and is at present in a straitened financial circumstances.

Attendances at sports days and similar functions have been obliged to pay full expenses, and the coffers of the Band have been depleted in consequence.

Headed by a strong executive committee, and with a membership which is bubbling over with enthusiasm to "carry on," the Band is far from being "down and out," and a determined drive is to be made this winter to place the organization on a sounder financial basis. The first step in this effort is to take the form of a concert, which is to be held in the Columbia theatre on Wednesday evening, January 28th, when the guest artist will be Mr. Geo L. Hudson of Edmonton.

The Vermilion Citizens' Band probably holds an unique position among the town bands of the province; inasmuch as it is entirely self supporting. It receives no grants, it is under the patronage of no other organization, and it begs no subscriptions.

It costs considerable money to carry on a successful band but the entire revenue of Vermilion's band is raised solely by the efforts of the members themselves all amounts received for playing at engagements being deposited in the general fund.

That the Band has so far been able to operate independently is due to the fine "esprit de corps" which exists among the members, none of whom are called upon to make considerable sacrifice of time, and not infrequently incur personal financial loss for the good of the organization.

For will deny that any town with a sense of civic pride should possess a band, and it is in the belief that the efforts of the Vermilion Citizens' Band are appreciated by the people of the town and district that the executive committee confidently look forward to a "bumper" home next Wednesday evening.

BOY SCOUT NOTES

HOWDY, FOLKS!

Many things have happened since our last report, and as the Editor would not permit us to use the whole pages for front notes we will quote a few of the numerous happenings.

The boys who went to Edmonton for the Patrol Leaders' Conference came back with many new ideas, and they all say they had a wonderful time. They visited many places of interest, such as the fresh stable for the University, Museum in the University Parliament buildings etc. at some of the boys liked the hotel, ice & ice store, and Fred Brims combo. Cliff Unitt and others all a bout it.

A week ago Sunday we had a Court of Honor meeting where we discussed the forming of a Rover Troop. It was decided to form this troop. Another meeting was held after last week's Scout meeting and the disappointed who should be the Rover Mate. It turned out to be Mr. Jas Adams, who he readily accepted the position.

The first Rover meeting was held last Sunday. Many things were discussed. We are taking immediate steps in making a club room in the Log to Load a cabin on the bank of the Vermilion river valley.

We had a box food on Tuesday, Jan 13, for the Boy Scouts Association annual meeting was held Thursday in a potatoe and some cakes to old and young. The meeting was a big success and was successful also in keeping Mr Ison Taylor as Scout Master.

Scout Bulletin of Fun

The Scouts learned that our father's still have lots of pep.

The week's mystery is "Who put the design on Scout F Brimscombe's running shoes"

Two boys were discussing the future of the Boy Scouts, which will be organized on the opening of the Arctic Ice Lake.

BROWNIE NOTES

Last meeting three of the Brownies received their first class badges. The other Brownies gave them a long like of triumphal arches and we hope they will bear in mind all that they promised and what they went through to receive their badges. After that it was too cold to sit down to work, so we played a few games.

PACK LEADER.

There being at present three vacancies to complete our Brownie Pack we invite any small persons who will be eight before July, and whose parents will allow her to join, to come on Friday, Jan. 23rd, if more than three come, date of birthday will be taken into account. We hope, very soon, that above 6 will "fly" up to the Guides, making more vacancies.

V. A. C. DEFEAT MANNVILLE IN OVERTIME PLAY

Score Was 6-5 For Agrarians

The Agricultural school students' puck artists journeyed to Mannville and handed the Aces of that town a 6-5 setback in an overtime encounter last Saturday night. The regular seasons ended with the score 4 all, 2 goals being scored in the overtime. Norman Burch and Cundal were the stand-out players for Mannville, while Scrahn, Fenish and Fisher played fine hockey for the College.

COMMUNICATION

THE EDITOR
Vermilion Standard,
Vermilion, Alberta.

Dear Sir,—It was noted, with a great deal of satisfaction the suggestion given in your recent issue regarding the local talent staging an opera to raise funds for charity.

Vermilion and District have always given loyal support to local efforts to bring this fine and with charity as its object there is no doubt that it would be well supported.

This letter is to inform you, Mr. Editor, that a Club has recently been formed in Vermilion who call themselves the LITTLE THEATER CLUB. Its aims are to give a great deal of pleasure to everyone and the proceeds of all efforts to be devoted to charity.

A Musical Comedy has been sent for which is called BARBAROSA of BARBERRY; it is a very pleasing opera with plenty of good music and an excellent plot. As soon as the books arrive rehearsals will start.

I would like to extend through your paper a hearty invitation to all those interested and who would like to take part to get in touch with the undersigned.

Yours truly,
M. A. BRIMACOMBE,
President.

Russia Will Be World's Biggest Wheat Seller

Says Thomas D. Campbell, of Montana, Who is America's Largest Wheat Grower

RUSSIA HAS 250,000,000 ACRES OF WHEAT LAND

Thomas D. Campbell, who is well known as the largest wheat grower in the United States, has just returned from his second trip to Russia. He tells in Collier's magazine of December 20th, of what he saw there. Every farmer in Alberta should become acquainted with the facts as presented there by Mr. Campbell. Twice he has gone to Russia at the request of the Soviet Government to help by use their gigantic agricultural program. He has had better opportunity than any other farmer to observe life on the huge collectivized farms there.

He says that the solution of American agricultural problems lies not in higher prices but in scientific production on larger acreages and at reduced costs.

On December 20, 1929, the Soviet Government called for volunteers to form collective groups and offered to send organizers out among the farmers who were desirous of forming collective farms. They also offered to supply the collective farms with good seed and adequate machinery, also with good quality live stock. This offer on the part of the government came in response to a complaint from the farmers that grain prices were too low. The rulers of Russia believed it would not be possible for them to raise prices but they could make a tremendous difference in the costs of producing agricultural products on Russian farms. Lowering production costs has the same net result as raising prices, the farmer goes more for his work and investment.

By the end of January, 1929, there were 4,300,000 Russian families voluntarily enrolled in the collective farms. By February 20th this number had jumped to 14,000,000. These people among them represented over 80,000,000 acres of highly productive land.

For example, in one locality there were 867 farmers controlling 61,000 acres who formed themselves into a collective farm. They elected their chairman and committee of direction under whose supervision and with the help of the Government expert tractors were torn down and machineries made. Prior to beginning the season's work his or her labor station was alloted to each man and woman, all of whom receive regular wages from the government.

Mr. Campbell advises that so far as he can see the farmers are contented and far better off than they ever were before. They live in better homes, enjoy electric lights and other conveniences they had never dreamed of using. Also due to the improved methods of farming they feed twenty three times as much grain for their share of the collective farm as they had formerly considered to be necessary. In addition to this they had wages for their work with which they were enabled to purchase some of the luxuries of life.

"The ultimate result of all this," says Mr. Campbell, "is going to be that Russia will within a few years, probably not more than five or six, be by large odds the greatest producer of wheat in the world."

Mr. Campbell advises farmers in United States to cut down on their production until they supply only enough wheat for home consumption. If they do not wish to do this Mr. Campbell advises them to industrialize their farms and he points out that with modern methods American farmers can produce wheat as cheaply as any farmers on top of the earth.

Einstein And War

Famous German Scientist In England Really Opposed To Warfare

Scientists as a class frequently are raised up friends of war rather than of peace this because of inventions that often lend a place in the prosecution of war- but in the case of Dr. Albert Einstein, one of the foremost scientists of the day, who is now visiting the United States, is found a man who speaks out most emphatically against war. The famous German advocates a war as "militant pacifism" to end all war. He outlines two methods of attaining this refusal to do military duty in time of war and formulates of a "war resistance fund," with pro-tem of all nations contributing. If only two per cent. of the men liable for war service refused to fight, Einstein says, "there would not be enough jails in the world to take care of them." It is submitted that the "war resistance fund" could be used to defend imprisoned objectors and to strengthen the feeling against war in general.

Dr. Einstein's statement stands as it appears a condemnation of all war, declaring it somewhat any man justifiable or necessary. Here is where a difference of opinion may be provoked. Certainly there are still peoples and nations that consider that there is such a thing as aggression in the world and also such a thing as a righteous cause.

Dr. Einstein's remarks typifies the growing revolt against war. It is not so many years ago that war was practically everywhere accepted as a matter of course as something quite a part of the scheme of men and things. More and more has popular approval of war been changing. From the period of general acceptance of international strife as an inevitable institution the public viewpoint has changed to one of questioning of it all, with a disposition to examine more closely into the causes assigned for war, and it would now seem to be even taking on the nature of definite and pronounced opposition to it. The view may be offered that nations and peoples may object to being "hurmbled" into war as has often been the case in the past.

Dr. Einstein's suggestion comes at a time when there is still considerable talk of further war and when peace efforts have resulted in only indifferent success. At the present time Europe seems to be drifting back to the theory of the balance of power and the armed truce. Regina Leader-Post

Canada in Role Of Interpreter

Has Improved Anglo-American Relations, says Dr. George Pidgeon

Canada, in the role of 'interpreter' and friendly mediator between Great Britain and the United States in aiding better understanding of each other, in the description of the Dominion's position as painted at Geneva and in an address by Dr George C. Pidgeon, of Toronto World Alliance for international friendship through the churches.

As a separate organization the Church in all countries can and the movement for permanent peace, he said, by interpreting to its members the actions and problems of other nations.

He mentioned problems of Great Britain and the United States in dealing with other races as instances where misunderstandings often crop up.

Trade With British

Rt Hon William Graham, president of the Board of Trade answering a question in the British House of Commons said the excess of imports from Canada to the United Kingdom over exports to Canada, totalled $189 millions in 1928 and $235,000 000 in 1929, but had dwindled to $57 000 000 last year The figures did not take account of re-exports of raw materials coming into Britain, he stated

Child Welfare Move

Conditions In England Hundred Years Ago Were Deplorable

Paying high tribute to the work which has been done in the interests of welfare work in Manitoba by Hon. E. W. Montgomery, the province's first minister of public health, Miss Mildred McMurray, LL.B., head of the legal branch of the child welfare department, gave a resume of the progress in child welfare work in Manitoba, in an address before the Kiwanis Club Winnipeg Centennial, ing the ideals of humanity of today, and one hundred years ago Miss McMurray instanced that at that time, in England, every child over four years of age was entrusted to the non-supervision of the public and was sometimes left in the factories children labored from 5 o'clock in the morning until 5 o'clock at night, with one hour off for meals, and on Sundays worked from 6 to 12 in the morning cleaning machinery. Workhouse children were appreciated out, receiving no remuneration for their work, and provision for the employment of mental defectives was made in a fund which required every employer to employ one "idiot" to every 20 normal workers.

Warmer Stable For Live Stock

Protects Animals and Also Conserves Food Supply

One method of conserving feed in this period of scarcity in some of the leading dairy sections is to make provisions for warmer stables Humane do a large part of their heat by burning feed outside their bodies in stoves and furnaces. Stables are not heated The animals generate all their own heat and their feed is the feed that they eat The warmer the stables the less the amount of feed that will be consumed Poultrymen have demonstrated that healthy poultry will lay more eggs on feed to put for the feed. Many dairy farmers could take a tip from this and look to the insulation of their stables

This sh uld not be construed as an argument for warm stables that are not made so by closing up tightly. On the contrary, we believe that dairy cattle are much better off in cold, well-ventilated stables, than in warm close stables where the air is vile and humidity much too high. Within reasonable limits, however, the warmer a stable the better if the ventilation is good

On a Business Basis

Story Of a Gentleman Who Would Not Accept a Gift

An American supersalesman in Scotland heard that the following day was the birthday of one of his large customers. A fine old Scot. Thinking to do something nice for the old boy, he purchased a box of Corona Coronas and presented it to him with a new little speech The Scot listened patiently until the salesman had finished his praise and then remarked

"But I can't accept those cigars The dealings between us, while mutually profitable, have always been on a business basis

But I want to give them to you out of my respect for you," protested the American

It was all business" remonstrated the Scot

"Well, then," said the salesman, with a happy thought, "let's make this a business proposition. Suppose in order to make this strictly business you give me a nickel for this box of Corona Coronas"

"Very well," said the Scot, "I'll take two boxes at that price"

Jerusalem Artichoke

Makes An Ideal Forage Crop and Is Easy To Handle

Results of tests made by the Dominion Department of Agriculture show that the Jerusalem artichoke makes an ideal forage crop, giving a high yield of dry matter per acre above ground, and when remodeled from the standpoint of the added value of dry matter in its roots, it gives a greater tonnage than either sunflowers or corn. At the Sidney (B.C.) Experimental Station, the average yield of dry matter per acre over a period of six years was 6 tons above ground with tubers furnishing an additional 2½ tons The artichoke was also found easy to handle by the ensilage cutter.

Developing Plans For Highway To Alaska

Include Joint Action By Canada and United States

Preliminary plans for uniting commonly with Canadian authorities in the building of a road through the wilderness from Vancouver to Fairbanks, Alaska, are being planned ahead at Washington.

R. W. Bogue, member of the United States Pacific-Yukon Highway Commission, said U.S. officials were awaiting word from Ottawa. He expected Prime Minister Bennett will appoint a Canadian commission with in a short time and arrangements can then be made for a conference.

When completed the road will have cost $40,000,000. "By use of horse-propelling that is the farmers children labored from 5 o'clock in the morning until 5 o'clock at night, with one hour off for meals, and on Sundays worked from 6 to 12 in the morning cleaning machinery. Workhouse children were appreciated out, receiving no remuneration for their work, and provision for the employment of mental detectives was made in a fund which required every employer to employ one "idiot" to every 20 normal workers.

Indians Are Not Mongolians

Ship Have Been Once, But Not Now, Says U.S. Attorney

Anthropologists may hold Indians are Mongoloids but may hold Indians are not Mongolians, Indians, and that's all Joseph Anderson, aged 20, of full-blood Chippewa Indian, told Miss Dorothy Hall, aged 19, applied for a marriage license in Alameda county, California. Miss Hall and Clemenia, clerk, refused to issue a license, saying Indians are Mongolians and hence legally to take any marriage licenses. An appeal was taken to District Attorney Earl Warren. "If a Commissioner Indian was ever a Mongolian, it was so long ago the statute of limitations has run," Warren says.

Library For The Blind

Twelve Thousand Volumes Available For Allotted In Canada

At the meeting in Toronto, of the directors of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, a very interesting item came to light when the report of the library and publishing department for the month of October was presented. This report shows a total circulate of 2,000 volumes, which exceeds that of October, 1929, by 353, and is the largest circulation for any month of October since the inception of this library.

The library for the blind, located at 64 Baldwin Street, about 12,000 volumes they're found, all printed in embossed type, the largest proportion of such type being Braille. This library was begun in 1907 through the generous interest of a lawyer in Markham. In addition to book loans a monthly magazine, the Braille Courier, is published by this library and circulated among the blind in Canada who desire it, without charge.

During the first year, after this library was established, Braille text with the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, the circulation was 744, while in 1928 it had grown to 2,093 books to 21,672, and will exceed even that figure during the present year, it was stated at the meeting.

Blind readers all over Canada are served by this library entirely free of all charge. Braille literature is carried through the mails free of charge. It was pointed out. Canada has the first country to grant this concession, which was adopted in 1898.

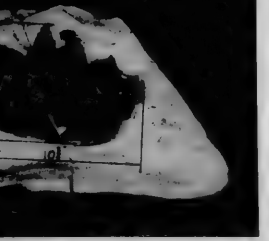
A RELIC OF PAST AGES



When Adam "delved" and Eve "span," and when costume reports selected trophies leaves as the mode, who knows but the centre of fashion was the North American Continent? Recent discoveries indicate that the plains of Saskatchewan may have produced the finest fig leaves in the world.

The disappearance of the buffalo and the red man from the grove that romance has fled from Canada, was the advent of the automobile, the radio and the aeroplane has by no means reduced life on the plains to the commonplace At least so says one of the Canadian Pacific railroad engineers

Only the other day, while engaged in supervising the construction of the new branch line from Saskatoon northwesterly, in Southern Saskatchewan, Mr. Pagel's graders, digging a deep cut, uncovered a remarkably well preserved leaf impress The fossil leaf, which botanists say is probably from a sassafras tree, has been presented to the Department of Botany, University of Manitoba, by T. C. MacNabb, engineer of construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and has evoked much interested comment as to the probable nature of this part of the Canadian Northwest when semi-tropical verdure clothed the ground and leaves whispered secrets passed from front their progenitors of a long gone.

The leaf, perfectly preserved in solid rock, is nearly a foot square—8½ by 10½ inches by actual measurement, and resembles a gigantic maple leaf. Geologists, speaking in round words of four syllables, say it belongs to the upper cretaceous period, in the Laramie Basic period of Saskatchewan enjoyed a genial, not to say sub-tropical climate and when magnolia, gold and sassafras trees bloomed, when triple-horned dinosaure wandered under the coconut trees.

As to how long ago the succulent leaf waved its last good-bye and fell to earth the earth for future curious, everyone has his own guess. Geologists appear to be notoriously care-

Scarlet Fever

Germ Responsible Of Complication Which Follows This Disease

(By John Burke Ingram.)

Now we come in our series of articles to the disease known as scarlet fever.

The latest, important thing that I can tell you about scarlet fever is that it and "measles" are not the same disease. Many people believe that scarlatina is another disease similar to, but not the same as scarlet fever and less serious. What actually is true is that it is possible to have scarlet fever in varying degrees of intensity. A light attack is frequently termed scarlatina. Some people say "Oh, it's just "scarlatina" and neglect the disease, permitting the sufferer to spread the germs throughout possibly a whole community.

The "strawberry tongue" of scarlet fever is a symptom which every grandmother can recognize. The tongue is furred and under this white covering is red and swollen. The child suffering from the early stages of the disease feels tired, restless and out of sorts. Usually there is a chill, vomiting, or convulsions and often sore throat. The skin is very dry and hot. Frequently cases these signs are followed in a day or two by a rash of very brilliant red. This spreads usually from the neck and chest all over most of the surface of the body and it is made up of little red points close together. After awhile it begins to fade and the skin peels off, at first over the chest and body and in very fine particles. The last parts to peel are the palms of the hands and the soles of the feet

For weeks after the patient is apparently well and going about his business he may have an abscess which is discharging matter containing the germs of this disease. Or thereby he may be spreading the disease among his friends. Especially important is it to realize the danger of the complications which often follow scarlet fever. It has long been known that this disease may result in partial or complete deafness. It may affect the heart and the kidneys, in fact it is often a forerunner of Bright's Disease Doctor Gladys Dick, one of the scientists who gave us the tests which determine whether a person is susceptible or immune to this disease, says that many valuable citizens who are incapacitated in the prime of life are put out of the running by the weakening after-effects of scarlet fever from which they suffered in childhood

Next week our health article will deal with measles and some of the startling our children against this disease

The Prince of Wales spoke at the dinner of the Association for the Promotion of Co-operation between Scientific and Technical Societies and Institutions within the Empire, held at the Guildhall, London, England "It is dangerous to speculate on future development," he said, "but I am tempted to wonder whether it may not be too long before the time when the petrol tank has been replaced by a bottle of compressed gas, carrying the products of agriculture, grown with the aid of fertilisers derived from coal, to clean towns no longer defiled by coal or smoke"

Mouse Of Russian Wheat

British Professor Believes People Of Russia Will Overthrow the Present Despots

The time has come when Canada should consider the question of barring from this country certain types of United States periodicals and weeklies, Dr. T. R. Glover, lecturer of Cambridge University, England stated before the annual meeting of the staunchly "Duchess of Atholl" for England.

Dr. Glover also spoke of the menace of Russian wheat to the prosperity of Canada and said that there was little that the British or Canadian governments could do about it, but he looked to see the Russian people rise up against present conditions and overthrow the present despots. Dr. Glover has been lecturing in Canada.

Coal Imports

Figures Are Given Of Importations Of Coal From Britain and Other Countries

Coal imports from Britain, Russia and Germany through the port of Montreal from May to November, 1930, showed an increase of 387,806 tons, compared with the same period of last year.

British coal headed the list. 740,806 tons of British anthracite having been unloaded here this year compared with 601,806 for the season of navigation of 1929, an increase of 239,000 tons. British bituminous showed an increase of 31,319 tons and amounted to 66,115 tons this year. Russian anthracite imports were more than doubled, 302,651 tons coming in this year compared with 83,619 tons last year.

Imports of German anthracite were first attempted this year and amounted to 12,857 tons.

Makes Better Bread, Cakes & Pastry

For $200 . . . Can you equal this?

For $200 invested yearly, a young man can capitalize his youthful vigour and effectively prepare for life's contingencies through the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada.

3 GREAT BENEFITS

1. NOW—$30,000 Immediate Protection

and

2. IN A FEW YEARS—$10,000 in Paid-up Assurance, carrying Dividends.

3. AT MIDDLE LIFE—$10,000 in Cash.

He can secure for his dependants immediate protection of $10,000, increased yearly thereafter by accumulating dividends. This $10,000 estate is created instantly by the first payment. The assured thereby obtains maximum protection for his family at minimum cost at a time when protection is the greatest need.

In a few years he may stop paying, take a paid-up policy for $10,000, and thereafter receive regular dividends until his death when the full capital sum of $10,000 is still payable to his dependants.

By middle life (if he has not selected the last mentioned plan) his policy will mature as an endowment for $10,000, returning to him a sum far in excess of the total premiums paid. This investment settlement comes at a time when personal and family needs usually become more important than protection.

The above policy, like all Sun Life policies, can on maturity be paid in monthly instalments over a period of years, instead of in a lump sum.

Juveniles Again Turn Back Mannville Aces

Score on Monday Was 2-0 in A Tight Game

In a game that had its dazzling and dull moments, the Juveniles, under manager "Jawn" Mackenzie, again triumphed over the Aces from Mannville at the arena here last Monday night. The game was fast in spots, exciting all the way, with the local kids having a little bigger margin than the score shows The first period was scoreless, although what appeared from the sidelines to be a perfect goal was ruled out. Waldenberger passing to Corson for the counter. The second period saw young Fred Brimacombe show his opportunity and make it 1-0, and in the third a pretty combination play-Waldenberger to Whitehead to Stan resulted in a perfect goal Bennett in goal for the Mannville lads and the two Davis boys were the pets of the visitors, while the local defence—Stan Waldenberger and Gilbert Brimacombe—played scintillating hockey, carrying the puck well into enemy territory on their rushes and defending well Another star in Fred Brimacombe, Fred is inclined to wander a little but is deadly around goal and back-checks like a fiend. The line-ups:

Mannville—Bennett; Robertson and Lesly; N. Davis, D. Burch, Cundal, Ewing; Hegarty, Malpas, Bodard.

Juveniles—Powell; G. Brimacombe and Waldenberger; English, White, Corson, F. Brimacombe, Cruic and Munce.

Annual Meeting United Church

Conflagration Friday Night

Breaking through the roof from the attic and securing a strangle hold on the building even before the inmates were aware of the danger or the alarm had been given, fire completely destroyed the residence of George Bell, at 11 p.m. on Friday last

Mr. and Mrs. Bell and family had just retired for the night when a light was noticed where the chimney entered the attic. On raising the lid going into the attic the place was found to be a mass of flames which had already broken through the roof at the ridgepole.

All of the furniture and household effects were saved from downstairs, and a few effects from the upstairs were rescued. The fire had a big start on the fire fighters and this, coupled with the distance away from the water tank which rendered getting there on the fire a big task, made the job of saving the house hopeless. Efforts were turned toward the protection of the adjoining property, occupied by Mr. R. Ayling, no appreciable damage except a slight scorching of the roof.

The completely destroyed house belonged to the British Investments Co., Harry Armstrong is their local representative. The house was insured. The furniture belonging to the renter, Geo. Bell, was also insured

The annual meeting of First United church which was held on Monday evening, January 19th, was well attended, the meeting opened with devotional exercises by the pastor, Rev. H. A. Ward, after which Mr. D. A. Andrew was elected chairman for the evening, and J. E. Hunt secretary.

After the minutes of the last meeting had been adopted the reports of the various committees and secretaries were received, all showing splendid results for the year's endeavors. The pastor took the opportunity of expressing appreciation of the support he had received in his work and the devotion and unity of the congregation as shown by results achieved.

The session report presented by J. B. Hunt showed 24 new members received and a total active membership of 182.

The Missionary and Maintenance Fund report by F. M. Baker showed $47.50 over in the apportionment.

The secretary of the Committee of Stewards, Mr. W. H. Cash, reported that all current expenses had been met and the balance due on the building reduced to $700.00. Seventy cents per week per adult member during 1931 would wipe out this balance.

W. F. Mackenzie, church treasurer, reported the finances for the year as $2931.43, with a balance on hand of $224.00.

The Choir report presented by Mrs. M. Hill in the absence of Mrs. H. E. Hitchens, showed $115.5 on hand balance on hand of $33.37. The choir is preparing for the production of "Elijah" in the near future.

The Church School showed splendid work being done in its different departments. For the 25th of the month Mrs. Cheshire, superintendent, shows 26 new recruited. Primary department, by Miss M. Hill, reports an attendance of 15 on its roll. The Junior, Intermediate and Senior departments show 233 on the roll with an average attendance on the 25th of 90. The secretary's (Mrs. W. S. Cash) report. The S. S. treasurer's report by A. C. Williams showed receipts $653.13 with a balance in the bank of $72.34. Mr. Geo. Law, superintendent of the Sunday Work, reported 100 awards for a total of 2232 memorized verses.

The Young People's Society report by Mrs. Johnson showed a membership of 63. Work is being carried on under four heads, viz: devotional, citizenship, missionary and social.

The W. M. S. has a membership of 36 and in addition to missionary study etc., they raised $583.50, of which $315.35 was sent to the Presbyterial treasurer. Under their supervision also is carried on the Ladies' Aid, Girls' Junior Mission Band and Senior Mission Band with a girls' membership of 25 and an income of $33.89, all of which was sent to the Presbyterial treasurer. These reports were signed by A Robinson and Mabel Pine as secretary and treasurer respectively.

The Women's Association report presented by Mrs. Edmonds showed a membership of 36. The total receipts were $512 13 and the balance on hand $78.24

Messrs Geo Wright and G. E. Lobb were elected to a three-year term on the Committee of Stewards and W. F. Mackenzie and W. Johnson for one year, the meeting closed with the Benediction.

TERRIFIC STRUGGLE AT OPEN AIR RINK

What future historians will probably call "one of the great battles of the century" was fought at the open air rink on Thursday evening last when teams representing the C.N.R. Community Club and the Vermilion Elks' Lodge clashed in a classic broom ball match.

The game started at 9 p.m., and from that hour till the final gong a dim dong struggle ensued. It is no exaggeration to state that every man on the ice was in the stellar class some of the individual efforts being spectacular in the extreme

Bill Markewitz, the hefty defence man for the C.N.R team, turned in one of the greatest games of his career, and, in addition, delighted the spectators with a sparkling display of gymnastics on the ice.

Another brilliant solo play was made by Bill Fallow, who, casting mayoral dignity to the four winds kept the goals of the visitors, in a recumbent position, finishing up by making "a hole in one"

Bill Dwyer and the Elks played a most strenuous game, his boys breathing being distinctly heard in Wainwright.

The third period started with the Elks leading by 84 goals to 83, and those goals proved a counter attack ed by each side in this stanza, bring ing the total score to 85-83

Jack Wilson officiated referee) referee) in a most impartial manner, being equally unfair to both sides

The score by periods was as follows after points, the Elks having 87 goals deducted for playing an allegedly non union man, and the C.N.R. losing 5 goals through deportment, the final count standing at 5-3

The teams lined up as follows:

C.N.R.—W. Hinchey, goal; W. Markewitz and J. Tallman, defence; D. Hinchey, W. Fallow, and E. Chesnick, forwards; sub., L. N. Tiere.

Elks—D. Taylor, goal; J. Culford and W. Dwyer, defence; W. Cross, W. Fallow and F. Chave, forwards; sub., J. Wiebe.

Keep Cool.

Premier Mr Peter Bryand, of France when recently taken to task by one of the National ist leaders who charged him with lack of firmness in dealing with the existing situation, answered with some show of spirit: "I believe the best way to keep cool is to keep busy, and I am busy remaining cool."

Another state executive, Marcus Aurelius, gave practically the same counsel in the second century of the era when he said: "Do not be whirled about but in each action observe what is proper to notice, and on the occasion of every impression maintain the faculty of understanding." Or, more briefly, keep cool.

The advice to keep cool, says a United States publication, is good advice at every one of six of the beginning of 1931 True but it is good advice at all times. The advice will be just as good at the end of 1931 as at the beginning and at all time between. The two quotations above demonstrate this maxim as the advice tendered by an outstanding statesman of the second century is repeated by one of our leading world statesman in the twentieth century. The words used may be different, but the meaning is the same

Do not be whirled about. Keep cool.

When the stream of life is flowing evenly toward its destined port or goal, following a well marked channel, with hardly a ripple on the surface, it is comparatively easy to keep cool. There is nothing to whirl us about and in the midst of prosperity we pride ourselves on our strength and breadth of the stability and greatness of our country.

But it is when feeling this safe from a sense of false security, whether in our individual or national life, we run upon the rapids, and rocks of disaster loom up ahead that we are inclined to be whirled about. Then is the time for every leader to set hearts and steady hands. It is then that our strength will be proved, and the stability and greatness of our people and our country established.

In the realm of nature cyclones and tornadoes result from the impact of hot air currents with cooler ones. The storm, the other destructive conflict comes So in the realm of world economics business depressions follow inevitably upon periods of abounding prosperity. Just as heated air becomes lighted, so does man in his business enterprise become puffed up. Both ultimately must be deflated, and it is in the process of deflation that trouble comes.

Then is the time to keep cool. When the sun is shining, and storm clouds are absent from the sky, and the barometer is steady, a ship's captain has a comparatively easy time, but when the storm breaks and the hurricane rages, and the ship is tossed and whirled about, it is essential that the captain remain cool and not whirled about.

This old world is just now in a "storm centre." It is passing through it; in time it will emerge. But it is now that we must all keep cool; it is now that it would be fatal to be whirled about. The present is not the time to abandon the old charts which have guided us in the past. Now is not the time to throw the compass overboard, and mutiny against the captain. When we have finally emerged from the present difficulty we should, of course, take stock of our knowing experience and endeavor to devise ways and means to prevent or lessen the force of another such storm. But while the storm rages, keep cool.

Keep busy; work harder than ever before and work cheerfully, knowing that thereby the present task will be lightened, the ability to bear increased, the faculty of understanding in full play; take alert advantage of every opportunity. Don't be stampeded and don't be discouraged. Let every one put his shoulder to the wheel and all push together.

To one and all, now and for every day of this year, is presented the admonition of the ancient Philistine leader: "Be strong, and quit yourselves like men."

Van Gold Field in Japan

Mining Engineers Discover One Of Canada Imports Large Quantities Of Unprecedented Wealth Poisons and Onions

A gold field, which is declared to be of unprecedented extent and 1930 Canadians ate more potatoes wealth has been discovered in Formosa by mining engineers representing the Tokio Imperial University's Dr Jinghoro Yehobori head of the government expedition estimates the amount of veining duty of 75 cents a hundredgold available to aggregate $2,500,000,000 The deposits, he said, extend for approximately 150 miles and are crop of potatoes during that period, alluvial in nature. "I actually The Dominion took about 60 per cent. picked up gold dust in river beds, in of the total export cotton crop, the mountains, on the plains and even on the streets of small villages." Dr. Yehobori said.

During the first nine months of than the people of any other foreign country, according to a commerce department report. Despite the complete failure of the potato crop, Canada paid less than a million dollars for the early potatoes and less than $200,000 for the onions.

World Wants More Gold

Gold is one commodity in which there appears no threat of a surplus. The world is constantly crying out for more. From Australia comes word that New South Wales has gone the length of honoring the industry by paying half the actual working costs of prospectors and offering other inducements. It is said there are over 1,000 prospectors out in that state.

Canadian Coal

News Scotia, New Brunswick, British Columbia and the Yukon produce only a tumbledown coal; the Saskatchewan mines yield lignite only; Alberta produces bituminous, sub-bituminous, and lignite, and formerly also mined some anthracite.

Was Weak and Run Down
Canada Scarcely Be Nonsuch

Mrs. Edward A. Allen, Bonnyville, Alta., writes: "I would like to tell you of the great benefit I have received from your Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I was feeling very much run down in health, and was so weak I could scarcely do my housework, in fact, I would have to lie down in the afternoon for an hour or so. I saw your Pills in the drug store and took a box home with me, and was delighted with my renewed strength. I have recommended them to a neighbor and feel sure they will help her too."

Nations Warned Against Russia

Trading With Soviets Provides Funds for Treasury Revolution

A special cable from London to the Toronto Globe says:

"The President of the Bureau of the International Entente against the Third Internationale has issued a serious warning to the nations of the world, through the Geneva press agency, not Russia's five-year plan. His pronouncement says in part:

"Whoever buys goods coming from Russia helps to provide the Russian government with the funds which it needs to maintain its dictatorship and to finance revolution. In the purchasing country, as in others, takes advantage of the low wages paid to the Russian people, and aggravates the shortage of food and other articles of prime necessity from which these people are suffering.

"Whoever sells to the Soviet government, directly or indirectly, receives in payment money of doubtful origin; contributes to the realization of the five-year plan; is one machine of which the workers will be the first victims, directed against the prosperity of other nations."

Overwork or Worry

Takes the Health Of Thousands Of Young Girls

In the "teen-age" years when school or office work is exacting and outside activities use up so much energy, many girls undermine their health and spoil their happy mess for years to come.

At such a time Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will help to build rich, red blood. They purify and enrich the blood, thus toning the entire body and bringing run-down conditions. Concerning Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Mrs. Fred Boland, Trenton, Ont., says: "When I was attending high school I suffered from nervous girls' troubles. I felt I would palpitate at the least exercise or mental effort. My nerves got so I nearly went mad. I began taking Dr Williams' Pink Pills and before long I gained in weight and every day seemed to improve in health."

Dr Williams' Pink Pills are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Noise Has Been "Harnessed"

Acoustic Paint Assures Quietness In Toronto's New Bank Building

Once again science has mastered an ancient and troublesome difficulty. Since men commenced to erect their first build ngs they have been confronted with the seemingly impossibility, problem of control of acoustics. Prof. G. R. Anderson, of the University of Toronto department of engineering physics, has proven acoustics can be controlled and that bewildering noises of modern can be eliminated from our buildings.

On the sixth floor of the new Bank of Nova Scotia building, on King and Jordan Streets, Prof. Anderson demonstrated how special composition ceiling tiles, and a certain sort of sounds produced incoming chaotic, clamorous noises.

The great banking building will be the quietest office structure in Toronto. Rooms that have been structurally noisy, will be far less so, quieter than the others, and it is predicted the efficiency of staffs will be enhanced 15 per cent.

Eradication of disagreeable noises is accomplished largely by the application of a new type of acoustic paint.

Agriculture Needs Help

Ways and means have been devised for helping all the industries except agriculture. Thought should be directed at once to a policy that will bolster up farming. If agriculture can be made even tolerably prosperous all other industries will prosper more benefit from the reflected prosperity than they could ever hope to enjoy from a tariff as high as the pence tower on Parliament Hill. — Farmers' Advocate.

What Price Glory

Judging from an incident which occurred recently at the Bullrog Memorial school, Regina, that city might still be in search of more and less, and all one gentleman overseas knows about it. The mailman delivered a sealnce catalogue to the technical school mailed from London, England, advertising scientific equipment. It was addressed simply: "Science Master, High School, Regina, North West Territories." What price glory, Saskatchewan?

Five Boys— Best Evidence.

Mrs. Corcoran, of Leigh, writes:—"I suffered with biliousness accompanied by dizzy spells. Days at a time, and every medicine I tried failed to bring relief. A friend gave me a box of your wonderful Carter's Little Liver Pills and the first dose gave me great relief. For three years I have taken them every night as a regulator and I find they prevent these bilious and sick headache attacks. I have five little boys and I give them three or four every week. I have great faith in them." Take Carter's Little Liver Pills. All druggists 25c and 75c red plgs.

New Laws in England

Varied Collection Of New Legal Enactments Law In Force

Whatever New Year resolutions the English citizen may make, he will find himself facing a bewildered collection of new legal enactments.

The standard rate of income tax goes up another 2½ per cent, and more substant'al incomes, though there is a reduction of the tax on intermediate and lowest categories.

The motorists encounter a sheaf of new requirements under the Road Traffic act, most important from a personal viewpoint being the compulsory insurance against third party risks. The speed limit is abolished for re rate cars and motor cycles. Motorists will be entitled to charge up to $135 for expenses incurred in treating accident victims. Hard-ware and barbers' shops will close compulsorily on Mondays. Jew'sh merchants may open on Sunday if they observe it on Saturdays. The Irish Free State incidentally is promoting a bill to establish a closed period throughout to be followed only by legally recognised sportsmen. In the Irish rural districts, it is understood, the frugal housewife frequently performs rough and ready shingling upon her offspring of both sexes by slapping a pudding basin on their heads and shearing around the edges. Perhaps such offenders will be classed as cultivators.

New English legislation provides for different treatment of mental patients of varying degree. And a melancholy reflection upon the state of the times is the provision that the government continues to pay health insurance contributions for some 100,000 persons out of work for two and a half years or more.

An Accurate Clock

Designed For Timing Football Matches At Highbury, England

A novel clock has been installed on the football grounds at Highbury, England. It is a forty-two minute timepiece, but in the middle of the time it sounds an electrically-worked hooter. From one to forty-five minutes are registered on the clock face, from forty-six to ninety they are in red. If a player is injured during the course of a match, the referee stops the clock at once for it is worked by ordinary clockwork mechanism. Thus, the clock can be adjusted so as to measure the exact duration of actual play. This mammoth timepiece weighs one and a quarter tons. Its clock face is no less than eight feet in diameter. It has been designed for the sole purpose of making the timing of football matches as accurate as possible.

Natural Gas

The consumption of natural gas in Canada during 1929 for domestic purposes was calculated to be sufficient to displace $40,000 tons of coal.

Exports from the United States to the Dominion during 1930 were valued at $1,000,000.

Doctor Lives On Raw Food

Advocates Simple Diet In Order To Get Keep In Good Health

Hard times and unemployment distress could be greatly lessened, according to Dr. Julian P. Thomas, Wing ing food specialist, because one bushel of wheat and one bushel of oats, together with a little fresh vegetation, would keep a man well nourished for at least a year.

In support of this startling assertion, Dr. Thomas cites the record performed by himself some forty years ago, when he lived on nothing but raw wheat and water for a period of ninety days. At that time the wheat cost $1 per bushel. When he started the experiment, he had such a weak stomach that he could not eat sufficient ordinary food to keep going. On the raw foods he became so strong and healthy that he was able to turn his excessive energy into money.

Upon investigating the subject, he finds that some people in all of the older nations have lived on a raw food living, some of them attaining such old age that modern folks do not believe the accounts, even when they occur in the Bible. The fact is, Dr. Thomas was first induced to pay attention to his diet through reading the Book of Dan'el. His first experiments were started years ago, and many people have benefited by his ideas. But all of these people are now dead, and he is still going strong, with the raw food belief that he will live for one or two hundred years, and that each day of his life will be happy and vigorous.

Prize For Timothy Seed

Robt. Cochrane Of Grand Prairie Awarded C.N.R. Cash Prize

In recognition of having won the world's championship for 1930 in timothy seed, Robert Cochrane, of Grand Prairie, Alta., has been awarded the special Canadian National Railway's cash prize granted at the Chicago international hay and grain show to the Canadian taking first place in that competition.

Announcement has also been made by R. English, of the Canadian National Agricultural Department, that the cash prize for top place in alfalfa seed at the same show goes to Mick Chaffe, of Ranter, Alta., who has been a winner in this field for some years. Cochrane, too, has been taking championships at Chicago for many years, the degree of the prize say, but this is the first time he has taken first place as a grower of timothy seed.

Friday the Thirteenth

There will be two more Fridays the thirteenth in 1931 than in 1930. Friday the thirteenth will fall three times in 1931, whereas in 1930 there was only one Friday the thirteenth. In 1931 there will be Fridays the thirteenth in February, March and November.

BRITISH FILM GUILD IS FORMED IN CANADA

Toronto, Ont.—Announcement was made recently of the organization of the British Film Guild in Canada, an independent organization of Canadian, American, and British capital to distribute and exhibit Canadian and British pictures in Canadian theatres. The Guild has an initial membership of 150 people and is now conducting a mail poll for the election of officers.

Believing the vagueness surrounding specific activities of British studios, the personalities of stars and directors, what British films are currently available for Canadian showings and how they appeal to Canadian tastes, to be one of the major handicaps to British films progress in Canada, the Guild hopes to act as a clearing house for information, the announcement said.

Its appointees will preview incoming films, and will furnish Canadian members with the information at large.

Members as a whole will report on British films they see and a summarised symposium of Canadian opinion will be sent to the British producers for his information as an indication of Canadian film entertainment. Starring on British films will be compiled with a notation of where they were shown, audience reactions and degree of box office success in each case. Co-operation of British producers in such things as arranging previews has, it stated, been obtained.

Decision On Freight Rates Re-Affirmed

Railway Board Explains Method Of Computing Reduction In Tariffs

Ottawa, Ont.—A re-affirmation of their former decision as to the correct method of computing the cut of 6 per cent. cut in maritime freight rates should be arrived at in contained in a judgment of the board of railway commissioners, delivered here.

The judgment decree that on westbound freight rates from "all rail" to whose origin lies within the "select region," the reduction shall be calculated on the basis of only the distance between that point of origin and the westerly limit of the "select area." Thunder Bay, Ont., appears to the whole distance from the point of origin to the ultimate destination. That is to say, a commodity transported, for example, from Moncton N.B., to Calgary, Alta., enjoys the 20 per cent. freight reduction not over the entire Moncton-Calgary rate but on that proportion of the Moncton-Calgary rate which the mileage between the distance between Moncton and Diamond Junction, or Levis, Que.

Talks To Buenos Aires

Prince Of Wales Telephones Across 6,000 Miles From London To Argentine

London, England.—The Prince of Wales picked up his telephone in Buck House and sent his voice across 6,500 miles to Buenos Aires, talking for seven minutes with Sir Herbert Gibson, chairman of the British trade exhibition, which the Prince will open in the Argentine on March 14.

So clear was the transmission that friends sitting near the Prince could hear what Mr. Gibson said. The prince read a message of welcome to the heir and then there was an informal chat.

To Improve Potato Crop

Fredericton.—Potato growers of Manitoba were urged to use certified seed and to strive to produce No. 1 grade crops by John Thompson, potato inspector of the Dominion, who addressed the board of trade's agricultural bureau recently. Manitoba's production in the last 10 years, he said, averaged 135 bushels per acre, which he considered low.

Will Celebrate Diamond Jubilee

U.S. Motor Vehicle Deaths

Chicago.—There was 32,500 motor vehicle deaths in the United States in 1930, the National Safety Council estimated recently. This figure represented an increase of approximately 1,300 deaths over the 1929 period.

Courage Needed Says Federal Woman Member

Miss MacPhail Thinks Representatives in Home Should Follow Their Conscience

Brantford, Ont.—"You can take your conscience into the House of Commons, but to keep it there—oh, boy!" commented Agnes MacPhail, M.P., in an address here, after reviewing the attitude of the members toward a woman colleague.

Miss MacPhail declared that there was great need today in parliament for members to follow their own conscience, and urged the need for what was right, irrespective of party or the big interests. The M.P. said, was "sadly needed by Hon. Arthur Meighen and Hon. Charles Dunning, two men of courage."

She declared that prosperity could not be secured by injecting life into any one industry as with a hypodermic needle, but was dependent on the prosperity of all.

British Shipyards Busy

Built Over Third Of World Construction During Last Quarter-Year

London, England.—Well over one-third of the total shipping under construction in the world in the quarter ending December 31, was in British shipyards, according to Lloyd's quarterly report. The exact percentage was 39.1 out of a total of 2,230,086 tons. The only figures not taken into account are vessels building small tonnage and building in Russia, which does not supply statistics.

The tonnage of ships being built in Great Britain in the period was 181 with a total tonnage of 908,502. This is a decrease of 207,844 tons from the previous quarter, and 651,352 tons less than in the same period of 1929.

Of the foreign tonnage under construction, 232,836 was recorded in the United States, 201,213 in Germany, 179,877 in Italy, 174,218 in France, and 160,078 in Holland.

Opening Of Manitoba's Legislature Announced

January 27 Date Decided On At Cab'net Meeting

Winnipeg, Man.—Manitoba's legislature will open Tuesday, January 27, Premier John Bracken has announced. Decision to commence the session on that date was reached at a cabinet meeting.

Unemployment relief measures loom as an important subject for the session. Re-adjustment of provincial taxation to enable the government to reduce the municipal levy on real estate is another important piece of business to be discussed by the members of the legislature.

Expect Improvement In Fishing Industry

Comprehensive Survey Being Carried Out By Fisheries Department

Halifax, N.S.—A marked improvement and more stable conditions in the Canadian fishing industry are expected in the reasonably near future by Hon. E. N. Rhodes, minister of fisheries.

Speaking of the survey of the industry being carried out by the department, Mr. Rhodes said it is one of such a comprehensive character that it could not be completed before next August. A study of market conditions at different seasons of the year was one of the features involved.

Question Of Gold Payment

Paris, France.—The answer of the French Government to the last British note relating to the payment in gold of the French war loan, which will be remitted soon, will constitute a courteous refusal to submit the difference to the exceptional procedure of arbitration, when normally competent jurisdiction has not been involved, it was reported recently.

Racer Seeks For States

Southampton, England.—Capt. Malcolm Campbell, British automobile racer, sailed on the "Homeric" for New York with his racing car, the Bluebird. If arrangements for his speed trials at Daytona Beach, Fla., at present somewhat confused, are not settled, he said he is ready to go on to New Zealand.

Advocates Fruit Growing

Manitoba Farmer Says More Money In Fruit Than In Grain

Winnipeg, Man.—A pioneer fruit grower of the prairies told delegates to the annual convention of the Manitoba Horticultural Association recently, that fruit growing should be looked on as a profitable field by farmers.

He's four acres of crab apples plus a few hybrid cherry trees netted him a greater profit last year, William Shepherd, Rathwell, Man., said, than 300 acres of grain would have. Mr. Shepherd considered fruit farming had a bright future in Manitoba.

HUGE TELEGRAPH MERGER MAY BE ARRANGED

Montreal. — Amalgamation of a $60,000,000 corporation of the respective commercial telegraph systems of the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Canadian National Railway is being considered by the two parties. The Canadian Press understands the proposal was made by Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National, and the Canadian National shall become partners with the L.I.C. in forming a Canadian overseas communication company, wh'ch shall include the Canadian Marconi Company."

The suggested amalgamation presents obvious advantages and no less obvious disadvantages. Economically, there would be the avoidance of the present duplication from coast to coast in equipment and personnel, but even more important would be the advantages of a strong, all-Canad an corporation, able to meet competition and hold its own against all comers. Per neither of the two Canadian commercial telegraph companies is sufficiently extensive or strong, and is necessary ly allied and more or less dependent upon one or other of the two Land Transit companies, whose residence here. Their Excellencies voiced a desire that it be devoted to the use of the children for their various outings.

Wheat Exports Increased

Canada Exports More Wheat During First Nine Months Than During Same Period Previous Year

Ottawa, Ont.—At the three-quarter mark in the present fiscal year Canada had exported cons derably more wheat than during the corresponding period last year, but the amount realized from the business was appreciably lower. Figures issued through the department of national revenue show that the Dominion exported 184,442,015 bushels of wheat during the nine months just closed, for which the sum of $157,735,170 was realized. In the corresponding nine months of 1929-30 the total quantity exported was 153,657,017 bushels, valued at $187,722,619

Both exports of domestic commodities and imports into Canada suffered a big decline in the nine months just ended. Total imports during the nine months just ended were $729,991,813, as compared with $1,000,262,518 in the corresponding period of 1929-30. Total exports of Canadian produce during the past nine months were to the value of $656,113,705 as against domestic exports during the nine-month period of last year, which totalled $890,465,841.

EARTHQUAKE CAUSES HAVOC IN MEXICAN CITY

Mex'co City.—Soldiers were turning over the wreckage of the thriving city of Oaxaca, carrying out the bodies of men and women they had perished in the earthquake which rocked southern Mexico.

At least 12 persons perished and many more were injured Telegraphic communication was impossible and radio messages irregular. The city itself, fragmentary messages said, was a shambles and panic-stricken people slept in the open, despite intense cold, because they were afraid to go back to such homes as were left standing.

The only clear picture of the disaster came out of the ruined city in a message to President Ortiz Rubio from General Evaristo Perez, military commander of the state of Oaxaca.

It was he who said that at least 28 persons had been killed or injured. Another message to the department of communications said that 12 had been killed, but this could not be verified immediately.

"It is impossible to describe the confusion here" the general's message said. "The love is incalculable. At least 25 persons have been killed or injured and we are still discovering bodies of those dead."

The general's home was destroyed and he was living in his automobile. Soldiers and military barracks were in ruins and a colonel of cavalry was one of those killed. The police were using the soldiers to search the ruins for additional victims

Epicenter of the quake, which struck at 4:30 a.m. (Central) at a few miles northeast of the city. Mexico City itself was shaken for four minutes and the tremor was felt in Puebla and 25 injured. There also was considerable property damage.

BID WILLINGDONS FAREWELL ON LEAVING CANADA

Ottawa, Ont.—Ottawa said "goodbys and good luck" to Their Excellencies the Viscount and Viscountess Willingdon. In the brightness of a sparkling sharp Canada winter day, prominent representatives of the political, diplomatic, business and social worlds of the Dominion a gathered to bid farewell to the Governor-General and his wife, who, for more than four years have lived among the Canadian people Bright uniforms of the soldiers who constituted travelling escort and guard of honor for Their Excellencies, flags and bunting, and a large array of beautiful roses with its message of "Good Luck" added colour to the scene

Headed by Rt. Hon. R. B Bennett, prime minister, members of the Dominion cabinet were present to shake the hands of Viscount and Viscountess Willingdon for the last time Rt Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Liberal leader Hon. G Howard Ferguson, newly-appointed high commissioner for Canada in Great Britain Hon. Vincent Massey, former Canadian minister to Washington, representatives of foreign governments in Ottawa, and others prominent in the various walks of life in the Dominion were among the crowd which gathered at the station.

After the last farewells were said as the train moved away and the Governor-General stirred up which he had served in the Canadian militia during the war as a cadet at Halifax and was promoted to lieutenant-commander in 1926. He qualified for command of destroyers while serving in the Royal Navy in 1929.

The many friends of Art Wiebe, up and coming hockey player, will regret to learn that in a practise with the Edmonton all star juniors last Saturday, he cracked his collar bone and will probably be out of hockey for the greater part of this season. Art was playing up fine and was looked on to fill one of the defence positions on the Edmonton all star junior team.

Shots From The Blue Line

— BY "SHOT" —

Slightly over 250 fans lined the boards for the third doubleheader of the Civic league last night, which shows what can be done by an energetic executive, lots of publicity and a bang up brand of hockey.

DILLIES DROP ANOTHER

Lack of finish and good scoring at Milky spelled doom for the College boys in the first game last night when they failed to register against the reorganized C.N.R. team who trotted out a formidable aggregation onto the ice. The agrarians were in the game until the final bell, though, and the 6-0 score hardly does them credit. Bell got two goals, Reanack and A Falkow each, while L. Darr got an assist.

CABARET TOP LEAGUE

Geo. Caspins' team went into the league leadership when they triumphed 5-1 over the Elks last night. Cabaret played nice hockey to watch and their performance did likewise, this probably being the best game of the season so far. The Elks had rather tough luck, scoring one goal which was ruled off-side and Fred Brimacombe being tripped after scoring a beauty through the defence for what looked like a certain goal. Scoring for the Elks was done by Bill Barr, while English and White did the necessary for the Cabaret.

Here we a line list of prizes for spectators next Wednesday, Jan. 28! Just listen to this: A 6-lb. chicken all ready to put into the oven, donated by the Surrey boys, some of Ben Currey's. A fruit cake by Joe Woner of Woner Bakery, and an aluminum tea kettle donated by the Civic League hockey executive. The players will get their share also, Vic Dumais giving every player on the team scoring the highest number of goals a free ball set.

These 15-minute periods are hard on second string forward lines, giving them very little chance to get into action, especially hard when they are practically as good as the first string. It's hardly fair to a sub to sit on the bench for a whole evening in the expectancy of a few minutes' play. Even during the 15-minute periods, subs could be used to advantage more often than they are, as we quite appreciated in the third period of the second game last night.

Bob Dancy had the lucky ticket and carried home George Caspins' big hat of chocolates, while E-d Wilson won the neck of vanity given by Miss Babe Swanson.

The scribe failed to see any humor in the remark that his pen name for this column should be "half shot."

Shots from the Blue Line

— BY "SHOT" —

In a rough and tumble match, executed by a disagreement before the match, the Elks defeated the College 4 to 2 in the first game last night. Tight refereeing kept the game from becoming too dominant and a large number of players cooled off in the penalty box; Jack Mackenzie of the Elks was the chief offender. The two Freds, Brimacombe and Munce, each added two points to their averages and Hugh Craig got an assist for the Elks, while Lamb and Ogston tallied for the College. H. C. Stephens, ex-college student, lined up with that team.

Cabaret Maintain Unbeaten Record

The George Caspins team seem to be headed for that Wiebe Cup, and took their fourth straight win at the expense of the C.N.R. in the second set-to by 3 to 2. The winning goal was scored 20 seconds before time was up. Good hockey was impossible last night on account of the sticky condition of the ice. Barry Bell scored two unassisted for the C.N., while A. Falkow with 2 goals, Waldenberger with a goal and assist and English an assist accounted for the Cabaret's total.

Good sportsmanship seemed to be dormant in the first encounter last night and "shot" hopes that it awakens before next Wednesday evening. We are not commenting on the eligibility of players, the executive decided that, and once decided difference should be forgotten and the game be played as it should be played. A poor example is set for the younger players when older ones attempt to run rings!

Hand it to young Stan Waldenberger for scoring a goal; the one he scored last night was a marvel. His stickhandling equals anything ever seen in Vermilion.

Such is fate! Bill Lamb, transferred to the College, scored the first goal against his old team-mates, and Maurice Falkow who went to the Cabaret tallied twice against his former team-mates, the C.N.R.

Ken Carson, left winger of the Provalleo and Cabaret, is "out" for the season so the report says. We hope to see him back, but medical advice is against his playing hockey. Tough luck, Ken.

Cap Munce's circuit still draws the crowd, the gate being $36 richer than last week, amounting to over $60.00 At 25c and 15c admission, figure it out, boys, figure it out.

The Elks seem to win all the prizes and walked away with the free hair cuts at Vic Dumais's meeting the most goals last night. 'Nough Sharp.

Prizes were well distributed last night and were won by: Fritz cake, donated by Woner's Bakery, Mr. E. Redman, a country fan. Dressed Chicken, by the Currie Boys. Jacques Chantrers, a college fan; the Tea Kettle, by "Santa Claus", Mrs. H. C. Gates or town.

More prizes next week! Here they are, fans: A big box of chocolates by the Rexton Cafe; a big wash tub by Harry Wiser, and $2.00 worth of milk tickets by the Vermilion City Dairy. Thanks donators, past and present. Season tickets are in the right place.

The circuit has been lengthened to another round, as all teams are very close in the running, five games being left to play for each team.

Good keepers' standing to date is: Reanack, Cabaret, 6; Brimacombe, Elks 7; Gates, C.N.R., 8; Mead, College, 12.

AVENUE HOCKEY CHAMPS TO PLAY HERE FEBY. 7TH

Edmonton Canadians Will Meet Local Juveniles at Arena

The Edmonton Canadians, juvenile hockey champions of Alberta, are playing the local juveniles at the arena here Saturday night of next week, Feb. 7th. The last time this crack team played here resulted in a bang-up game ending 2-1 for the present champions. Coach MacKenzie thinks that he has an even better team this year, so the game ought to be a satisfactory one, win or lose. However, it will be a game to be remembered and will probably decide whether our boys will enter the Juvenile provincial playdowns. Watch for further particulars in next week's issue.

Suggested Reductions In Teachers' Salaries

Practically every school district in the Vermilion Inspectorate was represented at a special convention of the "Trustees' Association held Saturday the 24th at the assembly hall of the Vermilion high school to consider ways and means for a uniform establishment of school expenditures. About 60 delegates registered. There was complete accord with the opinion that the majority of districts were experiencing tough sledding to make both ends meet. Several were reported as having already applied to the government for assistance. The situation was a serious one, it was stated by several delegates. There appeared to be difficulty about the requisitions and after some discussion it was decided that a trust deal could be done beyond a district filing its requirements with the municipal council and arrange the best way it could to get the money. It was felt that the majority of municipal districts would be quite agreeable to borrow money in order to finance the schools if necessary.

A lengthy discussion took place on the question of a reduction in the salaries of the teachers. It was felt this an accept of the agreements the matter very entirely in the hands of the teachers and that drastic action might lead to unpleasant results. Finally a resolution was unanimously passed that a reduction of from 10 to 20 per cent be made on the present salaries This reduction will be largely based on negotiation Another resolution asked that the provincial secretary of treasury be held earlier so as to enable proper recommendations to be made to the government to cover the deliberations of the convention.

N. McClellan, president of the association, presided at the meeting which was marked throughout with keen and interesting discussions

Burns' Concert Largely Attended

J. W. G. Morrison, K.C., of Vermilion, Presided

DERWENT, Jan. 27. — The first Burns' concert ever held in this hamlet took place in the community hall on Monday evening with a large attendance of the Clandonald relief lots who foregathered to do honor to the immortal memory of Scotia's beloved poet. J. W. G. Morrison, president of the St. Andrew's Society, Vermilion, presided. The Clandonald Relief lots was much in evidence and gave several selections during the evening. The band opened the programme, the items of which were sung by Mr. Hutchison; recitation, Jock Martin; dance, Highland Fling, Miss Marion Macaulay; song, John Kelly; recitation, Mr Dwyer; dance Irish Jig, Miss ethie Macaulay; song, Miss MacCormick; dance, Sword Dance, Miss Marion Macaulay. The chairman gave an interesting address on the place Burns took in the national life of Scotland and how he wrote of the scenes and removed the literature of that country at a time when they were at a low ebb. Short but happy and addresses also were given by Rev Father Cruddican Vermilion and Rev. Father Gillis of Clandonald both of whom appealed to the people to forget their native land and to carry with them its poetry and music and love. At the conclusion of the Auld Lang Syne a program of dances was carried out with Sherbrook orchestra at Vermilion in attendance. Good music and enjoyable occasion

Blair Cup Lifted From Islay C.C.

Total Score 22 to 16

After valiantly defending the cup several times, the Islay curlers were at last defeated for the cup value from the local club last Friday night by a total score of 22 points to 16. W. C. Pullbrook skipped, and defeated his 15 to 5 with one end to go, but his team mates, Ed Corley and Co dropped their game to H. V. Barlow 11 to 7, leaving the Vermilion rinks six points to the good. Personnel of the rinks were:

Vermilion W. C. Pullbrook (skip) F. M. Stewart P. McKone P. Flett.
C. Corley (skip) F. C. Long M. McKinnon and Geo. Welsh.

Islay: D. Knapp (skip) H. Smith J. Carey and J. Fyfe H. A. Barlow (skip) A. Davidson J. Miller Napier.

Daily Mishaps

Mr. Thomas Cubby, 176 Thin Ave., Verdun, Que., writes: "I have been a user of Zam-Buk for several years, and during that time I have used it for cuts, bruises, chapped hands, skin eruptions, and other troubles too numerous to mention, and it has always given me satisfaction in healing wounds and relieving pain. My personal opinion is that it is one of the best Canadians on the market."

ZAM-BUK is a pure herbal ointment known by all over the World for its wonderful soothing and healing properties. It quickly stops pain and inflammation. Many mothers, during thirty years, declare that since they first knew it they would be without it for any money. It is good for eczema, ulcers and sores, and for all skin diseases. Rubbed well into the pores, it keeps the skin soft, smooth, and healthy. It is good for measles, cuts, bruises, chapped hands, skin eruptions, and other troubles too numerous to mention. Zam-Buk is equally effective for all these troubles. Those who have used it for piles

Mrs. Hughes of Mountain Park is convalescing at the home of Mrs. J. Miller

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Mat Braithwaite on the birth of a son at the hospital here recently

Rev J. K. Smith of Edmonton was in town Monday in the interests of the Bible Society

The many friends of Lila Bowser were very pleased to see her in town on Monday for the first time since her lengthy illness Lila is much improved in health

The Pleasant Valley W. A. met at the home of Mrs Bowser on Wednesday afternoon, January 28th

The high school Glee Club, which is making excellent progress under the leadership of Principal J. W. E Meeth, are working hard on the cantata "The Childhood of Hiawatha" and an early production is anticipated

The ladies organized a basket social planning a series of concerts at frequent intervals during the year, and will also hold a dance occasionally in the spring. Rehearsals for this musical production will start at the beginning of March, and will be under the direction of Mrs. W. B Elford

In addition to these musical activities, the club of First Class standing and the Vermilion Citizens' Band are preparing the test pieces for the Lloydminster Festival which is the Provincial Musical Festival; and several of Mr Elford's pupils also intend to compete in the Provincial Festival.

It would appear from the above programme that musical development is receiving much attention in this district, and the year 1931 should mark a new record in local musical activity

PRESENT WINTER WITHOUT PARALLEL

Old timers may talk of the winters of '90 or '00 or other mild winters that might have been, but not being related at that time the Standard can't pass on the facts, but suffice to say that in our limited sphere the present winter is without parallel in the Canadian West for mildness, and we doubt if it has ever been equalled. Here it is nearing the end of January and sub-zero temperatures have only been registered three times, and then the mercury just got far enough below the 0 to be clear of it. Very little frost is now registered day or night and at the present time nothing of snow in the sun is noticed daily. Old timers of Vermilion now resident elsewhere is supposed to be balmier parts of the continent will probably read of the present winter with mouths agape and incredulous eyes, but such are the facts. Very little snow has fallen and cars run freely. Sleighing conditions were improved by the warm fall at the beginning of last week, although sleighing is still hard going on the highway.

Yesterday of this week saw the beginning of a real thaw, with the mercury hovering around the 50 mark in the shade for most of the day. This beginning was aided by a chinook during the night and Thursday is surely built with the very driest rivulets of water. What little snow we did have is disappearing quickly and a day or more and snow will be little in evidence

MUSICAL ACTIVITY IN VERMILION

Although the present winter season has so far been lacking in musical events, the vocal and instrumental talent of the town has by no means been idle, and the results of their efforts will be demonstrated in the near future in a series of musical productions of unusual interest.

Beginning with the concert given last night by the Vermilion Choral under the auspices of the Vermilion Citizen's Band, a varied diet of musical fare is promised to be served up for the delectation of music lovers.

At the present time the choir of the First United church, assisted by other local talent at the busy rehearsing Mendelssohn's oratorio "Elijah," which will be presented some time near the end of March.

The same organization will also render Stainer's sacred cantata "The Crucifixion" in the early spring.

The recently formed "Little Theatre Club" of Vermilion will also enter the musical field in the near future, it is organized by Miss Bowser, the operetta, "Barbarous of Barbary" for its initial offering to the public.

The High School Glee Club, which is making excellent progress under the leadership of Principal J. W. E Meeth, are working hard on the cantata "The Childhood of Hiawatha" and an early production is anticipated

Ballas Wins Appeal Against Dept. Education

Vesting Order Set Aside and Land Restored to Owner

By a unanimous decision of the appellate division of the supreme court of Alberta, the appeal of plaintiff in the action The School Act and John Ballas vs. the Minister of Education has been allowed and an order vesting the title to specified acres of land on a quarter section in the Willow Range school district is set aside.

The judgment was written by Chief Justice Horace Harvey and is concurred in by other judges of the court.

A significant feature of the judgment is that it is the last one on which Mr. Justice Hyndman's signature will appear, as he has resigned from the appeal court to become head of the pensions appeal court at Ottawa and it is probably the last case of its kind that will take place in Alberta courts, as lands of this nature have now been transferred to provincial domain by terms of the natural resources agreements.

The history of the case goes back to 1912 when the Willow Range school district was established and became registered owner of two acres of land, part of one of the sections reserved under the Dominion Lands Act for school purposes. In 1927 the balance of the quarter section was sold by auction to the appellant Ballas. By terms of the Dominion Lands Act, payments can be spread over 10 years but by Section 11 it is provided that a vesting for purposes other than purchaser to possession and use of the land to the exclusion of everyone else. In 1929 the school district found it necessary to increase the accommodation of the school house by the addition of another room, and decided to increase the area of the school site by an additional two acres.

The Minister of Education approved but a satisfactory title could not be arranged with Ballas and the department of the interior at Ottawa declined to withdraw the parties required from the sale to him but intimated that it would take no exception to the Minister of Education taking expropriation proceedings. The Minister thereupon executed a transfer of the lands, had it presented to a judge pursuant to the statute, and on the minister's application the judge made an order vesting the land in the school district.

"Up to the present as far as the records of the Land Titles Office show the land is still vested in the Crown," writes the Chief Justice, "but it is stated that the order was sent to the interior department which has advised some time ago that letters patent had issued granting the land to the school district, but that was done and apparently again without any notice to Ballas that his land was being taken, the school district went on the land and proceeded to build by digging a well. Ballas filed a writ and an action was brought against him in the district court and judgment given against him for damages on the birth of the vesting order. This also was before the letters patent, and Ballas learned of the existence of the vesting order before the trial does not appear."

Continuing, he states that "I feel no doubt that the present section could have no application in such circumstances, and the Minister therefore was not authorized to execute a transfer, and equally there was no jurisdiction for the judge to make a vesting order. If the application had not been authorized to be made by the proper notice had been registered, it is probable that the judge's action then would have been called to the attention respondent, but when an application is made by consent on behalf of a minister of the crown under the statute as this, which seems to me in no discretion, it is not surprising that he would take much for granted."

If his case was tried at Vermilion in December and judgment given for the plaintiff, the Willow Range school district, in the amount of the damages sued for and costs. F. J. Richardson acted for the defendant and J. W. G. Morrison, K.C. for the appellant. The defendant then moved by way of appeal to have the finding set over set aside and the appeal quashed allowing the appeal. Ballas now re-possesses the land. The appeal was argued by P. G. Thomson, K.C. on behalf of the Minister of Education, solicitor for appellant. Ballas filed almost in the southern part of the province when it was heard. W. S. Gray, K.C appeared for the Minister of Education.

Annual Meeting Boy Scout Association

The annual meeting of the local Boy Scouts Association was held on Tuesday night, Jan. 20th in the Armories. A large and enthusiastic gathering, supporters of scout work were present and enjoyed the interesting program of musical numbers and displays of scout work. This was followed by a social hour when everyone made merry over an abundance of good eats.

A well attended business meeting was held towards the close of the evening. The formation of a Rover crew from among the older boys in the Scout troop, who would carry on with advanced scouting, was recommended, and the committee voted that this work be taken in hand.

Mr. Don Taylor, who for the past four years has acted as capably and loyally as Scout Master, tendered his resignation, but at the unanimous request of the committee, agreed to carry on. Appreciation of the excellent services which Mr. Taylor had rendered as Scout Master in the past was suitably expressed.

Mr. Frank Addison was appointed Cub Master with Marwood Brimacombe assistant. The election of officers for the ensuing year was then held and resulted as follows: President, Mr. J. W. G. Morrison; Vice-President, Mr. M. G. Brimacombe; Secretary, Mr. J. D. Adam; Members of the Executive committee, Rev Mr. McComas, Mr. Seabrook, Mr. Brimacombe, Miss Betty Brown, Mrs. Don Taylor, Mr. Taylor and Mr. Grierson.

Disastrous storms in the "tornado belt" in the middle west and southeastern states have usually occurred in spring and summer.

In 1900 the number of automobiles in the U.S. was about 8,000.

DENSMILLER—BUTZ

A wedding of wide interest to Lac Lamb ville people was solemnized in Vermilion on Wednesday, January 21 when Rev. Father O'Sullivan united in marriage Beulah, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Bob Butz, and Tom Densmiller, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Densmiller, both families being of the Lac Lamb ville district.

The bride was becomingly gowned in pink georgette, with a white veil, and carried a wreath of white orange blossoms. The bride-smaid, Miss Nellie McNamara, wore a dress of sand tint crepe. Mr. Pat Noonan supported the groom.

The young couple will make their home in the Lac Lamb ville district.

Here and There

Forty years of service with the Canadian Pacific Railway has received recognition in the appointment of George Hodge, assistant general manager, eastern lines, to be manager of the newly-created department of Personnel of the railway, announced by Grant Hall, vice-president of the company recently. Mr. Hodge was specially selected for the appointment in view of his wide experience in labor matters and his particular flair for handling and sheltered activities. He was specially in the Rockies at the time of the McAdoo award when the organization of that situation evoked unstinted praise in Canada and the United States.

Likelihood of a large entry list from the Prairies for the third annual Edmonton Bonspiel Mixed Golf tournament to be played at Victoria Golf Club February 23-28 is indicated in enquiries pouring in from leading amateurs of the prairies. Last year the journey brought together 150 leading men and women golfers of the Pacific Coast and the Prairies and it was the unanimous wish that the event be repeated.

Marwood Brimacombe reported for the Vermilion People's Ministry, and Mr. M. G. Brimacombe for the choir. The latter since its re-organization early in the fall had raised over $60.00. W. B. Elford is training the choir with Mrs. Brimacombe as organist and Mrs. Malcolm as leader

The church membership also showed a substantial increase. Mr. C. Olsen was added to the board of managers.

After the meeting the ladies of the congregation served refreshments and a social half hour was enjoyed.

ARTIFICIAL LAKE MAY BE FORMED NEAR VERMILION

The provincial board is reporting to the government on a project to create an artificial lake near Vermilion, as providing a public park site for that town. Surveys have been made for the board, the scheme being to construct a dam across the Vermilion valley a short distance west of the town, at an estimated cost of slightly [illegible]

Much interest in the project has been shown by the people of Vermilion, but no action will be taken until the government has considered the board's report.

The cost of the land required for the purpose will be met by the town, estimated at from $2,500 to $5,000.— Edmonton Journal.

Presbyterians Have Successful Year

Encouraging Reports Presented At Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the congregation of the First Presbyterian church was held in the church hall on Monday evening of last week, when a large attendance of members was present. The reports submitted for the year showed remarkable progress in every department of the church work. Over $1000.00 had been raised for all church purposes. The report for the Sunday school was presented by Mrs. Northgrave and showed the number enrolled had doubled over that of the previous year, it now standing at over 50. J. M. Payne is the superintendent. The receipts from that department were $141.90.

The report of the Ladies' Aid was given by Miss Fraser. Several new members were added during the year Furnishings and chinaware had been purchased for the hall and a payment of $100.00 made on account of the indebtedness against it. It also presented a supply of books, curtains and additional seatings were made. The sum of $240.00 had been raised during the year.

Mrs. Bell presented the report for the W.M.S. It also showed additional members and increased giving. Contributions of literature and supplies were made to the hospitals at Vegreville and Fort McMurray. 141 sick visits had been made during the year.

Marwood Brimacombe reported for the Young People's Society, and Mrs. M. G. Brimacombe for the choir. The latter since its re-organization early in the fall had raised over $60.00. W. B. Elford is training the choir with Mrs. Brimacombe as organist and Mrs. Malcolm as leader

The church membership also showed a substantial increase. Mr. C. Olsen was added to the board of managers.

After the meeting the ladies of the congregation served refreshments and a social half hour was enjoyed.

Get Set For Banff Carnival

The stand-out week in the west this winter will be February 7-14 when the Banff Winter Sports Carnival will be held. Parades of skiers, ski-jorers, snowshoers, curlers, hockey, skating, tobogganing, sleighing, modeling, and every variant of winter sport, there is added to all these the incomparable beauty of setting in the heart of the Rockies, clothed in their winter dress of ermine beneath a sky of turquoise blue. It all runs end to end in a blaze of colored lights with, here and there, the last of the Canadian tepees of the Stoney Indians and the colorful note of bright-hued blankets, betasseled headdresses, beaded quirts and shaggy-red ponies. As if all this were not enough to crowd into one short week, there is the great Ice Palace, lit up at night with fireworks displays, the annual trap shoot of the Banff Gun Club, the packing contest with its high light of the famous diamond hitch, and an open air swimming in the hot sulphur springs, unique to the annals of winter sports. Masquerade balls keep the fun of the carnival going and it ends up with the election of the Queen for the ensuing year. Lay-out shows skiers in action under the shadow of the mountains with insets of Pat Brewster, president of the 1931 carnival, W. E. Round, secretary-treasurer of the sports and Miss Doris Winifred Parkes, of Vancouver, Queen of the Carnival

NOTICE

At the Annual Meeting of the two million (10) Timber Association, a resolution was passed extending the time for eligibility for membership in the Association to December 31st, 1930. This is now in line with the original idea when the Association was started, and will now admit all settlers and their wives who arrived in the district before the above date.

The Annual Round-up will be held in March next, with a banquet and a real old timers' rally. The yearly membership fee is $2.00 which includes admission to the banquet

All those who wish to join are requested to sign up and pay the annual fee on or before Feb 28th next, as we must know the number to provide for at the round-up.

Read For Recreation and Profit

If we are to believe what the daily press tells us—and doubtless in the main it gives us all of truth—the late professor in a U.S.A. State university has written a book on "The Art of Rapid Reading." He says the a fast reader— and almost anybody can become one by trying—can get away with 120 books a year, or around twelve a month; and if time swift reader will give but two hours a day to the matter he can read 12,000,000 words a year, which would be around 36,000 words a day. And this mind you, excludes of newspaper and magazine reading. Just books, you know. The professor says that any fairly intelligent reader can teach himself to read at least half again as fast as he now does.

I have not seen the professor's book, and if I should come across it, I am not likely to read it. The scope of my ambition does not embrace a desire to be a "rapid" reader I do not wish to set myself a stint of so many books to be travelled through correctly within a given number of months or weeks or days. I can get along nicely without being able to boast, by the end of the year, that I have read 50,000,000 odd words in a twelvemonth, and I cannot muster regret at the end of a busy day if I have not done my daily 30,000 words, or ten thousand, or one thousand, or none at all. In fact, I could run quite happily and profitably for a considerable number of days without having seen a word of the printed or written word, and could still look myself in the face next morning over what I had read and deciding how much of it was worth remembering.

Why do we read? More particularly, why do we read books? Doubtless each one would give a different reason for reading, but in a general way, we read for information, for entertainment, for self-improvement, and for pleasure. I like to read in the same way as I go for a walk. I like a reasonably rapid pace where the way is open and there is not much in the surroundings to claim special attention; a slower pace when I enter the woods or where the ground view is interesting; a pause for some particular view or to listen to the song of a bird or to watch the ever-changing tracery of the mist in the valley or around the hill tops or to marvel over the girth and height of some forest giant. I throw myself at full length on a bit of moss and just dream. But never in any circumstance to gauge or value the walk by the number of steps I may have taken or the miles I may have travelled.

We walk for recreation—the re-creation, refreshment, upbuilding and unfold leg of our bodies and minds. When we have the choice we should read for recreation, for profit, for mental and spiritual benefit, for pleasure, lasting pleasure. We should read as a prospector looks for gold, rapidly, if we wish, where there are no signs of buried treasure, carefully where the "colour" shows and with infinite interest but keen alertness when we strike a vein or discover a nugget. For it is the nuggets, the gems buried in the printed pages of books which give zest and zest to reading and the discovery of which repays richly for the time spent.

Not how fast can you read, but how thoroughly, should be the chief rule for any reading that is worth while. Reading which is not worth while is never worth at time. Reading is one of the greatest joys of life, and of expression savoring each polished phrase as you would savor the daintiest morsel of food, till you have drawn from it all of its flavor and taste and charm. Your inner ear attuned to catch the music of the words. Your inner alert to catch the play of fancy of the writer. Pausing now and then to chase to its lair every word you do not understand. That is the way. I take it. To read, when it is your choice to do so, for pleasure and profit.

You may read 30 000 or 50 000 words a day and add nothing to your store of knowledge or your gallery of beauty. And you may read no more than 1 000 or even 1,000 words a day and add generously to your mental treasure house. You see, it is all in the quality and not at all in the quantity of the words. And the pleasure you gain from your reading—especially your chosen leisured reading—will depend on the setting of your reading pace to your capacity for getting all out of what you read that the writer put into it

If you can read rapidly and thoroughly, well and good; but above all things else, read thoroughly. And don't let it trouble you in the least if you come upon some seven-league-boots reader who can dispose of ten books to one. Of the making of many books there is still no end; but ones in a while a real book appears. It may be worth while to give this a year of leisurely reading and let the other 179 you might have "read" pass into the place of forgotten things as the most of them are sure to do anyway.

Don't try to match the mass production of the publishers with mass reading. Better give 12,000,000 seconds to thinking than to rapid reading of an equal number of words, if you cannot compass both. Don't read so much that you have no time left to think over what you read or have read. Taking the author's best wide you will get more profit and pleasure out of one than out of rapid reading and you will have time to gurnee the urge to listen to the music and to revel in the beauty inherent in all good writing

Device For Astronomers

Revolving Platform Enables Star-Gazers To Change Their Position

A piece of machinery to enable readers of the stars to ride has been built by the General Electric Company at its plant in West Lynn, Mass., and is on its way to a Harvard University observatory in South Africa.

The device is an observers' platform, which revolves in any position, enabling the astronomer following the course of a star to change his position with the rotation of the telescope. It is operated by electric motor, with push buttons close to the observer's hand.

The platform was designed at the suggestion of Dr. Harlow Shapley, director of the Harvard astronomical observatory. It is to be installed in the Boyden Station of the Harvard observatory at Bloemfontein, South Africa. It will be used with a 60-inch telescope.

Voices Traced To Wireless

Radio Set Left Turned On Had Following Guessing

Flying squads, in Santa Maria, and foot police were called out when a policeman heard voices in the bar of Gardenvale Arms, 3 miles on Street and High Prices Street, New castle, England.

The building was surrounded and the police quickly gathered while the police examined the premises. Not a single window had been forced open, but a single lemon mark marred a door.

When the police eventually raised doubtfulness they found that the wireless set had been left on when the premises were closed earlier in the day. The voice the policeman had heard was the voice of Dean Ingo broadcasting.

Stanley Baldwin Suffers Loss

Says Fluctuations Should Be Pitching Oaknum Instead of Pitching Pockets

How hard the trade depression has hit eminent Englishmen is revealed by Right Hon. Stanley Baldwin's account of his own personal losses

Denouncing financiers who "ought to be pitching oaknum instead of pitching pockets," and referring to the iron and steel industry, he said: "When I took office, most of what I had was in that ancient industry. Before I now hold, cash which I held then, and could have sold for three pounds ($15) each, today are worthy twenty pence. No catastrophe on earth can bring them back to more than a fraction of their ancient value

"It may have been bad business on my part, and many business men will say I know bad, cash which I realized at the top of the market, but when you have an old name in business, against which you have been said in this world, and when you know the public have gone into the business on the strength of that name. It is an impossibility to throw your shares on the market when you know the loss will fall on them and not on you.

"Now, I have nailed my colors to the mast of the British and British industry, and I do not regret it. We shall never gain new predominence without the same spirit and the same sincerity of those who conduct business in this country and apply true, honest workmanship in the goods we sell"

Tales Of Starvation

Annual Report Of Mounted Police Detachment Reveals Tragedies

Tales of starvation and tragedy came out of the North in the annual report of the Canadian Mounted Police detachments to "G" Division headquarters in Edmonton. They tell of the starvation to death of a young American who attempted to brave a 300-mile winter trip with only two weeks' supplies of provisions; the accidental shooting of a baby as it slept in a bed, and the drowning of a sapper in a river.

The young American was James Elden Richard, 25, of Albany, Cal., where his mother resides. He left Hay Lakes on foot on March 17, 1930, and his body was found in a deserted trapper's cabin on December 12, 1930. Tragic notes left, indicated that W. E. Baker, trapper, had died

James Higsiak, a few months old baby, was killed on November 7, 1929, when his mother, Mrs. Higsiak, accidentally discharged his rifle in his cabin at Coppermine River.

An accident in the 14-foot cache frozen in the ice at Fish Lake, 32 miles north of Fort Wrigley, Indicated that W. E. Baker, trapper, had died by drowning during the Fall. His dogs had returned in an emaciated condition to the home of a trapper named Sanderson in late October, and a search revealed the cause. He was last seen on October 11, 1930.

Storehouse Of Wealth

Works Of Art Of Fabulous Price In Vatican All Rooms

Said to be the largest palace in the world, the Vatican contains 20 grand stairways and 200 smaller ones, 20 courts and 11,000 halls, chapel rooms and apartments, and its wealth is so fabulous as to be beyond anyone's knowledge. Within the Vatican are tens of thousands of paintings and objects many of which alone are worth a fortune. The single painting of "The Last Judgment" is 33 feet wide and 66 feet high. If a single one of the half-dozen marble bathtubs were put on the market it would bring enough to build a good-sized church. In the library are single manuscripts that are priceless, marble tables inlaid with pearls and gems worth a fortune and rooms almost as valuable. Rockefeller could hardly pay for the tapestries and paintings in the Vatican, and Henry Ford would be bankrupt before he half finished if he started to purchase the treasures of this great building.—Successful Farming.

How To Lose Fat...and Get That Youthful Feeling

Over in Great Britain when a man is feeling "on its as a diddle" and looking the "picture of health" they say:

"HE'S GOT THAT KRUSCHEN FEELING."

That means he takes his little dose of Kruschen Salts every morning.

It's the same in the U.S.A.—in Germany—in Holland—in Australia—in South Africa, for Kruschen Salts are now sold the world over.

Kruschen Salts is not one salt only—it is the combination of six salts necessary to healthy life.

Take half a teaspoon in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning, steadily your diet and exercise regularly.

But don't miss a morning, for Kruschen not only rids and keeps the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels in a splendid healthy condition, but purifies your blood-stream, and sends new life and activity to every part of your body.

A Stabilizing Factor

Canadians Mining Industry Has Steadying Influence In Dominion

Canada's mineral industry has been the principal stabilizing factor in the business depression that engulfed the Dominion, said Hon. W. A. Gordon, federal minister of mines, in an address at Ottawa. Despite new low record prices in 1930 for most of the mineral products, increased production figures and, at the same time, most of the companies engaged in the industry remained profitable, Canada was forging to the front as one of the greatest mineral-producing countries in the world, all of which, said a decided influence on its economic stability.

Speaking of the future that lay before the mineral industry, Mr. Gordon said vast areas still remain to be prospected, and many outstanding developments were not in full operation. He had no doubt that the future would be even greater for the industry than the past.

PAIN after eating

What many call "indigestion" is very often nothing but excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and the food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes acids instantly. The best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

It has remained the standard anti-acid with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali will neutralize the acidity many times as much acid, for the Phillips' name on bottle and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this pure preparation. A small bottle is sufficient to show its merit.

Be sure to get genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for more than 50 years in correcting excess acid. 25c a bottle; any druggist. Complete directions for its many uses are enclosed with every bottle.

The Genuine Milk of Magnesia is always a liquid—never a tablet. Look for Phillips' name on bottle

MODERATION IS ADVICE GIVEN BY BROWNLEE

Calgary, Alta.—Warning against hasty steps to create Bretetism, secession, or currency alteration, was delivered by Premier J. E. Brownlee to United Farmers of Alberta in annual session. The U.F.A. party leader enumerated ample deliberation at the steps urged by radical forces rising out of unrest, and a revival of "the old crusading spirit" of the farmers' movement of early days.

"Governments in Canada cannot allow agriculture to be destroyed," remarked Mr. Brownlee. "Canada cannot live unless agriculture does."

He advised agrarians, however, to "consider whether it is worth while to continue farming, and how." It requires only a small reduction of acreage and a corresponding small increase of world consumption to wipe out the bugbear of overproduction.

"What about secession?" asked the premier. "The difficulty in the West is that we have too much wheat. Would you sell it under secession? Where? And what would you sell it for?" He added that in some parts of the province propagandists are urging all the good things in the Russian system, but he condemned that their advice should be followed. He told his audience they could have in Alberta everything that is bad in Russia, if they deemed it best, "by the simple expedient of your votes."

"Don't think that by some change in Canada's financial policy — currency—we can get more money and times to good times," warned Mr. Brownlee. He did not wish to suggest that he was opposed to the Canadian financial system, he said, and was not sure that those who are in a position to know are for depositors are the best to handle credit.

Creditors pressing for collection would be one of the country's most acute problems if Canada should have 70 to 75 cents wheat, Mr. Brownlee believed. He foresaw the need for organized effort to solve the difficulty and to work out a scheme regarding tax arrears to keep farmers on the land.

The government of Alberta is apprehensive of a crash in livestock prices next year, if overproduction follows effort toward mixed farming, Mr. Brownlee averred. He mentioned the idea of unofficial co-operation with the plan of F. W. Beatty, K.C., for a loan fund for aiding livestock purchase. Inquiry he did not agree with some aspects of the plan.

If the prairie premiers' proposal for a fixed price for wheat sufficient to prevent loss, but not large enough to increase production, could be accepted by the Dominion government, Mr. Brownlee believed, agriculture would have been saved. The cost probably not larger than expenditures already authorized for relief.

Would Ban Beer Parlors

U.F.A. Want All Beer Parlors In Alberta Closed

Calgary, Alta.—Immediate action to abolish Alberta's beer parlors, either by legislation or by referendum was urged in a resolution passed at the annual convention of United Farmers of Alberta. Both the U.F.A. and the women's section of the organization had previously condemned beer parlors and the sale of beer.

The stand of the convention endorsed the request of the Alberta Prohibition Association for the abolition of beer parlors, and labelled beer halls as a menace to the social and moral welfare of the province. "The time has come," stated Norman Priestley, newly elected U.F.A. vice-president, "to strike another body blow at this traffic."

Plantoid Approaches Earth

Toronto, Ont.—Eros, a planetoid which comes near the earth approximately every 30 years, is due to make its second appearance, since its discovery in 1898, on the 29th or 30th of this month. Its visit will afford one of the most outstanding opportunities for astronomical research that has occurred since the beginning of the century, Prof. H. H. Kingston, head of the department of mathematics and astronomy, Western University, says.

Sentenced By Court Martial

He was the second enlisted man to be tried. Thirty men were involved.

Special Flag May Be Used

Rumor Says New Governor-General Will Fly Own Flag

Ottawa, Ont.—While official announcement is lacking, it is rumored here that with the approval of the King the next Governor-General of Canada will fly his own flag, as personal representative of His Majesty.

Cape Town, South Africa.—South Africa already flies its own national flag alongside the Union Jack, and now the governor-general is to have his own flag as the personal representative of His Majesty.

The new governor-general is the Earl of Clarendon, and his flag will consist of a blue ground on which is the royal crest in gold, with the words "Union of South Africa" under the crest and the same words in Dutch below.

His Majesty has given approval for the use of the flag.

CANADA WHEAT SURPLUS DATA IS REVEALED

Ottawa, Ont.—Wheat surpluses in exporting countries of the world are reviewed in a statement handed out by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics on Canada's surplus is given as 263,000,000 bushels. Other important exporting countries have surpluses which are estimated as follows: Argentina, 300,000,000 bushels; Australia, 165,000,000 bushels; United States, 150,000,000 bushels. The surplus in Russia is not known, according to the statement, but it has been estimated that 1,187,400,000 bushels has been harvested.

The figures given reflect the situation during the month of December as far as foreign statistics are concerned, while the situation in Canada is covered up to the middle of January.

"Surveying world situation from the Canadian viewpoint, no material increase in demand is visible," the review states. "European countries, apart from France, will not increase their imports to any great extent. It will be remembered, however, that France has undertaken that between seven and nine million bushels of wheat will be imported during the year. Italy, according to the December 31 last, the Canadian exports to France amounted to 3,739,877 bushels.

"Germany's policy with regard to imports of foreign wheat is identical with that of France, the embargo being to force consumption of rye as bread and as a mixture with wheat. It is possible, in these two countries, that native wheat is selling at prices from 21.67 to 21.87 per bushel, while North American wheat cannot be imported at the very low price of 65 to 70 cents per bushel."

It is stated in the review that the Argentine surplus will have to be disposed of as soon as possible on account of inadequate storage facilities. At the present time inclement weather in the Argentine is hindering crop exports and also deteriorating qualities. Inadequate storage facilities are also the case in Australia which will result in that country selling in the open world market. Australia, however, also is experiencing inclement weather. With respect to Australia, a new outlet has been found in India which is taking large imports from the Antipodes.

With respect to the United States it is clear that that country is not at present a competitor in world markets in spite of large wheat stocks. Russia has forwarded 72,208 000 bushels through Black Sea ports since August 1, but recent crop reports experience have failed. It is forecasted, however, that increased shipments will be forthcoming during the winter

Non-European countries are expanding their wheat imports, according to the review and now that unused dry weather in India should mean a better demand for wheat in these countries, which has been relied upon as an outlet for Canadian wheat.

The opinion is expressed that with seven months of the crop year remaining, the surplus of 263,000,000 bushels in Canada is not unreasonably high. Attention is drawn to the fact that the five year average export for the seven months ending July 31, was 161,118,554 bushels or 30,102,305 bushels per month. There has been a continued improvement in the exports of wheat and wheat flour during the first five months of the crop year.

Two-thirds of the railways in Switzerland have been electrified.

U. F. A. OFFERS PLAN TO ASSIST THE PRODUCER

Calgary, Alberta.—Request that Canada's government take over the 1930 wheat crop, paying producers in wheat certificates, was entered at the annual convention of United Farmers of Alberta. The certificates, it was proposed, would be redeemable in wheat and receivable in payment of taxes.

Payment in certificates of a price to producers approximating cost of production, was advised in the resolution advanced by George Bevington, of Winterburn, against authority on finance. Actually, explained Mr. Bevington, the wheat certificates would be used "simply as a temporary currency based for redemption on wheat." but good outside Canada for any commodity produced in the Dominion.

William Irvine, M.P. for Wetaskiwin, associated himself with Mr. Bevington in the resolution, which was approved unanimously by the delegates representing the 18,000 Alberta farmers. Other important resolutions sought an early survey of wheat marketing countries to seek stabilized wheat production and export prices, and a packers' association of Canada to enter into agreement with Britain for regular monthly minimum shipment of live-stock and meat products.

The proposals were contained in a lengthy memorandum from the U.F.A. board of directors entitled after a full day of debate. The document, as supported by the convention, is designed to assist the Bennett government in the solution of the country's economic problems, including farm relief, credit reform, and an outbreak of industries, money market extension and tariff revision. their crews

Russian Wheat Imports

British Government Holding An Investigation On Question

London, England—The House of Commons witnessed a brief outburst over the question of imports of wheat from Russia.

In reply to a questioner, Rt. Hon Christopher Addison, minister of agriculture, said the British government was examining the question of importation of wheat from Russia and its effect on British agriculture He was unable to say, however what the British government would issue a statement of the outcome of its inquiry

London, England.—An empire dairy council with headquarters in London, England, will be formed at a meeting for a decision made by the Royal Empire Society.

The main objects of the council will be to co-ordinate the interests of the dairy industry throughout the empire, with a view to the best use of home and overseas empire producers under fair conditions and to deal with financial and marketing questions affecting butter and cheese.

Hail Insurance Losses Heavier Last Year

Report States Many Companies In Alberta Forced To Withdraw

Toronto, Ont.—Canadian hail insurance losses were heavier last year than in 1929, but not so heavy as in 1877 and 1928, it was stated here by delegates to the Canadian Hail Insurance Companies' convention.

Several losses in Alberta had caused the withdrawal of many companies from Alberta, delegates said, and unless certain legislation sought by the companies was enacted, many more Alberta companies would be forced to withdraw.

Building New Roads

United States To Spend Huge Sums This Year On Extensive Program

New York.— New roads long enough to circle the globe will be built in the United States by the straining muscle of some 500 000 workmen this year as a cost set far short of a billion dollars.

Upwards of 9 000 miles of the approximate 25 000-mile total will be of hard surface. This is exclusive of 11 states in which highway commissioners could make no mileage estimate

Winnipeg May Have More Representatives

Increase Of Two Seats In Provincial House Contemplated

Winnipeg, Man.—Increase in Winnipeg's representation in the provincial government to 12 seats is contemplated by the Bracken administration, it has been learned in authoritative circles. At present the city has ten seats in the legislature on a basis of proportional representation. The government, it is stated, plans to bring the suburbs of St. James and Kildonan within the city representation, adding two seats.

ADVERSE VOTE DOES NOT END LABOR PARTY

London, England—Amid the echoes of Ayr-old religious controversies was struck from behind—its own ranks divided—the MacDonald Government was defeated in the House of Commons by a vote of 282 to 249. As the position of the tellers at the clerk's table told the story of the response on a clause of the Education Bill the House was plunged into a commotion by the Conservatives shouting: "Resign, resign."

But although the defeat came in the report stage of the Education bill there was no question of a government resignation Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald declared. To vote did not involve a question of principle The government would not ask accept the decision of the House and would proceed with the bill.

At this juncture, Rt Hon Winston Churchill, who is sometimes termed the Arch-Conservative arose to proclaim in fateful accents that Mr MacDonald was the greatest living master of falling without hurting himself The government had been defeated by more than 30 votes yet the prime minister said Mr MacDonald was not going to resign but intended to go ahead as though still he had happened

The Conservatives then attempted to press their advantage by moving the abandonment of the Bill That vote Labor met with the House proceed with the bill

Two years later the vessels which passed the Act of Union against 276 and now it goes into the House of Lords

The defeat of the government came on an Amendment moved by Sir Thomas Inskip, Conservative Solicitor General

The English elementary schools are also involved under the clause to which the government suffered defeat, the religious instruction of public school pupils. The religious instruction would be given by the teachers of the various religious denominations represented in the locality

All schools would be state-supported but in cases of the non-provided schools the buildings and property of a religious community are conveyed

FRENCH CABINET RESIGNS OVER WHEAT PRICES

Paris, France.—The French Chamber of Deputies overthrew the government of Premier Theodore Steeg, thereby serving notice that France is not going to pay $2 a bushel for wheat when it is selling for 80 cents in Chicago and around 60 in Winnipeg

The cabinet fell by a vote of 293 against 283, after an existence of five and one-half weeks and, straightway prepared its resignation for submission to President Gaston Doumergue.

A government is to establish the price of wheat at $2 a bushel started the three rats When the opposition began gunning for Victor Boret, the minister of agriculture, Premier Steeg stated the life of his entire cabinet was at stake and put by the narrow margin of ten ballots after hours which were tumultuous even for the French chamber

The climax came with a stiff talk by Pierre Etienne Flandin who was minister of commerce in the former government of Andre Tardieu.

Flandin painted a dramatic picture of the high price of wheat and bread in Paris while the commodity is practically going begging in Canada and the United States. This appeared to make a deep impression on the Socialist deputies representing cities. Boret's speech which began on December 13 was knocked out on January 22

The attack was principally against M. Boret who as minister of agriculture was responsible for the price fixing plan

It set offered to leave the cabinet question in these matters but the group finally decided to face the interpellation as a whole and the promises of proportional representation. The government, it is stated, plans to bring the suburbs of St. James and Kildonan within the city representation, adding two seats.

Realism Causes Riot

Locomotive On Movie Screen Stampedes Village

Georgetown, Rumania.—The introduction of motion pictures into this village caused a stampede in which several persons were trampled, some of them being seriously injured

A peasant audience, no members was defeated in the law court before, was assembled in the hall to view a cinematic thriller, and suddenly the scene flashed to a locomotive roaring straight down the track.

The engine appeared to rush out from the screen into the hall and the sight of this giant monster seemingly coming to run them down was too much for the spectators. They all made a wild rush for the door and in the ensuing frenzy all things of the building were wrecked.

Canadian Trade Decreased

Unfavorable Balance Shown For Twelve Months Ending December, 1930

Ottawa, Ont.—Canada had an unfavorable balance of trade of $103,-109,126 for the twelve months ended December 31, 1930, according to figures compiled by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics

There was a falling off in both exports and imports during 1930 as compared with 1929. Imports amounted to $1,008,479,978, compared with $1,294,992,623 in 1929 Exports of Canadian goods amounted to $905,376,852 as compared with $1,142,412,313 in 1929, and exports of foreign goods to $19,463,987 compared with $25,926,117 in 1929

New C.P.R. Station at Montreal

Costing well over $500,000, with a frontage of 224 feet, a depth of 97 and maximum height of 55 feet in three stories, the new Canadian Pacific Park Avenue station in the north end of Montreal, construct for which has just been let, is slated for completion by October of this year. It will be of combined classical and modern architecture of stone and marble construction and will be a very handsome addition to a part of the city which of late years has grown into one of the finest residential sections of any city in the Dominion. The new station will be approached through an ornamental garden which will be elevated, anti-clockwise, by vehicular traffic and there will also be a side entrance from a new north-and-south street for passengers arriving or leaving by trains. It will afford additional service to residents of the northern sections of Montreal and is evidence of the ever-growing traffic on the railway from and to the city into the Plane of Viger station and to the Laurentian district. Photograph shows architect's drawing of the new station as it will appear when completed.

Fair Turn-Out To Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of ratepayers of the town and school district held last Friday night attracted some fifty people It was practically void of discussion and passed off very quietly, which speaks well for the confidence reposed in the governing bodies by the ratepayers.

S. C. Heebert acted as chairman, and the town secretary submitted the financial statement for the past year. This showed the town to be in a good financial position, there were clearing up, there would be a substantial cash surplus to its credit. Mayor Fallow gave a brief review of the year and pointed out the necessity of conserving the town's credit during the prevailing economic depression. Special reference was made to the public utilities, which in face of heavy expenditures in the reconditioning of the service which was met out of utility revenue, still showed a most satisfactory surplus earning. He considered it a great asset to the town.

Chairman Morrison assured the ratepayers that the school board were operating on the closest margin of expenditure consistent with efficiency in both the public and high schools.

On motion the financial statements as presented were adopted and reports of the Mayor and Chairman of the School Board approved.

Interesting information on high school work was submitted by Principal Markle; this showed an attendance of 118 students, 50 of this number being non resident Principal Stewart of the public school reported an enrollment of 316 pupils, boys numbering 181 and girls 168

The total school population of Vermilion has this reached 495

J. A. Rosebrough, town representative on the hospital board, presented the financial statement of that body for 1930 and gave an interesting review of the work of the year

LIVESTOCK SHIPMENTS INCREASE

A renewal of the heavy demand for Western Canada livestock is noticeable in the reports of the Car Service department of the Canadian National Railways and this demand has increased to such an extent that during the week ending January 24th, 112 cars of livestock were shipped from Winnipeg to packing houses in eastern Canada as compared to 22 cars for the same period of 1930. Since the first of the year, a total of 276 cars of stock have been shipped from the Union Stockyards at Winnipeg, which is a splendid increase over the 113 cars shipped during the same period last year

The College boys have now about the fastest skating forward line of any team in the league while their fourth certainly are at least fifty per cent. better than ever. Jeffries, Cabaret, played a dandy game Saturday night and was also responsible for the only counters in the second period which gave the College their first win. Joe White,

Make Some Hot Biscuits Today!

Make a dozen delicious biscuits this way. Sift together twice, 2 cups Purity Flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt. Cream 1 tbspn each of lard and butter, add gradually 1 cup milk, mixing with a knife point. Toss lightly on floured board, roll out and bake in hot oven (450°). Cut dough with cutter dipped in flour. Brush tops with melted butter and bake 10 minutes.

These biscuits—made with Purity Flour—will keep moist for several days and may be re-heated without getting dry.

DELICIOUS SAUSAGE ROLLS—can be made from the above dough, but use half the shortening. Roll to about ¼-in. thick, cover one-half with a thin slice of bacon, or sausage meat, or mince, season well with salt and pepper, fold over and bake in hot oven (450°).

Still Giving Out Decorations

Berlin Lawyer Freed By Hitlerites From Jail Is Decorated

The former kaiser is still dishing out decorations although in exile.

"As a sign of my thankful recognition of your successful legal work and your proved true conduct in your right against malice and spite, I hereby confer you the name of Knight of my Royal House Order of Hohenzollern (signed) Wilhelm Imperator Rex."

This is the text of the imperial certificate which a Berlin lawyer, P. Block, is proudly showing his friends.

How To Lose Fat and Get That Youthful Feeling

Over in Great Britain when a man is feeling "on as an Eddie" and looking the "picture of health" they say

"HE'S GOT THAT KRUSCHEN FEELING."

That means he takes his little dose of Kruschen Salts every morning.

It is the same in the U.S.A. in Germany as it is found in Australia—in South Africa, for Kruschen Salts are now sold the world over.

Kruschen Salts is not one salt only—it is the combination of six salts necessary to health's life.

Take half a teaspoon in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning, no-daily your diet and exercise regularly.

But don't take it morning, for Kruschen not only puts and keeps the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels in splendid healthy condition, but purifies your blood stream, and sends your life and activity to every part of your body.

BASE AND YOUTH

All Tingey models are created and sketched in Paris and the patterns are made in New York.

A black cartoon crepe that is versatile—young and extremely wearable, is the choice of the chic Parisienne for all-day occasions.

Today's model gives an idea of what is happening in paisons. Note how it is revered from the waistline and posed around the dress to make the essentially smart fat bigbiar dress some prominent. The bloused monmeats in the peplum at the front, commences further slenderizing line.

A little shaped piece below the conventional "V" neckline and on the sleeves at the wrists are vogulish.

This model is also charming in sequin creations, crepe satin or velvet.

The pattern may be obtained in sizes 14 to 20 and 36 to 46. It is ready for immediate mailing. Price in hand out.

Switzerland Has Leaning Tower

The Tower of Pisa isn't the only leaning one in the world. Switzerland has a leaning tower, too, right in Mr. Martin. It is the tower of the old town church, which has a very pronounced slant. It dates from 1372, and is the only part of the old church now standing.

Mackellar Planning Northern Expedition

Has Ordered Airplane For Use In Shipping Unexpected Aces

Commander Donald B. Mackellar, veteran Arctic explorer, has revealed plans for an expedition this summer in northern sub-boxed territory north of Labrador.

The commander has placed an order at Los Angeles, Cal., for an aeroplane to be used for mapping the unexplored area north of Nain, Labrador, and in which, he said, he hoped to reach the great ice cap of Baffin Land.

Charles Rocheville, Los Angeles plane designer, who went with Mackellar into the Arctic in 1926, will go along again as chief pilot.

MacMillan said three ships would carry a party of 50 men to Nain, the base of the expedition. They are his own auxiliary schooner, a similar ship carrying Dr. Alexander Forbes of Boston, and a third vessel under the direction of Sir Wilfred Grenfell of St. Anthony, Newfoundland. The first objective is a territory to the west of the coast line 250 miles north of Nain.

With no aerial camera we can place like district, regardless of the the world map," MacMillan said. MacMillan said he would sail on June 15.

Valuable Relic For National Museum

Old Indian Tomb Elaborately Carved Found In B.C.

An Indian tomb, probably the last of its kind, has been received at Ottawa from British Columbia and will be added to the collection of the most priceless Indian relics in the National Museum. The tomb is the work of carvers of the Haida Masquesans, a tribe of which only some 50 remain.

The discovery was made on the north shore of the Fraser River near Vancouver by Harlan I. Smith, Dominion anthropologist.

Elaborately carved, the relic takes the form of a wooden sepulchre mounted on a base. The tomb is formed of four sides of the same dimensions, each 7 feet in length. When found the upper part of the tomb, which is shaped like a large box, contained bones which were interred before bringing the relic to Ottawa. Mr. Smith believes the sepulchre contained two brothers, probably those of a chief of high rank and wealth.

The state of preservation indicates the tomb is about 75 years old. Of each other example of this type is known.

British Empire Fair

Forty-Eight Canadian Firms and Institutions Will Have Exhibits

Forty-eight Canadian firms and institutions have advised the Department of Trade and Commerce of the intention of exhibiting at the British Empire Fair to be held in Buenos Aires, Argentine, from 15 April to 27th, which will be opened by H. R. H. the Prince of Wales. Every province in the Dominion will be represented by exhibits from Montreal; these include the two transcontinental railways, the Royal Bank of Canada and the Sun Life Assurance Company, which are national in character. Seven firms from Toronto are represented, two each in Brantford, three in Hamilton, two in Walton and three in Ottawa, though the latter include the Department of Agriculture and the National Art Gallery.

Five Long Distance

Royal Air Force Covered Many Miles In Exercises

In the two days and three nights occupied by the Exercises of the Royal Air Force last year, British service airplanes flew a distance equivalent to more than 13 times round the world at the equator. Two hundred and fifty machines took part in 63½ hours of ceaseless air "war" between mythical lands dubbed "Red Colony" and "Blue Colony." They flew by night and day and frequently in bad weather. Men and machines were employed intensively, as in actual warfare.

British Election Won

Belgian Government Plans Under For Fighting Airplanes

In a competition held in Belgium to select fighting aeroplanes for the Belgian Air Force the winning machine was the British "Fairey IL," designed and built by the Fairey Aviation Company, of Hayden, Middlesex, England, and driven by a Rolls-Royce engine of 550-h.p.

It is claimed that this machine is the fastest aircraft of its type in the world, with a speed of more than 200 miles an hour, even when carrying full military load.

The Belgian government has ordered 45 of these machines.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JESUS THE WORLD'S TEACHER

Golden Text: "As ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise."—Luke 6:31.

Lesson: Luke 6:27-38.

Devotional Reading: Proverbs 3. 13-18.

Kindness and Courtesy

The Law Of Love, verses 27-31. But I say unto you that hear: here Jesus turns from the worldlings upon whom He has been pronouncing His woes, to His followers, and continues what He had to say in love in their treatment of their enemies. The Greek word for "love" in our text is carefully chosen. It is not demanded that we should love our enemies with a natural and spontaneous affection ("philein"), but with a supernatural Christian love that comes by grace ("agapan"). At the time when Jesus uttered these words, revenged wreak-ing upon an enemy was considered noble. How Cicero gloated over the misfortunes of his enemy! He thought himself fortunate on his death bed that he could say that he had never failed to render evil to his friends nor more mischief to his enemies."

Do Good To Those Of Christ's Followers, verses 31-35a. If you love those that love you, if you do good to them that do good to you, what kind of thanks have you, what kind of reward do you deserve? for even sinners ("agapan"). At the time when Jesus uttered these words, revenged wreak-ing upon an enemy was considered noble. How Cicero gloated over the misfortunes of his enemy! He thought himself fortunate on his death bed that he could say that he had never failed to render evil to his friends nor more mischief to his enemies."

Airplane That Floats

Seconded Test Is Made Off the Coast of England

A British Royal Air Force officer successfully landed a specially equipped airplane on the sea off Felixstowe, and the plane remained afloat long after the pilot, unhampered but drenched to the skin, was taken off by a rescue boat.

The plane used in the experiment was an ordinary service machine with certain modifications intended to keep it afloat for at least four hours after alighting on the sea. For this purpose the sides of the fuselage had been made to open sufficiently to permit of a rower in the cockpit. This was for the purpose of releasing air filled bags designed to keep the machine afloat.

When Squadron Leader Goodwin landed the plane on the water he released one of the engines, emptied the gasoline tank and released flotation bags. He was free from the plane in a few minutes. He released the rower and he and the top plane with spongeliths sufficient to soften the blow in case it struck the sea, and when the plane hit the water.

Inside the fuselage were bottles containing chemicals for absorbing with the rubber and canvas flotation bags, which, when the sides of the fuselage had been released, were free to float beneath the top wing of the airplane, thus keeping it level.

The test worked well. Though the airplane, when it landed on the water was sunk for a moment until only a small part of the upper structure was visible. The flotation bags brought it to the surface again and rescue boats took the pilot from the cockpit while the machine was left to complete a four-hour floating test.

Silk Trains Listed As "Passenger Extra"

Given Right-Of-Way On Every Road In North America

In railroad slang, "in the hole" means putting a train on a switch or siding in order to let a faster or more important train pass on the unobstructed track. Everything and everybody is "put in the hole" for the "silk train" that flashes across the continent from the Pacific port of Vancouver, Seattle or San Francisco. It has the right-of-way on every road, and whole railway systems, from vice-president to brakemen, are keyed up to the importance of its prompts schedule and its safety. On one particular occasion, writes George Martin in the Saturday Evening Post, the transit of a cargo of silk through one stage of its flight from Japan to Hamburg, Germany, "the railroads of England was hustled "into the hole" somewhere between Kamloops and Vancouver, British Columbia, to let the silk train pass

Well, what's the hurry. Why should such a common commodity as silk be given such a rush? Why and express, tourists, regular passengers and even princes? The answer is simple — silk represents money, but an awful lot of money —money in seven figures! When the "Empress of Russia" docked at Vancouver a year ago it carried 4½ million dollars' worth of raw silk in its hold. A week before the "President Madison" had steamed into Puget Sound to discharge a 6-million-dollar cargo on the docks of Seattle.

At 11 o'clock Prince George was on his way to Canada on a train so charged to make up lost time that you would think it impossible to overtake it. It was after midnight when the silk train pulled off the dock siding and started east, but before dawn revealed the majesty of the Canadian Rockies it had overhauled and passed a mere human express that had been unceremoniously "put in the hole."

Why was this train why is any train of silk given such priority in "passenger extra." shot from Vancouver to Port William, 1,986 miles in fifteen hours less time than the fastest long distance passenger express that traverses the same distance? The answer is that enough raw silk to fill fifteen cars has value running into millions of dollars: it determined cargo. Its insurance is very high and the market fluctuates from day to day with the available supply, so one day may make a difference of as much as 50 cents a bale

Value then makes the speed and "holes" the Prince Rupert are still left a little in amusement that silk should attain such value. As gold has become a necessity, international barter as a standard medium of exchange so has silk become a near necessity as a universal medium of feminine self-expression. If "the colonels lady and Judy O'Grady are sisters under their skins," almost as certainly are they kindred next to their skins in their millions the world over they have got to have silk

"Your book her," said Julie sensibly, fixing Gay with a heard on either hip, "a fair exchange ain't no robbery. If Nick was home he'd be helpy you clean up and unpack, or he'd changed some from the boy his Aunt Nettie trained up. And if he's drivin' Mis' Halliday's car for her, it won't hurt nobody for me to sweep the dust out o' your kitchen. Men folks is terrible careless about their bowels, Gay, and kidneys to function naturally and perfectly, but you pretty nearly natural organs, gland, nerve and flow in the body which keeps you even revitalizing and rejuvenating missed—not from age anyway."

The lightning had almost ceased, but it still rained dreadfully, and the house was quiet. Gay planned at the clock. It was nearly six, and her baby

"I'll give him some milk and put him to bed now, Julie," she said, "and by the time he's off Sonny'll be ready for the night. You're good to help me, but—but I'd hate to have Mrs. Halliday find you here."

"She won't find me," Julie was removing her cuffs and turning back her shirt. "I declare, this ain't no concern for classed; but it's sort o' nifty, don't you think, Gay? I

"Miss Louise," called Sonny from his bath tower.

Julie and Gay both turned to the window to see a taxi stopping before the front door.

"Glory!" came breathlessly from Julie, "it's him! She didn't expect him till tomorrow, nor I didn't, either. What'll we do? Gay, she mustn't find us."

Gay was very still on the stairs. Her lissom felt as though they wouldn't hold her up.

"Perhaps," she suggested, "perhaps they were to pick up her friends at the station."

But Julie's answer dashed this hope.

"No, they went in the small car, not the new one. Besides, Mis' Halliday put up the lunch, and she only got up enough for two: stuffed eggs, cold chicken, salad sandwiches (never one in a separate piece o' paper and the crusts sliced off), spice cake, and coconut."

A flash of lightning and terrific crash of thunder interrupted. Little Nick, always nervous at any sudden noise, cried out, and even Sonny, who had been taught not to mind the storms excited close to his mother's skirts like a frightened chick.

"Gee!" said Julie. "Glad I come over when I did. Say, let's get out of this dark hall. I'll turn on a light in the sitt'n room."

Gay arose, her knees still strangely weak, and hirled her baby.

"Sonny, dear little boy, you go to Julie. There's nothing to be afraid of. Don't you remember what Daddy told you about Big Tom Winkle and the nine-pins? They must be having a splendid game today Rip and the Little brown men."

"I wish Daddy'd turn," said the boy wistfully. "I wish he'd turn."

Tears sprang to Gay's eyes.

"Maybe he'll come soon, darling," she comforted; but Julie, with characteristic inclusiveness observed:

"And most likely he won't. They was goin' clear to Mason's Falls. Them hills is awful That's why she wanted Nick to go, I guess, though I should think she'd ha' stayed at home, seein' that she wouldn't go to her mother-in-law's funeral. 'Tain't no time to be gallivantin' seems to me. Say! sometimes, Gay, they fight like cats and dogs—her and him."

"You—you ought not to tell me about it, Julie," Gay protested, though her tongue betrayed the away.

"Well, I ain't so gossip, but things is queer there. I ain't married myself, but I've classed home for most every one I know, and I've got to say that I'll tell the world" (Julie, who read the Sunday comics, was nothing if not modern in her slang) "that what I don't know about married folks, ain't worth knowin'. Her and him don't get on, leyed and he classes. Sometimes I'm glad I ain't married, and then, again, I'm sorry. Nick's the only man I've ever met that I'd stand—or fancy I would stand—living with, and I'm not so sure about him, neither. Nick's a good boy, but he classes to be contrary, though once" (Julie's voice dropped to a mysterious whisper), "once, Gay, and only once, I'm sure he was in love with me, I could ha' sworn he was crazy! It was late one night, and I swear I'd been a woman. I'd had my last dollar on it. But then, maybe I was mistaken. It might ha' been a dream. Sometimes cats sound terrible human."

Gay shuddered—not at Julie's pitiful disclosure which she had heard only with sympathy—not at the lightning, which was very near, but at the thought that Nick had possibly received her. Then she flushed hotly at her own baseness. How could she even for a minute—even in the light of damning evidence, believe such a thing of Nick? Not to save his soul would he lie to her! There was some mistake. Perhaps he had been right over the wires. For a moment the cruel fear that Nick might be a bigamy, only to discard it when she remembered how clear his voice had been and how it had laughed. But he couldn't have laughed like that had his conscience been guilty. If he had come with Mrs. Halliday alone, as Julie seemed so positive, there was some reason for it, of course, which her explicit words were there to supply, now, cried out, and even Sonny, who had been taught not to mind the storms excited close to his mother's skirts like a frightened chick.

"Gee!" said Julie. "Glad I come over when I did. Say, let's get out of this dark hall. I'll turn on a light in the sitt'n room."

New Development in Shipbuilding

Launched With Steam Up and Ready To Go To Sea

For the first time in history a ship has been launched with the steam up and smoke issuing from the funnel and ready to go to sea.

It is a matter of satisfaction that for this new development in shipbuilding England is responsible.

The vessel in question was H.M.S. Brilliant, a new destroyer built at Wallsend. The vessel is 323 feet long and has a displacement of 1,360 tons. Guns, engines, masts were all in position. The usual method is to launch the ship as soon as the hull is complete, and then fit it up while it is afloat.

There are spacious and comfortable quarters, including bathrooms, for the crew of the "Brilliant."

Waste Gas May Be Used

Experiments Being Made In Turner Valley Oil Fields

It is believed that Turner Valley gas, which at present is going to waste at the estimated rate of about 60,000 tons a day, can be converted into benzine in sufficient quantities to be commercially profitable, also into alcohol in paying quantities, if the scientific experiments being made along these lines in the oil fields of Turner Valley, Alberta, are carried to a successful issue on an increased scale. Encouraging reports thereon were made recently at a meeting of the associate committee on gas research of the National Research Council

Constipated Children

Constipation is one of the most common ailments of childhood and the child suffering from it positively cannot thrive. To keep the little one well the bowels must be kept regular and the stomach sweet. To do this nothing can equal Baby's Own Tablets. They are a mild but thorough laxative; are pleasant to take and can be given to the new-born babe with perfect safety. Thousands of mothers use no other medicine for their little ones but Baby's Own Tablets. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

for ANY CHILD

WE can never be sure just what it makes a child restless, but the remedy can always be the same. Good old Castoria! There's comfort in every drop of this pure vegetable preparation, and not the slightest harm in its frequent use. As often as your child has a fretful spell, is feverish, or cries and can't sleep, let Castoria soothe and quiet him. Sometimes it's a touch of sour, bothersome constipation. Or diarrhea—a condition that should always be checked without delay. Just keep Castoria handy, and give it promptly. Almost will follow very promptly; if it doesn't, you should call a physician.

Little Helps For This Week

"In Thy light shall we see light."—Psalm xxxvi. 9

We older children grope our way through dark places in our daily service; And only when our hands we lay, Dear Lord, in Thine, the night is day, And there is darkness

Reach downward to the sunless days, Wherein our grades are highest seen, And faith is small and hope delays; Take Thou the hands of prayer we raise.

And let us feel the light we see; Say to the shadow: a man who walks toward the light leaves darkness behind him. People get in darkness by turning away from the light. They hide in obscure corners; they bury themselves in nooks, where the Sun of Righteousness cannot reach them; they close their blinds and shutters, and wonder that they have no light. A house may be dark, but it is not the fault of the sun. ... sons may be dark, but it is not because the Light of the world does not shed beams abroad.—Armory.

BAND - PRESENTS FINE PROGRAMME

On Wednesday evening, January 28, an appreciative audience were treated to one of the most enjoyable musical events held in Vermilion for a long time, when the Vermilion Citizens' Band, assisted by Mrs. Geo. L. Hudson of Edmonton, and local talent, rendered a programme of high merit.

Mrs. Hudson was in brilliant form, and gave a remarkable demonstration of the versatility of her art, her selected songs ranging from a dainty musical setting of one of R. L. Stevenson's poems for children to the impressive dignity of Campbell-Tipton's "Hymn to the Night," all of which were sung with delightful ease and charm.

One of the best received items on the programme was a pianoforte solo by Gilbert Brimacombe, who gave a sparkling rendition of Sydney Smith's "Tarantella Brillante."

Bernard Young, violist, of the Edmonton Symphony Orchestra, displayed a polished technique and artistic feeling in two viola solos.

Singing for the first time before a Vermilion audience, Mrs. Hopkins is the possessor of a baritone voice of pleasing quality, interpreted the well-known songs, "Land of the Heart's Love," by W. Phillips, to the evident satisfaction of his listeners.

William Townsend, bandmaster of the Battleford Light Infantry, whose solos are always a popular feature of any programme, proved his exceptional skill in a brilliant rendering of Hartman's "Pilgrim of Love."

Few artists are accorded by a local audience the fine appreciation tendered to Ed. Swindlehurst, the talented violinist, of the Vermilion School of Agriculture. His playing of an animated spanish dance was marked by an admirable sense of rhythm, and he well merited the enthusiastic applause of the audience.

The members of the Band, under the leadership of W. B. Elford, are to be highly creditable performance. Their selections were well varied in character, the new popular "Hiawatha Scene" by Buculossi, being the outstanding number.

Live Stock Shipments On The Increase

George Webb, manager of the Alexandra Co-Operative Marketing Association here, reports a decided increase in shipment of hogs lately and also in the quality of animals being shipped. All are carrying a good finish with a large percentage of bacon and selects. The outstanding shipments of recent date were those of the Demonstration Farm and Mr. W. J. Moore. The former shipped hogs of outstanding quality, numbering five, all selects and averaging 212 lbs. Mr. Moore's shipment consisted of 11 hogs with nine of them select and 2 bacon, averaging 211 pounds. A good many farmers are inclined to over finish their product, and should remember that between 190 and 220 pounds is the choice weight.

High School Notes

Owing to the recent thaw the girls' hockey team were unable to go to Lloydminster, but if the weather turns colder we hope to get there yet.

A party has been arranged for Saturday, February 14th. Students will please note the change in date. The boys' orchestra will play. Time: 8 p.m. sharp. Admission 25c each.

The line-up for the coming debate next Wednesday is: for Affirmative: Lucille Irwin, leader; Marwood Brinacombe, Doris Irwin, Jenny Pilgrow-ski, Marie Dumouchel; for Negative: Allan Rostron, leader; Janet Cuthbertson, Grace Mersereau, Ethel Shields, Marion Stone. The subject will be the same as for the debate with the College.

PRAISE TRAINING FARMING AT'CORN' BANQUET TOUTHS

The first meeting of the junior grain growers of this province was held in the lounge of Athabasca hall on the university campus, January 14 when they were guests of the Edmonton junior chamber of commerce at a banquet which was rounded out with a full program of speeches by men eminent in the agriculture science of Alberta.

Dean Howes, head of the faculty of agriculture, University of Alberta; Major H.G.L. Strange, former world's wheat champion; Herman Trelle, present "wheat king"; Mrs. Herman Trelle, the wheat king's co-worker; V. A. Porter, representing the social chamber of commerce, and E. L. Gray, field crops commissioner of Alberta, were among the prominent speakers.

Forty Representatives

Forty representatives of the Junior Grain Growers' association were present at the meeting and the six gems selected for their judging of samples were pointed out by the commissioner. These were William Douglas of Lacombe, Robert Galloway of Vermilion, Ben Taylor of Hanna, Gordon Bellhorn of Wetaskiwin, Paul Hilleiller of Hanna, and Alfred Russell of Vermilion. They obtained the highest scores in the judging of grain, in the order given. Douglas scoring 772 points out of a possible 800.

Laird Tanton and Newton Irwin also obtained creditable scores, and the commissioner stated that they would be chosen to take the place of any of the six others who might happen to be unable to continue the training offered. It is intended to select another six next year by the same means, and from the 12 thus chosen, to choose three to send to represent Alberta at Regina in 1931.

Mrs Arthur Bengahan left on Tuesday's train as a delegate from the Pleasant Valley W. A. to attend the Anglican annual convention at Edmonton of the Edmonton Diocesan Women's Auxiliary. Feb. 2, 3, 4 & 5.

A large number of friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Van den Lindere on the 2nd concession on Tuesday evening last to wish good-bye to Florence who left on Sunday by car for Edmonton where she is going in training for a nurse at the Royal Alex. She also received a miscellaneous shower.

Mrs. Jas. Fraser left on Sunday for a week's visit at Vegreville, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Dowsett.

Mrs Herb Stone is visiting in Edmonton this week.

CURLERS DEFEND THE BLAIR CUP AGAINST RELAY

Both Vermilion Rinks Won Last Thursday Night

Rinks of local curlers shipped by Ed. Corley and Clarence Pulleyblank defended the Blair Cup, emblematic of curling supremacy along this line, against invading rinks from Islay last Thursday night. The ice was decidedly tough and good curling was considered almost impossible. Corley defeated Shaw 16-6, and Pulleyblank won from Mitchell 13-8.

W. B. VERMILION VALLEY MINUTES

A meeting of the Council of Vermilion Valley Municipal District No. 482 was held in the municipal office on Saturday, Jan. 31st, 1931 with the Reeve in the chair and all Councillors present. Minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

Auditor's statement for December was accepted. The financial statement for 1930 was also presented.

Inspector's report was read and accepted. Weed Inspector's report for 2930 was read and accepted.

A deputation from the Town Council and the Chamber of Commerce waited on the Council in connection with the lake and park project. A committee of the council consisting of Messrs McClellan and Shepherd was appointed to confer with the town in this matter.

Supplementary Revenue taxes as applied to grain elevator at Borradaile were adjusted.

Mr. John Schlirk, who has been the secretary-treasurer of the Municipal District of Vermilion Valley since early in 1918 and whose health compelled him to stop active work of this kind in the fall of 1926 on the advice of his physician, tendered his resignation as secretary treasurer.

A resolution was adopted as follows: That the Council wish to express their deep regret at the necessity for accepting Mr. Schlirk's resignation. They also wish to state their appreciation of his faithful service to the Municipal District of Vermilion Valley.

A second resolution carried that Mr. H. Brown's appointment be changed from Deputy Secretary-Treasurer to Secretary-Treasurer.

Bills amounting to $709.10 were paid.

Council adjourned

YES, WE WILL HAVE NO ARTIFICIAL LAKE.

Following the presentation to the provincial cabinet by the Alberta Parks Board last week of the engineer's plans and report on the proposed artificial lake and park grounds in the Vermilion Valley, adjacent to the town, a request was made by the Board that a delegation from here wait on the government in furtherance of the project. In response, a deputation comprising Major Pallow; Melvin Hill, (chairman) and A. E. Kaiser of the town planning committee; H. A. Searle and Lee Bridgey, representing local U.F.A.'s, went up to the city Monday, meeting in conference the next morning with Hon. A. L. McPherson, minister of public works, Hon. Geo. Hoadley, minister of agriculture, and Hon. R. G. Reid, minister of natural resources. The matter was gone into very thoroughly in a lengthy discussion, the representatives receiving a most attentive hearing. While favoring the project in principle, the ministers pointed out that owing to the exigencies created by the general depression, the heavy and constantly increasing demands on finances, it would not be advisable to sanction such an outlay under these conditions. As a result it can be considered the project is shelved for the time being and probably to a distant date.

An issue, the Standard learns, that did not help the deputation's presentation to the ministers, was to the effect that land values in the area of the lake and park were mooted to be around forty to fifty dollars per acre. In the estimates of costs, it was first thought some seven thousand dollars would acquire the land. At the above values, however, the cost would run well over $16,000.00, bringing the total outlay for the project to a prohibitive figure under prevailing conditions.

SENIORS HAND INNISFREE ROCKETEERS A SETBACK

Score Was 2-0 Tuesday Night

In face of the present ice blight, the local seniors travelled to Innisfree and handed the boys of that town a 2-0 set-back on the open air rink there Tuesday night. Only one casualty was reported due to warm weather, Barry Bell attempting to skate between the boards and edge of the ice where the latter had melted away, and landing on his nose. Now Barry is painfully aware of that protrusion.

ELKS VS. C.N.R. ENDS IN A TIE

The return bronzeball match between the Vermilion Elks and the C. N. R. Community Club was played on Tuesday evening, January 27th at the outdoor rink, the game ending in a scoreless tie.

Because the two teams have been unable to arrive at a decision after two encounters, it has been suggested that a delegation be appointed to interview Mayor Pallow, requesting him to send a delegation from the Town Council to visit the Provincial Government, asking them to arrange for a delegation of M.L.A.'s to visit Ottawa with the object of urging the Dominion Government to appoint a Board of Arbitration to settle the dispute as to which is the better team

MANNVILLE CURLERS LIFT BLAIR CUP

Only One Point Difference

Two formidable Mannville rinks headed by Dr. Heaslip and Eber McFadden, invaded the town last Tuesday evening and lifted the Blair Cup by the slim margin of one point, taking the trophy westward to its new home. It was the first time in this competition that Vermilion curlers have been defeated on the home ice.

Two rinks from Mannville were entered in the competition,

102 million more cups of Salada tea were consumed in 1930 than in 1929 by the people of Canada.

Taking the Census

One of the important pieces of work to be undertaken by the Federal Government during the year is the census enumeration of the people of Canada, and the compiling of a vast amount of other information dealing with the status of our citizenship, and indicating the development of the Dominion within the past ten years.

The taking of the census is a big job, and an exceedingly important one. It requires elaborate organization, careful publicity to acquaint people with what is expected of them when the enumerators call, and a small army of men to gather the information required, and another group of experts to assemble and classify the information when it is received by the Department at Ottawa.

It is quite possible that some people look upon the taking of the census as a matter of comparatively small importance, and that, at this time especially, the large expenditure of money involved could be put to much better use. Such a view, however, is not only very superficial but quite erroneous. Taking the census is important in any country, but in no other country does it have quite so pronounced an effect as in Canada, and more especially in Western Canada.

In the first place the representative of each Province of the Dominion in the House of Commons at Ottawa is based upon the census figures. The constitution of Canada stipulates that the basis of representation in the House of Commons shall be one member for each one-sixty-fifth of the population of Quebec. That is Quebec shall be represented by sixty-five members regardless of its population. Dividing the total population of Quebec by sixty-five gives the number of people represented by each member and that same number of people in each of the other Provinces is entitled to a member. In other words, an absolutely fair basis of representation in the House at Ottawa.

Money grants to the Provinces from the Dominion treasury are also based upon population, but in the case of the Western Provinces a larger number of grants rests on this basis than is true of other Provinces. For example, grants to these Provinces are based on population, and this increases until the maximum is reached. Consequently it is important that an absolutely accurate census of our people be recorded, and especially so in the case of the West which is the most rapidly growing section of the Dominion. Increased western representation at Ottawa will likely have a profound effect upon national policies, while larger money grants will enable our provincial governments to meet the growing needs of these western communities.

The census is likewise a national stock-taking. It will reveal the extent of our growth and development as Provinces and as a Dominion within the past ten years. It will reveal to us evidences of national strength and disclose where weaknesses exist. For all these reasons it is important that every citizen fully co-operate with the enumerators and officials in making the census this year complete and accurate in every respect.

The census of 1931 will be the seventh decennial census of Canada since Confederation. It will be of interest to recall what the previous six "counting of noses" disclosed in the matter of Canada's population. Following Confederation in 1867, the first census was taken in 1871 and revealed a population of 3,485,761. By 1881 the population had grown to 4,342,816; by 1891 to 4,833,239; in 1901 to 5,371,315, in 1911 to 7,206,643, and in 1921 to 8,788,483.

It will be noted that whereas between 1881 and 1891, and between 1891 and 1901, the population increased by only half a million in each ten year period, the increase between 1901 and 1911 was nearly two million, and between 1911 and 1921 a million and a half. That is, whereas Canada's population only increased by one million in the last 20 years of the nineteenth century, it increased by three and one-half million in the first 20 years of the twentieth century.

The settlement of these Western Provinces accounted for much of this larger increase. In later years, however, there has not been the same phenomenal flow of immigration into the West, while on the other hand the great productive and purchasing power of the West has contributed enormously to the industrial growth and prosperity of Eastern Canada. As a result, this year's census may not disclose the same ratio of increase in the West as compared with the East.

In view, however, of the important bearing which the census has upon both the economic life and the public administration of affairs of Canada it is, let it be repeated, of the utmost importance that all citizens co-operate thoroughly with the army of officials entrusted with taking this year's census in order that it may be a most efficient and reliable statistical record of the Dominion.

Propose Canadian Air Tour

Plan Suggested At Convention Of Clubs In Montreal

A national air tour that would extend from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and in which every aeroplane club would participate, was proposed at the convention of the Canadian Aeroplane Clubs Association held in Montreal. The tour as outlined by its proponents would be as much as possible representative of the aviation interest made by Canada recently in the field of aviation. An armada of planes going from airport to airport would, it is thought, have its beneficial results from the point of view of the public.

Canadian Construction Figures

Construction In Canada During Year 1930 Was Well Above Average

The value of all construction contracts awarded during 1930 as compiled by MacLean Building Reports, Limited, amounted to $456,990,600 as compared with $576,651,800 in 1929. That is a decrease of 20.7 per cent. It is to be noted that the year 1929 was the most active year for building that Canada has ever had, being 22.1 per cent. ahead of 1928. The totals for 1930 by provinces were: Ontario, $178,650,700; Quebec, $154,673,600, British Columbia, $32,967,800; Saskatchewan, $27,361,000; Alberta, $20,881,800, Manitoba, $12,010,000; New Brunswick, $11,987,900; Nova Scotia, $7,230,000 and Prince Edward Island, $1,130,000.

Germs Revived After Centuries In Rock

Adapt Themselves To Airless Condition and Learned To Live Without Breathing

Suspended animation in case of germs for as much as 1,000,000 years was demonstrated by Prof. Charles B. Lipman, of California University, before the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Dr. Lipman said that proof of bacteria surviving for hundreds and even thousands of million years was found by him in pre-Cambrian rocks and in coal deposits.

These life germs, which normally require oxygen, adapted themselves to an airless condition and learned to live without breathing.

When rock and coal were crushed in sterilized mortars the powder was nourished in nutritive medium of coal extract with one per cent. peptone, the spores begin to live again after millions of years of inhibited life.

MIDDLE AGE

A Critical Time For All Women

"I am beginning to feel my age" is the first complaint that you have to make when she reaches the critical time in her life. Nature, in this instance, however, to think you are too old to be well and happy.

Perhaps you have lost your grip on things; perhaps the old vigor and energy is lacking; you get tired easily, and your limbs ache terribly. Headaches, backaches, nervousness and lack of appetite—it is no wonder you have come very unhappy and blue. You can get them in any medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Evolution Of the Windmill

Now You See Windmill in Connection with Many Other Things

Windmills, like many other things and people, have moved with the times and they are growing up, and possibly not be so picturesque as their forerunners, but they are playing an important part in the industrial life.

Modern windmills pump water, also supply electric light for lighthouses.

The most up-to-date use for the windmill is in connection with aeroplanes. The auto-gire, or windmill plane, is now so far advanced that Juan de la Cierva, the Spanish inventor, has expressed his firm belief that this invention will revolutionize world flying.

Vest Sums In Life Insurance

One Hundred and Eleven Million Dollars Of Life Insurance In Force

Since the close of the Great War, life policyholders have brought home to them a far larger estate than the combined national debts of the fifteen nations. Frank B. Lord, of St. Louis, Mo., told the educational congress of the Life Underwriters Association of Canada, held at Chicago.

His audience was one hundred and one billion dollars of life insurance in force, guaranteed by eighteen billion dollars as a reserve fund. This staggering total of insurance was held by seventy million people, one-fifth of whom were on the American continent.

Export Of Totem Poles

Investigation Is Ordered In Request To Forbid Shipment

Acting on representations from Premier S. F. Tolmie, of British Columbia, the Dominion Government ordered an investigation into the removal of a carload of totem poles shipped from Prince Rupert for a United States museum.

No car will not be allowed out of Canada pending the enquiry. The shipment, consisting informed of this shipment, telegraphed immediately to Prince Minister R. B. Bennett, protesting on just grounds that the dying art of the totem should be preserved so far as possible. Mr. Bennett telegraphed Dr. Orkland recently, assuring him that the whole matter would be the subject of thorough investigation.

Recipes For This Week

(By Betty Barclay)

BRAN SUNSHINE CAKE

½ cup shortening.
½ cup sugar.
1 egg.
1 cup all-bran.
1½ cups flour.
½ teaspoon salt.
½ teaspoon soda.
1 teaspoon ginger.
3 teaspoons cinnamon.
½ cup sour milk.
½ cup molasses.

Cream shortening and sugar together. Add the egg; beat well. Add the bran. Sift the dry ingredients and add them to the first mixture, alternately with the sour milk and molasses. Pour into greased pans and bake in a moderate oven (370 degrees Fahrenheit) from 30 to 40 minutes. Yield: 10 servings.

FROZEN WHIPPED CREAM

2 tablespoons confectioner's sugar.
1 cup cream, whipped.
2 marshmallows, finely cut.
½ cup dates, stoned and cut in small pieces.
½ cup nut meats, broken.
½ cup each, candied cherries and pineapple, finely cut.

Add sugar to cream. Fold in remaining ingredients.

Kuo Ming Tang Government Will Hand Back To China After Being 83 Years Under British Rule

The British Empire is 225 square miles smaller than it was several weeks ago.

Wei-hai-wei, which for thirty-two years has been under British rule, has just been handed back to China, and as its area was 285 square miles, the British Empire is now that much smaller.

The natives of Wei-hai-wei have an independent disposition, and they were not at all anxious to be handed over to their native government, and indeed, asked that they might remain British.

Light Fiction

Novel reading can become a habit as harmful as tea-drinking and indulged in with as much mental benefit. It is too easy to be of value. No reading is of any cultural value unless it demands something from us. A book has to be at least a little difficult to be worth reading at all.—Sheryman (London), England.

Homeland Regulations

Changes Made On Recommendation Of Minister Of the Interior

Regulations governing the conversion of patented pre-emptions or purchased homesteads into soldier grants have been altered by an order-in-council noted in the Canada Gazette. Changes have been made on recommendation of Hon. T. G. Murphy, Minister of Interior, who found that several applicants are debarred from obtaining soldiers' grants on the ground that they had already obtained patent for their pre-emption or purchased homestead.

The new provisions are as follows: "2. Where patent for a pre-emption or purchased homestead has been issued, or where such patent has not yet been issued, if the holder of the pre-emption or purchased homestead is permitted to convert the same into a soldier entry grant, all sums paid on account of principal or interest in connection with the said pre-emption or purchased homestead may, upon application, be refunded to the holder of the land, or to the soldier settlement board in cases where an advance has been made under the provisions of the Soldier Settlement Act.

"3. The foregoing regulation shall be deemed to be retroactive in its application."

Deaf Children Are Happy

Little Ones At Belleville School Do Not Feel Handicap

"No fine sentiment in the idea of the rapid advance which has been made in the care and treatment of deaf children can be found than in the Ontario School for the Deaf at Belleville," says the Ottawa Journal. "No sign of sadness, no sense of handicap or inferiority is to be found amongst these children, and despite the fact that 90 per cent. of them cannot hear a single word, they carry on animated conversations, play games, sing and dance, just the same as other little ones who have no such handicap."

Means Thousands To Montreal

City Is Beginning and End Of All Trans-Canada Trains

There are no through trains in Montreal. Every train either ends or begins here. Even New York has through trains. Through Hell Gate Bridge, and Montreal for an inland city stands alone with Chicago in this regard. Hammond says you can get from east to west in the States without going through the Windy City gateway, while it cannot be done in Canada, without passing through Montreal, that phase of Montreal's railway position is unique. It is worth thousands of dollars to Montreal every year.

Montreal is the head office for the two greatest railway companies in the world.

Mr. Hill is further on one sleeper out of Montreal than from any other city except Vancouver, which of course Montreal's geographic position. One can travel 2,944 miles by C.N.R. and 2,885 miles by C.P.R. without changing cars or trains.

By changing at Montreal, without leaving the station one can therefore take a journey of 3,971 miles in Canada. No wonder they speak of Canada as a land of magnificent distances'

COMBINES ACT HELD VALID BY PRIVY COUNCIL

London, England.—The Combines Act of the Dominion of Canada is valid, according to the judgment handed down by the judicial committee of the Privy Council, delivering an appeal from the Proprietary Articles Trade Association of Canada.

Thus the privy council backed the unanimous opinion of the Dominion's Supreme Court, obtained a four-years' legal battle and opened the way to several investigations of combines.

The case was argued before the privy council last June. The act was passed by the Federal parliament in 1923 to replace the 1919 act, which had been declared invalid by the privy council.

The provincial governments of Quebec and Ontario both supported the contention of the Proprietary Articles Trade Association that the Federal act was invalid.

The P.A.T.A. also contested the validity of the section 498 of the Criminal Code of Canada, and in dismissing the appeal their lordships upheld the validity of this section.

The judgment says that in their lordships' opinion section 498 of the Criminal Code and the greater part of the Combines Investigation Act fall within the class of subjects which the Dominion government to legislate as to matter falling within the class of subjects "criminal law," including the procedure in criminal matters."

The substances of the act, the judgment continued, is to define and to make criminal, combines which the legislature, in the public interest, intends to prohibit. The definition is wide and may cover activities which have not hitherto been considered criminal.

"But only those combines are affected which have operated or are likely to operate to the detriment or against the interest of the public," and if parliament genuinely determines that commercial activities, which can be so described, are to be suppressed in the public interest, then their lordships see no reason why parliament should not make them crimes.

The criminal law, the judgment went on, is directed to condemn not what was criminal by the law of England or of any province in 1867, when confederation came about. The power must extend to legislation to make definitions of new crimes.

It is not enough, however, for parliament to rely solely on its powers to legislate in the criminal law, the judgment added. The remedies given under sections 29 and 30, reducing the customs duty and revoking the patents, have no necessary connection with criminal law.

Their lordships have no doubt that they were within the power of being reasonably ancillary to the powers given respectively under section 91. The judgment declared it is unfortunately beyond dispute that in a country where a general protective tariff exists, powers may be found to take advantage of the protection, and within its walls form combines that may work to the public disadvantage.

It is an elementary point of self-preservation that the legislature which creates protection should earn the executive with powers for relaxing the protection if it is abused, the judgment declared.

The same reasoning applies to grants of monopolies under any system of patents. For these their lordships have expressed malice it unnecessary to discuss the further ground upon which the legislation has been supported by the reference to the power to legislate under section 91 "for the regulation of trade and commerce," the judgment continued.

Manitoba Seed Fair

Will Be Held In Conjunction With Winter Fair On March 16

Brandon, Man.—Judging by early inquiries, the annual seed fair to be held in conjunction with the Manitoba Winter Fair, March 16 to 20, will be bigger than ever. Now in its seventh year, the seed fair has grown by leaps and bounds and it cramped the generous show space in the Arena building last year. As the fair is an opportunity for growers of surplus grain, grass or clover seeds to get in touch with prospective purchasers, the exhibition is expected to have more than its usual interest in March.

Claim Commander Was Drunk

Crew Of Canadian Vessel Testify Against United States Officer

New York.—Seamen from the Nova Scotia power boat "Josephine M." appeared before the coastguard board of inquiry to testify that Lieutenant Karl Schmidt of the "CG-165" was drunk when he boarded the Canadian vessel after its capture near Ambrose Light. Schmidt, who had admitted he fired the shots one of which fatally injured the boat's master, William Cluett, Lunenburg, N.S., was in court and heard witnesses swear that after the capture he continued drinking in the forecastle of the rum-runner.

Louis Selig, who described himself as an able seamen from Halifax, N.S., gave the main testimony for members of the crew. Schmidt, he said, seemed "good and drunk" when he came aboard shortly after the "Josephine M." was boarded. The boat's mate had pointed a gun at Allan Fillmahan, Lunenburg, and Selig claimed he would have to shoot because Fillmahan's name did not appear on the ship's crew list. Schmidt, he said, staggered, his face was red and his eyes "glaring." The commander of the "CG-165" stayed in the forecastle several hours, and while there consumed six bottles of ale and a bottle of rye whiskey, during which time all members of the "Josephine M." crew had an opportunity to observe his condition.

Seaman Allan Falkenham said he thought Schmidt drunk; that he waved a gun and told him he would shoot him if he didn't belong to the ship. Harry Jewell said: "He was falling all over himself, and rolling around."

Need For Early Session

Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King Issues A Statement

Ottawa, Ont.—With the declaration that the opposition in parliament to-day the distress is greater than it has ever been, Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King, leader of the Opposition, has issued a statement calling upon the prime minister to shed some light upon the situation, and to meet, if he can, without withstanding that the government has had a free hand with its policies and expenditures for two years, conditions to-day are much worse than they were at the time of the calling of the special session in September last," asserts Mr. King.

"There is, at present, much more than the regular annual session of parliament to consider the conditions of the country's affairs and Mr. King has put forward a motion in a ron of laughter went up from the House.

The Liberals had compromised on the bill, Mr. Churchill added, they might not debate it at once in the House of Commons, but they were going to hate it like poison "up-stairs."

Mr. Churchill finished by comparing Prime Minister MacDonald with the "boneless wonder" of a circus.

Asking Lower Freight Rates

B.C. Government Will Back Growers and Canners In Fight

Victoria, B.C. — The government will get behind British Columbia canners and growers in their fight for lower freight rates to the prairies, Premier S. F. Tolmie has instructed Leon J. Lander, K.C., as government counsel, to co-operate with the growers and canners in commencing proceedings before the railway commission immediately.

Vegetable growers of British Columbia, backed by the canning industry, appealed to the government in strong terms recently to rescue them from a threatened reduction in growing acreage, by about 50 per cent. this year, by an immediate reduction in freight rates from here to prairie markets.

To this end a large delegation urged the chairman of counsel, and file an immediate application with the railway commission for a cut in western rates to the level of those prevailing from Ontario to the prairies.

It was expected the government would follow this plan and launch a new rate fight without delay.

Increase In Govt. Employees

Regina, Sask.—An increase of 351 in the number of employees in the various departments of the government over the number employed as at Sept. 9, 1930, is shown in a return to the order of the assembly. This return includes the employees of the liquor board, the farm loans board and the power commission.

MAJORITY FOR LABOR ON TRADES DISPUTES BILL

London, England.—In a packed and heated House of Commons the government got through the second reading of the Trades Disputes Bill by a majority of 27.

The government majority was larger even than had been expected. Only seven other Liberals voted with Sir John Simon in opposition to the bill and with the Conservative opposition. One Liberal supported the bill by his vote; the rest abstained from recording their opinion.

As soon as the result of this vote was announced, Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, Conservative chief, moved that the bill be referred to a committee of the whole House.

Again the House divided. This time, however, the majority of the Liberals voted with the government, and the MacDonald majority rose to 63. The net result is—to the parlance of Westminster—that the bill will go "upstairs" to the committee stage without any instruction clause by clause. The committee stage will be passed in a standing committee instead of the committee of the whole where the possibility of a government defeat on a matter of detail is always present.

The final day's debate on the bill opened in breezy style with Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill on his feet. He rambled about with many contributions of back-benchers during the dinner period and ended snappily with Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, late secretary of state for the Dominions.

Mr. Churchill described the trades union act as a "gigantic privilege" with privileges under the new bill. The Laborites continually interrupted Mr. Churchill with caustic remarks.

"Why," Mr. Churchill asked, in reference to levies, "why should a patriotic Conservative trades unionist have to subscribe to the political fund of the cosmopolitan Socialist? Why should a Catholic have to subscribe to a fund, perhaps, of an Agnostic or an Atheist?

These words brought a Labor "Pitiful argument," one Laborite shouted.

Mr. Churchill spoke of the Liberal decision not to vote as an outrage of the first order.

"What," Mr. Churchill asked, "has become of the Liberal traditions!"

Here a Laborite interrupted, pointing at Mr. Churchill, said: "He's not a tradition; he's an extradition," and a

Passengers Ordered Deported

Britishers On C.P.R. Ship Barred From Landing In Canada

Vancouver, B.C.—Two passengers off the liner "Empress of Russia," which arrived here from the Orient, Captain W. Little and L. Mercer, have been ordered deported by an immigration board of inquiry. Appeals have been lodged in Ottawa against the rulings.

Captain Little was just discharged from the Indian army and was on his way to join relatives in Toronto. Mercer, from Shanghai, at the request of the steamer "Hedwig," which was wrecked a few months ago off China. He intended to settle in Canada. The deportations were ordered under the government regulation which bars all but practical farmers and wives of bona-fide Canadian residents from entering the country.

TEST SHIPMENTS OF GRAIN FROM PORT CHURCHILL

Ottawa, Ont.—Test movement of two or possibly three cargoes of grain, about 750,000 bushels, will be shipped through the port of Churchill the middle of next September, according to present plans. A conference held here with representatives of shipping interests indicated that there will be no difficulty in getting private steamship companies to undertake the movement. A statement issued on the conference by the Department of Railways and Canals, follows:

"Arrangements for the proposed test movement of grain from the port of Churchill, on Hudson Bay were under consideration at a conference held in the office of the minister of railways and canals. The meeting was arranged at the instance of the minister, Hon Dr R J Manion, who is taking a warm personal interest in the matter. The conference was attended by the principal officers of his department and by representatives of Canadian Government Merchant Marine, and Canadian National Steamships

The Minister was assured by his officers that from present indications the port facilities would be sufficiently advanced to admit of the test movement by about the middle of September, the date by which the elevator and the elevators have agreed to have their complete plans in readiness. Mr. Dunstan, of the Hudson Bay route, has greatly facilitated therefore in anticipation of the interesting private vessel owners in the business that the test movement will afford and considerable prestige may be expected to accrue to the steamship company having the honor of handling the first cargo. Arrangements are also being made for the test movement to be made under the most favorable conditions possible, and the minister was assured by the officers that the necessary arrangements are being made to this end. The minister was also informed that the proper time for the movement will be early in September, as later in the season there is a possibility that it will be impossible to demonstrate this route as well that the line of the port will be available and capable of taking care of the business which will be attracted to the port on the inauguration of the route at the opening of the 1932 season of navigation."

SAYS CANADIAN WHEAT IS BEST IN THE WORLD

Toronto, Ont.—"Now is the time for the governments to stock up with better seed wheat for this year's crop, wheat that will fight rust or anything but drought," said Herman Trelle, of Ponce River, Alberta world's wheat king, in an interview here. He addressed the Kiwanis Club here on his way to Ottawa to confer with officials of the Department of Agriculture.

Mr Trelle confessed that he is interested in seed wheat, in supplying to the Canadian farmer the best possible wheat and oats, rather than in the economics of the agricultural problem. The trouble with Canadian wheat is there are too many varieties," he remarked. "This country can and does produce the best wheat for making that the world requires for flour. I'm not interested in bulk wheat that will come in the Peace River as it has in other parts of the west. My job is to produce better and better seed

Canadian wheat is the best in the world," Mr Trelle went on. "The world needs the best. Get Canada's quality wheat advertised enough and we don't need to worry about getting rid of our product. Why are we feeding No 1 Hard to the hogs in Alberta at present relative prices of wheat and oats? It will be cured, said Herman Trelle, of Wembley Alberta, world's wheat king

Mr Trelle, with Mrs Trelle is leaving in a few days on a trip overseas, called on Dr. J H. Grisdale, deputy minister of agriculture, and emphasized the necessity of encountering on Marquis and earlier types of wheat.

"The difficulty of the west," Mr Trelle said, in an interview, "is that the farmer has been trying to accommodate the combine harvester to the wheat instead of growing a type of wheat suited to the combine.

"Farmers have been using the combine to harvest late maturing wheat which is most dry when dried and the effect has been to destroy the prestige of our grain."

Left to this year's crop, Mr Trelle said "The farmer will take what he can get for it and then start all over again."

Mob Lynches Slayer

North Dakota In Scene Of Lawless Tragedy

Schafer, N.D. — Rewetting to the days before law and order came to the west, a mob battered its way into the county jail here and lynched a 32-year-old farmer, who had confessed slaying a family of six.

When the crowd dispersed, as swiftly and as silently as it had gathered, the body of Charles Hanson youthful slayer of the A. E. Haven family, was left hanging from a telephone pole in Cherry Creek, about a quarter of a mile from town. His neck was broken.

Immediately the mob came from nearby farms that once were a part of the great cattle country about 60 miles south of Mobridge. None of the mob was recognized

It was the 12th lynching in the history of the state, eight white men, three Indians and a negro having fallen victims to mobs previously. Without a mob has occurred 17 years ago when Bleve Culbertson, a triple slayer, was taken from jail at Wilton and hanged. The body left suspended from a nearby railroad bridge

Young Hanson died pleading that he was innocent. Mrs Hanson, also held for the killings, be not harmed. The youth in his confession, laid the blame for the crime responsible for the Haven family's massacre, he said, occurred after a party February

The Eastern Lecture, sheets by Staff Capt. M. Junker of the Salvation Army, on Tuesday night last had a fair attendance and proved to be most interesting. Starting with a picture of the Founder, the Staff-Capt. went on with more interest as the pictures proceeded, reminding us of the wars in other lands, as well as some of the Army's most noted men and women The Staff-Capt. reminded us also of how the Army had blazed the trail in women's public work, and also social work of the world, and altogether it was a splendid program.

A very enjoyable evening was spent at the Landesville hall on Friday Jan. 30th. when about two hundred and fifty people gathered to celebrate the wedding dance of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Desmallier. The first part of the evening was spent in old time dancing, this was followed by lunch and a short interesting program Dancing was then continued until 5.30 a.m. with Mr. Bob Buts as floor manager. Mr. and Mrs. Desmallier wish to thank the MacLeoad orchestra for supplying the peppy music, and to thank one and all for the many useful and beautiful presents received.

There was a man in our town and he was wondrous wise.
He swore by all the gods above he would not advertise!
But one day he did break this rule, and thereby hangs a tale:
The ad. was set in real small type, and headed "Sheriff's Sale."

Annual Meeting

The regular meeting of the Canadian Legion was held in the club rooms on Monday evening, Feb. 9th, and was very well attended. The officers for the year were elected and include: Pres. — Comrade W. S. Elford 1st Vice. Pres. — Com. C. F. Kirby 2nd. Vice. Pres. — Com. S. Heckbert Sec. Treas. — Com. H. J. Reid.

The executive consists of Comrades H. Compton, D. Taylor and W. Powell.

Considerable business was done at the meeting including the passing of a motion that "The Legion Pension and Claims Committee will be glad to meet and assist any claimants for pensions, etc., immediately following the regular meetings, the second Monday of the month, and that this service be advertised.' Another motion that was passed unanimously was "That all social members of this club be cordially invited to join in the regular social evenings, following the regular meetings every month." The members figure on having some fun after the regular meetings and look for the social members to join them.

"Aims and Objects" of the Canadian Legion No. 5 reads—"To see to the maintenance and comfort of those who require special treatment, of the disabled, sick, aged and needy; and to promote the welfare of the women and children, and others their dependents."

Mr. Veterans, if you think this is your cause, come and join us.

COLLEGE ELIMINATED FROM SERIES

The students from the College had only a very slim mathematical chance of participating in the play off for the Wiebe Cup this year, as they dropped the opener last night to the C N R 2 to 1. It was a good game though and the fast C.N. forward line were right on their toes to grab their win and were backed up by some nice goal tending by Ferguson and Serabia accounted for the College goal, while Rossbach got the Pilkie one and C Barr an assist on the railroaders.

ELKS DROP TO THIRD PLACE

The Cubaret made one play-off position mighty secure last night when they humbled the Elks 12 to 4. While the antlered crew dropped to third place it looked like an Elk win to start with, but superior team play triumphed in the end. The Elks essential lacking that goal getting touch which the Cubaret have. Dragunas Cooper and Craig and Wiebe accounted for the Elks' counters. Both Waldenberger and White each got a goal and an assist and Kearns and Fallow a goal each for Cosmopolitans.

The race for the high spot is becoming up a little now with the veteran Gouge Rossbach in the lead and Waldenberger the high scoring defence man.

Powell and Gates are tied up with nine goals each for the goal keeping honors. Marwood is still there, but with only two more notched against him.

District Court

It took two days to clean up the list of cases tried at the sittings of the district court which opened here on Tuesday. Two large debt cases were heard. Rogurki and Mudrya vs. Fred Jurda was an action for damages resulting from an automobile accident. The collision took place about a mile north of the Ottawa school a year ago last summer. Judgment was given for the plaintiffs for the amount of their hospital expenses and value of the car and $100 general damages.

J. W. G. Morrison, K.C. for plaintiffs and Jas. H. Adam for defendant.

Makaymuk vs John Kotowich and three other defendants was an action for damages done to the plaintiff's car at a dance last spring at Myrnam. Judgment was given for the plaintiff for the amount of the damages claimed. Morrison for plaintiff and F. L. Whittaker for defendants.

Stewart vs. Switzer was an action for the value of a pig alleged to have been run over by Switzer with his truck near Clayamore There was also a counter claim. Both the action and counter claim were dismissed, each party paying his own costs. Adam for plaintiff and Morrison for defendant.

Majeskey vs Pathfinder second district was an action by a teacher against the school board for salary covering seven days in January, when school was closed by order of the board of trustees. The defence was that the teacher agreed to the school being so closed and also signed an informal agreement to teach the number of days lost in the following July. The judge ruled that the school board was bound by the formal agreement entered into between the trustees and the school board when the teacher was engaged and that any subsequent alleged agreement between the school board and the teacher could not override the provisions of the formal agreement entered into at the beginning of the engagement in the form prescribed by the School Act unless such subsequent agreement was approved by the Minister of Education The teacher was therefore held entitled to the seven days wages at $5.00 a day during which the school was closed by order of the board The school was closed for the celebration on January 12th, and sold on January 29th, 1931

In the pound kept by P Jensen, located on N.W. 24-47-6-4, on January 15th and sold on January 29th, 1931

Canadian Citizenship

The question arises more or less frequently in the minds of thoughtful Canadians whether the obtaining of the rights and privileges of citizenship by people of other than British birth has not, in the past and up to this present time, been made entirely too easy and more a matter of form than the vitally important matter of national policy it ought to be.

There can be no escaping the fact that, in these Western Provinces at all events, thousands of people have taken out naturalization papers, thereby becoming Canadian citizens and British subjects, with no higher motive than to secure title to 160 acres of lands to which in all other respects they had become entitled by virtue of having performed the specified settlement and cultivation duties. Hundreds of others have applied for and secured citizenship papers because they found it politic and good business to do so, while hundreds more have taken the same step because of pressure brought to bear upon them to do so in order that they may vote.

Admittedly these are not very high or worthy motives on the part of those thus granted all the citizenship rights and privileges accruing to native-born Canadians and others of British birth, but on the other hand, is it not a fact that large numbers of men who became Canadian citizens in the first place solely to get title to 160 acres of land have, because of that citizenship and the stake in the future of Canada that secured, become active, keen and patriotic Canadians of a worthwhile type? Indeed, have not many others, who became naturalized in order that they might vote, through the very fact that they did possess the right and had a voice in questions, begin to study national issues, and work for the advancement and welfare of Canada in a manner they would never have done lacking such franchise?

Undoubtedly these things are true, but, nevertheless, the question remains insistent whether even these gratifying developments would not have been further encouraged if the necessity of citizenship had been made more quite so easy, a mere matter of form, and the observance of a certain amount of official red tape. And, too, it must also be admitted that, while thousands of people who accepted citizenship in a more or less indifferent and haphazard manner have proved themselves wholly worthy of the rights and privileges thus conferred upon them, other thousands have not done so.

It may now be questioned whether Canada was wise to make 160 acres of land the price of citizenship, notwithstanding that it would probably have been even more unwise to have granted full legal title to homesteads to unnaturalized aliens. However, what is past is past and cannot now be undone. But what of the future?

Valuable as the grant of a free homestead may have been, its value is small to that attaching to Canadian citizenship. That is the fact we must realize. Citizenship is the greatest of all rights, and confers the most valuable and precious privileges any person can enjoy. And in the giving or withholding of citizenship, the State may be deciding its own future for good or ill.

Because this is true, there is much to be said in support of the view that no pressure of any kind should be brought to bear on any person to become a citizen, that the act of naturalization should be a purely voluntary act, free from any persuasion or influence. Further, that the State should exercise its prerogative and confer citizenship only upon those likely to prove worthy of it. Finally, that instead of the act of naturalization being a mere formality, it should be made a very solemn act, surrounded with dignity, and the ceremony of administering the oath of allegiance made such as to impress upon the applicant a clear realization of what he is doing, the meaning of the pledge he gives, and the responsibilities he thereby assumes.

It may be necessary to change the law in order to bring this about. In all probability such change will be necessary. Very well, then: let us change the law. It can at least be little more than a change of form. But if it be made in the right way, and if the privileges of Canadian citizenship be approved by us at its true value, the whole spirit of the act of naturalization will be changed, and those seeking citizenship will realize that it is a heritage we guard jealously, one we do not confer lightly or merely as a prize, but one we deem to be the highest privilege within our power to extend to a fellow-man or woman. Then, and not till then, will the words: "I am a Canadian citizen" hold the full value of Paul's proud boast of old: "Civis Romanus Sum."

Mustapha Kemal Thinks Turkish Women Should Bear Arms

The Chief Mustapha Kemal thinks Turkish women should be soldiers. Addressing a girls' normal school at Smyrna he said there was no reason why they should not bear arms like men.

"Women," he said, nowadays demand civic right. Every right involves a duty not the least of which is military service." Not physiological consideration, but baseless prejudices artificially prevent women from assuming military duty.

"In ancient times women fought shoulder to shoulder with men Modern society presents no fundamental obstacle to women becoming soldiers."

Should Cut War Budgets

Advocates Plan For Debtor Nations Of United States To Improve Conditions

Edward N. Nurley, who was a member of the Great War Foreign debts commission, said in an address prepared for delivery before the Chicago association of commerce that the 16 debtor nations of the United States should cut their war budgets and the United States should simultaneously reduce their war debts.

He said the debtor nations were formerly the best customers the United States had, and that if this country reduced the war debts the same countries would return to United States markets for goods, causing a profitable resumption in industry and export markets.

He suggested a 20-year plan whereby the total reduction would amount to fifty per cent. of the total war debts due the United States, with but a slight tax increase to the United States.

Magnesia Best for Your Indigestion

Most people who suffer, either occasionally or chronically from gas, sourness, heartburn, dizziness, nausea, flatulent distress, stomach tonics, appetizers, "pick-me-ups" and the like instead take a teaspoonful or four tablespoonfuls of Bisurated Magnesia. Bisurated Magnesia never dread the approach of indigestion, for it is the best form of magnesia for the purpose. It is the form which can be absorbed from any good drink, will instantly neutralize the stomach acidity, sweeten the stomach, relieve the gas, and thus aid the digestive work. Try this plan in your next attack of indigestion. Bisurated Magnesia especially prepared for stomach use.

Conqueror Of Three Continents Returns To California Cafe

Kenzaku Asuma, 35-year-old Japanese aviator and cafe proprietor, of Los Angeles, has resumed operation of his cafe after conquering three continents by air.

Asuma had a welcoming crowd of his lone flight across North America, Europe and Asia, of his victorious flight from Tokyo, completed in 1926, and of the many dinners, some attended by royalty, given in his honor.

Arriving tonight a little, open cockpit plane with the profits of his cafe. His flew to New York, stopped his machine in Greenland and cruised on to Tokyo. He was an enlisted man in the army aviation corps during the Great War.

"If the chop suey business holds up," Asuma said, "I may try a trans-Pacific flight."

Waives Claim To Salary

Lord Byng Does Not Accept Payment During Absence Through Illness

It is understood that during his absence from Scotland Yard, Lord Byng, Chief Commissioner of Metropolitan Police, has relinquished the salary attaching to his office ($10,000 annually).

His lordship, former commander of the Canadian corps in France and later Canadian Governor-General, waives all claim to his salary while he is on ill for a long period last year. During his stay in the south of France Lord Byng is keeping consistently in touch with Scotland Yard, and personally overseeing the working of the new mobile road force under the Road Traffic Act.

The question of his successor — if he decides to resign — is, therefore, not regarded as a matter for immediate consideration.

A Story From the North

Eskimo Makes Gallant Rescue and Radio Saves Life Of Chief At Arctic Post

Filtering through the Arctic, word reached Ottawa of a gallant rescue at Resolution Island, a government radio station at the eastern end of Hudson Straits, and of a desperate fight, carried on by means of wireless, to secure help.

When the block of ice, upon which he was walking, detached itself from the main floe, Andre Lajoie, a chief at the government post, and whose permanent home is in Cornwall, Ont., dropped into the frigid water. Numb and half-frozen, Lajoie managed to hoist himself upon a cake of loose ice less than a foot square, and for over three hours, during which time his strength waned and he sank exhausted to his knees, attempts at rescue were made.

One of the native attendants at the post, known only as "Tommy," proved to be the hero of the occasion. In two different attempts at rescue, "Tommy" dropped through the ice to the cold, dark water beneath, but each time he reached his safety. Undismayed at with only one thought in mind, he finally paddled a small cake of ice to within a few yards of the marooned Lajoie, and, using this as a bridge, small lounge over the still form of the now-frozen white man and, with almost superhuman effort, succeeded in pulling him through the slush ice to safety.

With Lajoie back on land, the officer in charge of the post rubbed snow over the frozen limbs of the prostrate man to restore circulation.

The next chapter in the story is as epic of the radio. Contact was made with the government radio station at Ottawa and through it Dr. F. S. Pursey, of the Department of Health, ordered by wireless treatment. He was told of the facts surrounding the accident, given points of resemblance between the case and formed of the steps taken to revive the patient.

In reply to the isolated men in the north, came a message treating medicine as numbers and giving instructions for turn to prevent shock a page in the medical manual which is a part of their standard equipment. The message was relayed by radio numbers and both the far-northern post and the doctor in Ottawa, had duplicates, that a record, in case of short time of the accident, Lajoie was under the care of a competent doctor, that he received medical attention and was resting comfortably—several hundreds of miles from the nearest human in the north.

Lajoie today is well on the road to recovery. All of which may be to the credit of "Station Tommy" and the radio.

Preservation Of Health

Public Health Methods To Save Canadians, Says Senator Foster

The fulfilling of Canada's obligations to bring immigrants to Canada, while at the same time thousands of Canadians are permitted to die every year of diseases which could be prevented, was pointed out by Right Honourable Senator Sir George E. Foster, at the annual meeting of the Ottawa Social Hygiene Council.

"Governments and statement must be taught," he said, "that there is a great unexplored field in Canada for growing up the population that we need. If we are going to add largely to immigrants, but what better could we do than to grow up our own population by saving clean-born, healthily brought-up and reasonably well-educated boys and girls," Sir George declared. Statesmanship in the future must give more heed to the prevention of disease and the preservation and conservation of health, he affirmed.

For Burns and Scalds.—Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil will take the fire out of a burn or scald. It should be at hand in every kitchen so that it may be available at any time. There is no preparation required. Just apply the oil to the burn or scald and the pain will abate and in a short time cease altogether.

By Aeronautics

Captain McGregor Machtosh, of Salt Spring Island, Conservative, was elected by acclamation, to the British Columbia legislature as representative of the Victoria riding in the by-election rendered necessary by the resignation of Col. C. W. Peck, V.C., now a member of the regional pensions board.

Success is sometimes the result of looking the other fellow in it.

School Of Criminology

New Course May Be Offered In University Of Alberta

Discussing his recent suggestion that a school of criminology should be established in connection with the University of Alberta, Commissioner W. C. Bryan, of the Alberta Provincial Police, regards it as one of the most economical and efficient methods of preventing crime which this province could adopt. If the commissioner's suggestion were adopted the University of Alberta would be the first university in the Dominion offering courses in scientific crime detection to members of police forces. The proposed courses would be given by members of the university staff and the students taking them would be required to pass rigid tests before being awarded certificates or diplomas.

Other provinces as well as Alberta need such an educational institution in connection with criminology, Commissioner Bryan says, and he suggests that these other than the province to have their police given scientific instruction. These few, he thinks, would be sufficient to pay for the cost of operating the school at the University of Alberta.

British Investments Heavy

"Great Britain has more money invested in the Argentine than she has in Canada," said G. B. Stevens, Canadian trade commissioner, in an address before the Empire Club of Toronto. Mr. Stevens spoke of the British Empire Exposition in Buenos Ayres and Illustrated the desire of Mother Country to increase trade with South America.

Attached By Asthma. The first fearful sensation is of suffocation, which hours, but by hours becomes more desperate and hopeless. To such a case the relief afforded by Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy seems nothing less than miraculous. Its help is quickly apparent and soon the distressing attack is mastered. The asthmatic who has found relief by the penduability of this sterling remedy will never be without it. It is sold everywhere.

Saskatchewan's Coal Record

In Saskatchewan, Canadian coal dominates the market, 2,000,000 tons from Saskatchewan mines in 1929 setting up a new record for the province with 500,188 tons, an increase of 23 per cent. over the previous year.

Believe it or not—one of the compensations of being poor is that you can get a thrill out of finding a dime in the pocket of the old coat you laid away last spring.

The eagle, in its native haunts, will live to be 200 years old.

Suffered From Heart Trouble

Became Weak and Run Down

Miss Wm. Diotte, Glenandiella, Ont., writes: "For a long period I suffered from heart trouble, and became very weak and run down. I tried various remedies, but they did me no good. One day I met a friend and told her of my trouble. She said she had heart trouble for two years too, but after using Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills for a short time she had been relieved of her trouble, so I got two boxes and after taking them I was again feeling fine, and always recommend H. & N. Pills to anyone complaining of heart trouble."

Complaint Is Justified

Many Tourists Have Cause For Surfacing Beauty Spots

The council of a popular holiday resort in Scotland, who complain of the writing of names and advertisements on the rocks, are not alone, of course, in their grievance, for scribbling seems to be a craze with tourists the world over, says the Herald. The trouble people take in the perpetration of such outrages is remarkable. A few years ago, in Norway, an English visitor went to the labor and expense of obtaining an indiarubber boot, in which he rowed out beneath a certain famous cliff, landed at great risk to life, climbed a yard or two up the almost perpendicular rock, and painted his initials in big, white letters—just to prove, as he explained, that he had been there. Offensive as they may be, however, such pranks are mild in comparison with other tourist outrages on record —as when an American, being shown over a shrine in Italy, was told a certain lamp had not been allowed to go out for centuries, whereupon he immediately extinguished it, remarking "It's out now."

Demand For Empire Products

Another Empire Shop Is Opened At Birmingham, England

Another "Empire Shop" was opened at Birmingham recently, the first in England. The first of these shops in the British Isles was opened at Glasgow last year, and William Lees, M.P., under-secretary for Dominion affairs, said at the opening that 160,000 samples had been sold at the Glasgow shop. The traders in Glasgow had found the demand for Empire products definitely increasing.

Sir Charles Howell Thomas, on behalf of the ministry of agriculture, performed the opening at Birmingham shop, said the public was more and more realizing the wonderful value of Empire products.

Argentina now has more miles of railways than any other Latin American country.

MAINTAIN BANKS ALWAYS HELPFUL TO THE FARMERS

Toronto, Ont.—Statements made by Hon. Robert Weir, Dominion Minister of Agriculture, regarding Canadian banks and the financial situation in the West at the banquet tendered to stock breeders and exhibitors by the Canadian National Exhibition recently were replied to by Sir John Aird, president of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and A. E. Phipps, general manager of the Imperial Bank of Canada.

"The banks always have been very generous with the farmers of the West and they haven't changed their policy," said Sir John in commenting on Mr. Weir's demand that the banks make their credit easier as to whether or not they will give credit next spring.

Instances cited by the Dominion Minister of Agriculture at the banquet in which a farmer and a rancher, both men of standing and large property interests, were refused relatively small loans, were referred to by Sir John. Other considerations must be considered in the case, he said. "If the facts are as Mr. Weir says, the farmers might have appealed to superintendents of the banks at Winnipeg, Calgary or Vancouver," said Sir John. "They had a right to do that, or Mr. Weir might have written a letter to the head office of the bank setting forth the circumstances, and I think some would have been straightened away satisfactorily."

The president of the Bank of Commerce also said that, while loans must be sane under consideration the present may be the formation of a company to aid the western farmers, which is stated at $7 000 000 and which it is proposed to have backed up by the government, the railways and the banks.

Mr. Phipps declared that, instead of a shrinkage of credit to western farmers, the banks had been overindulgent.

Mr. Phipps' statement follows in part:

"The west is suffering from an over-indulgence in banking credit rather than a shortage of credit, with the result that many farmers in Saskatchewan already owe their bankers far more than the amount of advances and some of their debts go back further than that. It is people in this class that are considerably clamoring for more assistance from the banks.

"You have thousands of customers throughout the west who keep their affairs in proper shape and who are always able to obtain the banking credit they require. But once a farmer lends himself with more than he can possibly pay, it is futile for the bank to go on making further advances, which simply means giving away other people's money.

"I repeat that banking credit always has been and still is liberally distributed to west and in almost all cases where further credit cannot be obtained it is usually a case for government or charitable aid, not banking aid. Nothing is gained by lending more money than a borrower can repay.

"I think that Mr. Weir somewhat spoke out in the interests of the banks who have, over a period of years, literally put millions in losses and who have millions in frozen debts negotiated in past and present endeavors to assist the western farmer.

St. Godard Wins Dog Derby

Captures First Prize and Gold Challenge Cup

Ottawa. Emile St. Godard, Le Pas, Man., repeated his victory of last year in Ottawa's international dog sled derby. The young "monarch of mush" whitened a gruelling stretch drive by his fellow Manitoban, "Rhorty" Rusnick, Cranberry Portage, to capture the $1,000 first prize money and the Chateau Laurier gold challenge cup.

The veteran from Cranberry Portage drove over the 100-mile, 35-mile leg of the 100-mile race in three hours, nine minutes and 44 seconds. This was three minutes and three seconds better than St. Godard's time; but the lead piled up by the latter in the two previous hours was enough to give him victory.

St. Godard's elapsed time for the 100-mile derby route was nine hours, 18 minutes and 40 seconds. Rusnick required 9:23:30.

Brig.-Gen. Critchley Enters By-Election Contest In Britain

London, England.—Although Lord Beaverbrook and his Empire crusaders have had nothing to say regarding the sudden withdrawal of their candidate, Paul Springman, from the by-election fight of East Islington, they have soon filled his place.

Brig.-General Alfred C. Critchley, formerly of Calgary, Alta., has been chosen as the candidate of the crusaders and of Lord Rothermere's United Empire party. With the announcement of his candidature Conservative hopes of a united Conservative vote were shattered.

Brig.-General Critchley was born in England 49 years ago. He served with the First Canadian Division in France, going over as adjutant of the Strathcona Horse. He was later with the general staff. After the war, he was engaged in immigration work in Mexico and Central America. The general is vice-president of the British Portland Cement Association and is on the boards of other companies.

The president of the Bank of Commerce also said that, while loans must be sane under consideration the present may be the formation of a company to aid the western farmers, which is stated at $7 000 000 and which it is proposed to have backed up by the government, the railways and the banks.

NEW ZEALAND 'QUAKE CAUSES GREAT SUFFERING

Auckland, N.Z.—As details of the story of Tuesday's February 3, quake disaster in the Hawke Bay region unfolded today, February 5, New Zealand appeared for the first time to realize the full import of the terrible tragedy.

A dense shadow of death and suffering hovered above the stricken region, but against this dark background stood out deeds of splendid heroism and devotion. Into the dark desolation of the area so suddenly overwhelmed strode doctors and nurses by the dozen, bluejackets by the score, and relief of all manner.

A general order was issued demanding within two days the ex-Queen of Naples, capital of Hawke Bay province, and centre of the quake. Authorities feared an outbreak of some terrible disease if survivors remained in the once busy seaport town. Arrangements had already been made to evacuate 5,000 women and children to Palmerston, north of Napier.

Messages placed the dead at Hastings between 80 and 100, and 21 identified. Napier had 45 identified dead and

PRICES IN CANADA AND OTHER COUNTRIES DURING 1930

The Department of Labour in a supplement issued to the Labour Gazette January 1931, on "Prices in Canada and Other Countries during 1930," has the following introductory article: "In 1930 a general movement throughout the world to lower price levels occurred, the downward tendency of recent years being accentuated. This decline was accompanied by world wide depression and by retail prices and the consequent lowering of the purchasing power of large parts of the population. The fall, so far, has been more severe in the prices of raw materials and food stuffs. Prices of manufactured goods, while showing a substantial fall in some cases, have not been so seriously depressed. The cost of living, as indicated by retail prices, has also declined in most countries, the fall being greatest in foods. Economic maladjustments are no doubt to the causes but among the factors mentioned as involved in this world wide decline in prices and depression in trade are: increase in production of gold stocks among the countries of the world, as well as a gradual reduction "in gold production; the fall in the price of silver, with its effect on the purchasing power of China and India; production outstripping consumption in many basic commodities, such as wheat, sugar, rubber, cotton, wool, silk, rubber, ferrous metals and petroleum; increase of manufacturing capacity greater than the increase in population and consumptive capacity; the closing of the import markets to the world of large quantities of grains and raw materials; serious unemployment and lack of purchasing power thereof. As compared with 1929 wholesale prices were lower in Canada, United States, Great Britain, Germany, Italy, Australia, Austria, Belgium, Bulgaria, Denmark, Hungary, Norway, Poland, Sweden, Switzerland, India, Japan, Australia, and New Zealand. In China, Russia and Spain prices were higher.

In Canada, wholesale prices in December were 19 per cent lower than in December, 1929, and 21 per cent below August, 1929, when the recent downward movement in prices began, the decrease being greatest in grain and in raw materials. In retail prices in 30 cities the decrease was 8 per cent lower in December than a year ago. Clothing was down slightly while the other groups, fuel, rent and sundries were proximately unchanged, so that the index number for all items was down 5 per cent for the twelve month period.

NEWS FROM ISLAY

A remarkably successful court whist drive was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Shaw on Friday night last under the auspices of the Anglican W. A. Fourteen tables were played, and the prize winners were Mrs. Beasley Carmichael, ladies first and Gordon Weeks, gents first. Consolations went to Miss Mary McEachern and Marcel Dupuis. Dancing followed the the cards.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Beecroft and two children returned on Saturday from Edmonton after spending a week there. The trip was made by car.

The Mission Band are having a Valentine party in the Junior room on Friday afternoon.

Islay Ladies Defeat Kitscoty

Two rinks of Kitscoty lady curlers shipped by Mrs. Wilton and Mrs. Rogers played the local ladies on Saturday night. The games resulted in a win each but the home curlers were the victors on the total score. The Islay rink shipped by Mrs. McRae and consisting of Mrs. Givens, Miss Clement and Lily Shaw lost to Mrs Wilton 45. Mrs. Barnes turned the tables to the tune of 18 — 1 against Mrs. Rogers and gave Islay a total of 29 points to 15. Mrs. Barnes rink was Mrs. Mitchell, Mrs. H. Barnes and Mrs Houston.

After the curling games, the Kitscoty ladies were the guests of honor at a luncheon held in the hotel

The St. Paul's W. A. wish to thank all those who turned out and helped make such a success of the whist drive held last Friday evening, especially those who supplied the music and took charge of the dance.

There will be service in the St. Paul's Anglican church, Islay, this Sunday afternoon, February 15th, at 3 p. m. All are extended a cordial invitation to attend, regardless of denomination

Two Islay rinks are participating in the bonspiel being held at Vermilion this week. The rinks are: A. Beecroft, W. Shaw, E. Moore and J. Givens; and Mr. Mitchell, N. McEachern, E. Anderson and B. Carmichael.

GIRL GUIDE NOTES

Lady Rodney's talk last week made us realize what a really great international host Guides have grown to be and what a power for world peace we are. Guiding is a game but a serious game of character building based on the Guide Law

A Guide's business is to be trusted

A Guide is loyal

A Guide's duty is to be useful and to help others.

A Guide is a friend to all and a sister to every other Guide.

A Guide is courteous

A Guide is a friend to animals.

A Guide obeys orders.

A Guide smiles and sings under all difficulties.

A Guide is thrifty.

A Guide is pure in thought, word and deed

The older Guides and other older girls interested formed a Ranger group at a meeting Tuesday evening. They will carry out the Guide motto "Be Prepared" to serve, as well as they can.

"Much of one's success at bridge," says a writer, "depends on the hand you get." A good deal depends on a good deal.

Two Rinks from Here Participate

The Manville bonspiel which opened Tuesday night with a full complement of rinks in that club, is running 12 hours and is to be finished this evening, after rinks from Vermilion, Lavoy, Innisfree and Vermilville. By Thursday evening the draw reached the semi-finals, with only two rinks open events with only two rinks remaining, Charlie Clifton of Vermilion and Vernon Cooper of Vermilion remaining in them

The two local rinks were composed of Dr. Lowe, skip; F. McKee, Fred Firth and Jack Tucker, and of Cooper (skip), Bert Williams, M. W. Klinken and D. Cooper were in the semi-finals of the Soft A event on Thursday morning, defeating Dr. Lowe of Islay in the 1 on A.M. draw to get there. In the 8 a.m. draw today they lost out to Elbe McFadden of Manville by a 9-8 score. The opposing rink of Elbe third or fourth prize in this event

Fish Abundant in Vitamins, Iodine

Richer Than Many Other Foods in Elements Essential to Health

Scientists find out many interesting things and one important discovery which research has made in recent years is that fish contain elements which not only build strength but build health, and contain them in larger amounts than most other foods

For instance, Vitamin D, is abundant in fish but lacking in many other foodstuffs. Vitamin D, important in the diet for everybody, is especially important in the diet for growing children because of its part in bone development and the prevention of bone defects. "The condition which results from starvation for this vitamin," says a noted North American physician and research worker, "is generally designated as Rickets, it is not confined to the bones but affects all tissue of the body. . . . Bone defects," he adds, "are rare among children where fish forms a prominent article of diet." and "Vitamin D is contained in very small amounts in any foods (one list studied, except in the oils of fishes."

There, too, in addition to considerable Vitamin A and Vitamin D, fish are unusually rich in iodine content, especially sea fish, while "most common foods contain very little iodine." The importance of this fact from the health and dietary standpoint, of course, is that study has determined that iodine is a preventive of such diseases as goitre, or, in the words of a prominent scientist, "foods containing iodine have been of great help in preventing and controlling goitre," and "the prevalence of goitre is, roughly, inversely proportional to the iodine content of food and drinking water." Surveys have shown that goitre is less prevalent in coastal regions, where fish foods are frequently on the table, than in areas where there is small consumption of fish.

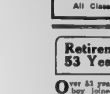
Vitamins A and D, iodine, calcium, which is necessary to the growth and strength of teeth and bones—these are among the elements which make fish foods so valuable in the human body. In many other foods these elements are lacking or, as has been said, they are present in such small amounts than to fish Canadian Boards are advising that the year round consumption of fish, whether fresh or frozen or smoked or dried or pickled or canned—and since there are so many different varieties of fish and shellfish taken in Canadian waters, and fish foods may be prepared for the table in so many different tasty ways, they may be used frequently without monotony in the family menu

Retirement Closes 53 Years' Service

R. Preston

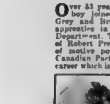
Over 53 years ago, a 14-year-old boy joined the old Victoria, Grey and Bruce Railway, as an apprentice in the Motive Power Department. Today, the retirement of Robert Preston, superintendent of motive power, Canadian Pacific Railway, closes a career which is something unique in the history of Canadian railroading. Mr. Preston's reading has extended from one cosmos to the other in many important appointments. Starting his actual service with the C. P. R. as an apprentice at the "G. and D." road he has taken over by the great Canadian system, and then in its own right, he has become a prominent citizen of Toronto, where he is well known and may many years of his long service.

He is succeeded by George White-ley, who has been his assistant since 1913 and also has a long record in the service of the company, having started as a fireman at Fort William, Ont., in 1902. His employment in various capacities in the Motive Power Department, however, has taken him all over the Eastern lines and Eastern Canada.



C. Whiteley

The post of assistant superintendent of motive power on Eastern Lines has been filled by Alexander Peverly, who leaves his present position as master mechanic at Moncton, N.B., to take up his new duties at Toronto.



Alex. Perry

Entering the service of the C.P.R. in Montreal for his first experience of service in the east, he joined up as a machinist on the Winnipeg Shops in 1907, and in various posts, hitherto, have all been West of Fort William.

Earl Of Bessborough Canada's New Governor General

OTTAWA, Feb. 9.—Announcement by Premier R. H. Bennett this morning of the appointment of Earl of Bessborough as governor-general of Canada was received with great satisfaction in the capital city. The new selection, particularly to those who know the Earl of Bessborough, is looked upon as a very happy choice. The new incumbent at Rideau Hall is of the Irish peerage and is married to Roberta De Windt, only daughter of Baron de Neuflize of Paris.

The prime minister, in making his official announcement stated,

"His majesty the king has been graciously pleased to approve of the appointment of the Earl of Bessborough as governor-general of the dominion of Canada."

Lady Rodney Visits Local Organizations

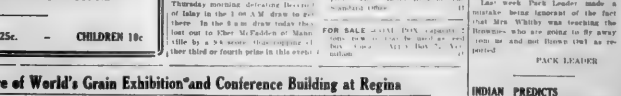
First Picture of World's Grain Exhibition and Conference Building at Regina



THE WORLD'S GRAIN SHOW BUILDING REGINA SASKATCHEWAN CANADA 1931

This reproduction of an architect's drawing represents the magnificent building now being specially erected in Regina for the purpose of housing the educational, competitive and commercial exhibits of the World's Grain Show, to be held in that city from July 25th to August 8th, 1932. It will be under the auspices of the Canadian Pacific Railway in charge of the National Committee of the World's Grain Show, with, under the direction of Dr. [illegible] Chief Engineer, will immediately commence and carry out the work of interior decoration and construction for the huge structure. The building is beautifully situated south of the automobile building. The main portion is 600 feet long and 120 feet wide, with a dome 180 feet wide and extend 300 feet from either side of the main unit, all providing a floor space of approximately 200,000 square feet. The building is substantially built permanent structure with stucco finish, allowing for ceiling space of 18 and 22 feet. Mr. Tatlock is well known in many countries, where he has had charge of similar work for the Dominion Government, and Canadians and others may feel assured that the work when completed will be not only suitable and appropriate for the occasion, but well worthy of the objects to be attained by this great undertaking.

Using Wheat For Fuel

Oregon Farmer Finds That Wheat Is a Cheap and Efficient Fuel

Out in Umatilla County, Oregon, Peter Weidert, farming between 8,000 and 9,000 acres, most of it in wheat, is using threshed wheat for fuel. He says wheat at $16 a ton makes a cheaper fuel than coal at $20 laid down at his ranch. The wheat makes a hot, even fire, particularly good for banking over night. We-dert declares. He says he learned the value of wheat as fuel years ago when he used it to bank fires in his steam threshing engine. Besides saving him money Weidert insists he is doing what growers e good turn by reducing the surplus

THE SCARF TOUCH

All Tingey models are created and sketched in Paris and the patterns are made in New York.

So many women love a scarf effect, and find its adjustment difficult that to be arranged at each wearing and must be carefully pinned into place.

Today's pattern dress caters for a scarf effect which will "stay put"—indeed it is stitched into and is part of the dress. It is charming carried out in spotted or patterned crepe de chine against a plain tweed, tweed jersey or woollen.

For the original blouse an orange brown showing a marked diagonal weave was selected. The crepe de chine was in brownie, beige and orange—the whole rich and warm in tone.

Dark materials with a spotted silk would be smart, or if patterned tweeds were chosen the tie and cuffs should be plain

This pattern may be obtained in sizes 14 to 20 and 34 to 40. It is ready for immediate delivery It is head cut.

Send 25 cents in stamps or coin to Fashion Bureau. Write carefully and plainly your name and full address, the number of the pattern and the size you want.

JESUS THE FRIEND OF SINNERS

Golden Text: "Faithful is the saying, and worthy of all acceptation, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners."—1 Timothy i 15.

Lesson: Luke 7.

Devotional Reading: Romans 5:1-8.

Explanations and Comments

The Bull Woman's Deed, verses 36-38 One day Simon the Pharisee invited Jesus to dine with him, and seemed to think this honor enough for the carpenter's Son, for he failed to show Him the civilities due an honored guest. "Ye are still in the epoch of transition when the rupture between our Lord and the Pharisees although already far advanced, was not yet complete A Pharisee could still invite Him without difficulty. It was by no means unusual that the latter—a man given with a hostile intention But this Pharisee's own reflection, verse 39, shows him hesitating between the holy impression which Jesus made upon him and the antipathy which his caste felt against Him."

During the meal a woman of the city a sinner, entered with an alabaster cruse of ointment. Jesus was reclining at the table with His customary manner at a feast. His head toward the table before Him and His bare feet pointing behind Him. His sandals having been removed. The woman stood behind Him Was it to lay bare her soul, to tell Him her life's-shame-ment, her penitence, devotion, and love? If so, she did it as far as we know, she spoke not a word, but let her deed speak for her. Her tears of forgiveness she had already received, or was confident she would receive. She wet His feet with her tears, then wiped them with her hair, kissed them, and shed there the precious ointment. "To appreciate this act, we must remember that it was one of the greatest humiliations for a woman, to be seen with her hair undishevelled. Similar acts of respect were sometimes paid to kings and rabbis. A man once came to him to the feet of Rabbi Jonathan, because he had no other opportunity of his son.

The Pharisee's Criticism, verse 39. —Simon was scandalized at the woman's act; and the Lord's acceptance of it. Evidently Jesus was no prophet, Simon said in himself, or He would have detected the truth about the woman and have spurned her touch.

The Pharisee's Lesson, verses 40-43.—At last Jesus showed Simon that He not only knew Simon's secret history but that He even read Simon's thoughts. Therefore I have something to say unto thee," that Jesus arrested his attention, and then He told him His parable of the "Two Debtors"—the Unwilling Debtor owing fifty shillings and the other fifty shillings, but as neither had anything to pay therewith to pay, the lender forgave them both. "Tell me, then, therefore, will love him most?" Jesus questioned. Simon answered, contemptuously, as if the question were so easy that he thought of the bearing of the question, "He, I suppose, to whom he forgave the most." "Thou hast rightly judged," Jesus said, but there was nothing toward the woman He questioned, "Seest thou this woman?"

Then Jesus reminded Simon of his most homely courtesies and of the courtesy due a guest—the water for His feet, the kiss of greeting, the oil for anointing—and contrasted them with the lavishness of the woman's offering. It was evident that, unlike the woman, Simon had no consciousness of sin at all and no repentance or he would have shown greater love.

The Relation of Forgiveness and Love, verses 47, 48.—"Wherefore I say unto thee, Her sins, which are many, are forgiven, for she loved much." Here are two possible interpretations of these words. One is that her love won the forgiveness that her love won the forgiveness that He words.

Then He set and wept, and with her untressed hair

Wiped the feet she was so blest to touch;

And He wiped off the soiling of despair

From her sweet soul, because she loved so much."

Labor Troubles Across the Line

Says Unemployment In United States Is Growing Worse

Despite the strenuous efforts of the president, Col. Woods and others to reduce unemployment, the situation, according to William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, grows worse.

"Unemployment," said Mr Green today, "has increased since December, and 6,700,000 wage earners in the United States are out of work in the first part of January, compares with 5,500,000 in December, and these figures do not include farmer or labor or office workers."

Vancouver Shipping Figures

Vancouver's deep-sea arrivals during 1930 numbered 1,196 with a total of 4,202,802 net tons, according to a report of the Vancouver Merchants Exchange. In 1929 Vancouver's arrivals were 1,384 with a tonnage of 4,683,000.

Explosion Wrecked Engine Of Submarine

Twelve Men Injured But Cause Of Accident Unknown

Twelve men were injured, one critically, when an explosion of unknown origin wrecked the internal combustion engine of the submarine X-3, one of the largest undersea boats in the British navy.

She had left Sheerness for a trial run after reconditioning and had gone 30 miles on the surface to the Thames estuary when the blast occurred.

The injured men were treated on the ship and the submarine returned to Chatham on one engine. The extent of the damage was not immediately determined.

The X-3, of exceptionally strong construction, is designed for deep diving and can remain submerged for two and a half days.

The vessel is of nearly 2,800 tons displacement, carrying four 5.2-inch guns and equipped with six torpedo tubes. She has a surface speed of 19.26 knots and carries a crew of 110 men. She cost more than $5,000,000. The navy last year gave her commander as E. M. C. Barraclough.

Still Room For Improvement

Chairman At Railway Council Continues His Criticisms

A report issued by the Dominion Board of Railway Commissioners suggests that there is still room for improvement in the matter of greater caution at railway crossings. In the last four months of 1930 there were 161 accidents at such crossings. Carelessness on the part of motorists is assigned as the chief contributing cause of these accidents, and it is again set forth that a toll of many lives is taken every year because of the lack of even elementary precaution.

The Railway Board makes an investigation into every accident at a railway crossing, and the causes charged causes for them are grouped as follows: Crossing tracks when gates are down; backing up to reach a point; running or driving into the middle of the tracks; noise disregarding engine whistle and ringing of engine bell; noise skidding when crossing tracks; chauffeurs seeing train too late to escape a crash; drivers trying "to beat" train to crossing."—Regina (Evening) Leader-Post.

Result is Encouraging

Disarmament Conference Is Making Progress With Its Work

There is encouragement for the hope that the results of the Disarmament Commission's work has been going on for four years and more, and up till quite recently agreement did not seem probable on anything like such a scale as has now been achieved. A framework at least has been provided, and into that framework the World Disarmament Conference, when it meets, must build a more secure and substantial edifice. Only those who expect results far more rapid than the present outlook of the world permits need be depressed by the Commission's results.

Electrical Detector

Discovery May Help To Learn Railway Accidents By Detecting Faulty Rails

Alva, Elmer A. Sperry, the "Iron Man" of Lake Success, has invented a travel safer. His latest discovery rises posthumously to rid railroad travel of the dissidents due to "rail cancer."

Sperry died a few months ago, while friends were preparing upon his electrical detector of the invisible cracks in rails, which have been an unsuspected source of fatal accidents since the beginning of railroading.

Harcourt C. Drake, research engineer of the Sperry Gyroscope, Inc., recently told of the transverse fissures within the interiors of rails, fissures which grow like living things, their presence often unrevealed by so much as an exterior scratch, until the rails fall apart.

1 cup scalded milk
2 tablespoons butter
1 tablespoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar
1 Royal Yeast Cake
2 cups lukewarm water

To the scalded milk add the butter, sugar and salt. When it is cool add lukewarm and then add dissolved yeast and 1½ cups flour. Stir and let stand in moderately warm place overnight. In the morning add enough flour to knead, and let rise until about double in bulk, then roll out ½ inch thick. Cut with biscuit cutter and brush each piece with melted butter, crease through the center and fold over. Let rise again until double in bulk and bake for about 25 minutes in moderate oven. Above is sufficient for about ten rolls.

Canada's Glacial Period

Covered With Ice a Mile Deep At One Time

A story of the time when the levels of the Great Lakes were 50 feet higher than today, and when the northern part of North America was covered with ice a mile deep, was told members of the Over-Seas Club by Dr. Thomas H. Clark, professor of paleontology at McGill University, Montreal.

Before the last glacial period, the Great Lakes did not exist, said Dr Clark Niagara Falls was non-existent and where Lake Ontario now lies was a river, called by geologists the Laurentian River, which followed the present course of the St. Lawrence River, but was longer. The country then had a milder climate than today, he said.

The glaciers left three lakes, one near the lower end of Lake Michigan, one near Lake Superior, and one near the lower end of Lake Erie. Later changes filled out the outlines of the lake system as we know it today, but at a higher level, said Dr Clark.

The position of Niagara Falls is changing rapidly said Dr Clark, moving southward up the Niagara River at the rate of five feet a year as the water breaks down the limestone at its edge.

After the melting of the glacier, the sea flowed in and covered the St Lawrence valley, said Dr. Clark Proof of this is found on Mount Royal, 600 feet above the present sea level, the finding of the skeleton of an Arctic whale at Smith's Falls, and the finding of marine fossils all throughout the area.

Electron Tubes

Silent Power That Performs Many Mysterious Duties

Industry is rapidly substituting beams of light for some of the clicking levers of its machines.

Electron tubes are introducing this silent power. The tubes are called the "Four" twins, Pits and Thyra, brother and sister of the well-known Phil-tapper, "Pete."

Some of them turn on street lights; read temperatures of hot furnaces; furnish automatic train control, turn out electric signs, and in a hundred other ways do our work.

The "Four" twins were described to the American Institution of Electrical Engineers by W. R. King, of the General Electric Company in New York.

Newspaper Advertising Profitable

British Radio Manufacturers' Association Makes Successful Deal

After years of experiment, officials of the British Radio Manufacturers' Association are convinced that newspaper advertising is the most productive form of sales promotion The association representing leading British radio and allied manufacturers, spent $5,000,000 in advertising in 1930, according to Sir Ernest Rutherford, "Scientific market research," said an official "convinced that the investment of $5,000,000 has returned dividends in retail business to the extent of $50,000,000."

Plants Store Water

Vine In Arid Regions Can Store Sufficient Water To Last 13 Years

A vine in the arid regions of Arizona and Sonora stores water in an expanded base in such quantities that it has been known to live on its reserves for 13 years, Dr Forest T MacDougall, director of the Desert Laboratory at Tucson, Ariz., and recently in a radio talk on "The Thirst of Plants."

"A tree cactus," he added, "may hold many hundreds of gallons of surplus water. Many plants in that region have now a water supply laid in which would keep them alive until 1933 or 1934 An acre of cabbage will use 2 000 000 quarts of water in a season, and 200 beech trees on an acre require nearly double that amount One of these trees loses about 50 quarts of water as vapor daily from its leaves.

MOTHER OF TWINS HELPED

Restored to Health by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Mitchell, Ont.—"I had little twin babies and for quite a while after I was so weak I could not do my work because of pains in all the way up my legs at the back. I also had headaches and got very little sleep. I read in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and soon I was able to get up and do my work. I have taken three bottles and I am fine, do my work without trouble and am gaining in weight and strength. I will gladly recommend the Vegetable Compound to anyone."—Mrs. F. Stafton, Box 229, Mitchell, Ont.

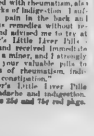
Rheumatism Routed. Rapid Relief.



Mr. Arthur Padgett, of Barnsley, writes: "For the last few years I have suffered with rheumatism, also severe attacks of indigestion. I suffered great pain in the back. All I tried various remedies without relief. A friend advised me to try at once Carter's Little Liver Pills. This I did and received immediate relief. I am a miner, and I strongly recommend your valuable pills to all sufferers of rheumatism, indigestion and constipation."

Take Carter's little Liver Pills for sick headache and indigestion. All druggists 25c and 75c red packages.

Little Helps For This Week

"Wherefore, beloved, be diligent that ye may be found of Him in peace, without spot, and blameless." 2 Peter iii 14

Thou must be true thyself,
If thou the truth would'st teach;
Thy soul must overflow if
Another's soul would'st reach;
It needs the overflow
To give the hpe full speech.

Think truly, and thy thoughts
Shall the world's famine feed,
Speak truly, and each word of thine
Shall be a fruitful seed
Live truly, and thy life shall be
A great and noble creed.
—Horatius Bonar.

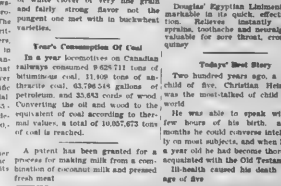
We know no truth except by action. We can teach no vital truth except through the life. We cannot attain to the eternal joy except as we walk step by step in the path of actual duty and performance in which He walked, who so gained its fulness, and who sits down at the right hand of the Father.—Frederic W. Munger.

Douglas' Egyptian Liniment is remarkable in its quick, effective action. Relieves instantly burns, sprains, toothache and neuralgia. Invaluable for sore throat, croup and quinsy

Today's Best Story

Two hundred years ago, a Danish child of five, Christian Henderson, was the most-talked of child in the world

He was able to speak within a few hours of his birth, at ten months he could converse intelligently on most subjects, and when he was a year old he had become thoroughly acquainted with the Old Testament. Ill-health caused his death at the age of five



REGULAR PAINS?

SOME women suffer more than others. Often, when there isn't any need! The pains peculiar to women may be relieved as readily as other pains for which Aspirin is intended. These tablets are always a big help at such times, and prove the least bit harmful. (Aspirin does not depress the heart.)

Of course, you are familiar with the use of Aspirin for headache. It brings such prompt relief that sudden headaches don't upset your plans. It will check a cold, or ease the sorest throat; and comfort the worst sufferer from neuritis and neuralgia.

When your head aches—from any cause—when a cold has settled in your joints or you feel those deep-down pains of rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago, take Aspirin and you can count on real relief.

High School Arranges Rare Treat

Secure Your Tickets From Students

Prominent Lecturer and Writer To Appear Here February 19

"The Frog Lake Massacre," illustrated lecture, will be given here under the auspices of the High School on Thursday next, February 19th in the auditorium of the school. The lecturer, Wm. Hesabold Cameron, was the sole survivor of this massacre. As a former citizen of Vermilion and a member of the first town council, no doubt many of the old timers will take advantage of the opportunity to both hear and meet him. A rare treat is in store for everyone. The lecture commences at 8 p.m. Proceeds are to be devoted towards the piano fund.

Mr. Cameron, who speaks here on the 19th, gave his lecture in the Normal school, Edmonton, on Feb. 6th with over 500 present. He has filled return engagements at the Saskatoon Normal. This should be evidence that his lecture is worth while. Vermilion is honored to obtain his services and hear a man in person so well acquainted with the west from the early 80s to the present day.

Mr. Cameron is a constant contributor to the best magazines in Canada and the United States and at the present time has been retained by one of the largest transportation companies in Canada for a series of articles on Western life. As an employee of the Hudson's Bay Co. in the early 80s his position placed him in close contact with life of the Indians both in war time and peace time, and there isn't a better authority living today on Indian life in its truest sense. Hear him in person on Thursday, Feb. 19th in the high school. Popular prices: Adults 50c, students 25c.

Mildred Cocks, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Cocks, suffered a broken arm last Monday at the noon intermission at the public school when she fell from a bicycle. The arm, the left one, was fractured at the wrist. The little girl's condition is as well as could be expected.

LLOYDMINSTER TEAM HERE ON SATURDAY

Fast Hockey Match is Expected

What is confidently expected to be a sizzling encounter is billed for the arena Saturday night at 8 p.m. when the Lloydminster Intermediates clash with our local fast travelling Juvenile team. The Lloydminster outfit was just about too strong for our local youngsters last year, and the game will be looked upon as a test to see if Jack Mackenzie has a better team than ever this season. Be on hand for a hum up game at a low price — only 25 cents — at the local arena at 8 p.m. on Saturday.

RUSSIAN WHEAT HAS INSIDE TRACK IN WORLD MARKET

WASHINGTON, Feb 6. Chairman Legge of the farm board, said today he viewed Russia's official grain reports statement as an indication that the Soviets were turned toward a dominating position in the world wheat market

"The American farmers cannot compete with Russian wheat in the world market," he said, "and if he attempts to he will have to give up riding automobiles."

The "Little Royal" is being held this Saturday at the school of agriculture and great interest is in evidence among the students.

Optimistic Manifesto Issued By Mayor Fallow

Time Approaching When Tax Burden Will Undergo A Substantial Reduction

Vermilion, Feb 16th, 1931.

Fellow Councillors and Citizens of Vermilion:

As we close out the business of the past year and enter upon the duties of the year 1931, on behalf of the citizens of Vermilion, I wish to express my appreciation of the services given by retiring Councillor Mr. R. H. Norton, and at the same time express my sincere regret that his private affairs precludes the possibility of giving us the advantage of his executive abilities for a further term. I wish, also, to pay my respects to our new Councillor, Mr. S. C. Heckbert. I am sure he will prove himself a valuable addition to the Council I desire also to commend the continuing committee, Mr. E. Corley and Mr. J. Waring for their courage in again offering their services under the present trying conditions. On the whole, may I say that the one outstanding feature concerning the whole Council which gives me unlimited faith in the future is the fact that each and every one of you has a very comprehensive understanding of the problems with which we are called upon to deal, and an intimate knowledge of the absolute necessity for the careful handling of our municipal affairs during the next year or two. As long as the Council gives its best thought and consideration to the problems, so essential to the lives and fortunes of our people, we have every reason to be optimistic for the future of Vermilion.

In reviewing the progress and achievements of the Town of Vermilion during the last few years, the one thing which stands out as a lasting monument to the good judgment of the citizens, is their almost unanimous decision in favor of the retention of our public utilities. During the last six years in which it has been my privilege to serve you as Mayor, we have spent approximately one hundred thousand dollars in public utilities, providing for ourselves the most modern and complete equipment for the service of our people. All of this equipment has carried itself from the beginning without taking one dollar in taxes from the people and we are just commencing to reap the benefits of that policy. This year the debenture on the old plant retires in 1932 the debenture on the steam heating system retires as well as a serious minor issues amounting in all to approximately six thousand dollars of a saving to the people every year. The remodelling of our water mission and distribution system during the last two years, although being paid out of current funds, has been a serious drain on the revenue of those utilities. With a few minor changes in this system, it can fairly be said that our utilities are in first class condition. We are still far from the capacity of our plant but possible for us to double the output of our present business. This is a very important matter which I wish to commend to your most thoughtful consideration. We are now in a position to offer attractive rates for domestic purposes which should build up a very substantial day load. Every effort should be put forward by the Council and citizens to encourage the use of electrical equipment in the business of Vermilion. If after a fair trial, we find the rates are still beyond the reach of the average householder, the only sensible thing to do is to reduce it to a point where it will be of service. By doing this, we will be doing a real service to the community and at the same time getting two per cent. delivery from our utilities.

In order to carry this policy out in first necessary that we engage the services of another man for the Fall. At the present time we have only sufficient men to cover the three days' load shifts. These men are working a full shift every day of the year in eluding Sundays and holidays Considering the amount that is tied up in our equipment and the responsibility these men have to bear I say without hesitation that we are asking too much I would suggest in the event that we engage the services of a man who in addition to holding the required steam engineer's papers has had electrical training This will release our chief engineer and enable him to exercise a general supervision of our utilities without which we can not hope to obtain the full benefit from them. In this manner we will also be able to relieve each of the engineers on holidays without extra expense to the Town.

With respect to public works I wish the Council to consider immediately the advisability of commencing a policy of permanent sidewalk construction The lighting of plank on gravel base, and, I think, been clearly demonstrated Sidewalks on which we are still paying debenture have at their disappeared, to present a menace to pedestrians I am of the opinion that tar sand walks are the most economical and effective By using a cinder or gravel base, and edging the walks with creosoted two by six plank I believe the cost will be very little more than plank construction, but the durability much greater, and infinitely more satisfactory. I would suggest that a by-law to raise the necessary funds be prepared immediately and submitted to the ratepayers for their approval This work should be undertaken at the earliest possible moment as the need for employment is great and the work could be done more economically now than later in the year.

These are the main features of 1931 operation With reference to affairs in general I wish to again impress you with the necessity of economy in current expenses. Conditions are such that the burden of taxation must be made as light as possible. The business tax, which was forced upon last Year by an amendment to the Act after our rates had been set, has already been reduced slightly below that of 1929 On account of poor collections of taxes for the years 1929 and 1930 I cannot hold out much hope for a reduction in the general rate, but it must, at least, be held at its present figure.

W. A FALLOW, Mayor

VERMILION SCHOOL SUCCESSFUL FAIR

Boy and Girl Students Make Good Showing with Exhibits

Vermilion school of agriculture was a hive of great activity on Saturday when the students vied with each other in an exhibition of their practical work at the annual Little Royal classes in the handling and fitting of livestock and in blacksmithing and carpentry work were put on by the boys while the girls competed in cooking, millinery and needlework. H. A. Craig, deputy minister of agriculture and Prof. J. F. Sackville head of the animal husbandry department of the University of Alberta were the judges in the boys' classes Mrs. Kinnear and Mrs. Bell of Vermilion, both domestic instructors, were the judges in the girls' classes.

Splendid weather enabled many visitors from the district to attend the fair, at which the exhibits were well standing. A remarkable class of year ling bulls from the farm herd of Bill our shorthorn was perhaps the feature of the day The explanatory work of the judges was much appreciated by students and general public alike

How Legal In Saskatchewan To Make Will Without Presence Of Witnesses

It will be legal in future for any person in Saskatchewan to make a holograph will, that is, a will wholly in his or her own handwriting and without the presence of witnesses being required.

This important change in the law of wills was made in the legislature only after a strenuous fight when the new Wills Act was in committee stage In the end a standing vote was called, the members dividing 21 to 20 against a motion by T. C. Davis, K.C., Liberal member for Prince Albert and former attorney-general, that the particular clause should be struck out.

Land Area Changes Constantly

Government Surveys Show Earth Is Very Restless

The land area of the world is constantly going places, folding and unfolding and behaving, after a fashion, like a restless person.

For instance, the Lake Superior region is slowly tilting southeastward, Southern Denmark is sinking; the Baltic coasts of Sweden and Russia are lifting, islands rise and disappear in the volcanic South Pacific Ocean, rivers carry countless tons of material to the sea, but land still exists.

Furthermore, Point Fayes lighthouse, just above the Golden Gate of San Francisco Bay, has moved 16 feet north in 30 years, according to Government surveys; Point Arena is seven feet south of its former latitude, and the position of Mt. Hamilton, the site of Lick Observatory, has changed nearly five feet southeast.

Canada's Wheat Yield

Total Yield For 1930 Placed At 397,872,000 Bushels

In a final estimate of the wheat production of Canada in 1930, the Canadian Government Bureau of Statistics places the total yield at 397,872,000 bushels, an increase of over 2,000,000 bushels compared with the previous estimate. Of the total yield, 374,500,000 bushels were produced in the three Prairie Provinces, Manitoba producing 45,276,000 bushels; Saskatchewan, 196,222,000, and Alberta, 122,900,000. In other grains these three provinces also produced 394,011,000 bushels of oats; 109,486,000 bushels of barley; 20,641,000 bushels of rye and 4,283,000 bushels of flaxseed.

Three Questions For Germany To Answer

And Which Could Very Well Be Asked All Nations

Viscount Cecil of Chelwood, British delegate to the League of Nations preparatory disarmament commission in Geneva recently, put three questions on peace and war to the German people in the newspaper "Soersen Courier." They were:

"Are you willing to let your young men, after attending school or passing at home, get killed or mutilated in a coming war because several nations fight out their rivalry with weapons?

"Secondly, are you satisfied that the nations spend over $10,000,000 daily for armaments, while at the same time millions of families sink into deep poverty and unemployment, and elementary needs of national social, religious and educational character suffer enormously?

"Thirdly, are you willing to see to it that international disputes are settled by your government in a peaceful way, that your government adhere to a policy of co-operation in the interest of all nations, and that money will not be senselessly wasted?"

Aerial Progress In North

Extension Of Transport Facilities By Fleet Of 'Planes

One of the outstanding developments in the North is the progress being made in aerial transportation. With the inauguration of the mail service, the extension of transport facilities by the fleets of 'planes of the three mineral companies operating in the far northwest, known for moving prospectors and supplies to different fields; and the increasingly important part played by the Royal Canadian Air Force in aerial surveying and transporting government officials and supplies, the aeroplane in the North has become a common means of travel. In one day recently as many as twelve 'planes were seen at one of the posts along the Mackenzie River system.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

FEBRUARY 22

JESUS BEARING THE GOOD TIDINGS

Golden Text: "He went about through cities and villages, preaching and bringing the good tidings of the Kingdom of God."—Luke 8.1.

Lesson: Luke 8.

Devotional Reading: Isaiah 61.1-3, 10, 11.

Explanations and Comments

The Great Missionary, verse 1.—It came to pass soon afterwards—Luke gives no definite information as to the time—that Jesus went through cities and villages, a great Missionary accompanied by His twelve disciples, and everywhere He preached and brought good tidings of the Kingdom of God.

The Ministry Of Women, verses 2, 3.—Certain women whom Jesus had healed were also in the company, and among them was Mary Magdalene, probably so called because she was from Magdala, a village on the western shore of the Lake of Galilee, and Joanna the wife of Chuza, and Susanna, and many others. These women ministered unto them of their substance, gave their time, their talent and other contributions of Jesus and His disciples. Henceforth His ministry Jesus had not where to lay His head, but was dependent for His support on the kindly ministry of friends and strangers.

The Parable Of the Sower, verses 4-8.—Within but very few days He spoke this Parable of the Sower was doubtless a sower at work in a certain field which descended to the water's edge. Dean Stanley describes such a field: "There was the path where they were running through the midst of it, with no fence or hedge to prevent the seed from falling here or there on either side of it or upon it. Close at hand with the constant tramp of footsteps, was the rocky ledge. There was the good rich soil; there was the rocky ground of the hillside protruding here and there between the fields. There were the large bushes of thorn—the 'bank,' that kind of which tradition says the crown of thorns was woven—springing up in the very midst of the waving wheat."

A sower was sowing seed, is runner the parable. He lived in a hamlet or village, as all the farmers of rural Palestine, and went to his unfenced field after off to sow his seed. Some of it fell on the beaten path which ran through the field and lay there on the hard surface till the birds devoured it. Some of the seed fell on the hillside terrace, underlying rock mass very near the surface; the soil there was shallow and the warmth of the rock made the seed spring up quickly and hot very promising, but the roots of the plant could not strike down deep and avoid the heat of the sun, and therefore the plants quickly withered away Plants from the seed that fell where were thorns were plentiful were overshadowed and starved to death by the more rapidly growing thorns. Some seed there was that fell on good ground, where the soil was rich and deep and free from thorns, and so yielded thirty and sixty and even a hundredfold. "He that hath ears to hear, let him hear"—thus Jesus ended His parable.

A New Era Of Co-Operation Between Canada And U. S. In Air Service Development

A new era of co-operation between Canada and the United States in the development of our services began when plans for the inauguration of new passenger and air mail lines were announced at Ottawa. The announcement came following a conference between P. T. Cochran, assistant deputy postmaster-general of Canada and W. Irving Glover, assistant postmaster-general of the United States.

If the decisions reached by the two postal officials are approved by their respective governments, Canada will have a regular air service from coast to coast linked up at important points with the trans-continental air lines of the United States. In addition a north and south line from Alaska to Florida is contemplated.

The speeding up of trans-Atlantic mail services was also discussed, but on this point the negotiators have left our two countries are quite distinct. Canada will effect a saving of 48 hours in the present standard service of ten days to shoe Sights, while the United States is planning an all-air route to Europe from New York via Bermuda, the Azores, Lisbon, Portugal and through France to England.

The first link in an air line which will traverse the entire length and width of North America from Miami, Florida, to Alaska, will be inaugurated shortly. It will run from Calgary to Miami and it will be possible to travel from one of the two cities in two hours, a saving of 90 hours over present methods of communication. Eventually it is hoped to extend the route from Calgary north and eastward into Alaska by way of Fort McMurray and thence into Asia.

The first step in the new service has been taken with the definite decision to put into effect an aerial link between Winnipeg and St. Paul-Minneapolis.

While the details of the Winnipeg-St. Paul schedule were being worked out the officials were also discussing the more ambitious scheme to develop a route from Calgary, through Fort McMurray into Alaska, and thence into Asia. It was agreed that unless Canada and the United States joined in the development of the Asiatic route, a few years might see serious competition from Russia in that region. Russia is making considerable strides in aviation, Mr. Glover said, and 22,000 miles of flying is being done in that country daily.

Three years are regarded by the officials as sufficient time to bring the Asiatic service into being. In the meantime definite progress is being made. Mr. Cochran said, to set up aerial communication routes from Calgary to Vancouver. The routes through the Rockies was not, he said, regarded as particularly difficult. As soon as communication is established to the coast by air, new links between Canada and the United States would be made at Lethbridge, Alta., and Vancouver. The Lethbridge link will be to Great Falls, Montana, while the western reunion of the United States system will be contacted at Seattle from Vancouver.

The flights arranged between Winnipeg and St. Paul will complete the aerial chain between the prairies and the east. Mail for eastern Canada will be carried over United States air lines to Detroit and will there resume Canadian territory. Whether the schedule has not been definitely settled, Mr. Cochran said that mail from Calgary would reach Montreal in 60 hours, a saving of 36 hours. A saving of 40 hours would be effected in mail for Toronto.

This Complex Life

Man, With All His Ingenuity, Cannot Solve Romantic Problem

Man can take a drop of blood and tell the story of the owner's death by the discovery of the presence of a minute particle of poison-ous gas; man can circle the earth without touching the ground; man can talk with other men twenty miles away; man can weigh the stars of Heaven; man can drag oil from the bowels of the earth; man can compel us by waterfall to cook his meals a hundred miles from the stream; man can print a million newspapers in an hour; man can breed the seeds out of oranges; man can coax a hen to lay three hundred and sixty-five eggs in a year; man can persuade dogs to smoke pipes and less lions to play guitars. Man, in other words, is quite an ingenious and remarkable package of physical and mental machinery.

When this astonishing person, however, is confronted with one problem, he retires, defeated, to his hut. He can't get his own without money, and six loaves of bread belonging to men who cannot use it, are worth more than all the gold in the Bank of England. He can't make a suit of clothes unless he has the skin of a sheep and can be put in possession of the six surplus coats and two hats which are then! It is then that man attends conferences, and appoints committees and sub-committees, and makes speeches and cries out that a crisis is upon him, and does a deal of talking, and writes a lot of articles, defeated, to his hut, leaving in the shivering twilight the tableaux of the old Mammoth hunter and the unapproachable loaves The Western Producer.

Canadian Farm Loan Board

About Seven Million Dollars Disbursed On 91 Farmers In Six Months

At the end of the present fiscal year, March 31st next, when the organization will have been functioning a little less than two years, the Canadian Farm Loan Board will have disbursed nearly $7,000,000 in loans to farmers in six provinces of the Dominion, according to Dr. J. G. Rutherford Lean, chairman of the Board. Up to the present the average loan has been a little over $7,000 and it is pointed out by Dr. McLean that back of the $4,425,000 loaned up to the end of September, the Government has securities in the form of lands and buildings valued at about $16,000,000

Loss Wheat In Britain

The British ministry of agriculture reports that England's wheat production for 1930 was 71,494,000 hundredweight, which is 4,000,000 hundredweight or 1½ per cent less than last year's crop. Virtually all grain production was shown to be under last year's figures with barley dropping 28 per cent and oats 12.

Problem Which Faces Television Engineers

Time That Skyscrapers May Interfere With Broadcasting

Looking ahead to television, the radio engineers are beginning to wonder what effect the New York skyscrapers are going to have on the images. They are fearful that a face in crossing Manhattan Island may lose its identity by having the nose absorbed by the Empire State Building; it might lose the top of the head or the chin when the wave flashes it through the Chrysler tower, or it might never appear again after entering one of the big buildings.

When this astonishing person, however, is confronted with one problem, he retires, defeated, to his hut. He can't get his own without money, and six loaves of bread belonging to men who cannot use it, are worth more than all the gold in the Bank of England. Eskimo Maid Is Crowned Beauty Of Arctic Circle

Enoosiak, 24-year-old brunette, is the reigning beauty of the Arctic. Andrew Brown, the big face and figure man of the north, selected this seven-year, brown-skinned Eskimo girl from an entry of two dozen. in the first beauty contest ever held inside the Arctic circle.

From Baker Lake, little trading post on Chesterfield Inlet, just a thousand miles north of Winnipeg, came word of Enoosiak's triumph. "Shining Star," her name means and proudly, for the first time in her life, she can survey her prize-winning features. A mirror was her reward, the first she has ever owned.

Brown, who organized the contest, declares Enoosiak the most beautiful Eskimo lady he has ever seen. She lives not far from Baker Lake.

Return to Ottawa of Lawrence F. Kindt, of the economics branch of the Department of Agriculture, marks completion of the field work in the economic survey of the sheep ranching industry in Western Canada which is being carried out in co-operation with the experimental farms branch.

Mr. Kindt has visited ranches in southwestern Saskatchewan, Alberta and the interior of British Columbia. Complete records were obtained from 160 representative ranching outfits for the year 1929 and 14 for the current year.

The real work of the survey — the studying of facts and figures secured by observation and contact in the field and preparing conclusions from them - will now start and it will take two or three months to carry out the phases.

In this regard, it was important that the country keep abreast of the times

The estimated age of the earth has been growing at a shocking rate ever since geology became a science. In 1890, John Phillips placed the age of the globe at 38,000,000 to 96,000,000 years. Twenty years ago his biggest figure had been considerably enlarged by geologists. But the end was not yet. Radium was discovered and science began inflicting further senility upon Mother Earth. The latest estimate of time since a passing star tore the surface of the earth from the crust of the sun is 2,000,000,000 years. This figure used by astronomers is now substantiated by Prof. Alois F Kovarik, of the Yale physics department. Prof Kovarik's measurements of the constant disintegration of radium elements in a piece of uranite indicates an age of 1,842,000,000 years

Many biological "time clocks" have been used to estimate the longevity of this planet. One favorite measuring stick is the rock strata that are exposed in such gorges as the Grand Canyon of the Colorado The degree of evolution attained by fossils found in zones of these strata also furnishes a clue. But the accurate rock formation is frequently broken, and it is impossible to determine how much time has elapsed between the formation of successive layers Geology postulates that most of the earth's surface has been under the sea a number of times, and it is probable that some millions of years would elapse from one inundation to another.

For measurement of recent time the study of erosion is useful. For example, the average level of the United States is being lowered at the rate of one foot in about 7,500 years. On this basis it is estimated that 15,000,000 years would be required to make the continent to sea level by erosion if the upheavals by which mountains are made were stopped

The layman is not much interested in these figures, or in the technical processes by which they are worked out. But he may find some comfort in the fact that the earth is not a recent creation, and that its present form will probably be modified but little in the next million years. Whether or not how long life has been on the earth, but, of course, the life of man is only an infinitesimal span compared with the length of time since this sphere came into being The important thing seems to be that man now is on the scene, is determined to stick with the old globe as long as it continues spinning. —Washegh a Post.

Juveniles Lose To Lloydminster

Borderites Triumph in Saturday Night's Game 3 to 2

In a sparkling hockey fixture here last Saturday night the Lloydminster Juveniles humbled the local youngsters 3 goals to 2. The game was a brilliant exhibition, the first period in particular being outstanding. The visitors were a better crew than the locals and used their weight to advantage, being particularly hard checkers and were back-checking fiends. Two distinct styles of hockey were displayed. Lloyd depending more on following the puck right into the zone and smooth accurate passing it through the defence by long shots, and depending thus on picking up rebounds for their goals, while the local forwards returned almost to their own blue line and their three being of the clean-cut variety; Stan Waldenberger deflected a high shot into his own net with his hand for their second counter, but these things will happen. In contrast with these were the Vermilion goals which were Ken Cowan and Jimmy White who tallied the most scientific rag counter seen here in a decade. Ken broke up his park pace with a back-checkers and defence and rushed the puckie by passing to White who in and around into an easy one for a goal in the third period to tie the score again. Fred Britnal-combs grabbed Waldenberger's rebound and shot the puckie like a veteran and made the score 3-2

The game was marred somewhat early in the second period by the Lloydminster puckie, "Muddy" Bob Sander, catching a screaming shot by Stan over his right eye and he was laid him out for 10 minutes and off for the rest of the game. Cliff Gates donned the pads and turned in a steady game for the visitors. The crowd is getting to expect sensational performances from Cliff and he is surely a smooth working goalie.

The score ran 1-1, 2-1, 2-2 and 3-2, anybody's game and either team could have won on the night's play. What the visitors lacked in team play they made up in aggression and speed

The line ups: Lloydminster—Bob Sander Spooner and Fairey. Rose. Stan Waldenberger, Tendeck Peterson and Gate.

Vermilion — Powell Waldenberger and G. Britnal-combs, Engdeh Cowan, White, F. Britnal-combs Munro and Craig.

In the first game of hockey, water polo and fancy diving, the College boys found their batting eyes at last and ran in six goals on the Elks who were weakened by the absence of Jack Mackenzie who declares he is "out" of civic league hockey. The Elks fought back valiantly, and the most exciting part of the game was the last ten minutes. The final score read 6-3 Scrahn got 4 goals (again 1 and 2 assists, and Burch 1 for the College, while H Craig got two and Munro one for the Elks Swagatuk and Britnal-combs each got an assist Bill Lamb was also an absentee

Cabaret's Second Defeat

The sticky ice failed to agree with the Cabaret boys and the heavy C N team chalked up a 5-1 win, thereby practically cinching a play-off berth for themselves Tens only the one and design for the team of George Capons Reaubert with two goals and C Berry with one, with Bell assisting accounted for the C N tallies while White and English combined to score the Cabaret's solitary

so so so

Well, boys, the play-off positions are practically decided now The Cabaret are definitely in, while the fate the Elks can do now is to win the C.N.R. for second place, and there are now a lot of "if's" connected with this

Before we forget, the Lloydminster Times hands Calvo a nice bouquet for his exhibition for that town's team last Saturday night. We'll say that he deserved it

The Elks' chances went glimmering when Mackenzie withdrew from active hockey last night. We have a lot of faith in this year's senorita, but think they slipped up just a little by when apportioning players Just notice—the C N R team is composed of experienced players without a youngster on the line-up, while five of the six forwards of the Elks are boys playing their first year of civic league or any kind of hockey. Now they have only two experienced players on the team, Bill Barr and Newt Cooper. The Civic league was formed to develop young players, but why develop them all on one team?

The Lloydminster Community Club's chocolates were carried home by Bill Engdahl, and the pie made by a Vermilion bachelor won by I. Whitcher.

TAR SAND WALKS.

First and second readings were given to a by-law at the last meeting of the council, for the purpose of raising by debenture the sum of $6,000.00 to construct tar sand walks, the rate of interest to be placed at 5½ per cent, repayable in fifteen equal annual instalments. It has been forwarded to the Utilities Committee for authority to submit to the ratepayers in the meantime it is the intention of the council to tour up a large portion of the present plank sidewalks and with the best of the salvaged material, put the remaining sidewalks in a safe condition for pedestrians. The by-law when submitted should receive general approval. It will not affect taxes, as some fifteen of the ratepayers retire this year and the amount of the sidewalk debenture is approximately $600.00 a year, being equal to the good, sufficient to cut one mill off the tax rate.

In the next few years the steam heat debentures will have been retired, cutting off an additional $450.00 Conditions tending to a betterment in the general financial condition of the town and substantial reductions in taxes are gradually approaching. Let the future outlook is most promising.

STEAM HEAT ACCOUNTS ADJUSTED.

From best consumers, who now complained that their accounts for the exceptionally mild weather months of November, December and January were dangerously close to the corresponding months of 1929-30, when real Winter temperatures prevailed, have had their accounts adjusted by a 20 per cent discount which will be deducted from their monthly accounts until the excess is met.

CANADA AND THE PESSIMISTS.

(Daily Express, London, Eng.)

There are no geographical limits to the pessimists. The world is their oyster and there is no close season.

From predicting America's ruin and Australia's bankruptcy they have turned to muttering about Canada's gloomy prospects.

Was anything ever more absurd?

Canada has difficulties—plenty of them—and we are doing nothing to help her amusement them, but Canada needs no pity.

British North America (for it is the world's habit ourselves that the United States has not title-deed to the word "America") is the richest country in the world.

That is the simple, unsentimental fact.

Let us imagine that the natural resources of the Dominion could be divided pro rata among the population. No citizen of any other community would have to challenge the individual wealth in such a basis.

Canada is passing through a depression, but it is from inherent causes. The dumping of Russian grain and the general international dislocation of trade have exacted their toll.

But the glory of Canada's future shines like the sun through the mists. Forward lines all the visions in the wealth of her soil and the virility of her people, the years ahead are laden with treasure.

Here and There

Up to December 15 more grain had been delivered in ships at West Saint John than during the entire month of December, 1929, and this traffic bids fair to exceed that of last season for Mediterranean and other European ports, according to information gathered at Canadian Pacific Railway headquarters. In addition to grain at seaboard, 500,000 bushels were in transit at Montreal, with 2,000,000 bushels coming in daily.

Molders already of two Dominion championships, the first old team of the Canadian Pacific Railway's Toronto freight offices added further laurels to their crown by taking, in face of stiff opposition, the silver challenge shield of the company's eastern lines championship, and a week later journey to Winnipeg, where they captured a third Dominion trophy by defeating Weston Shops, winners of the western lines championship, by 25 points. Winning team was: W. T. Warren, (captain), A. T. Carle, H. Reid, C. W. Ingram, W. J. Turk and C. W. Macey (spare).

By the throwing of a switch in the Saskatoon power house of the Saskatchewan Government Power Commission a new era for many towns in central Saskatchewan was recently introduced. This act marked the energizing of the new high tension power line to Shellbrook and the lighting of the town and of a number of intervening towns by electricity supplied from the central electric station in Saskatoon. About 450 miles of power line of the Shellbrook district is taken are gradually approaching, but the future outlook is most promising.

More than half a million Christmas trees have been shipped from the Province of New Brunswick to points in the United States. COMMUNICATION

(This paper does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by correspondents.)

EDITOR, STANDARD.

Dear Sir,—As a frequent visitor to Vermilion I am surely surprised at the most dilapidated appearance of the majority of dwellings in your most pretentious town. One certainly cannot but be struck at the lack of paint and in fact the surroundings when one strolls around one street and another, and I know of three garden spots that have been ploughed on one hinge for over one year. Broken fences, unpainted pallings and general broken-down appearance of places in front of which you invariably see a car parked. I am sure that if those citizens are made aware of themselves from the habit of seeing a thing so, every day, and getting used to it, and think what an awful eyesore it is to the visitor especially when he drops into a town the size of Vermilion—which is more or less pretentious—and get a hammer and spade, take off their coats and say "Here now, this is going to look different." Just stand on the edge of the sidewalk in front of your house on a bright sunny morning; look at it and see if, deep down in your hearts you are satisfied to the very bonnet, cheerful and pleasing appearance of the habitation you have got. If you are, nothing more need be said.

Yours respectfully,
WELL WISHER.

SOUTH SIDE NOTES

THINGS WE WOULD LIKE TO KNOW

Is it really in the interests of public health to have some 30 acres of pulTeasant vegetable matter within the town limits?

Have you smelt it?

Is it ODORS?

Where do the flies go in the winter time? (Note by the office boy: "I think they come South.")

Why do the weeds grow best in the leaves of the weeds in the field and it is a combine between the guvernment and the nutters of shreen dare and thos sekthur things they has for flies and I can tell you a story.....

the Boss: "That's all right, my lad. Just see if that is the B.M.O. on the 'phone.")

Will there be any reduction in assessment of South Side property this year owing to depreciation on account of the intolerable stench?

How would a car load of Chloride of Lime meet the case? It is not a nice smell, but it is sanitary.

ER FAT IS MELTING FAST AWAY

All over the world Russian Relish is appealing to girls and women who strive for an attractive, fine-formed figure that excites the admiration of men.

Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses.

Every morning take one-half teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast.

No more and do this every morning for "It's the daily dose that takes off the fat." Don't miss a morning.

Kruschen daily means that every particle of poisonous waste matter and harmful acids and gases are expelled from the system.

At the same time the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels are toned up and the pure, fresh blood containing Nature's six life-giving salts is carried to every organ, gland, nerve and fibre of the body, and this is followed by that "Kruschen feeling" of energetic health and vitality that is reflected in bright eyes, clear skin, cheerful vivacity and sparkling health.

For the first time there was a tremor in her voice, and the man narrowed his eyes for a moment. At least, I think it would be wiser for me to go home. But I shall leave a window open. You need only call and I should hear."

"And you will let me know if—if you get word of your wife?"

"Of course. It's not yet midnight, Mrs. Hastings. Will you promise to call if you get nervous, or if the loneliness and anxiety is too much for you?"

He was at the door now, his hand on the knob, and looked down at her with no trace of cynicism in his keen face. It was as if he had thrown aside a mask, as indeed he had, although he was himself unconscious of it.

"Oh!" cried Gay, stretching out her hands impulsively towards you. You are so kind. So—kind!"

He smiled as he took her hands—a weary smile that struck her as very sad. "I think," he said, "that with one exception you are the only woman who ever thought so. The exception was—my mother."

He was gone then, into the night. And three hours later, when the rain had ceased and the first birdsongs were heralding the dawn, Gay stood in the same spot, facing a Nick whose haggard eyes seemed set in walls of unbelievable fatigue. She did not speak because she could not—her mouth was dry, but he stretched out a mud-stained hand and touched her shoulder, drawing her nearer until her cheek felt the rough wetness of his coat. When the words came they were almost incoherent in their breathlessness.

"Gay—if I'd known you were here—waiting—watching—thinking the things you must have thought—it—it would have killed me. I——"

He shook, as if with a chill, and seeing his terrible fatigue she pushed him gently into a chair, but he kept her hand, resting his eyes against it as if they hurt.

"Nick!" she began huskily, "Nick dear, I won't ask you to tell me—anything—now. You must get dry and warm and—and get to bed. You need rest, too. I've been up all night; but—but to know that you're safe—"

Suddenly as if her words brought him new life, he was up, holding her close, as if he would never let her go.

"Oh, Gay," he said brokenly, "you make me without the telling! I am so tired. Trust me . . . Trust me?"

Then his arms relaxed, and he fell in a heap at her feet.

CHAPTER XI.

When the Halliday car drew up to the door in that grey dawn, the woman who alighted bore little resemblance to the radiant creature on whom James Halliday had looked from the depths of a country bank twelve hours before. The chic little hat had lost its jaunty angle; the lovely coat was merely a crumpled thing, and over the smart blue coat was a man's sweater; a grey and shapeless garment that had the lithe lines of the form beneath it.

James Halliday, quick to perceive details at all times, saw at a glance that the man whose steadying hand saved his wife from falling as she stepped on to the pavement, was left her, alone in the silent house.

It was James Halliday who got Nick to bed—who called the doctor—who went out into that damp, cold dawn in the car that had been such deadly work, and brought back a nurse. It was he who roused the faithful Julia from her morning slumber and brought her into Gay's nursery, so that Gay herself could snatch some needed rest.

When at last he went home across the garden, the world was a thing of glory in the morning sunlight. He paused for a moment as he reached the door, as if to take some of its beauty into his starved heart; then, turning quietly he went to his wife's room, and stood there looking down on her peaceful face with a sense of pity.

Halliday nodded.

"Better get home at once. It's not pleasant business waiting like this, you know; and when I left her I thought her nerves were far from steady. That was at midnight. Good-night, Hastings—or rather, good-morning. Thank you for taking care of Mrs. Halliday."

Nick opened a step away, then turned, as if a sudden thought.

"But I must explain——"

"Mrs. Halliday will do that," answered her husband quietly. "You'd better save your explanations for that plucky little woman across the way And get to bed. At once. You need it."

Angela had not spoken. She did not speak even as Nick left them Shivering, she passed her husband and went into the house. A fire was burning on the hearth, and dropp.ng the wet sweater she knelt down, stretching her hands to the blaze; while without a word Halliday went to the kitchen, returning with a steaming glass of lemonade.

"Drink that."

Angela obeyed, making a wry face. "Haven't you something stronger? I'm frozen."

"This will do as well. I've a hot bath ready for you. Better get in as quickly as possible, and then into blankets. I've put them in your bed. If you can't mind, I'll turn in now myself. It's been a hard day.

He moved toward the door, but her voice, a frightened voice, called him back.

"Aren't you going to ask me anything?"

"No. I have lived with you twelve years, Angela, and questions are now unnecessary."

"But this is different."

She had risen, shakily, and was facing him, her hands twisting the once beautiful scarf into a wet ball.

"I—we—we ran over a—a child!"

"You—what?" He was all attention now. "You—killed it?"

"No—but it may die—It would have been—if Nick Hastings hadn't wrenched it quickly one—it was a little girl—she was frightfully hurt. He made me hold her, and she was bloody—bloody! It was more than thirty miles to a hospital. We—speeded—all the way, with that awful child across my knees. It was too horrible. I'm almost dead, and you stand there—doing nothing. . . ."

"Who was driving?"

The question cut Angela Halliday like a knife.

"Have you have no right to ask! Well—I was! There! are you satisfied? He said I was going too fast Does that please you? I saw the child, but to turn aside would have meant ditching the car and killing us both most likely. But he—he saw it too, a second later, and grabbed the wheel. Just as if that wasn't a fool thing to do! But he was too late. We went over her—somewhere. I don't know where. I didn't look at her. It wasn't necessary. He seemed to know what to do."

Angela paused, breathless, but her husband did not speak. His silence maddened her.

"She was only a State ward anyway," she went on hurriedly, "the woman who boarded her was right there. She screamed at a doctor who happened along just then, and he said she'd die—that there wasn't a chance in a thousand. But nothing would part Nick Hastings but to take her to the hospital—forty miles out of our way, and it was beginning to rain! Don't look at me like that! Do you think I've been in a pleasant trip?"

She was shaking violently, while Halliday, still silent, stared at her in the dim light. He himself trembled, too, he said: "You must go up to bed. Go now, or you'll be ill. I——Mark? Was he with you?"

He went to the window; threw it open; and Angela, in a sort of daze, heard him call: "All right. I'll come, and, with no backward glance, he left her, alone in the silent house.

It was not James Halliday who got Nick to bed- who called the doctor—who went out into that damp, cold dawn in the car that had done such deadly work, and brought back a nurse. It was he who roused the faithful Julia from her morning slumber and brought her into Gay's nursery, so that Gay herself could snatch some needed rest.

Figures Are Appalling

Interest Alone On Britain's War Debt To States Runs Into Millions

Miss Ellen C. Wilkinson, British Labor M.P., has been speaking to audiences in Montreal about the absurdity of the existing war debts. She has characterized the totals reached by these obligations as "positively astronomical figures" for the payment of which no one can ever find a formula. Agreeing with leading Americans who wish to see the debts reduced or cancelled, Miss Wilkinson quoted Winston Churchill as having said that in 1934 the amount of tribute from Europe to America under the present war debts would be equal to the yearly wages of 300,000,000 European labores. The late Lord Birkenhead had commented concerning payments on war debt by Britain to America the interest of which is a million per day—that when the first instalment of the debt was paid Britain would have to borrow money before anything had been paid, and at the end of twenty years would owe more than she owed at first. Such millions more than was owed by Britain before the latter had paid a penny piece. The indictment of these debts are nightmarish in their proportions, and can never be settled. Their existence today is the greatest obstacle to the return of prosperity towards prosperity. What is more, they would have been wiped out long ago if the States of America had accepted Great Britain's offer to cancel Europe's debt to her if the latter would cancel their British debt to the American Republic. Had that proposal been taken up the United States, Britain would have long given debts twice the size of that which she asked the United States to cancel. Had the offer been accepted Washington stood in the way, and the international situation has gone from bad to worse ever since.—Toronto Mail and Empire

Bricks Thirty-Five Hundred Years Old

Used Recently To Build Railway Bridge in Palestine

A railway station, believed to be the world's oldest in point of the method of manufacture of the material from which it is made, has just been completed at Telibilah, Mesopotamia, for the use of the expedition of the Oriental Institute of Chicago, and the American School of Oriental Research at Bagdad.

Work on the Hejaz-Bridebid Railway, almost entirely of brick made more than 3,500 years ago, in the reign of King Abarmuriad, Bridebid, it will be used as a shipping point and storage house for objects found in the excavations at Telibilah.

Parish Minister Proved Himself To Be a Good Fellow

The sporting Scotch squire was anxious to discover if the new parish minister was a good fellow. He asked him to dinner. When the two were seated in the dining room the first course of an elegant repast was a plate of champagne. Mr MacTavish " And the minister replied in a solemn voice: "There's no occasion for champagne," said the squire, "Well, perhaps you will take a glass of Chateau Yquem." "There's no occasion for Chateau Yquem," returned the parson in a glorious voice "Well and the squire, determined on a final effort "would you take a whisky and soda then?" "There's no occasion for the soda," said the parson And all was well

Gat's Divining Rod Finds Old Remains

Archaeologists Are Puzzled By Astonishing Accuracy Of Discoveries

Italian scientists are expressing wonderment over results achieved with a divining rod by a young girl, Maria Matolini of Lepriganne, a small town on the site of the ancient Etruscan city of Capena.

For the last several months the girl has been indicating with astonishing accuracy not only spots where skeletons would be found ten to twenty feet underground, but also the nature of the remains Her latest indications have been checked by scientists, who are unable to explain her powers. A few weeks ago Signorita Matolini's divining rod uncovered the skeleton of an Etruscan woman embedded in tufa rock which archeologists say appeared at the time of burial several thousand years ago. Of special interest to archae-logists is an embroidered fabric all done in fine gold thread

Nebraska Man Through Inquiry Now Homesteading On Valuable Property

Irvin Buckin recently wrote the U.S. Department of the Interior at Washington for information as to what land was available in his section for homesteading. He received a parcel right in the heart of the wheat-raising section of Nebraska. As soon as he had built a shack on the land, ... sheriff went down to order him off. Buckin showed his papers, however, and the sheriff was surprised For a postage stamp Buckin had received a $15,000 strip of land it was estimated.

Little Helps For This Week

"He falleth not"—Zephaniah III. 5.

He who hath lost will find
Who through the wilderness
He who hath fed will feed;
He who hath blessed will bless;
He who hath heard thy cry
Will never cease His ear;
He who hath marked thy faintest sigh
Will not forget thy tear.

He knoweth always faileth never,
He is not Hope's forever
Frances Ridley Havergal.

Hast thou ever found that God hath dealt unfaithfully with thee? Didst thou ever hear that He hath dealt unfaithfully with any other? There is no want of power in Him that He should not be as big as His word; there is no want of love in Him that He should not be as good as His word. We are fleeting and mutable, off and on; today not the same as yesterday; and tomorrow, perhaps, like neither of the days; yet He continueth yesterday, today, and the same forever.—Bishop Sanderson

Big Bonspiel At Kitscoty

One rink of Vermilion curlers is participating in the Kitscoty Spiel which opened this Wednesday afternoon. The rink is composed of Jock Morrison, Ed Sutton, M. McMahon and Douglas Cooper. By Thursday morning they had played two games, losing the first and winning the second.

The bonspiel of the Lloydminster club in their new rink also got under way on Tuesday, but no local entries were made. Rumor has it that the lenay club have reconsidered and intend to stage a curling event too judging from the weather this Thursday, the outlook for the successful completion of bonspiels this week is very good, with the weather turns against the immediate forecast which it isn't in the habit of doing this winter. Rather an inappropriate name, that last word.

Well Known Clandonald Man Dies At Calgary

Sudden Death of Dr. Dooley, V.S.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Dooley of Clandonald received the sad news on Saturday night of the death that day at their home Gerald at Calgary, death being due to a sudden attack of quinsy Dr. Gerald Dooley was well known here, having come to the country five years ago with the family from Ireland, where he had graduated with honors from the Balliedoyle college with the degree of veterinary surgeon; he was a gold medallist. Three years ago he lectured at the Vermilion school of agriculture, and immediately after went to Calgary where he had been connected with an animal infirmary for the last two and a half years. Just a fortnight ago he was home on a short holiday and was apparently i n the best of health. He was just 29 years of age.

The funeral was held on Tuesday, February 17th from the St. Mary's cathedral, Calgary, interment taking place in St. Mary's cemetery. Rev. Fr. Smith conducted the services. He leaves to mourn his loss his parents, brother Jack, and sisters Eunice and Peggy (at home Clandonald), and Mary, Kathleen and Irene in Montreal.

Mr. W. J. Casterton drove the family to Calgary on Sunday morning by car

LLOYDMINSTER ELKS VISIT VERMILION BRETHREN

A large party of Lloydminster Elks visited the Vermilion Lodge on Thursday evening, February 12th, when the regular business meeting was followed by an enjoyable social time.

Those contributing to the musical programme included Messrs. D. H Leonard and J. McGuffie, of Lloydminster, and Messrs. Vic Duncan, A. M. West, P. Williamson and W. B Eliord

The remainder of the evening was taken up with an exciting contest of "curium Botus", the local Elks' latest invention for causing away gloom.

ANOTHER SUCCESSFUL "C" SQUADRON DANCE

"C" Squadron held a very successful Valentine's dance on Friday night, Feb. 13th, and marks the second successful affair of this organization this year. A very nice dancing crowd gathered, and aided by excellent music by the Ursolos a fine time ensued. The hall was nicely decorated for the occasion.

High School Notes

The debaters chosen for the Inter-High School and College debate are Lucille Erwin and Ethel Shields. We wish them the best of luck and may they be successful in keeping the cup at the High School. The debate is on March 6th.

On Tuesday afternoon the High School enjoyed a series of moving pictures shown by the courtesy of the Canadian National Railways. These pictures were highly entertaining as well as educational, and the students joined in giving a hearty handclap to the agents, Mr. McDonnah and Mr. McDougal.

The High School sold tickets for the Illustrated lecture given by Mr. Cameron on Thursday night. The proceeds are for the spring payment on the piano fund which we wish to get together so soon as possible.

The Glee Club have nearly finished their preparation for "The Childhood of Hiawatha," so be prepared for the concert which promises to be a fine one and well worth attending.

Local Men Appointed Commissioners for Oaths

The last edition of The Alberta Gazette contained the names of the following as having been appointed Commissioners for Oaths: Angus Jas. Bismark McLachlan, of Manville. Norman McCullan of Vermilion, and Victor Larsen of Derwent.

BROWNE NOTES

Miss Taylor was our Brown Owl at the last meeting, as Brown Owl was ill with a bad cold. We hope she will soon get better. You can understand by this first statement why the afternoon was spent in games, catching a ball and balancing a book on your head being the chief ones. Then we did some marching, and everybody greatly enjoyed themselves. They were sung.

A Great Company's Diamond Jubilee

Life assurance has now, apparently, reached such a point in public estimation and confidence that it seems comparatively immune from the ordinary vagaries and fluctuations of other lines of business. The Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, whose report appears elsewhere in this issue, seems to enjoy this public confidence to an unusual degree, for it reports new policies written during the year to the hot amount of over $700,000,000, the largest in the company's history of sixty years.

This year it celebrates its diamond jubilee. A graphic picture of its progress is shown in the report which discloses, decade by decade, its growth from assurances in force in 1880 of less than $1,000,000 to over $2,500,000,000 today; and of an accumulation of assets from less than $500,000 in 1880 to nearly $500,000,000 at the present time. Even more striking is the fact that the company has paid to policyholders and beneficiaries since its organization over half a billion dollars —more than its entire assurance in force only ten years ago. This is an most magical and helps to explain the widespread faith of ordinary men in life assurance from the standpoint of investment as well as of family protection.

A most interesting feature of the report relates to the company's investments. The Sun Life has long been a consistent and successful investor in high grade stocks. These securities are valued on the last day of each year by the Canadian Association of Investment Dealers, and the amount by which they exceed the cost of purchase is carried to the credit of profit and loss account. Moreover, the actual cash dividends paid during 1930 on the total common stocks held by the company in the previous year were nearly $1,000,000 in excess of the dividends paid on those identical shares in 1929. Such a satisfactory issue from the sharpest and severest market "break" in this generation is a wonderful vindication of the investment sagacity of the company. The rate of 6.41 per cent. earned on the mean invested assets of the company is a further cause for thrifty satisfaction.

The company announced that the profits to policyholders entitled to participate during the ensuing year will be allotted on the same generous scale as has existed for some time, and the special mortuary dividend which has been so popular will also be continued.

HORSE SHOES

There is some talk going around that Bill Dight roped two young ladies trying their skill at the Fitting Stables horse shoe pitch. Of course Bill had to watch results, and when he saw that they made some ringers he forthwith decided he would have to give more time to practising or he would be left at the bottom of the ladder. Anyway, Bill is willing to coach the ladies form a club to keep their courts in shape He says that this is to be kept separate from the men's club. So get together, ladies.

Vermilion Youngsters Are Defeated at Minburn

The 11 years and under local hockey team journeyed to Minburn last Saturday morning with the intention of showing the boys in the little west town just how the game should be played. After sixty minutes of hockey, however, they found themselves on the learning end also on the short end of a 6-2 score The Standard hasn't been able to get a closer cut of any of the players, so lacks details of the game The players are indebted to Mrs. (Dr.) Clarke and Carman Long for driving them in Minburn.

NEWS FROM ISLAY

Islay People Attend Canadian Picnic At Lac Angelus

Mrs. Stephens and son Elmore Jr. are spending the week-end in Lac Angelus, and Mrs. Leonard Downes and daughter Mildred visited with friends in Edmonton over the week-end.

21st annual Canadian Picnic at Lac Expenditure pass Lac Angelus on 21st February. Everybody required regulars at this picnic, and needless to say practically every portion of Islay and district will be represented.

One of Islay's old time bachelors, Harry Landells and now of Ft. Pitt, Man., was married there on Wednesday. The marriage took place in Whitefish, and they are making their home in Ft. Pitt. Congratulations.

Mrs. Jas. A. Law will attend the W.M.S. convention on the presbytery in Vegreville on Thursday. She goes by car with several of the Vermilion ladies.

Mr. and Mrs. Durand's home was the scene of the weekly Hollycrest party last Friday night, when this usual jolly time was enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Meters of Edmonton spent last week visiting her daughter, Mrs F. E Bunting. She returned to Edmonton on Friday afternoon's train.

Miss Clara Rothwell is visiting Miss Agnes Irving at Cummings for a few days this week. Interesting with the ladies curling trip to Kitscoty on Friday night last.

The program of the Trimbleville district held a very successful whist drive and dance in the school last Friday night. Prize winners at whist were Miss McIlouth first and Esther Coons 2nd, and Marcel Dupuit men's first, Percy Colley second.

The bridge club held its regular weekly bridge at Mrs Knapp's last week

Will Muir spent a few days this week with relatives, the Rothwell family, west of Manville.

The "Little Rose" entertained several of visitors to the Vermilion Agricultural college last Saturday. The ladies didn't quite do the dinners justice, but everybody had a good time. Of course people attended the Valentine's dance on the Armories on Friday night at Vermilion

Mrs. Jas. A. Law and Mrs. Meters of Edmonton motored to Lac La Biche on Tuesday.

Mr. Mills is having a gigantic rush sale and judging from appearances last Saturday, a multitude stock. The big bulls limited at the standard after the listings of remittance bargains.

Two rinks of Islay curlers are playing in the bonspiel at Kitscoty this week. The water-cloud and weather the trains are being played at night only. The local skips entered are Messrs H Barnes and Shaw.

ASSETS, AT DECEMBER 31st, 1930 - -	$388,733,000

In a year in which all classes of business have encountered many difficulties, the Company has made gratifying progress. New policies paid for show an increase of $51,227,652.52, both the ordinary and group departments making substantial gains.

Insurance in force shows an increase of $462,464,542.58. This gain represents a very high rate of persistency, indicating the high value placed by our policyholders on their connection with the Company in a period of extreme financial unrest.

The number of policies and group assurance certificates outstanding passed the million mark during the year.

The total net income shows an increase of $15,804,144.54.

The total payments to policyholders and beneficiaries since organization . . . equal the total amounts in force in the Company's fiftieth year (ten years ago).

The mortality among our policyholders has been highly favourable.

The rate of interest earned on the mean invested assets was 6.44 per cent.

Profits paid to policyholders during the year amounted to $25,641,231.04.

In a year of almost unprecedented business depression the outstanding quality of the investments has been strikingly shown. The actual cash dividends received on the total common stocks held by the Company were $969,103.84 in excess of the dividends payable on those identical shares in 1929. . . . Even on the basis of the low prices at the close of the year our common stock holdings show a substantial excess of market value over cost.

Profits to policyholders entailed to participate during the ensuing year will be again allotted on the scale at present in operation.

The special Mortality Dividend is also continued on the basis announced last year.

ISLAY MERCHANT HOLDING PRICE CRASHING SALE

J. E. Miller's Store Is Full of Real Bargains

The biggest sale ever held in the village of Islay commences this Friday morning when J. E. Miller's cash raising sale begins. Mr. Miller hopes to sell $5,000 worth of general merchandise and to do this has knocked prices down to a very low level, so low in fact that they make the farmer think a bushel of wheat has some value after all The Standard has printed two full sheet posters which are literally crammed with bargains, and every person in the district should see that they get one of these and also their share of the bargains at Miller's store.

PARLIAMENT TO OPEN AT OTTAWA MARCH 12

Inaugurated in 1926 in answer to the demands of rapidly increasing travel between Montreal and Boston, the "Red Wing", fast rushing Canadian Pacific night express between the two cities will have forty minutes cut from its schedule on and after January 11, leaving Montreal forty minutes later than before but arriving at Boston at the same time as on the former schedule. The train will leave the Windsor station, Montreal, at 9.45 instead of 8.15 as heretofore. The "Red Wing" is an all-steel train with all equipment of the latest type.

Appointment as of W. R. Patterson, to be deputy general auditor, Canadian Pacific Railway, is announced by E. E. Lloyd, Comptroller of the railway He is successor in his late position at auditor of disbursements, by Charles B. Gordon. Mr. Patterson is one of the youngest men holding important offices in the Canadian Pacific Railway, having been appointed auditor of disbursements four years ago at the age of 36. Mr Gordon was comptroller of the Kettle Valley Railway in British Columbia, prior to his new appointment

A motor cycle and side car carrying two men and towing a man on skis made the entire circuit of Lake Louise December 28 when at nearly 6,000 feet altitude it rounded around an unconquered track at a speed of 30 miles an hour. This is the first time in history that a motor cycle has been on Lake Louise, the first motor cycle ski-joring that has ever been attempted. The first time a motor cycle has travelled under its own power from Laggan Station to Lake Louise on the depth of winter

On the stroke of midnight of December 31st last one of the most remarkable railroad careers in the Maritime Provinces ended with the retirement of Charles H. Hooper, dean of Canadian Pacific Railway conductors. Mr Henderson became a conductor with this railway and the C P R. December 31. He has been in charge of the trains of three successive presidents of the Canadian Pacific.

The "Corn Belt" of North America has in the last few years slowly pushed its way north and today many parts of the prairie provinces of Canada are producing corn of different varieties and of high quality. At the 20th corn show under the auspices of the Saskatchewan Corn Growers Association, one of the finest exhibits of corn in the history of western Canada was on display.

A recent official report states that over 55 000 lbs of the eight-armed octopus were caught in 1930 and over 25 000 lbs in 1929 The fish is eaten chiefly by Orientals in British Columbia and brings between five and ten cents a pound on the market. The catch is the incidental product of other fishing operations.

Governments And The People

In times like the present governments as well as individuals are hard pressed to make ends meet and to secure the necessary revenues to carry on the public services. In some respects the problems which confront governments at such a time are even more difficult than those which face the individual. This, however, is something few people are prepared to admit. Inasmuch as governments necessarily involve the business of all individual citizens, instead of one or two only, it is well that people generally should understand and so appreciate some of the difficulties which confront them in their endeavor to expand, fearlessly and prudentially, at the present time.

The old fallacy still seems to stick in the minds of many people that governments can always find money; that if more is needed at any time, or in any emergency, it can easily be obtained; that there is, indeed, no better way to the public purse, no limit to a government's borrowing powers. And this misconception on the part of so many people lies at the root of many of our taxation problems!

When "hard times" come upon us, crops fail, business slackens, unemployment ensues, prices fall below costs of production, products cannot be sold at any price, people turn to governments to help them out,—that is, if they would only realize it, they turn to themselves. But they seem to forget, or conveniently ignore the fact that their own loss of earning, consuming, and tax paying power immediately reduces their governments' revenues, and tax paying power immediately reduces their governments' revenues, and then of the revenues so curtailed to meet the increased demands the people would place upon them.

Government revenues drop because, through unemployment or inability to sell the product at a profit, people are unable to pay taxes, and because, of necessity, they must consume less and make fewer purchases other sources of government income are dried up or greatly reduced. But it is at just such times when governments are least able to spend money,—because they have not got it,—people demand that they spend more money than before and then provide work; they demand direct cash grants in relief to tide them over the bad times; in a word, they insist that governments shall help them, not ignoring the fact that collectively they are in the same position as they are individually.—therefore, governments are in the difficulty in themselves.

Governments, of course, can borrow money,—up to a certain limit. But every dollar borrowed mortgages the future. It must be repaid some time, or, in the alternative, interest must be paid for all time to come. Once the normal requirements are met made the source of future borrowings drive up. And every dollar required to pay interest, is a dollar less available for current government requirements.

Examine the present situation. Revenues of Provincial governments throughout Canada are falling They have less money to spend, and greater demands made upon them than ever before. From the Atlantic to the Pacific every Provincial Treasurer has the same story to tell, large deficits upon the previous year's operations. They must secure larger revenues or enormously decrease expenditure. Such revenues can only be obtained by increased taxation at a time when people cannot pay present taxes, increased expenditures, except at a time when people cannot pay present taxes, increased expenditures, except at a time when people cannot pay present taxes, increased expenditures, except

VALENTINE PARTY
HELD AT CREELMAN

Creelman school was the scene of a delightful Valentine party on Friday afternoon given by the teacher Miss Leontine Verrean and her pupils in entertain the parents.

The fact that it was Friday the 13th did not suppress the cheery spirit of St. Valentine that everyone seemed to bring with them. Neither did it "hoodoo" the either, for the little tasties made progress came through mostly clear and strong—from under the teacher's desk.

The Valentine hunt and stunts which followed was quite an interesting novelty and when the pennants were brought the mail there were valentines for young and old that caused much merriment. The surprise came when instead of valentines for Mrs. Hans Verrean presented each child with a pretty and useful gift.

Everyone was in a gay mood to enjoy the lunch and treats which was served, with its hearts of many colors and tastes. At the close of the party a hearty vote of appreciation was given by the parents to the charming hostess and her pupils for the pleasant afternoon.

Morrison district had a successful whist drive and dance in the school last Wednesday evening. The admission was only ten cents, hence everybody was there and Columbia theme prevailed.

The bridge club met at Mrs H. Gilchrist's last Thursday evening when Miss V. Clement was hostess. Prize winners were Miss Powell and Mrs. Miller

Lidden Buchanan's home was the scene of a jolly party last Friday evening when a large number of friends in the district gathered and tripped in. A most enjoyable evening was spent at games, a short program, and dancing.

Miss Jean Fyie and members of Linarthney literary society will be bridge hostesses at the college on the first Saturday in March.—Edmonton Journal.

Mr. and Mrs. Rye visited their daughter Mrs. (Dr.) Knapp over last week end. They were accompanied by their son Irving.

The sale of Mr. J. Warner and Mr A Brown, north east of town on Tuesday attracted a big crowd and was very successful. Some most of them aged, drew from $30 to $60, and cows brought from $60 to $90.

The sympathy of the whole community goes out to Mrs. Day and her daughter Peggy in their and bereavement owing to the very sudden death of Mr. Day early this week.

Islay rinks fared very well at the Kitscoty bspiel which was wound up last Friday. The following prizes were won by them: H Barnes, 1st in the Merchants, J. Casey 2nd in the Grand Challenge and 3rd in the Merchants, and J Shaw 2nd in the Consolation.

W.A. of United Church Meet

The United church W.A. met at the home of Mrs. Hugh Gilchrist with Mrs Lane, the president, in the chair Mr. Barnett had charge of the devotional part and Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. Beetwell the correspondence. There was a very pleasing turn-out and plans were made to hold a St. Patrick's social on March 17th in the church There will be more particulars of the social later.

LITTLE THEATRE CLUB TO PRESENT "BARBA-ROSSA OF BARBARY"

Musical Comedy in Two Acts At Columbia March 16th

The Little Theatre Club will make their initial bow to a Vermilion audience in the Columbia theatre on Monday, March 16th in "Barbarossa of Barbary" a musical comedy in two acts.

Besides featuring the best vocal and dramatic talent in Vermilion, a number of our coming artists will make their first appearance in a series of rousing chorus numbers during the play—making sense where there appears to be only nonsense, and although the story will not be responsible for your approval an evening of correct music and hilarious fun for the first time since the Vermilion orchestra will accompany the play throughout. These artists are all local boys and are a credit to our town.

The object of the Little Theatre Club is to raise funds for charity purposes and every dollar earned will be applied to that end. The whole-hearted support of the community should, therefore, be given to this worthy cause.

Altogether, now! Let's go!

Josie, little nine year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stepaniuk, town, passed away at the family home shortly after six o'clock last evening, Wednesday. Sometime on Tuesday, Feb 10th, it would seem from what can be learned, that the child met with an accident on the public school steps about which there seems to be little information. She remained at home complaining of pains in her head and a few days after received medical attention; later she was removed to the hospital and finally became unconscious. Tuesday morning. It is understood, the little girl was taken home where she died last night Much sympathy is felt for the family in their very sad bereavement.

Juveniles Play At Edmonton To-night

Second Game Will Be Played Here Saturday at 9 P.M.

The Juveniles, for the past two years the town's pride and chief hope in the field of hockey, are playing this evening (Thursday) at Varsity rink, Edmonton, in the first round of the juvenile play-downs for the provincial title. The Juveniles will have no time to find their feet before going against the best in the province, being pitted against the Edmonton Cat.-dales, champions for the past two years. A real battle was given them last year, the best game being played here when the Edmonton boys were held to a 3-1 victory. The team is making the trip by car and went up Wednesday afternoon. They are minus the services of Hugh Craig, sturdy rather right winger, and Jack English is just up from an attack of the 'Flu. Cliff Gaiss, who was to make the trip as sub. goalie, will be pulled up to centre forward on the second string and Fred Brimacombe, the only right header, will be moved over to right wing.

All the boys will probably be in shape for the return game here on Saturday at 9 p.m., so that it will be a set-to that no one should miss for their own sake. The stores are closing at 9 p.m. to support the game and a tremendous crowd will be on hand.

The following are the draws for the provincial play-downs in the Juvenile section of the Alberta Hockey Association as announced by Secretary Geo. Lynch:

First round—No. 1, Blairmore vs. Hillcrest; No. 2, Calgary vs. Red Deer, No. 3, Edmonton vs. Vermilion.

First round to be completed by Feb 28; second round by March 7; final round by March 14.

The series consists of two games with total goals scored deciding the winners.

By the time this is in the hands of the public the result of the first game at Edmonton should be well known

Large Outfit Of Harness Stolen

Theft of the complete outfit of harnesses owned by W. G. Peacheywell known farmer and councillor of the Islay district, was discovered this morning. Two sets and additional pieces including the halters tied to the stalls were also taken. The harnesses were carried across field a quarter of a mile to where an auto had been parked The value of the equipment was over three hundred dollars. Police are investigating but there is no clue to work on.

PROF. OTTEWELL TO ADDRESS VERSATILE CLUB W. S. A. FRIDAY EVENING

Prof. A. E. Ottewell of the University of Alberta, Edmonton, will address the Versatile Club of the Vermilion School of Agriculture on Friday this week at 6:45 p.m. in the main building of the school. The subject of Prof. Ottewell's address is, "Unemployment." All who are interested are invited to attend. A small charge of 15c is being made to help defray expenses of the speaker

Record Entry Set At Poultry Show

Five Hundred Birds Exhibited

The seventh annual poultry show of the Vermilion agricultural society was held Wednesday, February 25th in the Mackenzie building. The show made a multitude of new records, chief among them being the tremendous exhibit of exceptionally high quality birds of every variety and breed. Over 500 birds were exhibited with an entry list of just under 500; this is almost some 125 entries made in the show in 1930. Steel coops were secured from Lloydminster, which is to a great extent the wonder ones Alberta used

The outstanding exhibits were shown in chief interest among them were probably those of T. Keut and Sons of Marwayne who had two pens of birds in their exhibit which had been sent in the World's Poultry Congress held in Crystal Palace, England, last July. The birds were two hens. Rose Comb Buff Brown Leghorns, and a pen of two hens and cockerel of Rose Comb Buff Orpington. This serves to show the quality of poultry on display here

Another interesting feature, from the point of amusement, was the half ban and half wild duck shown by Mrs J. C. Wallington of Whitewave.

The officials of the poultry show have just cause to be proud of the effort this year and should be congratulated on the manner in which it was run. The Standard expects to have a full report and list of prize winners in next week's issue.

Interesting Lecture On Early Days

The lecture given last Thursday evening in the assembly hall of the high school by W. B Cameron on the Indian life of the early days of Western Canada was both interesting and instructive in the extreme. The matter of a very few years when the aborigines of this country will have passed out and it is only then that Mr. Cameron that the future historian will be indebted for what information he may judge that will be extant of the life led by those people Mr. Cameron devoted a portion of his lecture to the subject of the Indian and Prince which obtains from the North saskatchewan to the Mexican border. Two people could not on a race course be more completely without any saving a word. Mr Cameron appeared to have quite a mastery of this mysterious language the chief of which is best to be the measure of Four Lake was dealt with by the speaker and a vivid picture of the Indian camp was given. As well as pictures of many of the characters that were active in the life of that settlement at that time. Mr. Cameron's review of the life at those days was most interesting and time and again he paid tribute to the remarkable character of the Indian chiefs that ruled the country. The fact that Mr Cameron is an old resident of Vermilion and the author of several books on scenes surrounding the Riel rebellion and the early days of the western country made his lecture doubly interesting.

FRIENDS HONOR OLD TIMERS AT CUMMINGS

The home of Mr and Mrs. Geo H Stone, Cummings, was the scene of a very gay affair on Saturday evening last, the occasion being the 50th anniversary of their wedding, when some thirty friends gave them a surprise party. Both Mr. and Mrs. Stone are old timers of the Heatherdale district and their spacious home was put at the disposal of the uninvited guests A very happy evening was spent in games and music

Just before lunch was served, several of Cummings' charming young ladies brought in their trained dogs, on leashes, and put them through their stunts. Incidentally it should be mentioned that the trained dogs were prominent young men of the district and seemed well broken to leading a canine After a delightful repast, the happy evening was brought to a close by all singing "For they are jolly good fellows," and several hearty cheers the and all expressed the wish that both Mr and Mrs Stone would enjoy many more years of happy married life.

Britain's Naval Program

Dropping Away Behind France and Italy, Which Causes Alarm

Indications that the Labor Government is becoming concerned over the naval construction programs of other powers were again forthcoming from Rt. Hon. A. V. Alexander, first lord of the admiralty, in a speech at Newcastle England.

"We have pleaded for disarmament," the first lord said. "I think you can go too quickly in this matter unless you can get other countries in Europe to go as quickly as you do. You will find a steady decrease in our naval expenditures, and a steady rise in almost every other country. You begin to ask where it will end."

In the House of Commons a few days ago the first lord pointed out that if Italy and France continued to increase their naval construction programs Great Britain would have a reconsider her own. While the British program, following the ordinary replacement requirements, would show under construction France has 194,644 tons under way, and Italy 100,177 tons.

The British construction program as well under the replacement or new construction that Great Britain has largely carry out under the terms of the London Naval Treaty.

When the King Travels

First Class Fare and Payment For Royal Train Is Collected

Most people believe that the royal train is the property of the King and that he and the other members of the Royal Family travel free. That is not the case. Each of the four railway groups maintains a train for the special use of the King and Queen, and when it is in commission the King pays 12s. 6d. a mile in addition to first-class fare for all the royal party and the members of the suite and the household who accompany them. The royal train is fitted with every imaginable contrivance for comfort. The color scheme of the interior includes much gold and white. Polished teak double doors open on to a square vestibule which leads to the King's smoking room. The furniture of this room is in handsome mahogany upholstered in apple-green Morocco leather. Next to the smoking room is the day compartment, which the King usually comes to her. Maybe he did come. We do not know. But through the long years that have elapsed Tom has been watching. Say Horror Will Follow Removal Of Skeleton at Orillia, Ontario

"There will be horror in Orillia, you will see." These are the ominous words of Indians on the Rama Reserve, near there, following the removal of the ancient skeleton shortly after its discovery by workmen. The skeleton, the Indians claim, was that of a romantically-buried Indian girl, and its discovery was followed by a further find of a male skeleton within a few feet of the first.

"She was a maiden who lost her lover in war," the Indians say. "She died a maiden and she was buried away from her people, alone in a hill, so that her lover might come to her. Maybe he did come. We do not know. But through the long years that have elapsed Tom has been watching. That window would make the Manitou alone would have been break up her home, disturb her grave. SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JESUS SEEKING FORTH SINNERS

Golden Text: "The harvest indeed is plenteous, but the laborers are few; pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that He send forth laborers into His harvest."—Luke 10:2.

Lesson: Luke 9:1 to 10:24.

Devotional Reading: Romans 10. 9b-15.

Explanations and Comments

The Seventy Sent On a Mission, 10:1-3.—As Jesus had sent out the twelve on a special mission tour (9:1-6), so He now sent out seventy others. The Lord reads, "Now the Lord appointed seventy others"; but the appointment was for a special service, not as in the case of The Twelve, for permanent work. Jesus sent these men out in companies of two, for mutual help and companionship, and bade them go into the cities which His Himself was planning to visit after their preliminary work.

The Counsels Given the Seventy, 10:4.—These men were to travel light; they were to take with them no purse, no wallet, no shoes, they were to have no money in their girdles, which was customary, Jesus sent a purse, and no provisions in their wallets, which they carried in a basket (the Greek word translated "wallet" may also mean "begging bag"). Jesus did not want His messengers to beg their way from "village to village." If your good-will is refused, you, at least, shall not lose it, Jesus said to them, for you shall be men who were to represent Him in the villages:

Annual Meeting Grizzly Bear

The ratepayers of Grizzly Bear Municipal District No. 453 held their annual general meeting in the Canton school on Saturday, 21 February, the fine weather and good roads bringing out a large number of cars and trucks with a record attendance that crowded the school to its capacity and cars standing room only for the last comers Reeve Shane was nominated chairman of the meeting and called on the secretary to read the minutes of previous annual meeting, these being at once adopted. The financial statement was then submitted and gone over in detail, numerous questions being replied to before the statement on motion of F. Nash and J. Ainley, was adopted.

Mr J. Stenson, the district trustee for Isley Municipal Hospital, Mr. G Chesterman for Walsingtit hospital, and Mr. R. C. Symes for Vermilion hospital addressed the meeting, submitting figures as to the finances and to the work done by their respective institutions during the past year Statements submitted were agreed to, and the speakers thanked.

On the motion of A. G. Cowley and G Cowley the meeting approved of having at least four set dates for council meetings throughout the year these meetings to be held as near as likely to suit the council. Mr J. A Isley asked particulars as to the large amount of sickness and fever, and ep health matters, and details as to these matters were submitted A good deal of discussion took place regarding request of Geo. Cowley that council provide a road giving access to school and market from his neighborhood. Alternative locations were proposed and discussion was warm and lengthy but always in good spirit.

The three hospital trustees were again elected by acclamation, and Mr. Shane was returned as councillor for Div 1. For Div. 2 there were nominated D. Gardiner, Alex Nichol, Geo. Nokes and G. Walters and for Div. 6 P. J. D. Carmichael and John Wylie were proposed. Election in these divisions will be held on the 27th.

A vote of thanks to the chairman concluded a very hearty and interesting meeting at 4:40 p.m.

Car Overturns on Highway West

William Davis, en route to Vermilion from Edmonton on the Sunday evening, had his car run off the highway just four miles west of town. The car turned completely over in the ditch, lit on its wheels again and climbed the bank back onto the highway at a perilous angle and turned over, nearly blocking the highway completely. Considerable damage was done the car, a new Ford, while the driver escaped with a shaking up. He had no explanation for the accident other than "it just happened."

Vermilion Valley M.D. Annual Meeting Held At Isley

The annual ratepayers' meeting of the municipal district of Vermilion Valley was held in the Union school, Isley, on Saturday, Feb. 21st. The meeting was well attended and great interest shown in the various questions discussed. All the councillors were present.

The meeting opened by Returning Officer Searle calling for resolutions to appoint a chairman. It was moved by Wm. Telford, seconded by H. W. Brown and carried, that Mr. H. B. Evans occupy the chair. The first business taken up was the reading of the minutes of the last annual meeting held in Vermilion Feb. 16th, 1930 and confirming the same. The auditor's annual statement for 1930 was then read by the secretary-treasurer, H. W. Brown. The statement was well received and many items discussed and questions asked and answered. One notable feature was a short impromptu address by Mr. Wm. Telford. Commending the council for their careful and wise handling of the questions that have come before them. Mr. Telford also spoke of the aims and objects of the Vermilion agricultural society, and thanked the ratepayers for their support in the past and expressed the hope that they would be able to continue this support for this year.

The annual statement was accepted on motion of Messrs. Hugh Carey and Harry Elliott.

At 2 o'clock H. A. Searle took charge and called for nominations for the council to represent Divisions 1, 3 and 5. This resulted in Mr. Neil McPhadden, Div. 1; Mr. Geo. E. Shepherd, Div. 3 and Mr. Arthur Lord, Div. 5, being returned by acclamation.

At about 5 o'clock the meeting adjourned, the motion to this effect being made by Mr. W. H. Gordon and Mr. Wm. Telford.

Meeting in Division 4

A meeting of the ratepayers of Div. 4 was held in the North Vermilion church, Saturday, Feb. 14th. This meeting was called by Councillor Dalton McPhee to discuss the municipal affairs of the division. The chair was occupied by W. J. Casterton and the meeting was fairly well attended. The auditor's financial statement was read by the secretary-treasurer, H. W. Brown, and various items of interest were discussed and questions answered. Mr. McPhee then addressed the ratepayers on the year's work, illustrating the work done by a map of the district. A resolution of confidence in the councillor's judgment was passed unanimously and the meeting adjourned.

Mr. Telford also spoke of the aims and objects of the Vermilion agricultural society, and thanked the ratepayers for their support in the past and expressed the hope that they would be able to continue this support for this year.

The annual statement was accepted on motion of Messrs. Hugh Carey and Harry Elliott.

At 2 o'clock H. A. Searle took charge and called for nominations for the council to represent Divisions 1, 3 and 5. This resulted in Mr. Neil McPhadden, Div. 1; Mr. Geo. E. Shepherd, Div. 3 and Mr. Arthur Lord, Div. 5, being returned by acclamation.

At about 5 o'clock the meeting adjourned, the motion to this effect being made by Mr. W. H. Gordon and Mr. Wm. Telford.

Meeting in Division 4

A meeting of the ratepayers of Div. 4 was held in the North Vermilion church, Saturday, Feb. 14th. This meeting was called by Councillor Dalton McPhee to discuss the municipal affairs of the division. The chair was occupied by W. J. Casterton and the meeting was fairly well attended. The auditor's financial statement was read by the secretary-treasurer, H. W. Brown, and various items of interest were discussed and questions answered. Mr. McPhee then addressed the ratepayers on the year's work, illustrating the work done by a map of the district. A resolution of confidence in the councillor's judgment was passed unanimously and the meeting adjourned.

Shots from the Blue Line

—BY "SHOT"—

The C. N. R. downed the fighting Collegians last night in the only game of the Civic league. While the Collegs boys had more than half the play they reverted to weakness around the goal again, while the C.N. boys made every chance count. Clarence Barr scored two unassisted and McKenzie tallied on a pass from Burns, while Lamb got one and Ogston the other for the Aggies. Manager Barr refereed the game. Marwood Brimacombe substituted for Gates in the C.N. goal and made a nice job of it.

The play-offs are now cinched. Either the Cubsers or the C.N.R. will possess the Wiebe cup until next winter.

George Rossbeck was absent three seasons last night and Ogston hobbled himself into a tie with George for scoring honors.

The Cubsers will play the Elks on Monday night in the postponed game and the final league games will be played next Wednesday night in a double header.

We understand that Manson Barr will line up with the Elks next week. This is a popular move and shows good sportsmanship. The crowd will like to see Manson in action again.

GIRL GUIDE NOTES

With the Rangers

The following officers were elected in the Ranger group of Guides:

Hon. President — Mrs. Whitby
Hon. Vice-President — Mrs. Jansen
Ranger Leader — Lillian Miller
Secretary — Emogene Smith
Treasurer — Dorothy Firth
Keeper of the Log — Jessie Philipkowski.

Head of Handicraft — Martha Rite
Chairman of Games Committee — Nellie Brownet

Convener of Entertainment Committee — Hilson Ayling.

The Rangers have begun making layettes for the babies at the hospital and plan to assist that institution in every way they can.

At the meeting Tuesday evening, Mrs. McQuarrie gave a very fine demonstration of dainty hand-made articles and showed us how to make them.

High School Notes

The literary meeting has been postponed to next Wednesday. We hope to have a fine program arranged by that time.

WEDNESDAY EVENING

A very interesting meeting of the "Mission to Lepers" was held at the home of Mrs. MacKinnon on Wednesday evening, Feb. 25th by the United Women's Missionary Societies of the Anglican, Presbyterian and United churches. Solos by Mrs. Brownell, Mrs. H. N. Stephens and Mrs. Malcolm were very much appreciated and readings by Mrs. McComas, Mrs. Nunn, Mrs. Whitby and Miss Fraser of the work done in the leper colonies in India most instructive. Collection amounted to $33.76.

To those who are not familiar with the above organization it may be stated it is an international and interdenominational movement, and any who wish to contribute to this cause may hand their subscription to Mrs. McComas, Mrs. H. N. Stephens, or Mrs. J. W. G. Morrison.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Malcolm; Treasurer, Mrs. McComas, Magazine Secretary, Miss Fraser; "Pete Dash" Secretary, Mrs J. D. Stephens; Secretary, Mrs. H. F. Long.

THAT HOME BABY

The funeral of Joan Anne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. East, was held in Dewberry on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. A large number of friends and neighbors gathered at the United church where the Rev. Hawkins conducted the service. Joan was stricken with bronchial pneumonitis some 3 weeks ago and taken to Isley hospital where everything possible was done to save the young life, although there was very little hope from the first. She passedaway early Saturday morning, leaving a very sorrowful father and mother, and an older brother and 8 months-old sister. Joan was a little lover 4 years when she died.

The many beautiful offerings of flowers was sent by friends and neighbors of the district, also from Father, Mother & Family, Uncle and Aunt Nellie and Dora East and several others.

Funeral directions were in the hands of J. Warton, Vermilion, but owing to his recent serious illness he was unable to attend in person, arrangements being efficiently carried out by his staff. The sympathy of the whole district is extended to the sorrowing family in their sad bereavement.

CLOSING EXERCISES VERMILION SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE

The winter's course at the School of Agriculture is rapidly drawing to a close, and the graduation exercises of this year's class will be held on the evening of March 31st.

The work of the various departments will be on display during the afternoon of March 31st. These will include exhibits from the Cooking, Sewing, Laundry, Household Administration, Legume Culture, Carpentry and Blacksmithing departments. The final fashion show will be held when the creations from the Sewing department will be exhibited in a Fashion Parade. The afternoon time table will be as follows:

2:00 P.M.—All exhibits open for inspection.

2 to 4 P.M.—Fashion Show;

4 to 5 P.M.—Exhibits again open for inspection.

The exhibits in the main dormitory will be on display at certain times in the evening until 11 P.M.

The evening functions will begin with a banquet at 6:30. This will be for the graduating class, and their parents and a few invited guests. The number will naturally be limited to the capacity of the dining room When all are seated at the tables the dormitory doors will be locked. Vermilion, Alta., Feb. 26, 1931.

Mr. Editor,

In a recent issue of your paper, I noticed in your Editorials an article telling the people of Vermilion and district why the Government decided not to build the much talked of Inns in the river bottom adjacent to the town

One of the chief reasons given was to the effect that the land owners in the district interested in the lands which would have been flooded, suddenly raised the price of their lands so as to make the project prohibitive. I am one of the interested land owners and I bought the land which would have been flooded at a price of $10.00 per acre. I was just as anxious to see this lake formed as any resident of the Town of Vermilion, but was not even approached in see what I would take for my land, and for the information of the general public I want to say that I was very willing to accept just what this land cost me

I have also talked with some of my neighbors and would have been interested by this project, and I cannot find one with whom the price was demanded

I would ask you to publish this, Mr. Editor, as I do not wish to appear to be a party to the building up of this fiasco, as it had my blessing from the start

Thanking you.

Yours truly,

A LANDOWNER.

GOVERNMENT ANALYST GIVES REPORT ON ALBERTA BEERS

Quality is Better than Pre-War

Rumors have reached us regarding the Quality, of Alberta Beers and in order to settle the question, samples were taken out of Distributors Ltd. stock and sent to Dr. James A. Kelso, Provincial Analyst, University of Alberta. The following four questions were asked of Dr. Kelso:—

(1) Is the Beer sufficiently matured?

(2) How does it compare in quality with the Alberta Beer analysed by you in pre-war days?

(3) Is the Beer wholesome in every way and free from all foreign substances?

(4) What comments have you to make on the keeping qualities of the Beer submitted?

THESE QUESTIONS WERE ANSWERED BY DR. KELSO AS FOLLOWS:

(1) All samples are, in my opinion, sufficiently matured.

(2) In my opinion all of the Beers are of better quality than pre-war product, which was often cloudy. Beers tested by me during past year are much more uniform in strength, extract, etc., than those before the war.

(3) I would consider the Beers wholesome in every way and free from deterious constituents.

(4) Judging from the forcing test all samples of bottle goods tested are efficiently pasteurized. The freezing test shows the Beer of satisfactory keeping qualities, with proper diminution in such proteins as are thrown out of solution by low temperatures. The draft Beer, not being pasteurized, could not be subjected to forcing or freezing test, and I consider samples of such Beer properly matured and of satisfactory keeping qualities if kept under correct conditions.

"The bottle Liquors, with exception of the Porter and Stout were given a forcing and freezing test. This is done by keeping the Beer at temperature of 90 to 100 degrees for one week, then freezing solid and thawing in chipped ice. In all the samples there was neither cloudiness or any sediment, tests showing perfectly clear."

The original report is on file at Distributors Ltd., head office, Calgary, and is open to public inspection. Space only prevents us from publishing the report in detail.

$5.00 Rebate On Auto Licenses

Province Will Send Out Money, No Need to Write About It

Every person in the province who has taken out a 1931 auto license will receive a $5 rebate within the next two months.

In all cases about by reason of the straight $5 reduction in auto license announced in Provincial Treasurer Hon. R. G. Reid's Budget speech in the legislature Friday.

Not even an application for the refund is necessary and no unnecessary correspondence will be entered into regarding the matter The staff of the department of provincial secretary's office is now working at once the mailing of rebate checks and this is expected will take some two months to complete

Approximately 22,000 motorists will benefit from the reduction this being the number who already have taken out their 1931 licenses

Income tax 1932 is concerned, license plates will be issued in the usual way at 5 less "per each" than at the beginning of the present year.

HORSE SHOES

The first horse-shoe tournament of the season was held at Dave's Filling station. There were 16 entries, and Gilbert Brimacombe and Jimmy Cameron won first prize, while Dave Kennedy and Walter Robinson got second. There will be another tournament on Saturday, Feb. 28th in which it is hoped to see a bigger list of entries, so all come along There will be some valuable prizes given

"RINGERS"

Ed Chesnick and Ernie Schurman were the winners of the "booby" prize.

K. B McKenzie and Sammy Draganiuk looked like a strong team. They were beaten the first game. K. B. claims he did not want it, anyway.

A Story of Fifty Years

"Montreal February 16 Fifty years ago today incorporation of the Canadian Pacific Railway took place. George Stephen afterwards Lord Mount Stephen, was the principal shareholder. The company deposited with the Imperial Government at Ottawa, a cheque for $1 000 000 as a guarantee that it would fulfill its contract to complete the railway by the Pacific Coast. The pledge was completed in the years instead of the ten the contract called for."

This brief but significant news despatch appeared in the daily newspapers of Canada on February 16 last. It recalls an historic incident, a milestone in the history not only of Canada but of the world. It not only carries the mind back, but, because of all that has followed grand distances, it inevitably forces the mind forward to a contemplation of what the next fifty years may unfold. It impresses one with the tremendous developments and consolidation of a span of only fifty years.

Fifty years ago the project of a transcontinental railway across Canada was viewed with scepticism by thinkers in Canada, and was regarded as the maddest kind of a venture in Great Britain. Men prominent in public affairs declared it would never earn its axle grease. The country it was to traverse was a wilderness partly desert incapable of successful cultivation, and well covered by white men, followed by miles of snow capped mountain peaks and ranges.

That success rather than failure followed the great undertaking can be credited to a few outstanding men, men who were veritable giants in energy, resource, and grim unbeatable determination. In some respects they were ruthless, their methods were not always above suspicion, but they had a vision and a driving force to achieve their goal regardless of any and all obstacles. Individually they staked their all on the success of the enterprise, and realized the word failure from their lexicon, and won "can the world know the result.

The railway made a new nation. It opened up an empire it altered the trade routes of the world it brought the Orient to the five east, and the Occident to the Orient. The enterprise initiated fifty years ago by a new born Dominion of a few millions of people, has amazed the world. It has become the greatest transportation system in the world, with its fixed bonds of steel and glistening and ever changing ribbons of steel extending well into the United States, but with its vessels navigating the seven seas, calling at the ports of all nations, and circumnavigating the globe.

The Canadian Pacific Railway has helped to make Canada what it is. It has made and unmade Canadian Governments The history of the Canadian Pacific is in part the history of modern Canada. The success of the railway has been bound up in the development, the prosperity, the success of this Dominion. The management of the railway has always recognized that fact, and it has been pro-Canadian at all times and in all its policies. It has made mistakes, of course it has been selfish, even dictatorial at times, but it has always been magnificent.

The Canadian Pacific has been created and developed under the presidency of four men, Sir George Stephen later, Lord Mount Stephen; Sir William Van Horne, Sir Thomas later Lord Shaughnessy, and Sir Edward W Beatty The history of the railway may likewise be divided into four periods, or possibly three as the first two merge into one First the period of organization of the company, early financing, and actual construction under Stephen and Van Horne, second ,the period of well organized, highly efficient operation under Shaughnessy with well defined policies of branch line construction as feeders, opening new territory, and the establishment of mercantile fleets and overseas services, third, and coupled with a vigorous continuation of the Shaughnessy policies what may be termed, in the absence of a better word, the diplomatic period under Beatty wherein up-to-date railroading has been strengthened by securing the goodwill, the admiration, the co-operation of the public generally and the elimination of those feelings of suspicion and antagonism which undoubtedly marked the relations of the people and the railway in the earlier days.

And in the story of these fifty years is there not a lesson and an inspiration for the people of Canada? The railway had its periods of difficulty and depression, just as individuals and nations experience them, but it surmounted them The madness of the Canadian Pacific did not shorten their vision by a year or two, or five or ten years, they looked into the future and planned and built with courage and confidence. They have had their reward. So, too, should the Canadian people maintain the forward look, act with courage and decision, remain confident Canada has done great things in the past, it can do greater things in the years to come

When Food SOURS

About two hours after eating many thousands people suffer from sour stomachs. They call it indigestion. It means that the stomach nerves have been over-stimulated. There is excess acid. The way to correct it is with an alkali, which neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

The right way is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia just a tasteless liquid, pleasant, efficient and harmless. Just if little excess acidity. It has been the standard with physicians for more than 50 years.

It is the quick method Results come almost instantly It is the approved method. You will never use another when you know.

Be sure to get genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for over fifty years in correcting excess acids. 50c bottles at any druggists—The genuine is always a liquid It is never made in tablet form Be look for the name 'Phillips' on wrapper and bottle.

A Scientific Wonder

Source Of Cosmic Rays Has Not Been Discovered

Discovery of cosmic rays in sunshine—the same rays that penetrate about 700 feet into earth — is described in advices received at New York from Vienna.

The communication is from Prof. H. Spah, president of the Chemical and Physical Society, and is sent to clear a misunderstanding about the report made recently to the society of Prof. Victor F. Hess, of the University of Graz.

Vienna despatches had it that Professor Hess announced the discovery of cosmic rays and that his talk created a sensation among scientists.

But Prof. Spath points out that Dr. Hess did not claim to have discovered cosmic rays, which were found 18 years ago, but that he had evidence that a small percentage of these rays come from the sun.

Their origin has been one of the great scientific mysteries. The fact that most electroscopes used to detect them encounter them at night as in the day was held by some scientists to eliminate the sun as a source.

VERMILION "MIDGETS" DEFEAT HOCKEY TEAM

A last hockey game was played on the ice at the arena rink here on Saturday morning last when Mac's team defeated Minburn Hockey team to play and a real game of combination. The first goal was scored by Jeff Brimacombe on a lone rush. A few seconds after that, Myers of Minburn got one in the net to tie the score. Ivone Brimacombe got the disc and put it in the corner of the opposition net. Fred Mann worked his way down in front of Minburn's goal when he was checked, but Mac was there on the spot and shot the puck into the net. The last goal was shot in on Dickson by Hughes of Minburn just before the final bell rang, making the score 3-1. Vermilion line-up was:- goal, Art Dickson; defence, F and L. Mann; forwards, G. Brimacombe, M. Brown, Bob Tatham, subs., P. Esparyanzk, D. Brimacombe and Bob Brown.

PERCY WILLIAM DAY

The district of Pleasant Valley was shocked by the news of the death of Percy William Day, who resides on the old Woodruff brothers farm, had passed away in the Islay hospital on Tuesday, Feb. 24th. The deceased suffered a fall from his wagon on Monday 23rd and was found unconscious in his field, no one knowing how long he had been there. He was immediately taken to the house where he was unconscious for an hour; he then regained consciousness and talked for a short time before again lapsing. Medical aid was summoned and Mr. Day taken to the Islay hospital, but he never regained consciousness again, dying on Tuesday, Feb 24th.

Deceased was only 42 years of age and is survived by his wife and one daughter. The funeral will take place from the Pleasant Valley church on Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m. Mr. J Wetzbn has charge of arrangements.

Country Favored By Heavy Snow Fall

Regular Blizzard Rages Tuesday Night and Wednesday

This district, in common with most of Alberta and Saskatchewan, was treated to a heavy snowfall on Tuesday night which continued all Wednesday morning and early afternoon before signs of abatement set in. The snow was accompanied by a high wind, consequently it is piled up in drifts three and four feet deep with an average of about 6 inches on the level This is the heaviest snowfall experienced here for several winters and was hailed with delight after the heavy dust storms of the few days previous to the snow fall. Motor traffic was held up most of Wednesday morning and cars had to watch their step during the afternoon, although many more were in evidence.

The snow was greatly needed, as the lack of it this winter and the high winds of the past week had rendered dried up the soil. Farmers are for still more snow before this storm passes out.

PERCY W. DAY

The funeral of the late Percy W. Day was held on Saturday afternoon last from the Anglican church, Pleasant Valley, a large number of friends and neighbors being in attendance. Service was conducted by the Rev. G. McComas of Vermilion, conciliating with the impressive ceremony of the War Veterans, carried out by members of the local Legion. Mr. Hawkesworth playing the Last Post.

Mr. Day was an imperial soldier, came to this country in 1920 under the Soldier Settlement Board arrangement and took up a farm some 11 miles east of Vermilion. During the past winter he had not been in very good health but continued working until Monday afternoon, when he went out with team and wagon to do some chores about the premises. Almost immediately his wife noticed the team walking alone and, going out, found Mr. Day had fallen and apparently struck his head on the wheel. He died at Islay hospital early Tuesday morning, Feb. 24th, leaving a very sorrowing wife and one child, Peggy, to mourn his loss.

In addition to a beautiful wreath of poppies sent by the Legion, floral offerings were sent by Brother, Sister and surrowing Family; Women's Auxiliary, Pleasant Valley church Mr and Mrs. Geo. Dunster, Dunlea Meat Market; Mr. Coward, Victor and Mrs. Dudley and Rose.

The funeral arrangements were carried out under the direction of Mr J Watts and his staff.

The whole district joins with the Standard in expressing their sincere sympathy to the family in their very sad bereavement.

5,000 FACTS ABOUT CANADA

"The Dominion in a Nutshell" is the arresting subtitle of the widely known annual. "5,000 Facts about Canada," compiled by Frank Yeigh (the recognized authority on the Dominion through his writings and lectures). This is now in its 24th year, now in its 24th year has become indispensible to thousands of Canadians with it in its increasing demand from other countries desiring to learn of Canadian conditions. Fifty chapters, ranging alphabetically from "Agriculture" to the "West" and "Yukon" tell the story of the country's progress in a series of brief, crisp sentences easy to locate and assimilate—so easy that it is both cheering and stimulating. It is extensively used by governments, corporations, colleges and schools and also as a means of selling cars, seeds to people in other lands. It is therefore a most valuable advertisement outside Dominion. Most newsdealers carry it or can easily be had, at $1.25 cents a copy, from The Canadian Facts Pub Co., 344 Huron St., Toronto 5.

Hundreds Ask To Accompany Explorer On Arctic Trip In Submarine

More than 1200 applications have come to Sir Hubert Wilkins from persons who want to go with him on his trip this summer under Arctic ice in a submarine.

Sir Hubert, who has been in New York to examine specially constructed lights which will be the "eyes" of the submarine, said "we have to eliminate those seeking to go only for adventure."

Wilkins said the submarine would begin its voyage from Spitsbergen about July 1 and would cross to the Behring Sea, passing the North Pole in its under-ice trip. A crew of about 20 will be taken in the submarine, Sir Hubert said.

Steady Increase In Coral Research Carried On By Department Of Agriculture

The report of the Dominion Cerealist, L. H. Newman, B.S.A., for 1929, provides a graphic illustration of the steady increase in cereal research by the Dominion Department of Agriculture. In 1916, the total of plots used in investigational work numbered 3,017. In 1921 this had dropped to only 756. Since 1927, however, there has been a steady and rapid expansion in this important work, the total number of plots for 1930 being 15,-915. This report is now available for distribution, contains a wealth of useful information for those interested in cereal grains.

Marvels Of Marine Life

Fish With "Electric" Power Plants Found In Bermuda Waters

Fleet-footed dragons from over a mile beneath the surface of Bermuda's coastal water, all brilliantly illuminated by their own power plants and never before seen by the folk of our world, are some of the marvels of marine life seen by Dr. William Beebe, who recently returned from his latest expedition to the Nonsuch Island. There he and a staff of fourteen men not only dragged the ocean bottom for zoelic specimens of marine life but sought them in a diving bell among the coral reefs.

To obtain close views of the fish inhabiting the deeper blue-black waters, the scientist and his co-worker, Otis Barton, set new record descent of 1,426 feet in a hermatically sealed ball or bathysphere to a point where the pressure on the gauge was approximately 3,100 tons.

A new and marvellous world was opened to the scientist when he descended in the bathysphere, for through his circular window of crystal quartz he saw what had been withheld from the human eye since time began.

Darting all about were a thousand lights burning steadily and clear in the inky blackness. These belonged to the illuminating systems of the resident fishes were trapped in rows like the portholes of a steamship, while others burned from filmy antenna far from the body as the fish sought to attract its prey. All continued their glow until dimmed by the rays of the searchlight shot through the window. Then, the fish, until then unseen, took shape.

The work lasted six and a half months and was exceedingly satisfactory, as invaluable data concerning the life and habits of known fish were obtained and scores of specimens wholly new to science were brought from the sea. On his return to New York, Dr. Beebe brought back 150 cases containing various species of fish found in the Bermuda area.

China has had at least one famine each year for the past 2,000 years.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

MARCH 8

THE GOOD SAMARITAN

Golden Text: "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."—Leviticus 19. 18.

Lesson: Luke 10.25-37.

Devotional Reading: Matthew 5. 38-48.

Explanations and Comments

The Law Of Love To God and Man, verses 25-28.—One time a scribe, or expert student and expounder of Hebrew law, sought to test Jesus by asking him a hard question. "What shall I do to inherit eternal life?" he queried, and by this he meant, What acts, such as feasts and prayers and sacrifices, would have special merit and would therefore be rewarded by life eternal? "What is written in the law? How readest thou?" thus Jesus made him answer his own question. The scribe then quoted from Deuteronomy 6.5 and Leviticus 19.18: "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind (i.e., with all thy powers); and thy neighbor as thyself. That Jesus united the two, love for God and love for one's neighbor, is not surprising, but that the Scribe does so causes one to surmise that it was brought about by some remark of Jesus which is not recorded. "Thou hast answered right: this do, and thou shalt live," said Jesus.

"Oh, runs not thus the lesson thou hast taught?
When life's all love, 'tis life; aught else, 'tis naught."—Lanier.

What it means to love man, the parable that follows explains, but what does it mean to love God? Says Frederick W. Robertson: says that it can mean only one thing: God is Character, and to love God is to love character. For instance, God is Purity, and to be pure is to love God. God is Love, and to love man is to love God. God is Truth, and to live brave, true, real life, that is to love God. So Whittier, in one of his hymns wrote: "I have no consciousness of loving God as a Person, distinct from, apart from His attributes. I have no experience or ecstatic emotions, but I know that I love goodness and mercy, charity and peace; that my soul longs for harmony and moral symmetry; that I would sooner wrong myself than my neighbor; and, at times, the sweet sense of an infinite love overwhelms me and fills me with gratitude and thanksgiving."

Racing Trains To Crossings

Foolhardy Motorists Will Get No Consideration In Japan

In the future the motorist who races trains to crossings will do so at his own risk. He will have no claim on any railway company, public or private, if his temerity ends him as a corpse or he had not expected to take so immediately. The new ruling is a recognition of the fact that there is a law of speed, and that the country will be benefited more by faster train schedules than by accommodating the lives of idiotic race trains to crossings. Taking the Census

Army Of 15,500 To Be Engaged In Huge Undertaking

Three times as many persons will be needed to complete Canada's decennial census this summer as Wolfe had when he stormed the Quebec citadel to annex the country to the British Empire, states R. H. Coats, Dominion statistician. On June 1 next a veritable army of 15,000 men and women will begin enumerating the population of the country, gathering eugenic and racial information on social and economic subjects.

It will be the seventh census since Confederation and will be unique in that unemployment figures will be gathered and information regarding hospitals, asylums and child welfare institutions.

As head of the enumeration and compilation staff, Mr. Coats sought the co-operation of the Canadians, asking that they furnish accurate information when interrogated and expects proceedings as much as possible.

CHAPTER XII.

I'll tell you about it now, Gay, if you'll listen."

It was three weeks later. Nick, dressed for the first time, lay in a lounging chair on the porch, while Gay sat beside him, her usually busy hands idle in her lap—her eyes on the babies at play in the sand pile beneath the trees.

"Sure you feel like talking?" she questioned.

"I'll explode if I don't talk! The way you've bullied me into keeping my mouth shut there's no need for it to say, and you must have been thinking such abominable things of me —"

Gay laughed.

"I never thought anything abominable at all—that is," she added hoarsely, "after the first minute when Julie told me that you and Mrs. Halliday had gone alone."

"What did you think then, Gay?" She reached for his hand, as if to atonement for her disloyalty.

"For just a second, Nick, I wondered if you'd deserted me. And then I was ashamed, horribly ashamed to have had such a thought. I knew almost at once that there was some mistake something you'd explain when you got home. Even when the whole night passed without you, I didn't distrust you again. I told Mr. Halliday that no harm would come to his wife through you."

Nick kissed her hand. His voice was husky when he said: "I wonder how many wives would give a man the benefit of the doubt at such a time."

"But there was no doubt, Nick, after that first moment. Would you have doubted me?"

He smiled.

"My dear, I wouldn't doubt you if you were gone a week! But that's different. Look here! I want to tell you everything. Of course I didn't misrepresent things, Gay. It was just as I said over the phone. Halliday went to Buston Friday morning, and that afternoon his wife called me up at the bank and asked if I'd dine there. He didn't say he was away, but I suppose I'd have gone in any case. The idea of needing a chaperone didn't strike me. It doesn't yet. If Halliday were alone and you asked him to dine some night when I were out, do you suppose I'd mind? Her asking me was just a neighborly thing to do.

"After dinner she sang, and I tell you, Gay, it was some treat! She sang a lot of the old songs my mother used to sing — Schubert, and Meindelssohn, and some Irish ballads; and ended with that Gypsy thing she sang the night you cried. Do you remember?"

Gay nodded. Would she ever forget? And Nick went on: "We talked a while after that, and she asked about the road to Mason's Falls — she was an expected friends for the weekend, and wanted to take them on a good trip. I wondered a little that she should have company at such a time For all my Gypsy instincts, dear, I'm a Puritan in certain ways. I think she felt my disapproval, for she made a sort of explanation."

Nick paused a moment, then went on quietly: "Gay, I'm sorry for that little touch of temper. Of course I didn't see her again till Sunday. I was at the Maxwell's Saturday, Jerry called up at noon said she'd motored over to Silver Line and wanted if I'd hike with her up Hopper Mountain, and go back to supper there. She was just home and with the news of you and the kiddies I had a lonely time, and stayed till nearly eleven."

"But how did you happen to go Mason's Falls if Mrs. Halliday's friends didn't come? I thought she was taking the trip on their account."

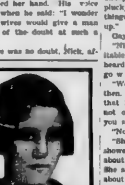
"She was, but she had everything ready, lunch and all, when the message came. I could see she was disappointed, and so was I. When she asked if it would hore me to go with her alone—and if you'd disapprove, well, I suppose I jumped at the chance. I thought we'd be back by five at the very latest, and knew that you'd be the last one to object. It never occurred to me that Halliday would mind—I mean, mind her going alone with me; and it did seem foolish to give up the trip at that late hour, so we went." His face altered suddenly. "I wish to God we hadn't."

Gay sat still for a moment, then said: "Nick do you remember stopping at a railroad crossing while a freight went by?"

His eyes widened with surprise "Why—how did you know? I remember because it was there we ran into a funeral, a rather large one, with only one shabby buck. For a moment I feared it would bring things back to Mrs. Halliday and make her sad; but it didn't. She thought it rather a joke on us to run into a hearse when we were off a-pleasuring."

"Gay!"

His voice was reproachful, and she laughed, though the laugh was trem-



Daughter Is Stronger Now

whatever to do with it," he affirmed sternly. "I'm not ill-mind before these eyes, no fellow with any red blood in his veins would be; but I knew another pair of eyes will see. I've told you all about those hundreds of times. They're the most beautiful eyes in the world. Now are you satisfied? It was the road that rattled me, Gay. I suppose it always will. And I remembered your making me promise not to tell you. If you'll trust me, dear, I don't believe if I hadn't known you were coming so soon, that the road would have called at all, compared with the call of my precious family. But you were coming, and it seemed a chance to satisfy my curiosity and to do a kindness to a neighbor at the same time. So—I telephoned."

"I am terribly disappointed," Gay admitted.

"I know you were. It made me feel like a slacker when you were leaving; and yet, I didn't think I was unreasonable."

"You weren't, of course I'm just too silly about you, Nick."

He smiled and said: "Keep on that way, my darling."

"Have you forgotten your story?" she reminded him after a minute.

"I had, for the time being. When after getting up with his shortcomings for four long years, a man's wife confesses that she's silly about him, it goes to his head. And I suppose all this time you're wondering about those guests of Mrs. Halliday's. The truth is, they disappointed her and didn't see her again till Sunday. I was at the Maxwell's Saturday, Jerry called up at noon said she'd motored over to Silver Line and wanted if I'd hike with her up Hopper Mountain, and go back to supper there. She was just home and with the news of you and the kiddies I had a lonely time, and stayed till nearly eleven."

Wagner Festival

Toscanini Will Conduct Performances Of Tannhauser At Bayreuth

Toscanini, Furtwengler and Elmendorff will be conductors at this year's Wagner Festival to be held at Bayreuth This will be the second year in succession that this honour has gone to Toscanini

Born in Parma, Italy, in 1867, Artur Toscanini has had a brilliant musical career He first made early training at Milan Conservatory and in the year 1886 was appointed to the orchestra of the Metropolitan Opera House in New York which position he retained until 1891

To the Scala, Milan, he returned for the festival last year, conducting was a revelation, and unequivocally marked the faith of Toscanini in the heritage of the master. It is that faith which he will bring to Bayreuth after getting up with his shortcomings for four long years, a man's wife confesses that she's silly about him, it goes to his head. And I suppose all this time you're wondering about those guests of Mrs. Halliday's. The truth is, they disappointed her and didn't see her again till Sunday. WORLD DAY OF PRAYER OBSERVED AT LAIRONT

A splendid meeting with over sixty present was held in Lamont United church on Friday, Feb. 20th to observe the world day of prayer. Mrs. A. E. Archer, president of the W.M.S. in Lamont, occupied the chair, while Mrs P. K. McRae and Mrs. A. Buchanan had charge of the programme. Mrs. A. D. Richards, provincial secretary for C.G.I.T. groups, addressed the meeting, stressing that missions must be an important part in our work, to be more sympathetic to others in unions where girls were wanting their health. We, as C.G.I.T., cherish our health. Are the teen age girls getting a missionary training? We must go forward in the great cause with the same interest and enthusiasm, so that the "darkness may become light" to a greater number.

Appreciation for Mrs. Richards' address being expressed by Mrs. McRae, a social hour followed.

Local Boys Hold Champs To 1-0 Win

Packed Arena Witnesses Close Game Saturday Night

The Edmonton Canadians, for two successive years Alberta Intermediate champions, took the second game of the home and home series here Saturday night after a hectic battle and great contest by a one to zero score. This gives them the round by a 5-0 count on the local team, greatly weakened by sickness, lost the first game at the Varsity rink, Edmonton, on Monday by 4-0. The local team were in much better shape on Saturday and gave the provincial champs, the battle of their career.

The game was witnessed by some 650 fans, all of whom seemed highly pleased at the display given by Jack Markland's locals. The visiting team from Edmonton team to a 1-0 victory is no mean feat and on the play either team might have won on their merits. The Edmonton outfit have the advantage of a good schedule of regular league games under their belts, then they are graduates of the Edmonton midget leagues, so have all the advantage in speed. This accounts for their smoother team work.

The first period was productive of fast hockey with both goals having narrow escapes. The visitors were getting in closer for their shots, while the locals seemed to be content to rush down with long range shots. Cousins was particularly good in his shooting and gave the goalkeeper some anxious moments. Both custodians played sensational games.

Early in the second frame Colville, centre ice man for Edmonton, attempted to bore thru the local defence, he was checked but the loose puck was snapped up by Smith, visiting defence, who skipped it into the corner of the net from close in, giving Barney no chance to save.

The third period is decidedly local time and Arnett was called on to save time and again, the last two minutes he handled shots from all directions, but mostly of the long variety. In this period White and Cowan were benched, leaving three men in five; in spite of this Jack Ensgith seemed to dominate the play and almost scored a goal.

The visitors were a smoother team. Arnett the goalie, being the only outstanding man, while Waldenberger and English played heavy hockey, and Powell came through with some beautiful stops, chiefly when the visitors had worked right through the defence. All the boys played dandy hockey and Barney Stanley, visitors' coach and well known hockey star, refereed over them greatly.

A. E. Williams refereed the game and neither attempted rough play or offsides escaped his well-known eagle eye.

The hockey fans of the town and district have Jack MacKenzie and his juveniles to thank for the best game seen here this winter and hope that some light to a greater number.

Appreciation for Mrs. Richards' address being expressed by Mrs. McKeen, a social hour followed.

"Barbarous of Barbary," Columbus Theatre, Monday evening March 16th. Vermilion orchestra makes its bow to the public.

W. M. S. VERMILION

PRESBYTERIAL CONVENE IN VERMILION FEB. 19

The executive and delegates of the W.M.S of Vermilion Presbyterial met in the Vermilion United church on Thursday, Feb. 19th. The devotional service led by Mrs. Rogers of Lloydminster opened the morning session. Mrs. C. W. W. Ross presided, this session being devoted to reports, appointment of committees, discussions and problems of the different auxiliaries. The afternoon session opened at 1:30 p.m., Vermilion W.M.S. having charge of the devotional exercises. A very interesting letter was read by Mrs. A. E. Archer of Lamont from Miss Ada Landell, now stationed in China. Miss Landell was a graduate of Lamont hospital and is loved by all. The message she sent, with a plea for someone to get ready to take her place as superintendent of hospital and nurses when she has her furlough in 1932, will not, it is hoped, be in vain.

Mrs. A. D. Richards of Edmonton gave a very inspiring talk on "What it means to the C.G.I.T. groups to be affiliated with the W.M.S." First, to be affiliated is to be better understood; second, for a sympathetic knowledge of life and to be all as sisters together; third, to talk to the women of the Women's Missionary Society for their growth of vision. Mrs. Richards closed with a reading, "If only a woman could lead." Mrs. Jenkins and Mrs. R. Ferguson sang solos that were much appreciated.

In the evening the delegates were welcomed by Rev. R. H. Irving of Vermilion. A very impressive was the ceremony of the installation of officers, also by Rev. Irving. The beautiful solo by Mrs. Cheel and solo by Mrs. Lang was greatly enjoyed, also a reading by Mrs. McGill.

The closing address of the evening was a report of her attendance at the fifth Inomission Board meeting in Montreal last year, Mrs. Bickerton touched briefly on the different missionaries she had met, and the value of such consecrated lives as Dr. Macmillan's to the Indians, Dr. McKellar has just retired after forty years of faithful service as a missionary in Tabu. Then to read her to knowing how India has come forward. When Dr. McKellar first went out to India, there were only seventy saved there are 250. This is surely a great

FIRST GAME 4-0

Playing under too great difficulties, the local juveniles were defeated to the tune of 4-0 by the Edmonton Canadians on Saturday night by Barney Stanley's Canadians in the first of a home and home series for the secondary section championship and the right to continue in the play-downs. The local team was disorganized due to sickness, Jack English and Jimmie White getting up from attacks of the flu to play the game. The Canadians scored two in the first and two in the second. That the team was below strength was amply demonstrated on Saturday here when the strong visitors were held to a 1-0 win.

Scoring Summary
Vermilion—Powell, G. Brimacombe, Waldenberger; English, Carson, and White. Forwards, Cousins, Arnett, Fallow
Canadians—Arnett; Gillies, Waller, Colville, A. Mahoney, Smith, Thompson, H. Mahoney, Collins.

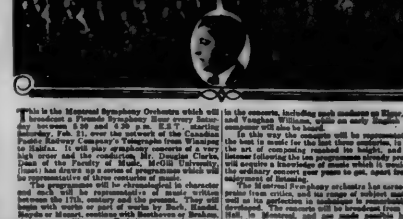
Montreal Symphony Orchestra On Air



This is the Montreal Symphony Orchestra which will broadcast a Symphony Hour every Sunday afternoon from 3.30 and 4.30 p. m. E.S.T. starting next Sunday, Feb. 21, over the network of the Canadian National Railways Company's Telegraphs from Montreal to Halifax. It will play symphony concerts of a very high order and the conductor, Mr. Douglas Clarke, Dean of the Faculty of Music, McGill University, [illegible] has drawn up a series of programmes which will be representative of three centuries of music.

The programmes will be chronological in character and each will be representative of music written between the 17th, century and the present. They will begin with works or part of works by Bach, Handel, Haydn or Mozart, continue with Beethoven or Brahms, then go on to Wagner or Tschaikowsky, and conclude with the moderns. English composers will be prominent in the concerts, including such moderns as Elgar, Holst and Vaughan Williams, while an early English Tudor composer will also be heard.

In this way the concerts will be representative of the best in music for the last three centuries, while the art of composing reached its height, and every interval following the last programme already projected will acquire a knowledge of music which it could have formed only with the aid of the radio and by the enjoyment of listening.

The Montreal Symphony orchestra has earned high praise from critics, and as range of subject matter as well as its perfection in technique is remarkable, will begin with works or part of works by Bach, Handel, Haydn or Mozart, continue with Beethoven or Brahms, then go on to Wagner or Tschaikowsky, and conclude with the moderns. English composers will be prominent in the concerts, including such moderns as Elgar, Holst and Vaughan Williams, while an early English Tudor composer will also be heard.

In this way the concerts will be representative of the best in music for the last three centuries, while the art of composing reached its height, and every interval following the last programme already projected will acquire a knowledge of music which it could have formed only with the aid of the radio and by the enjoyment of listening.

The Montreal Symphony orchestra has earned high praise from critics, and as range of subject matter as well as its perfection in technique is remarkable, will be developed. The concerts will be broadcast from Tudor Hall, in Montreal, and use made possible by the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Approximately 29,000 people living in Canada are shareholders in the Canadian Pacific Railway, their number having been increased by over 10 thousand during the past year. Many of these are employees of the company, while a large percentage of these are small investors who have bought a few shares with an idea of safety and profitably employing their surplus capital.

On January 15, 1931, the city of Lethbridge, Alberta, was made a point of call on the air mail route operating between Winnipeg and Calgary. Lethbridge is a point of considerable potential importance as the probable point from which the air line to the Pacific Coast will commence. Official surveys by technical officers of the Canadian Government Civil Aviation Branch have definitely indicated the route from Lethbridge as the most feasible passage of the Rocky Mountains.

Operating on an equal footing with the fastest system in the world, the Canadian Pacific Graph quotation Service installed by the Canadian Pacific Telegraphs was officially opened with the 10:00 Year end piano Winnipeg second to none Among the world's brokerage centres. Practically perfect operation of upwards of 50 tape ticker machines, carrying their news with lightning speed, beating all previous records by two-thirds, is announced by W. M. Thompson, manager, western lines, Canadian Pacific Telegraphs.

Magnville, Vermilion and Lamont were represented at the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. C. W. W. Ross, Lamont, Secretary, Mrs. M. P. Williams, Lamont; Treasurer, Mrs. Leitch, Manville.

BOY SCOUT NOTES

The Troop held their weekly meeting in the Armories last Tuesday night and had a good attendance. Perhaps the Bun Feed so kindly provided by Scoutmaster Taylor was responsible for the increase in attendance.

Laird Kearns was appointed Senior Patrol Leader succeeding Raymond Brimacombe and Gordon Wilson was appointed Quartermaster in charge of Troop equipment.

Now that the Troop is re-organized the Patrol and individual competitions will start at next Tuesday's meeting. Points will be awarded for attendance work, proficiency work, games, etc.

Patrol Leaders and Seconds, do not forget the Court of Honour to be held on Sunday afternoon next.

What we would like to know is: Who is the Scout basketball player who does all the "hugging" when playing at the College?

The returns in the recent elections for Councillors in M. D. of Grizzly Bear show Alex. Wilson elected by Div. 2 and Percy Carmichael in Div. 6.

TO INAUGURATE EXPANSION PLAN.

Canadian Westinghouse Company, according to a recent press despatch is about to inaugurate an expansion plan with the set mark of increasing its business by $50,000,000 during an eighteen-month period. The plan calls for an increase in advertising expenditures of $1,500,000 and a large development of its manufacturing facilities in Hamilton, Ontario. The advertising appropriation will be spent in Canadian daily and weekly newspapers and trade publications.

BEER INVESTIGATION OF LIQUOR

A motion was introduced into the Legislature Wednesday by W. R. Wilson, (Lloyd) asking for an investigation by an independent appraiser of every loan guaranteed by the government of the Alberta Co-operative Credit Societies, the complete report to be presented to the legislature within fifteen days of the opening of its next session. The accounts guaranteed as at November 30, 1930 is placed at $1,760,290.29, and of this it is roughly claimed $1,000,000 will be a loss to the province. The investigation is asked to determine how much is owing by each borrower covering principal, interest, details of security held, etc. Mr. Howson's motion comes had debs according to the audit at $204,451.92 which the government will have to pay; loans of $420,115.51 as being lost and also with a probability of a large share of this having to be paid by the government

EUROPE ALSO WORRIES.

Edmonton Bulletin. — Canadians will note with interest, and hope, that George Lee is considering what to do with a wheat surplus Representatives of twenty-seven European countries are meeting in Paris to talk over their crop whoa, how to get rid of it, and how to fix real another. Bemoaning the growing of wheat, it may be interesting, and produced the natural result.

Decisions reached at the conference it is stated will determine how much wheat France will buy from Canada and other great exportiar countries. Canada, which there is reason to hope that light may be dawning on France and other industrial countries in the old world, and is becoming appreciative of them that if they do not buy wheat abroad they cannot sell manufactured goods abroad.

Team	P	W	L	T	Pts
Cabaret	9	7	2	0	14
C.N.R.	9	6	3	0	12
Elks	9	3	5	1	7
College	9	2	7	0	4

All over but the play-off now, boys. The Cabaret and C.N.R. teams clash in the final game at the Arena on Monday night and in the second game on Wednesday night. Total goals will count on the round and the custody of the Wiebe cup goes to the winner.

The Cabarets have been out for goals and assists in their last two games and scored rather decisive victories over the Elks Monday night, and over the College last night to the tune of 8 to 1 each time.

The Elks came back strong in the second game last night and won from the C.N.R. 6-5 in a mighty exciting game. The C.N. got two goals in the last five minutes when big Bill Barr got free enough to do his scoring after getting even with Ade Fallow. Bill did himself a bad turn as he was all set to cop the $10 mid voucher, but fell short by one point.

Both the C. N. R. and the College were rather short on subs. The Elks was in fine shape and the games were both good contests.

Lorne Tho points will have its say Jack English and Jimmie White with 18 points each are tied for that suit, while Benedek is one point behind them, but a good third. Ade Waldenberger has 8 points to Bill Barr's 7 for the highest defence man in the goal standing. Just what will be done about the tie will be decided.

Manson Barr lined up with the Elks in their last two games and played a sort a real last night. Jack Mackenzie played three successive games in the senior series and made a fine service Quite a number of scholars and teachers from the public school attended and a pretty display of flowers were sent by the staff and students The deceased was only nine years old. Mr. J. Marino and staff had charge of the funeral arrangements

News from Islay

The Sunshine Club had a very good turn-out to their quilting bee last Friday which was held at the home of Mrs. H. Gilchrist.

Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Howson were host and hostess at a very successful mixed bridge party Wednesday evening last. Nine tables were played, and honors were won by Mr. Billie Barnes and Mrs. Billie Barnes Following the bridge a delightful lunch was spent at music and games

Mr Harry Gordon left for Edmonton while Fred Lamb is on a business trip in connection with the Alexandra Livestock Marketing Association

Mrs Lee Barnes, Mrs. Darwin Howson Mrs. Lane, Mrs W. Barnes and Mrs A. Beverott attended an afternoon bridge at Mrs R. H. Howson's home in Vermilion last Thursday

Mr and Mrs. Newell, east of town entertained the Holyrood people last Friday night

There will be a dance in the Hollywood school this Friday night, March 6th.

LOCAL RINKS DIDN'T LIFT THE BLAIR CUP

From all reports, the Vermilion rinks who travelled to Mannville in quest of the Blair cup, returned without it Although the Mannville boys were very nice to them off the ice before the game, it is believed they did to Ed. Corley's rink who something to be whispered about while Fred Lamb's rink lost out by a bonech of kinky curlers, didn't fix on well either, but he got by Hon Hesalgrave in the first round

Personnel of the rinks were: Fred Lamb, E. Stewart, P. McKeue, Fred Firth, H. Lamb, skip; Ed Corley, Colbert, L. Majeau, Ed Corley, J. Dunington, M McKinnon, J Turner; H Haddock, G M Cundal, J Thiel A Melnyo

Thrift --- Waste

At the present time people in all walks of life individuals, corporations governments are deeply concerned over the prevailing business depression. Many prominent men are devoting their entire time to the consideration. Everywhere people are seeking to learn its primary cause and to devise a plan by which it may be overcome. Various remedies are suggested, but to date no certain cure for the ailment has been found. Apparently a normal condition will not be restored until the world's supply and distribution of gold which is the basic standard of all international business. Others complain of over-production, although the more generally accepted view now is that the world suffers not so much from over-production as under-consumption. Economists are dotes imposing heavy taxation on all, are held by some to be the underlying cause. Restrictive tariffs, shortage of nations and interfering with the free flow of trade are blamed by others. Faulty and unduly expensive methods of distribution from primary producer and manufacturer to the ultimate consumer are responsible, it is claimed by others.

But whatever the cause and a multitude of other things are considered and given their due weight does not the basic cause lie much nearer home for the average individual? Is it not because of a lack of thrift the inclination to live within a scale that brings peace and contentment in its wake that finds so many people in financial difficulties?

The writer as well as the reader having to himself that the present is not the time to talk about thrift when people have little or nothing to save and cannot, because they have nothing to waste. But the writer contends this is therefore the most opportune of all times to advocate thrift and condemn waste. It would be a mistake to preach it in times when people are in no mood to listen. Further a dollar looms up big big as ten dollars when times are good and business is brisk that people are more willing to give heed to the thrift lesson. When times are prosperous there is a tendency to live beyond one's means. Why not? When the money is coming in freely and easily it is human nature to spend it. But when it is hard to get we are the more inclined to hold on to it.

In his autobiography the late Edward Bok, the famous editor of "The Ladies' Home Journal" tells how upon coming to America as a lad of six from his native land the Netherlands the most wonderful lesson for him was the necessity of thrift. He had already been taught that thrift was one of the most desirable in a successful life, his family had come from a land noted for its thrift, but, he says, "we had been in the United States only a few days before the realizants came home strongly to my father and mother that they had brought their children to a land of waste." Where, says Mr. Bok, the Dutchman saved, the American wasted. There was waste, and the most prodigal waste on every hand. It was, he says, on my calculation that what was thrown away in a week's time from Holland homes would feed the poor of the Netherlands.

Continuing, Mr. Bok says: "At school, I quickly learned that to save money was to be stingy, as a young man, I soon found that the American disliked the word 'economy' and on every hand as plenty grew spending grew. There was literally nothing in American life to teach me thrift or to enjoy everything to teach me to expend and to waste. I saw men who had earned good salaries in their prime, reach the years of incapacity as dependents. I saw families on every hand either living quite up to their means or beyond them, rarely with a them. The more a man earned the more he lived. I saw fathers and mothers and their children spend more and more while a larger proportion of families who ran into debt was far greater than those who saved. When a panic came, the families pulled with a few dollars to spare, over they went. But the end of the year found them, generally where they were at the close of the previous year. Or, more often, were beyond their debts.

In the end they were asked the question seriously that many of us are in fairness to ourselves today to consider. Instead of expending thrift when times were good and putting aside a little against the day when times might not be good, we spent to the limit of our earnings possibly beyond. In the best of times there should always be good and now we are in trouble with no reserve to fall back upon." Is it not true that we were wasteful perhaps not in big things in money but little wasteful in expending a dollar here and a dollar there which, if saved, would be a veritable godsend now? In those days of world depression? Better buy a good article and cover again as the nation itself afforded with less unemployment than any other great country in the world. Despite the fact that the French people are notoriously frugal, they are their pennies they waste little.

But we are in a new world, with far greater natural wealth and wider opportunity are wasteful extravagant expenditure. And the result, when depression comes and with it no money coming in, we suffer in not, perhaps the underlying cause of much of our present difficulty to be found in this unfortunate trait in our people? Think it over each for himself or herself. And when better times return, as return they will, and work is again plentiful and earnings again rise govern yourself accordingly. You are not measuring much now because you have not got it to waste. Continue the habit when you again have something You are practising thrift now because you must, continue it even when it is not a life and death necessity. You will then be ready for the next depression, better still, you will ward off such depression

Guest "Yes all but the bill. Just take that back and tell them to boil it down a little."

Too much ACID

Many people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has been used for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, sets at once. The symptoms, such as headaches, gas, heartburn, etc., will disappear in five minutes.

You will never use crude methods when you know the better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief. Please do that—for your own sake—now.

Be sure to get the genuine, prescribed by doctors for conditions due to excess acid. It is always a liquid, it cannot be made in tablet form Look for the name Phillips' and the word genuine is red.

Speaks On Arctic Trip

Sir Hubert Wilkins Tells Australia Of Coming Submarine Adventure

Sir Hubert Wilkins, explorer, told the home folks in Australia by radio how he planned to sneak up on the North Pole from beneath the sea by submarine

The proposed submarine trip to the Arctic, the veteran of treks and airplane flights in the far ends of the earth said, would "probably be the most adventurous I have undertaken."

With a converted navy submarine, Sir Hubert plans to leave this country about May 1, go to England, thence to Norway and so begin his cruise into the ice fields of the Arctic Ocean

The submarine is christened the "Nautilus" after Jules Verne's submersible

The submarine has been equipped with ice drills, capable of boring up through more than thirty feet of ice to reach the depth of the ice. The ice drills drill contains a hatch through which the crew can reach the ice and by which air can be brought into the boat when charging batteries

Lady Wilkins told newspapermen, that she would accompany Sir Hubert on his submarine voyage under arctic ice this summer. The object of his expedition to the North Pole is to establish a ring of meteorological bureaus to study seasonal weather conditions which may have an influence on the weather far to the south. He eventually hopes to have similar stations circling the Antarctic.

Aviation In Alberta

Alberta Flyers Have An Enviable Record Of Performance

Alberta fliers, fewer in number than those in the populous parts of the provinces in Canada, are among the most active, to judge from the latest figures from the Department of Aviation. Aviation here, which after that during the year 14,950 flights, during which about 500,000 miles were covered, were flown by pilots in Alberta fliers during the year spent 6,415 hours in the air, the average flight lasting for 23 minutes The planes carried 1,000 passengers.

British Air Ministry Has Difficult Task

Every Day Amount Of Sunlight Penetrating City Is Measured

One of the most difficult tasks in London is carried out daily at the Air Ministry offices, where the amount of sunshine penetrating the city is measured. The measuring apparatus consists of a small glass ball through which the heat of the sun passes to burn a special paper placed beneath it, the mark on the paper being used to compute the amount of sunlight passing through.

A Worth While Achievement

American tourists returning from Europe report that hands are coming back into style. It is doubtful if they will ever again attain great popularity in America. But if every supercilenist would advise a way to transpose the ever abundant facial hairs of the male to the uppermost portion of his cranium ah, there would be an achievement

Test Was Convincing

New Pool-Proof 'Plane Will Land Itself Safely

A fool-proof aeroplane which its inventor claims will neither stall, spin or dive and will land itself, is the latest contribution to safety in the air.

While more than an hundred aeronautical experts and financiers watched the 'plane was successfully tested at Glenn H. Curtiss airport, New York. Piloted by Henry Wicks, it made a half dozen short flights, and came to a near-perfect landing each time with the pilot's hands high above his head.

The designer is A. A. Merrill, of White Plains, N.Y., formerly in charge of aeronautical research at the California Institute of Technology, and a contemporary of the Wright brothers, Octave Chanute and Langley. He has been working on the 'plane since 1923, and at one time was forced to mortgage his life insurance to continue.

Movable wings which can be adjusted over an area of 14 degrees are the secret of the 'plane's stability. In flight these motorized flying surfaces prevent a plane from unwittingly getting into a stall or a dive. In landing, they mechanically level off at the proper distance from the ground and assume the proper gliding angle.

Some Valuable Information

Well-Dressed Man Must Invest $2,000 Yearly In Clothes

The well-dressed man of 1931 should have a wardrobe worth $2,000

Style creators at Rochester, N.Y. for the 51st annual convention of the Associated Custom Tailors' Designers Association say garments in such a wardrobe would range in price from $150 to $250 each, and would include:

Two tuxedo suits, one full dress suit, one cutaway, one frock coat for afternoon wear, one Chesterfield overcoat, a fitted and loose topcoat, a great coat for motoring, an ulster for bad weather, two knicker suits for golf, two jackets and flannel trousers appropriate for sports, four two lounge suits, and nine business suits. None of the latter should be worn more than four times in the same month.

Was Weak and Run Down Could Scarcely Do Housework

Mrs. Gerard A. Dow, Hamilton, Alta., writes: —"I would like to tell you of the great benefit I have received from your Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I was feeling very much run down in health, and was so weak I could scarcely do my housework, in fact, I would have to lie down in the afternoon for an hour or so. I saw your Pills in the drug store and took a box home with me, and I was delighted with the renewed strength I have recommended them to a neighbor and feel sure they will help her."

When a mother detects from the writhings and fretting of a child that worms are troubling it, she can procure a reliable remedy in Miller's Worm Powders which will expel all worms from the system. They may cause vomiting, but this need cause no anxiety, because it is but a manifestation of their thorough work. No trouble can long exist where these Powders are used.

When BABIES are Upset

BABY ills and ailments seem twice as serious at night. A sudden cry may mean colic. Or a sudden attack of diarrhea. How would you meet this emergency—tonight? Have you a bottle of Castoria ready?

For the protection of your youngest—for your own peace of mind—keep this old, reliable preparation always on hand. But don't keep it for emergencies, let it be an everyday aid. Its gentle influence will ease and soothe the infant who cannot sleep. Its mild regulation will help an older child whose tongue is coated because of sluggish bowels. All druggists have Castoria.

MacMillan's Equipment Will Include 'Planes

Arctic Explorer Outlines Plans For Trip Into Baffin Land

Donald B. MacMillan, Arctic explorer outlined plans for an expedition into Baffin Land and the North Pole, which he will lead from the expedition, he said, would be in three sections—the first sailing from Wiscasset, Maine, June 20, to be followed by Dr. Alexander Forbes, of Boston, and Sir Wilfred Grenfell, of London.

Two aeroplanes will be included in the equipment.

One of the principal objectives, he said, will be a study of glaciers in order to determine the possibility of the formation of another "glacier age."

Nearly all children are subject to worms, and many are born with them. Save them suffering by using Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator, an excellent remedy.

HUNTER-MARTIN & CO., REGINA, SASK.

FARM PARTY IS ASSURED FOR SASKATCHEWAN

Saskatoon, Sask.—Saskatchewan is assured of a Farm Party. By a virtually unanimous decision, United Farmers of Canada (Saskatchewan) decided to enter politics. They will seek backing of all citizens in electing candidates on a policy aimed at ultimate social ownership and non-profit production.

Local autonomy was agreed on as a basis of the political move. Constituency conventions will be called when requested by 15 per cent. of U.F.C. local lodges in the constituency to be represented by two constituency-committee members, and the elected member or the candidate and the U.F.C. executive to attend.

Efforts of the new party, whose date of inauguration by convention is at least two months distant, will be directed into provincial and Dominion fields. The step places Saskatchewan, largest wheat province in the Dominion, squarely behind the political-agrarian organization. The Saskatchewan body claims 26,000 members as against 15,105 for the United Farmers of Alberta. Manitoba's farm-unit is a non-partisan body.

It is understood official inauguration of the movement, to receive ratification from local lodges for a political party, means removing the U.F.C.'s ban on political alliances This would take some 60 days.

Platform of the new party will be based on the U.F.C. economic policy approved at the four-day annual convention's session last week. This includes demands for 100-per-cent. grain pooling; "pegged" grain prices; government price-fixing; the abolishonalism of currency, credit and natural resources; and province-wide crop insurance.

In addition, the policy program included demands for Dominion and provincial debt repudiation measures. It called completion and operation of port and elevator facilities at Churchill by next September 1, legislation to make Churchill a free port of entry for all goods, and Freight and express rate cuts.

Delegates to the political action, wired from a resolution of the U.F.C. board ad stipulation that formation of the new party occur at the refusal of Dominion or provincial administration to put the three-formed economic policy into effect.

The convention's stand is a reversal of the decision of the 1930 meet, when political action was turned down by eight votes and formation of a political party rejected. The vote was favored. Officials claim that of three candidates in the last Dominion election pledged to the U.F.C. demands, two were elected -- Milton Campbell (Mackenzie), and A. M. Carmichael (Kindersley), Conservatives.

It is considered unlikely that George R. Williams, immediate past president of the U.F.C., will seek the leadership of the farm party if it is formed before spring. He is understood to favor Alfred J. J. MacAulay, elected president of the U.F.C. today, should rather be a candidate for the leadership.

Elected by Williams, MacAulay was named leader on constitutional grounds, though almost all delegates favored Williams remaining in office beyond his expired two-year term, limit under the constitution. MacAulay, formerly vice-president, maintains a large grain and stock farm at Waseca, Sask Williams is expected to be a candidate for the presidency at the next convention.

J. F. Hyman, Rocanville, was elected vice-president.

Increase In Autos

Ottawa, Ont Canada had a motor vehicle for every person registered in 1930, as compared with one motor vehicle for every 11 people in 1929, according to a report issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics recently The number of motor cars registered in 1930 was 1,320,000, an increase of 44,295 over the previous year

Northern Trade Route

Insurance Rates To Be Lower Than Expected Out Of Hudson Bay

Ottawa, Ont.—Within the past three weeks there has been a sudden and in many ways completely unexpected interest on the part of Canadian, British and foreign shipping companies in the Hudson Bay route.

Hon. Dr. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways and Canals, declined to discuss these recent developments He will make a detail statement in parliament, by which time it seems certain that definite plans and commitments will have been reached which will ensure Port Churchill a striking opening, and ensure the future success of the new trade route.

It is learned authoritatively that several large steamship companies have come forward and declared their intention of placing ships on the new route. This applies to British and foreign shipping. There has been a most remarkable reaction among Canadian ship operators, who see tremendous possibilities in the development of Inter-provincial trade. Maritime provinces companies are going to try and develop trade direct with the prairie provinces. British Columbia companies already have completed plans for a trade in lumber, with Churchill as the base, and export to Churchill to foreign ports, and a return cargo from foreign ports to Vancouver.

Those shipping interests have taken a firm hand in matters of insurance rates. Lloyds, of London, England, have been stirred up and it may be announced definitely that insurance rates out of Churchill will be much lower than hitherto has been expected.

Well-Known Geologist Dead

Dr. Robert Stewart, Of Toronto, Had Stirring Career

Toronto, Ont.—Dr Robert Stewart, well-known geologist and medical practitioner, and an authority on mining in the Hudson Bay district, died here last week.

While associated with the Hudson Bay Company and the Ontario Bureau of Mines, Dr. Stewart had a stirring career, being twice shipwrecked on Hudson Bay boats, once in the Bay of Ungava, in 1925, and once off the coast of Labrador in 1927. His last trip to the North was made in 1928 Dr Stewart was born in Lucknow, Ontario.

Girl and Two Policemen Injured In Scuffle

Toronto, Ont.—Two policemen, a ten-year-old girl and a woman were injured when at least 2,000 of Toronto's unemployed gathered at the corner of Spadina Avenue and Dundas Street, in the downtown section, where a proposed unemployment demonstration was to be held.

Seven policemen were also arrested when stones, bricks, and other missiles were directed at the police, who retaliated by a charge along the thoroughfare.

RUSSIA WOULD TRADE COAL FOR FARM MACHINERY

Montreal.—If Canada will accept $2,500,000 worth of Russian coal in part payment, Russia is willing to purchase her agricultural machinery, the total value of which will amount to $10,000,000, according to a plan which Lieut.-Colonel Herbert J. Mackie, former Conservative member of parliament, stated he had laid before the government at Ottawa, on behalf of the Soviet Government. The balance of the deal would be settled in gold, and the Soviet Government is understood to have expressed its willingness to hold a conference with Canada at which a plan would be formulated for marketing of wood pulp and newsprint.

In the opinion of Col. Mackie some understanding with Russia would be the marketing of wheat is expedient. Anticipating the success of the five-year plan and casting an eye on Russia's success in wheat growing up to this time, he seemed impressed with the strength of her position. He feared that unless some agreement were reached with Russia she would undersell Canadians in every market of the world.

As for the opposition against importing Russian coal, Col. Mackie believed that the strongest propaganda had been emanating from the American competitors of the Soviet Russia's purpose is to export anthracite in dumping ocean liners, a product which could not possibly compete with coal from Nova Scotia. The Russian coal would be in direct competition with the imported American product, Col. Mackie said.

"Canada and Russia must get together on this matter -- we must have a conference," said Lt.-Col. Mackie.

"As things are, we bid fair to precipitate Russia. At a conference in London, England, with a Canadian trade representative, Saul Bron, the Soviet Soviet trade delegate to the British Empire, reiterated this plea, and this warning: "Do not put Russia on the defensive." He said it twice and again, earnestly, pleadingly

"I know the seriousness of Bron's statement, possibly better than any other Canadian, for I have made it, visits to Russia since the revolution, and I know Russia's power to help or hurt my country," to wage economic war or peace

"High Russian officials have approached Canada through me asking for a conference. The idea receives the support of the Argentine and Australian government ministers representatives in London, England Only a few days ago Chairman Legge, of the U.S. Farm Board, said that he could see value, with nothing to lose, in such a conference with Russia.

Women Members Staging Race For Championship

One Of Feature Attractions At The Fas Dog Derby

Winnipeg, Man.—A dust over the snow-swept trails of Northern Manitoba to settle the title of woman dog mushing champion of the world, with a side bet of $1,000, promises to be one of the feature attractions of dog derby week at The Pas as a result of developments, announced by A. E. Warren, vice-president Canadian National Railways, patron of the northern classic. Early this winter Miss Thelma Geelan, girl member from Mc-Cull, Idaho, recognized as the leading member in the western states, challenged Mrs. E. P. Ricker, of Poland Springs Maine, to a 25-mile dog race for the mushing championship of the fair sex. She asked for a side bet of $1,000 to be posted before the race. The contest would take place over a course here selected by the dog derby committee.

The dog derby committee of The Pas has received a wire from Mrs Ricker accepting the challenge Both women are expected to take part in the 200-mile dog race from The Pas to Flin Flon and return if trails are passable between March 20 Miss Ida Carriere, another woman entry, is a leading over northern trails for dog derby week.

Three of the northland's most fearless mushers, St. Godard, Earl Brydges and "Shorty" Blakely, left Winnipeg via Canadian National Railways for The Pas, Man., where they will whip their dogs into shape for the grueling 200-mile race.

SEA HARBOR FOR PRAIRIES TO OPEN SOON

Winnipeg, Man.—In a few weeks workmen will toil again at Churchill, Hudson Bay terminus of the Hudson Bay railway, on a job that is to give the northern harbor a 2,500,000-bushel grain elevator with the second largest warehouse in the world.

Storage will mean but little to the sprawling town ranged along the south shore of the bay, and to the port at the end of the Hudson Bay Railway. But ability to handle grain -- to dump cars, to clean, to grade, to separate the grain, to run it out to waiting ships—will be a paramount necessity for the elevator in the port with a winter-shortened season

More than 300,000 bushels daily may pour through the vitrified processes of the Churchill elevator's warehouse when work is completed by the middle of next September. Only the great Pool Elevator Number Seven at Port Arthur, will be able to handle grain more rapidly than the terminal north of 54°. If the Churchill plant is ever filled to its capacity the route will be a success.

About 750,000 bushels of wheat will be rushed overseas this fall before the bay freezes over in early September 15 and the close of navigation in the Bay according to the provisions of the Dominion Grain Act. Some organizations in the west are pressing for a shipment of as much as 3,000,000 bushels this fall, but it is understood from reliable sources that such a flow of grain in the short time at their disposal will up dock work in progress and threaten the efficiency of elevator and dock facilities.

At the present moment, groundwork in the elevator is completed to the first floor. Late this month or early in April construction of the power house will commence alongside the elevator In May, concrete pouring begins on the elevator and the warehouse, from the ground floor upward. Work on shipping galleries, too, must be started in order to have them ready for the restricted shipping of this fall.

Across the bay from the busy Hudson Port Prince of Wales the new research unit might rest assured that all of its work is not confined to the port itself. Already the Churchill area is a scientific mecca for many men of many nations. Eighth Fifteen Lounge Hussars New Brunswick came second with 42.6 points.

Eighth Fifteen Waterloo Ontario won third with 43 points. Seventeen teams competed with 1456 points.

The resolution was sponsored by William Ivens, Labor member for Winnipeg The pensions for the blind would be financed in whole or in part by the federal government.

RECOVERY NOW INDICATED IN EMPLOYMENT

Ottawa, Ont.—Although the number of persons employed by Canadian firms reporting to the government at the beginning of February was less than at the same date in the preceding three years, it was greater than in any earlier year since 1921. Returns have been received by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics from 7,431 firms. These show pay rolls aggregating 904,515 persons on February 1, as compared with 949,000 at the first of January, just one month previous

The bureau reports that important recovery was shown in the employment returns received from manufacturing firms especially those engaged in the textile and the iron and steel industries Improvement was also shown in railway construction and in logging and sawmilling. On the other hand appreciable declines were noted in highway and building and construction, in trade, mining and logging These contractions it is stated were in part offset by increases in other industries.

The trend of employment, it is reported, was upward in Montreal, Ottawa, Hamilton, Windsor and Quebec border cities and Vancouver. Quebec City Toronto and Winnipeg reported reductions

The bureau's report the following report on employment by economic areas

Prairie provinces Employment in the prairie provinces has shown a contraction at the beginning of February in most years of the record. The index number reported by the firms making returns on February 1 1931 involved a larger reduction of the aggregate payroll than has been the case in the last few years. Statements were received from 1,022 employers, whose staffs declined by 6,666 persons to 121,873 on February 1. Logging, which is more active, railway construction has showed improvement but manufacturing, mining communications and transportation reported considerable curtailment

British Columbia There was a decline of 1.6 per cent in employment at the beginning of February; this took place mainly in the highway construction and mining groups, while manufacturing, and building, and railway construction were rather busy. The working forces of the 744 reporting firms aggregated 79,393, a decrease of 459 persons as compared with their January totals A slight improvement had been indicated on February 1, 1930, and the index was then a few points higher

High School Notes

The annual inter High and College debate will be held in the assembly hall of the high school Friday evening March 6th, at eight o'clock. Besides the debate there will be a few numbers given by the High school students. All parents and any others interested are cordially invited to attend. There will be a small admission fee of ten cents.

The Literary meeting was held Wednesday afternoon in the assembly hall. Mr. Topper gave the boys a few hints upon choosing a wife and incidently we now know where our chemistry equipment goes. Bill Eliot gave us some sound advice on "How to Run the High School" and some of us quarrels with Bill. Fred Brimacombe's most fearful and wonderful diet was displayed behind a screen in a most operatical performed by John Harmon.

Joan Baker, an ex-student of the Vermilion high has gone to Lamont to go into training for a nurse. Joan carries with her the sincerest wishes for success from the staff and students of the school.

Things that we would like to know. "Where did Mr. Topper discover his talent for drawing 'clerk' men and dogs"?

We are all glad to see Violet Young and Wilfrid Fraser back among us again. We hope they will be able to complete the term successfully.

Annual Bonspiel Draws 21 Rinks

9 Visitors and 12 Home Quartets Participating in Four Events

The annual bonspiel was started on Tuesday at this week, the colder weather supplying the impetus to those curling sadded and in spite of the short notice 21 rinks were ready to start on the first draw at 1 p.m. on Tuesday. Monday saw the executive busting around to gather up the necessary prizes, etc. and a nice array of these are now on display in Craig's window. Three open competitions and a consolation will be played. The 21 rinks consist of nine visitors and 12 home rinks. The visiting rinks are Moore, McEachern, Anderson and Beecroft from Islay. Cundal, Heaslip, and R. K. Jones from Mannville; Grey and Casselman from Kitscoty and local rinks skipped by Long, Cerley, Knoll, Sutton, Cameron, Morison, Pulleyblank, Parker, Stewart, Dodington, Clarke and Cooper.

The open events are now in the Jewelry stage and the spiel will probably be wound up on Friday.

CNR. Wins Wiebe Cup — Season 1930-31

Two Thrilling Games — Total Score 2 Goals to 1

— BY "SHOT" —

The C. N. R. team was last night crowned champions of the Civic league when, after dropping the first game Monday night 1-0, they came back strong on Wednesday night to win 2-0 in overtime and thus gain custody of the Wiebe cup for one year.

First Game Goes to Cabaret

Playing on Rubbering fast ice the Cabaret and C.N.R. battled for 56 minutes before English took a pass from White to beat goalie Gates for the lone counter of the match. As a result the Cabaret took a one-goal lead into the final last night with them. They was just as close as the score indicates Cliff Gates, C.N. goal keeper, was struck in the throat just two minutes after the game started and was knocked completely out, coming to 16 minutes later and finishing the game. A lot of smooth rough stuff was indulged in and got away with, somewhat showing up the game.

C.N.R. Wins Title in Overtime

The fastest game of the Civic league schedule and also the final, resulted in a win for the C.N.R. after ten minutes overtime with a score of 2-1. The regular season ended with the score at 10 which tied up the series for total goals, and after ten minutes extra play the C.N.R. had added another goal, giving them a win on the series of 2-1. Fifty-nine and a half minutes had ticked off before George Reagleck grabbed a loose puck and beatjittery to tie up the series. Then in the second five minutes of the overtime Clarence Barr scored a pretty goal on a lone rush. The game was fast and clean, any rough stuff being promptly checked up. It was a banner exhibition and kept the crowd of 300 fans in an uproar for the whole seventy minutes.

Hats off to the C. N. R. team—the league champions. The team consists of Gates; Jack Pulse and P. McKone; C. Barr, Reagleck, Bell, Pilkie, Mr. Coombs and Burns

Jack English was an absentee from the Cabaret line-up and permission was secured to play Fred Brimacombe at centre. Jack is a pretty sick boy at the present time. The players are: The high scoring in the league, Jack English and Jim White who with them divide the value of one made-to-measure Royal York suit over two suits; Stan Waldenberger, highest scoring defence man, who gets a ten dollar credit on a Royal York suit; and Cliff Gates the goalie with the smallest average of goals scored against him—ten dollar credit on a Royal York suit. All these prizes donated by Stephens Limited.

The C.N.R. won a pass to the Columbia Theatre for this week-end by taking the novice, Manager Pilkie being the donor.

All that remains now for the Civic league is to have a big banquet and present the cup. Bill Smith, "Doc" dent "Cap" Munro, Bert Williams and Co for a dandy schedule of hockey and anyone else who helped in any way to make things interesting

V.S.A. And High School In Debate

The High School auditorium was packed to capacity Friday evening to hear the debate between the College and the High School. The resolution was as follows: Resolved that the present school system be proved it efficient that we adopt the system provided for in the Hon Perrin Bek's new School Act.

Mr. T. Hall and Miss Edith Hutchinson of the College, had the difficult task of refuting the arguments brought forward by Miss Lucille Irwin and Miss Ethel Shields, who represented the High School for the affirmative. The judges were J. W. S. Morrison K.C. the Rev. Mr. Hoddes of Lloydminster, and Mr. Introwit, Registrar of the University, who gave an interesting and constructive criticism.

Dr Bell, in presenting the Cup to the High School commented on the yearly improvement in the debating shown Congratulations Lucille and Ethel.

Palpitation Of The Heart Nerves Were All Gone

Miss Rose Griffin, Auburn, Man., writes:—"About five years ago I was troubled with palpitation of the heart, caused by a shock, and my nerves were all gone, and I could not sleep. I read about Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and decided to try them. After I had taken three boxes I was feeling fine again. I think they are a wonderful remedy, and wish all others who suffered as I did would give them a trial."

486,176 Receiving Sets In Use In Canada At End Of January

At the end of January there were 486,176 radio receiving sets in Canada under licence or about one radio for about 20 persons in the country. The total of licensed receiving sets at the end of January was 60,650 more than the number in use at the end of the 13 month period of the Canadian Government fiscal year 1929-30. Toronto has more radios than any other city, with 77,194 at the end of the first month of this year. This total is nearly 13,000 more than was registered at the end of March, 1930, the close of the government fiscal year. Montreal is credited with 41,576 sets; Hamilton, Ont., with 14,822, Vancouver, with 19,330, and Winnipeg with 19,433. A charge of $1 per year is made by the Canadian Government for a licence for a radio receiving set. Licences are issued free to the blind in Canada and the latest report shows 88 such licences have been issued.

Popular Taste In Movies

Producers declare that really artistic films fail to draw at the box office. Those who are demanding "art" in motion pictures seldom are willing to risk their money in experimentation. The film theatre is not like a store where one may stock grades of goods to suit all tastes. The only successful movie house is one where a large percentage of the films shown pleases a majority of the patrons.—Los Angeles Times.

Birdseed raised in Argentina last year weighed 23,000 tons.

Many Divorces In Canada

Eight Hundred and Seventy-Five Divorces Were Granted In Canada in Year 1930

A total of 875 divorces was granted in Canada during 1930, according to a return issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Of this number 347 were granted by the Dominion Parliament, and comprised marriage dissolutions in Ontario and Quebec. The remainder were decreed by the various courts of the other provinces involved. No divorces were granted in Prince Edward Island. Ontario, with 344, had only one marriage dissolved in that fashion since confederation.

The Dominion Bureau backed the list for 1930 divorces, the figures in the Pacific Coast province being 255 decrees; Alberta, 151; Manitoba, 114; Saskatchewan, 62; Quebec 40; New Brunswick, 27, and Nova Scotia, 19. This is a total of 7,754 more than the previous year, and was the largest in the country's history. Since 1918, a total of 7,754 divorces have been granted in the Dominion.

Manitoba Mining Industry

Over $22,000,000 to Now Invested in the Province

Hon. D. G. McKenz, Minister of the Department of Natural Resources for the Province of Manitoba, reports a twenty per cent. increase in Manitoba's mineral production for 1930 over the previous year, the total production amounting in value to $5,433,835.

Capital invested in the Manitoba mining industry is now computed to be over $22,000,000.

The year 1930 was the best yet in the mining history of Manitoba in the matter of advances towards mineral production. Mining expenditures that year were 15 per cent. over the previous year's figure of $12,500,000.

Railways and Air Routes

Joint Rail and Air Services May Be Started Between Canada and Britain

Air developments, more particularly as they affect the operations of a large transcontinental transport system, when the latter is closely watched by the Canadian Pacific Railway with a view to the inauguration of joint services, when the latter is considered opportune, it was stated recently by E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

"If the development in air services, we're to progressing satisfactorily, demands joint rail and air services, they will undoubtedly be provided by the Canadian railways," said Mr. Beatty.

Stamp In Wash Industry

The watch-making crisis in Switzerland appears to have been reached. July, 1930, was the poorest month in years, only 114,000 ounces being turned out. But the heaviest decline has been in pocket watches and automobile clocks. The clocks, most of which in former years were exported to the United States, have nearly disappeared from the market.

An archaeologist states that until several years ago, almost all the known results of ancient Babylon and Nineveh were in a little glass case in the British Museum.

Palladium Medal

Wollaston Medal Of Geological Society Of London, Is Made From Rare Metal Mined In Canada

The Geological Society of London's 101st Wollaston Medal was recently presented at Burlington House, London, England, to Dr. Arthur William Rogers, director of the Geological Survey of South Africa, according to word received by the International Nickel Company, of Canada, Ltd.

Awarded annually by the Society with the object of promoting research concerning the mineral structure of the earth, the medal this year is unique in that it is made of palladium which is mined in Canada, instead of such other precious metals as gold or silver. Palladium, which is a non-tarnishable precious metal of the platinum group closely resembling silver in color, was discovered by Dr. William Hyde Wollaston, F.R.S., F.R.S., in 1803.

The metal was presented to the Society by the Mond Nickel Company, Ltd., who are important producers of that and other metals of the platinum group. In a speech at the presentation dinner, Mr. G. T. Evans, delegate director of the Mond Nickel Company, said remarkable progress had been made in the world's production of palladium since Wollaston's days.

The palladium used in the medal, he said, had been derived from the Company's vast resources in the nickel-copper ore regions of Sudbury. These Canadian ores, he said, were worked primarily for their nickel content, palladium, platinum and other metals being a by-product. He said the International Nickel Company, of Canada, Ltd., of which it was a subsidiary, could now produce upwards of 100,000 ounces of palladium a year, which would represent a substantial proportion of the world's potential consumption.

JESUS AMONG FRIENDS AND FOES

Golden Text: "To are my friends, if ye do the things which I command you."—John 15.14.

Lesson: Luke 10.38 to 11.54.
Devotional Reading: Psalm 66.1-7.

Explanations and Comments

Martha's and Mary's Friendship For Jesus. 10.38-42.—Jesus was a frequent Guest at Bethany in the home of Lazarus, Martha and Mary. On one occasion Mary was sitting at His feet and listening eagerly to His words when Martha, troubled about the preparation of the meal, came and said impatiently to Jesus, "Lord, dost Thou not care that my sister did leave me to serve alone? bid her therefore that she help me." Can you not see how troubled she was, and how unjustly she felt that she was being treated? So intense was her feeling that she rebuked her sister in the presence of their Guest, and in asking Him if He did not care about her overwork, she rebuked Him also.

Jesus tenderly repeated her name, "Martha, Martha," thus showing His care for her, and then gently chided her, "thou art anxious and troubled about many things: but one thing is needful." Moffitt's translation reads, "but few things are necessary." Both masters were wont to sit at Jesus' feet (note the word "also" in verse 39); and according to Moffatt's translation we may assume that both helped to prepare the meal, but Mary performed, thinking the fare prepared adequate. Martha, on the other hand, wished to serve a more pretentious meal—one that would be worthy of the Lord. The whole point of Jesus' words to her, then, was to warn her against herself. He did not wish His visit to be made a basis a drudge. He desired her also to sit at His feet and learn.

"If you had seen Martha you would frequently have said of her afterward 'She would do more if she did less!' The woman was overwrought." Her excellent mother will learn amazingly well for herself if she will withdraw from the kitchen demands of the housewife circle and have ten minutes with her Lord. But I have no time to do!' I know all about it, but you will do time before you decide on these wastes. Deep communion gives us the power to do things. It conveys to the soul a calm assurance of God. The nerves are soothed and calmed and the soul is stilled."—Mrs. Flower.

"Your Mary hath chosen the good part which shall not be taken away from her." "God yearns in bustling about, Martha, but here is the good part" of entertaining not to My body's but to My spirit's need for sympathy and understanding. It will not be taken from her now by My bidding or by My dying, and it is such a character that she will never lose it. Mary's gift was not so much synthetic as the power to detach the time when she met what was the main thing to be accomplished with."—George Matheson.

"Speak low to me, my Saviour, low and sweet
From out the hallelujahs, sweet and low,
Lest I should fear and fall, and miss to know
The place appointed for me.
Who are not missed by any that sit down
Beside the feet of Jesus: speak to me
Speak to me so to Mary at Thy feet."

Objects At Close Range Magnified One Hundred Times

The eyes of Alva Mason, 25, an electrician of Minot, Me., are so focussed that objects within a distance of eight inches are magnified more than 100 times their actual proportions. For ordinary work Mason has to use glasses that de-magnify and another person looking through these spectacles might just so well be gazing through the wrong end of a telescope.

Objects more than eight inches from Mason's naked eyes appear blurred, but at a closer range he can even distinguish phonograph records by the size of the microscopic marks in the discs. Removing his glasses, he can point with unfailing accuracy to the records and identify them as the "Anvil Chorus From Il Trovatore." Mason does not have to bear a record to determine whether or not a song was sung in a staccato or crooning manner. The sound grooves appear to him as the track made by dragging a finger through soft sand seems to the ordinary naked eye.

Peeps of the attic and the industrial holes in newspaper are quite apparent to Mason when he discards his glasses preparatory for the greater part of his work

Size Of Ben Colony

An interesting experiment has been under way for the past five years to determine the approximate field range of a normal colony of bees. During this period, thirteen calculations have been made by officers of the Department of Agriculture, the figure varying from 22,187 to 39,687, but only on two occasions did the number fall below 31,000. It is reckoned that approximately 2,000 bees weigh a pound.

The color pounded in Gay's cheeks. All her sympathy for James Halliday vanished. "Oh, I'm sorry," her voice colder than Nick had ever heard it. "It was no joke, Nick. Her husband was in back."

"How—horrible!"

Nick raised himself on one elbow; then sank back limply.

"I hope she'll never know. It would kill her, because—well, she was laughing when we drove up beside him. I remember motioning her to stop, for the window of the back was open, and I saw his hand reach out. To pull down the shade. Gee! what a situation You—you don't suppose he'll tell her, do you?"

"Probably not. He keeps his feelings pretty much to himself, I think; but if he were my mother I'd—I'd be did, Nick, I could see that), it must have been something of a blow."

"It was ghastly. Why did he tell you?"

"I wanted me to know that you were safe at that time anyway. He said he saw you, and I unfortunately misunderstood."

"Gay, dear! Do you know, Gay, I think they're unhappy. I've thought so all along. At first I imagined their troubles were due to his beastly cynicism, but——"

"He's not always cynical," broke in Gay defensively, "sometimes wasn't a trace of it that night; he was only kind. If they're not happy the fault isn't all his, Nick, by any——"

"Gay, how can you listen to Julie's chatter?"

"I didn't. It sifted through to me when I was thinking about you. No one can stop Julie when she gets going; and I was too unhappy just then to care about the ethics of the case. Let's forget it, Nick. I don't want to think about that time, ever again. It was a nightmare."

For a while there was silence, then Nick said thoughtfully: "I could stand all of it, Gay, if we hadn't run down that child."

He shuddered at the memory, and she said: "Don't think about it, dear."

"No wonder I keep thinking! It was a little girl, Gay, hardly more than a baby, and I've always wanted a little girl. She was chasing a kitten.

Perhaps she was afraid we'd run over it—anyway, she ran straight in our path. If I'd seen her a moment sooner—but I wasn't driving, and when I caught the wheel, well, I hate to think it, but it seemed to me that Mrs. Halliday almost kept me from turning. She had hold very firmly with both hands, and the child was no near——"

His closed his eyes, and Gay protected him with a passionate kiss upon it. It will make you sick. You, surely, were not to blame; and the child is safe, and very well cared for. Mrs. Halliday has been there every week, sometimes oftener. He says she's a fine woman, who bears her burden nobly. Besides, she wouldn't have lived an hour if it hadn't been for you. Remember that."

"I know. It makes me feel responsible for her in a way. I sometimes wish I were a State ward, you know), what the little thing has got to live for. I didn't like the face of that woman who boards her. It was hard as nails. Nobody seems to want it—that's what made me so determined to save her. She was somebody's baby once, Gay."

Gay moved nearer, and stooping, kissed his cheek.

"There!" she said cheerfully, "as Uncle Sim says: 'Don't you go to worrying any more than you can help.' It's time for baby's nap, and you can entertain Sonny for a while. He's a sure antidote for morbidness."

Nick watched her go down the path to the sand pile—Bit her baby, and turn again toward the house; while Sonny, carefully carrying a mud pie in his chubby hands, trotted at her side.

"It's a present," he announced, laying the delicacy on his father's knee. "It's an appletite."

"Have it with!" said Nick, grinning. "Maybe I'll get as fat as Uncle Sim."

Sonny shook his head.

"Uncle Sim's too fat, Daddy. His lap's most all stummick, an' me middle."

Nick sniggled.

"Well, from present indications I guess it'll be some time before I reach those proportions! I was thinking as this in my life. I bet you could knock me down if you tried real hard."

"Sonny wouldn't knock you down, Daddy," said the little boy seriously. "Sonny loves you tebby."

"Come here then, and show me how much 'tebby' is. I want a hug the worst way."

"A big hug, or a little one?" asked Sonny, advancing a step and resting one small elbow on Nick's knee.

"The kind you give Mother when you love her best."

"That's the big kind—only you've been sick, Daddy, and it might hurt. Julie says sick folks is kind o' brittle."

"I don't feel brittle in the least," Nick answered soberly. "Let's risk it."

It was this sentence that James Halliday interrupted, coming through the gap in the hedge, and seating himself in the chair that Gay had vacated. Nick unclasped Sonny's arms in order to stretch out a lean hand, which Halliday gripped hard.

"I won't stay long enough to tire you," he said. "I want some advice from Mrs. Hastings. I'm wondering if I can get hold of that nurse who has just left you."

"A nurse? Is anybody sick?"

"I'm moving that little girl from the hospital to-day," answered Halliday. "She was able to leave, and I didn't think she'd get proper care from that Mrs. Williams who boards her. Don't like the woman's face; and I've a notion" (with a faint smile), "that she doesn't like mine! Mrs. Halliday won't be back for a month. She's gone on a cruise with some friends; and it struck me that the child would be better off here, with a good nurse. I had to go through some red tape with the authorities; but anyway, I've got her away from Mrs. Williams, which is the main thing. The child's afraid of her. I don't believe she's been well treated."

"I'm not surprised. The few words I had with the woman showed me that I'd hate to have a child of mine under her care. But—there! it seems a lot of trouble for you, Halliday? I suppose there are good places where you could send her."

"No place where she'd have a sleeping porch and a nurse to herself. I—I want her to be happy. It seems terrible for a child not to be happy, doesn't it?—and I feel, somehow, responsible for her, you know."

"Well, that's mighty fine of you," Nick began, when Sonny interrupted.

"We'll make mud pies for her. Want one?"

He lifted the pie which was to give his father an "appletite," and offered it to the caller.

Halliday took it rather unwardly, and said in a flash: "Am I supposed to eat the thing?"

"Just pretend eat," explained Sonny, with his white teeth gleaming bit at Halliday's ignorance of childhood's ways.

"What! my fingers?" asked Halliday, smiling himself, as he warmed to the task.

"Mother laps 'em sometimes, like kitty," said the little boy. "But Mummy says it's not nice manners. Does you mind?"

Halliday "perlended," smacking his lips with relish as he took a bite.

"Delicious! Nothing I think that's a wonderful thing to do! It will give us all a chance to help the little girl, Sonny. We'll all help."

"They say she's four; but she don't look as big as this boy or Sonny. Seems to me she's kind of abused, at least treated with indifference. I've been there twice when Mrs. Williams was out, and though she sends a fuss over the child for appearances, it has pleas that the little thing was afraid of her."

"Oh, dear!" said Gay. "Surely you can keep them from sending her back there, when she's well?"

"She sha'n't go back there if I have to adopt her myself," answered Halliday grimly. "I can't understand it, but her child seems to—to like me. Usually children don't."

Peculiarities Of Pacific Salmon

Are Unlike Atlantic Coast Salmon In Many Particulars

Unlike the Atlantic Coast salmon which spawn several times, the Pacific salmon spawn but once and die immediately thereafter at the river mouths where they were born. The species of Pacific salmon are known as the humpback, the dog, the silver, the quinnat (Oncorhynchus), but also a new photo-electric cell, in length of natural life span. The pink lives only two years; the coho, three; the chum, four; the sockeye, four to five and the spring, six to seven.

French Wood Engine Useful For Yukon

Automobile Fuel Cost Too High Says Paris Paper Correspondent

The engine which burns wood and creates its own gas as it runs, which is well known in France if not in Canada, would be very useful to the Yukon according to Jean Allencherie, correspondent of the "Petit Parisien" of Paris, who reached Montreal on his way home after four months in Alaska and the land of the Klondyke. Automobile fuel, he says, is almost prohibitive in cost in the North.

Here and There

Mrs. Lees is the guest of Mrs. Pullyblank.

Mr. Lees has shipped several carloads of cattle to the Boston, New York and Chicago markets from Vermilion, Alta.

The value of these shipments is placed at about $35,000.

An increased enrollment in both common and high schools, an increase in teachers and in average attendance were indicated in the annual report of the schools of Vermilion-for the year ending October 31, 1930.

Aggregate value of life insurance in Canada, according to latest available information, was $6,150,000,000 on October 31 last, or $633.43 per capita of the population. Its value has more than doubled since 1920.

Last year's catch of salmon in British Columbia totalled 76,000,000 pounds, the highest ever recorded. The 2,200,000 cases that were canned, most of it to be exported to different parts of the world.

Good progress was made in 1930 in civil aviation in Canada, particularly in commercial flying. A total of 87,483 hours was flown, an increase of 7,807 hours over the flying time of registered aeroplanes in 1929.

An advance of about 900,000 in bank carriage is added at the port of Vancouver during 1930 is shown in the annual report of the Vancouver Merchant Exchange, tonnage in 1930 being 15,776,824 against 11,904,771 in 1929.

Latest reports on the output of the country's mines in Canada states that in 1930 power generated from 208 stations totalled 27,829,171 thousands of kilowatt hours, as against 19,244 thousands of K.W. hours over 1929.

When the new 45,500-ton Empress of Britain, Canadian Pacific Atlantic flagship, goes on a world cruise, on May 30th next, 20 records. Except for Southampton and New York she will be the largest vessel ever to enter world ports.

Prediction of a favorable year for the fruit growers of the Annapolis Valley is already being made for 1931. Dr. Blair, superintendent of the Government Experimental Farm, Kentville, N S., announces there is every indication of an excellent crop, adding that fruit buds had formed unusually well and were plump.

Statistics gathered from cities and towns having a population of 4,000 and over show that in this much centres with a total population of 2,350,161 the number of police officers employed was 3,561, or one officer to every 671 persons. As an instance of their efficiency it is reported that of the 11,160 automobiles stolen in the year 1929, all but 16 were recovered.

While industry and commerce are preparing their plans and methods for low-cost operation and quality service in the coming summer home and farm owners, business, our rural systems, a portion, many long miles of these service lines, are cramped in that respect by inability to accommodate persons in all years as did the pioneers of the country in the days of the Railway Builder's custom.

THE STANDARD

VERMILION — ALBERTA

ESTABLISHED 1909.

S. R. P. COOPER — EDITOR.

Vermilion, Alta., March 12, 1931.

The honour accorded all Canada's 17th parliament opened today. In the absence of the governor-general designate, the Earl of Bessborough, the ceremony was performed by Mr. Justice Duff of the supreme court of Canada, acting as administrator for the Dominion. He is the first Canadian to perform this office.

A PESSIMIST

Do you know what a pessimist is? He is a man who pulls down the blind when evening comes and lights in dark.

He creates insufferable difficulties where they do not exist. He certainly expends a splendid deal of energy; only it is employed to invent obstacles rather than to remove them.

He draws the black curtain of doubt over the lamp of hope, and does his utmost to strangle the faith that makes a dead and supreme effort worth while in the dark hour of reverse and thwarted expectations. That spirit leads nowhere except to the wilderness.

The pessimist has never discovered a continent; neither has he rebuilt a fallen world. He is the spiritual antithesis of the enterprising spirit that takes hazards, and to follow him is to court both moral and material atrophy.

It is a profound truth that a man who regards the winds shall not sow; that the man who observes the clouds shall not reap.

The white lady of success has often an impish habit of withholding the legend and material effort has worn out her follower to the point of exhaustion. She binds him through the valley of the shadow before she discover the green pastures and the still waters.

For the first ten minutes of the game—although the locals were in for another trouble, but after Munro found the goal off a pass from Bohlender, and Bohlender, in his ex cept adding up the score. Bohlender in the local ice system gave an exhibition of good hockey for first period that has not been equalled on local ice this year, and it was not his fault that ten pucked him. He must be given credit though, for those tough hard shots that did not. Carson scored the visitors' second goal one minute and one on a hard drive.

The locals in the second and third periods showed their lack of condition, Vermilion and Spencer being the only players that were in any way effective. Walter Fairey made several of his characteristic rushes, only to be defeated by the defense. The visitors proved themselves to be a fast-skating snappy-stickhandling aggregation capable of keeping up a dizzy pace for the whole 60 minutes.

Here the remainder of the goals were scored. Second period—Brimacombe drew Bohlender out of the net and slipped in a hot one; English got the fourth of the game on a pretty individual play, getting right through the local defense: Munro scored shortly after on a pass from F. Brimacombe who went behind the net for the pack; English got the last of this period on another individual effort. White opened the scoring in the third period from a mix-up in front of the goal; Wahlenberger broke away from his own defense and came through like a streak of lightning; F. Brimacombe sent a long shot from the end of a pass from Fallow, and White sent in a hot one from six foot distance.

Spencer played himself out in the second period in an effort to stem the tide, but luck of team work was unfortunately one of the causes for the verdict. The locals, however, had not been in a game or practice since their game at Vermilion two weeks ago, when they were victorious.

Lloydminster—Goal, Bohlender; defense, Spencer and Fallow; forwards, Tendack, Wallace, Peterson, Coe, and Wesley.

Vermilion — Goal, Powell; defense, Brimacombe, Waldenberger; forwards, Carson, English, White, Munro, F Brimacombe and Fallow

BURNED HIM RIGHT

A portly woman of very elusive beauty was addressing a meeting on temperance reform. "My friends," she said, "I had a husband who was addicted to the bottle. He was a great trial to me, but one day I persuaded him to take the pledge. He did so, and my joy was so great, so overwhelming, that I flung my arms around his neck and kissed him."

"And served 'im jolly well right," added a voice from the crowd.

SPIRIT OF PROPHECY

An excellent spirit was ever in those who were persecuted, and even the heathen, let alone the agnostics, took note, as we see in Dan. 6.3. This Daniel was preferred above the presidents and governors, because an excellent spirit was found in him. King Darieus of the Medes, had to learn later, and was taught by the same excellent spirit of Daniel's, exhibited, as he was tested, in the Lion's Den, that Daniel's God really his own Creator as well How often the prophets of God were the ones who revealed God to the heathen, and how often it took prophecy fulfilled to prove Him and manifest Him to a nation! The Messiah Himself says "Now I tell you before it come to pass, that when it is come to pass, ye may believe that I am He." He had reference to John going to betray Him when He said this.

"This is by no means (as we already know) the only way God is revealed to man. But this is that one and the same spirit which inflamed the Martyrs and sent them on boldly to their deaths, even to being tortured, sawn asunder, crucified, hanged and beheaded. We ask why all the pain was braved and faced with such courage? The answer is, for the same reason the prophets of old prophesied and lived in such excellent spirit: simply to reveal God to the heathen, agnostic, and others. The same spirit inflames God's true healers and teachers throughout history. This may be called that Spirit of Love and Concern, which is ever seeking to make Him known and loved, that the wrath of God may be lifted from the souls of men, because of their disobedience to Him and their unbelief in Him.

Respect For The Law

Views entertained by people with respect to the majesty of the law seem to be divided into two main classes, which regard the laws of their country as having been enacted primarily for the protection of the rights and liberties of the people and in the second group, those who act as if they considered all laws an infringement upon their rights and a denial of liberty to which they feel themselves entitled.

Speaking in a large and general sense, the former view is entertained and upheld in Great Britain, while the second view apparently animates a very large percentage of the people of the United States. Public conception of the functions of the law in Canada is divided between these two groups. Canada's political system, its code of laws, and its ideals and methods of law enforcement, are based on the laws of England, and have come down to us through the centuries, with precedent built upon precedent. But, on the other hand, living next door to the big republic, and with a daily intercourse which is not possible to the same extent with Great Britain, our people are naturally and insensibly influenced and affected by the prevailing trend of thought across the line.

Public conception of the functions of law are the foundations upon which a nation is reared. It is therefore, of vital importance that those concepts be sound and firmly established in the minds and ideals of the people. The sentiment in the United States is known to one thing in causing public men, and the more seriously minded portion of the people, greater concern than the break-down of law in that country. Apart from the disastrous effect on the morals of the people, it is costing them in dollars and cents more than all the taxation imposed by governments, both Federal and State.

The trouble with the United States is that people have developed the belief and the younger generation is growing up in that belief, that they can defy the law with impunity and get away with it: that laws are not enforced for their protection, but quite the reverse: that courts and police designed for their protection, but quite the reverse: that courts and police designed for their protection, but quite the reverse: that courts and police designed

Science has finally succeeded in locating the Jazz germ. Recent experiments have proved conclusively that the disease can be combatted by a liberal application of jungle methods to modern ballets and pantomime. This will be demonstrated on March 16th in the Columbia Theatre by the King of the Jungle, "Barbarossa of Barbary."

Grand Challenge Won By J. A. Morison

Dr. J. D. Heaslip of Mananville, Wins Two Cups at Annual Banquet

The 17th annual banquet of the Vermilion Curling Club was wound up on Friday with the exception of the final of the Brunswick, which was played on Monday morning for the convenience of the players. The title spiel was played on perfect ice, the best here for several years for this event. Dr. Heaslip of Mananville was the big winner of the spiel, taking both the Brunswick and Vermilion Hotel Cups. "Jock" Morison of Vermilion won the Grand Challenge, and Castleman of Kitscoty took the Consolation. Fred C. Long was also in the finals of the two open events, only to lose in each, while John Bodington's quartet also won their way into the finals of the two big events, and lost to Long in each. Dr. Heaslip was only defeated once—by Corley in the Challenge—during the spiel.

Twenty-one rinks, nine visitors and twelve home rinks, participated. The complete list of winners is as follows:

Grand Challenge—1, J. A. Morison, Vermilion; 2, P. C. Long, Vermilion; 3, E. M. Stewart, Vermilion; 4, J. V. Bodington, Vermilion.

Brunswick Hotel — 1, Dr. Heaslip, Mananville; 2, P. C. Long, Vermilion; 3, R. K. Jones, Mananville; 4, J. V. Bodington, Vermilion.

Vermilion Hotel — 1, Dr. Heaslip, Mananville; 2, A. Beecroft, Islay; 3, G. M. Cundal, Mananville; 4, J. A. Morison, Vermilion.

Consolation — 1, Casselman, Kitscoty; 2, E. Corley, Vermilion; 3, Dr. Knoll, Vermilion; 4, Moore, Islay.

The Grand Challenge winners rink consisted of J. A. Morison, skip; 11, Munroe, 3rd; Jim Cameron, 2nd; and I. Pinchbeck, lead

The runners-up rink was: Fred C. Long, skip; W. Gillespie, 3rd; Preston Sharp, 2nd, and H. A. Crosby, lead.

The draws were in the hands of J. F. McQuarrie, who is to be congratulated on the manner in which he handled some.

VERMILION GIRL AT VARSITY IS HONORED

Presentation Won Complete Triumph

Little Theatre Club Scores Great Success in Local Performance

The Little Theatre Club which came into existence at Vermilion a few weeks ago, amply justified its purpose along the public entertainment line and the development of local talent in the complete success it scored at its presentation of "Barbarossa of Barbary" at the Columbia Theatre Monday evening of this week The overflowing house, the marked enthusiasm and the rounds of applause were a distinct tribute to the men and women who had undertaken the somewhat difficult task of presenting this performance for the first time to a Vermilion audience, indeed as far as can be gathered but a few times in Western Canada at all. It is a sparkling two-act musical comedy, the scene of which is laid in Algiers One thing that emphasized this performance was the swing and the pep with which it was carried along The little rules were enlisted exploited and were carried forward in a most fascinating manner F. Olsen as Barbarossa had naturally a heavy part, but he performed it admirably. The whole play swung around his massive and piratical form Matt Brimacombe as Jim Crow, the "spiritual" servant, was one of the surprises of the evening He was equally at home in the jig as well as in the chap step of the cake. Jim was a treat all in himself Commodore Decatur of the British Navy was ably portrayed by Jack Markle Nothing could be better; his rendition of "While the World Goes By" and "The Land of Romance" were outstanding features of the evening's performance The cast featured the first appearance of Mrs. Pullyblank who took the part of Althea, the daughter of Barbarossa. Mrs. Pullyblank acquitted herself in a most charming manner. Her solo work was admirable and maintained equality with her parts in the duets with Mr. Markle The audience was captivated with her graceful movements and the perfect ease with which she met her parts. Who Giarvil as the lley of Morocco did excellent work and rendered two solos with a splendid voice. Clifford Gates as Tinguf, the mad and excelled himself in the [illegible] Pullin" Jack Holder as the French consul played the part with real French mannerism. The girls in the bootblack chorus and the dancing girls were record, such was the appeal their work made to the audience. The chef chorus by six boys was also a feature of the program. It also was encored.

Mr. Tom Watts was quite at home as Perdinand and in which he excelled himself, his solo work was as usual at most pleasing. Mrs. Lillian Finch beck has not been heard on the stage in Vermilion for some years and to say that her come-back was a complete triumph is putting it mildly. Mrs Finch beck has a most charming voice and a very pleasing stage manner

The audience was unanimous in the opinion that "Barbarossa of Barbary" was an achievement on the part of the Little Theatre club that calls for a repetition. It had no dull nor dragging moments and it was scintillating in its effects from beginning to end. Special mention must be made of the music rendered by the Vermilion orchestra on its initial appearance. Mr. Gilbert Brimacombe presided at the piano

CLAIMS SIMPLE SOWING HELPS

A follower of the curling game in Manitoba in experimenting with the advantage of sweeping a curling rock has provided irrefutable proof that it does

An incline was built at one end of a rink and well iced. The stone was allowed to slide down and along the ice by their own momentum

The stone which was allowed to travel without any aid from the brooms went 94 feet.

With indifferent sweeping a stone went 103½ feet.

With brisk sweeping a stone went 112 feet

Close lateral sweeping cuts a score two inches

Vigorous sweeping behind a stone retarded it ten inches

Broom hold fast behind the stone retarded it twelve inches

Reckless Motor Driving

With the approach of spring the time draws near when once again the roads and highways of the country will be thronged with long of thousands of automobiles and the streets of our larger cities jammed with traffic. Soon tourists will again be in our midst, while week-end trips from our centres of population to summer resorts and other vacation spots will engage the attention of the residents of all urban and many rural sections.

Is the result to be the hanging up of another new high record number of fatalities arising out of automobile accidents? Is 1931 to provide another dark spot on our much vaunted civilization with as much recklessness in automobile driving and resultant deaths as were recorded in 1930? Are the more and better highways being provided all over the country to have the tragic outcome of steadily adding to the death toll because people using such better roads exercise less care in operating their cars?

Recent figures published for the city of Regina show a very large increase in the number of car accidents reported in 1930 as compared with previous years, and what is true of Regina is true of practically every city in Canada and the United States.

A United States magazine in a recent issue, dealt with the rising death toll due to reckless automobile driving across the line. While these figures apply only to the United States, they disclose a state of affairs which is equally applicable to Canada. Some of the facts established may well be quoted.

Motor accidents in the United States, in 1930, killed 32,500 people, and injured more than 960,000 —in other words, one million victims. More than 2,000 little children under five years of age were killed, and more than 65,000 were injured. The magazine notes that the World War did not take a greater toll of American lives in battle.

Remarkable as it may seem, this magazine considers that the most encouraging aspect of this appalling loss lies in the fact that recklessness was not the principal cause of the accidents, carelessness and over-confidence kill and injure as many, carefulness and consideration can prevent such losses"

Evidence goes to show that the majority of accidents occurred on straight and dry roads, in daylight, with experienced and mature drivers at the wheel. In an overwhelming majority the machine functioned properly; the man was at fault. He took unjustifiable chances.

In a striking analysis of accident reports from forty States, a well known insurance company dispels many cherished illusions on this subject. Contrary to a common impression, women were proved to be safer drivers than men. Young men at their best physical development were the worst offenders.

Improper driving and nothing else was responsible for more than two-thirds of all the fatalities and injuries recorded in 1930. Speeding, driving on the wrong side of the road, and failure to grant right-of-way, all evidences of improper driving, accounted for 68 per cent. of the accidents.

Other violations of the laws as well as of common sense took a heavy toll. Failure to signal caused the deaths of 600 people and accounted for the injury of 49,778. More than 20,000 accidents resulted from motorists driving off the roadway. The biggest single cause of accidents, however, was the improper attempt to take the right-of-way from some other traveller—recklessness, haggishness.

As might be expected, week-end driving is most hazardous. Sunday is the worst day by far, and Saturday is next.

There was a time when defective condition of cars, poor brakes, etc., were held responsible for most accidents. Today the fact has been well established that as drivers we are not as good as the cars we operate. Men have learned to operate ships at sea safely The records of the railroads are marvellous. Where safety is the goal, airplanes have achieved miracles in protecting human life. Only in the case of the automobile, a high-speed, fast moving machine if we put our minds to it.

What we have to learn in this land is more important than speed. Drivers must be made to realize that they are steering three or four thousand pounds of steel in swift locomotion, the possible destructive power of which is enormous.

Safety is worth more than anything else The maiming, and the killing, and the destruction of millions of property must be stopped and we, the average drivers, can do it.

When you drive, remember, says this magazine writer, that a lot of kiddy are on the road, and that you may have to protect yourself against both fools and road hogs; and occasional drunks, as well as against absent-minded pedestrians and heedless children. In such fashion you will at least have made your contribution to national safety and, incidentally, you will get more pleasure and more use out of your motor car.

"Stop" Signals For Speedsters

Automatic signals of the type familiar to motorists were used to establish a warning to speeders talking by a more than their allotted time at a dinner given by the National Industry First" Association at the Vintner's Hall, E.C., in honor of the Royal Commission on Transport.

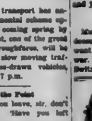
Canadian Furniture

Furniture manufactured in the 867 establishments engaged in the industry in Canada had a value of over $64,000,000 in 1929. Practically the same amount was the combined output of furniture made in Canada in sold in the Dominion. The value of furniture exported in 1929 was only $381,784.

La Grippe and "Flu" are Spreading

"Flu" First Appears as a Sore Throat, but Gains Tremendous Headway in Six Hours

AN EFFECTIVE TREATMENT DESCRIBED



Nearly every case of "Flu" starts with a simple cold. At first the throat is sore—often just a little hoarse—soon the infection goes lower—then the chest is affected. A safe plan is to gargle the throat three times daily with "Nerviline"—this will keep the throat free from germs. If there is any sign of tightness in the chest, rub on Nerviline—every drop penetrates deeply—congestion will be relieved—the cold will break up quickly. Many a dangerous case of "Flu" can be avoided by this simple home treatment.

Experienced mothers know how valuable Nerviline is for Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, and the little ailments that arise in every family. Nerviline in most homes is called "Mother's Best Friend." 30c at all dealers.

World's Leading Pipe

French Aviator Wins Armed Service Five World Records.

Dedomene Coste, Paris-to-New York flyer, has been designated the world's premier aviator by the awards committee of the International League of Aviators.

Mrs. Amy Johnson, who flew from London, England, to Australia, was given higher honors among women flyers. She and Costa were received at the Elysee Palace by President Doumergue and presented with silver cups at a formal ceremony.

Costa's only rival at the committee session was Wing Commander Charles Augustus Smith, Australian "ace," and the Frenchman was chosen because he holds five world records in addition to the accomplishment of his Atlantic flight.

The committee also ordered plaques to be struck to honor Mrs. Victor Bruce, Marlyse Bastie and Mrs. Charles Lindbergh.

Dr. Hugo Eckener was designated the world's premier dirigible pilot.

Magnesia Best for Your Indigestion

Most people who suffer, either occasionally or chronically from gas, sourness, indigestion, nervousness, constipation, sick headache, biliousness, and tainted, take a tablespoonful or four tablets of Bisurated Magnesia after meals or with the result that their stomachs no longer sour, gas or ferment. Bisurated Magnesia is the original product which was introduced to the public many years ago by Dr. Haig. It instantly neutralizes the excess acidity which causes indigestion and most forms of fermentation, and makes you feel fine. Get a bottle of Bisurated Magnesia powder or tablets from your druggist and keep it handy prepared for stomach ills.

Much Capital Invested

Biscuit, Confectionery, Chocolate and Cocoa Industries Show 1931 Establishments

According to the latest figures — those covering the year 1929—issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics with reference to the biscuit, confectionary, chocolate and cocoa industries of Canada, the amount of capital invested that year was $64,230,-902; the number of persons employed, 13,072; salaries and wages amounted to $13,705,576; cost of materials $27,-717,929, and value of products $60,-485,261. There are 181 established, it is said.

Miller's Worm Powders act so thoroughly that stomachic and intestinal disorders from the child without being noticed and without any unpleasantness to either. They are painless and perfect in action, and at all times safe for a child of healthy habits, strengthening the infantile stomach and maintaining it in healthful operation. They are not being an effective vermifuge, they are natural and health-giving in their effects.

Hatchery Approval Policy

Big Saving To Canadian Farmers This Year Is Forecast

A saving to Canadian farmers this year of $300,000 is forecast for the hatchery approval policy of the Department of Agriculture, according to the Minister, Hon. Robert Weir. Under the policy, hatcheries are operated, producing about 5,000,000 baby chicks a year, which are available to farmers at low prices. Records show these chicks to have a low mortality rate.

Piece Of Bented Plate Is Removed From Lens Of Patient

A piece of dental plate, measuring 1¼ inches by ¾ inch and holding three teeth, was taken from the lung of Victor Brander, Cochrane lumber merchant, by Dr. R. B. Hamilton, of the Lockwood Clinic at Timmins, surgeon of the most unusual operations in medical records.

Four months ago Brander was seized with a violent coughing spell, and, without knowing it, bit upon the metal dental plate. The broken portion passed down his throat and lodged in his lungs.

The bronchoscope, instrument used for retrieving objects from the lungs, was used and it took more than two hours of very delicate manipulation by the doctor before he was successful.

An Ever-Present Menace

Carbon Monoxide Gas Most Treacherous Because Its Warning Given

A recent bulletin issued by the Roads Department of the Province of Quebec, contains an important reference to the danger created by the presence of carbon monoxide, a menace all the greater because it may extend even to an automobile in motion. This gas is the most useful pursuit by all motor drivers. Carbon monoxide is a colorless, tasteless, practically odorless gas, and is actually not irritant even on the mucous membranes of the respiratory tract. Because of these properties, it is impossible to detect it by any of the five senses. It is, therefore, a most treacherous gas, since it can be poisoned in dangerous quantities without giving any warning whatever.

Highest Crane in World

Made In Glasgow, Lifts Stones 200 Feet In the Air

If the world's highest crane had been erected in other part of the Atlantic the world would have known all the details long ago. But it has been constructed in Glasgow, and grow, with the result that the first intimation is that it has been erected on the site of the new cathedral in Liverpool. The crane, which can lift stones 200 feet in the air, weighs over 300 tons, and is carried on a contractor base 480 tons in weight. The base of the control cabin is 180 feet from the ground. The crane will be in its present position for about seven years, when it will be re-erected higher for the building of the cathedral's main spire. The crane was constructed by Butters Brothers and Co., Ltd., at their Rinning Park works.—Glasgow Herald.

Piece Of Bented Plate Is Removed From Lung Of Patient

A piece of dental plate, measuring 1¼ inches by ¾ inch and holding three teeth, was taken from the lung of Victor Brander, Cochrane lumber merchant, by Dr. R. B. Hamilton, of the Lockwood Clinic at Timmins, surgeon of the most unusual operations in medical records.

Four months ago Brander was seized with a violent coughing spell, and, without knowing it, bit upon the metal dental plate. The broken portion passed down his throat and lodged in his lungs.

The bronchoscope, instrument used for retrieving objects from the lungs, was used and it took more than two hours of very delicate manipulation by the doctor before he was successful.

Atmosphere 10 Leth Hundred Miles Deep

But Sun Has Atmosphere Depth Of 6,000 Miles

New discoveries about the sun's atmosphere have been disclosed to Dr. Albert Einstein at the Mount Wilson Observatory, near Pasadena, California, by Dr. Charles E. St. John, of the Carnegie Institution, of Washington. The sun's atmosphere is 10,000 miles deep, compared with the 100 mile depth of the earth's atmosphere. The outermost layer of the sun's atmosphere is composed of the lightest gases, helium and hydrogen. The sun's atmosphere, unlike that of the earth, is different, the outermost layer being of ionized calcium, forty times heavier than the layer of hydrogen that lies closer to the sun.

In the earth's atmosphere the first seven miles from the earth form a layer in which wind storms occur up to a velocity of 200 miles per hour. At 35 miles up argon, one of the constituents of air, disappears. Farther up there is no more oxygen, and at 75 miles only hydrogen is present, leaving only helium and hydrogen for the last thirty miles.

Life Insurance More Popular

People Taking Advantage Of Attractive Policies Offered

One of the outstanding developments in the recent financial history of the United States is the remarkable growth in life insurance. The application of the principle of group life insurance to institutions and industries has made life insurance available to large numbers of persons who have never before carried any form of life insurance. The individual annual premiums in these cases are usually small, ranging from $1,000 to $5,000. But there has also been a marked increase in the number of large policies written. In 1929 there were 54 persons whose lives were insured for $1,000,000 or more. In 1930 there were 323 persons carrying life insurance for that amount.—Wall Street Journal.

More than one out of every ten resignations from the sales force of a department store, are due to health conditions, according to a recent investigation.

PARLIAMENT IS OPENED WITH MUCH CEREMONY

Ottawa, Ont.—History was made in the Canada chamber of the parliament buildings. For the first time since Confederation, a Canadian acted as representative of His Majesty the King, in opening parliament, when Rt. Hon. Lyman P. Duff, administrator and acting chief justice of the Supreme Court of Canada read the Speech from the Throne.

Despite the absence of the governor-general all the color, the ceremony and the pomp associated with the opening of the Dominion parliament was in evidence. Boasting cannon, brass bands, shining uniforms, beautiful gowns all played their part in the occasion. For the ceremonies were gathered many of those most prominent in the political, religious, educational and social life of the Dominion.

His Excellency the administrator, arrived amid the booming of guns and the notes of the national anthem. He was escorted to the senate chamber, taking his seat there on the vice-regal throne. Round him stood or sat representatives of the government, the senate, house of commons, the cabinet and the diplomatic corps, the courts, foreign governments. Galleries were crowded.

In the meantime, the commoners had gathered in their own chamber, the scene of many dramatic events in days gone by. They waited for five or ten minutes, belonging to Ernest Lapointe, minister of justice, handshaking. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, former minister of justice, just recovered from a severe illness, was met for many friendly greetings from those on both sides of the House.

All had quieted down when sharp knocks on the door. The sergeant-at-arms hurried to open and admit the gentleman usher of the black rod conveying the summons to the Senate. Led by Hon. George Black, speaker, the commoners solemnly through the marble paved corridor to the red chamber, filling all available space and standing. They were good naturedly as they went along. Then the Speech was read.

It contained several interesting declarations, although following along lines already forecast. The expected tariff revision was announced, but only "incidental adjustments" to present British preference schedules will be made. Legislation will be introduced to create a tariff board. This is in line with announcements made by the prime minister some time ago.

Introduction of radio legislation is postponed pending decision of the courts as to question of jurisdiction. Estimates "will be cut down. Action of some kind with respect to old age pensions. That agriculture, technical education and highway construction was forecast. Further assistance will be given in the marketing of Canadian wheat. Amendments to the Naturalization Act, the Canada Copyright Act, and a bill "to provide for the more effective control of national finance" will be introduced.

The speech contained an optimistic declaration with respect to the future of Canada, and an assertion that the tariff changes made at the past session had already proved beneficial.

Having listened to the speech in both official languages, members of the Commons returned to their own chamber. A slight delay followed while the prime minister was doffing his ceremonial clothing. His entrance was the signal for an ovation from his followers.

Gasoline Prices Reduced

Cut Is Announced In Prices For Eastern Canada

Montreal, Que.—Gasoline prices in Ontario, Quebec and the Maritime provinces were reduced this morning.

The reductions follow: Toronto, the inland of Brul, and principal cities in Western Ontario, 2½ cents per gallon; elsewhere in the provinces of Quebec and Ontario, 3 cents per gallon; Maritime provinces, one-half cent per gallon

The changes were announced by John Irwin, president of McColl-Frontenac Oil Company, who said all refiners had decided on the changes. It was the second downward revision of prices in about a month, and followed the establishment by the Ottawa Government of a 2½ cents protective tariff on the products of Canadian oil refineries.

To Assist Farmers

Government Grants For Promotion Of Cattle Raising

Ottawa, Ont.—Government grants for the promotion of cattle raising in Western Canada were announced by Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture. With a view to assisting farmers to establish themselves in the breeding of cattle for either beef or dairy purposes, the governments will pay freight charges on carload lots of purebred stock from Eastern Canada.

Freight charges will be refunded, Mr. Weir stated, providing the consignee forwards to the breeding live-stock commissioner at Ottawa the receipted freight bill and a formal statement showing the conditions attached to the grants have been complied with. In order to benefit, the purchaser must show that the carload consisted of at least 13 head of female cattle, not under eight months old and over two years old.

Only cattle that have been declared by a Dominion veterinarian to be free from tuberculosis, or other diseases may be included in a shipment and the animals must be shown to be of "good type" from a producing standpoint. The new policy goes into effect immediately.

Railway Asking Fifty Million Stock Issue

C.P.R. Has Forwarded Official Notice To Shareholders

Montreal, Que.—At the 50th annual meeting of the Canadian Pacific Railway, to be held here May 6, authority will be asked for the issue of $50,000,000 ordinary capital stock, in amounts, on such terms, and at such times as the directors may fix.

Official notice to this effect has been forwarded to the shareholders.

Toronto, Ont.—"While no direct explanation has been forthcoming as to why the Canadian Pacific should require an additional $50,000,000, it appears probable that the immediate purpose is to meet the tonnage which is replacement in this category before December 31, 1936.

Aircraft-carriers Each nation may build 34,000 tons in this category.

Submarines Both countries agreed not to include any submarines in the 1931 programme, and not to lay down any further submarine tonnage before 1933.

Essence of the agreement is maintenance of the status quo in tonnage ratios, France retaining an estimated superiority of 150,000 tons.

The terms were made public here in the form of a memorandum to parliament by Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, British Foreign Secretary, and Rt. Hon. A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, who achieved the agreement in conversations with representatives of France and Italy

French Envoy For Ottawa

Ottawa, Ont.—Once again France is represented in Canada by her own minister. Charles Arsene Henry, minister plenipotentiary to Canada of France, accompanied by Madame Henry, has arrived in Ottawa from New York. At Montreal M. Henry said he thought France would be able to provide a good market for Canadian wheat as she has not committed herself to relegated purchases from European countries.

Canadian Dollar Above Par

Second High Quotation In New York This Year

New York.—The Canadian dollar slid above par March 11, for the second time this year, being quoted in the money market here at 1.04 of one per cent premium.

The strength of Canadian funds has been attributed to Canadian financing in the local market and bankers attribute the gain to placing of an issue of $11,876,000 City of Montreal gold bonds.

Naval Accord Is Made Public In London

London, England.—Limitation of French and Italian naval programs was announced here officially down to the terms of the British-French-Italian naval accord, made public recently.

But even more important than its technical provisions in the opinion of the three governments concerned, the agreement marks a European peace memorable closer and provides a point of departure for the discussion of disarmament at the world parley next year.

The accord covers building programmes for battleships, cruisers, aircraft-carriers and submarines, in substance as follows:

Battleships—Both France and Italy are given the right to complete before December, 1936, two capital ships whose displacement shall not exceed 23,333 tons, and whose gun calibre shall not exceed 12 inches.

Cruisers—Both nations agree that after completion of the 1930 class they will build no more big cruisers with armament larger than six-inch guns. In the small cruiser category France is allowed 70,000 tons of new construction to be completed shall not exceed the tonnage which is replacement in this category before December 31, 1936.

Wheat Experts Increase

Ottawa, Ont. Wheat is moving freely through export channels, according to a report issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. During the seven months ended February 28, experts totalled 148,084,000 bushels, against 88,420,000 bushels in the corresponding period a year ago

Shipments of Canadian wheat from Canadian ports are not included.

Despite the heavier volume, lower wheat prices kept the total value down, the figure being $111,725,000, as compared with $117,429,000. Of the total, 90,140,000 bushels went to the United Kingdom, 7,722,000 bushels to the United States, and 50,125,000 to other countries.

Work For Unemployed

Says More Relief Money Earned In Manitoba Than Any Other

Winnipeg, Man.—Hon. W. R. Clubb, director of relief projects, replied to Conservative charges that Dominion government money had been withheld from unemployed in Manitoba with an assertion that more unemployment relief money had been earned in Manitoba than any other western provinces. He told the legislature that projects financed jointly by the Dominion government and municipalities had been started promptly last fall and would be continued in the spring for the assistance, said Mr. Clubb, led the way in providing jobs for the out-of-work. Instead of money being withheld, it had been paid out in lump sum and winter construction. More would go to men now out of jobs when some of the largest projects were started in the spring.

By using Dominion Government relief money in constructing Manitoba's link of the trans-Canada highway, Mr. Clubb said more men had been employed than if the province had done the work alone. A "wider and better" road would be the result, he added

WORK OF IRWIN IN INDIA PRAISED BY BALDWIN

London, England.—In the autumn of this year, another Indian conference will meet in London, England—with the members of the Indian Nationalist Congress participating—to consider the constitution of a new Federal India. In the preliminary conversations in India the British Conservatives will not participate. But they will be ready to be consulted on Indian policy, nor do they rule out Conservative participation in the autumn conference.

So much emerges from drastic debate on India in the House of Commons. Turbaned figures here and there in the galleries lent an exotic touch to the scene. Lord Irwin, the viceroy and Gandhi swept are as the India stage but it was the battle of Rt Hon Stanley Baldwin, Conservative leader, with his die-hards and his challenge flung startlingly across the floor which held and gripped the House

As he threw down his challenge, Mr. Baldwin turned halfway around towards the packed benches of his followers. He would, he declared, approach the Indian question with no niggardly spirit.

"But if there are those in the Conservative party," he proceeded, who would approach this subject in a niggardly and grudging spirit, who would have concessions forced from a reluctant hand if they are in the majority then in God's name let them throw me out their leader.

"But, if they are in the minority," Mr. Baldwin went on—seemingly reassured by the thunderous cheers from many of his followers, "then I will refrain from throwing further fire difficulties in the way of those who have undertaken an almost superhuman task."

When Mr Baldwin quoted from a speech delivered by Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill, so-called "die-hard" on the Conservative side, a dozen years ago, in which Mr. Churchill pleaded for cooperation between the two countries, Mr. Churchill rose to hear his brilliant colleague who sat only a few seats away from his leader

In his subsequent speech, Mr. Churchill made no reference to the Baldwin challenge. To the accompaniment of ironical Labor cheers he declared his agreement with the Baldwin policy against Conservatives participation in a round-table conference in India and, like Mr. Baldwin, Mr Churchill did not rule out Conservative participation in the London conference

But while the leader and Mr. Churchill followed the same path so far, they differed widely over the Simon-Gandhi agreement.

The changing East, said Mr. Baldwin, was changing with dazed speed. Lord Irwin had worked on agreement which Mr. Baldwin believed, could have been reached by no other Englishman. It had definitely ensured the future of goodwill and cooperation in India.

I believe now, as I believed last year," declared the Conservative leader, "that, if party co-operation were once broken the whole problem of government in India would be insoluble and impossible. and I, for one, would not accept the responsibility of attempting it."

POOL ELEVATOR PROBE IS ASKED FOR MANITOBA

Winnipeg, Man. — Charges that Manitoba Wheat Pool elevators derived their farmer-shareholders "enormous sums" through overages and under-grading may be probed by the provincial government.

Premier John Bracken had before him for consideration two requests for the appointment of a royal commission to inquire into the operation of the Pool elevators. One was from J. H. Murray, vice-president of the Alberta Pacific Grain Company, Limited, the other was delivered from Colin H. Burnell, president of the Manitoba Wheat Pool.

With both the accused and accuser demanding a governmental investigation, it seemed certain that a commission would be appointed although premier might wait action of the Dominion government which, it has been rumored, soon will appoint a commission to conduct a probe into grain marketing.

Premier Bracken refused comment on the letters. He said the government must have time to study the texts before announcing the choice of a commission. "I have nothing to say at present," he told newspaper interviewers

That should be satisfactory," said Mr. Murray, when advised that the president of the co-operative organization had requested a commission of investigation. "My charges are not an attack on the Pool by the grain trade," he said. "I sought in the probe on my own responsibility, in the interests of my many good friends among the farmers"

Mr Birrell branded the charges of extravagantly high expenses," etc., absolutely false in his letter to the premier and urged that a commission be appointed "as soon as possible," to probe the matter.

In a letter to Mr Bracken Mr Murray made his charges against the Pool elevators operated, and urged a government inquiry. He charged that farmers were "inveigled into becoming shareholders of P-3 elevators, had been deprived of large sums through overages and under grading to meet "extravagantly high expenses" and that the latter had been concealed from shareholders by "book keeping devices"

The letter from Mr Burnell to the premier reads "I have seen in the press a letter from Mr Murray, former manager of the United Grain Growers, in which he charges the Manitoba Pool elevators with practices which by inference are equivalent to the deliberate cheating of the members of the Pool elevator associations and he demands you to institute an investigation into Manitoba Pool Elevators Limited.

"These charges are absolutely false and I am instructed by the board of directors of the Manitoba Pool Elevators, Limited acting on behalf of the members and patrons of the local Pool elevator situation to request you to have a commission appointed to fully investigate the above mentioned charges as soon as possible."

Many Assisted Under Joint Relief Scheme

Labor Minister Issues Statement On Work Given Unemployed

Ottawa, Ont. — The Joint Dominion-provincial unemployment relief scheme which came into operation last September, has provided work for at least 231,251 persons, Senator G. D. Robertson said in a press release. The figure did not include the total for Quebec province but did include the number of men given work through special efforts of the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways.

The report from Saskatchewan indicate that the total number of men given employment was 19,954 up to February 28. 379,174 man-days work having been provided in addition 14,-151 individuals were given direct relief

Safeway Service Inspires Poem

I wandered up and down the street
In search of groceries and of meat;
No store in town was half so neat
As Safeway.

The store was crowded I could see,
The clerks were busy as could be—
But one came smiling up to me
At Safeway.

He was a pleasant sort of guy,
He told me what new foods to try;
They looked so good I had to buy
From Safeway.

I then went home and cooked a meal
My husband said "This is ideal"
To him the fact I did reveal—
'Twas Safeway.

My neighbors on these groceries rave,
The Safeway coffee, too, they crave—
And Oh, the money you can save
At Safeway!

All grocery stores I've tried the rest—
Safeway I'm sure leads all the rest
In quality they stand the test—
That's Safeway.

Since other stores cannot compete,
—but fast to you I will repeat.

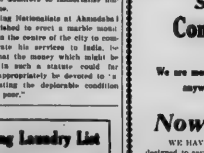
33,117,314 Pieces in Long Laundry List



Can you imagine a bewildered little Chinaman trying to total a laundry list of 33,117,314 pieces? But there is one like that. It is the total of washings done last year by and for the Canadian Pacific Railway Company's steamship service, which includes hotel and restaurant linen, and the various "Canadian Coast" boat services. If one stopped to think about it, one could figure out the gallons of water and tons of soap required for these operations, but perhaps it might be even more astounding.

The hotel department owns 709,921 pieces of linen; the dining cars, sleeping car service rooms 1,549,000 and the British Columbian steamships another 247,000, making a grand total of, 2,506,921 pieces. These include all "flat-pieces", such as table-cloths, sheets, napkins, towels, pillow-cases, etc; the white ones worn by the company's servants in the various departments, and, in the hotels, a certain amount of coloured goods. The grand total of laundry, however, includes bed-spreads, rugs, and so forth most of which are counted as one piece of laundry handed in. Hotel laundry-pieces each (less it appears in the South Seas). Then a single table-napkin may be a laundry-piece, or may not over again, according to the supply of linen material and available.

The figures above show a battery of washing machines in the laundry of the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, the largest hotel in the British Empire. Similar equipment in the dining cars of Canadian Pacific Railway hotels throughout Canada handles the great laundry list in various sections, with the assistance, in certain districts, of laundries outside the company's service. But the Standard maintained is the same everywhere, immovable conditions being the motto from which to hang both nature and colour.

EXTENSIVE ALTERATIONS IN THE ORANGE HALL

Full Basement Being Excavated

The Vermilion Orange Lodge have extensive operations under way in their new hall, formerly the old Baptist church and more recently used by the Presbyterians. Many changes have already been effected in the interior and a full basement is now being excavated under the building. The local L.O.L. recently purchased this building for their lodgerooms and also with an eye to which it stands and the corner lot adjacent to it. This is the first fraternal society of the town to own its own quarters.

"BARBAROSA" AT LLOYDMINSTER LAST NIGHT

400 People See Little Theatre Club's Play

"Barbarossa" herded his band of pirates to Lloydminster on Wednesday, and the Little Theatre club presented their play "Barbarossa of Barbary" in the Empress theatre there last evening to an audience of 400 people. The play was very well received. The part of "Jim Crow," as well enacted here by Matt Brimacombe on Monday evening, was taken by Dr. W. W. Bell on account of the sudden illness of Mr. Brimacombe. The doctor had only a short time to study the part, but proved a source of delight to the border town audience.

Bills amounting to $548.06 were passed. A special meeting to consider finances for 1931 was set for Saturday April 4th, and council adjourned.

MRS. JAMES DOW

Mrs. James Dow passed away at the family home, Vermilion, on Monday, March 16th at the age of 63 years, 1 months and 22 days. Her death is generally mourned by townspeople and a host of former neighbors and friends in the Pelican Lake district, where she and her husband were old-time settlers. Born in Philadelphia in 1868 of Irish parents, deceased was married to James Dow at Barnsay, Mich., U. S., in 1893, where they resided for five years. In the year 1894 they moved to Canada, residing near Toronto, Ont. until coming west in the spring of 1906. They made their home on the farm 12 miles north of town in the Pelican Lake district. Mrs. Dow was well and favorably known during her fifteen years residence in that district. Although suffering from a leg injury received while living in the east and from which she never fully recovered, she always retained a bright and cheerful spirit though having to undergo some five operations on her leg. In 1921 Mr. and Mrs. Dow left the farm and retired to Vermilion, residing here ever since. Her fatal illness was of two weeks duration, being attended throughout by Nurse Slade, a granddaughter of Lamont hospital. Besides her husband she leaves to mourn her loss an adopted daughter, Alberta Dow.

The funeral took place from the United church on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock and was largely attended by friends and sympathizers. The Rev. Wm. Simons of Edmonton, an early pastor of the Presbyterian church in this field and an old friend of the family, conducted the services. He was assisted by Rev. H. A. Boyd, pastor of the church, and Mr. Chisholm of the local Presbyterian church. Mr. M. N. Noble of Winnipeg, a sister-in-law of Mr. Dow, attended. The pallbearers were laid to rest in the Vermilion cemetery, the pall bearers being David McPhee, Joe Killion, E.I. Wilson, Richard Stredrick, Tom Hindmarsh and Sidney Barwick — all old friends and neighbors of the deceased. Among the many beautiful floral offerings were: Wreaths, "Jim and Alberta", Mr. and Mrs. Ras Norlen, Airlie; Mr. Kaye Family; Pillow, the Presbyterian congregation. Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Al Hubbard, Alameda Wash., the High School students, Sprays: Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Telford, Mr. and Mrs. N. Gyrig, Mrs. Stinson and Margaret, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wahl, North Battleford, Davies' Meat Market, Mr. and Mrs. O. Burns and Mr. and Mrs. Dave Lowe.

Sincere sympathy is extended to the family in their sore bereavement.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr James Dow and Alberta wish to thank their many friends for the kind help and sympathy extended to them in this, and bereavement and especially Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Wolfersperger, and Mrs. J. Reid whose untiring efforts are deeply appreciated, as well as those who kindly loaned their cars.

THRUSH FIRST HERALD OF SPRING

What with pussy willows bursting forth, gophers which never went to hole, at least till after the last big snow storm, and robins being seen around the country, spring must surely be near. On top of this the Standard received a phone call from a citizen on Tuesday who had just seen a thrush sitting on a fence, the bird appeared much at home as was warbling contentedly. Here's hoping one of our cold March days—which we might possibly get—doesn't prove too much for the little fellow.

Fine Weather Still Holds Sway

More Snow Falls

The weather has continued mild and seldom has gone down to the vicinity of the zero mark during the past week. The mild weather has induced continued light snowfalls so that the land will be assured of a fair supply of moisture from this source this spring. A tendency to melt has been marked during the past few days and a bright warm sun this Thursday has been playing havoc with the snow around the town

BACKACHE

Wonderful relief from pain

Backache is one of those worrying complaints which blind all those afflicted together with a common bond of misery. And when any one sufferer finds backache leads a easy remedy, fellowship prompts the quick spread of that discovery to others. Here's a woman who has tried to banish her backache and is now honestly convinced of its banishment. Now gratitude prompts her, in turn, to pass on the good news to you.

"I am writing to tell you of the great benefit I have received from Kruschen Salts. My friend, Mrs. H., had received so much benefit that she begged me to give Kruschen a trial, although at first I was doubtful, because I had tried so many things. At last, however, I tried some of her Kruschen, and, having hoped, I purchased a bottle, and I can honestly say that before I had finished the bottle my backache was gone. I have suffered for years with kidney trouble and dreadful headaches, and now to be free from the pain altogether is wonderful."—(Mrs. L.)

Feeding and Care Of Infants

Note: Babies To Follow In Order Of Appearance Of Teeth

(By John Burke Ingram).

The breast-fed baby has a much better chance of life and health than a bottle-fed baby.

Almost every normal mother can nurse her infant if she is patient and determined to do so. In many cases it is not easy but in almost every case, as I have said, it is possible and a mother who loves her child should realize that the finest and best thing she can do for it is to feed it at her breast. Cows' milk is intended for the stomachs of little calves. Mothers' milk is the thing for human babies.

When the time comes to start putting baby on solid foods, there again, the advice of the doctor should be sought. This is such an important subject that I do not feel that I should generalize here. Now in conclusion, just let me sum up the points which we have given in this article, and possibly add a few more.

Babies need regular feeding times.

Babies need regular sleeping times.

Babies need much air and sunshine.

Babies need water to drink.

Babies need to be kept warm.

Babies need to be kept clean.

Babies need to be amply dressed.

Babies should be nursed by the mother, if it is at all possible for the mother to do so.

Babies' food should be prescribed by the doctor; not by the neighbors.

Habits should not be changed too often.

Babies should have clean milk.

Babies' milk should be kept cold until wanted.

Babies should not use pacifiers.

Babies should not be kissed on the mouth.

Babies should be kept off the floor, out of drafts, and away from people who have colds.

It is important to know a sick baby's well one.

It is important to get a doctor's advice early

Teething is not a sickness

The baby that is well fed, has regular habits and plenty of fresh air, does not often get sick, and if sick, usually gets well quickly.

It is easier to "keep" your baby well than to "make" him well.

Friendly Relations

Proper Understanding Between Canada and United States in Vital

Single occupation of the continent of North America could never have succeeded as beneficially as did its division between Canada and the United States, said Col. Stanford Mosenthien, U.S. minister to Canada, in an address to the Canadian Club, Toronto.

Good relations and understanding between the two countries were vital, he declared, to all the world. Despite instances "occasionally augmented by the politics or economic situation of the moment," there had been few conflicts of opinion.

"Out of early discussion," he said, had grown two great nations which had given the world "the best example of considerate neighborly behavior."

Does Not Appear Weak

Lightning Strokes Which Split Great Rocks Cowed Beast

A 9,000,000-volt stroke of lightning which brought rainfall and measured on an electric line in Arkansas, the scientists state that it is considerably more than machine-produced electricity.

This conclusion may satisfy electricians of note, but the ordinary man should beware of trifling with lightning when it is raging about him. Strokes that split great rocks, hit and raze big buildings and wipe out herds of cattle, are quite capable of dispatching of a mere man in astonishingly quick order.

Lightning is a natural force that compels respect.

Explanations and Comments

The Warning Against Covetousness, verses 15-21.—A certain rich man, so the parable of Jesus began, whose fields yielded more than his barns would hold, propounded to himself this query: "What shall I do because I have not where to bestow my fruits?"

"God has provided barns for superfluous corn in months that longer; inns that shower, homes where the orphaned and the widowed sit in want. Store there in these God's houses is the luxury as well as the duty of wealth."

The rich man proceeded to answer his query: "This will I do; I will pull down my barns, and build greater; and I will say to my soul, Soul, thou hast much laid up for many years; take thine ease, eat, drink, be merry." "He does not say to it, 'Now, my soul, let us study art, and music and literature.' The finer instincts have gone; his soul is dead to God, his conscience for humanity. He has so lived that at the end of his years he has not lost the capacity to live. He has made a living and unmade a life."—D. Jowett.

"It is a shameful conception of wealth which regards it only as a means to ease and luxurious living. The use it brings is, or should be, only the reward for the heavy responsibilities it imposes. The man who is rich by reason of the great business interests he has built up is answerable to the community for the honesty and usefulness of his service, to his hundreds of thousands of employes for such a conduct of the business as will assure them the best means of livelihood, to his own conscience for honorable and increasing attention to the weariness details of business management. The man who is rich by reason of brains, health, and happiness is the penalty he pays for the luxuries he enjoys."

Entry From Philippine Islands

Exhibit Will Be Sent To World's Grain Conference

When the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference is opened at Regina, in 1932, the Philippine Islands will be represented by exhibits entered in the competitive classes as well as by a display in the educational exhibit section of the world-wide exhibition and conference.

Announcement was made from the headquarters' office of the exhibition that a very prominent part in the 1932 gathering will be taken by the college of agriculture, of the university, of the Philippines. Dr. B. M. Gonzales, president of the college, has notified the officials of the exhibition of participation by the Philippines in the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference, and that the exhibit will be prepared by Professor H. B. Boyd, of the Department of Agronomy.

The Philippine will consist of native products, corn, Lagkit corn, nine varieties of rice, field peas, field beans and soybeans, which will be shipped to Regina from Manila, a distance of over 6,000 miles.

Ask Me!

for ANY CHILD

WE can never be sure just what makes a child restless, but the remedy can always be the same. Good old Castoria! There's comfort in every drop of this pure vegetable preparation and the slightest harm in its frequent use. As often as your child has a fretful spell, is feverish, or cries and can't sleep, let Castoria soothe and quiet him. Sometimes it's a touch of colic. Sometimes constipation. Or diarrhea — a condition that should always be checked without delay. Just keep Castoria handy, and give it promptly. Relief will follow very promptly if it doesn't, you should call a physician.

ACID after meals

GET RID of your dread of pain after eating. But without fear of "indigestion," sour stomach, disagreeable gas or headache.

When your food ferments, "disagrees," has like a lump in your stomach, it's a sign of too much acid. You need not resort to crude methods —take instead an acid-aid that will correct the condition. Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

A spoonful of this pleasant-tasting soothing fluid neutralizes many times its volume in acid. It restores the proper alkaline balance to an acid-soaked stomach and bowels—assists those organs to function as they should.

Phillips' Milk of Magnesia is what you need when a bad breath, coated tongue, headaches, nausea or biliousness indicates an over-acid condition. Take a spoonful today and for several days and see how it sweetens the system. You won't be nearly so liable to colds or sickness. All druggstores in the Dominion sell it in 50c bottles.

Genuine Milk of Magnesia is always a liquid—never a tablet. Look for the name Phillips on the bottle.

"I do," said Sonny suddenly. "I'll take you around, if you want me."

Halliday laughed, and arose.

"I rather think my digestion won't stand for it," he replied. "And besides, I must get home and get ready for my guest. I'll come back later and find out what you hear from the sea—" Mrs. Halliday now joined them, waiting for my orders. It's fine to see this man of yours about again, isn't it?"

He turned away, while Sonny slid down the steps to join him, slipping his little hand into James Halliday's without question or hesitation.

"I got a cwen where I babe 'em," he said sociably. "Daddy made it. Daddy can make anything. I'll show you how you go home."

"Gay," murmured Nick softly, "you ought to have seen Halliday's face when he did offered him the money. I don't believe he ever played in his life—or if he did he's forgotten how. But it's fine of him to do so much for that little girl."

Gay didn't answer. She was watching James Halliday bending above the pile of stones beside the Sonny's oven. In the silence she heard her little boy explaining: "You put 'em there first, an' then browse 'em on the tops, sense as blummy does, only me can't have matches. Daddy says most pies don't need matches. He says they're sun-baked, an' the flavor's more 'licious that-a-way. Some day when you got time I'll let you make one."

"Thanks," said James Halliday. "When my little girl gets better pa's a you'll teach her how to do it. I must go now. I enjoyed my refreshments very much."

"It wasn't 'freshments," corrected Sonny soberly. "It was pie. 'Freshments is ice cream."

Halliday laughed.

"I see. I'll try not to make such a mistake again. Good-bye, little chap."

"By," said Sonny, and turned once more to his shouting task.

Gay watched James Halliday go through the garden and into his own house.

"He's a fine man," she declared softly. "Did you hear that, Nick? Oh, wouldn't it be wonderful if——"

Nick smiled, and said: "My dear girl, have you forgotten the Halliday curse?"

"Curses!" echoed Gay with scorn. She arose, and moved toward the door. "I must go in and telephone that nurse. I tell you what, Nick—Sheilagh, it's some career just keeping a family going! And if the Halliday should keep that little girl—and I'm sure they will—she'll grow up to be a wonderful woman. Oh, I'm glad you are; but—but somehow I can't just see her as a Halliday adopting a child. She's rather keen on the subject of inheritance, and all that. I hope the feeling lasts. Hey, Sonny, who thought I'd have a foolish to try to save something that was, possibly, not worth saving. Why, Nick, right, Gay? I've been a blundering fool——"

"There!" broke in Gay indignantly, "if someone had put that idea into your head, because such thoughts aren't really yours. Just get rid of them, my dear. You're not a fool, you. Why, Nick! even the least of us has the right to Life—and how can you or I, or Mrs. Halliday, know what that little girl may have to give the world?"

Her eyes met his, and in one glance swept away the seeds of Angela Halliday's careful sowing.

"You're right, of course, dear," he said quietly. "You always are right, Gay. I believe you see more true and straight than most of us; and you're queer, but I felt as you do until she talked to me about it. Don't stay too long at that telephone. I want you."

"You're getting spoiled," she answered, brushing back his hair with a tender hand. "I'm neglecting everything."

"That doesn't matter," said Nick, smiling up at her, "so long as you don't neglect me. I shall continue to lose the roost while you keep me in this chair. I like being spoiled."

"I'm afraid," said Gay, with a quiet little laugh, "that I like spoiling you."

CHAPTER XIII

The summer was waning, and after three weeks at "The Bird's Nest," where he regained the lost of his diminished strength, Nick was back in the cage.

"It seems good to have him there," said John Maxwell to Mary, at the close of Nick's first day, "and I believe the boy is happy to be back, possibly because we were all so glad to see him."

"I met Gay down town, too," said Mary Maxwell. "She looked rested, and pretty, and wore a smart little new gown that was tremendously becoming. I was surprised to see her. Their bills must have been overwhelming these last few months."

"Possibly the dress was a gift."

"Pooh whom? There's not a soul who'd think of such a thing. The truth is, Johnny, I've sometimes longed to give her a gown or two myself, but I thought she might not like it. She and Janey were always so funny together that I've heard to think that Gay was going without the pretties a young girl wants—and she's still, you know, in spite of her little family."

"I think you might give her something now and then, Mary. Gay's not the sort who would take offense. Can't you pretend you got them for yourself and they were—well—too small or something?"

Mary Maxwell glanced down at her generous proportions, and smiled at her friend's naive suggestion.

"I fear, my dear, that Gay would see through a subterfuge like that. Johnny, do you suppose old Mr. Bartlett gives her anything?"

"It wouldn't surprise me; though the chicken are the last item he would notice."

"I don't know. Those days he was here with the babies he noticed everything. He's a wonderful old man. I wish he'd give Gay an allowance."

"Well, I don't." John Maxwell spoke with decision. "There's nothing better for a man than having to stretch gravel to provide for his wife and children. In my opinion Nick's marriage has been the making of him. Not that he wasn't all right before, but he's developed since. And Gay provides that is just the right amount. I shouldn't want Simeon Bartlett to put his finger in the pie."

"Well," sighed Mary, with a thought for the days when she herself had been, however, the mainspring of her domestic machinade. "I suppose you're right, and possibly Mr. Bartlett agrees with you. I feel sure there's nothing he wouldn't do for them if he thought best."

This was true. It sometimes tore Simeon's heart to sit all day Gay's financial burdens. Only his shrewd good sense kept him from doing it. He had, however, taken over the bills incurred by Nick's illness, saying when Gay protested, "It's only a business matter. Better see the bills the doctor. He needs it more'n I do; and this Gay case pay me back' any time it comes handy."

"But I've the hundred dollars you gave me, Uncle Sim. That'll pay some of it. I can't get them out of my head. Please——and spend the money for silly clothes."

"It ain't sakin' you'll spend it for silly clothes. Clothes ain't silly if they make a woman look right to her man. It ain't often I give a present, and I tell you I'm glad what they got to do with it. That ain't no way to give; but this is different. Angela and Nick, they're your sheepin'. If you don't, I'll do it for you, and there's a knowin' what outrageous flim-flam Sheilagh'll get you."

Hence the smart little gown that had caught Mary Maxwell's approving eye, and which also caught Nick's when Gay appeared at the bank that afternoon.

"Where'd you get it?" he question-ed through his little window, for once unmindful of the fact that Sonny was begging for admittance. "You look a peach. I bet you've overdrawn our account—and I don't care a darn if you have. If there weren't so many people round here I'd——"

"He love making allowed in bank hours," came from the next cage as Johnny Symmes caught the drift of Nick's remarks. "How do you suppose I get him going like that after all these years, Gay?"

Gay laughed.

"The recipe's simple. Get a new gown and spring it on your man unexpectedly. You tell that to Flora."

"Heads!" said Johnny, smiling broadly. "Flora doesn't need any urging to buy new gowns. Run along, Gay. We need the services of our paying teller, and he's still spellbound. Not that I blame him. You look a regular corker this afternoon."

MAGIC MENU

Most women find it difficult to think up new ideas for attractive meals. This one, suggested by Miss Katherine M. Caldwell, cookery authority of Canada's Home Journal, Toronto, is there now to please.

LUNCHEON MENU
Cheese and Vegetable Soufflé with Cream Sauce
Buttered Whole Wheat Toast
Sweet Pickles
Hot Raspberry Biscuits
Cheese & Sanborn's Tea

For afternoon tea, there is nothing nicer than these same Raspberry Biscuits, shaped delicately with a tiny cutter—sprinkled and served piping hot, with a cup of perfect tea!

Miss Caldwell says: "Magic Baking Powder is easy to use because its uniform, high quality never varies. I use and recommend Magic because my experience has proven that it always gives consistently better baking results."

Try Miss Caldwell's Recipe for "RASPBERRY BISCUITS

2 cups flour
2 teaspoons Magic Baking Powder
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoons shortening
½ cup milk
Raspberry jam or syrup

Mix and sift the dry ingredients. Cut the lard, cold shortening into them with a knife, using a quick, short, chopping motion; or reduce the hard cold fat to tiny particles with a pastry blender or a cool ground fork. When the mixture resembles a very coarse meal, add the liquid, mixing quickly and lightly. Turn out the dough on a slightly floured board, pat it down lightly or roll it to a thickness of about one inch. Shape with a small cutter or cut in squares with a floured knife.

Dip the small tops of a large size teacup from floured or flour and place a lump into each biscuit . . . forcing it well down into the dough so that it will not run down the sides when melted.

Place the biscuits on a greased pan or baking sheet and bake in a very hot oven, 450° F., 12 to 15 minutes.

To Discuss New Calendar

League Of Nations Will Debate Question This Year

A serious effort is to be made by the League of Nations at Geneva this year, to reform the calendar and bring about thirteen months of twenty-eight days each. Our present calendar has been working since 46 B.C., and has been much criticized who declare it has outlived its usefulness for modern needs. There will be a preliminary conference at Geneva, and then a general one to discuss the issue after which the governments of the world will be approached. Indeed, it is a most revolutionary change contemplated after 1,871 years' use of the present calendar.

Soviet Farm Movement

Development Of Farms To Be Intensified In Russia

Soviet Russia is going "back to the farm," according to figures just issued by the government. During the last ten days in January and the first ten in February, a total of 780,000 families joined the collective farms, the figures show. This migration is the greatest in history. Development of these farms has always been the backbone of the Soviet movement.

Most of the families who have applied to join the movement came from the Ukrainian Republic, the North Caucasus, the upper and lower Volga and the German republic. They were expected to move to the farms gradually during the spring in time to get next season's crops planted.

The Well-Dressed Italian

Tights and cylinders are required this season at all big Italian social or governmental functions in the day-time. Invitations, beautifully engraved, are going around with the word "Tights with cylinders are obligatory" in the lower left corner. "Tights" referred to the close fit of the English morning coat. And the cylinder is a top hat.

Little Helps For This Week

"They helped every one his neighbor; and every one said to his brother, 'Be of good courage.'" —Isaiah xli. 6.

When we lose thoughts of self intrude, Angels adjust our rights;
And love that seeks its selfish good
Does its own delights.
How much we take, how little give,—
Yet every life is meant
To help all lives; each man should live
For all men's betterment.
—Alice Cary.

Every human being whom we approach should be the better for us.—William Ellery Channing.

Each of us is bound to make the small circle in which he lives better and happier; each of us is bound to see that out of that small circle the widest good may flow.

LICENSE REBATE CHEQUES IN MAIL

Rays of Sunshine Finding Their Way to 23,000 Motorists

Cheques to the number of about 1,000 a day are now being mailed to Alberta motorists as refunds for the 1931 license fees.

From the provincial secretary's and provincial treasury departments these little rays of sunshine are going out in a steady stream, and early in April, it is expected, the last of the 23,000 odd refunds will have been made.

Since announcement of the $5 reduction in auto license fees, contained in the budget speech of Hon. R. G. Reid, provincial treasurer, some 17,000 licenses have been purchased at the reduced rate. Combined with the $5,000 bought before the reduction was announced, these bring the total of license plates issued to some 40,000 mark.—Edmonton Journal.

MIXED BONSPIEL IS AROUSING INTEREST

The annual mixed bonspiel, whereby rinks are made up of two ladies and third, and two men, second and skip, is now under way, the first event having narrowed down to the hope with the secondary is also well under way. Eighteen rinks are participating in the bonspiel and the interest aroused is shown by the crowded rink during the evening. While most of the arrangements are in the hands of the ladies, J. F. McQuarrie is in charge of the draws. An entry fee of 50c per player is being charged.

The following extract from the issue of the Toronto Globe of Feb 19, 1931, will prove interesting to many who will remember Miss Barbara Pibbs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Pibbs, former residents of the town. The item appears under a portrait of Miss Pibbs "Miss Barbara Pibbs has been elected honorary President of the Ladies' Auxiliary Board of the Brondview "Y" Football club this year Miss Pibbs is widely known in Y M C A. circles and especially at Brondview, where she has been for several years as an amateur girls. Since the inception of the club she has taken an active part in the executive work Mrs. A. G. Rattray, one of the clubs most loyal supporters and workers has consented to act as Honorary Vice-President"

Premier Brownlee To Attend — Banquet and Dance in Evening

The students at the College are in the midst of the final examinations this week, and things are moving swiftly towards the 31st, which will be the final big day.

During the morning the students will be arranging the displays of cooking, sewing and mechanics work. These will be open for inspection from 2 until 5 p.m. The exhibit rooms will then be closed for the Fashion Parade which will be held in the big [illegible]

At 6:30 there will be the banquet for the graduation class together with their parents.

At 8 o'clock the doors will be open for the graduation exercises. It is hoped that Premier Brownlee will be present for the main address in a recent letter he intimated that if the affairs of the session were over he would be pleased to be present. Hon. Montgomery, Provincial President of the Women's Institutes will be present and will give a short address, while Mr. J. F. Andrew, former instructor in the College and now Assistant Deputy Minister of Agriculture, will present the diplomas and give the charge to the graduates

We wish to be clear that the doors of the dormitory will be locked after the main banquet is under way. The gymnasium is a hard floor to speak in anyway, and late comers disturb the meeting for those who arrive on time. The doors will, however, be open from 8 to 8:15.

Through the generosity of local merchants and others there is a very splendid list of prizes and scholarships These will be on display during the afternoon.

The last day will be brought to a close with the Graduation Dance. There will be a reasonable charge which will go to the radio fund.

All are cordially welcome.

W. J. ELLIOTT, Principal.

A 1931 Seed Time Problem

Seeding time throughout Western Canada is at hand, and, as the farmer overhauls his ploughs, harrows, and seeders in preparation for the Spring work, he naturally is looking forward and planning just what he ought to do in the light, not only of his own individual circumstances, but of prevailing world conditions and prospects.

The prairie farmer is an optimist, as a rule. Indeed, to succeed, he can hardly be anything else. Consequently, however, there is less optimism prevalent on the occasion of 1931 opens than is usually the case throughout this western country, and many farmers are in somewhat of a quandary in reaching a decision just what is best for them to do this year.

Most of them have been growers of wheat. It has been their major article of production. Upon it they have depended for success. But for the past year and a half wheat has been a drug on the world's markets. The selling price has fallen well below the cost of production. There is a large surplus stock on hand in various countries. What, then, is the prospect for disposing of a new crop of wheat at profitable prices in 1931? Yet the vast majority of prairie farmers cannot turn from wheat growing to something else in one short season, even if it was advisable to do so.

Under these circumstances should the farmer proceed to seed the average number of acres he has been seeding in years past? If he does and all the great wheat growing countries as well as Canada, harvest an average normal crop, and the price obtainable for the wheat yield him a profit, or will it again fail to cover the costs of production and leave him in a worse position than ever to put brains on wheat?

Insecurity, as the farmer cannot rest from growing something,—his livelihood depends on his production,—and as the prevailing prices for coarse grains also are less than production costs, the farmer is confronted with a real problem, and one to which he must find a solution for himself. Another crop failure, in addition to a partial failure, would be a disaster. Equally, a large crop throughout the world would mean loss to the producer. It is a gamble either way. If the Western Canada wheat grower could be assured of a good crop, while harvest average crops were the rule in other great wheat producing countries, his course would be clear. But as to this no man can foretell.

Possibly many farmers will consider it wise to merely seed sufficient acreage to provide him with a livelihood if all goes well, and devote his time to the eradication of weeds and the more thorough cultivation of his land in preparation for future operations, concerning with the planting and expert care of a garden sufficient to supply the needs of his own family during the summer and next winter.

A goodly number of farmers will have to look to the Government to supply them with seed: many others will not be able this year to buy registered seed, but whatever acreage is sown, be it large or small, should be seeded with good, clean seed, the best it is possible to obtain under the circumstances.

Generally speaking, too, farmers will have to keep down all overhead expenses. Last year's plough, harrow and seed drill will have to do service another year. Therefore, careful overhauling of all present equipment will undoubtedly be one of the outstanding activities on farms at this time. The farmer and his family may have to work even harder than usual and possibly get even less return for their labor, but if they work together two were employed, even though this may operate to continue or temporarily intensify the existing unemployment.

In a word, everybody must face and adapt themselves to the hard, unpleasant facts of the existing situation. Present problems cannot be solved and difficulties removed solely by Governmental action, the extension of credits, or any one other external agency or action. These may help, but at best, are only temporary palliatives. Each individual must, in the final analysis, face his own problem, decide upon his own line of operations this Spring, work out the basic needs essential to his own salvation.

This article is not a sermon at farmers; it is not an attempt to advise farmers, for if there is one individual for whom the writer has a contempt it is the arm-chair critic, the arm-chair farmer. The existing situation, as the writer sees it, is that each and every man must exercise his own best judgement in the light of his own particular circumstances, and proceed with all the ability and energy of which he is capable to work out the solution of his own problems, and thereby make his contribution towards finding a solution for the problems of all others and the country as a whole.

The Value Of Carbon

No Form Of Life Can Exist Without This Atom

The most wonderful substance in the world is carbon. Soot, lump black, and pencil leads are all forms of carbon—and so is the diamond. The carbon atom possesses one remarkable quality. It enables other atoms to combine into huge groups or families from which all kinds of substances are made. By themselves, the atoms oxygen, hydrogen, and nitrogen can produce nothing very startling; but add carbon and their combinations become amazing, giving rise to such substances as petrol, oil, medicines, bread, and meat. If it were not for carbon, life could never have existed upon this or any other world. All kinds of living things—fish, flesh, fruit, and fowl—owe their existence to the carbon atom. No one knows why this should be so, for the carbon atom differs from others only in having one electron more or less than six. Here, it is quite certain that it is the foundation-stone of all life.

Canada's Trade Balances

Mr. European Countries Bought More Than They Sold To Us

With only six European countries did Canada enjoy a favorable trade balance in 1930, according to figures issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. These were Dumarat, Norway, Greece, Netherlands, Italy and Belgium.

Japan and China were the Asiatic nations which purchased more from this country than they sold to Canada.

Argentine, Brazil and Cuba were the countries of South America, and the Caribbean, which all gave Canada a favorable balance of trade.

The greatest adverse one in trade with Greece. The Hellenic Republic bought goods from this Dominion valued at $6,651,000, and sold to Canada commodities with a value of $234,000.

VEGREVILLE OBSERVER ANNIVERSARY NUMBER

Editor A. L. Horton and staff of the Vegreville Observer contributed and issued a very ambitious number last week the occasion of the 25th anniversary of the paper.

The edition consisted of 24 pages and contained the ay matter and illustrations of a purely local type to the paper, along, of course, with names and portraits of the chief early settlers The issue is a remarkable one and of great interest to old timers of the Vegreville district. No doubt any past residents of the Vegreville country now living elsewhere will obtain a copy of this work by applying to the Observer office. The Observer received hearty support in their enterprise from the business men of the town, as they had some 54 columns of advertising in the issue. When you consider that an ordinary edition contains (in the present time of stringency) from 12 to 20 or so columns of advertising, this support will be appreciated.

The Observer also appeared in new form, that of a 6-column instead of 7-column which it has hitherto been Congratulations on this enterprise are extended from the Standard to Editor Horton and staff.

The Nationalization Of The North American Life

(From "CANADIAN INSURANCE," issue of March 10th, 1931).

The Nationalization of the North American Life Assurance Company shows no small degree of generosity on the part of the President and directors of the Company. According to the Charter, as amended in 1897, the stockholders had the right to increase the capital from $200,000 subscribed and $40,000 paid to $1,000,000 fully paid, upon which a maximum dividend of 15 per cent, or $150,000 per annum was permitted. On the basis of a 5 per cent return this would have made the latter amount of stock worth 30 years' purchase of the dividend, or $2,000,000 in the open market. That would have been the case if the policyholders had a voracious board of directors bent in control of the situation. By the plan which has been ratified last week by the stockholders and policyholders, the cost of nationalization was only $1,275,000 and this was almost wholly paid for by the capital itself plus the surplus accumulated in the non-participation section of the business. The policyholders in the participating section will now be better off. They will obtain the profits from the non-participating section of the business in addition to the whole of the profits of their own section, which they have hitherto received. The profits in the non-participating section were reported at $41,000 in 1929 and $51,000 in 1922, and, we learn, $2,294,147 in 1930. The pension allotted for payment to the participating policyholders were $272,843 in 1929, and $1,075,500 in 1929, so that the earnings from the non-profit section should enable the company to make a nice little addition to the policyholders' dividends some time in the early future. There is no question, therefore, about the nationalization being beneficial to the policyholders.

There has been considerable criticism voiced in life insurance circles, however, that the purchase price of $1,275,000 was disproportionately low to pay for a paid-up capital stock of $200,000, it representa over six times the capital. But this is not the proper way to look at this proposition. The controlling interest in the stock had been purchased by the President and Mr. H. Gundy for $725 per $100 share of $20 paid. That meant a cost to them of $150,000 or no little more than half the capital stock of $200,000 subscribed and $40,000 paid. In 1928 a further issue of stock was made bringing the paid-up capital to $800,000 with the extra capital more than half was subscribed for by Mr. Brad shaw and Mr. Gundy, so that the latter must have paid for their stock something over $600,000. The price at which the stock was sold to the company was $127.50 per share. Now Mr. Bradshaw (having in the meantime bought Mr. Gundy's interest, so that the new controls the company) will receive a little more than half the purchase price, or $1,275,000, namely, $650,000 or so. This represents a return on the 1,127 shares held for his stock with the small interest to date of sale. Mr. Bradshaw and the other directors sold their interests to the company on a similar basis, so that neither they nor Mr. Bradshaw have made money on the transaction. Probably a few of the smaller shareholders obtained their old and new stock in 1928 and now receive $127.50 per share for their holdings. They were the lucky small minority But Mr. Bradshaw and the directors who held the controlling interest and made the nationalization possible have, we believe, not made a profit on of the deal. Had the company fallen into other hands; had it come under the control, for example, of rival quick insurance who, in the past few hectic years, have watered the stocks of so many of our great industrial corporations, then the company, as we have said, could have legally been made to pay the equivalent of $3,000,000 in stead of $1,275,000. The thanks of the policyholders of the North American Life are therefore due to Mr. Bradshaw and the directors who made this deal possible Mr. Bradshaw, by the way, was in the service of the company when he was a young man. He left most of the other officials like Mr. Kilgour, the general manager, have since taken a very great pride in the standing of the company, such as the security of its investments, the benefits to policyholders Both these sentiments have strong opinions about the rights of the public and they will both feel particularly happy in admitting that the control is in such capable and trustworthy hands. Here and There

The commercial fruit production in Canada in 1930 had a value of $13,271,070 Apples accounting for $10,563,900 of that total.

For the year ended May 31, 1930, a total of $1,027,613 was spent in Canada for rat blocme showing Canada's leadership as a source of pemichant for curing it with flowers.

As a barometer of business conditions in Nova Scotia it may be stated that in 1930 there were 175 new companies incorporated as compared with 158 for the previous year.

A consignment of 120,000 pounds of dried bake from Digby has been shipped by way of Yarmouth to Rio de Janeiro Brazil, and News Scotia exporters believe this may be the beginning of a steady trade in this line.

$30,000 Fortune An Imaginary One

Supposed to Come from England — Robs Post Office

Earl Graham, well known young farm hand of the Wildmere district, took great pains last week to spread the report that he had received word from England to the effect that he had inherited some $30,000 and also that transportation had been wired in him so that he was leaving at once for England. Friday night last, however, Earl was cruelly sober breaking into the Wildmere post office and getting into the cash box kept there. He must have been disappointed in raising his $30.00, but he got nothing from the box, all the money having been removed before hand.

Up before the magistrate, Graham pleaded guilty and instead of a free trip to England he will be given transportation and lodging in Fort Saskatchewan for six months.

Old Man Winter Still Has kick Left

Mercury Takes A Decided Drop

Following four exceptionally mild days, Friday to Monday inclusive, in which the snow melted and the streets ran water, submerging even in places the sidewalks of town and rendering country roads and highways nearly impassable, the weather turned on Monday night and old man Winter is now registering what we all hope is his last and really his most vigorous kick of the past six months. Monday was a real spring day but the wind shifted that night and all day Tuesday a nasty cutting wind raged, the mercury sinking to a low of 8 below during the night. Although it crept up above the zero line during daylight hours on Wednesday it promptly went below again at night, registering 10 below. Thursday the wind has changed again to the south and hopes for the general break-up to take up its misinterrupted course are strong again. In the meanwhile, skating and curling have come back strong, the Avens registering two of the largest curling crowds of the season on Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

A Successful Advertising Campaign

With newspaper display advertising columns holding a dominant position, General Motors of Canada, Limited, recently completed a nationwide intensive advertising campaign to inform the country that the present line of McLaughlin-Buick Straight Eights will not be replaced with new models this summer.

The success of this campaign, which embraced the use of more than 600 daily and weekly newspapers across the country, is already evident in increased sales and inquiries reaching the factory, according to Harry M. Ireland, Advertising Manager for General Motors.

Saddened with the task of telling all Buick owners and the country in general, that McLaughlin-Buick will not bring out a new car for an entire year, but will continue the present models on into the late fall months, General Motors depended largely on the newspaper as its principal medium in broadcasting this important message.

"How successfully the newspapers fulfilled their mission in this instance is evident in the thousand sales reported during the two days that have followed the advertising campaign," Mr. Ireland stated "Thousands of McLaughlin-Buick owners, who formerly united until the presentation of the new line during the summer months to make their purchases, took immediate advantage of this announcement to buy new McLaughlin-Buicks now"

"While we supplemented our newspaper advertisements with direct mail and dealer mediums, still it was the newspapers that carried the major portion of this campaign through to success," Mr. Ireland said.

MANNVILLE

At a recent meeting of the Mannville School Fair Association it was decided to extend the scope of the Annual Musical Festival by inviting all schools in the Vermilion and Vegreville Inspectorates to participate The musical Festival at Mannville has become an institution and is eagerly looked forward to. In 1928, when this movement was [illegible] there were less than thirty entries all told The committee in charge did not, however, allow this to discourage them, but put forth greater efforts. With the result that in 1929 there were over 150 entries In 1930, it was decided to hold elimination contests in the various schools, and to limit the entries from each school to two entries in each class.

Even in spite of these contests, the Festival had taken such a hold on the people, imagination that 1930 showed a substantial increase in entries over 1929 This year the contests will be held on Wednesday, May 13th, commencing at 1 p. m. The public are cordially invited and there will be no charge for admission

A concert will be held in the Grange hall, Mannville, at 8 p.m. when all the successful contestants will be heard The quality of this concert can be imagined when one considers that the contests will comprise the pick of the schools and the concert will present the pick of the contestants.

Arrangements have been made with piano manufacturers to have a piano in the Vegreville contests on May 27 and it is hoped to see some of the various trophies from that centre on exhibition.

Teachers and others who wish to enter may obtain full information and application forms from The Secretary Mannville School Fair Association, Mannville

The entertainment in connection with this Musical Festival on May 13th will be published in next week's issue of this paper.

Newfoundland Commemorates First Trans-Atlantic Air Mail Flight

Newfoundland has issued a postage stamp commemorating the first trans-Atlantic air mail flight, which was accomplished in 1919 by the late Sir John Alcock and Sir Arthur Whitten Brown. The stamp is the fifty cent denomination of the Newfoundland air mail series. The dollar stamp of the series bears a map showing the routes of all the great trans-Atlantic flights. The series was printed in England and is beautifully de-signed and engraved. The tenth anniversary of the flight was commemorated by Newfoundland with a special postmark.

New Giant Canard Liner

Interior Decoration To Be Most Elaborate Of Any Vessel Afloat

Continued rapid progress is being made on the new giant Canard liner of 72,000 tons which is at present under construction in the yards of John Brown & Company, at Clydebank, Scotland.

Details have reached the local offices of the Canard Line with reference to a number of the plans for the interior decoration of the liner which up to the present is without a name.

Mr. Eric Raford, vice-president of the Robert Retford Company, and general manager of the Canard Line in Canada, in discussing some of the features which will be part of the new vessel, remarked that he felt that she will have an exceedingly beautiful church and that it will be carried out in accordance with the best traditions of English ecclesiastical art.

"The liner itself will have eight decks above the water line," he said, "and between the aft and the cen-tre funnels will be the largest dining room ever to be placed in an ocean liner"

"The boat deck itself will be 70 feet above the water line, and the tops of the funnels, which are forty feet across, about one hundred and thirty feet above. The boat deck is to be about 650 feet long and the promenade deck 550 feet long."

"I understand that the interior decoration of the Cunarder has not been settled, but I am sure that it will be the most elaborate that has ever been known on an ocean liner."

"It is fully expected that the construction of the hull will be well advanced by the spring," said Mr. Raford in closing.

Combine egg yolk, salt, and sugar. Add a small amount of milk, stirring vigorously. Return to double boiler. Cook until slightly thickened constantly. Pour a small amount of hot mixture over gelatine, stir until dissolved, and add to remainder of mixture. Cool. Fold in cup coconut, flavoring, and egg whites. Pour over fruit. Sprinkle with remaining coconut. Chill until firm Serves 8.

SCHOOLGIRL CHIC

All Tiggy models are created and sketched in Paris and the patterns are made in New York.

The most fascinating touches of lingerie, sauntering and fantastic trims, collars and cuffs mark the new season's afternoon clothes. Naturally they affect young people's clothes as they do models for grown-ups.

A charming dress for a schoolgirl has been chosen for today, showing a new collar and cuff effect which is as attractive as it is becoming to the average young miss.

Here on a frock of fine mid blue broadcloth is a delightful collar and cuff set in soft pink crepe de chine. Buttons and blue edged buttonholes decorated the original, but real buttonholes are not absolutely necessary. Another scheme is, for instance, the navy charmeln ne with blue and white spotted, or white collar and cuffs would also be exceedingly smart.

This pattern may be obtained in sizes 14 to 20 and 34 to 38. It is ready for immediate delivery. It is hand cut.

Send 25 cents (in stamps or coin) to Fashion Bureau. Write carefully and plainly your name and full address, the number of the pattern and the size you want.

The Value Of Advertising

Three General Types Outlined By President Of Montreal Club

It is no longer enough to make a better mouse-trap, one must also advertise it, W. G. McArthur, president of the Montreal Advertising Club, stated in outlining the change that has come about in trade and industry in the present century, especially in regard to advertising. In students of the school of commerce McGill University, at a luncheon meeting. Three general types of advertising were outlined. The first was designed to bring customers to a store for a particular product, such as a specific brand of cigarettes; the second to lower the buyer's resistance when the merchant offered merchandise consisting of established trade name, and the third, institutional advertising had as its purpose the stability of the firm as well as the product.

What many call "indigestion" is very often nothing but excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes acidity. The best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard anti-acid with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.
One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali will neutralize instantly many times as much acid as the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this more pleasant way. A small bottle is sufficient to show its merit. Be sure to get genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for more than 50 years in correcting acidity. 50c a bottle; any druggists. Complete directions for its many uses are enclosed with every bottle.
The Genuine Milk of Magnesia is always a liquid—never a tablet. Look for the Phillips' name on bottle.

La Grippe and "Flu" are Spreading

"Flu" First Appears as a Sore Throat, but Gains Tremendous Headway in Six Hours

AN EFFECTIVE TREATMENT DESCRIBED

Nearly every case of "Flu" starts with a simple cold. At first the throat is sore—just a little hoarse—soon the infection goes lower—then the chest is affected. A safe plan is to gargle the throat three times daily with "Nerviline"—this will keep the throat free from germs. If there is any sign of tightness in the chest, rub on Nerviline every drop penetrates deeply—congestion will be relieved—the cold will break up quickly. Many a dangerous case of "Flu" can be avoided by this simple treatment.

Experienced mothers know how valuable Nerviline is for Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, and the little ailments that arise in every family. Nerviline is most homes is called "Mother's Best Friend." 35c at all dealers.

"Thanks," said Clay. "You've getting gallant in your old age. I should never know you for the boy who used to pull my pigtails when that landlord wasn't looking."

Angela Halliday was still away from home when she had ended her visit to another friend, and as she asked no questions, nor suggested that he join her, her husband said nothing about the small guest who was occupying her room, since it was the only one remaining with the sleeping porch. James Halliday himself had abandoned his hot bedroom in the ell, and was using the guest chamber; and his household had settled into a routine that revolved about the tiny creature who bloomed visibly under their tender care.

"You'd think she was royalty," said Julie, one evening when she ran over to get Clay's recipe for dandelion wine. "Mother's too good for her accordin' to Mr. Halliday. You see that lovely doll he sent over to Boston for; and now it's a kitten—a live one. Gee! I wonder what Mrs' Halliday would say if she could see how comfy it is on a regular nursery. I see the kitten on her toilet table this mornin', sittin' right beside a jar of imported face cream. As for him—he just sits there and worships the little thing. Her name's Martha. It was the mother's name and that seemed to please him a lot. It's plain he thinks the world an' all of her; and since we'll ain't never seen anything queerer than the way she takes to him an' his long face, the won't go to her head if I tell he's been up and sat with her a

"I think it's beautiful," said Clay. "I hope he'll never send her away."

"You do, do you?" asked Julie. "Well, I'll tell the world I don't think Mrs' Halliday'd make no suitable mother.' She ain't the kind. Maybe she'd be willin' to pick out the baby clothes but that's as far as she'd go or my name ain't Julia Amanda Nipps. I hope she'll give us plenty of notice when she comes home. It'll take some hoppin' to get things back like they was before. I've a notion that Judge like an angel on a christmas card, I'll say she makes things fly when they don't suit her. Lordy! I wouldn't want to answer for the consequence if that girl knows unexpected and found things like they is now."

Yet that is exactly what happened. It was the next afternoon that a taxi stopped before the Halliday door, and deposited Angela, accompanied by a rather spindly looking couple, whose tweeds appeared singularity out of place in the Bakersville heat. The nurse had gone out, and Halliday was in charge of the little patient whom he had just brought in from the garden. He was taking a few unsteady steps, clinging to his hand, when the door opened to disclose Angela, whose look of blank astonishment at the eyes fell upon her husband and the little girl, made her words sound mild.

"Where in the name of goodness did that come from?"

She made no move to greet Halliday, and the child, attracted by a bended bag which swung from Angela's wrist, made a quick rush in her direction, releasing her hands which Angela evaded by a sudden backward step. Perhaps the little girl had unconsciously sensed the fact at just this point, for she lost her balance and would have fallen had not Halliday caught her, lifting her in his arms while she buried a frightened face against his shoulder.

"We're not expecting you," he explained. Then glancing at the two figures behind her, "You might, my dear, introduce me to your friends."

In the tension of the moment Angela had forgotten her guests. Now she turned to them saying: "I beg your pardon. Let me present my husband. Jim, these are my friends the Myers, whom I met on the last leg of pleasure of cruising. They wanted a taste of rural New England before going West again; so I brought them to Bakerville. Who is "hat child? She's certainly no beauty. Send her home, please; and remember I hate asking Julia to put clean towels in the bathrooms? We're about to explore of her."

Halliday moved forward, little Martha still in his arms, and stretched out a hand to the Myers, both of whom were obviously ill at ease.

"I'm sorry," he began, "but I shall have to ask you to be kind of her as much as you can down here, until I've had time to make some changes. Mrs' Halliday will explain me of her arrival, and we're a bit upset because of this small guest."

"Small!"

Angela faced him, and instinctively the child shrank back, clinging to her protector with a frightened whimper.

"It's all right, Baby," soothed Halliday. "Don't be afraid."

He looked steadily at his wife, as if taking measure of the circumstances. The guard of innocence had left her eyes, and he made a quick decision, turning to the Myers, as to an explanation were due them.

"You see, my wife had the misfortune to run over this little girl with her automobile. She was very badly hurt, and is just recovering. As she had no suitable home I brought her here to convalesce; but it will be a simple matter to arrange things if you'd give us an hour's leeway."

"Look here," protested the gentleman in tweeds, "it's absurd for us to impose upon you like this. There's a hotel nearby, or —"

"It is more absurd," broke in Angela suddenly, "to have the child here at all. She's only a State ward, and not used to such surroundings. We can easily return her to the woman she lives with. Come upstairs, Amy" (speaking to Mrs. Myer). "My room, at least, will be undisturbed."

She turned to Halliday, but did not meet his eyes as she added: "Will you see to sending the child back at once, Jim?"
